Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

* It was 20th-century Florida politician Claude Pepper, member of the U.S. Senate and the U.S. House of Representatives, who made the following sage observation: "If more politicians in this country were thinking about the next generation instead of the next election, it might be better for the United States and the world."

* Those who study such things say that the letter "s" begins more words in the English language than any other letter. The letter "c" takes second place, followed by "p" in third.

* In 1958, a woman named Ella Petry, then residing in St. Leonardson-by-the-Sea, England, spent 21 days carrying an egg around in the bosom of her dress, successfully hatching a chick at the end of the three-week period.

* It's been claimed that English is the only language that capitalizes the pronoun "I."

* It may be difficult to picture a pope in anything other than the robes of office, but they certainly lead normal lives when they're young. Pope John Paul II reputedly was an excellent soccer goalkeeper, and he worked as a playwright -- and even performed as an actor in some productions.

* When black sheep get old, their wool turns gray. ***

Thought for the Day: "Moral certainty is always a sign of cultural inferiority. The more uncivilized the man, the surer he is that he knows precisely what is right and what is wrong. All human progress, even in morals, has been the work of men who have doubted the current moral values, not of men who have whooped them up and tried to enforce them. The truly civilized man is always skeptical and tolerant, in this field as in all others. His culture is based on 'I am not too sure.'" -- H.L. Mencken

An Email From God

One day God was looking down at Earth and saw all of the rascally behavior that was going on. So he called one of His angels and sent the angel to Earth for a time.

When he returned, he told God, "Yes, it is bad on Earth; 95% are misbehaving and only 5% are not."

God thought for a moment and said, "Maybe I had better send down a second angel to get another opinion." So God called another angel and sent him to Earth for a time.

When the angel returned he went to God and said, "Yes, it's true. The Earth is in decline; 95% are misbehaving, but 5% are being good."

God was not pleased. So He decided to e-mail the 5% that were good, because he wanted to encourage them, and give them a little something to help them keep going.

Do you know what the e-mail said?

Okay, I was just wondering, because I didn't get the email either.

Forty-five million Americans are currently living in poverty.

For these families and individuals, a warm coat is a budget extra they simply cannot afford. URW Community Federal is asking for you to help us make a difference in our neighbor's lives by donating coats during our upcoming coat drive! We are working to collect clean, gently used warm coats to support our coat drive program, between now and October 15th at all URW Branches. The process is simple: you drop off your extra coat(s) and URW takes care of the rest. All donated coats will be given to a local agency for distribution to local children in need. If you are a teacher and know of a child in your school that does not have a coat, please let us know. Our goal is that no child will be left out in the cold in the URW Community. Salome's Stars

ARIES
(March 21 to April 19)
Cosmic changes create a potential for disruptions in your travel plans. In the meantime, you might want to consider shifting your focus to another area of your life that needs attention.

TAURUS
(April 20 to May 20)
It's a good time for beauty-loving Bovines to enjoy something special for the senses. It will restore your spirit and return you to the workaday world ready for the next challenge.

GEMINI
(May 21 to June 20)
With your planetary ruler, Mercury, going retrograde, you might want to slow down the pace in pursuing some of your projects. Rushing things could be counterproductive.

CANCER
(June 21 to July 22)
Tensions begin to ease in those once-testy relationships. This helps create a more positive aspect all around. Expect to hear news that could lead you to rethink a recent decision.

LEO
(July 23 to August 22)
The pace of activity that had slowed last week now begins to pick up. This is good news for Leos and Leonas who have career-building plans that need to be put into operation.

VIRGO
(August 23 to September 22)
Venus offers encouragement to romance-seeking Virgos who are ready to get up, get out and meet more people, one of whom could be that long-sought soul mate.

LIBRA
(September 23 to October 22)
An ongoing problem with a co-worker might need to be sent to arbitration. Get all your facts together so that you have a solid base from which to make your argument.

SCORPIO
(October 23 to November 21)
You are usually decisive about most matters. But you might want to defer your decision-making this week until you get more facts. Someone is holding out on you.

SAGITTARIUS
(November 22 to December 21)
That quiet period is ending, and a new burst of activity creates some problems at the workplace. But things are soon resolved, and everything goes back to normal.

