Email From God

One day God was looking down at Earth and saw all of the rascally behavior that was going on. So he called one of His angels and sent the angel to Earth for a time.

When he returned, he told God, "Yes, it is bad on Earth; 95% are misbehaving and only 5% are not."

God thought for a moment and said, "Maybe I had better send down a second angel to get another opinion." So God called another angel and sent him to Earth for a time.

When the angel returned he went to God and said, "Yes, it's true. The Earth is in decline; 95% are misbehaving, but 5% are being good."

God was not pleased. So He decided to e-mail the 5% that were good, because he wanted to encourage them, and give them a little something to help them keep going.

Do you know what the e-mail said?

Okay, I was just wondering, because I didn't get the email either.

Big Brothers Big Sisters

Big Brothers Big Sisters of Danville Area would like to spotlight our "Big in Blue", High Sherriff Mike Taylor of Pittsylvania County for his dedicated service to law enforcement. He has faced many obstacles in that area during his years of service. He has a genuine concern for the youth in the community. He is actively involved in Trunk or Treat and the National Night Out. Due to high crime rates, Mike has made sure each school in that area has been provided with a resource officer. In addition, Sherriff Taylor has been volunteering for Big Brothers Big Sisters of Danville Area's Board of Directors for over eight years.

Salome's Stars

ARIES
(March 21 to April 19)
After much traveling this year, you're due for some settled time with family and friends. Use this period to check out situations that soon will require a lot of serious decision-making.

TAURUS
(April 20 to May 20)
Keep that keen Bovine mind focused on your financial situation as it begins to undergo some changes. Consider your money moves carefully. Avoid impulsive investments.

GEMINI
(May 21 to June 20)
You'll need to adjust some of your financial plans now that things are changing more quickly than you expected. All the facts you need haven't yet emerged, so move cautiously.

CANCER
(June 21 to July 22)
Personal and professional relationships dominate this period. Try to keep things uncomplicated to avoid misunderstandings that can cause problems down the line.

LEO
(July 23 to August 22)
That elusive goal you'd been hoping to claim is still just out of reach. But something else has come along that could prove just as desirable, if only you would take the time to check it out.

VIRGO
(August 23 to September 22)
This is a good time to get away for some much-needed rest and relaxation. You'll return refreshed and ready to take on the workplace challenge that awaits you.

LIBRA
(September 23 to October 22)
Confidence grows as you work your way through some knotty situations. Watch out for distractions from well-meaning supporters that could slow things down.

SCORPIO
(October 23 to November 21)
Consider spending more time contemplating the possibilities of an offer before opting to accept or reject it. But once you make a decision, act on it.

SAGITTARIUS
(November 22 to December 21)
You're in a very strong position this week to tie up loose ends in as many areas as possible. Someone close to you has advice you might want to heed.

CAPRICORN
(December 22 to January 19)
Congratulations. This is the week you've been waiting for: After a period of sudden stops and fitful starts, your plans can now move ahead with no significant disruptions.

AQUARIUS
(January 20 to February 18)
You're in an exceptionally strong position this week to make decisions on many still-unresolved matters, especially those involving close personal relationships.

PISCES
(February 19 to March 20)
The new moon starts this week off with some positive movement in several areas. A special person becomes a partner in at least one of the major plans you'll be working on.

BORN THIS WEEK:
You work hard and get things done. You also inspire others to do their best. You would do well heading up a major corporation.

Annual event lures stars to the valley

Welcome to Lennox Valley, my hometown!
Kevin Stimp's
The Good Folks of Lennox Valley

In 1937, Albert E. Brumley wrote a catchy gospel tune titled "Turn Your Radio On," which was eventually recorded by dozens of artists and groups including Skeeter Davis in the 1960s and Ray Stevens a decade later.

Like many hit songs, "Turn Your Radio On" reappeared from time to time, possibly because radio stations loved playing the self-celebrating tune so much. There was a time when radio stations didn't begin each day until sunrise, and many of those stations in small towns across America began their days with that favorite gospel melody.

