Refurbishment and Expansion of 50 Wood Street Facility to Create a Combined Human Services/Senior Center and Police Department

Message from Pat Shurtleff, Director Coventry Human Services/Senior Center:
 The Coventry Department of Human Services “the Heart of the Community” greatly appreciates your support in our effort to expand this space and gratefully asks for your vote YES on Question 8 . This expansion will allow us to offer more services and resources to the residents of this community and enhance our collaboration and partnership with the Coventry Police among others.

Message from Colonel John MacDonald, Chief of Coventry Police:
 The members of the Coventry Police Department want to extend a heartfelt thank you to all the residents who have supported us during this very busy and difficult year. Despite the negativity and violent attacks on officers nationwide, we have committed ourselves to communicating more with our community. We hope you have felt our presence in a positive way both on social media and at community events. We hope that you will consider investing in a professional, modern police facility which supports our mission and meets the needs of our growing community. Please vote YES on Question 8.

KEY FACTS

- Uses existing town-owned facility
- $12M bond provides $5M for Senior Center and $7M for Police Facility in a two phase project
- Takes advantage of low interest rates to reduce borrowing costs, lowering overall cost
- Cost Impact: At most, $15 annually in Year 1 and $22 in Year 2 for a home assessed at $150,000. $31 and $43 for a home assessed at $300,000
- Proposal eliminates several existing safety, health and liability issues facing users and visitors to these facilities as well as taxpayers in general
- The Baseball Field will remain untouched
- Police will use an Official Use Only Road exiting and entering Sandy Bottom Road from this facility

Birds That Cling
Feeders are available for birds that cling, such as titmice, woodpeckers, finches, wrens, nuthatches and chickadees. The feeders are made of wire mesh and don't have perches. They come in handy because birds that can dominate a feeder, such as grackles and doves, cannot perch on them and tend to leave them alone.

Q. One of my favorite shows was "The Good Wife." Any chance for a revival, or perhaps a big-screen feature? — Felicia F., via email

A. Coming this February, CBS All Access will stream a whole new spinoff series of "The Good Wife" starring Christine Baranski, who will reprise her role as the beloved Diane Lockhart, which earned her six Emmy Award nominations. She will be joined by fan-favorite Cush Jumbo as Lucca Quinn, and Sarah Steele will reprise her role of Marissa Gold. Just added to the roster is "Game of Thrones" and "Downton Abbey" alum Rose Leslie, who will play Maia Sindell, the god-daughter of Diane.

Rose Leslie

The new series is set one year after the events of "The Good Wife" finale. An enormous financial scam has destroyed Maia's reputation while simultaneously wiping out Diane's savings. No longer welcome at Lockhart and Lee, the two end up together with Lucca Quinn at another one of Chicago's top firms. "We're thrilled to have Rose on board," said executive producers Robert and Michelle King. "We needed a young actress who could hold her own with Christine Baranski and Cush Jumbo, and Rose is perfect. She's real, she's strong, and she can play comedy. If we designed an actress from the ground up, we couldn't have done better."

nights/times, it's possible that "Race" could premiere as late as this coming summer. As soon as I hear anything, you'll be the first to know. FYI: This season has been completely filmed and is ready to air, it just needs a timeslot, making the odds of a summer premiere even more likely.

Q. What has Javier Bardem been up to lately? — Daniel F., Albuquerque, New Mexico

A. Javier and real-life spouse Penelope Cruz are teaming up for "Escobar," a biopic about the infamous drug lord (played by Javier) and the television journalist (Penelope) who fell in love with him. Peter Sarsgaard also recently signed on to the film, and he will play DEA Agent Neymar, who is on the hunt to bring Escobar down. Starting May 26, 2017, you also can see Javier play Capt. Salazar in "Pirates of the Caribbean: Dead Men Tell No Tales," opposite Johnny Depp, Orlando Bloom and Geoffrey Rush.

Hints For Homeowners
 Signs of a Well-Respected Real Estate Organization

People looking to buy or sell their home can get help from a real estate company that's received J.D. Power's highest customer satisfaction ranking, based on thousands of responses, three years in a row.

