Old World Christmas

World market brings crowd to Osthoff Resort each year

Imagine sipping hot, mulled wine and enjoying a Bavarian pretzel while leisurely shopping from vendors selling their unique wares from around the world. This can be your holiday shopping reality at the Old World Christmas Market at the Osthoff Resort in Elkhart Lake, Wisconsin, this December. The 10-day market is open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. beginning Friday, Dec. 2 and ending Sunday, Dec. 11.

For those who have never been, this is Wisconsin's take on the centuries-old Christkindlesmarkt of Nuremberg, Germany, complete with freshly-cut balsam trees adorned with thousands of twinkling lights, more than 70 festive booths filled with the wares of artisans from around the world, a European-style food court, and an appearance by Father Christmas, all staged in a heated tent the length of a football field.

The Old World Christmas Market has something for everyone on your shopping list:

For mom, woolen capes from Estonia, fashionable fur accessories, amber jewelry, hand-painted wine glasses, alpaca sweaters, German straw ornaments, custom pastel drawings and acrylic paintings.

For dad, German cuckoo clocks, deer-skin gloves, alpaca cashmere socks, gourmet chocolates, smoked salmon and trout.

For grandparents, ornaments from around the world, homemade jams and jellies, chocolates filled with liqueurs. New this year: old-fashioned German hard candies.

For children, woolen mittens, hats, and

Sharing our Journeys

By Carol Edler Baumann

It's that time again!

It's no big revelation that the Christmas and New Year's holidays are upon us once again.

Gee, how could one not have noticed when the stores already had their Christmas merchandise well stocked on their shelves the first week of October. Really—don't you think that is pushing it a bit too far? It used to be that we complained when the stores shoved it out in November and we all said, "It's not even Thanksgiving and all the Christmas stuff is out!"

Maybe we'll see some adjustments on extra early Christmas merchandising because (as we have just experienced) many stores closed on Thanksgiving Day and some of the "Black Friday" sale days were switched around.

I really like the holiday season, but I like it more on a timely basis—not months in advance. Shoppers are probably in a dilemma—should they buy now when there is an abundance to choose from and they can get specific colors and styles that they want or do they linger a bit and wait for the inevitable sales that are also run well in advance of a last-minute panic buying situation.

Now that I'm older and grandchildren are older it is easiest to give cold hard cash dressed up in a fancy Christmas envelope. Still not quite the same as the thrill and excitement of opening a surprise gift, however, so one can soften the informality of the cash with a little something tangible to go with the money. This might be a box of candy, a pretty scarf, and a pair of socks, whatever. Granted, not too glamorous, but it's a small gift that falls into the ill-defined "stocking stuffer" category.

What about Christmas cards? Does anyone actually send out cards any more? An e-mail (uninspiring though it may be) will serve the purpose even though it may just be a tag-on line to one of your regular e-mails. Also it's less expensive than buying the cards and we all know postage costs are pretty hefty now.

If you do want to send a card you probably have received enough of them from all those organizations that send you their money solicitations. And, of course, you no doubt have oodles of return address stickers from the same organizations. These cards and address stickers cost you only the amount that you contribute to these charities and they're free if you opt not to send anything. Is anyone guilty of that?

As mentioned, you can like/love the whole holiday season and the songs and decorations, and still get into the mood and not be jaded or smothered by an excess abundance of holiday trappings.

Finally, you can insist that we say "Merry Christmas" and skip the generic supposedly politically correct "Happy Holidays." What would the world be like if Dickens story "A Christmas Carol" were called "A Holiday Carol?" It just doesn't have the right ring to it, does it? So, may your holidays be happy and do have a MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Capture Christmas magic

Revisit the traditions of mid-19th century at Old Wade House

Wade House historic site in Greenbush will host "A Wade House Christmas," a mid-19th-century Christmas celebration, on Saturdays and Sundays, Dec. 3-4 and 10-11, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Yankee and German holiday traditions, including period crafts and games for young and old, and horse-drawn wagon rides, will make for a memorable experience.

Guests to "A Wade House Christmas" will experience the sights and sounds of a 1860s Wisconsin Christmas celebration. The Wade House stagecoach hotel will be decorated in traditional Christmas splendor with fresh evergreen garlands and a candlelit Christmas tree as focal points.

