Tomato Focaccia

The dough for this popular Italian bread is "dimpled" (indented) just before baking. The dimples catch some of the olive oil drizzled on at the end for added flavor.

- 1 package quick-rise yeast
- 4 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 6 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 tablespoon cornmeal
- 1 pound ripe plum tomatoes (about 5 medium), sliced 1/4 inch thick
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh rosemary or 1 teaspoon dried rosemary leaves, crushed
- 1/2 teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper

1. In large bowl, combine yeast, 1 1/2 cups flour and 1 1/2 teaspoons salt.

2. In 1-quart saucepan, heat 4 tablespoons olive oil and 1 1/3 cups water over medium heat, until very warm (120 F to 130 F).

3. With mixer at low speed, beat liquid into dry ingredients just until blended. Increase speed to medium; beat 2 minutes, scraping bowl often with rubber spatula. Add 1/2 cup flour; beat 2 minutes. With spoon, stir in 1 1/2 cups flour to make a soft dough.

4. On lightly floured surface, with floured hands, knead dough about 8 minutes, working in more flour (about 1/2 cup) while kneading. Cover dough and let rest 15 minutes.

5. Grease 15 1/2-by-10 1/2-inch jelly-roll pan; sprinkle with cornmeal. Press dough evenly into pan; cover and let rise in warm place (80 F to 85 F) until doubled, about 30 minutes.

6. Heat oven to 400 F. Press fingers into dough almost to bottom of pan, making indentations 1 inch apart. Drizzle with 1 tablespoon olive oil. Arrange sliced tomatoes over top; sprinkle with chopped rosemary, pepper and remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt.

7. Bake focaccia in top third of oven until top is lightly browned, about 35 to 40 minutes. Remove to wire rack; drizzle with remaining 1 tablespoon olive oil. Cool slightly to serve warm. Makes 12 servings.

Donna's Day

Creative family fun

by Donna Erickson

Connect Kids With Animals This Spring

When my friend Brittany Hagan shot me a text asking if I wanted to tag along to 9-year-old Isabel's first rehearsal at the Children's Theatre Company in Minneapolis, I couldn't pass up the opportunity. You see, "Izzie" is a black lab and also a cast member — along with other therapy dogs, baby goats, a rabbit, hen, tortoise and a goldfish — in the theater's innovative and zany spring production, "Animal Dance." Designed with the preschool set in mind, world-renowned choreographer and performance artist Ann Carlson creatively dances and interacts onstage with the critters. "Animals are dancers," says Ann. "A goat wags its tail, a dog rolls over." And when they're onstage together, the unexpected is the rule. Captivating moves and antics provide an improvisational production that entertains and lets young kids gain respect for animals while they discover the similarities they share. Patty Born Selly, assistant professor of education at Hamline University and consultant for "Animal Dance," says children are naturally drawn to animals. Observing and interacting with them gives children an opportunity to demonstrate compassion and responsibility.

Why not open up new possibilities for your kids to connect with animal friends? Here are some of Patty's practical ideas:

—Provide opportunities to care for household pets through brushing and feeding, putting out bird feeders or tending a garden that feeds butterflies and other insects. Clean the fish tank together, or get creative and arrange the "furniture" in a guinea pig cage. Kids will develop a sense of confidence in themselves when they participate. It feels good to help others! Taking care of pets also lets kids practice gentleness and self-regulation. You have to move slowly to feed a bunny without startling it.

—Talk about animals wherever you go. Invite your kids to tell you what the animals are doing and other details they find interesting. For preschoolers, a simple line of ants on a sidewalk can be an exciting discovery. Crouch down and observe together. What do they look like? Where are they going? Even if you don't have answers, it's the sharing that communicates to your child that you value his excitement.

—Put on a play or your own family version of "Animal Dance" with a pet. Through dramatic play, children can "test out" the perspective of others. It's also a playful way to learn about animals while they try on new ways of thinking and being in the world.

