The South Mississippi Military Veteran: Duty - Honor - Country

Editor's Note: The following is an opinion piece by Maj. Gen. Jeff Hammond, Director of USM's Center for Military Veterans, Service Members and Families at The University of Southern Mississippi.

I consider it appropriate, on the occasion of Veterans Day 2016, to address a social trend which appears to be occurring with somewhat increasing frequency. A few months ago, I noticed a photo of a professional athlete refusing to stand in honor of the American flag and our National Anthem. In the photo, the individual was on one of his knees with a facial expression that I can only describe as "arrogant." This act of protest and others like it are protected under the First Amendment to the United States Constitution. The fact remains that the individual in the photo and others like him can dishonor our National Anthem and stand on the American flag, spit on and destroy it. However, nothing they can do diminishes the uncommon honor, integrity, and moral and physical courage in which our remarkable Military Veterans served our nation. Thank God for their service...if not them, then who?

men and women who sacrificed some of the best years of their lives for your freedom...a freedom that allows for the disrespect of the values they hold so dear. In this regard, I recently asked our University of Southern Mississippi student-veterans the question, "Why did you serve?" Their answer may surprise you but it caused my heart to swell with pride. Here is a sampling of what they had to say:

"We did it for each other."

"It is all about service...not personal gain or profit."

"We cherish membership as a band of brothers and sisters."

"We believe in our nation and its values."

"We preferred team over individuality."

"We recognized there exists something greater in life besides ourselves."

"We care about our country and wanted to make a difference."

It is impossible to know the intentions behind every individual's military service. Many who served did not volunteer to do so; they were drafted. However, how can we express our gratitude to military veterans for their loyal service? Here's how: By making this country and its respective values something worth dying for...by placing our utmost loyalty to the nation ahead of individual politics, race, creed and self-interests. Each of us can accomplish this by demonstrating the moral courage to stand-up for "what is right" rather than being silent as our nation's Judeo-Christian values are manipulated and redefined.

As long as we "get on the playing field" to express integrity and honor rather than "standing on the sideline" or "sitting in the stands," we are honoring our military veterans. All military veterans gave some, but some gave all. Let us not commit the injustice of taking their sacrifices and love of nation for granted. Instead, let's treat each other and our nation with dignity, and respect. On this Veterans Day 2016 occasion (Veteran's Day was Nov. 11), we respectfully request that you "Make a Difference" through a financial donation to the USM Center for Military Veterans, Service Members and Families that will be used to purchase "Textbooks

JCJC yearbook's "Most Beautiful Pageant" winners announced

By Teresa McCreery,
JCJC Public Information Director

Jones County Junior College hosted its annual Most Beautiful Pageant recently with Hattiesburg's Katelyn Stone earning the title this year. The South Jones High School graduate is a sophomore majoring in biology at JCJC. Stone is a member of the Student Government Association, Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society, and serves as the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society's Vice President of Fellowship. Additionally, Stone was recently selected as one of two, Academic All-American nominees at JCJC.

Twenty-four contestants competed for the title of Most Beautiful with graduate of JCJC and Mississippi State University, Leighann Pacific, serving as the mistress of ceremonies for the evening. The Top Five winners were Bailey White, 4th alternate; Victoria Hosey, 3rd alternate; Kaylee Lack, 2nd alternate; Phebe Tisdale, 1st alternate; and Most Beautiful Katelyn Stone.

The Top Ten winners in JCJC's Most Beautiful Pageant were: Brittani Powe of Ellisville, Ariel Blalock of Hattiesburg, Bailey White of Bay Springs, Kaylee Lack of Mount Olive, Most Beautiful Katelyn Stone of Hattiesburg, Phebe Tisdale of Laurel, Victoria Hosey of Collins, Ashlynn Breland of Ellisville, Maggie Merrell of New Hebron and Carlie Purvis of Morton.

Winning the title of Miss Congeniality was Alexis Hickson of Taylorsville. The essay winner was Katelyn Stone of Hattiesburg. Cheyenne Fraun of Moselle was the Audience Choice winner. Most Photogenic went to Ashlynn Breland of Ellisville. Entertainment was provided by Jones OnStage show choir members and Joe Mauldin on piano. The pageant is sponsored by the JCJC yearbook staff.

JCSWCD taking orders for trees now

Submitted

The Jones County Soil and Water Conservation Districts is still taking orders for hardwood trees, shrubs, fruit trees and nut trees to be distributed in February 2017. There will be no limit on the number of trees and shrubs you can order. Prices range from $2.00 to $8.00, cash or money order only.

