11 Critical Home Inspection Traps to be Aware of Weeks Before Listing Your Home for Sale

Home Owners - According to industry experts, there are over 33 physical problems that will come under scrutiny during a home inspection when your home is for sale. A new report has been prepared which identifies the eleven most common of these problems, and what you should know about them before you list your home for sale.

Whether you own an old home or a brand new one, there are a number of things that can fall short of requirements during a home inspection. If not identified and dealt with, any of these 11 items could cost you dearly in terms of repair. That's why it's critical that you read this report before you list your home. If you wait until the building inspector flags these issues for you, you will almost certainly experience costly delays in the close of your home sale or, worse, turn prospective buyers away altogether. In most cases, you can make a reasonable pre-inspection yourself if you know what you're looking for, and knowing what you're looking for can help you prevent little problems from growing into costly and unmanageable ones.

To help home sellers deal with this issue before their homes are listed, a free report entitled "11 Things You Need to Know to Pass Your Home Inspection" has been compiled which explains the issues involved.

To hear a brief recorded message about how to order your FREE copy of this report, call toll-free 1-800-238-4613 and enter 1003. You can call any time, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Get your free special report NOW to learn how to ensure a home inspection doesn't cost you the sale of your home.

Power Is The Priority With An At-Home Office

(NAPS)—According to the US Census Bureau, a summary of trends indicates that 3.7 million employees now telecommute at least half of their work week. In fact, the number of work-at-home individuals who are not self-employed has grown by 103% since 2005. These work trends support an urgent need for uninterrupted electricity in the home to reduce lost work time and other avoidable disruptions.

Working from home has a number of employee benefits: the morning commute can't be beat and every day is casual Friday. And one perk that benefits both employee and employer is that studies show individuals tend to work more productively from a quieter, well-connected environment. However, when threatening weather is in the forecast, the flow of work from home to corporate office may also be at-risk. Formulating a backup plan in the case of a power outage should be a significant part of a home office business model.

Every responsible home office business model should consider a continuous source of power. Home standby generators, like the Guardian series by Generac Power Systems, turn on automatically when utility power goes out and stay on until utility power is restored. The benefits of installing a backup power system include uninterrupted, continuous power; communications connectivity for all business and home needs; protection for expensive computer equipment; and overall peace of mind.

More than just an inconvenience, a power outage also means productivity losses that can ultimately result in lost income and missed opportunities. In Beaver Dams, New York, a Generac generator saved Deborah Purdue who shares, "I am a goldsmith and have my shop in my house. In the past I lost hundreds of dollars not being able to work because of an outage. I work at least 70 hours a week and when we lose power I just get further behind. This unit has given me tremendous peace of mind!"

Working from home needn't stop during a power outage if you have a back-up generator.

It's also important to prioritize those items the home office will need in order to stay up and running. Generac.com offers a generator sizing calculator that provides recommendations for options that accommodate the home's electricity needs, as well as personal preferences.

"Ensuring the power is always on is the right decision for today's telecommuters," says Jodi Marose, Generac Power Systems, Inc. spokesperson. "A home standby generator will automatically keep your equipment running which allows you to focus on keeping your business running."

The sap of the giant hogweed plant can cause severe skin and eye irritation, painful blistering, permanent scarring and blindness when combined with sunlight exposure. It is contacted by brushing against the bristles on the stem or breaking the stem or leaves. If you come in contact with the sap, wash it off as soon as possible with soap and water, and keep the affected skin hidden from sunlight for 48 hours. Giant hogweed is listed as a “noxious weed” by the US government.

Collecting
by Larry Cox

Baseball Yearbooks

Q.I have some Chicago Cubs yearbooks from the 1950s. How and where can I sell them? — Janet, Oswego, Illinois

A.I checked eBay and found dozens of Chicago Cubs yearbooks being offered for sale, including editions from 1948 ($35), 1949 ($26), 1950 ($20), 1955 ($27) and 1956 ($40). I suggest you sell your yearbooks there in order to get — in my opinion — the best possible price.

