Iowa Wood Artists Join The "Family" At Bijou Gallery

Two remarkable "wizards with wood" have joined the 100-plus artists represented at Bijou Gallery in Okoboji - Randy Fratzke, a resident of Arnolds Park, and Tim Anderson of Twilight Zone Designs in Cherokee.

"Randy's work has been in the shop since last spring," says gallery owner, Kathryn Buckley. "And it's been very well received. He creates a variety of plates, bowls, vessels, boxes, wine corks, business card holders, serving tongs and more - pieces that are warm and friendly, lovely to see and touch, functional and affordable. Some pieces feature inlay work or segmented structure, some surprise you with a bit of colorful turquoise.

"Tim's work has been in Bijou for about two months," she continues. "And I am delighted to have his one-of-a-kind creations here. He designs wall sculptures, decorative boxes and accent furnishings using exotic woods and veneers, metals, colored lacquers, found objects, and a healthy dose of imagination! His pieces are hard to describe and impossible to ignore. But they are truly extraordinary." In Tim's words, "My art falls somewhere between post-modern, art deco and whimsy. I hope it puts a smile on your face."

Located in the old Stone Cottage on 71 Highway in Okoboji, Bijou Gallery features fine crafts, decorative arts, jewelry and gifts, all made by hand in the United States and Canada. Customer amenities include "Wish List" gift registry services, gift certificates, layaway services, and custom orders. Regular gallery hours are Thursday through Monday, 10:00am - 4:00pm, but the shop is open daily, now through Christmas Eve.

Farm Market News By Mike Miller Located At Dickinson Co. Fairgrounds 15th Street & Peoria Avenue Spirit Lake, Ia 51360 A Peek at the Future

Welcome to farm market news. We have two vendors at the market who represent the future. There is Kentwood Farms and the hydroponic tomatoes. Their huge advantage is the timeliness of their product. Kentwood Farms has the market beat by at least 14 or fifteen days. Also growing English cucumbers and heirloom tomatoes, (very tasty) the customers line up early to get the tasty produce. Now, the responsibility of setting the market price gives them a genuine edge in their niche. I do not use the word responsibility lightly. As pricing the tomato will be the set price until the middle of August when the market gets flooded with all produce. Exploiting the technology of early production gives Webb's favorite grower a well-deserved Iowa

Where Kentwood Farms are old hand at producing since 2000, the Shrimp-Shed is pretty new to the game. This is their second year of production. What has been an eye opener to me is the difference in flavor that the fresh farm grown shrimp has over the frozen wild caught shrimp. One taste and you will be convinced too. While most folks dream of selling everything they produce, the Heuck family does it pretty regularly. Because once they empty a tank of shrimp, they sell every single one live because they never freeze their product. By using facebook and other social media and offering a better than wild product, the people have responded by selling them out every time I have seen them at the market. I am looking forward to others joining these two vendors as I see high technology and small producers merging to the benefit of all. Until next week, eat well!

Two Okoboji students play in Tuba Christmas

It was just a week ago that we recognized the eight Spirit Lake High School musicians who took part in Estherville's Tuba Christmas. This week it's time to note the two Okoboji High School musicians who enjoyed a like situation in Spencer a week ago Monday night. Heather Nase and Catherine Rohret brought the average age of participants much lower than it otherwise would have been. For the record, the ages of Spencer's Tuba Christmas participants ranged from 14 to 74 - with seven of those being present or retired music educators!

And a good time was had by all in both communities.

In case you've never been to a Tuba Christmas, you should know that the events are presented the world over. The first concert in honor of the late artist and teacher William J. Bell (who was born on Christmas in 1902), was held on the famed ice rink at New York's Rockefeller Plaza in 1974.

When Indiana University's Harvey Phillips first came up with the Tuba Christmas concept he called the folks at "30 Rock" and was told, "No," several times before he convinced the powers that were to call a couple of his "friends," before making the decision final. Phillips then gave the hardened New Yorkers the phone number for composer, conductor, arranger and pianist Morton Gould; along with another for composer, conductor, author, music lecturer, and pianist Leonard Bernstein.

As Sioux Falls Tuba Christmas coordinator Al Berdahl explained between selections in Spencer, it wasn't long before Phillips was told he could do anything he wanted!