CAPRICORN
(December 22 to January 19)
Relationships could be either helpful or hurtful as you pursue your career goals. You might have to make some difficult choices depending on what your priorities are.

AQUARIUS
(January 20 to February 18)
You might still have some doubts about a career move that could involve a lot of travel. If so, continue to check things out until you feel secure about making a decision.

PISCES
(February 19 to March 20)
Love rules, as Venus continues to exercise her cosmic influence on both single and attached Pisces. New developments might cause you to change your travel plans.

BORN THIS WEEK:
You often think of others before you consider your own needs. You enjoy helping people and would make a fine teacher or caregiver.

Cooper silenced by shocking news

Raymond Cooper's plan was simple on Wednesday as he began his daily program on Talk Radio 88.3. As had become his custom, the show commenced with Lee Greenwood singing "I'm Proud to Be an American," followed by a heart-warming prayer by Raymond.

"O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console; to be understood, as to understand."

As usual, his audience listened in awe as Cooper lifted his inspired plea up to heaven. His voice was like that of an angel. It was of no concern to Raymond that his listeners were clueless to the fact that his words were actually uttered by St. Francis nearly 800 years earlier.

After the prayer, Raymond began a stirring discourse concerning the importance of honesty in the press. Cooper knew that by now almost every listener would have read the morning edition of Lennox Valley Hometown News, and he was none too happy about the words Editor Iris Long used to characterize his election campaign.

"Perhaps," Cooper barked, "the alleged editor has an ulterior motive. Maybe there is more to her negativity than meets the eye."

Raymond welcomed his guest, Farley Pucket, to the show. It wasn't usual for Raymond to have a guest, other than the occasional clergyperson or local dignitary, live in his studio. Pucket owned the local True Value Hardware Store and was Cooper's biggest advertiser in 1998. Raymond knew where his bread was buttered and trusted Farley to agree with his opinion on most any subject.

"Did you get a chance to read the so-called editorial in the paper this morning?" Cooper quizzed his guest.

"I feel," answered Pucket, "it's the duty of every citizen to keep up with the goings-on in their community."

"You're a fine American," Raymond quickly responded.

"But it's getting harder for me to read the biased opinions of that so-called editor every week," continued a riled-up Farley. "I'm just about ready to cancel my subscription."

"Have you," asked Cooper, "heard any rumors about Iris Long planning to enter the mayor's race?"

"It wouldn't surprise me none," answered Pucket. "There's no other explanation for a woman with that much influence to print outright lies about a fine community servant like you, Raymond."

With that, Cooper opened the telephone line for his first caller. It was none other than Vera Penrod, secretary of the Spring County Chamber of Commerce, as well as president of the Lennox Valley Auburn Hat Society.

After a brief introduction by Cooper, as if any listener would be unfamiliar with Vera, Penrod spoke in a disconcerted tone, "I just came from the county courthouse, where I was going over the list of vendors for this week's farmers market."

Vera stopped to catch her breath before continuing, "That's when it happened."

"That's when what happened, Vera?" asked an interested Cooper.

"There was a young woman there. I've seen her in town once or twice. Her name was Claire Lapella."

"Go on," prompted Cooper, hoping for some juicy gossip, the kind for which Vera was best known.

"She was there to place her name on the ballot for the Lennox Valley mayor's race. She had that new woman preacher with her."

This might have been the first time Raymond Cooper found himself totally speechless. There was at least ten seconds of complete silence before a recorded commercial for tiller repair kits at Pucket's True Value Hardware began playing.

Upon his return to the air 30 seconds later, Cooper was loaded for bear. "Who is this Claire Lapella? Could she be a relative of Iris Long?"

"I wonder," Farley chimed in, "if she could be an employee of the Federal Reserve System."

"I smell trouble," said a worried-sounding Cooper. "The last thing our village needs is a tool of the media running for public office."

With that, Raymond covered the microphone as he whispered to Farley, "I've got a plan."

