Seven Wonders Of The World

A group of students were asked to list what they thought were the present "Seven Wonders of the World." Though there were some disagreements, the following received the most votes:

1. Egypt's Great Pyramids
2. Taj Mahal
3. Grand Canyon
4. Panama Canal
5. Empire State Building
6. St. Peter's Basilica
7. China's Great Wall

While gathering the votes, the teacher noted that one quiet student hadn't turned in her paper yet. So she asked the girl if she was having trouble with her list.

The girl replied, "Yes, a little. I couldn't quite make up my mind because there were so many."

The teacher said, "Well, tell us what you have, and maybe we can help."

The girl hesitated, then read, "I think the 'Seven Wonders of the World' are:

1. to see
2. to hear
3. to touch
4. to taste
5. to feel
6. to laugh
7. and to love."

The room was so quiet you could have heard a pin drop.

Just a gentle reminder - that the most precious things in life cannot be built by hand or bought by man.

"Each day comes bearing its own gifts -- learn to untie the ribbons."

Forty-five million Americans are currently living in poverty.

For these families and individuals, a warm coat is a budget extra they simply cannot afford. URW Community Federal is asking for you to help us make a difference in our neighbor's lives by donating coats during our upcoming coat drive! We are working to collect clean, gently used warm coats to support our coat drive program, between now and October 15th at all URW Branches. The process is simple: you drop off your extra coat(s) and URW takes care of the rest. All donated coats will be given to a local agency for distribution to local children in need. If you are a teacher and know of a child in your school that does not have a coat, please let us know. Our goal is that no child will be left out in the cold in the URW Community. ARIES
(March 21 to April 19)
You'll soon have a chance to take a big step up from where you are to where you want to be. Check it out first. Remember: Even the Mountain Sheep looks before it leaps.

TAURUS
(April 20 to May 20)
This week brings a challenge that could determine the future direction of your life. If you're ready for a change, accept it with confidence. A loved one supports your decision.

GEMINI
(May 21 to June 20)
A disruption creates a delay in completing your projects. Use this time to pursue a personal matter you were too busy to deal with before. You'll find it will be time well spent.

CANCER
(June 21 to July 22)
You still need to be on the alert for any signs of problems that could create serious misunderstandings. A more positive aspect begins to emerge toward the week's end. Be patient.

LEO
(July 23 to August 22)
With things slowing down a bit this week, it would be a good time for luxury-loving Leonions to go somewhere for some well-earned pampering. Things liven up around Friday.

VIRGO
(August 23 to September 22)
Single Virgos looking for partners are finally getting a break from Venus, who has moved in to make things happen. Attached Virgos see their relationships blossom.

LIBRA
(September 23 to October 22)
You've been working hard to get things done. Now take a breather and recheck your next step. You might want to make some changes in view of the news that comes your way.

SCORPIO
(October 23 to November 21)
The watchword for savvy Scorpios this week is "preparation." Consider sharpening your skills to make the most of the new opportunity you're about to take on.

SAGITTARIUS
(November 22 to December 21)
There might still be some loose ends that need tucking up if you hope to get that important relationship repaired. A new spurt of activity starts soon.

CAPRICORN
(December 22 to January 19)
It's a good idea to keep the positive momentum going by finding and getting rid of anything that could cause you to stumble. Keep the path ahead clear and open.

AQUARIUS
(January 20 to February 18)
A period of contemplation is advised before you make your next move. Be sure that where you decide to go is the right place for you. A health matter needs attention.

PISCES
(February 19 to March 20)
That new energy surge that hit you last week continues to send out good vibrations. Try investing a part of it in creating something noteworthy on the job.

BORN THIS WEEK:
You like to balance your personal universe, and in doing so, you help bring harmony into the lives of the rest of us.

Riding For A Cause

The Eagle Riders: Dean Ferris Memorial Poker Run Check Presentation was held on Monday, September 12, 2016 at the Fraternal Order of Eagles. The Eagle Riders, members of the Danville/ Pittsylvania Cancer Association and some of our sponsors attended the get together. This year's ride was a great success thanks to our members and our many sponsors who supported the event. A check in the amount of $17,086.62 was presented to Vic Ingram, President of the Board of Trustees of the DPC by Eagle Rider President, Jerry Shelton. This marked the fifth year the Eagle Riders: Dean Ferris Poker Run has raised contributions for the DCA, making it a total of over $72,000.00.

Welcome to Lennox Valley, my hometown!

