Firearms instructor speaks to Kiwanis Club

By Linda Cranford

Jones County Sheriff's Department Deputy Nick Messersmith, a certified firearms instructor, spoke to the Kiwanis Club at their weekly meeting on Wednesday, October 5.

"We're very blessed here in Mississippi to have a governor and legislature that have done a lot for our Second Amendment rights," stated Messersmith. "Mississippi has a very good firearms permit program."

"There are a lot of myths out there," continued Messersmith. "How many of you think you don't have to have a permit to carry a gun?"

Good question! Messersmith said there are three types of carry permits in the state of Mississippi – permit-less carry, basic permit carry and endorsed permit carry. The latter requires individuals to take an eight-hour class, which Messersmith teaches as a second career.

Permit-less carry has extreme restrictions. "Permit-less carry is restricted to public and what is public?" asked Messersmith. "Public is the middle of the road out there. Once you step off the roadway, you're on private property. At that moment it's not about Second Amendment rights, it's about private property rights."

The second type of permit is the basic permit carry. Messersmith explained that anyone who fills out an application and passes a state and federal background check is issued a basic permit to carry a gun. "Mississippi is a 'shall issue' state," said Messersmith. "Because of that, Mississippi's basic permit carry is not reciprocated by many other states." He said the third type permit, the endorsed or enhanced permit carry, was established in order to combat the non-reciprocation and is recognized by 31 states.

Messersmith said the eight-hour endorsed permit carry class that he teaches is usually offered on the weekend and covers the subject matter mandated by the state's statute. These subject matters include basic firearm safety and handling skills (loading, unloading and holding), range proficiency exam (shooting for a recorded score) and legal education. "We talk about everything from deadly force laws to civil liabilities," said Messersmith. "That's a heavy burden."

He said the endorsed permit carry allows for the most privileges; however, it comes with extra responsibilities. Messersmith also spoke to the club about self-defense and the importance of adjusting daily routines.

“You are most vulnerable in transition times – getting in and out of your car, home, and business and anytime you’re on your feet, like filling your car at a gas station,” noted Messersmith.”

He stressed the importance of remaining aware of your surroundings to reduce the opportunities for vulnerability. “Park your vehicle so that your first move is out or forward,” said Messersmith. He also explained that he uses a shopping cart to create distance. Even when shopping for one item, he suggest always having a shopping cart when going in and coming out of a business like Walmart.

After asking the group how many practice shooting, he pointed out that most people don’t practice drawing their weapon. “If I can’t get my gun into a fight, it matters not how well I can shoot,” stressed Messersmith. “In high stress situations, you lose cognitive thinking and motor skills. Some have asked, ‘what’s the number for 911?’ It’s amazing how many people forget to call 911 in an emergency. They will call their brother or neighbor and then someone will ask, ‘did you call 911?’”

Messersmith has been in law enforcement for 10 years and previously served in the military. As a law enforcement officer, he has served on the SWAT team and as a firearms instructor for eight years. Anyone interested in taking his eight-hour endorsed permit carry class may contact him by calling 601-470-0914 or email him at nick.messersmith1911@gmail.com.

Bay Springs Baptist Church sponsoring Flamingo Flocking fundraiser

The Bay Springs Baptist Church Relay For Life team is sponsoring a Flamingo Flocking fundraiser during the month of October in recognition of Breast Cancer Awareness. Watch for these flocks of tacky pink plastic birds on the lawns of your friends and neighbors. Want a flock to land in your friend's yard or business? Call the Flamingo Flocking Hotline at 479-597-0411 or 601-670-6208 to make a reservation. Don't want the flamingos to show up on your neatly manicured lawn? You can get insurance for that! Suggested donation: Flock a friend - $20; Get the flock removed and sent to someone else - $20; Insurance against flocking - $20. Flocking is a fundraising effort done with good, fun-loving intentions. Please help support Relay For Life of Jasper County and The American Cancer Society as we continue to fight all cancers! Mayor Magee proclaims October National Domestic Violence Awareness Month

By Linda Cranford

Local county and city law enforcement agencies joined members of victim service programs, as well as domestic abuse survivors and family members, in the rotunda of Laurel City Hall Thursday, October 6 to witness Laurel Mayor Johnny Magee sign a proclamation designating October National Domestic Violence Awareness Month in the city of Laurel.

