Favorite Email Someone Else

Our church was saddened to learn this week of the death of one of our most valued members, Someone Else. Someone's passing creates a vacancy that will be difficult to fill. Else has been with us for many years and for every one of those years, Someone did far more than a normal person's share of the work.

Whenever there was a job to do, a class to teach, or a meeting to attend, one name was on everyone's list, "Let Someone Else do it." Whenever leadership was mentioned, this wonderful person was looked to for inspiration as well as results; "Someone Else can work with that group."

It was common knowledge that Someone Else was among the most liberal givers in our church. Whenever there was a financial need, everyone just assumed Someone Else would make up the difference.

Someone Else was a wonderful person; sometimes appearing superhuman. Were the truth known, everybody expected too much of Someone Else. Now Someone Else is gone! We wonder what we are going to do.

Someone Else left a wonderful example to follow, but who is going to follow it? Who is going to do the things Someone Else did?

When you are asked to help in your local church this year, remember -- they can't depend on Someone Else anymore. Many hands make little work!

Prayer: Father let me be someone you can count on and not someone else. In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. Amen!

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

- * It was beloved Scottish author J.M. Barrie, creator of Peter Pan, who made the following sage observation: "Those who bring sunshine to the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves."
- * Among the Balonda people, an African tribe that dwells along the Zambezi River, it was once customary for a groom to promise that he'll supply kindling wood to his mother-in-law for the rest of her life.
- * Those who study such things -- word mavens with a penchant for statistics, presumably -- have determined that, on average, English-language text contains 56 e's for every q.
- * A fisherman in the Philippines recently revealed a treasure that he'd been keeping under his bed for 10 years: a 75-pound natural pearl with an estimated value of $100 million. Evidently, after finding the pearl in a giant clam, he decided to keep it as a good-luck charm. The "Pearl of Puerto," as it's known, blew the world re-
- cord out of the water (pun intended). The previous record holder for largest natural pearl was the "Pearl of Lao-Tsu" (sometimes called the "Pearl of Allah"), which weighs in at a mere 14 pounds.
- * The female Jesus bird is the one in charge, it would seem. She controls her own territory, allowing several male birds to build nests within it. Then she lays eggs in all the nests, and the males incubate them.
- * Before the Beach Boys were the Beach Boys, they considered naming their band the Pendletons.
- * The name "toadstool" actually has nothing to do with toads. The word is derived from the German words "tod," which means "death," and "stuhl," which means "stool."
- ***
Thought for the Day: "Those who dream by day are cognizant of many things which escape those who dream only by night."
-- Edgar Allan Poe

For these families and individuals, a warm coat is a budget extra they simply cannot afford. URW Community Federal is asking for you to help us make a difference in our neighbor's lives by donating coats during our upcoming coat drive!

We are working to collect clean, gently used warm coats to support our coat drive program, between now and October 15th at all URW Branches. The process is simple: you drop off your extra coat(s) and URW takes care of the rest. All donated coats will be given to a local agency for distribution to local children in need. If you are a teacher and know of a child in your school that does not have a coat, please let us know. Our goal is that no child will be left out in the cold in the URW Community. ARIES
(March 21 to April 19)
Some changes might seem confusing at first, especially to an Aries whose impatience levels are pretty shaky this week. Take it one step at a time, Lamb, and soon all will be made clear.

TAURUS
(April 20 to May 20)
That difficult situation you've been dealing with continues to call for careful handling. Avoid quickly made choices that might not stand up when they're finally put to the test.

GEMINI
(May 21 to June 20)
You still have lots of evaluating to do before you can consider making a commitment. It's better to move cautiously than to risk stumbling into a major misunderstanding.

CANCER
(June 21 to July 22)
A previously peevish partner offers to be more helpful with your problems. But remember: The final choice is yours. Be guided by what you feel is the right thing to do.