Ronnie Lee Dinkle

Ronnie Lee Dinkle died peacefully at his home Sunday, September 11, 2016. Ronnie was born July 1, 1958 to Clifford Odell Dinkle and Annie Dee Arendall Dinkle. He was a lifetime resident of Danville, Virginia. Ronnie attended Danville Community College and received an Associate of Science Degree, as well as Averett University receiving a degree in Business. Mr. Dinkle worked many years in the hazardous waste business. Most recently, he was employed with the City of Danville, Public Works Department as their Safety and Training Manager. He was very happy with this position, was able to use his skill and expertise in this field, and loved his coworkers. Ronnie enjoyed working on his rental properties, repairing old houses; he made lasting friendships with many families and individuals who rented from him. People would often say I wish I had a landlord like Ronnie. One could often find him fixing up old bicycles which he usually gave away to children of deserving people in the neighborhood, and he was an avid bike rider himself. Ronnie attended Madison Presbyterian Church. Mr. Dinkle is survived by his wife, Lynn and daughter, Elizabeth. He was loved greatly. Ronnie is also survived by his sister, Peggy Wilkerson, and numerous nieces, nephews and great nieces/nephews. In lieu of flowers, contributions to Ronnie's memory can be made to Madison Presbyterian Church, 204 W. Decatur Street, Madison, North Carolina 27025, or West Main Baptist Church, 450 West Main Street Danville, Virginia 24541, or The Preston Robert Tisch Brain Tumor Center at Duke University Hospital Box 3624 Durham, North Carolina 27710. Visitation will be held Friday evening 6:30-8:30 at the Wrenn Yeatts Westover Chapel. A Celebration of Life service will be held Saturday morning, 11:00 at the Wrenn Yeatts Westover Chapel. Interment will be at Danville Memorial Gardens. Wrenn-Yeatts Westover Chapel is serving the Dinkle family.

Wilmoth Marshall

102 years of faith and prayer were rewarded Sept. 14 when Wilmoth Marshall peacefully slipped away to join her Heavenly Father. Surely her husband of 60 years, Robert (who made the journey in April 1993) was one of the first to greet her, eager to show her around. Born June 07, 1914, Wilmoth lived her entire life in Danville. She retired in 1979 from Pittsylvania County Schools as cafeteria manager at Glenwood Elementary school. In her spare time she raised a family, was the bookkeeper for her husbands plumbing business, and taught Sunday school for 65 years at Glenwood Memorial Baptist Church where she was a member since she was nine years old. In addition to her husband, she was predeceased by her son Robert Edward Marshall Jr. of Halifax and his wife Joyce. She is survived by her daughter Lucy Dawn Adkins, grandchildren Steve Adkins (Ringgold), Deanna Adkins Young (Keeling), Tammy Marshall (Halifax), and Michael Marshall (Halifax). 7 great grandchildren and 2 great great grandchildren.

Like most who survived the Great Depression, she was content with whatever she had and only yearned for time for devotions, or visits with family and friends. In honor of that attitude, the family requests that in lieu of flowers, you spend that money on a simple meal full of conversation with family or friends you haven't seen in a while. If you wish to honor her further, her great desire was to see the completion of Ringgold Baptist Church Boy Scout Troop 372 scout hut, contributions can sent to Ringgold Baptist Church 4620 Ringgold Church Road Ringgold, VA 24586. Graveside services will be held on Saturday, September 17, 2016 at 2:00 P.M. conducted by the Reverend Averett Witcher. The family will receive friends at the residence of her daughter, 157 Slayton Rd. Sutherlin, VA. Wrenn-Yeatts North Main Chapel is serving the Marshall family.

Heart Disease Can Have Few or No Symptoms

DEAR DR. ROACH:

I recently went to my family doctor, complaining of left-arm pain and heartburn-like pain in my throat area. He said that he could admit me to the hospital for two days of testing or that it could be a pinched nerve in my neck. It was my choice not to go to the hospital, so he recommended meloxicam for a possible pinched nerve. As it turns out, my symptoms later became so uncomfortable that I decided to go to the ER three days after seeing my doctor. It was a serious blockage of a main artery to my heart, and emergency surgery was performed to put a stent in. I am lucky to have made it in time. I realize that it was my decision to not be admitted -- I guess I was in denial. I never thought to ask him if he could have given me an electrocardiogram there in his office, and some people, including my intensive-care nurse, asked why he didn't. Because he didn't offer to test me in his office, I am considering changing doctors. I like him and he has always given me good care in the past, so I'm not sure what to do. I feel that had he done the ECG that day, my problem could have been diagnosed much sooner and possibly prevented my heart attack. Why wouldn't he have checked my heart function right there with the electrocardiogram? He did check my blood pressure and listen to my heart, but those seemed to be normal. Can you give me your opinion on this? I am a 64-year-old male. -- F.M.