While it was recorded numerous times by well-known artists, no one had a bigger hit with the song than Tangi Blevins & the Heavenly Hosts. When Tangi sang the chorus, you knew she meant every word:

Turn Your Radio On
And listen to the music in the air.
Turn Your Radio On, heaven's glory share.
Turn the lights down low
And listen to the Master's radio.
Get in touch with God, Turn Your Radio On.

While a lot of folks in the valley were fixated on the upcoming mayoral election, there were others who had their thoughts focused on another major August event: The Spring County Fair.

For teenagers like Mary Ann Tinkersley and myself, the fair meant getting our sheep ready for the annual FFA Judging, a big milestone for small-town youth. Most of the excitement, especially among the female population, was reserved for the lineup of pseudo-celebrities who made their way through the county fair circuit each year.

Some fair headliners were bigger than others. No one will ever forget Tim Jones, the Tom Jones impersonator, who caused more than one fainting spell as he sang "She's a Lady" in 1977.

Kevin Stimp now makes his home in Knoxville, Tennessee. Write to Kevin at lennoxvalley@kevinstimp.com of his son located at, 2012 Mountain Hill Rd., Ringgold, VA, 24586. Wrenn-Yeatts North Main Chapel is serving the Owens family.

James D. Coggin, PhD.

James D. Coggin, PhD, age 90 of 193 Chickadee Road passed away unexpectedly Thursday, September 1, 2016 at Danville Regional Medical Center.

Jim was born in Badin, NC July 21, 1926 the son of the late Jerry "Dumas" Coggin and Grace Jenkins Coggin. He retired in 1987 from Fairfax County Public Schools as a guidance counselor. He was a member of Ringgold Baptist Church. A Navy veteran, he graduated from Wake Forest University with a B.A. Jim was an ordained Baptist minister having studied at Crozet Theological Seminary. He served several churches as the Minister of Education before his career in public education. Jim received his Master's Degree in Counseling from the University of Virginia and began doctoral studies at UVA and completed his doctorate at Pacific Western University in 1985. He lived a full, active life. Jim enjoyed riding his motorcycle to work (too cool) and he loved sports especially baseball and football being somewhat partial to the Redskins and the Washington Nationals. During his later years and after he got his sports package from Comcast, he was a truly happy fellow. He could spend a whole day watching sports if he was not involved in an engrossing mystery novel. He loved reading and began each day reading a Biblical scripture. Another favorite was being a handyman, a tinkerer. He loved working on anything with a motor. He even managed to get his head in the oil pan when changing oil in his truck. Jim was actually a rather good mechanic, but sometimes things just did not work out. In his younger years, during the summer he operated a small marine repair shop in Reedville, VA. As the captain of the ship (the Anabasis and Jiggs, his cabin cruisers) he loved cruising the Chesapeake Bay and Potomac River fulfilling his love of the water and fishing. A happy man who loved God, his family and his friends.

His first wife, Margaret Fales Coggin, and the mother of his children died Thanksgiving Day, 1977. On April 2, 1983 he married Maude (Doodlebug) Young. Jim moved from Woodbridge, VA to Danville, VA in October, 1997 to prepare the home for Maude's retirement from Prince William County Schools in January 1998.

"The View From The End Of Rebel Road

He is a wide eyed, freshly minted rebel, this dear young sinner that I am burdened for and praying over. Like the Prodigal Son of Luke 15, he has become enamored of the bright lights and partying sounds of the far country, and is just now beginning to make his way down Rebel Road heading that direction. He despises the "restrictiveness" of the father's house, and sees only good times ahead as he leaves it.

I have seen many like him through the years.

The beginning of Rebel Road is most always a pleasant, easy path. The wind is at one's back, the sun is shining, and the face of the one walking that way is smiling from ear to ear. And for a while longer, usually, every indication is that the way and the destination will forever be pleasant. The devil, you see, is good at his job. And he knows that if the one starting on that road could see the end results of that decision, he would likely run back to safety as fast as his legs could carry him.

And thus it is that, the one thing that could prevent that journey from ever beginning, is kept carefully hidden.