According to the proclamation "Domestic violence is widespread and affects over four million Americans each year. Every day, three women lose their lives in this country as a result of domestic violence and millions of Americans live daily in silent fear within their own homes. Children who grow up in violent homes are believed to be abused and neglected at a rate higher than the national average. Domestic violence costs the nation billions of dollars annually in medical expenses, police and court costs, shelters, foster care, sick leave, absenteeism and non-productivity. Our efforts must extend beyond the criminal justice system to include housing and economic advocacy for survivors, working with young people to stop violence before it starts, and reaching out to friends and loved ones who suffer from domestic violence, letting them know that they are not alone."

What Is Domestic Violence?

Domestic violence is a pattern of behavior in any relationship that is used to gain or maintain power and control over an intimate partner. The abuse can be physical, emotional and/or sexual. It can involve:

- Intimidation
- Blaming
- Harassment
- Name-calling
- Stalking
- Threats and other verbal abuse
- Control over the victim's movements, friendships and money

Typically, domestic violence escalates into increasingly more dangerous acts of controlling and abusive behavior. It may start out as verbal abuse and escalate swiftly into physical violence. Anyone, including men, can be the victim of domestic violence. It crosses racial and ethnic lines, religious beliefs, age groups, socioeconomic groups and sexual orientation. It affects married, single and divorced couples.

South Jones picked to continue sensational season

By Zac Chamblee

Feels like the season kicked off yesterday and we're already at week nine! Playoff time is creeping up on us, so every game the rest of the way is important. With a ton of our area teams in contention, it should be a great ride the rest of the way. Focusing on this week though, here's how I see things going down:

PCS (8-0) @ Jackson Prep (8-0): This is the biggest game in the history of PCS football. No exaggeration! The Bobcats have never beaten Prep, the cream of the crop in MAIS football. The Patriots have won 29 straight games dating back to the 2014 season. Crazy. This season, the Patriots are not just winning – they're dominating, outscoring opponents 324-96. PCS is coming off a 49-29 win over Lamar, the same team Prep beat 42-7 three weeks ago. All the stats point to Jackson Prep winning their 30th straight. However, I said it weeks ago, and I'll say it again now. I will not pick against PCS until they lose, no matter the stats or the opponent. This is a special team, and they'll find a way to win this game.

PCS - 41
Jackson Prep - 38

Jim Hill (1-7) @ Petal (4-3): Can you imagine the taste in Petal's mouth after their game last week, a 42-14 loss to Brandon? No doubt the Bulldogs are a great team, but Petal had no business getting dismantled like that. They will get back on the winning track this week though against a Jim Hill team that has struggled mightily in all three phases of the game this season.

Petal - 45
Jim Hill - 14

Oak Grove (3-5) @ Terry (4-4): Oak Grove's recent struggles continued last week in a loss to Meridian. The competition will get a little easier this week against a Terry team that hasn't played too well either as of late. Sooner or later, you've gotta think Oak Grove is gonna start figuring some things out. It should start Friday night against a Terry team they've historically dominated. No domination this year, but Oak Grove will still get a win, a much-needed one at that.

Oak Grove - 31
Terry - 24

Pascagoula (4-3) @ Hattiesburg (5-3): Hattiesburg will have to move on quickly from last week's loss to Picayune, if they wanna bounce back against a Pascagoula team that always has their fair share of athletes. Picayune gouged the Tigers last week with their rushing attack, and Pascagoula will look to do the same Friday night. The Panthers have two capable backs in Reginald Hunter and Javarous Walker that can present problems. Hattiesburg's real Achilles heel though this season has been dual-threat quarterbacks. Both Tanner Estill (Petal) and John Rhys Plumlee (Oak Grove) lit their defense up in two of their worst performances, both losses. Luckily for Hattiesburg, they will not face one Friday night. Their own, Julian Conner, has a big game, and the Tigers get a big win.

Hattiesburg - 41
Pascagoula - 24

Sumrall (5-3) @ Poplarville (5-1): Aside from the Purvis game two weeks ago, this will be Sumrall's biggest test of the season. Poplarville has won five straight after their 35-14 opening week loss to St. Martin, which wasn't really that bad of a loss considering how good St. Martin, a 6A school, is. Especially in their losses, Sumrall has had a hard time stopping the run, which has to be music to Poplarville's ears. They have two players, Austin Bolton and Jesse Pernel, who have combined to rush for well over 1000 yards and 19 touchdowns. Too much for Sumrall.