ANSWER: Without being there, I can't give an opinion on whether your doctor should have insisted on your being admitted to the hospital, but I am printing your letter to once again emphasize that heart disease, even serious blockages, can have minimal or no symptoms. It sounds like your doctor did suspect heart disease, and I bet he now regrets not insisting that you be admitted. It's a judgment call, and you have to consider not only the symptoms, but also the risk factors. Just being a 64-year-old man is a risk factor; if you had other risks, such as elevated blood pressure, cholesterol, a history of smoking or a family history of heart disease, that would make heart disease more likely. The electrocardiogram is not a perfect test, and although it might have been abnormal at the time, it also is possible that it could have been perfectly normal. In hindsight, I wonder if your knowing your EKG was normal would have kept you from going to the emergency room when you did. To me, this isn't so egregious that I would suggest you find a different doctor, but only you can decide whether you still have confidence in him.

SENIOR NEWS LINE

by Matilda Charles

Why Hospitals Need Seniors-Only Wards

Supposedly we go to the hospital to get better. Too often, however, we come out in much worse condition than when we went in. Kaiser Health News has written a series about the impact of hospitals on seniors, and one of the articles has a frightening headline: "Elderly Hospital Patients Arrive Sick, Often Leave Disabled." The article describes the chaos of being in the hospital, with noisy wards, interrupted sleep, strange food and germs that make patients sicker than they were.

Research shows that in seniors over age 70, one-third will end up disabled even after the original illness or condition is treated. It proposes a plan of focusing on daily living skills, mobility and cognition while the seniors is in the hospital, not letting skills deteriorate. The biggest of those is mobility. Some hospitals around the country are setting up seniors-only wards, called Acute Care for Elders (ACE) wards, with staffers who are experts in taking care of the elderly. Again, mobility is the big thing, and seniors are encouraged to move around and eat in a communal dining area instead of staying in bed 24 hours a day. At this point there are only 200 such wards. Go online to khn.org/topics/aging/ and click through the various articles about seniors and hospitals. If you're a caregiver for a senior, be sure to read through these as your senior might not come home in the same physical condition after hospitalization, and adjustments will need to be made. Check your local hospitals in advance, should you or a family member ever need to be hospitalized. Is there a seniors wing? Determine, too, if your local hospital has a geriatric emergency room. The care will be targeted toward seniors, which means better patient screening.

COLT STARTING CHALLENGE

You've heard the old saying "There's never been a horse that can't be rode and there's never been a man that can't be thrown!" On October 1st at 10:00 AM at the Olde Dominion Ag Complex this saying will be the subject of the day. Three professional horsemen will be competing to put this theory to the test. Amelia Efland from Stem, NC, Michael Gascon from Poplarville, MS and TJ Clibborn from Deerfield Wisconsin will step into a ring at 10:00 AM to start the journey of forming a partnership with a horse that's never been rode. This journey will begin with the first session lasting an hour and 10 minutes and will hopefully establish a trust between horse and horseman. Using natural horsemanship, the competitors will work in sync with the horse's natural instincts to form a bond. After a one hour lunch break, allowing the horse to soak in the education that has been presented during the first meeting between human and equine.

The second Session, consisting of two and a half hours, will continue building on the trust from the first session. You may see the horse effortlessly continue without any type of rebellion but a horse is unpredictable at times, always trying to establish the "pecking order" in the herd. You may see trouble on the horizon. From saddling, to accepting a rider, to moving out with the weight of a person, your guess is as good as mine as to what happens next.

After two sessions of trials and tribulations there will be an obstacle course to allow each competitor one at a time to prove their method to the spectators that they and the horse are now one. From crossing a bridge to maneuvering over and around hurdles onto their freestyle showing off the advanced moves learned all throughout this process called "breaking horses".