All proceeds will go toward funding for our information and education programs. All orders and donations must be received by January 30, 2017, to guarantee your order (We will not be taking order after this date). After January we will be distributing trees on February 9, 2017, beginning at 9:00 a.m. at USDA Service Center located at 3536 Highway 15 North. To place your order or for more information about these trees and shrubs contact the Jones County S.W.C.D., or the Natural Resources Conservation Service (Laurel Field Office) at 425-4622 Ext 3 or visit us at 3536 Highway 15 North in Laurel.

Laurel's Keon Howard starts at QB for Southern Miss

By Dale McKee

Every week in college football, top 10 teams in the polls are playing for their lives. This past week, the biggest losers were Clemson, Washington and Michigan. Texas A&M and Auburn were the biggest losers in the SEC. The Aggies were 6-0 and have now lost three straight SEC games. As Charles Barkley would say, "This was terrible" as Auburn fell to Georgia, 13-7, behind a very lackluster offense. The SEC top team is, of course, Alabama as the Tide was the unanimous choice as the country's best college football team. Florida can clinch the SEC East title this Saturday night with a win over LSU. I just don't think the Gators will be able to handle Coach O and the Tigers in Death Valley. So that means that Tennessee would take the East and host Alabama in the SEC Championship Game.

Ohio State and Louisville were the biggest winners after Saturday's games. Some strange happenings in the Big 10 as one loss Penn State could win the East Title over Michigan and Ohio State. If the Buckeyes win over Michigan, then Penn State will play for the Big 10 Championship leaving those teams at home. Troy University is ranked for the first time in school history. The Trojans are 8-1, and their only loss was a six-point setback to Clemson in the season opener. Troy downed USM earlier in the season.

Ole Miss has found their future

Ole Miss Rebel football fans have a new heartthrob. First, there was Archie and then, Eli and now, Shea Patterson. His first start for the Rebels was a pretty impressive. He showed why he was the number one high school quarterback recruit last year. Patterson will lead Ole Miss to Nashville this weekend to battle Vanderbilt. A win and the Rebels will go bowling for the fifth straight year. Patterson led Ole Miss to an upset of 11th ranked Texas A&M as he led the Rebels to 23 points in the final period. His night was one to remember as he totaled 402 yards of offense. Why does he wear #20? Most quarterbacks wear numbers 1-19, but when Patterson came to Ole Miss, Jason Pellerin wore Patterson's high school number of 7. So Patterson chose #20 in honor of his grandfather, George Patterson. The elder Patterson played for the Detroit Pistons from 1967-68.

Laurel's Howard leads USM

USM head coach Jay Hopson gave Laurel's Keon Howard the nod last Saturday in the Golden Eagles' road game against Old Dominion. He, like Shea Patterson, was thrown into his first action of the season. Howard showed that he might have a bright future in Hattiesburg. He threw for 230 yards and ran for another 98 yards. The end result was not nice as USM fell, 51-35. The former Tornado rushed for one score and passed for another. Howard told the local media, "I've got to learn from this experience."

Saints make history

It was the first such play to provide the winning points in an NFL game. The Saints lost, 25-23, at home Sunday after Will Lutz's extra-point attempt was blocked and returned for two points. The Saints had just scored on a TD pass from Drew Brees to Brandin Cooks with 1:22 to play in the game, and it appeared that the extra point kick would win the game. The Denver Broncos blocked the kick, however, and Will Parks ran the ball 84 yards for the two points and the Broncos win. The Saints (4-5) were trying to climb over .500 for the first time in three years.

Braves much older

The Atlanta Braves are making hot stove news. The Braves signed two older pitchers this past week. They signed 43-year-old Bartolo Colon and 42-year-old knuckleballer R.A. Dickey. The Braves were 50-47 after starting the season 18-46, and they won 12 of their final 14 games. The team will move into their new $622 million stadium in Cobb County. The Braves are hoping to add New York Yankees catcher Brian McCann to shore up that position.