Poplarville - 28
Sumrall - 21

Purvis (5-2) @ Columbia (1-5): Man, Purvis is looking really good right now! Offensively at running back, John Bolton and Dylan Curtis have really put the team on their backs, especially last week without starting quarterback Ty Howell. That duo should feast this week against a Columbia defense that's giving up well over 200 yards rushing a game. Tornadoes extend their win streak to six games.

Purvis - 38
Columbia - 17

Laurel (6-1) @ Brookhaven (5-2): Aside from a week two loss to Hattiesburg, Laurel is outscoring opponents 261-105 this season. Need I go on? Probably not, but I will. Yardage-wise, both teams are averaging about 350 yards a game. Defensively, though, Laurel is forcing twice as many turnovers. Brookhaven is also actually playing better on the road this season, averaging a touchdown better away from their place, so maybe even Brookhaven's home-field advantage this week is a good thing for the Tornadoes. How often can you say that about a visiting team? All signs point to Laurel extending their win streak to six games.

Laurel - 42
Brookhaven - 17

Sacred Heart (4-3) @ Resurrection Catholic (6-1): Resurrection, the 1A runner-up last season, is sure to be a huge challenge for the Crusaders. The Eagles, who have won 29 games the last three years, are coming off a 42-7 win over Stringer, the same team that beat Sacred Heart 38-34 two weeks ago. Resurrection is the real deal, so I like them to win comfortably in this game.

Resurrection Catholic - 38
Sacred Heart - 21

Bay Springs (6-2) @ Newton (5-2): How about the job Ryan Smith, Oak Grove's offensive coordinator last season, has done in his first year coaching Newton? The program won a combined four games the previous two years, so Smith must be doing something right. We'll learn a lot about his team Friday night against Bay Springs, a perennial 2A contender. The Bulldogs, who looked downright dominant in all three phases early in the season, have looked beatable the last three weeks, losing to Raleigh and only beating Union by four. Newton, on the other hand, has won four in a row and is playing their best ball of the season. My brain says Bulldogs, but my heart says the underdog Tigers. I'll go with my heart on this one.

Newton - 35
Bay Springs - 28

South Jones (7-1) @ Wingfield (4-3): These are two teams going in completely different directions. The Braves have won two in a row, whereas Wingfield's 5-0 start has been tarnished by their current three-game losing skid. In that span, Wingfield has scored 40 points. South Jones scored 40 last week alone. Braves keep building on a phenomenal season.

South Jones - 34
Wingfield - 20

CPC now Choices Clinic of Laurel

By Linda Cranford

With the theme of “Celebrating 20 years of Hope,” the Laurel Center for Pregnancy Choices (CPC) held a fundraising banquet at the Gables Thursday night, October 6, with close to 500 people attending. During the event the ministry announced that they have changed their name to “Choices Clinic of Laurel.”

“Two years ago, God revealed to the leadership of this organization the necessity of CPC transitioning to a pregnancy medical clinic,” said Macon Phillips, Chairman of the Board. “The conversion required the addition of an ultrasound machine, a trained technician, and additional STI testing previously unavailable.” He said the conversion was completed over a year ago, resulting in the life of 16 babies being saved in the Laurel-Jones County area.

Among the goals of the organization is to launch a campaign to bring more awareness to the community of the services that the Choices Clinic of Laurel offer including pregnancy testing, limited ultrasound, STI testing, options education, group classes, blessing center (baby store), male mentoring, post-abortive recovery and a 24-hour text line.

“Young people need to know that there is a place where they can get answers to their questions, and they need to know what their choices are so they can make informed decisions,” said Carol Harbaugh, executive director. Harbaugh said their goal is to become the first choice in the community. “Our desire is that our doors are opened and that people find their way to that door. That they come in and feel the compassion we have for each one coming through.”

Laurel Mayor Johnny Magee served as emcee for the event and shared his personal story as to why he supports the Choices Clinic of Laurel. He told the story of a young couple who were struggling in their relationship and financially when she became pregnant. The husband accused the young woman of stepping out and didn’t think the baby was his. The young woman contemplated ending her pregnancy, but she was a praying woman and aggressively began to pray. “Finally, she felt that God was leading her to give birth to the child,” explained Magee. “This was before the time when you could find out the gender of a child beforehand. When she gave birth to the child, she named the child after her father. Her father’s name was Johnny Thompson. She named her baby Johnny Magee. I stand before you this evening solely because of the decision my mother made. I thank God every day for that decision.”

Those attending also heard a video testimonial from Derrick and Stephanie Conliff of Laurel, describing how the CPC ministry touched their lives 15 years ago when, as young high school students, they were faced with the choice of having a child or not. In the video they described how CPC helped them make the choice to have their child and how their choice touched so many other’s life.