It's hard for us to imagine hundreds of tubas in a cavern just off Fifth Avenue. As Berdahl explained, "There are things you can do with 14 or 15 tubas that you don't dare do with 400 or 500!'

If you missed this year's events, you'd do well to make time to enjoy next year's shows - and maybe even play or just sing-along with the crowd... Still in Manhattan mode, we emailed Kent Tritle last week to get more details on information we found on his website.

Our quick query about two of the special guests for the New Year's Eve Great Music in a Great Space at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, came back with a more thoughtful response than just the "yes" we expected. "You've got it right — Judy (Collins) as in Both Sides Now (bows and flows of angel hair, and ice cream castles in the air...). Harry (Smith, of NBC-TV News) is the emcee. He speaks between segments, tying the evening together with commentary on current events ...

What Kent couldn't tell us is whether Harry will be riding his folding bike uptown on New Year's Eve as he does each day to 30 Rock.

There's still time for you to make your travel plans - probably by car or

Last week we also suggested marking January 23 on your calendars for a Curtain Call Recognition at the SAMI Center. That is the night Billy McGuigan is set to return to the SAMI with his Rock Legends show.

But before the show there is to be a tribute to the SAMI's longtime manager Terry Miller, who says he is retiring for the final time. The five o'clock party in the Black Box Theatre will include a dessert and horsd'oeuvres bar, followed by a brief program...

John Senn and friends are set to return to Table 316, in Arnolds Park, this Wednesday night and the next two Wednesday nights, from 7 - 10:00...

Thursday night will see the South 71 Trio on stage in the barn at the Little Swan Lake Winery, from 6 - 8:00. Ceolmhor will return to the same stage Sunday afternoon, from 4 - 6:00. And New Year's Eve will welcome Daylight Again, paying tribute to The Beatles and Crosby, Stills and Nash, from 7:30 to

The Itty Bitty Boji Band will be playing this Saturday night, from 7 - 10:00, at the VFW in Spirit Lake. We messed up two IBBB engagements here last week. It was the Norgaard Country Band that played Friday night at Spencer's YMCA. But the IBBB is scheduled to play there on Friday night, January 8th — as a make-up for the night they were snowed out in Novem-

Whether you did or didn't get to see either of Glenn Henriksen's Christmas concerts last week, you have one more chance to hear him before Christmas. Glenn will be performing a Christmas Concert at Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, in Dunnell, Minnesota, Sunday afternoon at 2:00.

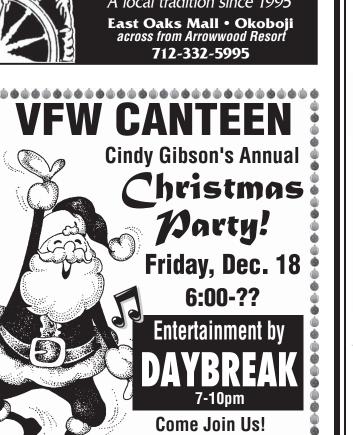

Research Director RD has come up with three interesting things to celebrate this week, including the Wednesday birthday of Ludwig von Beethoven – who was Peanuts cartoon character Schroeder's favorite composer... A Christmas Carol was first published on December 17, 1843, and sold its entire press run of 6000 copies in just one week... And, it was December 19, 1957, that The Music Man premiered on Broadway, running until 1961, after which it was made into two movie musicals -- in 1962 and 2003. Mason City's very-own composer Meredith Willson, who received five Tony Awards for the show, said it was, "an Iowan's attempt to pay tribute to his home state...'

What neither RD nor Stagerat Stan have been able to come up with is the identity of the gentleman seen at Spencer's Messiah concert last week with a tattered copy of the vocal score of The Messiah that he first used in 1954 -when he was a sophomore in high school. If you think you know who this man is, you can reach Stan at the edress below. As Mr. Bartles and Mr. James used to say, "We thank you."

Naturalist Charles Vigdal will teach you how during the Winter Survival Hike the Wild 3:00pm, Wednesday, December 23, at Kenue Park in Okoboji.