There are quite a few people in Scripture who went that way. They all have a commonality: it did not end well. Samson traveled Rebel Road, he was one of the most famous to do so. The road began with parties and women and games. His parents protested, and his answer was "she pleaseth me well." Whatever felt good to his flesh, Samson pursued it. He would have his freedom, he would do things his way, he would never again be told what to do. But at the end of that road, it was the very one in whose lap he laid his head that first began to afflict him. Delilah drew first blood. Samson was mocked, his eyes were put out, his freedom was taken, and he died with the Philistines.

David traveled that road. The sweet psalmist of Israel, the Goliath slayer, committed adultery. She got pregnant, and then to cover his sin, David murdered her husband. David ended up a broken man, with a ruined family, a venereal disease, and a blot on his name that remains to this day.

The Prodigal went down Rebel Road as well. He partied, he devoured the father's living with harlots, his sin grew so great that even way back home, in a day before any electronic communications, everyone knew exactly what he was doing.

But then the famine came. The boy found himself taking employment feeding hogs. None of his partying friends were there to feed and house him; he was broke, and of no more use to them.

Worse still, even his employer abused him. This wealthy landowner with multiple fields, flocks, servants, and provisions, apparently did not pay the boy. He was reduced to begging for hog slop, and even that was refused him.

Proverbs 14:12 says, "There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death." Proverbs 13:15 says, "Good understanding giveth favour: but the way of transgressors is hard."

Every budding rebellious sinner should do themselves a favor. Go find someone who has been sold out to sin for a very long time, and see how that has worked out for them. Go check out what things look like at the end of Rebel Road, once the bright lights have faded and the parties died down. It is normally not a very pretty sight.

As a pastor, I have seen the end of both roads many times. I have seen sinners grow old before their time, experience the brokenness of sin, and look back on a life of loss with bitter regret. I have also been at the bedside of dying saints, with family gathered around, smiling and singing a hymn and then calmly slipping into the very presence of Jesus. It is a stark, stark contrast.

Are you looking with longing at Rebel Road? Check out what things look like at the end of it before you start that way.

"The path of spiritual blessings is only as wide as a door. Jesus is the door." John 10:9

SENIOR NEWS LINE

by Matilda Charles

Like It or Not, Winter Is Coming

Are you getting ready for winter yet? A quick look at one of the famous almanacs shows a mixed outlook for this year. Depending where we live, we might get colder temperatures than last year, or more snow but warmer temperatures, or lots of rain but cold weather ... the possibilities are all over the place. There's nothing to do but be ready for the worst. Here's what my to-do list looks like for the next few months:

- * Stock up on canned goods and packaged meals, antiseptic wipes and batteries for smoke detectors and flashlights.
- * Check hats, gloves and coat to see if they need to be replaced. (Gloves, yes. Hat and coat, no. I added a waffle shirt, which is great for an additional layer.)
- The good news is that right now these items are on sale in a number of stores before their new stock arrives.

- * Schedule a flu shot for the end of September.
- * Send extra money to the fuel company to add to my monthly plan amount (they base it on last year's usage), and schedule a furnace inspection to be sure it's in good shape.
- * Schedule car maintenance and buy tires. When I heard the mechanic says my tires probably would see me through one more winter, I didn't like the sound of that "probably" and opted not to take a chance.
- * Load up on books for cold, dark days.
- * Sign up for a winter class to make sure I get out, even when it's cold. Depending where you live, your to-do list might look something like mine, but also might include stocking up on bottled water, finding out if senior services will be giving away space heaters, having drafty windows caulked and adding pet food to your supplies.

Remembering the facts of September 11, 2001

This fall, the world will gather once again to commemorate the anniversary of the 9/11 attacks. Fifteen years have passed since the terror attacks on September 11, 2001, and many people in New York City, Washington, D.C., southwestern Pennsylvania, and across the globe are still coping with the aftermath of those attacks. Misinformation and conspiracy theories about 9/11 are still circulating today. But it's important that people know how to distinguish fact from fiction.