(NAPS)—Whether you're ready to buy your first new home, sell your empty nest or anywhere in between, it's good to know you have a top real estate brand at your side. One way to tell is how well the organization is ranked for customer satisfaction.

Satisfaction Study Shows
 Making that easier is the annual J.D. Power 2016 Home Buyer/Seller Satisfaction Study. J.D. Power is a global marketing information services company with quality and satisfaction measurements based on responses from millions of consumers annually. The company provides customer satisfaction insights and solutions, performance improvement advice and social media access.

Now, Century 21 Real Estate has been awarded the "Highest Overall Satisfaction for First-Time Home Buyers, First-Time Home Sellers, Repeat Home Sellers, and Repeat Home Buyers (Tied in 2016) among National Full Service Real Estate Firms," from among five real estate companies, three years in a row. Individual experiences may vary but the award was based on 5,837 total responses and measured the perceptions and experiences of customers who bought and/or sold a home between March 2015 and April 2016 and were surveyed February-April 2016. You can learn more about it at jdpower.com.

In fact, for satisfaction in the first-time home-buying experience, the brand achieved the highest score in the age of additional services study factors within its segment. For satisfaction in the first-time home-selling experience and repeat home-selling segments, the brand achieved the highest score in the agent/salesperson; closing process; real estate company marketing; real estate company office; and a package of additional services per each segment.

"Sweeping the J.D. Power 2016 Home Buyer/Seller Satisfaction Study three years in a row demonstrates that the combination of our broker and agent-centric value proposition and a focus on delivering the highest standards of quality service has kept the brand and its System members front and center with today's home-buyers and sellers. It is consistently their real estate company of choice," said Rick Davidson, president and chief executive officer of Century 21 Real Estate LLC. "What a great way to celebrate the brand's 45-year anniversary."

Century 21 Real Estate LLC first revolutionized real estate with the introduction to the industry of the franchisor-franchisee model in 1971. Today, it's the most recognized name in real estate as chosen by consumers from a list of agencies (in a 2016 Millward Brown Ad Study) and committed to making a difference in people's lives by delivering to market innovative tools and technologies, marketing support.

Still Waiting

The Baseball Writers of America Association have fixed a few glaring Hall of Fame omissions over the past several years. The inclusion of Mike Piazza, the best-hitting catcher of all time, plus Andre Dawson and Jim Rice, both dominant outfielders of the 1970s and '80s, righted more than a few wrongs.

Still, the BBWAA and the committee charged with appointing executives and overlooked players have a ways to go. While the postseason progresses into the cold autumn night, here a few fire starters for you and your friendly, knowledgeable neighborhood baseball friends to stoke by the hot stove.

We'll begin with who is not invited: Barry Bonds, Mark McGwire, Sammy Sosa, Roger Clemens, Rafael Palmeiro, Andy Pettitte (remember those postseason wins, folks) and Alex Rodriguez. Also, Pete Rose is banned for life, and he should be content with his Fox Sports Network post-game show gig (very entertaining, by the way).

Now, in no particular order, those who have been overlooked:

1. Tim Raines. Actually, this is the No. 1 most glaring omission. Raines was a seven-time All-Star, a batting champion, a silver-sluggger award winner in left field, is fifth all-time in stolen bases and had a career on-base percentage of .380. Raines was the second-best leadoff hitter of his era (but more durable) to Rickey Henderson and one of the undisputed great left fielders in history. Easily one of the most popular players of his time.

2. Lee Smith. Third in career saves and a seven-time All-Star, Smith was dominant from 1983 to 1995, leading the NL in saves three times, landing 14 times in the top 10. He was one of the top 10 vote-getters for a Cy Young four times. Only 11 players have appeared in more games than Smith, he ranks third in career games finished, and his strikeout to innings pitched ratio of 8.73 is the 12th best of all-time. Why even have a Hall of Fame if you're going to ignore guys like him?