Four judges will score the event from start to finish. These judges are established and renowned in the equine community. At the completion of the day all scores will be tallied from start to finish of the training period. A winner will be crowned and walk away with a trophy saddle, buckle and other rewards.

Friday, Septmeber 30th at 7:00 PM come out and see the demonstrations presented by the competitors and their finished horses. Saturday morning, October 1st starting at 10:00AM (gates open at 8:00 AM) will be a day of family fun and entertainment. There will be vendors set up and there will be door prizes rewarded throughout the day. You may purchase tickets online at www.sefha.net or Southern States Chatham, VA or Karen's Hallmark at the Danville Mall for a price of $15 for both days. For more information you may call 434-792-3811 or visit us on Facebook at SouthEastern Farriers and HorseOwners Association.

Come out and see if the statement we began with is true. "There's never been a horse that can't be rode and there's never been a man that can't be thrown!"

Enjoy another delicious Chef at the Market this Saturday, Sept. 24. Local Chef Dustin Haberer with Sodexo from the Institute for Advanced Learning and Research will prepare recipes made with fresh, local market foods. Enjoy three different recipes starting at 8 a.m., ending at 11 a.m. The event is free and open to the public.

THIS WEEK'S FARM FRESH RECIPES

- Grilled Pork Chops with Apple Gravy
Ingredients
- 4 - 1/2 inch Pork Chops
 - 2 Fresh Apples
 - 1/4 lb. Brown Sugar
 - 2 Cups Chicken Stock
 - 1/2 lb. Butter
 - 1 Cup Flour
 - 1/4 lb. Bacon

Directions
 Cook bacon until crispy and reserve bacon grease for gravy. After bacon cools, crumble into small pieces. Dice apples in 1/2 inch cubes and saute until tender with butter and brown sugar. For the gravy, reheat the bacon grease and add flour to make a sand like roux. At this time add the cooked apples to this mixture and gradually stir in chicken stock until reaching desired gravy thickness. When completed pour over a grilled pork chop for a delicious and hearty fall meal.

- Harvest Grilled Chicken with Sautéed Broccoli and Toasted Pumpkin Seeds
Ingredients
- 4 - 6 oz. Chicken Breast
 - 1 lb. Fresh Broccoli
 - 1 Small Pumpkin
 - Grill Seasoning of Choice
 - 1/4 Cup White Cooking Wine
 - Salt and Pepper to Taste
 - 1 Teaspoon Fresh Garlic

Directions
 Cut open and remove seeds from the pumpkin. Bake the seeds with light salt for 10 minutes at 400 degrees. Prepare, heavily season, and grill chicken breast. Cook to 165 degrees. Top chicken with fresh broccoli that has been sautéed in oil with garlic salt and pepper. As broccoli approaches readiness, deglaze the pan with white wine. Finish chicken and broccoli with toasted pumpkin seeds.

2016 Chatham Sartomer 5K Race close to $150,000 Lifetime Fundraising Goal

Chatham, Virginia - The 20th run of the Chatham Sartomer 5K Race is scheduled for Saturday, September 24, 2016.

The 20th race represents a significant opportunity for the event to achieve a $150,000 lifetime fundraising goal.

"The race committee realized the $150,000 lifetime fundraising target was in reach as we began preparations for the 2016 event," Paul Nicholson, the 2016 Race Coordinator, said. "My team has been working hard to attain this milestone in a very fitting 20th run of the event. They have gotten us close. The final contributions will come from individuals participating on race day. To cross this goal, we need everyone!"

The 5K race begins at 9:30 a.m. The course is TAC certified to national standards. An outstanding $250 bounty is available for any male or female runner breaking their respective course record. Awards are available to the top three participants, male and female, in 12 age groups. Registration is $25.

"We need athletes, runners, children and families to make the goal," Nicholson said. "This race has something for everyone. It is a fun, well supported race. We'll have food, goodies and trophies. We even have a costume contest."

A $100 costume award is available for all participants in a costume. The One Mile Fun Run begins at 9:00 a.m. It features a new $5 entry fee. The new fee is designed to be family friendly. Tshirts are separate, and supply is limited. Escorting parents do not have to pay a race fee.