Kevin Stimp's

The Good Folks of Lennox Valley

Nashville, Tennessee. Claire was there to hear her favorite self-help guru speak on "Attracting the Positive and Deflecting the Negative." Chris was working at a vendor's booth, selling copies of the speaker's latest book to excited buyers.

Fresh from a session titled "Finding Your Soulmate," Claire stood five deep in line, waiting for her turn to buy a copy of "Colossal Steps." She felt sure she would return two hours later when, for ten dollars, she would meet the author as he signed her just-purchased copy.

Little did she know that less than a year later, she would be packing almost everything she owned and moving to a small town three states away to be with her real soulmate. After all those years, Chris was worth the wait, or so she thought.

Claire sat in her living room, shades partially pulled so the room was a bit dark, listening to her favorite singer from her teen years:

There's something in my eyes, you know it happens every time
I think about a love that I thought would save me.

While Claire thought about the past, Iris Long was busy finalizing the pages for the next day's edition of Hometown News. After writing and rewriting the headline more than a dozen times, Iris finally settled on:

Cooper Lays an Egg Following Price Fiasco

On the Opinion page, Iris penned an 800-word editorial titled, "Is There Anyone Out There?" In paragraph three, she wrote, "Surely there is someone worthy of leading our valley into the future without lies, tricks and deceit."

She added that Dick Bland was a "fine man," but would have a hard time defeating Cooper.

She reminded the voters it wasn't too late. The statute for mayoral elections allowed candidates to place their names on the ballot as late as 21 days before the election. That meant there were two days before the deadline.

"The qualifications are as follows: At least 28 years of age, no felony convictions, and a resident of Lennox Valley for 12 months."

OBITUARIES

"For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord; whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's." - Romans 14:8

"Faulty Meme Logic"

My phone chirped letting me know someone had sent me a text. As is usually the case it was one of my amazing church members. The text read, "Hey Preacher, have you seen this?" I got those texts a lot. Usually it is something along the lines of "Why women live longer than men," which will be a picture of a man doing something incredibly stupid, like using a tall ladder which is propped on two chairs. Which are on the hood of a vehicle. In a tornado.

This time, though, it was a meme which no doubt someone felt incredibly clever putting together.

It was comparing Islam to other things. The first section was a picture of a bearded Jewish man beside a picture of a bearded Muslim man. The second section was a picture of a nun beside a picture of a Muslim woman. The third section was a picture of George Washington beside a picture of a boy throwing a rock at a tank.

The meme read, "Why is it... a Jew can grow his beard to practice his faith, but when a Muslim does the same, he is labeled an extremist? A nun can cover herself from head to toe to devote herself to God, but when a Muslim does the same, she's considered oppressed? When this person defends his land he is labeled a hero, but when a Muslim defends his land, he is labeled a terrorist?"

Proverbs 26:7 says, "The legs of the lame are not equal: so is a parable in the mouth of fools." In other words, foolish people have a habit of making unequal comparisons. The meme I described is one of the best examples of that I have ever seen. Let us dissect it briefly, and then close with a word about sound reasoning.

On the first point, the beard of a Muslim is not an issue, unless the beard becomes a prelude to bad behavior. Beards do not make a person dangerous. A man could grow his beard long enough to earn the nickname Rapunzel face, and it would not warrant the term extremist. It is suicide bombings, televised beheadings, punishment rapes, honor killings, burning people alive, things of that nature that are currently earning the Muslim men who engage in them the title of extremist. I am unaware of any bearded Jewish men currently engaging in the above list of activities.

On the second point, the comparison between a nun and an Islamic woman is enough of a stretch to make yoga blush. Nuns wear what they wear completely voluntarily, make up a tiny fraction of women in Catholicism, and could cast their habit aside at any time without the slightest fear of having violence leveled against them for doing so. She could even go so far as to become a Hooters girl if she chose, and the worst thing that would happen to her would likely be having people "tsk tsk" her decision. Does anyone think that to be the case with Muslim women? The covering of Muslim ladies is not simply a religious guideline, it is compulsory under Sharia Law, and many times ladies face violence for not submitting to it. "It is a condition for the permissibility of her going out that she take no measures to enhance her beauty, and that her figure is concealed or altered to a form unlikely to draw looks from men or attract them. Allah most high says, 'Remain in your homes and do not display your beauty as women did in pre-Islamic periods of ignorance.' (The Reliance of the Traveler, page 682)

On the third point, George Washington actually defended his land. He did not, however, kill everyone who disagreed with him, even his own people, as is so often seen in the sectarian violence in the Middle East. Nor do children throwing rocks at tanks qualify as terrorists, as the meme suggests people think. But when those children have explosive bombs strapped to their chests, their parents have become terrorists, no matter what reason they do it for. And when other children grow up to calmly slit the throats of bound, kneeling, helpless "infidels", yes, they are terrorists.

