JCJC's Bedwell earns MSCPA Outstanding Educator Award

By Teresa McCreery

The Mississippi Society of Certified Public Accountants (MSCPA) selected Jones County Junior College accounting instructor and business division chair Rick Bedwell as its Outstanding Educator of the Year. The Petal resident and JCJC alumni is only the second community/junior college teacher in the 29-year history of the organization to be selected for this honor.

Rick Bedwell

"I am very excited about receiving this honor! As an accounting educator, this award is considered one of the top achievements you could receive. Being recognized by my peers and former students as being 'outstanding' in my chosen profession is an honor. I am so blessed to be able to do something I love, which is working with students every day!" said

Bedwell.

Bedwell learned recently he was nominated by professors at the University of Southern Mississippi and former students at the Accounting Education Symposium in Jackson last month. The full-time accounting teacher was judged on his outstanding contributions to the education of accountants, especially in his teaching excellence, the motivation of students and educational innovation as well as his contribution to the accounting profession, as demonstrated by active involvement in professional activities and participation in professional accounting organizations.

"I believe the reason for my nomination and selection is the success of my students. My students have transferred to senior colleges and universities. They have been very successful and well prepared to advance in their upper-level accounting courses. Their professors see this and know they came from JCJC," noted Bedwell.

Bedwell also prides himself on making a special effort to create a personal and professional relationship with his students, both in and out of the classroom. "I feel it is very important to keep in contact with my students after they leave Jones and assist them in job placement using contacts I have in the accounting profession," said Bedwell.

He graduated from JCJC in 1992 as a non-traditional student following a 24-year career in the automotive business. Bedwell earned numerous honors including Phi Theta Kappa honor society's Gold Key recipient, PTK Regional Most Distinguished Student, and he served as the PTK president along with earning Who's Who and Hall of Fame honors. During his more than 17-years teaching at Jones, he has also owned and still

Second annual "Shop with a Firefighter"

By Linda Cranford

Saturday afternoon, December 10, a pink Hummer Limousine furnished by Southeastern Fundraising pulled up to the north entrance to Walmart, and six children with a number of volunteer firefighters from the Calhoun Volunteer Fire Department piled out of the back door of the limo to begin an afternoon of shopping that the children will perhaps remember for the rest of their lives. For the past several months, the volunteer firefighters have been busy raising money for this very moment.

"This is something we all look forward to," said Lee Garick, fire chief of the Calhoun VFD. "It's a good mission for us. It gives us a way to give back to the community in a way other than during an emergency."

Each child was given $250 to purchase anything they wanted. Some of the children new exactly what they wanted, while others were so overwhelmed with the opportunity they just weren't sure. Several headed straight to the toy department and others headed for the clothes department.

Lee and Becky Garick shopped with Bo Knotts.

Scott Rushing shopped with Calie Hilbun and her mom Ashley Hilbun.

Howard Industries and Grocery Depot help Salvation Army

Submitted

Michael Howard, President of Howard Industries said, "In these economic times, it's uplifting to know that there has been no shortage of generosity for this year's angel tree and canned food drive. There could not be a better way to celebrate the holidays than to help ensure that children and their families have a merry Christmas."

The Salvation Army puts together meal boxes each year for families in the area that are in need. The goal is to ensure that all of these families will have a Christmas dinner box provided for them. A generous donation from Grocery Depot of Laurel helped Howard Industries to provide 300 bags of corn meal and 600 boxes of macaroni and cheese to be put in these boxes. Thanks to Grocery Depot's donation, money raised by Howard Industries' employees for the food was instead donated directly to the Salvation Army to further help provide for those in need during this holiday season. Howard Industries' employees also purchased Christmas gifts for 200 angels this year through the Salvation Army's Angel Tree program.