Q.My late uncle loved paperback novels and managed to collect several hundred titles, mostly from the 1940s and '50s. They are extremely interesting, and I understand some have become quite collectible. Can you recommend a good price guide? — Art, St. Charles, Missouri

A.The mass-market paperback was introduced by Robert de Graff in 1938 with a special “Pocket Book” edition of “The Good Earth” by Pearl Buck. It was such a success that other titles quickly followed.

There are several references, but I especially like the “Collectible Paperback Price Guide,” by Gary Lovisi and published by Krause Books. It features up-to-date values for thousands of the most collectible American mass-market paperbacks, each with three grades of condition. It also has more than 1,000 cover illustrations in full color.

This nifty guide explains how to collect, value, buy and sell paperback books with special sections on cover art, key authors, important artists, hot series, pen names, how and what to collect, recommended dealers and book shows. It is $20 and should be a good resource for you and others who enjoy paperbacks.

Q.I have a radio that I listened to as a child. I am now 76 years old. It is a Philco Model 39-85 with three knobs: One is the off/on switch, the second for tuning and the third for short wave. Could you give me any information about it? — William, Litchfield Park, Arizona

A.The model number is a good clue since it indicates that your radio was manufactured in 1939 and is identified as the production model 85. There were 20,050 of this model made with an original price of $52.50. For owners of Philco radios, I recommend an excellent Internet site, philcoradio.com/gallery. Incidentally, the first Philco radio was manufactured in 1928.

HOLLYWOOD
by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — Forbes Magazine named Jennifer Lawrence as the top-earning female in films for the second year in a row, with $46 million. Next up for Lawrence is "Passengers," with Chris Pratt, Michael Sheehan and Laurence Fishburne, due Dec. 21, followed by Darren Aronofsky's untitled film, opposite Javier Bardem, due out Dec. 29, 2017. Her last film, "X-Men: Apocalypse," cost $178 to make and grossed $543 million. She's followed on the earnings chart by Melissa McCarthy ($33 million), Scarlett Johansson ($25 million) and Jennifer Aniston ($21 million).

Ryan Murphy's anthology series, "Feud," which opens with the hatefest between Bette Davis (Susan Sarandon) and Joan Crawford (Jessica Lange), has added Catherine Zeta-Jones as Olivia de Havilland (who turned 100 in July!) and Sarah Paulson as Geraldine Page. I once talked with Bette Davis about that famous feud, and she intimated it was because "Crawford conned Jack Warner into a four-picture deal when she was dropped by MGM. Jack gave her 'Mildred Pierce,' which he bought for me, and she won the Oscar for it!"

Recently Joy Behar revealed on "The View" that she has nothing to do with an alleged miracle cream being marketed under her name, and that the claim she's leaving "The View" to concentrate on the product is a lie. "If I authorized them to use my name I'd be getting money for it," she said, "and I haven't received a dime. They're a fly-by-night company we can't find to shut down. Don't buy this product on my dime or name!" That same company used Ellen DeGeneres' name six months earlier until she shut them down. DON'T BUY THIS PRODUCT.

Also, a company is using Sylvester Stallone's name, claiming he retired at 70 and stays fit with their two products called "T-90 XPLODE" and "NO2 BLAST." They offer to let you try it for free, and you pay $5 for postage and handling of each bottle. What they DON'T say is that you have to cancel within 14 days or get charged $90 for each bottle. Health experts say there's no proof these products work, and people have complained of headaches and side effects. DON'T BUY THESE PRODUCTS!

Robert De Niro's last film, "Dirty Grandpa," with Zac Efron, cost $20 million to make and grossed $100 million. He currently has "Hands of Stone," with Usher, Rubin Blades and Ellen Barkin, in theaters and is plotting with Martin Scorsese to reunite his 1990 "Goodfellas" co-stars Al Pacino and Joe Pesci in "The Irishman." Pacino is up for it, but Pesci is saying, "No way!" His last film, "Love Ranch" (2010), with Helen Mirren, cost $25 million and made only $137,885. Wikipedia lists "The Irishman" as Pesci's next film. What up, Joe. Are you being a "Badfella" for money?

