PEAK Awards to 3 Locals

FLORENCE—The Alabama Mountain Lakes Tourist Association honored the Jesse Owens Memorial Park recently as the 2016 Attraction of the Year at its PEAK Awards presentation during AMLA's Annual Meeting at Marriott Shoals Conference Center in Florence.

Representing the highest achievement in North Alabama tourism, the PEAK Awards honor individuals and organizations that have had a major impact on tourism in North Alabama.

The Jesse Owens Memorial Park, located at Oakville in Lawrence County, honors the life and accomplishments of the Jesse Owens who captured four gold medals at the 1936 Olympics in Berlin overcoming racial and socioeconomic barriers.

In addition, locally the Young Professional of the Year Award went to Kathryn Balch at the Colbert County Tourism and Convention Bureau

The President's Award went to Rep. Johnny Mack Morrow and Dr. Martha Morrow.

Karaoke Killer in Sheffield

SHEFFIELD—Hospice of the Shoals invites you to join them for the special presentation of -- "Karaoke Killer," a music filled theater mystery dining experience.

The original play by Joh Mann will be directed by Martin Dean at Georges 217 in Downtown Sheffield on October 6 starting at 6:30pm.

The Pink Flamingo Karaoke Contest with a $10,000 prize is for preregistered contestants only. The contest starts at 7pm. For details and tickets contact Hospice of the Shoals at 256-767-6699.

New Facility for Children

MUSCLE SHOALS – The Children's Rehabilitation Service (CRS) office in Muscle Shoals is moving into a new building. The newly renovated 5,000-square-foot facility opened Monday, October 3 at 714 State Ave. It features a waiting room, spacious clinic area, state-of-the-art audiology booth, offices for the six-member CRS staff, and was designed with families in mind.

Courier Journal Earns 25 APA Editorial and Advertising Awards

DESTIN, FL—Winners of the 2016 Alabama Press Association Better Newspaper Contest and APA's Advertising Contest were announced earlier this summer. They were presented at the 2016 Alabama Press Association Convention at the Hilton Golf & Beach Resort in Destin, Florida.

Over 100 member newspapers submitted 2,775 entries in the Better Newspaper contest which includes all editorial content, photography, and general elements of section and page design.

Sixty newspapers submitted over 1000 entries in the APA Advertising Contest. Representatives from the Louisiana Press Association judged the entries.

This was the fourth year that Associate Member publications, of which the Courier Journal is part, have been eligible to enter. That group comprises a broad category that includes free newspapers, magazines, university publications, and all other publications which are not considered subscriber-based newspapers of general circulation.

The Courier Journal received 25 awards, thirteen in the Better Newspaper Contest and twelve in the Advertising Contest, including the coveted Advertising Sweepstakes Award.

"We were pleased that the judges recognized the Courier Journal for quality work in a broad array of areas," said editor and publisher, Tom Magazu. "We are told often that our many years of experience in advertising sales, writing, for the Courier Journal

CedarHill Animal Sanctuary and the work being done there is nothing you could ever imagine. Privately nestled by design between Mississippi farmland, livestock pastures, and rural homes about 100 miles to our south-southwest, there are over 250 vulnerable animals that remain safely hidden and protected from passersby.

There are wild and domesticated animals, many with special needs, and some healing from previous neglect and injuries at the hands of humans. All have been rescued so they can live the remainder of their lives in peace.

This safe haven is a true labor of love, and it came

The October 8 "Perks" program will be held in conjunction with the popular trolley tour of historic downtown Florence offered by the Tennessee Valley Historical Society. David Currott will lead a tour called "Signs of the Past" featuring historic markers in the area. The trolley will depart from the Florence/Lauderdale Tourism & Visitor Center at 11am. Please arrive at the center at 10:30am for registration, refreshments, and an introduction to the tour. General admission for the tours is now $10 for all ages, and small children who can sit in a parent's lap ride free. Starting at 1pm that day, Tom McKnight will give a presentation about Alabama's first Grandmaster of Northwest Alabama's Mosaic Templars of America, Lawrence Louis Powell. The historical hunt for this elusive officer of an African American fraternal organization of great significance to the community tracks his steps from Sheffield to Montgomery. The "hunt" continues...

SHORTs...

New Facility for Children

CRS Assistant Commissioner, Melinda Davis, said the new facility will enable the location to expand services to the almost 400 area children CRS serves with special health care needs.

The office was previously located in the Easter Seals Northwest Alabama complex on Avalon Avenue.

Office Coordinator, Kimberly Wright, said, "We're pleased that we can provide children and families an updated, efficient, and easily accessible facility."

Children's Rehabilitation Service is a division of the Alabama Department of Rehabilitation Services, the state agency serving Alabama's children and adults with disabilities.