LHS students assist with community luncheon

The Laurel High School Culinary Arts, Beta Club and Student Council students recently assisted District 34 Senator Juan Barnett with a thanksgiving lunch hosted for the senior citizens of Laurel. The students assisted with serving the delicious meal of turkey, dressing, green beans, rolls and other trimmings. The turkey was prepared by Senator Barnett and sides were prepared by South Central Regional Medical Center.

Local author holds book signing in Laurel

Submitted

If you are still looking for that perfect Christmas gift for the romance novel reader in your family, you might want to consider the new book, "Perfection" by Danyele Chance Patrick of Ellisville.

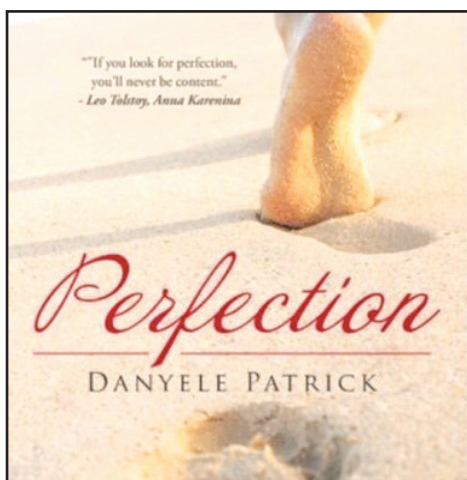

"Perfection" is on sale at the Baptist Bible and Book House in Laurel where Patrick will be signing books on Saturday, December 17, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Copies are $14 each. Patrick will also be happy to sign books that were purchased prior to the event.

The book's storyline follows Georgia, an up-and-coming Hollywood actress with her own television show and all the problems associated with constantly being in the limelight of the tabloids.

Published by WestBow Press, a division of Thomas Nelson Publishing, the book's synopsis reads, "...when the ghosts of (Georgia's) past beckon her to come home to her small town, she must come to terms with the family she has left behind as well as the truth about herself. She must answer pressing questions: Is perfection truly attainable? And if so, is it worth losing yourself to find it?"

Danyele Patrick

According to one critic, "'Perfection' reminded me of a Hallmark movie, and it was a very clean read. The author worked in some great spiritual lessons, and I appreciated The Prodigal Son angle to the story."

Another reader wrote, "This is a great story of love, faith, doubt, confusion and more. I could actually relate much of the storyline with my own life."

Patrick is originally from Silver Creek. A graduate of Jones County Junior College and William Carey University, she teaches kindergarten at Glade Elementary School. A newly-wed, Patrick and her husband, Rease, live in Ellisville with their dog, Gus. They attend Westminster Presbyterian Church in Laurel.

For more information on the book or the book signing, visit Patrick's website, danyelepatrikauthor.wordpress.com or like the "Perfection" Facebook page.

Sixth annual Jones County FCA Christmas Party helps 107 children

By Shawn Wansley

JCJC Sports Information Director

It just keeps getting bigger and better. Several hundred people packed both the A.B. Howard Gymnasium and D.O. Thoms Physical Education Building on the campus of Jones County Junior College Wednesday night for the Sixth annual Jones County Fellowship of Christian Athletes Christmas Party. Student-athletes, local business people and others purchased gifts for 107 needy children and distributed them during a festive evening. That's a far cry from the first party in 2011 where nine children were adopted. Jones County FCA Director Justin Graves said the party is important to so many people, including the teams who give the presents.

"This event is for underprivileged children who were handpicked in our area, who without help would not have a Christmas," he said. "Our student-athletes adopted them and we are helping 107 children tonight. We have presents, kids and teams having a blast all celebrating a bunch of young people who deserve a really good Christmas."

Teams from JCJC, Northeast Jones, South Jones,

West Jones, Laurel and Laurel Christian School and numerous other groups and individuals bought gifts for at least one child.

"Many teams adopted several children," Graves said. "We had several community organizations, churches, citizens, clinics, dentist offices and people like that who joined us this year to be a part of the party and they love it. They are just a part of our extended FCA family. They love the Lord and they love kids and they wanted to bring it all together at this time of year."