Q. I loved George Blagden in "Vikings." Can you tell me what he's doing now? — Kaley T., via email

A. You can see a lot of George in the U.S. premiere of "Versailles," which is coming to Ovation TV on Oct. 1 at 10 p.m. ET/PT. The 10-episode series, which has received rave reviews across the pond, is a unique take on a defining period of French history. George plays the infamous King Louis XIV in this story of power, love, betrayal and war. A ruthless leader, Louis will stop at nothing to achieve his vision of creating the most beautiful palace in Europe and seizing absolute control of France and his enemies. I spoke with George, who just finished filming season two, about "Versailles," and he is thrilled to be able to bring this beautiful series to the States.

So how did George get into the mind-set of playing such a ruthless king? "I worked with the producing team to make sure we were all on the same page in that we wanted to create a series demonstrating that this man is not who we think he is. He is fragile and vulnerable — that was the key for me to getting into the role, showing a fragile and vulnerable king."

"We enjoy watching a character develop over 20 hours (with a series), not the one and a half hours you get for a movie. Louis is not all-powerful from the get-go. We watch a boy grow up into a man. I hope viewers will enjoy watching the journey. I've certainly enjoyed it."

Head over to celebrityextraonline.com to read my in-depth interview with George to discover all the salacious and scandalous details of "Versailles," as well as to enjoy the beauty and bounty that such a gorgeous and enlightening series can provide.

Q. Is it true that they are remaking "Sherlock Holmes" for the big screen? What can a new production do that Guy Ritchie and Robert Downey Jr. haven't done? — Lee R. in Washington

A. There indeed will be a new iteration of the renowned detecting dynamic duo, however, it's not what you might expect. Will Farrell and John C. Reilly play Sherlock Holmes and John Watson, respectively, in the tentatively titled "Holmes & Watson." While it's still early, I'm sure we can expect a cheeky and impudent take on the crime-solving pair.

Q. Can you tell me when my favorite Netflix shows, "Longmire" and "Portlandia," will be back for their new seasons? — Janet Y., via email

A. "Longmire" returns Friday, Sept. 23, for its fifth season, and "Portlandia" returns Sept. 24 for season six. As you know, Netflix will drop an entire series at once, so try to savor each episode for as long as you can. Who am I kidding? I know we're both going to binge-watch the heck out of these shows the moment they become available. Happy viewing!

Write to Cindy at KingFeaturesWeeklyService, 628 Virginia Drive, Orlando, FL 32803; or e-mail her at letters@cindyelavsky.com.

A Sporting view by Mark Vasto

Heeere's Carson!

I was eating a grilled octopus at Dimitri's in Philadelphia when I learned that the Eagles had traded Sam Bradford to the Vikings in exchange for a first-round pick in the 2017 NFL draft.

All I could do was take a deep breath, because I knew I had to pace myself. The news made a walk across the street to the New Wave, a legendary Philadelphia sports bar, mandatory.

I cannot honestly say whether or not Philadelphia has the best sports fans, but I can tell you that they come off like the perfect sports-fan stereotype you often see caricatured in sitcoms and film. In Philadelphia, the mere notion of a casual sports fan is abhorrent. You don't have to paint your face, but you must own at least one article of officially licensed clothing and you must get to the stadium off of I-95 at minimum once per year or you risk expulsion.

To recap, tonight we learned that Sam Bradford, a former top pick in the draft, was traded to Minnesota, elevating the Eagle's first-round pick from this year, Carson Wentz, to the helm. Wentz, billed as a "smart" mobile quarterback with a cannon arm, put up very impressive numbers at North Dakota State. The Eagles worked very hard to explain this rationale to their fans, and for the most part the strategy seemed to work as most Eagle fans condoned the pick. Well, at least they didn't boo.