LEO
(July 23 to August 22)
As the Big Cat, you sometimes can be pretty rough on those you suspect of betrayal. The best advice is to pull in those claws and listen to the explanation. It might surprise you.

VIRGO
(August 23 to September 22)
Your inner voice usually guides you well. But a note of caution: This is a period of mixed signals for you, so be careful that you don't misunderstand the messages you're getting.

LIBRA
(September 23 to October 22)
Cupid's call beckons both single Librans looking for a new love, as well as couples hoping to strengthen their relationships. A workplace problem is quickly resolved.

SCORPIO
(October 23 to November 21)
It's been a hectic time for you, and you might want to take a break to restore both body and soul. You'll then be set to face new challenges later this month.

SAGITTARIUS
(November 22 to December 21)
It's a good idea to take a more conservative approach to your financial situation right now. Some plans made earlier this year might need readjusting.

CAPRICORN
(December 22 to January 19)
This is a fine time to move boldly into those new opportunities I promised would open up for you. Check them over, and then choose the best one for you.

AQUARIUS
(January 20 to February 18)
Congratulations. Your self-assurance is growing stronger, and you should now feel more confident about making that long-deferred decision about a possible commitment.

PISCES
(February 19 to March 20)
You're very close to reaching your goal. But be wary of distractions that can lure you off-course and leave you stranded far away from where you really want to be.

BORN THIS WEEK:
You have an inner sight that helps you see into people's hearts. You would be an excellent psychologist or social worker.

Lucius Gregory Read

Lucius Gregory Read died October 30th, 2016, after a brief illness at Riverside Health and Rehabilitation Center.

Greg was born in Richmond, VA on April 25, 1951 to Jean B. Read and Lewis Wright Read. He attended elementary school in South Hill, VA and graduated from George Washington High School in Danville, VA. He then worked at the Danville Family YMCA for many years. He was a member of Mount Vernon United Methodist Church and the Landis Sunday School Class.

Greg was born with cerebral palsy. He always had an inner strength and determination to enjoy life and to function better, although handicapped. Greg loved following football, basketball and baseball in the papers and on television. Greg had a remarkable ability to recall sport's statistics. He was an avid fan of North Carolina State University sports, especially during the years of Jim Volvano, as basketball coach.

Greg is survived by his mother Jean B. Read; his uncle Lucius H. Bracey, Jr. and his wife Pam and their children; and several aunts from his father's side and their children.

The family wants to thank the exceptionally supportive and caring staff for the care rendered to Greg and his family at Riverside Health and Rehabilitation Center. Thanks as well to special friends, Tom Leggett and Frank Cuthrell for their longtime friendship and support. Legacy Hospice also provided outstanding care to Greg and his family. The family suggests memorial contributions be made to Legacy Hospice of the Piedmont, 142 S. Main Street, Danville, VA 24541 or to Mount Vernon United Methodist Church, 107 West Main Street, Danville, VA 24541.

A visitation will be held at Townes Funeral Home on Tuesday, November 1, 2016 from 7:00 PM to 8:00 PM. A graveside service and burial will be at Oakwood Cemetery in South Hill, VA on Wednesday, November 2, 2016 at 11:00 am with the Reverend Bart Fletcher officiating.

"Moral Associations"

It was my great joy some years ago to find, in an antique store, volume two of Alexis de Tocqueville's "Democracy in America." As I ponder this writing from so many years ago in light of modern day circumstances and events in America, I am amazed at how prescient he was in many things, and how needed some of his words are today.

In chapter 5, "Public Associations in Civil Life," de Tocqueville said this: "the first time I heard in the United States that 100,000 men had bound themselves publicly to abstain from spiritous liquors, it appeared to me more like a joke than a serious engagement, and I did not at once perceive why these temperate citizens could not content themselves with drinking water by their own firesides. I at last understood that these hundred thousand Americans, alarmed about the progress of drunkenness around them, had made up their minds to patronize temperance..."

