Identifying Marks
With fall migration underway, learning how to identify birds can be helpful. Questions to ask yourself include: Does the bird have wing bars like an American goldfinch? Does it have a black cap like the gray catbird? Does it have a specific patch of color like a rose-breasted grosbeak?

COVENTRY CHILD OUTREACH PROGRAM

The Coventry Child Outreach Program is offering FREE screening for preschool age children living in the town of Coventry. Children will be screened in the following areas of development: hearing, vision, speech and language, social emotional and general development. Much like your well-child visit with the Pediatrician, children should participate in screening annually at 3, 4 and 5 years old. Because children learn rapidly during these early years, each screening offers an up-to-date check on your child's development. Screening is offered in a variety of locations. To make an appointment, please call Lisa Neill, Child Outreach Coordinator for the Coventry Public Schools at 822-9400, Ext. 249. For more information visit www.ride.ri.gov (Instruction & Assessment). Check out the Family Engagement tab for free resources!

Creating A Disaster Plan For Your Pet

(NAPSA)—When it comes to caring for a family pet in a disaster, a little bit of planning can make a big difference.

Here are some tips from a national association of veterinarians on how to create an effective pet disaster plan:

- When a disaster strikes, it's best to evacuate with your pet. Leaving pets behind—even in a safe place—puts them in greater danger, but you must find a refuge or shelter that will accept animals. Emergency shelters don't accept pets. Contact friends, hotels, boarding facilities and animal shelters in advance to find an emergency refuge for your pet.
- If possible, make sure your pet always wears current identification tags or has an implanted identification chip.
- If you know ahead of time that a disaster or extreme weather is coming, bring a pet inside long before the disaster strikes.
- Assemble a pet evacuation kit in advance, including the following: medications and food (including any required package openers) to last at least three days, leashes, harnesses, a sturdy pet carrier if necessary, portable water, cat litter, a current photo to help find a lost pet.

Plus, it's wise to include newspapers or paper towels, care instructions for your pet in case you have to board the animal, and a list of emergency boarding facilities and veterinarians, along with 24-hour telephone numbers.

- If you absolutely must leave a pet at home during an evacuation, follow these steps: Keep dogs and cats separate; put pets in a secure room away from windows; keep any tanks and cages away from walls and windows; consider putting your pet in a room with tiled floors that can easily be cleaned in the case of floods.

Also, make sure that the animal is in a place or can get to a place that will be above floodwaters. Leave the pet some food to eat, but try to pick an unappetizing food to prevent overeating—and no treats or vitamin supplements. For birds, use an automatic feeder; and leave water for pets in a nonspill container or in a bathtub if it is accessible.

- After a disaster, be careful about letting your pet outside. The sights and smells of your neighborhood may have changed, so your pet could become disoriented.

The Kitchen Diva!
by Angela Shelf Medearis

Turkey Soup "Bowls" Are One of a Kind

I once produced and hosted an Internet cooking show called "The Kitchen Diva!" After we finished one of the shows, I had a large amount of leftover turkey pieces, an abundance of acorn squash and several small containers of cooked vegetables. I didn't want anything to go to waste, so I decided to turn the turkey and vegetables into a soup and use the acorn squash as "bowls." No matter what leftover vegetables you use or how you decide to serve this soup, the results are spectacular.

TURKEY SOUP IN ACORN SQUASH TUREENS

- 6 acorn squash, each about 1 to 1 1/2 pounds
- 2 tablespoons olive oil, plus extra for oiling squash
- 1 cup finely chopped onion
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1/2 cup diced celery
- 1/2 cup diced red bell pepper
- 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon black pepper
- 1/2 pound cooked turkey meat, diced into bite-size pieces
- 1/2 cups cooked orzo or other small pasta, such as risotto
- 1/2 cups turkey or chicken broth
- 2 cups cooked vegetables (corn, peas, carrots, potatoes, etc.)
- 1/2 cup shredded Parmesan cheese

1. Heat oven to 375 F.

2. Cut a small amount off the bottom tip to allow squash to stand upright, but don't cut a hole in the bottom. Cut a lid off the top of each squash and scoop out the seeds and fibers. Scrape away some of the flesh, especially around the top, to form a large, smooth inner cavity. Make sure to leave the shell at least 1-inch thick all around, without piercing it. Oil the squash inside and out, and season the inside with salt and pepper. Replace the lid.

3. Place the squash on a baking sheet and bake until mostly cooked, but still firm enough to stand and act as the soup container, about 30 minutes. Do not over-bake. If a good deal of liquid gathers in the bottom, spoon it out and discard. Set the shells aside; they will stay warm on their own for a good while.

4. Heat 2 tablespoons of the olive oil in a large pot over medium-high heat. Add the onion and cook for 2 to 3 minutes. Add the garlic, celery, bell pepper, poultry seasoning, salt and pepper. Stir in the turkey, cooked orzo, broth and cooked vegetables.

5. Place the reserved acorn squash shells on a saucer or in a small bowl and fill them with the soup. Sprinkle with cheese and replace the lids. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

SOURDOUGH BREAD BOWLS

If you don't have any acorn squash on hand, a bread bowl made from a freshly baked, round loaf of sourdough bread is a wonderful substitute.

