Mike's Blind Date

Joe sets up his friend Mike on a blind date with a young lady-friend of his. But Mike is a little worried about going out with someone he's never seen before. "What do I do if she's really unattractive?" says Mike. "I'll be stuck with her all evening."

"Don't worry," Joe says, "just go up to her door and meet her first. If you like what you see, then everything goes as planned. If you don't just shout 'Aaaaaauuggghhh!' and fake an asthma attack."

So that night, Mike knocks at the girl's door and when she comes out he is awe-struck at how attractive and sexy she is. He's about to speak when the girl suddenly shouts:

"Aaaaaauuggghhh!"

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

- * It was the great Russian author Leo Tolstoy who made the following sage observation: "A man is like a fraction whose numerator is what he is and whose denominator is what he thinks of himself. The larger the denominator, the smaller the fraction."
- * The earliest known brothel was located in Sumer (now southeastern Iraq), all the way back in 3300 B.C.E.
- * The Gunfight at the O.K. Corral, which took place in Tombstone, Arizona, at about 3 p.m. on Oct. 26, 1881, is probably the most famous shootout in the history of the Old West. You might be surprised to learn, though, that the gunfight didn't actually happen at the O.K. Corral, or even next to it -- the gunfight took place in an empty lot six doors down.
- * A futurist in the 1950s made the following prediction: "There will come a time when every country in the world will have a computer."
- * Etymology -- the study of words' history,
- their origins and how their form and meaning have changed over time -- is fascinating. For example, take the term "shilly-shally," meaning to vacillate. In the 18th century, "shill" was another form of "shall," and people trying to make a difficult decision might ask themselves "Shill I? Shall I?" Over time it was shortened to the form we use today.
- * If your scissors are getting dull, don't waste time and effort with sharpening stones; all you have to do is cut up sheets of sandpaper to hone the cutting edges.
- * Those who study such things say that if you added up the body masses of all the people on the planet right now, it would amount to roughly 750 billion pounds.

Forty-five million Americans are currently living in poverty.

For these families and individuals, a warm coat is a budget extra they simply cannot afford. URW Community Federal is asking for you to help us make a difference in our neighbor's lives by donating coats during our upcoming coat drive! We are working to collect clean, gently used warm coats to support our coat drive program, between now and October 15th at all URW Branches. The process is simple: you drop off your extra coat(s) and URW takes care of the rest. All donated coats will be given to a local agency for distribution to local children in need. If you are a teacher and know of a child in your school that does not have a coat, please let us know. Our goal is that no child will be left out in the cold in the URW Community. ARIES
(March 21 to April 19)
Someone from your past could arrive with welcome news concerning your future. Meanwhile, avoid taking sides in a workplace confrontation until you have more facts to go on.

TAURUS
(April 20 to May 20)
A decision about a relationship could have longer-lasting consequences than you might imagine, so be sure of your facts before you act. A trusted friend can help.

GEMINI
(May 21 to June 20)
A strained relationship could be restored with more personal contact between the two of you. Letting others act as your go-between only adds to the ongoing estrangement.

CANCER
(June 21 to July 22)
New facts could mean taking a new path toward a goal you've been hoping to reach. However, be sure all your questions are answered before you undertake to shift directions.

LEO
(July 23 to August 22)
This is a good week for all you fine Felines to turn your attention to some important considerations, such as your health, your job situation and the status of important relationships.

VIRGO
(August 23 to September 22)
Avoid making a quick decision about a matter that needs more study. Keep your mind open for possibilities, even if they don't seem plausible -- at least not yet.

LIBRA
(September 23 to October 22)
You might welcome the emphasis on openness in relationships that mark this period. But it's a good idea to avoid sharing personal secrets with people you hardly know.

SCORPIO
(October 23 to November 21)
There are still some questions that need to be asked and answered before you can feel confident enough to make a potentially life-changing decision.

SAGITTARIUS
(November 22 to December 21)
Some lingering effects from a now largely resolved workplace confrontation could make things difficult for you. Act on this before it becomes serious.

