Make the most of your insurance deductibles.

Want to Know How You Can Outsmart YOUR DEDUCTIBLE?

HERE'S A WAY TO FEEL SMART when it comes to medical insurance. If you've been putting off a minor surgery or an important test your doctor has recommended, the end of the year is a good time to take care of those overdue medical needs. Here's why. Deductibles under most health insurance plans will reset to the full amount beginning in January. So if you've met your deductible payments for the current year and are able to complete additional procedures before year-end, your out-of-pocket medical expenses could be minimal or even zero.

FRIENDLY REMINDERS AND TIPS TO KEEPING YOUR CAR RUNNING LONGER

1. Follow the maintenance schedule in your owner's manual. If your car has a "maintenance minder", use that as a guideline for service, but be sure to double-check your owner's manual as some items need to be replaced based on time rather than mileage. Don't forget the timing belt! Most cars need to have the timing belt replaced every 60,000 to 90,000 miles. Replacing the timing belt is not cheap, but it's far less expensive than the damage it will cause if it breaks.

2. Fix everything as soon as it breaks. If you're going to keep your car as long as possible, you have to want to keep it as long as possible. Don't ignore seemingly unimportant problems like broken trim, torn upholstery, or electrical glitches. Little annoyances add up and can begin to erode your love affair with your old car.

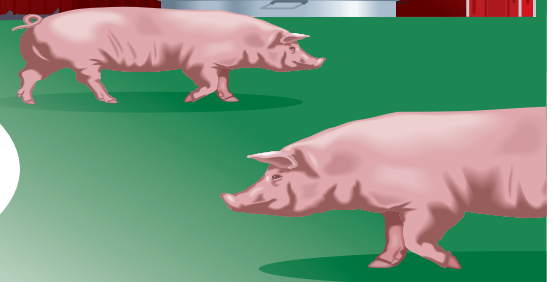

3. Keep it clean. Paint does more than make your car look good; it protects the materials underneath. Wash your car regularly. When water no longer beads on the paint, wax it. (Read more: How to wash and wax and detail your car like the pros.) Fight rust. If you live where it snows, be sure to wash the car regularly -- but only if the temperature is above freezing. (Below freezing the salt stays in solution and won't harm the car.) Don't park in a heated garage; melting snow allows embedded salt to attack. Make sure your car wash does not recycle their water -- otherwise they're just spraying your car with salt from other people's vehicles. (Check out my four-season guide to preventing rust).

We'd like to thank all of the hardworking men & women in the pork industry!!

Did you know... Nearly one-third of the nation's hogs are raised in Iowa. At any one time there are between 14 and 15 million hogs in Iowa. That's about seven times as many pigs as people living in the state.