Books Donated to Elementaries

FLORENCE-The Lauderdale County Farmers Federation recently purchased 21 books to be donated to each elementary school library (both public & private) in Lauderdale County. Additionally, each public library in the county received a copy of "First Peas to the Table" by Susan Grigsby and illustrated by Nicole Tadjell.

"First Peas to the Table" was selected by the American Farm Bureau Foundation for Agriculture as the 2015 Book of the Year.

Elementary teachers are encouraged to visit the Alabama Ag in the Classroom website at www.alabamaaitc.org to find additional lessons plans that motivate students to recognize that farming feeds Alabama.

national and state standards and benchmarks for personal finance. The curriculum also includes an unlimited lifetime license for the high school, so students for years to come will benefit from the course.

According to Muscle Shoals High School Principal, Chad Holden, teachers will implement the curriculum into the school's Career Preparedness and Economics classes beginning this fall. Both are required courses for students and both meet financial literacy standards.

"We are thankful for the generosity of the Muscle Shoals Education Foundation and community partner, Tina Parker, in making these resources available to our teachers and students", said Holden. "Financial literacy is among the most important life lessons we can teach young people in preparing them for adulthood."

Parker is a graduate of MSHS and she wants young people to learn about money before they start making mistakes with it.

"Many college students are tempted to take out loans and credit cards in order to make ends meet without thinking about the long-term ramifications," Parker said. "Some of them end up in my office filing bankruptcy after graduation because they got in over their heads. Money problems can put a lot of stress on relationships, too. My hope and the hope of our Education Foundation is that this course will give students the skills they need to learn how to budget and avoid the costly pitfalls of debt."

Karran Sasser, Director of the Muscle Shoals Education Foundation, said the foundation's Board of Directors embraced the opportunity to partner with Parker to donate the course.

ASK THE ATTORNEY

PICK THE RIGHT DOCTOR

Thomas McCutcheon

Ask the Attorney is sponsored by local attorneys, McCutcheon & Hamner, PC, as a service to the residents of NW Alabama.

Many of my family members are physicians and as a rule doctors make great sacrifices for their family by working long hours away from their families. Doctors as a general rule feel quite put upon, underpaid and overworked, just like everybody else.

With that being said, do not pay to go to a doctor that doesn't believe you. Some doctors just don't want to be involved in litigation. They are afraid of being questioned about their medical treatment or whether they have an opinion about what caused an injury.

I think that doctors who are not used to being around lawyers are nervous about testifying. They don't realize that no one is going to confront them or tell them they are wrong. When it comes to orthopedic surgeons (bone doctors) or neurosurgeons (spine/brain) these doctors testify all the time.

They are so accustomed to giving testimony that it's a very friendly and enjoyable experience for everyone. I would think that a doctor earning a $1,000.00 for an hour's worth of talking doesn't mind talking about what they did and their opinion as to what caused the injury.

Any person who takes the time to think about it will know that the doctor didn't see the accident and can only have an opinion as to whether or not the injury probably was or was not caused by the accident that the injured person told the doctor about as part of the history of the chief complaint.

Doctors get it wrong sometimes. I had a dentist testify that there was plaque on a stub of a broken tooth and that he didn't think the tooth was broken in the accident. He changed his opinion when I showed him the x-ray of the tooth in the stomach that same day.

We recently had a doctor "V" send us a letter claiming that maybe their patient was exaggerating their injury. I think maybe that doctor should be fired if he gave treatment for someone he didn't believe. If your doctor doesn't believe you, call us and we'll be happy to make the recommendation for a good-treating physician.

ASK THE ATTORNEY

Thomas McCutcheon

Ask the Attorney is sponsored by local attorneys, McCutcheon & Hamner, PC, as a service to the residents of NW Alabama.

Q I have a quitclaim deed and someone said I should have a warranty deed. What is the difference?

Peggy, Tusculumbia, AL

A The difference truly depends on what you intend to do with the property. If the true owner of the property gave you a quitclaim deed to the property and you have recorded that deed, you hold good legal title to the property. No one would have a superior interest.

On the other hand, anyone can give you a quitclaim deed to any property. A quitclaim deed only transfers whatever interest someone may have in a particular piece of property. That interest could be 0% or 100%. Often a quitclaim deed conveys a partial interest in property. A quitclaim deed is only as valid as the interest in the property owned by the person who deeded the property to you.

A warranty deed on the other hand actually offers a warranty that they own the property. It is a stronger instrument that should not be given if there is any question about the property that is described in the deed.

When lawyers and bankers and people who regularly buy and sell land consider deeds, what we think about is how perfect is the chain of title. That is in many respects is required, and should be by a potential buyer to the property. More importantly, it is truly determined by a commercial lending institution loaning money with the property used as security. This concept is called marketability.