Graves said that local school counselors helped the local FCA chapter know who needed the most help this Christmas season.

"The counselors know the situations of these kids," he said. "We have some here who have lost their mom or dad in the last month and a half. Some have lost their houses to fires. We just want to bless them with some of the necessities this year, as well as some toys and fun stuff, too."

Graves said that the student-athletes raised between $150-$200 per child for the party. "But if there was a house fire involved, we went way over the top to make sure they would have a lot for this Christmas," he added.

Graves was excited about people from outside of athletics helping with the party. "(Pine Belt Area FCA Director) Mitch Williams says if you can breathe and talk, you are an athlete," he said. "The proof is in the pudding. This is people in the community coming together for something greater than themselves. For athletes, this is something greater than a trophy, greater than a ring or greater than a win and that is glorifying the Lord Jesus Christ in a tangible way by providing Christmas to those in need."

A Shepherd's Heart – The Songs of Christmas

Dr. Timothy L. Hubbard

“My soul magnifies the Lord, and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior, for He has looked on the humble estate of his servant.” – Luke 1:47 (ESV)

Music and Christmas go hand in hand.

Let's be honest: Christmas would not be the same without the songs of Christmas. Of the songs of Christmas, there are the carols, the hymns and the Christmas songs.

These songs are categorized to be either sacred or secular. As Christians, we find ourselves enjoying all of the categories of Christmas songs during the month of December. From “Frosty the Snow Man” and “Here Comes Santa Claus” all the way to “Silent Night” and “Joy to The World, The Lord has Come.”

Music just makes the Christmas season so much more exciting. As I was preparing for a series of sermons for Advent this year, I was reminded of some of the songs found in Scripture from the original Christmas story, the birth of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Over the next few weeks, I will look at four songs found in Luke's gospel that he included for our benefit. The first song is the song of Mary found in Luke 1:46-55. This song of Mary is also referred to as “The Magnificat.” This is a song that Mary sings while visiting with her relative Elizabeth. In order for us to really grasp the emotion behind the song, we must be reminded of a few details that Luke gives us in the story.

The prophet Isaiah had prophesied that a virgin would conceive and bear a child and that His Name would be called Immanuel (Isaiah 7:14). You can imagine the astonishment of Mary when the angel Gabriel appeared to her with the news that she had been chosen by God to conceive and bear

His Son. After hearing this news, she went to visit her relative Elizabeth, who the angel Gabriel had revealed to Mary was also expecting a child. When they greeted each other, Elizabeth felt her baby leap within her and she cried out to Mary, “Blessed are you among women and blessed is the fruit of your womb! And why is this granted to me that the mother of my Lord should come to me?” (Luke 1:42-43)

Mary's response to this statement by Elizabeth was her song. This song of Mary is a song of praise to God for His faithfulness to fulfill His plan of salvation for His people. As you read her entire song text, you will note three things that stand out as noteworthy. First, we see that true praise comes from within the heart of the believer. This truth is highlighted in the opening two verses (46-47) of her song, where she states that her soul magnifies and her spirit rejoices in God. Secondly, we note that there is a cause for her praise (48). God has seen her in her humble situation and has met her there in such a way that all will call her blessed. Lastly, we note that there is an object of her praise (49-55). The object of Mary's praise was the One who is mighty and merciful and faithful. She is directing her praise to Almighty God who has demonstrated His faithfulness to His people through all generations.

What can we learn about Christmas from Mary's song? First, that God loves us, knows right where we are and that He has a plan for us. Secondly, that God has always been faithful and that we can place our trust in Him because He is a faithful God. Lastly, that we should find ourselves in a constant state of praise to God for who He is and for what He has done and will do in and through us. May we, as the people of God, be ever mindful of the real reason that we celebrate Christmas. Let's keep our focus on the One who came, as a Baby born of a virgin, to fulfill God's plan for the salvation of mankind, whose name is JESUS!