Asparagus Is Perfect for Spring Recipes

Nothing says "spring is here" like a beautiful bunch of crisp asparagus. While asparagus is available year-round, it's much better when purchased locally.

Asparagus is easy to select and prepare, and comes in a variety of vibrant colors including green, violet, purple and white. It also grows wild and is commercially available fresh, frozen and canned. The stalks range in size from colossal to small. Various types and colors of asparagus can be used without any noticeable difference in the taste, so mix and match colors and sizes for visual interest.

Asparagus should be crisp and firm, not limp or wrinkled, with tightly closed tips. Dull colors and ridges in the stems are an indication of a lack of freshness. The stalks should not be limp or dry at the cut and of uniform thickness.

If you're planning to use the asparagus on the same day, rinse it under cool water and pat the stalks dry with a paper towel. Smaller stalks can be broken or cut at the point where the stem naturally snaps. Peeling the end of thicker stalks with a paring knife or a vegetable peeler removes any woody stems and can be done up to 2 hours before cooking. Place the prepared asparagus in a plastic bag in the refrigerator to stay crisp until ready to cook.

Fresh asparagus should never be washed or soaked before storing. If the asparagus is bound with a rubber band, remove it, as it will pinch and bruise the stalks. Asparagus can be stored for up to two days if the stalks are trimmed and placed upright in a jar with about an inch of water in the bottom. Cover the asparagus with a plastic bag and store the spears in the refrigerator.

Depositphoto

Asparagus cooks in minutes and can be prepared steamed or boiled in the microwave or oven. It tastes delicious hot or cold, and it also freezes well if blanched first in hot water.

Asparagus is a nutritional powerhouse. One-half cup of cooked asparagus contains significant amounts of folic acid, vitamin C, potassium and beta-carotene. It's also a heart-healthy food, and a natural diuretic.

This versatile vegetable works well as a room-temperature appetizer, blended into a soup, as a flavorful side dish, the main ingredient in a colorful salad or as part of a main course like my recipe for Lemon Chicken with Asparagus. Preparing asparagus is a delicious and nutritious way to celebrate spring.

LEMON CHICKEN WITH ASPARAGUS

- 1/2 tablespoons olive oil
- 4 chicken breasts, about 3 pounds, washed and fat trimmed and removed
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoons poultry seasoning
- 4 garlic cloves, chopped
- 1 red bell pepper, chopped
- 1/2 pound asparagus, stalks trimmed and cut into 1 inch pieces
- 1 teaspoon lemon zest
- 1/2 cup chicken stock
- 3 cups cooked rice

1. In a large non-stick skillet, heat the oil over medium high heat. Season the chicken pieces with the salt, pepper and poultry seasoning. Place the chicken, skin-side down, and cook for 5 to 7 minutes. Turn the pieces skin-side up, and cook until golden brown and done, about 5 minutes.

2. Stir in the garlic and red bell pepper. Add the asparagus and cook for 1 minute. Stir in the zest and the chicken stock and bring to a simmer. Cover and cook for 3 minutes. Serve immediately over hot rice.

COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEWS

BY SAM STRUCKHOFF

PICKS OF THE WEEK

La La Land (PG-13) — In a colorful, idealized version of modern-day Los Angeles, an aspiring actress (Emma Stone) strikes up a blossoming and endearing romance with an aspiring jazz musician (Ryan Gosling). The plot is what people are raving about, and the dazzling colors, tight choreography, A-list chemistry and toe-tapping tunes that ensue. It's also noted for being a powerful musical that features less-than-musical types, even though Stone had a Broadway run in "Cabaret." Some may be too cynical to actually enjoy these two sublime beings, traipsing around and being all perfect and convincingly in love — which may be more an issue of this reviewer than a fault of the film. It's like that popular jerk you're ready to hate, until you're disarmed in a minute flat with unexpected wit and a winsome smile.