I am grateful for Muslims who hate barbarity, and I am especially grateful for those with the courage to speak out against it. As I have said so often, I do not believe for a moment that every Muslim is violent and repressive. But those who are should not be given a pass by faulty meme makers or anyone else.

And now, as I promised, a word about sound reasoning. We have entered the age where memes and tweets carry more weight than lengthy, reasoned discourse. That is not just a shame, it is also dangerous. Learn to slow down, make equal comparisons, and talk things through. It doesn't make a good meme, but it does make good sense.

In Loving Memory of My Brother Carroll Wayne Ayers 1-20-64 9-17-11

In memory of a special brother, so full of loving deeds who always thought of others first and helped fulfill their needs. Someone who loved to bring a smile as he went on his way and never failed to brighten up a dark, gloomy day. Someone who'll never know how much he's missed and thought about, for when you left it seemed as if the stars had all gone out. Brother you meant so much to us in every single way. There's not a day that me and Corey don't think about you. He misses you dearly. You will be remembered with much love today and forever. A pillar of strength, I have known. My little brother is a special one to be. We're sending a dove to heaven with a parcel in it's wings, be careful when you open it, it's full of beautiful things. Inside are a million kisses wrapped up in a million hugs, to say how much we miss you, and to send you all our love. We hold you close within our hearts, and there you will remain to walk with us throughout our lives until we see you again. You celebrate with the other angels today- Mom, Dad, Robert, grandparents. We know that all of you are watching over us, guiding us. We can feel your presence. May God keep us in good hands, while the angels rejoice. Corey is always talking about you, the good times we had. He says he will always remember everything y'all had together and treasure what he's learned. This is not goodbye, til we meet on the other side of that beautiful shore at the Pearly gates of Heaven. Sadly hurting, we love you! Carolyn, Corey, Jerry, Nosey

Brain Games vs. Dementia

If you don't yet have a computer or tablet, recent news might persuade you to ask for one for your birthday: brain-training exercises reduce dementia. Researchers at a half-dozen universities collaborated on different cognitive training programs with nearly 3,000 participants starting in 1998. The program, called the Advanced Cognitive Training in Vital Elderly study (ACTIVE), tested reasoning, memory and speed of processing information using one of four methods: memory training, speed of processing information training, reasoning training and none at all. Getting results didn't take long. Only 10 sessions of training over five weeks were required.

Of the above methods, it was only the speed training that delayed the onset of dementia, by a whopping 48 percent over the course of 10 years. Researchers even made it more specific: Each session of training reduced the risk of dementia by 8 percent.

Participants experienced improvement in areas of attention, feelings of control, quality of life and even improved driving reaction time because objects off to the side were seen more quickly. The online version of the program they used is called "Double Decision," and it can be found on brainhq.com if you search for that name. As samples, there are games to play for free. Here's one example: Identifying fast-moving objects on a screen, including those in peripheral vision, with tasks getting more and more difficult. While it's tempting to see online brain training as the end-all to delaying dementia, we should not forget that the Federal Trade Commission once fined a maker of brain games for making false claims. On the other hand, funding for this long-term research was made possible by the National Institute on Aging. Suggestion: Go online to those free games at brainhq.com and try a few. Decide for yourself.

10 Fun Facts In Time For Fall

Autumn is a season of many changes, with some of the most notable including the dramatic multicolored displays that occur just prior to trees shedding their leaves. It's also a time of year when many people feel reenergized by cooler temperatures and spend many hours outdoors enjoying all that fall has to offer. Whether one is collecting leaves, picking apples, exploring corn mazes, or driving the countryside enjoying the foliage, autumn is full of fun facts that can make the season that much more enjoyable.