If I had any question about the ownership of a particular piece of property, I would ask for and purchase what is known as an abstract of title. An abstract traces every owner of that particular piece of property back to the United States of America, at least every one I have ever seen. There may be some exceptions to that in other areas of our country. An abstract of title will settle your curiosity about the true ownership of the property and a policy of title insurance will offer a guarantee of title. Both are offered through title companies that are set up to sell these. An abstract of title is usually not very expensive although I have not priced one in some time.

A third type of deed I think people should know about is a deed reserving a life estate. This gives the person who owns the life estate the right to live on the property as long as they are alive but gives the future owner of the property an interest in the property as well. This effectively destroys the value of the property and protects the property from governmental interests arising from long term care if the deed is executed more than five (5) years before long term care begins.

Hatton to Run for Lauderdale County Superintendent of Education

Republican Jon Hatton recently announced that he is seeking the office of Superintendent of Education for Lauderdale County.

as a teacher of Biology and Advanced Biology at Muscle Shoals High School (1992-1993).

Jon is currently working on his dissertation to attain his Ed.D. from Samford University. He earned his BS, MA, Administrative Certification, and Ed.S. Degrees from the University of North Alabama.

"Lauderdale County is our home," Hatton concluded. "Paula and I love this county and have chosen to raise our daughter here. It is important to me to provide the highest level of education for all of the children in the county school system."

Jon and his wife, Paula, have one daughter, Lily. She is seven years old and enrolled in the Lauderdale County School System. They have been active members of Wood Avenue Church of Christ for over 20 years.

"I will take considerable energy, experience, and an even-handed approach to our children's education in Lauderdale County," Hatton said. "I believe I have the right combination of teaching experience, administrative experience, and educational experience to be your next Superintendent."

Jon has 24 years experience as an educator. Currently, he serves as the Principal at Brooks Elementary School (2005-present). Prior to that he served three years as Assistant Principal at Brooks Elementary School.

Jon taught Biology, Marine Biology, and Life Science at Wilson High School (1993-2002) and he has Secondary Experience

"The Flesh Profiteth Nothing"

Jesus said John 6:63 "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing; the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life." Jesus again replies Matthew 26:41 "Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak." Affirmed again in Romans 7:18 "For I know (PAUL) that in me (PAUL) (that is, in my (PAUL'S) flesh), dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me (PAUL); but how to perform that which is good I (PAUL) find not." Again in Titus 3:5 "Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost;" and in Romans 8:33b "It is God that justifieth." How in the world can anyone dispute the words of the Lord Jesus Christ and the greatest Christian that ever lived, unless it is willful ignorance and blindness of heart. See 2Peter 3:5 & Matthew 15:14 & Luke 6:39.

My father-in-law once remarked sadly: "when people finally learn how to live, it's time to die." I can say for myself that in my younger saved years the struggle with sin was sometimes overwhelming. We try to excuse ourselves and our actions with "I didn't mean it", or "it's not that bad", or "a little bit won't hurt", but the truth is the flesh does not know how to satisfy its appetite for sin. Every sin has a hook in it. God is not impressed with our flesh or its efforts, or the world's religions, rituals, ceremonies, or its anti-scriptural traditions. Lost folks trying to figure out the Bible only result in 2 Peter 3:16 "As also in all his (PAUL'S) epistles, speaking in them of these things; in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction." Again in 1 Peter 1:18-19 "Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers; But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot." Eph 3:17a "That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith;" Sadly, most still miss the simplicity of these things. 2CORINTHIANS 11:3.

Commentary

'There's Something He's Hiding'-Hillary

That had to be both the gutsiest and most ironic line of last week's Presidential debate. Hillary Clinton accused Donald Trump of hiding information pertaining to his tax returns - strongly implying that the public has a right to know everything about it. Hillary, an ardent advocate for transparency? I laughed so hard I almost had to go change my pants. It would be so much fun to get a syringe of sodium pentothal in her to finally get some truths.

Hillary did remarkably well for most of the first Presidential debate. She was prepared (almost scripted) and comfortable with details while Donald Trump was awash in generalities.

Accusations of Hillary getting advanced information, prodding moderator Lester Holt, having special meds to make it through the 90 minute event, etc. are rampant. We may never know. However, that glazed, hollow look of heavy medication in her eyes and deliberately-slow movements were trying to tell us a story.

It was also hard to ignore Holt's cross-examination of Trump on several issues, as though he were the arbiter of law and accuracy.

Good debates usually contain reasonable amounts of spontaneity. So Trump's numerous interruptions were of little surprise. Hillary didn't need to interject very much anyway

Mergers Uncompetitive

Editor:

The proposed merger between German pharmaceutical and chemical giant Bayer and U.S. biotechnology giant Monsanto would create the world's largest supplier of seeds and agricultural chemicals. The merged company would control a quarter of the world's seed and agrichemical market. This proposed merger follows two other mega-mergers in the agricultural input market. The Dow-DuPont merger and ChemChina-Syngenta deal both announced in the last year are reshaping an already highly-consolidated market.