The Chatham Sartomer 5K Race and One Mile Fun Run is an annual charity athletic event supporting local charities serving the Chatham, Virginia community. The race has raised over $140,000 during 19 races since the event's inception. Past benefactors include: the Danville Pittsylvania County Chapter of the American Red Cross; the Chatham Rescue Squad; the Chatham Volunteer Fire Department; and Oak Grove Residential Care. Both sexes and all ages are welcome to participate.

VETERANS POST

by Freddy Groves

List of Camp Lejeune Illnesses May Expand

The Department of Veterans Affairs is considering adding eight new presumptives to the Camp Lejeune toxic chemical-exposure list, and invites your input. This proposed rule would add eight service-related illnesses for those active duty, reserve and National Guard members who served at Camp Lejeune for a minimum of 30 days between Aug. 1, 1953 and Dec. 31, 1987. Those illnesses are: adult leukemia, aplastic anemia and other myelodysplastic syndromes, bladder cancer, kidney cancer, liver cancer, multiple myeloma, non-Hodgkin's lymphoma and Parkinson's disease. Camp Lejeune was found in the 1980s to have toxic chemicals -- such as dry cleaning fluid, benzene and vinyl chloride -- in the water supply. The Hadnot Point and Tarawa Terrace wells had been used since the 1950s, and affected tens of thousands of service personnel and their families. Veterans have suffered with Parkinson's, multiple cancers (including kidney, breast, prostate), scleroderma, arthritis, respiratory illnesses, lymphoma, multiple myeloma and much more. The damage hasn't been limited to those who lived at the base: Children born later have had multiple health problems, as well as serious birth defects. The VA wants to think about the additional presumptives and is setting up a 30-day comment period that will end on Oct. 10, 2016. To add your comment, go here: www.regulations.gov and put Camp Lejeune in the search box. Look for ID: VA-2016-VBA-0021-0001. To learn more about the Camp Lejeune water history, go here: www.tftptf.com. ***

 On another note, if you need a routine hearing or vision appointment, by the end of the year you'll no longer need to be referred by a primary-care provider. The Audiology and Optometry departments will make your appointment directly. This program started as a pilot last year and was apparently successful enough that they're bringing it to all VA medical centers by the end of 2016.

PICKS OF THE WEEK
"X-Men: Apocalypse" (PG-13) -- A whole mess of mutants must face-off against the dreaded Apocalypse, an ancient and powerful mutant determined to live up to his name. The titular baddie (Oscar Isaac under piles of makeup) bursts onto the scene with death and destruction, and starts recruiting the strongest mutants, including Magneto (Michael Fassbender), to act as his four horsemen of killing all the humans. In his way stands the fresh-faced X-men class of 1983; young superheroes barely in control of their superpowers and led by the morally questionable Mystique (Jennifer Lawrence). Director Bryan Singer was thought of as the guy you go to for a good X-Men movie. He's directed the better ones and been far away from the worst. Until now. The movie is just so bloated with characters, subplots and sounds that there isn't much room to really fight evil. That said, under-utilizing Oscar Isaac could be a greater injustice.

"Swiss Army Man" (R) -- When you're all alone, even having just that one friend can make all the difference. If you're especially desperate, that one friend need not be a living person, but rather the remains of one. That's one lesson learned by Hank (Paul Dano) a 20-something-ish guy stuck on an island, about to end it all until he sees some human flotsam (Daniel Radcliffe). Hank calls the corpse Manny, and as the two spend time together, it turns out that Manny is full of uses! He can be a nutcracker, a watercraft ... he even starts talking. Hank is sure of it. It is, of course, bizarre, gross, pretty dark at times, but also overwhelmingly whimsical and warmhearted. The two-man directing team, Daniel Scheinert and Daniel Kwan, have made a noteworthy debut into feature films after making more bite-size pieces of insanity as music-video directors. Paul Dano is great in his role, and Daniel Radcliffe is the most magnetic and charming cadaver in theaters this year.