- 6 (about 6 inches wide) round loaves of sourdough bread
- 1/2 cup olive oil
- 1 teaspoon minced garlic or garlic powder
- 1 teaspoon minced parsley

1. Heat oven to 400 F. Using a serrated bread knife, slice off the top of the bread loaves. Using your fingers, pull the soft center of each loaf away from the shells. Leave a 1-inch thickness of soft bread dough around the inside of the crusts. Reserve the bread dough centers and freeze to use for bread-crumbs or croutons.

2. Mix together the olive oil, garlic or garlic powder and parsley. Brush the inside of the bread bowls and the dough sides of the lids with olive oil mixture.

Place bread bowls and lids on a baking sheet. Bake for 5 to 10 minutes until golden brown.

3. Let bread bowls cool, and fill with the soup. Sprinkle with cheese and top with lids. Serve immediately.

Two toads of central and southwestern Europe are called midwife or obstetrical toads because the male helps care for the eggs. The male fastens them to his legs and carries them until they hatch. Prayer to St. Anthony

Great Saint Anthony, friend of God, who had the happiness of receiving within your arms our blessed Lord in the form of a little Child, obtain for me of His goodness this favor that I desire from the bottom of my heart. You who were so gracious to poor sinners, do not look on my lack of merit, but consider the glory of God which will be exalted once more through thee, to the salvation of my soul and the granting of the petition that I now make with such earnestness. Amen.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• It was Emily Post, arbiter of courtesy and expert on etiquette, who made the following sage observation: "Manners are a sensitive awareness of the feelings of others. If you have that awareness, you have good manners, no matter what fork you use."

• If you're planning on moving to Florida, keep in mind that in that state, it's illegal for a housewife to break more than three dishes in one day.

• It's a popular stereotype: a rejected lover sitting on a barstool, drinking to try to forget the heartbreak. The problem is, drinking isn't really an effective way to go about acquiring amnesia, even temporarily. Those who study such things say that imbibing alcohol can actually help people recall events that occurred just before they started drinking.

• A defense lawyer in a Canadian murder-for-hire case once argued that his client must be innocent — because the defendant was useless. The attorney commented, "No one would hire him to cut the grass. Why would someone hire him to kill someone?" Nice try, but no luck: The man was convicted.

• There doesn't seem to be a clear explanation of why flies fly faster when they're in the sun than when they're in the shade.

• Twilight is often defined as the period of time when day is ending and night is beginning — a pretty vague definition. There are more precise versions, though: Civil twilight is the time when streetlights come on, nautical twilight occurs when the horizon disappears, and astronomical twilight is when the faintest stars become visible.

Identifying Marks
With fall migration underway, learning how to identify birds can be helpful. Questions to ask yourself include: Does the bird have wing bars like an American goldfinch? Does it have a black cap like the gray catbird? Does it have a specific patch of color like a rose-breasted grosbeak?

- The total $12 M bond provides for $5M for the Senior Center component and $7M for the Police Station component
- Addresses and removes numerous safety, space, health and liability issues that leave the town and taxpayers at risk
- Tax Impact: For a home valued at $250,000, may be up to $62 per year (but no more than that)
- Road to be constructed for Police entry/exit via Sandy Bottom Road
- Grants will be pursued to further reduce costs to taxpayers

Four Tips For Protecting Your Family From Fire

(NAPS)—According to the National Fire Protection Association, more than 350,000 home fires occur each year—but you can help your family stay safe.

Fire Safety Suggestions
Keep your family safe by:

1. Having at least one fire alarm on each floor of the house and in each bedroom.
2. Checking the batteries monthly and replacing them at least once a year, more often if necessary.
3. Helping kids identify what items are safe to play with in the house. "Many children who play with fire do so out of curiosity or a desire to emulate their parents," explains Dr. Robert Cole, President of Fireproof Children and spokesperson for BIC's play safe! be safe! fire safety education program. "Eliminate temptation by keeping lighters and matches out of sight and reach and by supervising playtime."
4. Helping your youngsters understand fire safety. Children learn best when they feel comfortable. The play safe! be safe! program (www.playsafebesafe.com) provides teachers, parents and those who care for young children with the tools they need to teach kids about fire safety and prevention by sharing basic facts, playing games and visual storytelling.

Parents and children can learn fire safety from an entertaining, educational website: www.playsafebesafe.com.

Parents can most effectively help their children overcome fear through positive messaging and reinforcement. Interactive games, such as the ones featured on the www.playsafebesafe.com site, let children learn in a safe, fun and rewarding way. Picture books, both fictional and nonfictional, can also be great learning tools. When children are able to see images of firefighters and their "scary-looking" gear in a safe and calm setting, they are less likely to panic in times of danger.

Since the program's inception in 1994, BIC Corporation has distributed more than 114,000 fire safety education kits and more than 184 workshops with community leaders. Each play safe! be safe! kit includes a 20-minute multilingual video (in English, French Canadian and Spanish), colorful story cards, activity boards, a card game and a comprehensive teacher's manual.

Learn More
For a look at the program, including how to bring it to your community or to play the interactive games with your kids, go to www.playsafebesafe.com.

HINTS FOR HOMEOWNERS

What Every Homeowner Should Know About Window Replacement

by Lou Manfredini (NAPSA)—Replacing the windows in your home is a great way to increase both their energy efficiency and overall ease of use. But how should you choose the best replacement windows? Use these tips to determine the best replacement window for you.