As giant transnational corporations increase their power over the market, independent farmers are left with fewer options and suffer from less competition between input providers. Farmers have lost access to seed varieties and genetic traits while seeing the prices they pay for biotechnology traits skyrocket.

The Center believes in the power of a competitive marketplace and the role of government in guarding against unfair and anticompetitive market practices. Therefore, we're calling on the Department of Justice to block further mergers between any of the big six (quickly becoming the big four) agrichemical-seed companies. We encourage concerned citizens to stand with us and reach out to the Justice Department and your members of

Many examples of what are labeled as problems are given, among them an association with the Clintons...

Congress to voice support for action to block further mergers.

Congress should also work to reverse the decades-long decline of investment in plant breeding as they take up a new farm bill in 2017.

The recent merger activity is a clarion call for the Department of Justice and Congress to act to protect a competitive market environment for independent farmers and ranchers.

ON YOUR DEBT

Can I Discharge My Debts Related to a Car Accident in Bankruptcy?

B. Grant McNutt
Managing Attorney

The impact of a car accident may be emotionally and physically devastating. It is even more devastating when it has been determined the car accident was entirely or even partially your fault. What happens when you are underinsured or not insured at all at the time of the accident? The impact of such an event may cause your finances to spin out of control.

If you are financially responsible for a car accident you need to take a look into all the options that are available for you. One of the options is that you may be able to file for bankruptcy to discharge those debts depending on your circumstances. Normally your debts related to a car accident are dischargeable. This is true whether the debts are related to personal injury or property damage. You would simply list the debt in a Chapter 7 Bankruptcy and the debt would be discharged.

There are two (2) exceptions where the debts arising from a car accident are not dischargeable in bankruptcy.

The first exception is if the accident was the result of you driving under the influence (DUI) and you caused a death or personal injury to the other party or parties. Your financial obligations to pay any criminal fines, court fees, restitution, and bodily injury to the other party are not dischargeable if it is the result of a DUI.

The other exception is if the accident was the result of a willful or malicious injury caused by you to another entity or to the property of another entity. An example of this could be if you deliberately ran your car into your neighbor's fence because you hated the sight of the fence or you hated the sight of your neighbor. Under this exception, both personal injury and property damage are not dischargeable in bankruptcy.

In both of these instances you would have to pay for the debts. So what happens if you are financially responsible for the debts caused by a DUI or your willful or malicious injury to another person or their property and you do not have the funds readily available on hand to repay the debt? Although the debts are not dischargeable in a Chapter 7 bankruptcy you can file a Chapter 13 Bankruptcy to repay the debts over a period of three (3) to five (5) years. If the debts cannot be repaid within the five (5) years due to your financial circumstances you may always file another Chapter 13 bankruptcy to pay the remaining balance.

If you owe any debt related to an accident it is best to seek the advice of an experienced Bankruptcy Attorney. At Bond & Botes, our experienced attorneys can help you use the bankruptcy system to bounce back from financial hardships. We offer free initial consultations to help you plan your path back to stability. If you need to stop a foreclosure, wage garnishment or lawsuit or need to discharge burdensome debt, etc., we can help you!

SOME OF YOU MAY HAVE seen the news that over 200 million Yahoo accounts were hacked. If you haven't heard about that, well, 200 million Yahoo accounts were hacked. Passwords and even the security questions were stolen. Since AT&T is in cahoots with Yahoo, that means all of you with AT&T/Bellsouth email accounts may also be involved in this mess. Yahoo just announced the hack a few days ago but the hack actually took place in 2014. They are deservedly taking some heat for that omission. Then, a few days after the first announcement, Yahoo admitted that the number of compromised accounts was actually 500 million. Wow.

Fisher

HACKED? AND HOW!

by "The Computer Skeptic"

Yahoo has about 1 billion accounts. Only about 250 million are active. Since 500 million accounts were hacked, chances are pretty good that your Yahoo or AT&T account was among the hacked accounts. How can you tell? According to Yahoo:

- * Your account information (such as your password) has changed without your knowledge.
- * There are logins from locations you don't recognize on your "recent activity" page.
- * You aren't receiving expected emails.
- * Your Yahoo Mail account is sending spam. It has been suggested that the hackers were financed or even run by a state-sponsored group. Translation: Probably those pesky Russians again. All this hacked information was put in one large file and sold to the highest bidder. What this means is that hackers can then scour your email account looking for information about you. Since many of you use the same password across multiple accounts, all a hacker needs to do is find an email from your bank or Amazon or eBay, etc. Then they can try to use your email and that same password to access your account. They can also send scam messages to your friends claiming that you were kidnapped overseas and need money ASAP. So what do you need to do? First, you need to log into your account and change the password. Once you do that, you need to set up "two step authentication" for your account. That way, every time a "new" computer tries to access your account, they will have to enter a code that is only sent to your phone via a text message. That way, a hacker can't access your account unless they also have your phone. Lastly, all of you need to stop using the same password across multiple accounts. I know it's hard to remember all those passwords but this is important. One method I use is to use the same password but add the first and design are appreciated by our advertisers and large weekly readership. It was gratifying to see that newspaper professionals outside of our region also appreciate our efforts to improve our product every week."