"Nothing, in my opinion, is more deserving of our attention than the intellectual and moral associations of America. The political and industrial associations of that country strike us forcibly; but the others elude our observation, or if we discover them, we understand them imperfectly because we have hardly ever seen anything of the kind. It must be acknowledged, however, that they are as necessary to the American people as the former and perhaps more so."

Moral associations.

People publicly banding together to take stands for righteousness. De Tocqueville regarded these as even more important to America and Americans than political and industrial associations.

He was right. And America was right in feeling that way. In Deuteronomy 27, God had Moses command the people to do an unusual thing when they enter the promised land. Half of the nation was to climb Mount Ebal, and the other half was to climb Mount Gerezim. In verses 15 through 26 the Levites were to shout to the entire nation a list of things that they were to regard as being cursed, sinful, unclean and unacceptable. After each statement, the entire nation was commanded to reply "Amen" in a loud voice. Doing this was an example of moral association; it was an indication of the power of godliness lived out in the public eye.

The First Amendment to the Constitution "guarantees" the free exercise of religion. The reason I place the word guarantees in quotation marks is because, in truth, the First Amendment merely elucidates a right that we have no matter what the Constitution itself says. We do not derive our rights from the Constitution; our rights are inalienable and given to us by God. If a constitutional amendment was placed before the states tomorrow, and the First Amendment itself was completely repealed, it would not change our right to the free exercise of religion one iota.

And now let me explain the difference between two words that are currently and erroneously being used interchangeably. I am hearing many power brokers now speak of our right to "worship." But the right to worship is far different from the right to the free exercise of religion.

Worship, in the eyes of the ruling class, is something that can be confined to the four walls and under the roof of a church building. But religion is something that is lived out every day of our lives, especially in the public eye. Jesus said that we are salt and light and a city set on a hill that cannot be hid. He told us to preach the gospel to every creature. He told us to make disciples of all men. He told us to teach men everything he has commanded us.

Private worship is not what caught de Tocqueville's attention. Public religion, people banding together in the public eye for the sake of righteousness and morality is what caught his attention.

Christianity is not Christianity when it hides in the shadows of safety. Children of God must by example first and word second stand shoulder to shoulder in the public square against all sin and for all righteousness. We must even go so far as to specifically name sin, as did the 100,000 in de Tocqueville's day who pointedly called out drunkenness.

The devil would like nothing more than for the morality of a society to die a slow and quiet death inside the walls of our church buildings as we worship our way to the grave.

Don't give him the satisfaction.

Financial Abuse Often Not Reported

The statistics on elder financial abuse are ugly. Abuse victims lose roughly $2.6 billion per year. One in every 20 seniors admits to being the victim of financial abuse, but only one in every 44 cases is reported. In the online blog "Recognizing Signs of Elder Abuse (and Traits of Elder Abusers)," attorney Will Sleeth lists the ways abusers can put pressure on seniors to change their estate plans. They can include bullying, isolating and threatening. The tactics and suggested investments from a financial abuser might sound a bit off as well, such as an anonymous investment club. Characteristics of the abusers themselves can be surprising. They're often educated, sophisticated and well-off. Sometimes they're convicted felons, or attorneys or doctors who lost their licenses to practice. Mostly, however, they're socially isolated, having few friends or social contacts. That's where the Internet can be handy.

Many states have court case search features in their online judicial record systems. These are searchable by location, date ... and name. Anyone who is a financial abuser of seniors likely has done it before, and there will be a record of previous court cases and lawsuits. For more information, check Sleeth's site (estateconflicts.com) and read more of the articles he's written. The National Committee for the Prevention of Elder Abuse (www.preventelderabuse.org) has a large section on financial abuse. Financial scammers can sink so low as to read newspaper death announcements to identify those who are recently widowed and therefore vulnerable. If you've been the victim of financial abuse, or think someone is trying to scam you, speak up. Call the police. Call your bank and ask to speak to the manager. You can be protected.