Bowl season starts this weekend

By Dale McKee

The college bowl season begins this weekend. The USM Golden Eagles will be in New Orleans taking on the Ragin' Cajuns of Louisiana-Lafayette in the New Orleans Bowl. The game will kick off at 8 p.m. on ESPN. There will be six games this Saturday and then one game a night on ESPN through December 26 when the games will increase every day throughout the New Year. MSU will take on Miami (Ohio) on December 26 in the St. Pete Bowl.

For the love of the game

The only major college football game played this past weekend was the 117th annual grudge match between the service academies. The Black Knights of Army ended a 14-game losing streak to the midshipmen of Navy with a 21-17 win. These games are always fun to watch because these young defenders of America's freedom play for the love of the game. These young men love their country, and I for one am very proud of each and every one of them.

Louisville quarterback wins Heisman

Lamar Jackson became the first University of Louisville player to win the Heisman Trophy. He beat out Clemson's Deshaun Watson, Oklahoma's Baker Mayfield and Dede Westbrook plus Michigan's Jabrill Peppers. Jackson, only 19 years old, accounted for 51 touchdowns to become the youngest winner of the prestigious award.

Same old headlines

College basketball is heating up. Villa-nova, UCLA, Kansas, Duke, North Carolina and Indiana all are playing great basketball. But don't they do that every year? Kentucky, Florida, South Carolina, Texas A&M and Arkansas should be the top teams in the SEC this winter.

MSU wins interstate battle

The USM Lady Eagles (7-2) hosted the highest ranked ladies team to ever play in Reed Green. The Mississippi State Lady Bulldogs, who are ranked fifth in the country, showed why they have that high ranking. The Lady Bulldogs (9-0) downed USM, 72-50, to remain unbeaten last Saturday.

Mississippi Stars fall

The Mississippi All-Star football team had a tough time in the annual MS/AL contest, which was played in Montgomery last weekend. The Alabama stars scored the final 12 points of the contest to claim a 25-14 win. Mississippi dominated the stats as they held Alabama to 179 yards of offense, but Alabama scored nine points on special teams and overcame three turnovers. Columbus running back Kylin Hill was the Mississippi MVP as he gained 98 yards on 18 carries and scored once. Mississippi's Cam Akers of Clinton, whom many consider the best player in the state, rushed 19 times for 65 yards. Hattiesburg's Jordan Murphy had seven catches for 78 yards.

Super Bowl hopefuls

The National Football League completed their 14th week this past Sunday. Both of last year's Super Bowl teams may miss the NFL play-offs this year. Denver at 8-5 would have to win their final three games, while Carolina at 5-8 has little chance. New England, Kansas City and Oakland look like a lock in the AFC playoffs. Baltimore and Pittsburgh will battle it out in the AFC North while Tennessee, Indy and Houston will scramble for the one spot in the AFC South. In the NFC, Dallas, Detroit and Seattle should win their divisions. Atlanta and Tampa Bay are feuding in the NFC South while the Giants, Redskins, Packers and Vikings are battling for the wild-card spots.

Jones honored by hometown

Detroit Tiger outfielder Jacoby Jones was honored by his hometown of Richton this past weekend as he served as Grand Marshall of the Richton parade. Jones was a star for the Rebels before graduating in 2010 and going on to play at LSU. The 24-year-old was called up to the Tigers this past MLB season and will compete for the starting center field spot with the Tigers this spring.

In other Mississippi baseball news, former MSU star Mitch Moreland is leaving Texas as the ex-Bulldog signed a one-year deal for $5.5 million with the Boston Red Sox. Trade rumors are wild this time of the year that former USM and current Minnesota star Brian Dozier has been linked to the Dodgers and the Yankees, but Minnesota has not pulled the trigger on either deal. Dozier hit 42 home runs to set the all time American League home run record for second basemen.