Green
 One of the most important benefits of replacing your windows is that your home's energy efficiency will increase up to 70 percent. If you have old single-paned windows, today's modern double-paned windows will eliminate the need for storm windows. Also, look for windows that meet ENERGY STAR® guidelines.

Material Strengths
 Replacement windows should be low maintenance, durable and continue to look good over time.

Consider getting wood-clad windows, since wood is a durable material and a renewable resource. Extruded aluminum cladding on the exterior means even less maintenance since cladding does not need to be scraped or painted.

Appearance and Design
 Whether you are replacing your windows to have a whole new look or want to replicate the look of historic wood windows, it is important to choose from a range of options.

One innovative replacement window that recently came out is the Ultimate Replacement Casement from Marvin Windows and Doors. Through the use of a commercial-grade hardware system, the Ultimate Replacement Case-

This new casement window has a unique wash mode to make window washing easy.

ment has a unique wash mode that allows homeowners to wash the exterior of the window from the inside of their home.

Reliability and Expertise
 With so many window manufacturers in the marketplace, how do you know whom to trust? Choose a window manufacturer that is well established and has an excellent reputation. Remember, selecting high-quality windows is key, but having the right people installing those new windows is an important consideration.

To learn more about replacing your windows and the new and innovative Ultimate Replacement Casement window from Marvin Windows and Doors, visit www.MarvinCasement.com or call (888) 537-8268.

Hints For The Home

Tried-And-True Household Tricks Often Work Best

(NAPSA)—Cars are parallel parking themselves, digital picture frames practically hold short films and living rooms are vacuumed by robots. Still, the whole world hasn't gone high tech.

In fact, when it comes to dealing with many of life's more mundane housekeeping tasks—removing discoloration from glassware, say—lifestyle expert Sissy Biggers says the old-fashioned methods are best.

"High-tech solutions are great, but it's the tried-and-true household tricks that have stood the test of time," says Biggers, the creator and host of "A Big Life With Sissy Biggers" on msn.com.

Her answer to the discoloration problem, by the way? Soaking them in white vinegar and salt. Here's a look at some of Biggers' other favorites:

Chilling Wine
Use a cold compress from the freezer to preserve the chill on a bottle of wine. Just wrap it around the bottle, secure it with a rubber band, and drape the bottle with an attractive towel if you're entertaining.

Protecting Boots
It may sound odd, but after you drink the wine, put the empty bottles in your boots. They'll help them keep their shape—without stretching them out—and keep your closet looking organized.

Dryer Sheets
Biggers says there's a good reason that nearly 39 percent of us use dryer sheets for other purposes. "The sheets are completely versatile," she explains. "You can put a Bounce sheet in your shoes or in your closet to keep them smelling nice. Or if you're hitting the gym, you can throw a sheet in your bag to keep it from smelling like the locker room."

Lifestyle expert Sissy Biggers says there are dozens of household uses for dryer sheets.

There's even a Web site—www.bounceeverywhere.com—that lists dozens of different uses for the sheets. Those who visit the site and share their unique uses for dryer sheets could have their story made into an advertisement. And in tribute to looking clean and smelling fresh, every week one lucky Bounce user will be selected to receive a month of free cleaning service for their home.

Storing Earrings
As a final tip, Biggers says there's an easy way to keep from misplacing earrings: Loop them through buttonholes. That way you'll know exactly where to find them, whether at home or while traveling. For more tips and ideas, visit www.bounceeverywhere.com.

Little Golden Books
Q. When I was a youngster in the 1940s, almost every birthday and Christmas would include at least two or three "Little Golden Books." My earliest one was "Baby's Book" published in 1942. Others are "Nursery Tales," "The Lively Little Rabbit," "Hansel and Gretel," "The Shy Little Kitten," "The Saggy Baggy Elephant" and "A Year in the City." All are in fair-to-good condition. Even though I have no intention of selling them, I am curious about current values. — Lynda, Madison, Wisconsin
A. It is interesting to note that the Western Publishing, the parent company of Little Golden Books, started in a Racine, Wisconsin, basement. Edward Henry Wadewitz, a 30-year-old bookkeeper, purchased a small printing company in 1907 for $2,504, some of which he had borrowed from a brother. Throughout the 1920s and '30s, the company continued to prosper and grow. According to "Collecting Little Golden Books," by Steve Santi and published by Krause Books, the first Little Golden Books were published during the autumn of 1942. The first 10 titles are "Three Little Kittens," "Bedtime Stories," "The Alphabet A-Z," "Mother Goose," "Prayers for Children," "The Little Red Hen," "Nursery Songs," "The Pokey Little Puppy," "The Golden Book of Fairy Tales" and "Baby's Book." Values vary, but most of the early editions of the Little Golden Books from the 1940s seem to be valued in the $25-$100 range depending on both title and condition.

HEATING TIPS FOR HOMEOWNERS

Turning Up The Heat While Minimizing Costs

(NAPSA)—As temperatures drop around the country and heating costs rise, U.S. homeowners are turning to hearth products—including fireplaces, stoves and inserts—to save on their fuel bills. The federal government predicts that consumers can expect to pay 10 percent more in heating costs this winter.