3. Jeff Bagwell. Rumored performance-enhancing-drug use, the lack of "milestone" numbers like 3,000 hits, 500 homers and the overlooked Houston market in general is said to plague Bagwell's entry to the Hall. Yet, his career on-base percentage plus slugging percentage of .948 is the 22nd best all time. He won a rookie of the year award, an MVP award, a gold glove, four silver sluggers, and averaged 35 home runs and 115 RBI, with slash line of .297/.408/.540.

4. Jeff Kent. No second baseman hit more home runs than Kent. Maligned for his fielding, he still ranks 19th in career double plays turned. Eight times, he drove in more than 100 runs in a season.

5. Curt Schilling. After Greg Maddux, Randy Johnson, Pedro Martinez, John Smoltz and Clemens, one of the most dominant pitchers of his era. He often averaged nearly nine strikeouts to one walk, and his career average of 4.4 is the third best of all time. He has the hardware, the MVPs and the bloody sock to show for it, too.

Apologies to Don Mattingly and Keith Hernandez this time around. Have other ideas? Message me direct on Twitter @sportingview and get it off your chest ... you'll feel better!

Mark Vasto is a veteran sportswriter who lives in New Jersey.

HOLLYWOOD

by Tony Rizzo

Jeff Daly/courtesy of HBO
Dwayne Johnson

ly Clarke and Nikolaj Coster-Waldau ("Game of Thrones") each $500,000 a show.

Dwayne Johnson parlayed his wrestling career into a $185 million movie career and is now pulling in $400,000 an episode for his HBO series "Ballers." Drew Barrymore ("Santa Clarita Diet"), Emma Stone and Jonah Hill ("Maniac") are each earning $350,000 an episode from Netflix for their series. The stars of "The Simpsons" — Nancy Cartwright, Dan Castellaneta, Yardley Smith and Julie Kavner — are getting $315,000 a show just for their voices.

There's nothing "Transparent" about Jeffrey Tambor's salary; Amazon pays him $275,000 an episode. Julie Louis-Dreyfuss ("Veep"), Tim Allen ("Last Man Standing"), Patricia Heaton ("The Middle") and the cast of "Modern Family" — Julie Bowen, Tyler Burrell, Eric Longstreet, Jesse Tyler Ferguson and Sophia Vergara — all earn $250,000 a show.

President Obama's worth is $12.2 million. He may have aged in eight years, but so has his money, and he doesn't have to endure reruns where he looks much younger.

Hints For Homebuyers

Four Tips On Getting A Second Home

(NAPS)—With home values rising, mortgage rates low and rental demand strong, purchasing a second home may seem like a good investment.

Many would agree. According to the National Association of Realtors' (NAR) annual Investment and Vacation Home Buyers Survey, over 2 million vacation and investment properties were purchased in 2015.

If you're considering buying a second home for leisure, rental income or future retirement, here are four suggestions that may help.

1. Seek help from a Realtor. The survey found that recent vacation buyers typically purchased a second home 200 miles from their primary residence. Even if you've visited your targeted search area, chances are you aren't privy to local market conditions, such as current demand levels and future resale value.

A Realtor, a member of NAR, can be your expert professional when it comes to buying a home. He or she can help you find the property that fits your budget, and will negotiate on your behalf at the closing table so you get the best deal.

2. Know the rules if you plan to rent it out. Whether it's occasionally or all the time, many second-home owners rent out their home to earn extra income.

Even if it's only a few weeks a year, it is absolutely crucial to know all ordinances related to allowing tenants into your home. Laws can vary from one town, neighborhood and condo building to the next.

A home away from home can be easier to acquire than you may think, especially with professional help.

A Realtor can familiarize you with the rules and laws of a property before you decide to make an offer. That way, you won't be caught in a situation where restrictions limit your ability to earn rental income, especially if this money is needed to help pay your mortgage.

3. Be ready to make your case to lenders. Getting a mortgage today takes some diligence.

This is especially true with second-home buyers, as adding another mortgage to an existing one is going to stretch your debt-to-income ratio and you'll likely need to make a significant down payment on any second-home purchase to get the most favorable terms.