- The attacks of 9/11 were carried out by 19 men who hijacked four fuel-loaded American commercial airline jets that were bound for destinations on the west coast. These individuals were militants associated with the Islamic extremist group al-Qaeda. Three planes reached their targets. The fourth crashed in a field in Pennsylvania.
- The first point of impact was the World Trade Center's North Tower located in downtown New York City. American Airlines Boeing 767 left a gaping, burning hole in floors 93 through 99 at 8:45 a.m. Many people were killed instantly, and hundreds more were trapped on floors above the 99th floor. The plane crash was initially thought to be an accident. However, when a second Boeing 767 crashed into the South Tower shortly after the first crash, it became apparent that America was under attack and the first crash was no accident.
- This was not the first terrorist attack on the World Trade Center. A bombing occurred in 1993 in the building's parking garage, killing six people. However, the events of 9/11 have since been deemed the worst terrorist attack on American soil.
- According to DoSomething.org, on a given work day, up to 50,000 employees worked in the Twin Towers, and an additional 40,000 people (including tourists) passed through the complex and underground shopping mall.
- Hijackers aboard Flight 77 that departed from Dulles International Airport crashed that Boeing 757 into the western facade of the Pentagon building at 9:37 a.m. Fifty-nine people aboard the plane and 125 military and civilian personnel inside the Pentagon lost their lives.
- According to History.com, after passengers and crew members aboard hijacked Flight 93 contacted friends and family and learned about the attacks in New York and Washington, they attempted to retake the plane. In response, hijackers deliberately crashed the plane into a field in Somerset County, Pennsylvania, killing all 40 passengers and crew aboard.
- Amid rumors that other high-profile buildings were being targeted, by 10 a.m. the Federal Aviation Administration grounded all flights over or bound for the continental United States. Various buildings were evacuated as well.
- The South Tower collapsed at 9:59 a.m. and the North Tower collapsed at 10:28 a.m. CNN reports that 2,753 were killed in lower Manhattan alone.
- Only 18 people were rescued from the WTC rubble. Many victims were never identified, even after intense DNA analysis of remains.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

* On Sept. 22, 1598, famed playwright Ben Jonson is indicted for manslaughter after a duel. His ability to read and write saved him, and he claimed "benefit of clergy," which allowed him to be sentenced by the lenient ecclesiastical courts.

* On Sept. 25, 1789, the first Congress of the United States approves 12 (of an original 17) amendments to the U.S. Constitution. Only 10, known as the Bill of Rights, were initially ratified by the states.

* On Sept. 21, 1866, H.G. Wells, pioneer of science fiction, is born in Bromley, England. Wells worked as a draper's apprentice and bookkeeper before becoming a freelance writer. In 1895, he published "The Time Machine," about a man who journeys to the future.

* On Sept. 24, 1890, faced with the eminent destruction of their church and way of life, Mormon leaders reluctantly issue the "Mormon Manifesto" in which they command all Latter-day Saints to uphold the anti-polygamy laws of the nation.

* On Sept. 23, 1933, American Standard Oil geologists land in Saudi Arabia and begin their search for oil. The next year the Arabian American Oil Company (a joint venture with the Saudi government) exported its first tanker-load of petroleum. In 1980 the Saudis won control of the company.

* On Sept. 19, 1959, in one of the Cold War's more surreal moments, Soviet leader Nikita Khrushchev enjoys lunch with Frank Sinatra and photo ops with Shirley MacLaine, and then explodes with childish anger when he learns that he cannot visit Disneyland. Authorities feared that the crowds would pose a safety hazard.

* On Sept. 20, 1973, in a highly publicized "Battle of the Sexes" tennis match, top women's player Billie Jean King, 30, beats 55-year-old Bobby Riggs, former No. 1 ranked men's player, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3. Riggs had boasted that women were inferior.

VETERANS POST

by Freddy Groves

Who Let This Veteran Down?