A recent poll commissioned by the Hearth, Patio & Barbecue Association (HPBA) found that one in three American adults indicated they will have and use various hearth products in their home. And these units, including woodburning, gas, pellet and corn stoves and high-efficiency woodburning fireplaces, will be important parts of their plans for home heating costs over the next six months.

"Consumers want products that not only provide efficient heat, but are also environmentally friendly," says Jack Goldman, president of HPBA. "Installing today's fireplaces, stoves or inserts can provide that efficient, clean heat without sacrificing the warm ambience that Americans enjoy in the winter months."

Benefits Of Zone Heating

A central furnace can waste money by heating your entire home—including unoccupied rooms. Zone heating with a fireplace, stove or insert warms the rooms families occupy most and allows the thermostat to be turned down on the central furnace. One study indicates that zone heating solutions can provide energy savings of 20 to 40 percent.

"Zone heating provides the heat where and when you need it, adding to a home's comfort and High-efficiency heating units such as woodburning stoves and fireplaces can help reduce energy costs this winter.

ambience, but also reducing household fuel consumption and saving consumers money," adds Goldman.

Calculate Energy Savings

Increased fuel costs and continued focus on efficiency are key reasons for the ongoing popularity of hearth products. With today's multiple options, a fireplace, stove or insert can be installed almost anywhere in your home—even in nontraditional locations such as the kitchen, home office, master bedroom or bathroom.

To help consumers navigate the myriad of placement, product and fuel choices, HPBA has developed an online comparison guide that highlights the differences between appliance options, fuels, approximate efficiency and the estimated costs of product purchase. The organization has also developed a calculator—for estimating purposes only—that can assist consumers in determining the cost-saving benefits of various hearth products. Both are available at www.hpba.org.

Pecan Lace Cookies

These perfect special-occasion cookies are very delicate and elegant. If you like, they can be given a graceful shape by quickly molding them, while still warm, over a rolling pin. Store, layered between waxed paper, in a large shallow container. They're heavenly with ice cream or sorbet.

1/4 cup packed brown sugar
1/4 cup light corn syrup
3 tablespoons butter, cut into pieces (do not use margarine)
1/2 cup pecans, finely chopped
6 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract

- Heat oven to 375 F. Grease large cookie sheet.
- In 2-quart saucepan, combine brown sugar, corn syrup and butter; heat to simmering over medium heat, stirring, until butter has melted and mixture is smooth. Remove saucepan from heat. With wooden spoon, stir in pecans, flour and vanilla.
- Drop batter by level teaspoons, 3 inches apart, on prepared cookie sheet to make 6 to 8 cookies (depending on size of cookie sheet). Bake until lightly browned, 5 to 7 minutes. Cool on cookie sheet on wire rack about 1 minute to set slightly; with wide spatula, quickly transfer cookies to wire racks to cool completely.
- Repeat with remaining batter. Makes about 36 cookies.

• Each cookie: About 39 calories, 2g total fat (1g saturated), 0g protein, 4g carbohydrate, 3mg cholesterol, 13mg sodium.

Now here's a tip!
 by Jo Ann Derson

- "I am a senior on a budget, but I love to get presents for people. Throughout the year, I have a small weekly amount I set aside for 'fun shopping,' and I hit the clearance sections of department stores. I have found nice stationary items for less than a dollar and quality children's clothes for two or three dollars for a whole outfit. I always buy the size I would be buying at the holidays or the child's birthday, and I give large for less! Plus, it's a great way to spend time, since I have a lot more of that than I have dollars." — L.A. in Georgia
  - "If you have ever had a tough time threading a needle, try this trick. Spritz the end of the thread with a shot of hairspray. It makes the thread stiffer, and it goes right through with no fuss."
  - "To make a soft pocket for cell phones or small tablets, get a couple of thin, square oven mitts at the dollar store. Sew three edges together and it's ready! Slip electronics inside for safe passage in purses and briefcases." — R.Z. in Illinois
  - "Make a big batch of soup and store a week's worth for lunch in mason jars, which are easily stored in the fridge. Chicken noodle, tortilla, beef and vegetables, baked potato — the possibilities are endless, and so delicious."
  - "Paint a colorful pattern on a fabric dropcloth to use as an impromptu covering for a dirty or stained concrete patio. You can paint concrete, too, with specially made paint, but it's pretty easy to stash a dropcloth that will stay fresh and only come out when you have visitors." — E.L. in Alabama

Quick Tips On Saving Gas

(NAPSA)—Conserving gasoline is good for the environment and good for your pocketbook. Here's time-tested advice from the pros at the nonprofit, independent National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence (www.ase.com) in ways to use less gasoline.

- Monitor your tires. Underinflated tires and poorly aligned wheels waste fuel by forcing the engine to work harder.
- Consolidate your daily trips and errands.
- Avoid excessive engine idling. Shut off your vehicle while waiting for friends and family.

- Observe speed limits. Speeding decreases your miles per gallon.
- Drive gently. Sudden accelerations guzzle gas. Anticipate traffic patterns ahead and adjust your speed gradually.
- Remove clutter and unused items. Less weight means better mileage.
- Keep your engine operating at its peak efficiency. A misfiring spark plug or clogged filters cut into gas mileage.
- Follow the service schedules listed in your owner's manual and have the work performed by qualified technicians.