Bradford was never really beloved in Philadelphia. Fans appreciated his talent but really disdained his fragility (yeah, and that's how they talk at the New Wave ... "You know something? I really disdain Bradford's fragility ... wanna shoot some darts?"). The guy always got hurt. So what do the Eagles do? They elevate a guy that got his ribs cracked open after completing 12 passes and missing three pre-season games to the starting position.

He will be playing for rookie head coach Doug Pederson, a guy who brings great bonafides as a former Eagles QB and from his years of coaching the Kansas City Chiefs under former Eagle's head coach Andy Reid. For good measure, Pederson also brought along former Mizzou QB standout Chase Daniels to back Wentz up.

If Pederson thought Missouri was the "Show Me" state, he has to know that Philadelphia brings that mentality to a completely new level. Vegas has them at 100-to-1 odds to win the Super Bowl, but they are loaded with talent, having signed Darren Sproles at running back and Rodney McLeod for their secondary. They have a great set of tight ends in Brent Celek and Zach Ertz. Still, even with Bradford, this season was considered to be a rebuilding year. What do they have now? A quick survey at the New Wave sets the tone.

"All I can say is this, the Eagles just better win ... I'm not into this 'rebuilding' (expletive)," says a fan who hails from Pennsauken. "Let's see what this guy (Wentz) can do."

That about sums it up. Looking for a great storyline (and great meal) to follow this season? On the whole, you'd rather be in Philadelphia.

Thanksgiving Novena to ST. JUDE
 O Holy St. Jude Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ. Faithful intercessor of all who invoke this special patronage in time of need. To you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg you, to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return, I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. Say three Our Fathers, three Hail Marys and three Glory Be's. Publication must be promised. St Jude pray for us and all who invoke your aid. Amen. This novena has never been known to fail. It helped me. Thank you St. Jude for answering my prayers.

Random Acts of Kindness...
 Hi, my name is Sammy - I was an older cat stuck in a Shelter till one day mommy came in and brought me to my forever home. It's been years and I'm still here. I'm allowed outside in the a.m. as long as someone is out there with me. As soon as mommy went inside for a second, I had a "senior moment" and walked away. That moment turned into a week away. Then one day a lovely lady heard me crying. She called Coventry Animal Control and I was brought home. I was in terrible shape. Next to the Coventry Animal Hospital for fluids and meds. My poor family was so sad. I just wanted to thank - the lady that heard me - the fine folks at the Animal Control and Coventry Animal Hospital. My family and I are so thankful. P.S. I just turned 21 years old.
 Love,
 Sammy and Family
 I'm feeling good and eating and drinking and purring a lot too!

Host plants are plants that cat-milkweed leaves so the cater-work really well, no scratching! I am doing this now to get everything ready for the holiday entertaining season."

• Before cold weather settles in, remove summer dust buildup by vacuuming walls, baseboards, ceiling ductwork and high shelves. You can extend your reach with the cardboard core of a roll of gift wrap. Just tape it to the end of your handle attachment.

• "I have a weekly meet-up group of girlfriends. We pick a project to work on each season or so. This season is organizing vacation and digital photos. We each bring a load of old photos or our computer to each others' houses in turn, and have a great time going through them, organizing and putting them in albums. It is less overwhelming to do it with friends. Plus, we have fun!" —R.E. in New Hampshire

• Use a Bundt pan to roast a chicken. Grease insides of pan. Simply season and prepare your bird, then slip the bird upright on the center, cavity down. Then fill the pan with veggies for a complete meal. Roast and enjoy.

• Wipe down screens before replacing them with storm windows for the winter. Also, save yourself a lot of time and aggravation by labeling each screen with the location it came from.
This way, in the spring, you will have an easy time getting them back up.