Activities will abound on each level of the 27-room hotel. The experience will begin on the first floor. Costumed staff will greet visitors inside the historic taproom and shed light on the origins of Santa Claus and his gift-giving tradition. The ladies' parlor will be graced with a freshly cut Christmas tree adorned in 1860s fashion, and the space will resound with period music.

In the hotel's dining room, visitors will create holiday crafts once featured in "Godey's Lady's Book." In the third-floor ballroom, participants will have the opportunity to play parlor games.

The delightful aroma of mulled cider and plum pudding will waft out from the hotel's 19th-century kitchens and entice guests to these culinary spaces where they'll learn about the longstanding association of plum pudding with the Christmas season.

The festivities continue in the new Wade House Visitor Center and Wesley W. Jung Carriage Museum located at W7965 State Highway 23. Admission is adults $11; students/seniors $9.25; children 5-17 $5.50; family up to two adults and two or more dependent children 5-17 - $30.

Handel's Messiah on tap for Sheboygan Symphony

The Messiah will be performed by the Sheboygan Symphony Orchestra and Chorus on Dec. 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the Weill Center for the Performing Arts. Music Director and Conductor, Kevin McMahon, will lead the orchestra and chorus. The Sheboygan Symphony Chorus is under the direction of Fabian Qamar.

McMahon stated, "The Sheboygan Symphony Orchestra joins with another important part of its 'family,' the Sheboygan Symphony Chorus, to present Handel's Baroque masterwork Messiah, perhaps Handel's greatest oratorio. "For those who are connected to school choruses, enjoy choral performance, appreciate singers and singing, like old styles of music, or simply wish to get an infusion of Christmas spirit plus, this is a good program for you," continued McMahon. "Because Messiah is constructed from Bible verses, the work speaks to 'peoples of the book' and 'religions of the book,' embracing many types of believers and others of spiritual persuasion, as well as folks who simply enjoy music. Beyond aesthetic pleasures with fanfares from trumpets and drums, the oratorio Messiah and its spiritual message offer all comfort and encouragement."

The Messiah was composed in 1741, when Charles Jennens convinced Handel to create an oratorio based upon a compilation of Scriptures he had recently selected. Handel wrote the entire work in a 24-day spurt from Aug. 22 until Sept. 14. Consistent with the format of oratorios, Messiah is divided into three parts, which represent Christ's birth, death, and resurrection; each section containing a series of arias and choruses.

The audience will hear many of their favorite singers. Soloists will be drawn from members of the Symphony Chorus Family. This year our soloists include Jeff Britton, Kathleen Erdmann, Emily Rendall-Araujo, Stephanie Weeden, Shannon Meulbroek, Brittany Savaglio, Glynnis Shircel and Tim VanZeeland.

The Sheboygan Symphony Chorus is an ensemble, which represents the musically diverse population of the area. Professionals and amateurs, the young and seasoned musicians work side by side to present one of the most beloved Classical works.

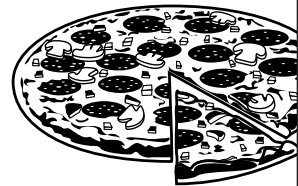

Tickets may be purchased by phone 920-452-1985, online at www.sheboygan-symphony.org or www.weillcenter.com or in person at the Sheboygan Symphony office or Weill Center ticket office, $25 adults, $15 students. This concert is generously sponsored by the F.K. Bemis Family Foundation, Inc.

The Interludes pre-concert talk begins at 6:15 p.m. It is a free event for concert ticket holders. Space is limited, and an R.S.V.P. is required.

Conrad designs 2016 Christmas ornament

Once again, the Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah Education Foundation (ELGEF) is having a holiday ornament fundraiser. For each $20 donation to the ELGEF, you will receive a commemorative ornament. This is a perfect way to make a contribution in honor or memory of someone special, or to give a collectable stocking stuffer.

This year's ornament, designed by fourth grader Ava Conrad, is the twelfth in a series of designs by students in our school district. Her art teacher is Amy Hammes. Ava is the daughter of Anne Conrad and Troy and Charmaine Conrad. Congratulations and thank you, Ava.