The National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence was founded to improve the quality of automotive service and repair through the voluntary testing and certification of automotive technicians. ASE-certified technicians wear blue and white ASE insignia and carry credentials listing their area(s) of certification. Their employers often display the blue and white ASE sign. Visit www.ase.com for seasonal car care tips and more.

BUSINESS SOLUTIONS

Counterfeit Software Can Cost Businesses In Many Ways

(NAPSA)—Even the most ethical companies face the threat of counterfeit software entering their business environment. In times when resources are tight, business owners may run a quick search online and find a sealed copy of the required software selling at a bargain-basement price—or perhaps even just a few dollars lower than the actual retail price. In most cases, they end up unintentionally buying pirated software from vendors that sell painstakingly forged software packages.

Software piracy is reaching epidemic proportions across the globe. A recent white paper, "The Surprising Risks of Counterfeit Software in Business," revealed that 37 percent of the midsize companies in the study had unknowingly purchased counterfeit software. All the counterfeit software was professionally packaged and looked deceptively genuine, down to the detail of imitating embedded holograms.

Says Cori Hartje, senior director of Microsoft's Genuine Software Initiative, "It's obvious that the strategy of software pirates is to create high-quality counterfeit software that is designed to deceive. The study reveals just how prevalent the problem is within the business environment. The best way to protect companies is by educating people about software piracy and providing tools to help identify and prevent the risks of counterfeit software before they purchase and install it in their workplace."

Small Business, Big Risks
The paper supports an industry-wide concern: As piracy grows in sophistication, the likelihood of its entering business environments increases dramatically. In each instance, the business owners who purchased and installed the software, in good faith, were surprised to learn that they had spent an average of $10,222 for products that were neither licensed nor genuine.

"Small and midsize businesses become easy, unsuspecting victims of counterfeiters who take advantage of customers looking for a bargain on their software," says Hartje. "Like larger enterprises, these businesses also wrestle with the demand to maintain and upgrade their software. But when they make their purchases from the least expensive vendor instead of a trusted adviser, they can easily end up with pirated products, ultimately resulting in greater losses through employee downtime and product replacement."

Beyond raising obvious concerns about intellectual property and copyright infringement, counterfeit software can also contaminate business networks with malware. Companies that become victims of software counterfeiters can end up exposing their business to data loss, prolonged downtime and identity theft.

Says John Gantz, chief research officer and senior vice president with IDC: "While technology has become more sophisticated, unfortunately, so have the software pirates. Counterfeit software can look just like the genuine product, while actually containing malicious code that can infect entire business networks with viruses and install Trojan horses designed to steal private data."

Building Awareness
The increased sophistication of illegal duplication makes it even more challenging for customers to distinguish pirated products from the "real thing."

Many companies have sites that provide tips on how to identify non-genuine software such as Microsoft's How to Tell Web site: microsoft.com/howtotell. It features an extensive gallery of counterfeit software packaging examples to help customers identify counterfeit products.

Explains Hartje, "The best way to protect your business network is to always purchase products from reliable sources, stay away from deals that look too good to be true and remain vigilant about what's entering your computing environment."

How Can You Tell?
Pirated software can look like the real thing. Microsoft provides several free, easy-to-use tools for customers to identify if their software is genuine, as well as monitor their software inventory. Microsoft customers can run a free genuine validation check for an installed copy of Microsoft Windows or Office at the Genuine Microsoft Software Web site microsoft.com/genuine.

To manage existing software assets, customers can use a simple, free tool designed for networks that have up to 250 computers: The Microsoft Software Inventory Analyzer at microsoft.com/resources/sam/msia.mspx. The data is not sent to Microsoft and remains completely confidential.

Duped? Take Charge
For businesses that discover they are a victim of counterfeiting, it is important to immediately remedy the situation. Resources to support customers duped by counterfeit software are at microsoft.com/piracy.

Travel Ideas

Celebrating An Artist's Work
(NAPSA)—Seeing beauty in everyday objects—even salt and pepper shakers—could gain you a place at a famous artist's table.

Wharton Esherick was a painter, furniture maker and wood sculptor cited by the national art and design community as the "Dean of American Craftsmen."

The studio home he designed is itself considered a work of art, and open to the public. Now called the Wharton Esherick Museum, the house sits atop Valley Forge Mountain and is largely considered his finest work. Each item inside—from the salad bowls to the spiral staircase—was made by Esherick. Furniture makers such as Wendell Castle and Sam Maloof credit Esherick with inspiring them.

Today, an annual competition encourages artisans, craftspeople and hobbyists: The Wharton Esherick Museum Thematic Woodworking Competition and Exhibition. This year's theme challenges participants to create a salt and/or pepper mill in a way reminiscent of Esherick's designs.

Deadline for submission is July 1. An exhibition of entries will be held from September 9 through December 31. The Wharton Esherick Museum is located in south-eastern Pennsylvania 20 miles west of downtown Philadelphia. For more information, visit www.valleyforge.org or call (610) 644-5822 for museum information.

Headaches: Causes And Solutions

Top 5 Reasons for Everyday Headaches

Stress/Tension	73.1
Sinuses/Allergies	51.3
Fatigue/Lack of Sleep	50.5
Dehydration	19.4
Alcohol	17.9

100%

According to a recent survey of headache sufferers, stress and tension came out on top as the main cause. Of those surveyed who have used a headache powder, 69 percent said the powders worked fast.