The final Hike the Wild program for 2015 will get people into the park just outside the Dickinson County Nature Center to learn all about how to survive in the wild, especially in the winter. Vigdal will teach people about finding water, shelter and food in adverse

"It's very important information everyone should know," he said "It's practical information."

Vigdal will teach people how to prepare for the worst, from what to pack in your car during the winter that will help you should you get stranded to an emergency kit that can fit in your pocket when you're

Then, if you do find yourself in an emergency, Vigdal said to stop, look around, calm down and think.

"If you're in a survival situation, we'll talk about what state of mind you need to be in," he said, and that lesson goes beyond simply outdoor survival. "It's good for any emergency situation."

While hiking, participants will learn the basics of where to get clean water, how to tell where north is, and finally, how to build a lean-to debris shelter. Vigdal will help people practice their shelter-building skills in the park using sticks and other natural materials.

The approximately one-hour hike will end back at the Dickinson County Nature Center for hot chocolate.

The Winter Survival hike is open to anyone, however, it is recommended that children be at least school-age because of the in-depth information to be discussed

Cyclone State Again Thanks to Hilton Magic!

Wow, the annul Cy-Hawk game was one for the ages, at least if you are an Iowa State fan, as the Cyclones would rally from two 20 point deficits, including an eight point hole with just under 2:00 to play to shock the Hawkeyes 83-82 on Thursday night in front of another raucous crowd that helped move the legend of Hilton Magic to another level. When it was announced earlier this year that the Iowa/Iowa State basketball game had been moved from a Friday to Thursday to accommodate a national ESPN2 audience I was elated, as the usual Friday night they have played the game on causes myself, and thousands of other Iowans to miss the game because of high school basketball. During the first half of the game on Thursday I was wishing they hadn't moved it so I wouldn't have had to watch the dismantling of ISU by the Hawks. Jarrod Uthoff was doing his best Steph Curry impression on his way to 30, yes that's right, 30 first half points as Iowa would build a 20 point lead before ISU showed some signs of life to cut the lead to 49-35 at the half.

I actually felt ok at halftime as ISU came back last year so many times from double digit deficits that 14 points seemed like a relatively small deficit. That feeling soon left as the Cyclones came out of the locker room still lacking any urgency on defense, this time allowing Peter Jok to do whatever he wanted to do while scoring 14 quick points to build the lead back to 62-42. ISU would chip away at the lead as Iowa began to turn the ball over and take some questionable shots and the Cyclones pulled all the way within one with 5:42 to play, and Hilton was rocking. Iowa, however would answer and build the lead all the way back to eight as the clock ticked under the two minute mark. It appeared the Hawks had dodged the comeback and would walk out of Hilton with their first win in seven attempts, but Hilton Magic wasn't quite dead yet. ISU would attack the rim, get to the foul line, get some stops and force some huge turnovers with their press to pull within 82-81 with :26 remaining. This is when Mr. Clutch, Monte Morris would hit one of his patented floaters to give the Cyclones their first lead since the opening minutes; Uthoff would miss a 3-pointer at the buzzer as ISU held on for their third straight win in the series and 7th out of the last 10.

Several takes from the Cy-Hawk thriller-(1) Iowa is much better than many people thought and they will contend for another NCAA Tournament berth. The Hawks have plenty to clean up from this game, including shot selection (why was Nicholas Baer shooting 3-pointers?), a new press offense, and end of the game execution; but Iowa has to feel good about how they played and where they are heading this season. (2) Iowa State needs to play with a sense of urgency for 40 minutes. I had hoped they learned their lesson after their NCAA Tournament loss to UAB last year; but they played with absolutely zero urgency in the first 25 minutes, allowing Uthoff and then Jok to be way too comfortable. Uthoff is a great player, but no one should ever put 30 points on you in a half! (3) I love the style of play both teams use, as they both get up and down the floor with great spacing and ball movement (for the most part) on offense. These teams are both fun to watch and they both will have successful seasons this year. (4) Matt Thomas should have gotten the game ball for ISU; while Jameel McKay had another double/double with 20 points and 12 rebounds, Morris hit the game winner and ended up with 20 points and 9 assists, George Niang had another big night with 16 points, 6 rebounds and 5 assists; it was Thomas (19 points, 4 rebounds) who kept the Clones in the game early and Thomas who finally figured out how to stop Uthoff, who scored only 2 second half points. Without Thomas' play this would have been a 15 point Iowa victory, but (5) It's still a Cyclone State in basketball, baby!!