Parents, consider purchasing one for each of your children as a special gift that will support their education today and will decorate your family tree for years to come. Or, give this special ornament to a grandparent, aunt/uncle, neighbor, and anyone else who plays an important role in your child's life. After the holidays, The ELG School District's newspaper, the "Reporter Reporter," will publish an acknowledgement listing those who have contributed and in whose honor or memory the donations have been made.

Order forms will be distributed to each child in the school system and are available at both school offices. If you missed the first ornaments in the series, you can round out your collection for an extra $5 donation for each, while supplies last. If you have any questions or would like to order an ornament, please contact Ann Buechel Haack at 876-3381. Add to your collection or start now. Ornaments are available at both school offices, Wisconsin Bank and Trust in Elkhart Lake, and National Exchange Bank and Trust in Glenbeulah and Elkhart Lake.

The Elkhart Lake Glenbeulah Education Foundation, a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt organization, supports the School District in its mission to provide a caring, innovative learning environment. The ELGEF provides resources and enhances opportunities not included in the school district's operating budget.

Ava Conrad was the ornament design winner for the 2016 Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah Education Foundation ornament sale. She is pictured here with the design and the finished product.

Annual ACS walk/run sets records

A record-setting 3,200 participants turned out for the 38th annual Road America Walk/Run for the American Cancer Society on Oct. 29, raising $185,000 for cancer research, patient programs, services and education.

The non-competitive four-mile walk included 2,704 participants, while nearly 500 individuals took part in the four-mile race, which was won by Dominic Maio, of West Allis, in 20:19.57, and Carissa Laack, of St. Joseph, Michigan, in 26:29.14. The top male finisher from the area was Chris Plummer, of Sheboygan, who placed sixth in 25:09.75, while Rebecca Wagner, of Sheboygan, finished in 28:05.35 to take second place for women.

"Participation was amazing this year on a beautiful morning at the track," said Kristen Herbes, American Cancer Society Community Manager of Special Events. "Not only did we set an attendance record, but the total funds raised is the highest in the history of the event, which supports research, programs and services for cancer patients in Wisconsin and beyond."

Of 93 fundraising teams, Team Kohler came out on top for the eighth straight year raising a total of nearly $15,000 ($18,943 with the company's matching fund). Nearly 120 kids participated in the kids' fun run at the event.

Full results of the event, which is sponsored by Acuity, Kohler Co., Road America, American Orthodontics, Nemark, Nemschoff, Vollrath and Lake 98.1., may be found at hittheroadrun.org.

Natalie and Jeff Blanke, of Plymouth, take off from the start at the 38th annual American Cancer Society Walk/Run held at Road America on Oct. 29. Inset, Terri Yoho, 2016 honorary survivor, leading the race in the official pace car. Yoho, a breast cancer survivor, lives near Adell.

Friends host Lights of Love

Seasonal holidays shine with lights—small and white, big bright and colored. The holiday lights reflect memories past in the eyes of adults and holidays present, which shine in the eyes of children.

The Elkhart Lake Library holiday tree is decorated with very special lights. The lights on our tree are lit by the supporters of the Friends of the Library. We are asking you to join in lighting our annual "Lights of Love" tree. All proceeds will be used to enrich the quality and amount of materials, which the library provides to our community.

Hundreds of lights are waiting to be lit. These lights can reflect your remembrance of a loved one, joyous event, favorite teacher or someone you want to honor.

All the contributions with your name or the person or occasion you wish to honor will be posted in the library.

Send contributions to Lights of Love, PO Box 432, Elkhart Lake WI 53020 or fill out a form in the library.

Thank you and have a joyous holiday Season.

Students at Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah Elementary School recently learned about the election process. The fourth graders ran their own election for the Junior Kindergarten fourth grade classes. Students were in charge of registering the little voters, handing them their ballot, handing out "I Voted" stickers, and counting the ballots after the classes voted. Thanks to the parents and guardians who volunteered their time to help.

Community groups pitch in to help through Christmas Gift Tree

Over the last five years, Grace Lutheran Church, Elkhart Lake has worked together with Off the Rail, All Seasons Family Restaurant, Anchor Lanes, Vintage Elkhart Lake, and the Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah Elementary, Middle & High School, to bring a little extra Christmas cheer to families who were hit harder by the tough economic times. This year we would also like to welcome Charlene's of Elkhart Lake, and the National Exchange Bank and Trust to the group. It is called the Christmas Gift Tree and Christmas Gift Tree Plus program.