(NAPSA)—The next time you feel a headache coming on, you won't be alone. According to the National Headache Foundation (www.headaches.org), one in six people—or 45 million people in the United States—suffers from recurring headaches each year, and they spend more than $4 billion every year on over-the-counter pain relievers.

Stress is the No. 1 cause of headaches, according to a recent Synovate eNation survey, followed by allergies, fatigue, dehydration and alcohol.

In the survey, 69 percent of consumers said that headache powders worked fast. A powder dissolves faster than tablets. Goody's Cool Orange Headache Powder offers temporary relief of minor aches and pains due to headaches, minor body aches and fever.

According to Douglas Hoey, R.Ph. of the National Community Pharmacists Association, it's the format that makes all the difference. "The powder format dissolves faster than tablets. Additionally, the orange flavor makes taking it more pleasant and it is convenient to carry around in the single-dose stick packs."

Quick Tips On Saving Gas

(NAPSA)—Conserving gasoline is good for the environment and good for your pocketbook. Here's time-tested advice from the pros at the nonprofit, independent National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence (www.ase.com) on ways to use less gasoline.

- Monitor your tires. Under-inflated tires and poorly aligned wheels waste fuel by forcing the engine to work harder.
- Consolidate your daily trips and errands.
- Avoid excessive engine idling. Shut off your vehicle while waiting for friends and family.
- Observe speed limits. Speeding decreases your miles per gallon.
- Drive gently. Sudden accelerations guzzle gas. Anticipate traffic patterns ahead and adjust your speed gradually.
- Remove clutter and unused items. Less weight means better mileage.
- Keep your engine operating at its peak efficiency. A misfiring spark plug or clogged filters cut into gas mileage.
- Follow the service schedules listed in your owner's manual and have the work performed by qualified technicians.

The National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence was founded to improve the quality of automotive service and repair through the voluntary testing and certification of automotive technicians. ASE-certified technicians wear blue and white ASE insignia and carry credentials listing their area(s) of certification. Their employers often display the blue and white ASE sign. Visit www.ase.com for seasonal car care tips and more.

Vacationers should remember exposure to ultraviolet rays rises with elevation and nearness to the equator.

Hints For Home Buyers

Millennial Mortgage Myths Debunked: A New Light On Homeownership

(NAPSA)—The American Dream may have looked little more of a nightmare to the millions of millennials who entered the workforce in recent years—but there could be good news.

Many millennials may be surprised to learn just how easily they can own their own homes.

This generation, born between 1981 and the early 2000s, has a desire to pursue passion over traditional expectations. Dreams of white picket fences have been replaced by a strong desire to invest in the future. This shift, however, means many millennials pay rent instead of a mortgage.

"Millennials have been swayed to believe that homeownership means a financial burden and stress," said mortgage lender Joel Gurman. "The reality is our current housing market, paired with the financial opportunities made possible by generationally low interest rates, have opened up homeownership to many people and have actually proven renting to be an expensive and unnecessary burden."

Here are five mortgage myths and actualities for millennials:

1. Buying a home is more expensive than renting: Unlike rent money, a mortgage payment goes toward ownership. Home prices have stabilized recently and rates remain near record lows, making payments quite affordable while gaining valuable equity.

2. I need a larger payment:
Millennials often assume their limited years' worth of savings won't equal a large enough down payment on a home. The reality is, with standard Fannie Mae-and Freddie Mac-insured loans, a down payment as low as 5 percent is enough, while FHA-insured loans only require 3.5 percent.

3. My credit score is too low:
With the stresses of credit card debt and student loans, millennials often struggle to maintain a desirable credit score. Fortunately, several programs, including the FHA mortgage, offer favorable credit score minimums.

4. The process is complicated and confusing: With their busy lives, millennials often assume the process of buying a home is too burdensome. Mortgage lenders today are making it as seamless as possible through technology, accessibility and mobile apps such as MyQL by Quicker Loans, the nation's second largest retail mortgage lender, which allows clients to upload supporting documents and check the status of their loan online, anytime.

5. Homeowners must take on a 30-year payment: Thirty years can seem overwhelming for the millennial with a lifestyle fueled by the ability to be free. In reality, many lenders offer terms ranging from eight to 30 years, for as much flexibility as desired.

Of the positive outlook for millennials, Gurman adds, "The future of our housing economy looks bright for millennials looking to re-evaluate their current financial hopes and dreams."

Random Acts of Kindness...

On Saturday, October 8th I was involved in a motor vehicle accident on Sandy Bottom Rd. in Coventry. I would like to truly thank Joanne Mackenzie for her moral support and the time she spent with me after the accident. She just happened to be driving by and was a total stranger to me. She stayed with me and calmed me down until my daughter arrived. Joanne is a perfect example of the kindness of the human spirit. We need more people like her in this world. I hope we meet again one day. I truly appreciate your kindness.