"The Purge: Election Year" (R) -- In this third installment of the hyper-violent social-allegory known as The Purge, we are treated to an embarrassingly on-the-nose treatment of election-year vitriol. As in the previous movies, The Purge is one night a year when all crime is legal, and this generally leads to gangs of psychopaths murdering people for fun. Senator Charlene Roan (Elizabeth Mitchell) is running for president, and a big part of her platform is ending the annual bloodbath. On the night of The Purge she is targeted by a coordinated attack that puts her and her head of security (Frank Grillo) on the run through the deadly night.

"The Wailing" (Not Rated) -- In a quaint Korean town just under the mountains, a series of strange homicides and changes in behavior rattle the locals and kick up paranoia about supernatural evil invading the community. Some people appear possessed -- becoming acutely ill and then senselessly violent. The local cop in charge of the investigation is an affable guy, until his daughter starts to show the same symptoms as the others, and all fingers point at a Japanese stranger who just arrived in town. The movies long run time (right about 2.5 hours) should be noted going in, but should not deter anybody who can enjoy a real thriller.

* Cold weather and quick dinner? Baked potato four ways: broccoli with cheddar cheese; sausage crumbles and Alfredo sauce; BBQ pulled pork with corn; and the Italian, with sliced meatballs, pizza sauce, mozzarella cheese and Italian seasoning.

* "Attach shower rings to the bar of a coat hanger to organize scarves or even baseball caps. Thread the adjustable strap through the rings and secure to hang hats." -- M.W. in Kansas

* Reusables are the way to go for school lunches. Grab assorted forks, spoons and even metal containers at the thrift store and use just for lunches. That way, if the flatwear gets left behind one day, you won't miss a piece of your everyday set.

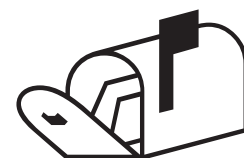

* Baby bottle-drying racks can find a new life airing out reusable water bottles, many of which are better suited to hand-washing.

* If you use a pad mop (think, Swiffer), here's a great tip from T. in Kentucky for making your own reusable pads: "I repurposed my cloth diapers to use on my mop. Just sew hook-and-loop tape to the edges of a cloth diaper so that you can wrap it around the pad, and secure it on the top."

* Make a fun coffee-can shoe storage rack by nailing clean, empty coffee cans to a section of scrap wood. Lean it against the wall on the porch to collect dirty, muddy shoes, or mount it inside the bottom of a closet for indoor storage.

1. "Soulsville, U.S.A.," a soul classic recorded by Wilson Pickett in 1966. Tina Turner followed with her cover in 1986. The song is a favorite of Carolina shag dancers.
 2. Jesse Colin Young. It was released by his group The Youngbloods in 1969. The song was used in the films "Purple Haze" (1983) and "Jack the Bear" (1993).
 3. Guns n' Roses, in 1987, on their "Appetite for Destruction" album. The song is often played at sporting events, and VH1 calls it one of the greatest metal songs of all time.
 4. Barbra Streisand, in 1980. The song was written by two of the Bee Gees.
 5. "Sunshine on My Shoulders," by John Denver in 1973. The song has been widely used, including on "The Simpsons" and "Cold Case" episodes.

Habitat for Humanity Helps Volunteer Get New Wheels

Danville-Pittsylvania County Habitat for Humanity board members and staff contributed funds to purchase a bike for Volunteer of the Year Thomas Cash. Cash's old bike, which he used to get to work and to Habitat, was beyond repair. O.F. Newman & Son owners Denny and Pam Hudson helped Habitat to select a 21-speed Raleigh bike and donated a t-shirt, bike lock and cable. Pictured from left are Rob Huffman, DPC Habitat for Humanity President; Pam Hudson, owner of O.F. Newman; Thomas Cash, bike recipient; and Brandan Francis of O.F. Newman.