The program has enjoyed overwhelming success! Over these years, hundreds of children's Christmas' were brightened through the Christmas Gift Tree and thousands of dollars in gift cards were distributed to community families in need through the Christmas Gift Tree Plus program.

On Saturday, Nov. 19, Grace Lutheran put up and/or decorate six trees. They are located at Grace Lutheran Church, Charlene's of Elkhart, Off the Rail, All Seasons Family Restaurant, Vintage Elkhart Lake, and the National Exchange Bank and Trust.

The process for the community to help out with the Christmas Gift Tree is simple, 1) Go to any of the six locations. 2) Take a children's ornament from the tree. 3) Purchase an age appropriate gift. 4) Wrap the gift. 5) Securely attach the ornament to the package. 6) Return the gift to Grace Lutheran Church, Charlene's of Elkhart, Off the Rail, National Exchange Bank and Trust, Vintage Elkhart Lake, or All Seasons Family Restaurant by Sunday, Dec. 18, so the contributions can be made available for pick-up.

While many families appreciate the gifts for their children, they are also able to help families with other needs that they have. The Christmas Gift Tree Plus includes families in need from Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah High School as well as the Middle and Elementary Schools. Contributions to Christmas Gift Tree Plus help families that are in need of gas and groceries.

Helping with the "Plus" program is also very simple, 1) Go to any of the six locations. 2) Take a "Gift Card" ornament from the tree. 3) Purchase a $25 gift card at the business of your choice that will provide either gas or groceries as designated on the "Gift Card" ornament. 4) Securely attach the ornament to the actual gift card. 5) Return the gift card to Grace Lutheran Church, Charlene's of Elkhart, Off the Rail, National Exchange Bank and Trust, Vintage Elkhart Lake, or All Seasons Family Restaurant by Sunday, Dec. 18 so they can distribute them prior to the Christmas season.

Elkhart Lake has really shown its generosity through both these programs. Contributors really stepped forward in 2015 to help a lot of families during these tougher economic times.

Thank you in advance for your help and support of this program.

Restoring the past at Old Wade House

Now through March 2017, James Willaert, Wade House Curator of Interpretation, will offer a series of public programs titled "Restoring the Past," inviting visitors to participate in hands-on historic vehicle restoration activities. On Saturday, Dec. 17 at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., Willaert will present "Restoring the Past: Tools of the Trade," a program which will introduce Wade House guests to the skill and specialized tools necessary to restore a wagon or carriage.

During "Restoring the Past: Tools of the Trade," guests will join Charles DeSmet, a character based on a restoration worker, to hear the stories behind the vehicles and learn how the restoration process works. Guests will have the opportunity to try out the tools used by restoration workers and see just how much skill is required to bring historic carriages back to their original condition.

Guests are encouraged to tour Wade House's 20,000 square-foot Wesley W. Jung Carriage Museum, which houses Wisconsin largest collection of carriages and wagons. More than 70 percent of the vehicles on display in the museum were manufactured by the Jung Carriage Company, a carriage maker, which manufactured custom vehicles in Sheboygan County in the late 19th and early 20th century. Most of the museum's vehicles were collected and restored by Wesley W. Jung, grandson of the Jung Carriage Company's founder.

"Restoring the Past" programs will take place at Wade House Historic Site Visitor Center and Wesley W. Jung Carriage Museum located at W7965 State Highway 23. Admission is adults - $7; students/seniors - $6; children 5-17 - $3.50; children under 5 FREE; family up to two adults and two or more dependent children 5-17 - $19.

The Wade House Historic Site is one of 12 Wisconsin Historical Society historic sites and museums. For more information, please call (920) 526-3271 or visit www.wadehouse.org

"Restoring the Past" is part of "Preserving the History of Sheboygan through Digital Images" which has been made possible in part by the National Endowment for the Humanities: Exploring the Human Endeavor. Any views, findings, conclusions, or recommendations expressed in these programs do not necessarily represent those of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

The Road to Wellness

By Dr. Nic Giebler D.C.

Change in nutrition helps boy diagnosed with ADHD

I recently had one of the most rewarding consultations of my career.