Sincerely,
 Sandy Corrente

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On Nov. 6, 1558, Thomas Kyd is baptized in London. Kyd created the "revenge play," which gave rise to tragedies like William Shakespeare's "Hamlet." Kyd's "The Spanish Tragedie," or "Hieronimo Is Mad Again," became the most popular play in England during its day.
  - On Nov. 1, 1800, John Adams moves into White House in the final year of his only term as president. Although Adams was initially enthusiastic about the presidential mansion, he and Abigail soon found it to be cold and damp during the winter.
  - On Nov. 3, 1883, Black Bart makes his last stagecoach robbery. When guards spotted gun barrels sticking out of nearby bushes, they handed over their strong box. The "rifle barrels" turned out to be sticks tied to branches.
  - On Nov. 5, 1895, attorney George Selden wins U.S. Patent No. 549,160 for an "improved road engine" powered by a "liquid-hydrocarbon engine of the compression type." With that, as far as the government was concerned, George Selden had invented the car — though he had never built a single one.
  - On Nov. 2, 1912, the XIT Ranch of Texas, once among the largest ranches in the world, sells its last head of cattle. At its peak, the XIT, owned by Chicago capitalists, had more than 160,000 head of cattle, employed 150 cowboys and encompassed nearly 3 million acres.
  - On Oct. 31, 1926, Harry Houdini, the most celebrated magician and escape artist of the 20th century, dies of peritonitis in a Detroit hospital. Twelve days earlier, Houdini had been punched twice in the stomach, rupturing his appendix.
  - On Nov. 4, 1990, "Dances With Wolves," a film about a Civil War-era soldier and a group of Sioux Indians, premieres in Los Angeles. The film, starring Kevin Costner, was a surprise box-office success and earned 12 Academy Award nominations.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) The pitter-patter of all those Sheep feet means that you're out and about, rushing to get more done. That's fine, but slow down by the weekend so you can heed some important advice.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You're in charge of your own destiny these days, and, no doubt, you'll have that Bull's-eye of yours right on target. But don't forget to make time for family events.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Be prepared for a power struggle that you don't want. Look to the helpful folks around you for advice on how to avoid it without losing the important gains you've made.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Congratulations! You're about to claim your hard-earned reward for your patience and persistence. Now, go out and enjoy some fun and games with friends and family.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) The Big Cat might find it difficult to shake off that listless feeling. But be patient. By week's end, your spirits will perk up and you'll be your perfectly purring self again.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A problem with a co-worker could prove to be a blessing in disguise when a superior steps in to investigate and discovers a situation that could prove helpful to you.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) This is a favorable time to move ahead with your plans. Some setbacks are expected, but they're only temporary. Pick up the pace again and stay with it.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your creativity is recognized and rewarded. So go ahead and claim what you've earned. Meanwhile, that irksome and mysterious situation soon will be resolved.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A new associate brings ideas that the wise Sagittarian quickly will realize can benefit both of you. Meanwhile, someone from the workplace makes an emotional request.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) It might be a good idea to ease up on that hectic pace and spend more time studying things you'll need to know when more opportunities come later in November.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A relatively quiet time is now giving way to a period of high activity. Face it with the anticipation that it will bring you some well-deserved boons and benefits.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Go with the flow, or make waves? It's up to you. Either way, you'll get noticed. However, make up your own mind. Don't let anyone tell you what choices to make.

BORN THIS WEEK: You like to examine everything before you agree to accept what you're told. Your need for truth keeps all those around you honest.

Don't Quit on Feral Cats

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I read your recent column on caring for feral cats, and I disagree that such animals can never be tamed. I used to believe that as well, until seven years ago when a skin-and-bones tiger cat showed up on my patio. The starved cat that I thought was dead when I first saw it is now a loving fat boy that sleeps with me every night. I'm not saying it was fast or easy experience. It took a whole year before he would even sniff my finger, and much longer for me to convince him that having his ear scratched would be awesome.

I have two other cats that I am working with now. "Mitzi" will allow me to pet her, but does not like to be held, nor will she come into the house... yet. "Bullwinkle" most likely will never come in, as he is deathly afraid of dogs and I have three. He sleeps in our barn instead, and shows up every morning for breakfast. I had him neutered through our local TNR (Trap, Neuter, Release) program.

So, while not all feral cats will become "normal," loving felines, it is possible. Good luck. — D. In Palmyra, New York

DEAR D: Thank you for the encouragement! It takes a tremendous amount of patience to convince a feral cat to approach you. As you noted above, participating in a TNR program help control feral cat populations. It also can reduce the chance of injury from fights over territory or members of the opposite sex. Readers, contact your local shelter or veterinarian to find out if there's a TNR program near you.

Your Health
Three Ways Air Quality Affects Your Ability To Think (NAPSA)—Scientific evidence shows that breathing polluted air can impair memory and reasoning, reduce academic performance and even result in lower intelligence—but you don't have to put up with it. Here are three important ways air quality directly affects your ability to think:
1. Standardized tests
 Standardized tests have become increasingly important in education. Parents and educators already debate the potential effect of family income, cultural background, gender and other influences on test results. Now, researchers also look closely at the effect of air quality on standardized test scores—and conclude that it's significant. One study of schoolchildren in Southern California found that exposure to higher levels of fine particulate air pollution (known as PM2.5) is linked to consistently lower scores on standardized tests in math and reading. A separate study of fifth-grade schoolchildren concluded that every increase of 2.1 cubic feet per minute (cfm) in ventilation was associated with a 2.9 percent increase in students passing a standardized math test.
2. Getting older
 Evidence is growing that cognitive decline associated with aging is at least partially related to breathing air pollution. In one study, scientists administered math and memory tests to 780 people age 55 or older, then correlated scores with pollution levels where the participants lived. After adjusting the results for education, employment and other factors, the researchers still found significant differences in scores based on air quality. Participants in areas with high pollution levels had error scores that were 150 percent higher than those living in areas with low pollution.
3. Memory
 Neuroscience researchers exposed mice to high levels of particulate air pollution (similar to levels in Beijing or Mexico City) for 10 months. They observed that the mice exposed to high pollution levels took longer to navigate through a maze and made more mistakes.