4. Grab a pen and do some paperwork. As with all home purchases, it's important to be patient and flexible, and to stick to your budget during your search. If you have a Realtor at your side and the means and wherewithal to do it right, that second home can be in reach either as a solid investment or a place in which to make lifelong memories—or both.

Prayer to St. Anthony

Great Saint Anthony, friend of God, who had the happiness of receiving within your arms our blessed Lord in the form of a little Child, obtain for me of His goodness this favor that I desire from the bottom of my heart. You who were so gracious to poor sinners, do not look on my lack of merit, but consider the glory of God which will be exalted once more through thee, to the salvation of my soul and the granting of the petition that I now make with such earnestness. Amen.

Thank you for prayers Answered

A TOP RATED REPRESENTATIVE!

Representative Sherry Roberts, District 29, Coventry/West Greenwich has performed very well in her "apprentice term," winning recognition from various business and taxpayers groups. Her crowning achievement was the EB jobs program and saving the JROTC program at Coventry High School. She has outperformed her predecessor at various levels and her voting record speaks for itself. She is an outspoken critic of the RhodeMap-RI land grab and as Tomasso supported that legislation, the choice should be very clear to many. Roberts has represented her constituents well and demonstrated true leadership. She deserves a second term to keep the progress moving forward in district 29.

Collecting
by Larry Cox

Egg Cups

Q. When I began cleaning out my mom's house, I discovered a box of about three dozen egg cups. They appear to be from the '30s and '40s, although I can't be certain. I am a regular reader, but I don't remember you ever mentioning egg cups. — Sarah, Athens, Georgia

A. Eggs cups caught the attention of enthusiasts during the 1980s and '90s, and collecting them has become a growing hobby. Egg cups can be traced back several thousand years and are found in almost every country and culture. Most of us think of egg cups as being made of ceramics, but examples have been found crafted of ivory, metal, glass, wood, rubber, straw and even papier-mache.

Most collectors are especially interested in the character and personality egg cups of the 1930s. Other popular categories for collectors include Black Memorabilia, Art Deco, Golliwoggs, Political, Steamship and Souvenir issues. Typical prices for character and personality egg cups are Stan Laurel, $185; Andy Gump, $150, Ronald Reagan, $90; Lone Ranger, $100; and Popeye, $100.

One of the better references is "Egg Cups: An Illustrated History and Price Guide" by Brenda Blake and published by Antique Publications. It is difficult to find, but well worth the search.

Q. I have inherited three pieces of Hull pottery in the Dogwood pattern. According to my older sister, the pieces were probably purchased during the early 1940s. What can you tell me about this type of pottery, and is it worth keeping? — Veronica, Titusville, Florida

A. After finding a rich deposit of clay soil in Perry County, Ohio, Addis Emmet Hull founded the A.E. Hull Pottery Company in 1905. Its unpretentious line of ware was marketed throughout the country, and it soon became one of the nation's largest pottery outlets.

According to "Hull Pottery: Identification and Price Guide" by David Doyle and published by Krause Books, the Dogwood pattern was introduced in 1942. Also known as Wild Rose, it is distinctive because of its hand-decorated embossed floral designs. It was issued in cream with the base usually two-tone, either pink and blue or cream and turquoise. Values vary, but I've seen the vases and pitchers in this pattern priced in the $150-$300 range.

Write to Larry Cox in care of KFWS, 628 Virginia Drive, Orlando, FL 32803, or send e-mail to questionsforcox@aol.com. Due to the large volume of mail he receives, Mr. Cox cannot personally answer all reader questions, nor does he do appraisals. Do not send any materials requiring return mail.

Please Vote YES on Question #8

We must support our police. Coventry is growing - their present facilities are ridiculous.

Let's support the folks who are there to protect us.

The additions to the Senior Center are another plus.

Our population is aging, so the facility will be even more important.

These are great investments and entirely necessary.

Lastly, WE SUPPORT SHERRY ROBERTS for re-election.

She's doing the job; let's keep her there.

State Representative Sherry Roberts

Please Disregard The Mean-Spirited Attacks Made By My Opponent

Facts: Several years ago I was hit by an 18 wheeler Tractor Trailer Truck that nearly took my life.