Not only do I provide chiropractic care, but I also offer nutrition and diet consultations. I believe that nutrition is what truly drives our health, and in nearly every health problem, there is a nutritional component that must be addressed.

Last fall, I had the opportunity to work with parents of a 9-year old with serious behavioral problems—verbal and physical aggression toward other kids as well as toward his own parents. The parents were at their wits end, as their child couldn't be reasoned with. He had been suspended from school on one occasion and his behavior both to his teacher and to his classmates was very aggressive, physical, and problematic.

He had been diagnosed with ADHD, and the family M. D. suggested putting him on meds—but his parents didn't want that. They shared the problem with me, and I recommended dietary changes for Brandon. I tried to explain how the food and chemicals in the food can irritate and inflame him, and if he has fluctuating blood sugar levels due to refined grains, it will only worsen the peaks in his behavior.

I did my best to explain how and why a new diet would help, but his parents didn't believe dietary changes would have much of an effect on their son. Yet, they had nothing to lose, so they agreed to give it a try. So, just about a year ago, they cleaned out their cupboards and eliminated all foods containing artificial flavors, artificial food coloring, preservatives, and high fructose corn syrup from their son's diet. This included food eaten at home as well as restaurant food.

The results?

The boy's school work has improved tremendously. His reading has improved. His behavior has improved. And he knows it.

He said he feels better and has said to his dad, "Dad, I can think now." He can be reasoned with now, and he recognizes when he needs to step away from a situation or group of kids and will voluntarily do so. He is thinking of others—for instance, he will choose to be the referee when playing sports games with friends instead of having to be a player.

Everyone has noticed the drastic change in Brandon's behavior—not just family and friends, but also just people in the community. They will ask what the parents did to cause the change, and the parents will tell them that they took Dr. Nic's nutrition advice, and it worked! The parents are also sharing the nutrition information with anyone who wants to listen. They would like to start cutting out sugars for Brandon, too, but...one step at a time.

All it took was for the parents to ask. They took that first step and their lives have changed for the better. What would you and your family like to see improved, when it comes to your health and wellness? The first step is to simply ask.

New VP & Chief Financial Officer named at Sargento

Sargento Foods Inc. announces that Executive Vice President & Chief Financial Officer George Hoff plans to retire at the end of 2016. Jeremy Behler has been promoted to fill this role, starting immediately.

George joined Sargento as Controller in 1983, after serving as Audit Manager at PricewaterhouseCoopers. Since then, he has served in various financial roles at Sargento, most recently as Chief Financial Officer and as President of the Consumer Products Division from 1997 to 2000. During his tenure, George developed Sargento finance, accounting and information technology capabilities, which have been instrumental to the company's success. He was the recipient of the coveted Founders' Ring, which is given to an employee who makes significant contributions to the growth of Sargento while embodying the "People, Pride & Progress" corporate culture.

Over the years, George has taken his expertise and dedication outside of the Sargento walls. Consistent with the Sargento stakeholder philosophy, George has played a key role in giving back to local communities, including initiating the company's support for Milwaukee Habitat for Humanity. He also chaired several Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation Walks and served on the Board of Columbia St. Mary's Hospital.

Until his retirement at the end of 2016, George will serve as Executive Vice President & Advisor to CEO Louie Gentine.

"Over the last 33 years, George has built a solid foundation at Sargento and his contributions will ensure future success for generations to come," Louie said. "As George transitions to retirement, I'm confident that Jeremy's experience, knowledge and commitment to continuous improvement will build upon that foundation."

Within his new role as Executive Vice President & Chief Financial Officer, Jeremy will lead the Finance, Accounting and IT departments at Sargento. He will be responsible for instituting process improvements that will enhance visibility to cost factors, oversee financial analysis, develop strategies, and implement enhanced reporting procedures and tools. He will also transition IT from a service provider to a strategic enabler for the organization's evolving technology needs. Outside of his day-to-day responsibilities, Jeremy has led two very successful United Way campaigns at Sargento in 2015 and 2016.