CAPRICORN
(December 22 to January 19)
You feel you're finally in control of your own life after months of making compromises and concessions you never felt comfortable with. Congratulations.

AQUARIUS
(January 20 to February 18)
No sooner do you decide to pass on one job offer than another suddenly turns up. This one might not have everything you're looking for, but it's worth checking out.

PISCES
(February 19 to March 20)
Congratulations. With Jupiter's strong influence dominating this week, don't be surprised to get some good news about a troubling financial matter.

BORN THIS WEEK:
You are usually kind and loving. But you can be highly critical of those who don't measure up to your high standards.

Happy 73rd Anniversary
David and Hazel Mitchell!

"On September 21, 2016, Mom and Dad will celebrate their 73rd anniversary. God has blessed them with long life and with a lifetime together. That blessing has spilled over into three generations. Their oldest great granddaughter, Olivia, who is 14 and really into her friends right now, says, "I love going to Grandmommy and Bop's house. It's so warm and cozy."

Olivia is right. Their home is a place where you know you are loved, where down home cooking is waiting for you, and where, every day, God hears your name called in prayer."

James David and Hazel Carswell will celebrate their 73rd anniversary on September 21st, 2016. The couple have been blessed to have one daughter, Claudia Phillips of Richmond; two granddaughters and four great-grandchildren.

Too Many of Us Are Inactive

By now we know that exercise is good for us. It helps to postpone aging and keeps us healthier. Even knowing that, however, not all of us do what we should. Now there's research reported by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention that points fingers at who isn't active. The study collected information from more than 300,000 adults over the age of 50. For the sake of definition, "inactivity" was not doing any activity outside of daily-living tasks.

Here's what we now know from the research:
* More than one-fourth of adults over age 50 don't do any physical activity ... at all. By age 75, that number jumped up to one-third.
* More women were inactive than men. The lower the education, the lower the amount of activity. The higher the body mass index (BMI), the lower the rate of activity.

* Those living in the South were the most idle, while the West and Northeast were the most active.
* Having one of seven chronic diseases increased the numbers of inactive participants.
* Excuses for inactivity ranged from having a limited number of places to be active to not knowing how, given their own physical limitations. These reasons for not being active have a ring of truth. If we live in an area with no sidewalks and we don't drive, we won't be doing much walking. In some areas, the sidewalks might not be safe anyway. However, we don't need to walk or run for our activity. We can do gardening, watch workout videos at home, ride a bike around the high-school track, dance around the living room, lift hand weights, take a low-impact fitness class and much more -- as long as we do something.

Welcome to Lennox Valley, my hometown!

Kevin Stimp's The Good Folks of Lennox Valley

Never Before!

Cooper silenced by shocking news

Raymond Cooper's plan was simple on Wednesday as he began his daily program on Talk Radio 88.3. As had become his custom, the show commenced with Lee Greenwood singing "I'm Proud to Be an American," followed by a heart-warming prayer by Raymond:

"O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console; to be understood, as to understand."

As usual, his audience listened in awe as Cooper lifted his inspired plea up to heaven. His voice was like that of an angel. It was of no concern to Raymond that his listeners were clueless to the fact that his words were actually uttered by St. Francis nearly 800 years earlier.

After the prayer, Raymond began a stirring discourse concerning the importance of honesty in the press. Cooper knew that by now almost every listener would have read the morning edition of Lennox Valley Hometown News, and he was none too happy about the words Editor Iris Long used to characterize his election campaign.

"Perhaps," Cooper barked, "the alleged editor has an ulterior motive. Maybe there is more to her negativity than meets the eye."

Raymond welcomed his guest, Farley Pucket, to the show. It wasn't usual for Raymond to have a guest, other than the occasional clergyman or local dignitary, live in his studio. Pucket owned the local True Value Hardware Store and was Cooper's biggest advertiser in 1998. Raymond knew where his bread was buttered and trusted Farley to agree with his opinion on most any subject.