1 to 3 letters of the website I am accessing. For example, if I used the horrible password, "passw0rd" I will change that to "Ama-passw0rd" to access my Amazon account, "Dir-passw0rd" to access my DirecTV account and so-on. You can also use various programs such as Lastpass to remember your various passwords for you.

During the period from January -December of 2015, the Courier Journal's advertising sales team had a combined 85 years of newspaper advertising experience. The pre-press (graphics) professionals associated with the Courier Journal have 89 years in the business and are still going strong. "With limited categories for which we had qualifying entries, we excelled at virtually every opportunity," Magazzu added. "The Advertising Sweepstakes Award is a plus for everyone involved. It shows advertisers that teamwork and communication are important from the first sales call until delivery in mailboxes each week."

Celestial Thoughts

My teenage daughter has been cashiering and waitressing for the last year to pay for her car. I try to go by the restaurant on the nights she waitresses to support her. One evening I watched as a perfect stranger put a generous tip into the hands of my daughter with the comment, "This is for you sweetie." My heart melted.

As the precious woman and her mother walked past my table to leave, I stopped her and explained that she had just blessed my daughter and the reason why. She thanked me in return and said what a good job my daughter was doing. Without missing a beat she asked me to pray for her mom who had been very sick. I'm still not sure how she knew I am a believer.

Regardless of that little mystery, thank you again, ma'am, for letting your generosity shine even when you had no idea how much it would mean.

"One person gives freely, yet gains even more..."
Proverbs 11:24 Dawn

since Holt ran a lot of interference, tossing several issues back to her for response.

That deceitful-looking half-stoned, half 'I'd like to kill you now' grin Hillary brandished at Trump a few times was aggravating even for me. It brought back memories of those whom I and other rebels used to target as kids at school. A long straw and a mouth full of tightly wrung spit balls were my weapon and ammunition of choice. Ah, the good ol' days with no responsibility and no liability. The worst that could happen was a week's grounding and a round with dad and the belt. That penalty would be well worth the extended amusement now.

Back on point: President Obama took a beating during the first Presidential debate in 2012 against Mitt Romney. He bounced back impressively at the next opportunity. Hillary/Trump II should also be more interesting if Trump isn't having to battle both the moderators and the Democratic nominee.

ghostly encounters she has experienced in the historic building that has been used as a power plant, U.S. Naval Reserve station, and a recording and movie production studio.

"The tour is a great way to get an early start on Halloween, to learn about the history of our music, and to hear some fascinating ghost stories," said Susann Hamlin, president and CEO of Colbert Tourism. "There are spirits of past inhabitants of the Shoals who are dying to be discovered during the tour."

Delinski will have copies of his book, "The Omega Ghost," available for purchase after the tour.

Tickets for the tours are $15 and are available at the Colbert Tourism Office at in Tuscumbia, next door to the Alabama Music Hall of Fame. For more details, call 256-383-0783 or email colberttourism@comcast.net.

Medicare Minute

"Value of a Local Agent"

Medicare's Annual Enrollment Period (AEP) begins October 15th and extends through December 7th. You will find that there are many ways to sign up for your 2017 plan. You can enroll online, enroll over the phone, have a non-insurance person help you enroll or you can enroll in your plan through a local insurance agent that is certified to offer Medicare plans.

If you want to deal directly with a particular insurance company you can do that online or over the phone. All insurance companies now have a website and toll free number to call. Some people feel as though they need help in choosing a plan. They will call on a friend, family member or non-insurance person to help them. All three of these methods are perfectly acceptable under Medicare guidelines. If you choose to enroll without the help of an insurance agent it will be up to you to read and understand the plan's summary of benefits, assure that the doctors, hospitals and pharmacies you want to use are in the plan's network and make sure your drugs are covered on the plan's drug formulary.

There's an important question you'll want to ask yourself; "If I have a problem with my plan can the person helping me enroll go to the insurance company on my behalf to help me solve it?" If the answer is "no" then you will be on your own to deal with the company. Your local insurance agent must be appointed by the company they enroll you with. Therefore, if you have a problem with your plan the agent that enrolled you can go to the company on your behalf. Next week we will look specifically at the value of a local agent and how an agent earning a commission can actually be a good thing for you!!