The keynote speaker for the evening was Luke Johnson, who is an itinerant preacher and missionary from Laurel. Johnson graduated from West Jones High School and obtained a bachelor’s degree in business from USM before attending New Orleans Theological Seminary, where he earned his Masters of Divinity degree in 2009. While at USM, Johnson was a three-year starter at punter for the Golden Eagles. He spends up to four months a year in India training pastors, caring for orphans, working in slums, teaching churches and sharing the Gospel with the unreached in the Himalayas. Johnson and his wife, Lauren, live happily together with their yellow lab, Nola, in Laurel. On Friday nights, Johnson is the voice of the Laurel Golden Tornadoes on 99.3 Super Talk Radio.

Johnson delivered an entertaining and at times heart-gripping speech that expressed his reason for supporting the ministry, from a personal example and story about the choices people make and how the Choices Clinic of Laurel ministry helps people make those choices. Focusing on the statement “A life can be lived if only given the choice, and someone must make that choice,” he shared his story.

“Thirty-three years ago someone made a choice, and it has impacted me till this day,” began Johnson. “My time began March 2, 1983. I was put up for adoption. I stayed in a foster home for the next month, and on April 7, 1983, I found myself in the Free State of Jones at Route 10, Box 80, at the home of Joe and Jean Johnson.”

Johnson said that the culture of today too often thinks that pregnancy is a crisis, and the ministry is changing its name because “we have to understand that pregnancy is not a crisis; pregnancy is an opportunity.”

At times funny and other times serious, Johnson described events of his life including how he was able to stand in front of his high school classmates, in his West Jones Mustang letter jacket, and share the Gospel of Christ with them and of how he has been able to share the Gospel with people here in the U.S. as well as unreachable people in the depths of foreign countries. His work in India includes training others to be pastors in their own country. He described the many miracles God has performed through him.

“We’re here tonight to give lives like mine a chance to live,” said Johnson. Repeating his talk’s main focus statement he said, “A life can be lived if only given the choice, and someone must make that choice.” Many lives have been changed because of the choice his biological mother made 33 years ago.

He concluded by reading a letter from his biological mother that was recently discovered in a Bible she had left for him when she gave him up for adoption. The letter expressed her love for him throughout her pregnancy, and that her choice to give him up for adoption was an act of love. The ministry’s 2017 goals include increasing the total volume of clients from 170 to 680 (a 400 percent increase), increasing monthly pregnancy tests from 8 to 32, increasing the number of male clients from <1 to 8 per month, and increasing clients from surrounding counties from 15 percent to 30 percent of total clientele.

“This is God’s work,” said Harbaugh, referring to the ministry. “And, he has abundantly blessed. This is just the beginning, and there is so much more!”

Laurel’s Kendall Breland makes history

By Dale McKee

Texas A&M is 6-0 for the first time since 1994 after a nail-biting finish Saturday afternoon over Tennessee. A&M got over the hump after losing a two-touchdown lead over the Vols in their home stadium. The Aggies’ quarterback, Trevor Knight, finished the game with two TD passes and three rushing touchdowns. The game was played before the second largest crowd in A&M history. Tennessee, on the other hand, had their “luck” finally run out. Through the first five games, Tennessee manufactured comeback wins as they created turnovers. The Volunteers lost the turnover battle in this game as they lost five of six turnovers. Strange thing is that they almost won the war but lost in two overtimes to the Aggies.

Laurel girl makes history

Laurel’s Kendall Breland made Mississippi high school football history last Friday night with her one-yard run for a TD in the Tornadoes 61-14 win over Jackson Wingfield.

Mangum honored by SEC

Magnolia Bank President Kris Mangum is one of 14 members of the 2016 SEC Football Legends class, a collection of former football standouts who will be honored at events surrounding the SEC football championship game in Atlanta on December 3 at the Georgia Dome. Mangum, a native of Magee, was an Ole Miss All-American tight end in 1996 and was a two-time All-SEC performer.

World Series Night at Mississippi HoF

The Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame and Museum will host a World Series viewing party for the opening night of the 2016 World Series, which is October 25. The lineup includes visits by several former major league players. Ex-MSU players Jay Powell and Jeff Brantley and St. Louis Cardinals third base coach Chris Maloney will attend the night’s festivities, along with Jake Gibbs and Joe Gibbon of Ole Miss. Long-time minor league coach Stan Cliburn, along with USM’s Chad Bradford and DSU’s Barry Lyons, will discuss their post-season play at the event. Tickets are $50 for the event that will begin with a barbecue dinner at 5:30 p.m. and then followed at 6:30 p.m. by a question-and-answer session. Then the audience will watch game one of the Fall Classic. Contact the Mississippi Hall of Fame for more information.