Region Captures $20,000 Planning Grant From Iowa Parks Foundation

DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

The Iowa Parks Foundation has announced a $20,000 matching grant to six local counties to develop a broad and long-term strategy for parks and trail development. The planning process could lead to a second grant worth $1.9 million from the parks

Buena Vista, Clay, Dickinson, Emmet, O'Brien, and Palo Alto counties. Governments in each of the six counties pledged $3,500 to support the request. Northwest Iowa Planning and Development Commission will lead the planning effort.

"The Iowa Parks Foundation and local governments are granting the region the opportunity to create a unified plan for parks and recreation and, potentially, to complete some projects that otherwise would not be attainable," said Ted Kourousis, Executive Director of NWIPDC.

A Green Ribbons Commission working group drawn from government, nonprofits and business coordinated the local appeal for matching dollars. Members of that group will now convene to consider how best to undertake planning and implementation, a process that will require public input and substantial financial support.

According to its web site, the Iowa Parks Foundation "exists to strengthen the connection between Iowa's people and their parks." The organization collaborates with the Iowa Department of Natural Resources and the Green Ribbon Commission, an organization created by Governor Terry Branstad to determine how best to ensure relevance and sustainability of Iowa's parks and recreation systems.

Thus far, only the Grant Wood Loop in Dubuque, Jackson BSSW, Social Work, Magna Cum Laude; Brittney Kroenke, grant from the Iowa Parks Foundation. Multiple other regions

Kiley Miller, Chairman of the local Green Ribbons Commission group, said that the six counties have the natural assets, including 43 lakes, to be an even greater tourism draw and provide unrivaled quality-of-life.

"This planning grant is the first step in what will be a long outweigh the labor.'

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor:

Yes, there is a Santa Claus! In these troubled times it's refreshing to meet nice, generous people like Cindy and Jeff Mincer, executors of the Kay Jewett Estate.

There are needy families and individuals in our community who go without proper food, shelter, transportation and essential medical care every day, due to a variety of factors such as; low wages, illness, divorce and many other underlying factors. It takes a village to come together to help our local families in need at such a crucial time of the year.

I found myself and children in need of a reliable vehicle, as the one I've had doesn't have heat, which makes for cold rides to the school, day care and grocery store. Thanks to the generosity of the Kay (Marilyn) Jewett Estate, that will no longer be the case. And I will once again have reliable transportation. Thank you so much, Jeff and Cindy! I'd also like to thank Cassidy Hemphill, my childcare provider at Safari Child Care Center and her mother, Tia, for telling the Mincers about my plight.

Pay it forward. Make someone's Christmas or any other day special! I know they've made mine!

Best Wishes,

Sarah Scott • Milford, Iowa

PLAC To Show Jackson Pollock's Mural: The Story of a Modern Masterpiece

The Pearson Lakes Art Center will present the documentary, Jackson Pollock's Mural: The Story of a Modern Masterpiece, on December 16 at 6:30 PM in the Lauridsen Performing Arts Theatre at the Pearson Lakes Art Center. This event is free and open to the public.

Emmy Award winning filmmaker Kevin Kelley, the film's producer and director, proposed the film project because of his love of art and passion for the new University of Iowa Museum of Art. Kelley described the film as a "film about a journey – the journey of how one painting changed the course of modern American art over seventy years ago, and the painting's journey around the world after a disastrous flood destroyed its home." Ben Hill, Executive Producer, Kirk Murray, Director of Photography, Dana Telsrow, Assistant Editor and Graphics Animator, along with Kelley and others from the University of Iowa Office of Strategic Communication worked on the film for over a year.

A question and answer session will begin immediately following the screening where guests may interact with film director Kevin Kelley and UI Museum of Art Director Sean O'Harrow.