1. Autumn begins on the autumnal equinox, which occurs on or near September 22 in the northern hemisphere. This year, September 22 is the day when the sun crosses the celestial equator moving southward. When the equinox occurs, there are an equal number of daylight and nighttime hours.
2. Since ancient times, autumn has been an important time of year for many civilizations. Autumn is a main harvesting time in many areas, and a successful harvest was once necessary for survival. Many steps are, and have long been, taken to ensure a bountiful autumn harvest.
3. Fall is a time when trees and other plants prepare for dormancy during winter. As autumn progresses and the hours of daylight gradually decrease, trees begin to close down their food production systems and reduce the amount of chlorophyll in leaves. Chlorophyll is the chemical that makes tree leaves green, and as it declines, other chemicals become more prominent and shine through in the leaves. That is why leaves change color.
4. Some scientists believe that global climate change can impact autumn colors, such as delaying the change in trees. Also, red pigments may start to decline as trees use sugary fuel to grow new twigs rather than to cause red leaf displays.
5. Americans more readily refer to this time of year as "fall," while the British use "autumn." Both terms date back to around the 16th century. Prior to this period, autumn was known as "harvest."
6. Much of the United States bids farewell to monarch butterflies in the fall. Each autumn, monarch butterflies migrate from the United States to Mexico and some parts of Southern California. They fly at speeds ranging between 12 and 25 miles per hour.
7. A study of U.S. centenarians born between 1880 to 1895 published in the Journal of Aging Research, found that babies born during autumn months are more likely to live to age 100 than those born during the rest of the year. Thirty percent of the centenarians followed were born during the fall.
8. Squash, pumpkins and other gourds are prominent in the fall. The largest squash grown on record belonged to Joel Jarvis of Ontario, and his huge winner weighed in at 1,486.6 pounds in 2011.
9. The many-colored leaves are not the only display one might see during the fall. The autumn equinox signals the aurora borealis, also called the Northern Lights. Besides the lengthening of nights and cool evening weather, which are great for stargazers, autumn is "aurora season," according to NASA. That's because, during the fall, geomagnetic storms are about twice as frequent as the annual average.
10. Full moons are named for the month or season in which they rise. The Harvest Moon is the full moon closest to the autumnal equinox.

New Fifth Street Community Health Center To Break Ground

LYNCHBURG—In collaboration with the Free Clinic of Central Virginia, the Community Access Network and Centra, the groundbreaking for the new Fifth Street Community Health Center will be held on Thursday, September 8th from 11:30-1:00pm. With over 17,000 uninsured residents in this community, 37,000 residents with Medicaid and Medicare who do not have access to primary care and a poverty rate of 96.3% among African Americans around 5th street, this is a big step to continue providing healthcare services for the most vulnerable community members.

This center, which will be an additional Free Clinic site, will provide walk-in immediate and primary care services to high-risk underinsured or uninsured patients, mental health services through collaborative community partnerships and access to specialists and other additional medical services. Through partnerships with nonprofits and social service agencies in the community, the clinic will also be equipped to address social issues affecting patients' health, whether it is inadequate housing, transportation or a lack of financial resources. Having all these services under one roof is truly unique.

The Community Access Network is comprised of local healthcare providers who work collaboratively to address the lack of access to health care locally and the social factors affecting the communities' health.

The facility has been carefully designed with patients of all ages and their families in mind. The medical center is slated to open late 2017 and will be located on the corner of 5th and Federal Street in downtown Lynchburg.

Parking for the groundbreaking event will be held at the James River Conference Center, with shuttle service to the construction site.

* "Use old T-shirts as rags when you polish your silver and brass. They work really well, no scratching! I am doing this now to get everything ready for the holiday entertaining season." -- E.L. in Maine

* Before cold weather settles in, remove summer dust buildup by vacuuming walls, baseboards, ceiling ductwork and high shelves. You can extend your reach with the cardboard core of a roll of gift wrap. Just tape it to the end of your handle attachment.

* "I have a weekly meet-up group of girlfriends. We pick a project to work on each season or so. This season is organizing vacation and digital photos. We each bring a load of old photos or our computer to each others' houses in turn, and have a great time going through them, organizing and putting them in albums. It is less overwhelming to do it with friends. Plus, we have fun!" -- R.E. in New Hampshire

* Use a Bundt pan to roast a chicken. Grease insides of pan. Simply season and prepare your bird, then slip the bird upright on the center, cavity down. Then fill the pan with veggies for a complete meal. Roast and enjoy.

* Wipe down screens before replacing them with storm windows for the winter. Also, save yourself a lot of time and aggravation by labeling each screen with the location it came from. This way, in the spring, you will have an easy time getting them back up.

* Protect your carpet, upholstery and artwork by drawing the blinds or curtains in windows that get direct sunlight. If you like to get the light and warmth in the cold months, use sheers to filter the light. Over time, even through a window, the light can fade and stain fabrics.