3. Who released "Cara Mia"? What do the words mean?
4. Which group released "Ramblin' Man" and "Jessica" in the same year?
5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "I want to hold you so hear me out, I want to show you what love's all about."

- Answers
1. The Chiffons. They changed names after "He's So Fine" became such a big hit in 1963.
  2. "Hold Me, Thrill Me, Kiss Me" in 1965 and "Band of Gold" a year later. Gloria Estefan released a cover of "Hold Me" in 1994.
  3. Jay and the Americans, in 1965, back when the second "Jay" was onboard -- David Blatt, who agreed to change his name to Jay Black. "Cara mia" is Italian for "My beloved."
  4. The Allman Brothers, in 1973.
  5. "Hungry Eyes," by Eric Carmen (formerly of the Raspberries) in 1987. The song was written for the film "Dirty Dancing." Although the song was never released in the U.K., it still managed to chart there because of import sales.

Who's the Valley's favorite candidate? It's Debatable
 Welcome to Lennox Valley, my hometown!
 Kevin Slimp's
The Good Folks of Lennox Valley

Now that Sarah Hyden-Smith and Iris Long had carved out a platform for Juliet's last-minute mayoral campaign, it was time to talk strategy. There was no budget for an expensive ad campaign. After all, Juliet's most menacing opponent owned the town's only radio station, and being the ethical journalist she was, Iris couldn't just give Juliet free space in the newspaper.

Fortunately, ministers and editors are generally skilled wordsmiths, and Sarah and Iris knew words pack a punch. As Iris saw it, their only hope was to engage Cooper and "Silver Tongue" Dick Bland in a public debate.

"Surely," Long said while in deep thought, "there are more people in the Valley like us." Hyden-Smith agreed. "Most folks have just heard Juliet added her name to the ballot. They have no idea what she stands for."

Iris concurred. "Let's face it. There have got to be dozens - maybe hundreds - of voters who feel the same way we do. We need to let them know they have a choice."

"But I've never debated," Juliet interjected. "Do you think my inexperience will make me look foolish against two seasoned speakers?"

"You're a smart woman, Juliet," Sarah shot back. "That's what will come through."

The group knew that getting Silver Tongue to debate would be easy. He loved to speak on stage. Getting Raymond behind a podium, however, would be more difficult. It was Juliet's idea to call Raymond the next day, during his Friday "Renderings With Raymond" broadcast, to challenge him publicly.

Juliet stayed up half the night, thinking about her call to Raymond. She would need to trick him into agreeing to a debate. Raymond was no dummy. He knew he was a clear favorite, and debates are generally meant to benefit the underdogs. Her words would be crucial.

Friday marked six days until the election. Caroline's Beauty Salon had its usual crowd, as women of the Valley prepared to look their best for church services on Sunday.

As usual, the radio played "Renderings With Raymond," while customers sat under hair dryers and in seats along the large window looking out over Bearden's Corner.

At 2:20 precisely, as Vera Pinrod was about to say something concerning the evils of Harry Potter, who she had recently begun referring to as "the devil's son," the room grew silent as Raymond announced, "Let's take another call."

Juliet began her call just as she had prepared, exuding confidence, "Yes, Mr. Cooper. This is Juliet Stoughton."

Obviously surprised, Cooper seemed more amused than concerned by her call. "Is this the same Juliet Stoughton that is allegedly running for mayor of Lennox Valley?"

Expecting that response, Juliet was ready. "Yes it is. The very same."

"Well, how can I be of service to you today, Juliet?" Cooper said almost coyly.

"I would like to challenge you to a debate next Tuesday night."

"A debate?" Cooper chuckled. "Miss, I know that you are new to the complexities of campaigns, but there are only six days left until the election. I'm quite sure this last-ditch effort of yours couldn't even be planned in such a short period."

Juliet was ready. "Mr. Bland said you would say that."

"What do you mean by that?" asked an obviously perturbed Cooper.