West Jones claims runner-up title in Bobcat Math League

By Teresa McCreery

The Warriors of Oak Grove dominated the Jones County Junior College Bobcat Math League's playoff competition in the mathletes' third attempt to become Math "Super Bowl" Champions. During the six-week regular season, the Warriors not only won each match but they also outscored their competition by almost 50 points. In the championship round with West Jones, Oak Grove wasted no time scoring. They completed the first 13-questions, scoring 46 points to West Jones' 9 points. After the half, West Jones found a "Bobcat Double" which allowed them to double the points (10 points) if they answered correctly or subtract 5 points if they answered incorrectly. The Mustangs' Nick Sumrall answered correctly and kept West Jones in the hunt. In the end, Oak Grove whipped West Jones, 74 to 31.

"We worked hard each year and after three years it feels pretty good to be the champions," said Oak Grove senior Allen Huang, who also shares the honor of being the League's Most Outstanding Player with his teammate, Jason Guo.

Their math team coaches, Whitney Necessary and Laura Lightsey, said the students felt pretty confident going into today's playoff for a few reasons. "Two of our senior students, Allen Huang and Jason Guo, participated in the International Science Fair and they are also strong in math. Senior Ruby Liang is well versed in trivia and math, and she has taken a lot of Advanced Placement classes. Our sophomore, Peter Liang, excels in math and technology," said Necessary. "I'm so glad they finally did it! They deserve the recognition for their natural abilities in the STEM areas and their hard work in winning the championship."

Two Oak Grove mathletes, Allen Huang and Jason Guo, received individual accolades as the Co-Most Outstanding Players with the highest individual scores during the regular season. Howard Industries awarded each with a computer laptop. Additionally, the two Warriors earned All-League Team honors with Northeast Jones' Parker Cruise, Sacred Heart's Nick Gallardo, Presbyterian Christian's Ben Majors, and Oak Grove's Sarah Greer, Peter Liang and Ruby Liang. These eight students had the highest percentage of correctly answered questions during the paper test portion of all five regular season matches.

Individual high scorers from each of the 16 teams were also recognized during the Bobcat Math League's playoffs. They are: Collins-Jacob Duke; Columbia Academy-Kenny Price; Laurel-Alexandria Seals; Northeast Jones-Parker Cruise; Oak Grove-Jason Guo and Allen Huang; Perry Central-Will Windham; Presbyterian Christian-Ben Majors; Quitman-Grace Bonner; Raleigh-Zach Smith; Richton-Marguerite Womack; Sacred Heart-Nick Gallardo; South Jones-Emmanuel Gonzales; Sylva Bay-Knute Malone; Wayne Academy-Tylee Britton; Wayne County-Bryce Herring; and West Jones-Jack Taylor.

The playoff battle was not too difficult for the second-seeded Oak Grove team; however, they had to go through the sixth-seeded Northeast Jones math team twice to earn a spot in the semi-finals. In their first encounter with the NEJ Tigers, the Warriors took control, easily getting 19 points. After the slow start, Northeast Jones' senior Parker Cruise and junior Daniel Shelton found their groove and were able to score 12 points before Oak Grove regained control. In the end, the quick scoring Warriors outscored the Tigers, 31 to 19. In the second match with the Warriors', Northeast Jones found themselves in a similar situation. Oak Grove took charge from the start. The Warriors scored 37 points before NEJ's Cruise was able to answer and win the final question. Oak Grove earned the championship playoff bid by winning 37-5.

Before claiming a total victory, Oak Grove would have to knock off the West Jones Mustangs, who made it into the playoffs for the first time in the team's history, as the underdog, in the fifth place and holding one of two "wild card" slots. Ironically, Oak Grove was the only team that beat West Jones in the regular season in the final championship round.

"I'm just so proud of my team. In two upsets, they beat the number four and number one-seeded teams!" said West Jones math instructor and math team coach Courtney Hagan. "These students amazed me by making it into the championship round and holding their own against a tough Oak Grove team."

West Jones' Jack Taylor and Jess Cooley said they preferred the written test portion during the regular season questions over the buzzer rounds. However, they also agree that being on the Quiz Bowl team helped prepare them for the STEM questions and the playoff rounds. The West Jones mathletes narrowly beat Columbia Academy, 20 to 15 in the first round. The match between West Jones High School mathletes will split $600 and their school will receive $600 for their second place accomplishments and for earning a wild card place in the JCJC Bobcat Math League's Super Bowl playoff competition. West Jones and Sacred Heart was uneventful as the Mustangs were able to overcome the fledgling Crusader team, 27 to 14 to make it to the semi-final round with Columbia Academy. West Jones was able to edge out the Columbia Academy Cougars in a quiet semi-final round, 19 to 5.