"Did you get a chance to read the so-called editorial in the paper this morning?" Cooper quizzed his guest.

"I feel," answered Pucket, "it's the duty of every citizen to keep up with the goings-on in their community."

"You're a fine American," Raymond quickly responded.

"But it's getting harder for me to read the biased opinions of that so-called editor every week," continued a riled-up Farley. "I'm just about ready to cancel my subscription."

"Have you," asked Cooper, "heard any rumors about Iris Long planning to enter the mayor's race?"

"It wouldn't surprise me none," answered Pucket. "There's no other explanation for a woman with that much influence to print outright lies about a fine community servant like you, Raymond."

With that, Cooper opened the telephone line for his first caller. It was none other than Vera Penrod, secretary of the Spring County Chamber of Commerce, as well as president of the Lennox Valley Auburn Hat Society.

After a brief introduction by Cooper, as if any listener would be unfamiliar with Vera, Penrod spoke in a disconcerted tone, "I just came from the county courthouse, where I was going over the list of vendors for this week's farmers market."

Vera stopped to catch her breath before continuing, "That's when it happened."

"That's when what happened, Vera?" asked an interested Cooper.

"There was a young woman there. I've seen her in town once or twice. Her name was Claire Lapella."

"Go on," prompted Cooper, hoping for some juicy gossip, the kind for which Vera was best known.

"She was there to place her name on the ballot for the Lennox Valley mayor's race. She had that new woman preacher with her."

This might have been the first time Raymond Cooper found himself totally speechless. There was at least ten seconds of complete silence before a recorded commercial for tiller repair kits at Pucket's True Value Hardware began playing.

Upon his return to the air 30 seconds later, Cooper was loaded for bear. "Who is this Claire Lapella? Could she be a relative of Iris Long?"

"I wonder," Farley chimed in, "if she could be an employee of the Federal Reserve System."

"I smell trouble," said a worried-sounding Cooper. "The last thing our valley needs is a tool of the media running for public office."

With that, Raymond covered the microphone as he whispered to Farley, "I've got a plan."

Now here's a tip!

by Jo Ann Derson

* October sales items include: appliances, automobiles (current year's model on sale when new model is unveiled), school supplies, fishing gear, ladies' outerwear and early fall and winter clothing sales.

* Keep squirrels out of a pole-mounted birdfeeder and out of the birdseed! Just spray a cotton cloth liberally with WD-40 lubricating oil. Then wipe the pole with the cloth. Squirrels are good at climbing, but this is asking a little too much. Reapply every so often to keep it slippery.

* "If your knuckles get chapped and dry during the cold season, try rubbing a little Chapstick into them. It works for me." -- P.E. in Minnesota

* Store spaghetti in an empty Pringles can that has been wiped out. It's the perfect height, and you can take just what you need. The plastic top makes it easy to see when it's time to restock the angel hair!

* "If you use frozen fruits and veggies that come in bags, here's a great tip to keep your freezer shelf organized. Use binder clips to reseal the bags, and hang them from the shelf itself. Binder clips easily clip over the metal grate, and secure the bag's top underneath so that it hangs from the shelf." -- T.L. in New York

* For a more accurate reading of your refrigerator's temperature, submerge your thermometer in a glass of water and read after an hour.

Harvest Shepherds Pie

- 1 1/2 pounds peeled, cubed baking pumpkin, butter-nut or kabocha squash
- 1 pound peeled, cubed Yukon Gold or Russet potatoes

- For the meat filling:
- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
 - 1 cup chopped onion
 - 2 carrots, peeled and diced small
 - 2 cloves garlic, minced
 - 1 1/2 pounds ground lamb or ground beef
 - 1 teaspoon kosher salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
 - 1 tablespoon ground poultry seasoning
 - 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
 - 2 teaspoons tomato paste
 - 1/8 teaspoon ground nutmeg or cloves
 - 1/8 teaspoon cayenne pepper
 - 1 cup chicken broth
 - 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 cup frozen peas
 - 1/4 cup half-and-half
 - 2 ounces unsalted butter
 - 3/4 teaspoon kosher salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
 - 1 egg yolk
 - 1/2 cup shredded Parmesan or Cheddar Cheese, optional