"I made the same challenge to him this morning. He said he would be happy to debate, but you would be afraid to face me on stage. He said you would probably make up some excuse about it being too close to the election date."

"Listen here, missy," Raymond almost shouted into the microphone. "You name the place and time, and I will be there to show you what a real mayor looks like."

Iris and Sarah both smiled as they sat together by the radio as Juliet answered, "Tuesday night. Seven o'clock. At the Methodist Church." For a moment, Raymond Cooper was speechless. But just for a moment.

VETERANS POST

by Freddy Groves

Vets TV Network

A former Marine has come up with a great idea: a veterans' television network. He didn't come by that idea the easy way; it took the suicide death of his pal to force him to realize that humor might be the only real way to combat the horrible statistics of veteran suicide. Thus, he launched a Kickstarter program for a proposed television network called Veteran Television, or VetTV. According to the three-minute video, VetTV intends to use "humor and camaraderie to bring veterans together to heal the mental wounds of war" using authentic humor, not the kind that Hollywood produces. Some of the proposed shows sound promising: Kill, Die, Laugh; A Grunt's Life; The Veteran Mating Game; and Gods of War. It will show the good, the bad and the ugly of military life ... but with humor. The creator says he's aiming at the post-9/11 veteran, but from what I've seen so far, it speaks to all veterans.

The shows will be streamed to phone, tablet or computer once a week, like Hulu or Netflix. Subscribers will vote on the shows that will be seen next. The venture needs $250,000 to create four months of shows, with one new episode per week for each branch of the military. After the initial funding, the VetTV will be self-sustaining. Content will be for veterans, made by veterans. Subscriptions will cost only $5 per month. VetTV has already partnered with veteran-owned businesses and nonprofits to help with Kickstarter. At this writing, it has nearly 1,000 backers and $80,000. To view the three-minute info video, go to bit.ly/2e8EGUi, and for more information, go to veteranTV.net. Click on Kickstarter to view the fundraising campaign and decide if you can send a few dollars. After all, it's for us.

Out on a Limb

Make Election Day Go Smoothly

Election Day gives voters throughout the United States a chance to participate in their government. The right to vote is something to cherish, as many people across the globe do not get a chance to elect the officials who govern their countries.

While Election Day is an exciting time, voters may find it frustrating if they do not take steps to ensure things go smoothly when they head to the polls. The following tips can help voters prepare for Election Day.

- Confirm your polling location. Polling locations may have changed since last year, and voters who have moved in the past 12 months may now have to vote in a new location. Voters can contact their local board of elections or visit www.Vote411.org to confirm the correct polling locations. Voters should also learn the hours when the polls are open so they do not arrive too early or too late to vote.
- Bring photo identification. Voter identification laws vary by state, but voters who want to avoid hassles or holdups may be able to do so by bringing current photo identification with them to the polling place. While such identification is not necessarily a requirement, voters who bring along a driver's license or state identification card may get in and out of the polling place more quickly than those who do not.
- Confirm registration. Voters can confirm that they have registered to vote by contacting their local board of elections in advance of Election Day. Sometimes voters' names may not appear on the registration list when they arrive to vote, even if they previously registered. Poll workers can help voters who find themselves in such situations. But voters who want to avoid such hassles on Election Day can confirm their registration beforehand.
- Be familiar with the candidates and issues on the ballot. Voting is a privilege and a responsibility, so voters should familiarize themselves with the candidates and issues on the ballot in the weeks leading up to Election Day. In addition to national or statewide candidates and issues, voters should learn about local issues that may have a more direct impact on their daily lives. The more voters learn about the candidates and issues in advance, the more quickly they can cast their votes and get to work or return home. Voting on Election Day is a privilege that voters should not take lightly. Taking certain steps in the weeks ahead of Election Day can make it easier for voters to cast their ballots.

PEEP TALK!