Researchers are discovering that air quality has a direct impact on a person's ability to think.

Examining the brains of the mice exposed to pollution, the researchers found physical changes in the tips of neurons in the part of the brain responsible for memory. The researchers also found that the mice exposed to high levels of pollution showed increased levels of pro-inflammatory chemicals in the brain.

What You Can Do
 Each person can help reduce the sources of pollution, better ventilate indoor environments and support air filtration for schools and other places as needed. Here are a few examples of positive steps that can clean the air:

Get involved: Schools with better indoor air quality have better attendance rates and test scores. You can ask the school principal, school board members or the American Lung Association what you can do to get involved in improving classroom air quality.

Avoid unnecessary exposure: Avoid unnecessary exposure to outdoor air pollution and use a high-performance air purifier such as the IQAir HealthPro Plus to keep the air clean at home. Visit www.iqair.com for more information. To see a ranking of the best and worst regions of the nation in terms of air pollution, visit www.stateoftheair.org.

Reduce air pollution: Conserving energy, recycling, driving less or driving low-polluting vehicles—the choices you make can help reduce air pollution for everyone. The negative effect of air pollution on the ability to think is just one of the many ways air pollution affects health. By taking action today to reduce air pollution, you can help ensure a cleaner, smarter future for all of us.

10. ORDINANCES

Shall Coventry Home Rule Charter section 3.16 be amended as follows:

[Amending sections (b), (c) and (g) in accordance with the explanation below]

Explanation: Section 3.16 Ordinances This amendment will allow a summary instead of the full text of a proposed ordinance or amendment to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the town, but will require the full text to be published on the town's website and in two or more conspicuous locations in town, before enactment. All other safeguards, including at least two town council meetings, before action on any ordinance or amendment, and a full public hearing, will be required before passage. Explanation: This amendment would add a section (4.10) requiring forfeiture of office by any member of the school committee who (1) lacks, at any time during the term of office, any qualifications for the office prescribed by this Charter, or by law; (2) violates any express provision of this Charter; or (3) is convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude. 13. CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS-APPROVAL

Shall Coventry Home Rule Charter section 8.19 be amended as follows:

Section 8.19 Amendments after adoption

(f) Limitations: Referendum a Approval by Electors. Capital improvement programs or projects not subject to the provisions of Section 8.55, with an anticipated total cost for such program or project in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) shall not be initiated before referendum approval by the electors. Nothing in this section shall prevent the making of contracts or spending of money for capital improvement projects or other projects, provided that any payments from the Town's general funds or property taxes must be approved annually by the electors at an annual or special financial town meeting. This section shall not apply to projects which have been approved by the electors in accordance with Section 8.55 of this Charter.

Explanation: This amendment would eliminate the need for an all-day referendum for capital improvement programs, if the program(s) has already been approved by the voters at the annual financial town meeting.

14. PERSONNEL BOARD

Shall sections 9.20-27 be amended as follows:

Sections 9.20-27 providing for a "Personnel board" [Delete all sections, eliminating board]

Explanation: This amendment would eliminate the personnel board from the charter. Current federal & state laws adequately protect employees from unfair employment practices by town government. The personnel board has proven to be cumbersome and expensive, even though its role is purely advisory to the town manager.

REMEMBER... TO LOOK AT BOTH SIDES OF YOUR ELECTION BALLOT!

"Lying Lisa" and "Lou the Snake" Raptakis

"Lying Lisa says she has a grassroots campaign...the truth is she has over $30,000 in her campaign account including a $500 contribution from speaker Mattiello. Last year the Speaker paid another $500 so she could send out Xmas cards to the voters in her district.

Ask "Lying Lisa" why she is "Independent" when she has been a registered Democrat for years. She was part of the Democrat "leadership" ( I use them loosely).

There are several reasons "Lying Lisa" was voted out of office in 2014. Among them she and Scott Guthrie ignored our votes to reject the CCFD budget. She is hoping you forgot.

She says she is not a career politician ...but this is her fifth run for public office.

I could go on and on but The Reminder only has so many pages.

Now to "The Snake"...Have you paid your back taxes? How could a State Senator not pay his taxes? Shame on you Lou.

Ask "The Snake" why he proposed a tax increase in CCFD up to 5.25% when the board actually reduced our taxes.

"The Snake" says he fought the leadership, apparently not very hard... Paiva-Weed donated $1000 to his campaign.

On one of his signs it says "Always there for you". He missed 111 votes in just the first six months this year. Maybe or perhaps he had the "sniffles".

"Lying Lisa" and "The Snake" are very upset that I am bringing this information to you.