Kate Beckinsale continues Beckinsaling through underground tunnels and shadowy rooms, slicing and shooting alternately at hissy vampires or growly "lycans." She's being hunted by the vampire cabal for breaking their rules regarding werewolf-on-vamp copulation — they're against it. Even now, as I write this synopsis, I'm not sure if I'm accidentally splicing in memories from the "Blade" and "Twilight" franchises. The lesson is this: If the effects look hokey, just cover 'em up with really dim lighting. In fact, make the whole movie as dim as a port-o-potty interior.

Emma Stone, Ryan Gosling in "La La Land"

The Daughter (NR) — This dour family drama draws from a play by Henrik Ibsen and updates the setting to a desperate forest town in modern-day Australia. Melancholy Christian (Paul Schneider) returns home after a long stay in the States. His father (Geoffrey Rush) is getting married to a much younger woman, and he just announced that he's closing the sawmill that supports the town's economy. Christian reconnects with his old friend Oliver (Ewan Leslie), a mill-worker living happily with his wife and daughter. Secrets, lies, dreams deferred and fermented resentment threaten everybody's reality as truths start leaking out.

The Girl with All the Gifts (R) — Zombie flicks have been done to death — so much so that jokes about the genre being reanimated and refusing to die are now also cliché. This one is different. After the zombie outbreak that undoes civilization, there's a new generation of kids who have a barely controlled desire for flesh, but retain their human faculties of speech and emotion. Melanie (Sennia Nannua) is one such little girl who is locked up in a holdout experimental facility run by Dr. Caldwell (Glenn Close ... I know). When the facility falls to the horde outside, Melanie controls her bloodlust and rescues her teacher, kicking off a last-ditch road trip through the apocalypse. Think if a zombie movie had the same bite as "Children of Men."

Based on the play "The Wild Duck," the movie adaptation leans into the somber bitterness and resignation of the characters, leaving out much of the comedic beats in the original. The pacing and tone cause a noticeable sag in the action. The performances are blameless across the board, including Sam Neill as a disgraced father turned wildlife rehabilitator.

Collecting by Larry Cox

Lionel Train Sets

Q. I have two train sets in their original boxes from the 1950s. One is a Lionel Berkshire 2-8-4 die-cast steam locomotive and die-cast tender, number 8-8215; the other is a Lionel train nickel-plated extended caboose, number 6-6905. Can you recommend a good reference book for these items? — Victoria, Rio Rancho, New Mexico

A. There are several excellent references, but my personal favorite is "The Standard Catalogue of Lionel Trains 1945-1969," by David Doyle and published by Krause Books. This excellent guide is the most complete book of its kind and features more than 1,100 photos, detailed descriptions and accurate current-market values. This helpful reference should keep you on track.

Q. I found a St. Christopher medal in a Goodwill store that is unusual in that it has an image of Mary embossed on its back. It is made from a gray metal, perhaps pewter. Does this feature make this medal unique? — Cherryll, Saratoga, Fla.

A. St. Christopher is the patron saint of travelers. Millions of his medals have been distributed throughout the years. Although your medal has a less common design, it still has very little value to collectors unless it is made of silver, gold or a precious metal. I suspect your medal is, indeed, made of pewter.

Q. When I was in London during the 1960s, I purchased a biography of Beardsley, the illustrator, by Stanley Weintraub. It is a first edition in near mint condition. I can't remember how much I paid for it, but am curious to know if it has increased much in value. — Bill, San Angelo, Texas

A. Your biography was published by W.H. Allen in 1967. I contacted several rare-book dealers, and they seem to agree that it is probably worth about $100.

Q. I have a collection of World War II gasoline ration stamps issued two days before the end of the war. I would like to sell them. — Lucien, Warren, Rhode Island

A. Even though gasoline and sugar ration stamps are less common than many of the others issued, there are still fairly plentiful. I have seen them sell at shows for a couple of dollars per sheet.

Diabetic Asks If Meds Caused Leg Weakness?

DEAR DR. ROACH: I have peripheral neuropathy symptoms in my feet. I am borderline diabetic and keep it under control by eating right. Also, my legs are weak, and I am doing exercises. I was taking the drug Reglan for a couple of months. During the time I was taking it was when I started to have these leg problems. Could this be a side effect of the Reglan? — G.D.