Let's Set the Record Straight:

I worked VERY hard as a single mother and had finally bought a new home for my children. Unfortunately, only six months later in 2003, I was struck by an 18 wheeler. Luckily my mortgage insurance through Fidelity, rendered me eligible to collect in the event of a Disability; but there was a cap on the amount of time that I was allowed to collect, so it ran out after a year. Since I was not able to return to work, I applied for my disability pension and was approved in 2005-6. The amount that I actually receive is embarrassingly lower than the average 33% that most pensioners receive. That can be found online...

That is the first time I had EVER applied for a disability pension and since I only had one job all those years, it would not be possible for me to even attempt to collect any other pension as my opponent purports.

My opponent also accused me of double-dipping as a state worker and having a pension. As previously stated, I am no longer a state worker. I receive one pension that I am entitled to receive, since I paid into it during all those years of employment. All these details that my opponent falsely reports as multiple lawsuits and insurance claims, are really all related to this one truck accident.

Conclusion: My opponent is attempting to capitalize on my misfortune, in a desperate attempt to win her race- by leaving out the important details and distorting the truth in order to spin it to her advantage. Despite the obstacle of disability issues, I will not give up fighting for the things that are right for the people of my district.

*Note: Please realize that I am fighting against a "Corrupt Establishment" and for doing that, there is a consequence for me. "Bad Press" is that consequence. As we can see, my opponent is not credible, so please ignore the false ads they are saturating you with. She and her campaign team, should be ashamed of themselves.

Thank You

Sherry Roberts is Double Dipping With Your Tax Dollars

Dip 1 – At the young age of 37, Sherry Roberts tried multiple times to get a disability pension for her state job as a "typist" and finally "won" her disability pension 3 years later, costing taxpayers more than $500,000 over the life of her pension!*

Dip 2 – Despite her "disability" as a "typist," Sherry is able to "type" on the State House computers and has been paid over $30,000 as a State Representative.

The Sherry on Top – Sherry loves to file lawsuits. In one of them, she demanded a private disability pension in addition to her taxpayer-funded pension. The case was dismissed when it emerged that she "misrepresented and concealed information" on her insurance application.†

Say NO to Sherry Roberts. She CANNOT be trusted with your tax dollars.

These are undisputed facts that can be fact-checked at these sources:

November 1, 2016

Dear Neighbor:

Standing up for what's right isn't always easy, especially in the State House, where people are often rewarded for going along with the crowd and not bucking the leadership.

But as a small business owner, I didn't run for public office to make friends or get rewarded with a prime parking spot or an office of my own. I ran to get something done, to fight for my neighbors and make a difference for our communities. And that's been my track record—voting against the truck toll bill in the face of enormous pressure from party bosses and the Senate leadership, being the only legislator with the guts to propose a line-item veto amendment, and leading the effort to get rid of the antiquated Master Lever process.

Living and working in Coventry, I get the chance to hear from my constituents every day about the issues that matter to our state and our communities. It's made me a better legislator, staying in constant touch with the people I represent, knowing how they feel, and knowing what they expect from me.

My opponent in this year's election and some of his allies are trying to portray me as some kind of Democratic insider, who just votes with the leadership. Nothing could be further from the truth. In fact, I was ranked #1 out of 32 Democratic Senators by the RI Freedom Index for my votes to protect taxpayers. As an independent voice, I've always stood up to leadership—not just on the truck tolls, but on 38 Studios, and fighting for government reform measures.

That's because being an effective State Senator is about listening to people and getting things done on their behalf. When we needed to get the Route 116 reconstruction project off the ground, I was there to keep the state's feet to the fire. When the federal government wanted to require homeowners in the Johnson's Pond and Lake Tiogue neighborhoods, I intervened on their behalf. And when the elevators broke down at Woodlawn Manor, I was there to help resolve the crisis.

With your support and your vote on Tuesday, November 8th, I will continue to provide that kind of dedicated, responsive leadership. I will work to do what I've always done—to be a voice you can count on, a trusted member of the community who effectively represents your interests in the State House.

Sincerely,

Lou Raptakis