If you have questions regarding any aspect of Medicare or Medicare health plans feel free call us at Alabama Health Guidance (256-284-7249), stop by our office at 879 Florence Blvd (Four Lane Shopping Center) or email me at ikey@alabamhealthguidance.com.

DAVE Says

by DAVE RAMSEY

GET YOURSELF OUT OF IT

Dear Dave,
I make $2,100 a month after taxes, and I have accumulated $46,000 in credit card debt. My husband makes more than I do, but he won't help me. He says I got myself into this mess, so it's my job to stop being irresponsible and fix it on my own. Do you have any advice?
Peggy

Dear Peggy,
You've got a load of debt hanging over your head right now, but I think you've got bigger problems than that. You told me you're married, yet it sounds to me like you two are living entirely different and separate lives.

This seems more like a roommate situation than a healthy, loving marriage.

I don't like your husband's attitude, but he does have a valid point in one respect. You were irresponsible with money, and now you've got a pile of debt on your hands. My big question is this: Where was he while all this was going on? Were you hiding it from him? And where was the communication and decision making, financial and otherwise, couples should engage in? Married people can't live this way and win in their relationship or with money.

The two of you desperately need to seek marriage counseling together. This relationship is on the rocks. You and your husband obviously have no trust or respect for each other, and there's a definite lack of communication, unity and shared goals. I don't know what happened to bring things to this point, but the preacher didn't pronounce you guys a joint venture when you got married; he said you were now one.

A little maturity, extra work, and living on a simple budget will go a long way toward fixing most personal finance issues. But your marriage is in big trouble, Peggy. Please seek help!
— Dave

WHY SAVE BEFORE PAYING OFF THE MORTGAGE?

Dear Dave,
I just read The Total Money Makeover, but I'm still unclear as to why you recommend saving for an emergency fund and retirement before paying off your home. Shouldn't a house be paid off as quickly as possible, since it's a liability?
Mark

Dear Mark,
I appreciate the fact that you're asking questions and thinking things through. But please don't fall into the trap of thinking of your home as a liability. That mindset is way off base, in my opinion.

Your house is definitely an asset; it's the mortgage that's a liability. Some folks may try to position a house as a liability simply because it costs you money. But the truth is your home will make you more money than it will cost you over time. Therefore, it is an asset.

Some of the saddest situations I've seen in all my years of teaching are seniors who have paid-for homes and nothing saved or invested. Money isn't the most important thing on earth, but it is a fact of life. That's why I encourage people to build an emergency fund of three to six months of expenses and begin saving for retirement before they tackle paying off their homes.

Then, after all that is addressed, take every dollar you can scrape together and put it toward paying off your mortgage as fast as possible. Good question, Mark!

Better Off Without You

Anthem, the Star-Spangled Banner, and our American flag.

If you do not like to live here, then the former Soviet Union, former Nazi Germany, Communist China, and North Korea, would like you to come on over, bow to their beliefs, and be imprisoned. If you want to lose all your rights, most of your money, and wonder if you could get a good night's sleep without being forcefully awakened and answering a lot of questions, then be my guest. In other words, go ahead and be gone from my United States of America.

I have no desire to put up with your unAmerican antics any more. We will be better off without you. We will go about our business without any conscious thoughts about your self-inflicted dilemma. To these very stupid athletes who think they are making an impression on me, it is working. I feel sorry that you feel that way.

Try the same thing when you move to another country. They might not like it, and may do something that you will regret for the rest of your life. Good Luck on that one.

Joe Fairer
Muscle Shoals

No Savior, but No Alternative

Dear Sir:

I am writing to comment on a letter printed in the Courier Journal 21 September 2016, written by Lynn Daniel in which the writer makes the point that Trump is not a savior, but offers no alternative.

Trump is not my idea of a perfect candidate, but he has selected a staff of people who will help to steer the country in the right direction. Many examples of what are labeled as problems are given, among them an association with the Clintons.

The fact is that Trump or Hillary will win. You should ask yourself whether Trump, who may have been tainted by this association, or Hillary, the real thing in a lying, stealing security risk, is your preference.

There are several other points that the writer seems to consider problematic, one of which is donations to the Democrats. The amount of money is not very significant and the positive side of this is that he knows which politician is for sale and the price.

It's The One-Sided View

Editor:

The hosts of the ABC show, The View, were rude, arrogant, distasteful, belligerent, and unfair to Trump's campaign manager, Kellyanne Conway on Thursday, Sept. 29.