"My experience with Judy Bryant at the Piedmont Shopper: I have worked with Judy for over 7 years and she is always willing to do whatever I ask of her. Sometimes I send an ad in late and she manages to get it in for me. I receive many applicants from my advertisements in the Piedmont Shopper-it reaches so many people in our area each week. Thank you, Judy, for your hard work!"
Vicky Miller - HR
 Piney Forest Health & Rehab Center

You don't ever have to worry about anyone ceasing to read the Piedmont Shopper. My uncle, Henry D. Hopkins, is 87 years old & he goes somewhere to get a stack of them each week. He delivers them to the nursing home, and to his friends in his neighborhood. He makes sure everyone gets a copy every week! He and his wife Shirley love to share it and laugh at the jokes and stories. That paper is the heartbeat for a lot of people! My daughter, Ruby, sells Scentsy and she has used your paper for many occasions. She knows that is the one paper that everyone reads! Our church, Central Boulevard Church of God, just used your paper for our Vendor Spring Fling on 4/11/15, and I am sure half or more of the people came because of the Shopper!"
-Deborah Severt

"You sold a walker for me, thank you!"
-C.C. Moore, Danville

"People ask me all the time to advertise in their media and my answer is always no. My reason to them is I spend all my advertising dollars I can with the Piedmont Shopper. We get the most results from them due to their loyal readers and awesome staff. Lesley Tucker took us from a non existent business to a successful well know business in less than a year. Her insightful ad designs pop off the page and have the customers walking through the door."
Dustin Pierce - Owner - C&D Family Pawn

We at Gina's Family Restaurant LOVE the Piedmont Shopper. Advertising is easy, convenient, price friendly and effective! The new layout is awesome and the coupons have been a great asset to our business! Lesley Tucker always goes ABOVE AND BEYOND to squeeze a last minute ad in for us. She is always friendly and professional. Lesley's ideas and designs are always exactly what we are looking for. She is hands down our "Go to Girl" for advertising, we absolutely love her!

* Online shopping season has started, or maybe it never really stops! Don't forget to run your preferred brand and model number through Google to make sure you have the very best price. Try searching www.freeshipping.org to find coupon codes for free shipping. Also, take advantage of coupon hunting apps like RetailMeNot, CouponSherpa and Coupons.com before heading out on shopping expeditions.

* "I recently scanned in a great many of my old photos in order to organize and preserve them. I have decided to send the originals of many candid photos as holiday cards this year. I purchased a big box of blank greeting cards at a crafts store for a great price and attached photos to the card fronts. This has turned into a fun project for me and a keepsake for the recipients." -- V.R. in Washington

* Did you know that pillows need to be replaced every year? You can keep your pillow performing better by using a pillow-protecting pillowcase, and fluffing in the dryer for 10 minutes on low heat every so often to restore the loft of the pillow.

* "I found a rack meant to hold spice jars at a garage sale. It was really neat, so I bought it but didn't know what to do with it. When I brought it home, my roommate had the great idea to spray paint it and use it to display nail polish bottles. It's so easy to find the right color, and they fit just right!" -- M.T. in Alabama

* Use empty toilet paper rolls to corral cords in storage. This works for small cords that go with electronic devices as well as small extension cords. Write the cord's use on the tube, for example, "JoAnn's iPad," "Bob's digital camera," etc. If you have many cords, you can store them together in a shoebox. For a nicer presentation, cover the box with lively paper.

THE CAT'S "MEOW" PUZZLE!

You'll be sitting in the "catbird's seat" if you finish this one. To the left is a stack of eight words, each of which begins with the word "cat." Using the following hints, see if you can catch them in less than five minutes

1. An easily remembered tune.
2. A short rest.
3. A tomato favorite. (Var.)
4. A disapproving whistle.
5. Found at big parties.
6. Found in swamps.
7. Great for moving heavy objects.
8. A well-known slogan.