There's a story out there that's given me a chill that just won't go away. An elderly veteran reportedly presented himself at a Department of Veterans Affairs hospital emergency room in New York to get mental-health help, and he was turned away. He went out to his car in the parking lot and committed suicide. A wife no longer has her husband, three daughters no longer have their father, and seven grandchildren no longer have their grandpa. Because it happened on federal property, the FBI is involved. Ideally they'll get to the bottom of who turned this man away. Two congressmen also are involved now, demanding answers. The website for the VA facility says right on the front page: "There is always a caring mental health doctor available 24/7 in our Emergency Room." Granted, the paragraph is talking about substance abuse, but one would think that a "caring mental health doctor" of any specialty would be able to spend some time talking to a veteran to assess the problem. What I really hate is that they're always sorry later, and always say just the right words about being committed to helping veterans, as though it's a stock phrase they stick into each official statement after a tragedy occurs, but never taking any responsibility. The condolences left on the website of the funeral home will hopefully bring comfort to family members, knowing that so many strangers care. These same condolences should be required reading for those who let this veteran down. If you're a veteran, family member, or friend of a veteran, note this information: Mental health help is available 24/7 on the Veterans Crisis Line. The number is 1-800-273-8255, then press 1. Or you can send a text message to 838255. Or you can do an online chat at www.veteranscrisisline.net.

* Use this old trick to keep white canvas sneakers clean: Make a solution of water and cornstarch by mixing a heaping tablespoon in a pint of water. Spray it on the canvas and let dry. It dries on the canvas and creates a barrier so that dirt doesn't stick to the weave of the fabric. You also can use a fabric sealant spray for white and other colors.

* If you hang your pants on a hanger, you may have it all upside-down. Hang creased slacks clipped at the ankles. The weight of the waist keeps creases stiff, and wrinkles out.

* Sweater weather is here! To keep your fuzzy tops in shape, look no further than your medicine cabinet. Use a disposable razor to de-pill sweaters and keep them looking great.

* This fall and winter, if you're dealing with static, keep your cool and grab this hair helper from the laundry room: Rub a sheet of fabric softener over flyaway hairs, and watch that science-experiment hairdo disappear! The cold, dry weather coupled with indoor heating creates a perfect situation for static. The softener effectively banishes it.

* This facial mask is good enough to eat. You might have a hard time deciding whether you want the facial or the snack: Mix together one mashed ripe banana with three tablespoons of sugar, and apply liberally to face. Leave it on for about three minutes, and rinse with warm water. Follow with your favorite moisturizer.

* If you have a sticky zipper, try running a candle along the zipper face, then zipping it up and down a few times.

Roasted Red Pepper Stuffed Chicken Breasts

Ingredients

- 4 chicken breasts, skinless, boneless, raw (about 6 ounces each)
- 2 tablespoons Italian seasoning
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon black pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 4 ounces regular or low-fat cream cheese
- 1 medium lemon, juice and zest
- 1 jar roasted red bell peppers, packed in oil, reserve oil
- 8 slices Thin Provolone cheese
- 4 teaspoons ground flax seed
- 1/2 cup breadcrumbs (whole wheat or Panko)

Directions

1. Heat oven to 350 F.
2. Spray a glass baking dish with the cooking oil. Place the chicken breast on half of a large sheet of plastic wrap on a cutting board. Fold the plastic wrap over the chicken. Using a meat mallet (or a heavy-bottomed skillet), flatten the breast to about 1/4 inch thick. Remove the plastic. Season chicken on both sides with 1 tablespoon of the Italian seasoning, and 1/2 teaspoon of the salt and black pepper, and the cayenne pepper.
3. Mix the cream cheese with the remaining 1/2 teaspoon of the salt and pepper. Remove the zest from the lemon and mix it into the cream cheese. Squeeze the lemon juice into a small bowl. Mix in the reserved oil from the roasted red bell pepper (or use 3 tablespoons of olive oil) and set it aside.
4. Spread the cream cheese mixture across the inside of the breast. Layer two slices of the provolone, then the roasted red pepper. Beginning at the smallest end, roll the breast up, tucking in the peppers as needed. Roll the chicken in the lemon and oil mixture.
5. Mix together the remaining 1 tablespoon of Italian seasoning, the ground flax seeds and the breadcrumbs. Sprinkle the chicken with the breadcrumb mixture. Place the chicken roll, seam side down, in the baking dish. No toothpicks are needed. Repeat the layering and rolling process with the remaining chicken.
6. Drizzle any remaining lemon and oil over the chicken to help it brown and crisp on top. Bake until chicken is cooked through (about 25 to 30 minutes) and no pink flesh remains. Make 4 servings.