ANSWER: Diabetic neuropathy is a complication of longstanding diabetes, especially if it has been poorly controlled. Occasionally, it can show up seemingly early in the course of Type 2 diabetes, but this is thought to represent a delay in diagnosis in otherwise asymptomatic disease or in those who have ignored symptoms. The symptoms of diabetic neuropathy usually begin with numbness, and later on pain and tingling of the feet. Weakness, when it happens, generally comes later on.

Metoclopramide (Reglan) is used for nausea and vomiting, especially after chemotherapy, and is used to stimulate the stomach emptying in people with diabetic gastroparesis, which is a type of neuropathy of the nerves to the stomach and intestines. Many or most diabetics with gastroparesis also have diabetic neuropathy. However, metoclopramide should not be given for more than eight weeks due to the risk of tardive dyskinesia, a serious disease of motor control, especially in the facial muscles. Although tardive dyskinesia can cause symptoms in the limbs, weakness would be unusual, and tardive dyskinesia would be very unusual if you took the Reglan only for two months and have stopped. I think it is unlikely that either diabetic neuropathy or the Reglan are causing the muscle weakness. There are many kinds of neuropathies, and all (or nearly all) are more common in people with diabetes. I would revisit your doctor to try to find out more about why you are having leg weakness.

READERS: Diabetes has become epidemic in North America. The booklet on it offers insight into its diagnosis and treatment. Order a copy by writing: Dr. Roach — No. 402W, 628 Virginia Drive, Orlando, FL 32803. Enclose a check or money order (no cash) for $4.75 U.S./$6 Canada with the recipient's printed name and address. Please allow four weeks for delivery.

DEAR DR. ROACH: We always hear about "superfoods" and their antioxidant power. Is there any truth to the hype? — H.C.

ANSWER: I know what you are saying; blueberries, kale and acai berries often are called "superfoods." I don't really know what "superfood" means. These foods are generally healthy, as part of a balanced diet, but it doesn't mean that eating them can make you live forever — or even erase bad food choices.

To me, a healthy diet is one with lots of diversity — many different fruits, vegetables, nuts, whole grains and fish and limited amounts (or none) of red meat, saturated fat and processed foods. Health isn't found by sticking to a fad diet, but by a lifetime of healthy eating, regular exercise, stress reduction, good social interactions and being fortunate enough to avoid injury and disease. Making good choices dramatically improves your odds of a healthy life.

Dr. Roach regrets that he is unable to answer individual letters, but will incorporate them in the column whenever possible. Readers may email questions to ToYourGoodHealth@med.cornell.edu. To view and order health pamphlets, visit www.rbmanall.com, or write to Good Health, 628 Virginia Drive, Orlando, FL 32803.

Service Dogs Still Face Awareness Gap

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I recently saw a news story about a woman with a service dog who was kicked off of an airline flight. And my state is trying to "toughen up" laws about service dogs. I'm confused. Why aren't service animals getting their due? — Dane in Springfield, Massachusetts

DEAR DANE: Despite a lot of publicity about service animals and other types of companion animals, there is still confusion in the general public and among businesses about these helpers, the roles they play, and whether they're allowed into stores, restaurants or even airline flights.

The recent airline incident demonstrates that there's still a lack of knowledge about how service dogs and their owners should be accommodated. (The airline ultimately apologized to the passenger.)

Part of the problem is not knowing or understanding how service or companion animals, such as therapy dogs, should be accommodated. Another part of the problem is that the regulation about service dogs in the ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) is somewhat vague and doesn't address other animals or specific types of services. Therapy and other types of companion pets are not mentioned in the ADA regulation.

The bill being debated in Massachusetts takes aim at a third problem that has arisen: businesses that take advantage of the ADA's vague wording to sell inadequately trained animals to people in need of service dogs or companion pets. Supporters of the bill say that poorly trained animals can undo years of work raising awareness of the need to allow service dogs and therapy pets to come into businesses with their owners.