Sanderson Farms Golf

The Sanderson Farms Championship will honor Mississippi first responders with two tickets to the October 24-30 golf tournament at the Jackson Country Club. First responders will show their official IDs to receive one pass for themselves and one pass for a guest at the Will Call window. Mississippi’s first responders include fire rescue, EMT/EMS employees, law enforcement officers and 911 dispatchers. The Wednesday Pro-Am is free to everyone. Youth under 17 are free each day with a ticketed adult.

Who’s in charge here?

The most interesting SEC news last week was the cancellation of the LSU at Florida game. The game was postponed indefinitely because of Hurricane Matthew. This game needs to be played, and the SEC Commissioner Greg Sankey needs to get it done.

Both the MSU and USM fans were probably very disappointed in their teams’ play last Saturday. Both have big challenges this week when MSU goes to BYU and USM gets to experience Death Valley in Baton Rouge against LSU. Ole Miss rested last Saturday but will have another challenge at Arkansas this Saturday night.

How about them Cowboys?

The Dallas Cowboys matched their victory total for last year with their fourth win Sunday. The Cowboys defeated the Cincinnati Bengals, 28-14, to improve 4-1 on the young season. Dallas has not had quarterback Tony Romo for any of the regular season games, and for the last two games ace receiver Dez Bryant has not played. But the Cowboys have probably one of the best running backs in the game in Ezekiel Elliott, and, of course, they have Dak Prescott. Both have benefitted from having one of the NFL’s best offensive lines.

Prepare vehicles for harsh weather

Submitted

As the seasons change, motorists must take steps to safeguard their vehicles, especially when the season changes from fall to winter. Each winter, many vehicles are subjected to sub-zero temperatures, snowfall and icy roads, and such conditions can take their toll on vehicles over time. Taking steps to prepare vehicles for winter weather is a vital step that can make cars and trucks safer for drivers and their passengers.

Battery

Old batteries should be replaced before winter begins. Without a strong, properly functioning battery, engines cannot turn over. Most batteries last between three and five years. However, extreme cold can compromise batteries, especially those that have been around awhile. Batteries are made up of acid and water, and cold temperatures can freeze the water, thereby affecting battery performance. According to AAA's Automotive Research Center, at 32 F, the average battery loses 35 percent of its strength. Newer batteries can be protected by starting the vehicle each day to warm up and recharge the battery. Let the car run for at least 10 minutes if you cannot take an extended drive.

Exterior maintenance

Keeping a car waxed and sealed can help maintain a durable exterior finish. This includes not only the paint, but the rubber and vinyl parts of the car's exterior.

Winter is a good time to switch to a heavy-duty synthetic wax that can shield against water and road salts. High-quality sealants can be used on bumpers, trim and rubber door seals as added protection. Speak with an automotive retailer or even the car dealership if you are unsure which products will make your car's parts most durable for winter weather.

Do not stop washing your car just because the weather is cold. Slushy, wet roads and snow-melting salts can speed up the formation of rust or other decay on the undercarriage of the vehicle. These materials will need to be periodically cleaned off. Flush the underside of the vehicle whenever possible, taking advantage of any dry, slightly warmer days.

Tire pressure

According to the automotive retailer Pep Boys, vehicle tires lose a pound of air pressure for every 10-degree drop in temperature. Many modern cars will alert to changes in air pressure, and drivers should be diligent in maintaining the proper tire pressure. Fuel economy as well as handling ability can decline when tires are not inflated properly. Tires can be refilled at many gas stations for little cost.

Wipers

Visibility is key in hazardous weather conditions, and keeping the windshield clean is a priority. This means ensuring there is enough windshield wiper fluid in the car and that it is a product that will not freeze.

Wiper blades can freeze and crack in the winter. Older blades may be more susceptible to damage. It's a worthy investment to replace existing wiper blades at the start of each winter. When vehicles are parked, pull the wipers off of the windshield to safeguard them from sticking and cracking.

Cold weather requires drivers to amp up their vehicle maintenance routines. Consult with a mechanic or automotive retailer for more ideas and products that can help your vehicles operate safely and efficiently this winter.