"Amazingly, we made it this far," said West Jones senior Nick Sumrall. We were in shock that we didn't lose in the first round against Columbia Academy, but we had great teamwork and the technology and engineering questions helped us. Math is the hardest for us in the buzzer quiz-style competition."

Initially, the 16-participating schools were unsure how adding STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) questions to the fifth-annual quiz style math league competition would affect the final standings. Northeast Jones' Parker Cruise said he liked the inclusion of the STEM questions. "It allows other kids, who are not math wizards to participate in the competition. We've enjoyed it this year."

Most coaches agree the new format seems to have leveled the playing field while others, like Oak Grove's Necessary, said the STEM questions may have given them an edge. "I think because of Jason and Allen's science experience and the various strengths of each student in the STEM applications we may have had a little advantage; otherwise, I am not sure we would have done as well. The last two years' competitions were math only questions and we were not able to beat Stringer Attendance Center and Presbyterian Christian," said Necessary.

The Sacred Heart team, which won the 2015 BML championship, had only one of their students returning to competition this year. The Presbyterian Christian Crusaders also had a fledgling team. The Crusader's math co-coaches, Rick Muli and Donna Wilson think adding STEM questions to this year's competition may have helped some teams excel that have not been known to do as well in math-only competitions. "With only math questions you can focus on the specific concepts for practice. STEM questions are too broad to prepare students for in a competition like this. This has been a learning experience which we hope to improve upon next year," said Muli.

Wilson added, "We're disappointed our team didn't do as well this year but we are also glad to see different teams winning. Students have to have a much broader

Laurel JA host Very Special Arts Festival

Submitted

The Junior Auxiliary of Laurel, along with the Lauren Rogers Museum of Art and Laurel Arts League, hosted their annual Very Special Arts Festival on Friday, November 11th at the Cameron Center in Laurel. Several hundred children from area schools with special needs attended the event.

The Very Special Arts is a festival for special needs children to participate in making arts and crafts. This year's theme was "Under the Sea". The kids were treated with face painting, fishing for candy, making shark hats, building pirate and mermaid puppets, and much more!

Junior Auxiliary President Anna Thornton said, "The Very Special Arts festival is one of our favorite events because we get to have one on one interaction with these beautiful children. They enjoy all of the cute arts and crafts, photo booths, jewelry and music! It is a true joy to see their faces light up when we play, and help them create all the arts and crafts we prepared for them."

knowledge base than we ever expected, which is a good challenge for students and coaches." For the six playoff teams' efforts, cash prizes were awarded. As champions of the Bobcat Math League, the Oak Grove Warrior team earned $1,000 to split among themselves. The coaches will split $2,000 and $1,000 will go to the school. The second place West Jones coach earned $1,000 with the team and the school each receiving $500. Coming in third place, the Columbia Academy Cougars' coaches took home $500 and the school and players each received $250. The fourth place team's (Northeast Jones) coach earned $300 with the players and the school getting $150 each. (Team members split the total cash prize.)

Commissioner of the BML and JCJC math instructor, Dr. Jessica Bunch, explained why the cash prizes were extended to the schools this year. "We knew the students were benefiting individually with higher math scores. Adding the cash prize for the schools was a way for the winning schools to see and feel the benefit of their participation in the JCJC Bobcat Math League." Additionally, new cash prizes were added this year. Each of the four division winners -- Galileo Division-Sacred Heart, Gates Division-Columbia Academy, Archimedes Division-Presbyterian Christian and Pythagoras Division-Oak Grove -- each earned an additional $400 for the coaches to split, $200 for the players to split, and $200 for the school. Wild card teams Northeast Jones and West Jones earned $200 for the coach, $100 for the players to split and $100 for the school. For each match won during the regular season the coach picked up an extra $100 too.

"We'll probably spend some of that money on taking these students to dinner and entry fees to the Mu Alpha Theta (Math Honor Society) State Convention," said Necessary. The final order of finish from this year's postseason is Oak Grove as winners, West Jones as runner-ups, Columbia Academy in third place, Northeast Jones in fourth place and Presbyterian Christian and Sacred Heart tied for the fifth position. Sponsors of the 2016 JCJC Bobcat Math League are Chris Wilson of First Choice Realty, Lex Lindsey of the Chisholm Foundation, Wade Creekmore of C-Spire, Sanderson Farms, Sandra Wright of Magnolia Realty, Howard Industries, Corner Market, Jones County EDA and the Mississippi Association of Partners in Education.