In short, there's a need for clearer legislation and continued awareness-building about service, therapy and companion animals and the roles they play.

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Savannah Desoto
Brittlebread

This recipe originally appeared in FanFare, a cookbook created by The Des Moines Symphony Guild.

- 2½ cups all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup butter (1 stick), softened
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 8-ounce container plain yogurt

1. Mix all ingredients. Wrap dough with plastic wrap and chill at least 1 hour or overnight.

2. Take about one-eighth of dough and roll out to a thin sheet to fit on ungreased cookie sheet. The dough is light and sticky, and the board and rolling pin will need re-flouring frequently. Wrap dough loosely around rolling pin, then unroll it onto cookie sheet. (For easier rolling, work with 1 piece of dough at a time and keep remaining dough in the refrigerator.)

3. Bake at 425 F for 5 to 8 minutes until golden brown. Keep an eye on it; it browns very quickly once it starts. Remove brittlebread to wire rack to cool, then break into serving-size pieces. Repeat with remaining dough. If brittlebread does not seem crisp enough, it can be put back into the oven briefly. Store brittlebread in tightly covered container. Makes 16 servings.

• Each serving: About 155 calories, 6g fat, 16mg cholesterol, 90mg sodium.

• "Safety-pin fitted sheets and mattress pads together on the edges when washing and drying. It keeps other items from balling up inside." — M.W. in Iowa

• Here's a great (and super simple) tactic for making a cool, delicious treat, from L.O. in New Mexico: "Purchase a six-pack of single-serve yogurt tubs with a paper or foil lid. Poke a wooden ice-pop stick into each on and put the whole thing in the freezer. The next day you have a pack of yummy yogurt pops, which have nutrition and taste great."

• Great grapes! This tip will be a hit at your next outdoor barbecue: Serve wine (and punch, too) with frozen grapes as ice cubes. Wash and rinse a bunch of grapes and stick them in the freezer. They make a tasty snack all alone, but will keep a glass of white wine chilled while not watering it down."

• "To charge your phone a bit quicker, try putting it in airplane mode. It really does help." — W.E. in Mississippi

• Get all the tomato paste out of the can with this kitchen hack: Open up one side of the can, then run a butter knife around the inside perimeter to separate the paste from the can. Finally, flip it upside down on a plate and open the other side of the can. Remove the can with a bit of a shake, and it should slip out just like cranberry jelly!

• Don't remember how long you've had those eggs? Here's a handy tip to check any egg: Submerge in a glass of water. Fresh eggs lay flat on the bottom. Aging but still good eggs stand up, but remain submerged. If your egg floats, better not chance it.

HOLLYWOOD

by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — Glenn Close — currently re-creating her award-winning portrayal of Norma Desmond in the Andrew Lloyd Webber musical "Sunset Boulevard" on Broadway — has six films in the pipeline. First up is "Guardians of the Galaxy 2," opening May 5, followed by the comedy "Bastards," with Owen Wilson, Ed Helms and Oscar-winner J.K. Simmons, on Dec. 22; the sci-fi thriller "What Happened to Monday," with Willem Dafoe; the romantic comedy "Wild Wedding," with John Malkovich, Patrick Stewart and Minnie Driver; "Crooked House," with Max Irons, Gillian Anderson and Christina Hendricks; and "The Wife," with Jonathan Price, Christian Slater, Max Irons and Elizabeth McGovern, which started filming Nov. 21 in Glasgow. Six films in one year, and Close just turned 70.

After the success of "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane," Bette Davis was Oscar-nominated and Joan Crawford wasn't. But Crawford went to the four other nominees and offered to accept their award if they couldn't attend. When Anne Bancroft won for "The Miracle Worker," Crawford accepted her award and Davis fumed. When Robert Aldrich signed her to star in "Hush, Hush, Sweet Charlotte," he waited for the ink to dry before telling her she'd be starring with Joan Crawford again. Davis was furious and said, "The best time I ever had with Joan Crawford was when I pushed her down the stairs in 'Whatever Happened to Baby Jane!'"