1. Heat oven to 400 F with a rack in top third of oven. Put pumpkin and potatoes on a greased rimmed baking sheet. Roast pumpkin and potatoes, covered with aluminum foil, until tender when pierced with a fork, 20-25 minutes.
2. While pumpkin and potatoes are cooking, prepare filling. Place the oil into a 12-inch saute pan and set over medium-high heat. When oil shimmers, add onion and carrots and saute just until they begin to take on color, approximately 3-4 minutes. Add garlic and stir to combine. Add ground lamb or ground beef, salt, pepper and poultry seasoning, and cook until browned, approximately 3-5 minutes.
3. Sprinkle meat with flour and toss to coat, continuing to cook for another minute. Add tomato paste, nutmeg or cloves, cayenne pepper, chicken broth and Worcestershire sauce, and stir to combine. Bring to a boil, reduce heat to low, cover and simmer slowly 10-12 minutes, stirring once or twice until the sauce is thickened slightly. Add frozen peas to the meat mixture and spread evenly into an 11-by-7-inch glass baking dish, or divide evenly into ramekins.
4. Place cooked pumpkin and potatoes into a large bowl, and mash together until well-combined. Put the half-and-half and butter into a microwave-safe container, and heat in microwave until warmed through, about 35 seconds. Add the warm half and half mixture, salt and pepper, and continue to mash until smooth. Stir in the yolk until well combined.
5. Top baking dish or the ramekins containing meat and vegetable mixture with the mashed pumpkin and potatoes. Start around the edges of the dish to create a seal to prevent mixture from bubbling up, and smooth with rubber spatula. Sprinkle with the shredded cheese, if desired.
6. Place baking dish or ramekins on a parchment or foil-lined half sheet pan on middle rack of oven and bake for 25 minutes, or just until topping begins to brown and bubble around the edges. Remove to cooling rack for at least 15 minutes before serving.

Ferdinand the Bull

Q: One of my favorite childhood books was "Ferdinand the Bull." In addition to the book published by Dell, I have a "Fierce Ferdinand the Bull" windup toy and a 78-rpm record with original sleeve featuring the famous cartoon bull. Is there any value to these items? -- Frank, Paradise Valley, Arizona

A: Ferdinand was introduced in the 1936 Munro Leaf book with illustrations by Robert Lawson. The book and the character became immediate hits. The Ferdinand the Bull cartoon debuted just before the Christmas season of 1938. The story focuses on Ferdinand, a bull who was content to sit peacefully in a field and sniff the flowers. When he is stung by a bee he goes into a conniption fit and is mistaken for a fighting bull. He is immediately transferred to a bullring, but when he refuses to fight, he is taken back to his field of flowers. A film short appeared in 1938 and won an Academy Award for Best Cartoon of that year. Dozens of items were issued throughout the 1940s and '50s, including your book, which is valued in the $100-$375 range; your record from 1950, $5-$15; and the windup toy, also from about 1950, worth in the $50-$200 range (with original box, $150-$450). I grew up on a ranch and our family bull was named Richard. My granddad took a picture of me when I was about 3 years old sitting on Richard's back. Obviously our Richard was rather peaceful, and I suspect a close cousin of Ferdinand.

Q: I purchased an old treadle sewing machine at auction that is only identified as being a "Domestic." I can't find anything about the company. Can you help me? -- Steve, Davenport, Iowa
A: The Domestic Sewing Machine Company was founded in Norwalk, Ohio, in 1869. It continued until the early 1920s when it was acquired by the White Sewing Machine Company.

Q: I have a pair of sunglasses with "Reagan '84" on them, obviously a campaign item. Do these glasses have any value, and are they collectible? -- Levetta, Albuquerque, New Mexico
A: I suspect your sunglasses would retail for about $20. Most political items are collectible.
