establish his medical practice and raise their family. After receiving her certification as a speech and hearing specialist, she taught school in Fayetteville for many years before retiring from the Lincoln County Department of Education in 1998. Ann was deeply loyal to her family, friends, and students, sharing their joys and comforting them during their hardships. She was fair minded, patient, generous, and an advocate for the less fortunate, especially children. Ann was politically active and an avid supporter of rights of the individual. Ann loved taking motorcycle and car rides with her loving companion, Hal. She enjoyed water skiing, bike riding, roller skating, and needlework. She was a talented seamstress, making her children's and grandchildren's christening and wedding gowns, Halloween costumes, and baby dresses. Ann loved flowers and grew roses and zinnias, creating beautiful arrangements and sharing them with area nursing homes. She loved music, especially Chopin, and played her piano all of her life. Her family will miss her pancakes, rolls, salsa, and jam and arriving home to pots on the stove. After a visit filled with love and laughter, she would wave until they were out of sight, already looking forward to the next visit. Ann was preceded in death by her twin brother, Dr. Sam C.