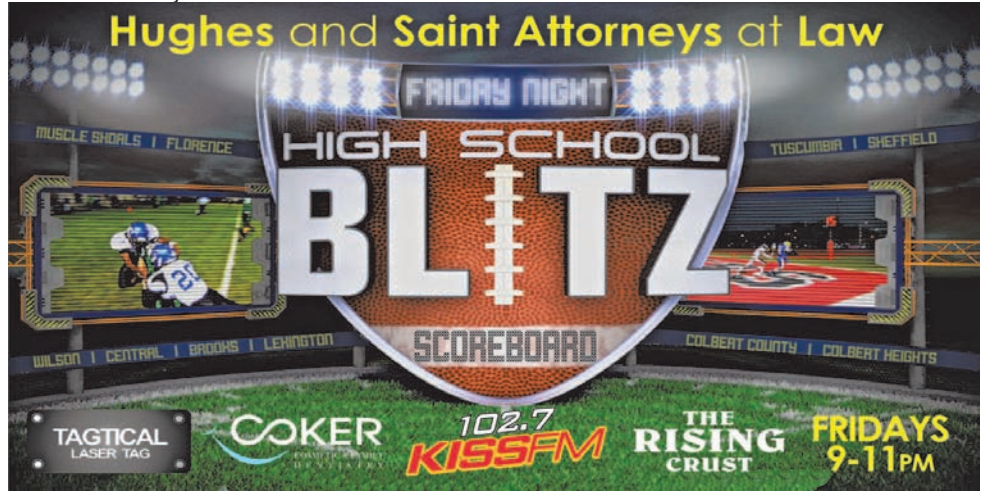

The poor woman was bombarded with so many questions that they never gave her a chance to answer. Every time she was giving an explanation Whoopi Goldberg would talk over her and not let her make her point. I presume because Whoopi did not want Kellyanne to defend Trump in a way that would influence the audience.

I can understand why Trump will not go on a show where the hosts purposely sucker punch the guest and try to keep the guest from carrying on a meaningful explanation and from expressing their thoughts and viewpoint. ABC TV should rename that show "The One-Sided View" about completely by chance. While reading the classifieds one morning, Kay McElroy saw an ad about a cougar cub for sale. Curiosity led her to go see the animal, but what she found upon arrival was unsettling. The cub was starving and chained to a small dog crate. He was licking his infected paws, the result of a botched declawing. In hope of rescuing him, she offered her tractor in trade for the young cougar, but the seller declined. Two weeks later the seller dropped the frail animal off on her doorstep. After numerous unsuccessful attempts to find a facility that would take the sickly cub, McElroy came to terms with the fact that no such facility existed. Out of options, but fiercely committed to the cub that she had affectionately named Zack, she began tirelessly devoting her time and personal funds to care for him. Zack lived a happy and full life until the mature age of 16.

Now twenty-five years after taking in Zack, McElroy has a staff that works rain or shine 365 days a year at CedarHill. They continue making a difference in the lives of hundreds of animals in need. At present there are 212 domestic cats, nineteen dogs, ten tigers, six horses, five exotic birds, five pigs, three lions, one cougar, and one rabbit who are the recipients of their unconditional love and care.

To protect the well-being and safety of these animals, CedarHill is not open to the public. With no form of income or assistance, they rely solely on donations from generous animal lovers around the world. "We've been here over twenty-five years for the animals, and with your help we hope to be for years and years to come," McElroy said.

All donations go to maintenance of the animals and are tax deductible. To donate, go to www.CedarHillAnimalSanctuary.org, or you may mail a check to 144 Sanctuary Loop Caledonia, MS 39740. For questions, call 662-356-6636 or visit their facebook page.

open Wednesdays through Saturdays, 10am-4pm. Regular admission will apply: $6 adults; $5 seniors, students, military; $3 Youth (6-18 yrs.). The exhibit will include quilts never publicly shared before, as well as some of the best of his collection which were displayed in last year's exhibit. Several quilts from other private collections will also be showcased.

Glenn Rikard was inspired to assemble his quilt collection, now numbering over 100 examples, by the beautiful and colorful patterns made and quilted by loved ones in his own family. To these he has added those about which he knows the original owner's story and quilts that he has made. His collection offers a sampling of quilt patterns which have been popular through history.

Each Friday at 1pm during October a special program will be presented by Rikard. He will lead an informal time of discussion sharing the quilts in the exhibit, plus additional quilts from his collection. Each session will include time for a Show and Tell. Those attending are invited to bring quilts from their personal collections to share. Quilts may be heritage examples with a story to tell or may be contemporary quilts designed and made by the owner.

Deshler Athletic History

I recently was a guest speaker at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club in Tusculmbia. My subject was the outstanding athletic history of Deshler High School. In compiling my information, the one constant that jumped out at me was the versatility of their success.

Deshler has captured 16 State Championships in 5 different sports. Jana Killen has won six basketball State Championships and finished runner-up 3 other times. Killen also has one volleyball State Championship Runner-up and one tennis State Championship runner-up.