A "PICKY" PROBLEM! Here's a neat little wager. Place 16 toothpicks on the table, forming five squares as shown in fig. 1. Challenge your friends to move two of them to new positions so that you will have only four equal squares. The solution is shown in fig. 2

FIND THE SEVEN WORDS PUZZLE! In the word square at the right, we've removed six of the letters to spell out the word "PLANET." Can you replace these letters in the squares so that you will have four 3-letter words across and three 4-letter words down? Time limit: 60 seconds.

Answers: (Across): Pat, ale, see, ten. (Down): Past, alea, teen.

Answers: 1. Catchy; 2. Catchup; 3. Catchup; 4. Catcall; 5. Catfearer; 6. Catcalls; 7. Catapult; 8. Catchword

MINI MEATLOAVES

The great thing about this recipe from the Betty Crocker kitchens (www.bettycrocker.com/recipes) is that the meat loaves cook in just 30 minutes and provide individual servings. This would make a great main-course dish for children or a unique appetizer for a retro recipe party.

- 1/2 cup ketchup
- 1/2 tablespoon packed brown sugar
- 1 pound lean (at least 80 percent) ground beef
- 1/2 pound ground pork
- 1/2 cup Original Bisquick mix
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 small onion, finely chopped (1/4 cup)
- 1 egg

1. Heat oven to 450 F. In a small bowl, stir ketchup and brown sugar until mixed; reserve 1/4 cup for topping. In large bowl, stir remaining ingredients and remaining ketchup mixture until well-combined.
2. Spray 13-by-9-inch pan with cooking spray. Place meat mixture in pan; pat into 12-by-4-inch rectangle. Cut lengthwise down center and then crosswise into sixths to form 12 loaves. Separate loaves, using spatula, so no edges are touching. Brush loaves with reserved 1/4 cup ketchup mixture.
3. Bake 18 to 20 minutes or until loaves are no longer pink in center and meat thermometer inserted in center of loaves reads 160 F. Serves 6.

Substitution: While the mixture of ground beef and pork gives these little loaves a unique flavor, you can also use 1 1/2 pounds of ground beef instead.

Collecting

by Larry Cox

Art Deco

Q: I have become fascinated by Art Deco after purchasing a cocktail set from the 1930s at a flea market in Chicago. Can you recommend a good general reference? -- Laura, Naperville, Illinois
 A: Judith Miller claims in her new book, "Art Deco: Living With the Art Deco Style," that Art Deco completely transformed all branches of design, from the fine and decorative arts to transport, product design, fashion, graphic design and even architecture. The clean lines of Art Deco make it classic and timeless, and she points out what to look for as a collector. Miller is considered an expert of antiques and collectibles and frequently appears on television, both in America and the U.K. Her book explores all the key collecting areas with chapters on furniture, glass, ceramics, sculpture, metalwork, silver and jewelry, prints, posters, rugs and textiles. Miller's handsome, lavishly illustrated book also features accurate, up-to-date pricing. Her book is published by Millers/Mitchell Beazley. This might be a good place to begin your exploration of Art Deco.

Q: During the 1940s, I attended a Nelson Eddy concert in Springfield, Illinois, with my parents and brother. How can I find out the date of the concert and approximate value of the autographed program I have? -- Betty, Decatur, Illinois

 A: You will have to become a detective to find the date of the concert. I suggest you begin your investigation by tracking down the microfilm of the newspapers published in Springfield at that time. Contact the venue where Eddy appeared to see if it has records of the event. Your signed program is worth about $25, according to several autograph dealers I contacted.

Q: I have a small dish that I believe was made by the Powelton Cut Glass Company. What can you tell me about the company? -- Barbara, Albuquerque, New Mexico
 A: The Powelton Cut Glass Company was established in Philadelphia in about 1910. During its first six or seven years, the company produced brilliant cut glass patterns on heavy blanks. After 1918, it focused on light cut wares and painted designs on glass, according to "Glass A to Z" by David J. Shotwell and published by Krause Books.