• Protect your carpet, upholstery and artwork by drawing the blinds or curtains in windows that get direct sunlight. If you like to get the light and warmth in the cold months, use sheers to filter the light. Over time, even through a window, the light can fade and stain fabrics.

Cats in the Window

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I'm writing this not long after returning from the vet, where my cat "Trix" was treated after falling from my apartment's second-floor window. Fortunately his injuries aren't serious and he'll recover, but it was a scary day that was all my fault.

Can you please tell your readers to make sure their cats cannot push through the screen windows? Many cats like to sit on the windowsill and watch the outside world, but if something attracts them or if they lean up against a loose screen, it could give way — which is what happened with Trix. — Jan in Quincy, Massachusetts

DEAR JAN: Thank you! I'm glad Trix will be OK.

Readers, screen windows often aren't secured solidly enough to keep a cat from pushing or falling through one. Cats also can tear the screen with their claws (and sometimes get their claws tangled in the screen, another scary moment). The damage from a small screen rip may not seem like much, but over time constant clawing can open up the screen entirely.

To keep your cat safe, try keeping the lower casement of windows shut, and screen the upper casement so you can open that part to let air in.

If you have a screened-in porch that your cat likes sitting in, make sure the screen stays in good repair so it can't escape.

Keep your cat even safer around windows by making sure curtain pull cords are either cut short to stay out of reach, or wrapped tightly around mounting hooks. Avoid floor-to-ceiling curtains that cats love to climb; use shorter curtains and make sure curtain rods are mounted securely.

Send your questions or pet care tips to ask@pawscorner.com.

tinue stirring as you add 1 1/2 cups canned pumpkin and 1 teaspoon vanilla extract.

BOWL No. 3

In the third bowl, combine the following dry ingredients:

- 3 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 tablespoon cinnamon
- 1 tablespoon allspice
- 1 teaspoon salt

Add dry ingredients to bowl No. 1 and stir. The consistency will be similar to batter for pumpkin bread. Scoop 1/4-cup quantities of the mixture onto a greased cookie sheet.

Bake 10-12 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool slightly, remove from pan and cool on wire rack.

Assemble by spreading your favorite vanilla frosting on one baked "cookie," then top with another to resemble a giant sandwich cookie. Dust with powdered sugar and serve. Makes 10.

Tip: For a creative twist, add 1/4 cup canned chestnut puree to every cup of vanilla frosting.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You'll soon have a chance to take a big step up from where you are to where you want to be. Check it out first. Remember: Even the Mountain Sheep looks before it leaps.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) This week brings a challenge that could determine the future direction of your life. If you're ready for a change, accept it with confidence. A loved one supports your decision.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A disruption creates a delay in completing your projects. Use this time to pursue a personal matter you were too busy to deal with before. You'll find it will be time well spent.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You still need to be on the alert for any signs of problems that could create serious misunderstandings. A more positive aspect begins to emerge toward the week's end. Be patient.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) With things slowing down a bit this week, it would be a good time for luxury-loving Leonines to go somewhere for some well-earned pampering. Things liven up around Friday.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Single Virgos looking for partners are finally getting a break from Venus, who has moved in to make things happen. Attached Virgos see their relationships blossom.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You've been working hard to get things done. Now take a breather and recheck your next step. You might want to make some changes in view of the news that comes your way.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) The watchword for savvy Scorpions this week is "preparation." Consider sharpening your skills to make the most of the new opportunity you're about to take on.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) There might still be some loose ends that need tucking up if you hope to get that important relationship repaired. A new spurt of activity starts soon.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) It's a good idea to keep the positive momentum going by finding and getting rid of anything that could cause you to stumble. Keep the path ahead clear and open.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A period of contemplation is advised before you make your next move. Be sure that where you decide to go is the right place for you. A health matter needs attention.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) That new energy surge that hit you last week continues to send out good vibrations. Try investing a part of it in creating something noteworthy on the job.

BORN THIS WEEK: You like to balance your personal universe, and in doing so, you help bring harmony into the lives of the rest of us.