FAVORITE RECIPES

Classic Hamburgers

- Ingredients
- 1 pound ground chuck (80/20 blend) or a combination of chuck and sirloin
 - 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
 - 1 teaspoon onion powder
 - 1 teaspoon garlic powder

- Instructions
- Heat a large skillet to medium hot. The pan is at the proper temperature when a drop of water dances on its surface.
 - Place the Worcestershire sauce in a medium-size bowl. Gently press the ground meat into the liquid and turn and fold it over once or twice to combine. (Remember, the more you handle the meat, the softer it will become, and the more likely it will be to fall apart when you cook it.) Wet your hands to keep the meat from sticking.
 - Divide the meat into 4 equal portions. Hold one portion of the ground meat in the palm of your hand, gently turning and shaping the meat into a patty that is tightly compact and uniform in size. The patty should be a little larger or about the same size as your hamburger bun.
 - Lightly press three fingers into the center of the patty, making a slight, dimple indentation in the center and pushing the meat to the outer edges. (Making it thinner in the middle and thicker around the edges will allow the patty to cook evenly. As hamburger patties cook, they shrink in size. As they shrink, the edges tend to break apart, causing deep cracks to form. To combat this, you want the burger patty to be thinner in the middle than around the edges.) Season the patties on both sides with salt, pepper, onion and garlic powder.
 - Place the hamburger patties into the hot skillet. For a rare burger, cook 4 to 5 minutes on the first side, turn the patties and cook for an additional 4 to 5 minutes; for a medium burger, cook 7 to 8 minutes per side; for well-done burger, cook 8 to 10 minutes per side.
 - If desired, place a slice of cheese on each burger during the final minute of cooking. When the cheese has melted, remove the burgers to a plate.
 - Rub the skillet with a folded paper towel to clean it. Place the hamburger buns, cut side down, in the skillet for about 1 minute to toast them. Serve the hamburger patties in the buns with your favorite condiments and vegetables.

LIAR, LIAR, PANTS ON FIRE!

In the old days, an untruth was rewarded with a soap sandwich. In the grid shown here, we have room for eight words, each of which contains a "LIE." Using the following hints, see if you can find them before the young man above gets a second helping.

A BETCHA! Place an empty bottle and a straw on the table and bet your friends that, using only the straw, they can't pick up the bottle and take it into another room. Only the straw may touch the bottle and you can't tie a knot in it.

Solution: Bend the straw and insert it into the bottle, where it will wedge itself in, as shown in fig. 2. You will then be able to lift the bottle and insert it into another room.

IMPROVE YOUR AURA WITH A QUICK SOLUTION! Using the definitions below, can you find the four five-letter words missing in the grid shown? All words must read the same across and down.

- A haunted house sound.
- A Cuban dance.
- A glowing piece of coal.
- At right angles to.
- Fate or destiny (given).

Disc Water Pitcher

Q: I have a disc water pitcher made by Fiesta. I purchased it at a flea market for $75 and would like to resell it. I understand these pitchers are now selling for as much as $300 each. Mine is cobalt blue. -- Nancy, Reno, Nevada

A: Your pitcher might be worth that much if it was authentic. It isn't. What you purchased is a reproduction. Color is often a tipoff for Fiesta fakes and reproductions. One of the better references is "Fiesta: Identification and Price Guide" by Glen Victorey. Four of the original colors for the disc water pitchers are forest green, chartreuse, turquoise and rose.

Q: I have a secretary desk that my parents purchased at auction in 1943. It is identified as being made by the Hekman Furniture Company. It has become a family heirloom but has been refinished and is not in its original state. Should I take it and have it professionally restored? -- Carol, Bloomington, Indiana

A: The Hekman Furniture Company was founded in Grand Rapids, Michigan, in 1922 by three brothers: Henry, Jelle and John Hekman. The first pieces produced were occasional tables. In 1942, the company relocated its main show room to the Merchandise Mart in Chicago. During World War II, the plant made glider bottoms and ammunition boxes. The 1960s and '70s were a period of great expansion, and the company still exists.

I have examined the picture you sent me of your desk, and I think it was probably manufactured during the 1930s. Only you can determine if you want to have it professionally restored. Consider the cost of this service against the current value of your desk. ***

Q: I have a pair of plastic salt and pepper shakers that look like Phillips 66 gasoline pumps. Are they worth keeping? -- Betty, Buffalo, New York

A: Your salt and pepper shakers were manufactured during the 1950s and were given away as premiums by Phillips 66 stations. They are valued in the $25 to $35 range by the "Salt and Pepper Price Guide," by Mark Moran and published by Krause Books.