Robert Young won the Tigers first girls basketball State Championship in 1985. Tandy Gerald's coached the Tigers to their first football State Title in 1990 and became the only Deshler coach to win State Championships in two different sports when he guided the boys golf team to a State Championship.

John Mothershed won back-to-back football State Championships in 1998 and 1999.

During those state championship teams, Hal Hughston kicked his way into the Deshler record books by making a school record 79 consecutive extra points. The Tigers also excelled in another sport when Bob Laxton coached the wrestling teams to three State Championships.

Head football coach Buddy Moore's teams had some of the greatest seasons in school history. Moore was also known as one of the area's top track coaches. He guided the Tigers to State Championships in track in 1962 and 1964.

My research also revealed another unusual fact. Deshler had three Patton brothers who all played quarterback for the Tigers. That in itself wasn't what caught my attention. What would you say were the odds of three brothers growing up in the same household who would sign SEC football scholarships and play for three legendary Hall of Fame coaches?

Older brother Huston played for Johnny Vaught at Ole Miss. Middle brother Jap would play on Bear Bryant's first National Championship team at Alabama in 1961 and younger brother George played at Georgia under Vince Dooley and was a two-time All-American lineman for the Bulldogs.

Deshler High School has enjoyed a great athletic history and all of the above mentioned coaches are members of the Colbert County Sports Hall of Fame.

THE BOLD AND THE BEAUTIFUL Carter was put on the spot when Ridge asked him for a favor. Having already lost her home, Quinn's day got even worse when she stumbled upon Steffy at Forrester Creations. Caroline confessed to Thomas about the sobering realization she had during her time away in New York. Liam was heartbroken when Steffy informed him that they would not be reuniting. Meanwhile, Ivy looked at Steffy's decision as a chance to win back Liam. Ridge and Steffy were blindsided by Carter when he backed out of their agreement. Wait to See: A former flame takes extreme measures for an unrequited love.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES Justin demanded that Adrienne move out of the DiMera mansion. Gabi helped her friend Janet ward off the looters, but was shocked to recognize one of them. Hope delivered some upsetting news to Rafe. John, Marlena, Steve and Kayla shared memories of their past encounters with Orpheus as they tried to figure out how to take him down. Ciara feared that Theo left the hospital after seeing Abe. Marlena enlisted Kate's help to expand her profile about Clyde. Andre was curious about Aiden's victory. Wait to See: Marlena lays out her plan to take down the fugitives.

GENERAL HOSPITAL Curtis gave Nina a harsh reality check. Kiki set Morgan straight on his false assumptions. Claudette filled Griffin in on her past. Kiki and Nelle compared notes about working with Carly. Sonny did some damage control. Jordan received an unlikely tip. Ava dodged a bullet. With the walls closing in on him, a desperate Morgan lied to his therapist and misinterpreted something he saw. Sonny was shocked that Griffin was questioning his faith. Nelle offered Morgan a friendly shoulder to lean on, but rebuffed his advances. Ned and Olivia reignited their relationship. Wait to See: Tracy and Monica unite to support the hospital during tough times.

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS Travis took Victoria back to the bar where they first met. Phyllis moved in with Summer, but told her that she was refusing to give up on her marriage to Jack. Meanwhile, Jack refused to give Phyllis her old job back at Jabot. Nick brought Faith home from her birthday party and found an unwrapped present for her on the doorstep. Ashley got stuck in the elevator with Travis and realized that he once dated a friend of hers in New York. Stitch and Abby tried to sort out their marriage problems. Travis asked for Adam's old office at Newman Enterprises. Nick told Sharon to quit trying to push him closer to Chelsea. Wait to See: Hilary goes after a hot scoop.

NEW LIFE IN CHRIST

No matter who you are or where you are in life, you can be assured that God loves you and has a purpose for your life.

Because of sin (falling short of God's righteous standard), we are separated from God and are spiritually dead (Romans 3:23). However, because God loves us, He provided a way for us to connect with Him by sending His Son, Jesus, who never sinned, to die in our place as payment for our sin. John 3:16 says, "God loved the world in this way: He gave His One and Only Son, so that everyone who believes in Him will not perish but have eternal life."

To begin a personal relationship with God, agree with Him about your sin and your need for forgiveness. If you are ready to make this choice, as an affirmation of your belief, you may wish to pray a prayer like this one: Dear God, I understand I am a sinner, but I believe Jesus died for my sins, and I now accept His gift of eternal life. Thank You for forgiving my sins. Thank You for my new life. From this day on, I choose to follow You and Your will for my life.

If you choose to begin a personal relationship with God through His Son, Jesus, please share this with the person of church that gave you this. To learn more, visit sbc.net/knowjesus.
