ARIES (March 21 to April 19) The changes you've waited to see in your work situation might not be happening quite as quickly as you'd hoped. Although the pace is slow, it's ongoing. Expect to hear news soon.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You should be feeling very proud of the fine effort you've made to get that important project done. Now take some time out to celebrate with family and friends. You've earned it.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You're close to reaching your objectives. That's the good news. But be careful: Your aspects show lots of potential distractions looming. Stay focused and keep your eyes fixed on your goals.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Be careful not to let that suspicious Cancerian mind create a problem where none exists. What you might believe is an act of betrayal could be nothing more than a misunderstanding.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Your Lion's heart overflows with self-confidence. All you need to do is tap into it, and you'll be able to handle any change that must be made regarding that recent surprise development.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) The need to watch what you say becomes increasingly crucial this week. Be as temperate as you can with your comments and avoid arguments for the sake of controversy.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A longtime family problem presents new demands. But this time, you won't have to go it alone: Someone else is asking to help share your responsibilities. Let it happen.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A period of feeling vulnerable is about to give way to a stronger, more self-confident aspect. Use this new strength to reaffirm promises you've made to others and yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A creative dilemma stalls your progress. Instead of letting it raise your ire, use the time to re-examine your aims and, perhaps, come up with a new target.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Your nimble will finds a way for you to work out those newly emerged problems plaguing your new project. Stay with it. The results will be well worth your efforts.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You might feel overwhelmed at having to decide which new opportunity you should follow. Best advice: Check them all out and see which offers what you really want.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Continue to tread water before you even consider plunging into something that never seemed quite right. Some facts will soon emerge that can help you make a decision.

BORN THIS WEEK: You're a natural-born peacemaker. You value truth and have little patience with those who lie to you for their own purposes.

Real Pearls?

Two older women who were rivals in a social circle met at a party.

"My dear," said the first woman "Are those real pearls?"

"They are," replied the second woman.

"Of course the only way I could tell would be for me to bite them," smiled the first woman.

The second responded "Yes, but for that you would need real teeth."

Tornado

A Kansas tornado hit a farmhouse just before dawn one morning. It lifted the roof off, picked up the beds, on which the farmer and his wife slept, and set them down gently in the next county.

Suddenly the wife began to cry. "Don't be scared, Mary," her husband said. "We're not hurt."

Mary continued to cry. "I'm not scared," she responded between sobs. "I'm happy 'cause this is the first time in 14 years we've been out together."

Hopalong Cassidy Box Camera

Q: At a recent garage sale, I paid $50 for a Hopalong Cassidy box camera. My husband thinks I overpaid. What do you think? -- Dorothy, North Canton, Ohio
 A: According to "Hopalong Cassidy Collectibles" by Joseph J. Caro, there were two types of Hoppy cameras made, and both are extremely collectible. The camera is an all-metal Brownie that takes 120 size film, with a top strap and metal plate featuring the images of Hopalong Cassidy and his horse, Topper. The only attachment was a special flash that was sold separately. Without the original box, your camera is worth about $250. I have seen this camera sell for more at auction.

Q: I have a number of serving dishes in the Candlewick pattern. Tell me what you know about this glass. -- Frances, Rio Rancho, New Mexico

A: Candlewick glass was made by the Imperial Glass Company from 1936 until October 1982. According to "Glass A-Z" by David Shotwell and published by Krause Books, the pattern, known as Imperial's No. 400, identified the plain glassware that was molded with beading around the rims and bases or stems of most of the pieces the company produced. For values, I suggest you contact antique dealers in your area.

Q: I have written to you three times and you never answer my request. I have a brand-new fishing reel that has never been used. It has a nice design and I have never seen anything like it. Thanks for answering or go to hell. -- George, Albuquerque, New Mexico

A: Because of the volume of letters and email I receive, I am not able to answer each and every question from readers. You have written me four times, not three, and in none of your letters have you told me really anything about your reel except that it has a beautiful design and was sold by Sears. Sears marketed dozens of reels, and I have no idea which one you have. Because of that lack of information, I do not have a source for you. Incidentally, there is no need to invite me to go to hell. I live in Phoenix.

"Is Militant Christianity Truly Christian?"

The song many of us learned in youth will never be fully expunged from our minds, no matter how long we live.