Prior to joining Sargento in 2014, Jeremy handled global business development for mergers and acquisitions at Proctor & Gamble. In his role, he led all areas of mergers and acquisitions for external business opportunities, including acquisitions, divestitures and joint ventures. During his 15-year tenure at P&G, he built an extensive resume of multi-functional experience: strategy, financial planning & analysis, operations, supply chain, sales & marketing and IT.

Jeremy earned his Master of Business Administration from the University of Chicago in strategy, marketing and finance, and his bachelor's in finance and computer information systems from Indiana University in Bloomington.

Caboose effort hampered by setbacks

Many of you have been wondering why it is taking so long to finish the caboose.

Remembering that the caboose is over 100 years old and has been sitting in the elements since it was built, we were guaranteed to have some issues, and we certainly did. When our restoration crew, headed by Fred Bauer, started work on the cupola it became apparent that he had a major issue to contend with. The cupola is the section that is on the very top of the caboose. As a result of this problem, he spent the entire summer trying to save the cupola.

It was completely rotted out and he had to do a major fix to stabilize that section. He said it was about to collapse. Fred also found major issues on the roof after the rubber was pulled off. In any event, the structure is now sound. Fred has stated the work is close to completion, and in spring the project will be finished. When work resumes, the new slats will be installed and a new Soo Line sign decal will be painted on the sides. When all is said and done we will have a caboose that will be fully restored and will last for years to come.

This unexpected delay did not come without a cost. The Elkhart Lake Historical Society is looking for donations to help defray the costs associated with the caboose restoration.

Donations to the Elkhart Lake Historical Society are tax-deductible. If you can help, please make checks out to the Elkhart Lake Historical Society and drop them off at the Village Hall located at 40 Pine Street or mail them to % Village of Elkhart Lake, PO Box 143, Elkhart Lake, WI, 53020.

This is what the cupola looked like when work began.

Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah School District Administrator Dr. Ann Buechel Haack, right, offers her gratitude to Lola Roeh of the Osthoff Resort for the generous donation of used furniture on behalf of The Osthoff owners. The furniture was sold at a public tent sale in October and proceeds were given to the Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah School District.

Furniture sale supports schools

On Oct. 20-22, the EL-G School District held a "Furniture Sale" fundraiser with the furniture being provided compliments of Lola Roeh on behalf of The Osthoff owners.

The furniture in various areas of The Osthoff was updated, and as a result, the removed furniture was donated to the school district. The District was overwhelmed with this donation which included dining tables and chairs, end tables, side tables, mirrors, chairs, sleeper sofas, bar stools, artwork, lighting fixtures, and much more. The furniture filled a huge tent (several times over) and numerous semi trailers. While very appreciative of the generosity of the Osthoff owners, the support shown by the various community members who purchased items was also tremendous.

After paying the expenses to hold the event, and making a donation to the high school football team for providing the "muscle-power" to help the District custodial and office staff set up the event and assist on the sale days, a net profit was realized of over $7,000. This money will assist in funding various student and school projects not included in the general school fund, with a portion earmarked to help support the renovation/construction of an all-inclusive playground area at the elementary/middle school.

This is the second time that The Osthoff has generously provided furniture to the District for fundraising purposes, with both events being highly successful.

In addition to making this fundraiser possible for the District, many other organizations also benefited as all unsold furniture was donated to area charities/resale shops. The EL-G School District would like to sincerely thank Lola Roeh, The Osthoff owners, and Osthoff staff (Tanya) for making this event possible; the buyers who patronized the sale; and EL-GS staff members who coordinated the event Kayla Groh-Bardon, Wendy Spangenberg, Chris Littig, Roxie Ruechel, Brian Feldmann, John Groth, and the varsity football team.

The efforts and support of all were very much appreciated.

Thank You!

Dr. Ann Buechel Haack

FFA chapter hosts charity Giving Tree

Every year the Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah FFA Chapter sponsors a charity activity called the Giving Tree.

The goal of this activity is to provide gift cards to deserving Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah School District families. In order to do this, the chapter is asking for gift cards in donation from students and community members. Please purchase gift cards that are appropriate for high school-aged students. Suggestions include gas cards, Walmart, Fleet Farm, Kohl's, and Piggly Wiggly.

Gift cards can be dropped off in the high school office or given to Mrs. Arbuckle FFA advisor by Dec. 15.

Please help the chapter in spreading the joy of giving. Happy holidays.
