Benvenuti!
Welcome to the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, family owned and operated since 1946.

In 1942, the late Joseph (Uncle Joe) Origlio began making homemade spaghetti sauce on his mother's stove and selling the sauce, known as "Joe's Spaghetti Sauce," locally. The sauce was Grandma Favazza's family recipe. Popularity of the sauce dictated a larger facility, thus the Wagon Wheel Restaurant was born. With a $1,000 loan from his parents, our grandparents, Basilio Origlio and Calgera Favazza, immigrants from Sicily in 1913 and 1915, the original restaurant was built in the "flats" of Oneida, New York.

The Wagon Wheel Restaurant sustained fires in 1958 and 1962. The restaurant was rebuilt at its original location of 257 Wilson Street in Oneida with Uncle Joe's commitment and passion to serve the finest Italian food in a place that you could call your home and a meeting place for establishing friendships. The celebration of Italian-American food continued until 1968 when Uncle Joe closed the restaurant but continued to make the now famous sauce.

In 1977, the spaghetti sauce manufacturing was purchased by Uncle Joe's brother, Benny. Uncle Benny continued to manufacture the spaghetti sauce and opened up a "take out" service, with the signature item, "We make them, you bake them", pizza.

In 1985, nephew Paul Origlio, after many years of learning the business from Uncle Joe and Uncle Benny purchased the business. Paul reopened the eat-in portion of the restaurant in 1989 under the name "Joe's Pizza". Over the next decade, Paul continued to add to the "pizza and wing" menu. In 2001, the name was changed back to Origlio's Wagon Wheel Restaurant. After undergoing multiple fecelifts and expansions, the Wagon Wheel out grew its location. Paul approached his brother Brian and his sister Mary Jane and began the greatest expansion since Uncle Joe's original vision in 1942. The second generation set in motion the relocation of the Wilson Street restaurant to the new location on the Main street in Oneida in order to meet the needs of our guests and provide expanded services. Construction of the current restaurant at its new location began in September, 2010 and was completed on June 6, 2011.

Such a decision was not made without consideration to our long guests and the memories associated with our prior location. However, the Origlio Family prides itself on providing a relaxed, family friendly, neighborhood restaurant and we are confident that the new restaurant preserves Uncle Joe's commitment to tradition, the reflection of the past, and a dining experience that, our guests, will enjoy. We look forward to being your host, creating additional memories and passing on family traditions for generations to come.

Get comfortable and enjoy your experience. And remember, "Chi Mangia Bane, Mangia Italiano" (Those Who eat Well, Eat Italian. Buon Appetito!

Paul, Brian and Mary Jane