"Onward Christian soldiers, marching as to war, with the cross of Jesus, going on before, Christ the royal master leads against the foe, forward into battle see his banners go, onward Christian soldiers marching as to war, with the cross of Jesus, going on before."

I could easily segue from that song into a stirring rendition of, "I'm In The Lord's Army," but I shall refrain from so doing. These songs and others like them give us a mental picture of armor bedecked Christians marching side-by-side with weapons of war held at the ready. But when I view the commonly accepted portrait of today's Christianity, it begs the very question of whether militant Christianity is truly Christian to begin with.

Judge not. Love everyone. Be meek and gentle. Be silent. These and other phrases like them echo not just toward Christendom but also from it. And all of them have one thing in common; they are merely one side of the coin that is true Christianity. But if one ever flips the coin over to examine the other side as well, a far more balanced picture of Christianity emerges.

Speaking prophetically of Christ, Isaiah 53:7 says, "He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth." But the other side of the coin is in John chapter eighteen. Jesus answered the high priest in a way that those standing around viewed as disrespectful. One of the men there hit Jesus, and rebuked him for what he said. But, far from being silent, verse twenty-three tells us that Jesus immediately responded "If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?"

Jesus took children up in his arms. He also flipped over a few tables. He said the meek would inherit the earth. He also very un-meekly called the king a fox, an animal that was as ill regarded as a weasel in our day. He was regarded as the friend of sinners, yet he pointedly rebuked sinners for things like adultery, fornication, and more, and even rebuked entire cities by name. In John 14:27 he said "my peace I give unto you," yet in Matthew 10:34 he said, "Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword." In John 13:35 he said, "By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another." But in Matthew 18 he instructed that if a fellow Christian did wrong and would not get right he was to be regarded as "a heathen man and a publican."

Ecclesiastes 3:1 brings some reconciliation to these seemingly disparate things. It says, "To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven." Verse eight tells us that there is "a time of war, and a time of peace."

There most certainly is a time for Christians to be meek and silent. There are also times for Christians to be vocal and militant. Not self-serving or self-aggrandizing, but good soldiers of Christ as Paul instructed Timothy to be. The good news for the world in this is that according to 2 Corinthians 10:4 "the weapons of our warfare are not carnal." Real Christians are never in the bombing, murdering, terrorizing, cursing business, or even in the business of "shock value rudeness". We are, though, to be in the business of standing up loudly and boldly and taking a stand for God and righteousness. Isaiah 58:1 says, "Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sins."

Jesus came to win souls. But he did not do so by constantly telling everyone how wonderful and special and amazing they are. He did so by saying things like "except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish" (Luke 13:3,5) and by warning that one day he would say the words "depart from me, ye that work iniquity." (Matthew 7:23).

A Christianity without a militant streak is as useful as a battery with only a positive and no negative. The positive is essential, the negative is also essential, no real power is possible otherwise.

How to get more money from your tax return...

Yes, it is tax time again. That magical time of the year right after Christmas when many of us are looking forward to getting a refund from the government. I don't know about everyone else but I want to get back as much as I can so why pay someone to do your taxes if you don't have to. There are lots of resources out there to help you get your taxes done...for free!

The Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program offers free tax help for families or individuals with incomes of $54,000 or less. This year there are locations in Danville (434-793-5627), Chatham (434-432-8250) and Caswell County (336-694-7447). These sites will prepare your federal and state taxes at no charge. The volunteers are IRS certified and you can have your money in your account within just a few days.

If you are interested in filing online yourself you can go to www.myfreetaxes.com and file for free. Or, if you are a member of URW Credit Union you can log onto our online banking service (Netbranch) and there is a link to use Turbo Tax service for free also.

As a proud member of the Danville and Pittsylvania communities, it has been our honor and privilege to serve our customers since 1984. In the last 33 years, we have met many wonderful people, bought a lot of little league uniforms, sponsored some really great concerts, and made some tremendous friends!

Being part of a smaller community allows us to interact with people we do business with. Whether it is a local body shop, parts store, gas station or restaurant, we believe that keeping our business local is vital to the health and well being of our community.

Danville Toyota is proud to offer our new car customers:

- Toyota Tacoma is still the BEST SELLING small truck in America!
- The Corolla is the BEST SELLING car in the world since the automobile was first produced!
- Best ever year for both the RAV 4 and Highlander