Many years later, Davis told me, "I saw a scene in the script for "Hush, Hush, Sweet Charlotte," where I had to douse her with water. I asked Aldrich to shoot that first because it was complicated, and I was right, I couldn't get it right from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m., and by the end of the day, Crawford was taken to the hospital with pneumonia. I called my friend Olivia de Havilland and told her I was sending her a script. She replaced Crawford."

I told Bette I'd seen Crawford when she made her first public appearance in the lobby of a theater. She posed for us for 15 minutes using a pay phone as a prop, saying, "Hello, Hello?" When she saw we were done she said, "Why, it's Bette Davis" and slammed the phone down. Davis was furious and asked, "Was that when she looked like 'Clarabelle the Clown' in that gold lame outfit? I nodded, "Yes," and she said, "She thinks she's had the last word!"

Bruce Willis is taking on the reboot of the Charles Bronson "Death Wish" (1974) franchise, with Sylvester Stallone as one of the producers. The original spawned four sequels, as did Willis' "Die Hard." It certainly helps if you have a "Death Wish" to be able to "Die Hard!"

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A financial crunch eases, but it's still a good idea to keep a tight rein on what you spend for nonessentials. Education becomes a major focus as the week winds down.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Recent encounters with stressful situations could require some restorative measures to get your energy levels back up. Talk to your doctor about a diet and exercise program.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) New connections follow changes on the job or in your personal life. But keep your feelings reined in until these relationships have a chance to develop.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Pay more attention to your aches and pains, but avoid self-diagnoses. Seek professional advice to make sure these problems won't lead to something more serious.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You love doing research and learning new things, so you'll be happy to know that education becomes a big part of your life at this time, and for some time to come.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Your Piscean penchant for doing things logically could be challenged by an equally strong emotional reaction to a new situation. Best advice: Keep the two factors in balance.

BORN THIS WEEK: You love music and nature. You would be an excellent environmentalist, as well as a fine singer or musician.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A sudden change of plans could lead to a misunderstanding with a friend or family member. Be ready to offer a full explanation of your decision. A past favor is returned.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Expect pressure from those who want you to change your position on a matter of importance. However, the determined Bovine will be able to withstand the bullying and win out.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) It's time to stop dwelling on past disappointments and move on to other possibilities. By week's end, you'll be meeting new people and making new plans for the future.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A long-simmering situation between co-workers threatens to heat up and could create problems with your work schedule. Best advice: Consult a supervisor on how to proceed.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You might have just learned that someone close to you is keeping a secret. And, of course, the Cat's curiosity has gone into overdrive. But be patient. All is revealed soon enough.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Don't give up. The recognition citing the good work you recently did will come through. Meanwhile, an opportunity opens up that can lead to a lot of traveling later on.

Good Housekeeping

Savannah Desoto Brittlebread

This recipe originally appeared in FanFare, a cookbook created by The Des Moines Symphony Guild.

2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 cup butter (1 stick), softened
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 8-ounce container plain yogurt

1. Mix all ingredients. Wrap dough with plastic wrap and chill at least 1 hour or overnight.
2. Take about one-eighth of dough and roll out to a thin sheet to fit on ungreased cookie sheet. The dough is light and sticky, and the board and rolling pin will need re-flouring frequently. Wrap dough loosely around rolling pin, then unroll it onto cookie sheet. (For easier rolling, work with 1 piece of dough at a time and keep remaining dough in the refrigerator.)
3. Bake at 425 F for 5 to 8 minutes until golden brown. Keep an eye on it; it browns very quickly once it starts. Remove brittlebread to wire rack to cool, then break into serving-size pieces. Repeat with remaining dough. If brittlebread does not seem crisp enough, it can be put back into the oven briefly. Store brittlebread in tightly covered container. Makes 16 servings.

• Each serving: About 155 calories, 6g fat, 16mg cholesterol, 90mg sodium.