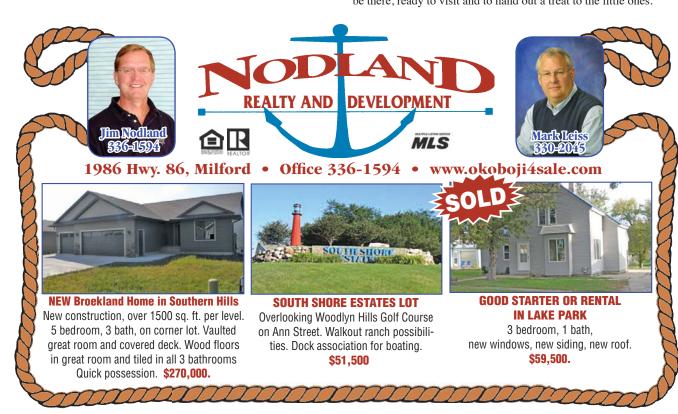

Visit Santa In Milford

Santa Claus sure gets around. Here he is, sitting in the Milford Kiwanis Santa House, reading The Lakes News Shopper. He knows how important it is to keep abreast of the news and happenings here at the Iowa Great Lakes.

Just a reminder, the Santa House will be open from 1:00pm to 4:00pm on December 19. Letters to Santa can be left in the mail box in front of the Santa House. There will be gifts for all the children. Don't forget to bring your children and grandchildren to the Santa House, located in the vacant lot between the hardware store and the 3 Little Birds gift store, on the east side of Highway 71 as you drive north through Milford. Follow the sidewalk back through the green space and you will see the magical Santa House. Both Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus will be there, ready to visit and to hand out a treat to the little ones.

Preparing For The 2015 Christmas Bird Count

As I write this column, Mother Nature is in all of her glory. Sunshine and wind rapidly took the snow from the trees, but for a while

All year we see squirrels run around through the trees, but it is year's nests. One at Bird Haven was a true master builder as her nest has survived assaults by high winds several times.

Annual Christmas Bird Count

Coming up is the 115th Annual Christmas Bird Count {CBC} sponsored by the National Audubon Society. This yearly event goes back to Christmas Day in 1900, when Frank Chapman gathered 26 birders from all over the country to count birds, with 90 species recorded. Think about that a minute as there were no phones or internet. He would be totally amazed at the thousands of bird enthusiasts who participate each year.

 $The \, National \, Audubon \, Society \, organizes \, the \, CBC \, each \, year \, with \, the \,$ entire country divided into counting circles with a radius of 15 miles. Each circle has a leader who gathers all of the data and forwards it to the National Audubon Society. This ensures that birds in open space such as lakes and parks are counted as well as your yard and my yard.

All of this data tells a story such as declining populations, comeback populations such as the Bald Eagle, migrations such as the Eurasian Collared Dove, which is now clear to Alaska after starting in Florida and, of course, the Northern Cardinal which has followed the nation's river systems and spread out from there.

That is typically why there are more cardinals in Spencer, Estherville and Jackson. Wendell continues to have breeding pairs at Bird Haven though none have followed my red car to my house yet.

People who are growing up here or just moved here are quite used to seeing Bald Eagles. That is a very recent development. I lived an hour east of the Mississippi River for 25 years, and we went to Bald Eagle Days in Keokuk to see all of them gathered below the dam. Yesterday morning, from my window, I saw an immature eagle fishing above the Hwy 9/71 bridge. Amazing!

Local Count Information

The Northern Iowa Prairie Lakes bird club will conduct the count for the circle, which includes the Iowa Great Lakes area on Sunday, December 20. Lee Schoenewe will organize the group, being sure that all who wish to participate are included, compile the counts and is responsible for forwarding the information to the National Audubon Society.

The counting participants who wish to go out in the field will meet at the Hy-Vee Deli by 7:30 a.m. on December 20. There will be expert birders to lead each group, and we encourage all that are interested to come and help no matter your level of expertise.

I assure you that you will learn a lot and perhaps explore areas of our county where you've never explored before. The groups will meet back at Hy-Vee at noon to compare notes and reorganize for the afternoon. This schedule allows more to participate even if you only have half a day.

Another option is to stay home and count the birds in your yard. For example, if you see 7 cardinals at 8 a.m., 3 cardinals at 9:30 a.m. and 10 at noon, then count the 10 at noon as the official count for your yard. (sometimes dreams do come true!)

