Brenda Edwards

May 8, 1943 ~ March 12, 2017

I thought I saw her face today
In the sparkle of the sun.
And then I heard the angel say,
"Her work on earth is done."
I thought I heard her voice today
Then laugh her hearty laugh.
And then I heard the angel say,
"There's peace in her at last."
I thought I heard her voice today
In the breeze that rustled by.
And then I heard the angel say,
"The spirit never dies."
I thought that she had left me
For the stars so far above.
And then I heard the angel say,
"She left you with her love."
I thought that I would miss her
And never find my way.
And then I heard the angel say,
"She's with you every day."

The family of Brenda Edwards would like to thank everyone for their thoughts, prayers, flowers and love during the loss of our aunt and sister.

BBB Scam Alert

The Better Business Bureau would like to warn our area businesses about a forgery scam hitting the area.

Scam artists are creating forged checks using the names and addresses of local businesses. These checks have accurate information about the businesses, which can be easily found online.

Once a forged check is made, a subject will go into a local business and ask to use the phone because they had car trouble and needed to call someone for help. While using the phone, the person programs the phone so that all incoming calls forward to another phone number.

The suspects will then go to a gas station or convenience store and attempt to cash the check. The clerks typically call the check issuer's phone number to verify the check. Since the businesses phone has been forwarded, the call goes to the scam artist who then verifies the check.

Since January, suspects have attempted to cash more than $14,000 in forged checks just from Decatur area businesses, according to court affidavits, but the scam could take place anywhere.

The Better Business Bureau advises to be careful of letting unknown people use your business phone without supervision.

If you have questions about this scam or would like to report another scam, please call your BBB member hotline at 256-533-1642.

Cullman Heritage Funeral Home and Crematory

Plan every aspect of your life ... plan how you'll be remembered too.

Reasons for Pre-planning

- Make Logical Decisions
Pre-planning prior to an illness is less emotional; therefore resulting in more practical decisions.
- Make Your Wishes Known
Pre-plan as many details as you so desire.

- Economical
Prices are locked in with no price increases. This could save hundreds, even thousands of dollars.
- Peace of Mind
Knowing you are not leaving your final arrangements to grieving loved ones.

Mr. John Croyle
April 8, 2017 at 7:00 PM
FREE ADMISSION
Cullman High School Auditorium
 John was a defensive end for the University of Alabama's 1973 National Championship football team, playing for the legendary Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant. At 19, John felt he had been given a gift to work with young people. His dream was to have the best children's home in America. On the advice of Coach Bryant, John declined opportunities for professional football to pursue his dream of helping children in need. Since 1974, nearly 2,000 children have called Big Oak Ranch home.

It's sinister how many so called Christian teachers will sacrilege The Holy Bible, use verse against verse in effort to establish their man made religion, which would divide The Holy Father's House (Mt 12:25, Mk 3:25). The beast (Dan 7:25) supplanted The Holy Law with the serpent's beguilement for his followers to think they can eat the unclean, etc, and not die; and to believe it's The Holy Father's grace that gave liberty to switch The Holy Days with man's days then bribe children with candy and gifts to keep them. Be saved by grace not law has the unlearned and unstable (2Pet 3:16) think The Holy Law of Elohim is unrighteous. Only those who keep "The Holy Commandments" (Rev 22:14-15) will eat from the "Tree of Life"! So Be It!

Advanced head and neck cancer has very poor survival rates. In a trial of more than 350 patients with head and neck cancer, published in the New England Journal of Medicine, 36% treated with the immunotherapy drug nivolumab were alive after one year compared with 17% who received chemotherapy. In another study, combining nivolumab with another drug shrank tumors in advanced kidney cancer patients. Immunotherapy works by harnessing the immune system to destroy cancer cells.

While some previous studies have indicated that taking erectile dysfunction (ED) drugs may reduce the likelihood of developing prostate cancer, new research published in The Journal of Urology found that these drugs do not play a role in preventing prostate cancer. ED is a common problem with a prevalence of 20% to 40% in the sixth decade of life and approaching 75% in the seventh decade. Drugs such as tadalafil, sildenafil, and vardenafil are phosphodiesterase type 5 inhibitors (PDE-5is) commonly used to treat ED. Since PDE-5is were first introduced in 1998, their durability, safety, and efficacy for treating ED have been clearly demonstrated.

Statins are a common class of drug often used to prevent cardiac arrest and other such conditions. Even though it has long been known that statins are anti-inflammatory, it is unclear whether the immune system is more specifically affected, the assumption having been that statins are so effective because they reduce levels of cholesterol in the blood. A new study published in The Journal of the American Heart Association shows that it is the immunological effects of statins that explains why statins are effective at preventing heart attacks.

Author Of True Crime Book To Speak At Wallace April 11

Wallace State Community College will host author Donald Brown on April 11, at 6 p.m. at the Burrow Center Recital Hall to discuss his book "Mr. X and Mr. Y." His appearance was rescheduled from the fall semester.

Brown's book is a non-fictional exploration of the "Torso Murders" that occurred in Calhoun County in 1959. Viola Hyatt was the woman convicted of the murders in which she spread her victims' dismembered bodies across three counties in Alabama.

Brown was the original reporter covering the investigation of the "Torso Murders" for The Birmingham News.

"Tapping out these words on a desktop 57 years later, I am as certain about that as ever. That story and that woman have lived in me for a long time. They finally convinced me to share them in a lasting way. So I am shaping a book, perhaps the last lap on my track." -Don Brown, al.com.

Wallace State invites all to attend the event and Brown will be able to give insight about the gruesome murder that some Alabamians may still recall. He will also give advice on how to construct a book, hold a Q&A at the end of his dialogue and hold a book signing at the end of the event.

Admission is free and is open to the public.