You can either call Bird Haven at 712-336-2473, and we will forward your info to Lee or e-mail him directly at lschoe@smunet.net. I know many who could use this option very easily so try to participate.

For our customers in the Jackson, MN area--the CBC is being held on Saturday December 19. Don Vrchota is the contact person, and the meeting place is the Prairie Environmental Center in Lakefield.

Our customers are the best and one just came in and topped my eagle story, big time. She and her husband live on Center Lake. The husband saw a mature eagle dive and catch a fish right in front of their house. How cool is that?

Wishing everyone a Joyous Holiday Season filled with lasting memories of family and friends.

Kindergarten Classes Learn About The Value Of Money

Winther, Stave & Co., LLP, a CPA firm with offices in Spencer and Milford, presented the video "The Money Mammals: Saving Money is Fun" to the kindergarten classes at Okoboji Community School District. Each child was given a piggy bank and a 50 cent piece to help teach them one of the most important lessons in life - learning about the value of money through sharing, saving and spending smart. Thanks to the Iowa Society of CPAs for the video and piggy banks.

Christmas Light Show In Lake Park

The Lueders Family has added 10 new displays to their show this year running nightly from 5:30pm-10:30pm through New Years Eve. They are located at 1078 110th Street, Lake Park. Be sure to tune your radio into 97.5 and enjoy the music from the warmth of your car while you watch the show. They will have a donation box again this year with all donations going to a charity. They would also like to encourage you to write out a Christmas card to a soldier and put it in the donation box unaddressed and they will see that they get them.

They also have a Facebook page to keep everyone updated. Like their page Lueders Ridiculous X-Mas Lights to keep up with special happenings. The Lueders Family would like to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

Tales Of Tails

The tale this week is of Keef, a tan and white purebred American Staffordshire Terrier, who probably doesn't even like his own "tail." Why? Keef doesn't really like other dogs and would really prefer to be a "person.'

One look at Keef and one sees his enthusiasm for people and leading a highly active life just radiating from his eyes and posture. Keef loves just about any

"game" or activity that gets him involved with a human being. He's definitely a high energy dog. He seems to get along well with children, especially teenagers. He's smart and loves to

At three years old Keef is house-trained and not the least bit aggressive. He had a happy home until the owner of the apartment building where he and his family lived decided pets were not welcome. Keef was then surrendered to the Humane Society of Northwest Iowa, but not without a few tears!

Today Keef is still a well-adjusted active dog who would love being able to play daily with new owners in a "forever" home. Remember..."In a perfect world every animal would have a home, and every home would have a pet."

Call the Humane Society of Northwest Iowa at 712-338-2738 or come see the animals at 607 28th Street, just north of Milford - open Thursday through Sunday, noon to 6:00pm.

Christmas Fun At Arts On Grand

Arts on Grand in Spencer, Iowa, is busy this December. The exhibit, Christmas in the Gallery, sponsored by Antiques Etc from Milford, features Jesse Bogenrief's blown glass; Arla Kintigh's book "My Pet is a Dachshund"; Ardy Proehl's storybook, stuffed toys; Cindy Lindahl's hats & mittens; Pat Thomsen's pillows, stockings, and tree skirts; Gene Polson's pottery vases, mugs, and baker bowls; Jim Schooley's wooden toys; Michelle Young's fused glass platters, dishes, ornaments, crosses, and cheese boards; Nina Sorenson's wood whorls prints and inked animal portraits; Nancy Schoenewe's paintings, cards, and jewelry; Lee Schoenewe's walking sticks and shore bird and fish carvings; Katie Plucker's watercolors; Marti Zinn's Santa paintings; Katie Hughes' origami ornaments; and Del's Garden Center beautiful, artificial wreaths.

In addition to checking out the gallery for unique gifts for family and friends, Arts on Grand will be hosting a musical evening featuring Rolf Mosbo singing "Songs I would have sung, if I had the chance". Ryan Sather will be at the piano. Everyone is welcome to come at 7:00pm on Wednesday December 16, to enjoy the evening. Refreshments will be served. So bring your friends and enjoy music in the gallery!