Wreck, Recovery Puts Wallace State Student On New Path

Joshua Holmes

Joshua Holmes, 24, had planned to be a high school physical education teacher. That changed in February, 2016, when the Snead man was one of five people involved in a two-car accident.

He said the car he was in was struck broadside by another that ran a stop sign at about 60 miles per hour. Sitting in the back, passenger-side seat, he took the brunt of the impact, suffering numerous injuries that included a broken pelvis and head trauma. He was unconscious for four days and his family could only wait and pray for him to improve.

The first month and a half after the wreck is lost to Holmes. His first memory is of waking up in the back of an ambulance that was taking him from Huntsville to the Shepherd Center in Atlanta to begin months of rehabilitation.

He said his memory is blank for another two to three weeks after that, with his next clear memory being his doctors wanting him to pull himself up to a sitting position after being laid down flat for the first time. "With a pelvis break, that hurts incredibly bad," he said. "That's a pain I will never forget."

Holmes went through months of physical, speech, recreational and occupational therapy, creating a lasting bond with the men and women who guided his treatments at the rehabilitation center. "It's a beautiful thing," he said. "Forever I'm going to have those bonds with those people. There's a lot of good that came out of this wreck, because those are amazing people that I would never have known if I hadn't been in that situation. You've got to find the good in this."

From that experience, Holmes decided to change his major from Physical Education to Occupational Therapy Assistant and started taking classes at Wallace to complete the prerequisites he would need to enter the program. Though he went through several different types of therapy during his recovery, Holmes said occupational therapy was "the most fun."

"They gave me my goals and said what do you want to get back to," he said. "I let them know what I wanted to get back to and they gave me the exercises - both mentally and physically - to help me reach those goals again." His goals included driving and playing golf, so they had him use a driving simulator to get started on that process. "I wrecked the first two times," he laughed. And they took him to a driving range to start practicing his golf swing. They also helped him in the kitchen, making sure he could cook and clean up after himself.

Holmes said he looked forward to occupational therapy every day and that that is what he wants his future patients to experience when he begins working in the field. "I want them to have that positive mentality," he said.

"Going through that therapy and what the therapists did for me, it absolutely made me fall in love with therapy and made me want to just turn my life over to helping others, helping others the way that those therapists helped me," Holmes said. "I want let others know that you can feel like you're at the bottom, you can feel like there's no way you can get past this, but if you believe in yourself and have faith in yourself, and you have faith in the lord, and you have faith that other people do love you and do care for you and do believe in you, you can do anything you want. I just want to do that. That's why I'm here at Wallace."

"I want to make others' lives better," he added. "I want to share that message to each of my patients that I've been there, I've been exactly where you are. Have faith and have hope. Work hard and you'll make it."

In Memoriam

Melvin Eric Douglas Brackman

Mel Brackman passed away on March 25, 2017 at the age of 73. Mr. Brackman is survived by his daughter, Heather Brackman Byars, son-in-law, Jeff, and granddaughter, Claire "the Bear" of Cullman; brothers Brian Brackman (Donna) of Tsawwassen, British Columbia, and Ron Brackman (Donna) of Calgary, Alberta; and several nieces and nephews. He also maintained a friendly relationship with his former wife Melanie Jones, of Hanceville, AL. Mr. Brackman is preceded in death by his parents, Eric and Ida Schultz Brackman.

Mel spent his early years working in British Columbia and Alberta, Canada. He moved permanently to the U.S. in 1977. Based in Houston, Texas, his work primarily focused on computerized resource exploration for the oil industry. He retired to Alabama in 2004 where he joined St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Cullman and began his extensive volunteerism associated with Lutheran Ministries of Alabama and Lutheran Disaster Response.

He loved cheating at cribbage, supporting the UAB Blazers, and most especially, helping others. He had a generous heart, a gentle soul, and a brilliant mind. He was introspective, wise, and unintentionally funny. He was always fair, nonjudgmental, and exceedingly charitable (almost to a fault). He was many things to many people, but now one more thing—greatly missed.

In keeping with his wishes, there will be no public funeral service. Notes of condolence may be sent to 2112 County Road 421, Cullman, AL 35057.

"The Last Supper"

A Presentation of the Leonardo da Vinci Painting will take place at Sacred Heart of Jesus Church • Friday, April 7 at 7:00 pm

Members of the Knights of Columbus from St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Church in Gardendale and St. Henry's Church in Warrior will set the stage with the table surrounded by the 12 disciples and Jesus on Holy Thursday evening, the night that Christ was captured in the Garden of Gethsemane. They have gathered for a meal with Jesus and they are appalled after Jesus tells them that someone around their table there will betray Him that very night.

Then each of the disciples will step forward from the tableau scene and talk with the audience about their time spent with their Master, how they came to follow Him, and then they talk of their fears and questions concerning their future. The audience feels drawn into the special meal and this is the night that the Good Lord Jesus instituted the Catholic Mass and Holy Eucharist. It is a special blessing to be part of this unique program and all are welcome to attend.

The Knights of Columbus of Sacred Heart of Jesus will hold one of their Lenten Fish Fry dinners from 5:00 pm to 6:30 pm prior to the presentation. Plates are $8.00 for adults, $5.00 for children and $25.00 for entire families. Baked/fried fish, potatoes, slaw, hush puppies, dessert and drinks are served in the Family Life Center or may be taken out. Everyone is invited to attend.

Saving You MONEY

SHOP TODAY'S LOW PRICE TAGS:
We have HUNDREDS of non-advertised items marked down throughout our entire store. More savings passed on to our customers. Just look for blue tags on the shelves.

NO LIMITS:
Our competitors also have advertised specials. The difference is, in most cases, they have a limit on how many of an item you can buy at the sale price...we don't have any limits to family shoppers.