If you have not attended a tea party in the gallery, December 20, is your chance. Alice's Tea Party runs from 1:30 to 4:00 on that Sunday afternoon. Guests will enjoy tea or coffee served in vintage teacups from the collection of Alice Schar. An array of Christmas cookies will be served, and there will be special

Christmas Meal Partnership: Calvary And The Ritz

All are welcome to share in a free Christmas day meal at 1:00pm at the Ritz thanks to a partnership with The Ritz and Calvary United Methodist Church. Calvary has served a free Christmas day meal for the past 12 years, but this year the conregation is "homeless" as their new church is being built on Highway 71 across from Emerald Hills golf course. Therefore the congregation is partnering with Taylor and Rick Genrich owners of the Ritz. The Ritz has sponsored a Christmas day potluck for the past 4 years and this year they are welcoming Calvary members and all who want to share in this meal. Taylor and Rick are providing the place, tableware and the meat (both ham and turkey), Calvary members are providing side dishes, desserts and volunteer help. Anyone may come and partake of the meal - if you wish to help out and bring a side dish to share you are welcome but it is not required. The Ritz will have regular table seating upstairs where there is a handicapped friendly entrance, as well as high-table seating downstairs in the bar area.

The meal will be served at 1:00pm until all the food is gone! Calvary United Methodist Church is still holding worship services - Saturday Night worship is at 6:00pm in the Arnolds Park City Hall Community Room and Sunday Morning Worship is 9:00am Sundays at the Majestic Pavilion in the Arnolds Park Amusement Park. All are welcome - calvarylovesall.com.

Two Teams Invited To Advance To State FIRST® LEGO® League Competition

Iowa Lakes Community College hosted 10 teams at the Estherville campus Saturday as part of the FIRST® LEGO® League Regional Qualifying Competition. Two teams have been invited to advance to the Championship event at Iowa State University in January.

FIRST® LEGO® League (FLL) is an international program, created by FIRST® and LEGO®, designed to get children interested in and excited about Spencer Inventors - Delta.

Championship event include: Spencer Inventors - Pi of Spencer who were the Overall Champions along with the Runner-Up team of Spencer Inventors-Delta, Teams came from 7 communities including Estherville, Garner, Humboldt, Forest City, Lake Park, Pierson, and Spencer (4).

FIRST® (For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology) releases a new challenge each year that engages teams in hands-on robotics design and scientific research. This year, the 'challenge' was to research and present creative solutions to one of today's most relevant topics: the future of learning.

Each Challenge has three parts: the Robot Game, the Project, and the FLL Core Values. Teams of up to 10 children, with one adult coach, participate in the Challenge by programming an autonomous robot to score points on a themed playing field (Robot Game), developing a solution to a problem they have identified (Project), all guided by the Participants (ages 9-14) are exposed to potential career paths within a chosen Challenge topic, in addition to solidifying the STEM principles that naturally come from participating in a robotics program. Team members also learn valuable life and employment skills which will benefit them no matter which career path they choose. Teams can be developed from any group: school, scouts, religious organizations, home school groups or even groups of friends. After the challenge has been released, teams have about three months to design, program and build their robot, and prepare an in-depth research presentation related to the challenge theme. The LEGO® Mindstorms robotics kit is used to build a robot capable of completing tasks autonomously the robot – including parts they already own. This weekend's Northwest Iowa Regional Qualifying Tournament was sponsored by John Deere, Rockwell Collins, Iowa State University College of Engineering and Iowa Lakes Community College.

Red Cross Asks For Blood Donations This Holiday Season

The American Red Cross encourages eligible donors to end the year with real meaning by donating blood for hospital patients in need.

Holiday activities, severe weather and seasonal illnesses, like the flu, can pull people away from their regular blood donation schedules. This creates a greater need for blood donations this time of year, especially around the winter holidays. To encourage donations, all those who come to donate December 23, 2015, through January 3, 2016, will get a long-sleeve Red Cross T-shirt, while supplies last.

Jamie Czesak made her first blood donation on Dec. 27, 2013. "As I spent Christmas with my family, I realized how lucky I was to have my health and how we never really know when our last Christmas will be. I decided that I would face my fears and do one of the few things I can do to help save someone's life donate blood.

Healthy donors with all blood types are needed, especially those with types AB, O, B negative and A negative. To make an appointment to donate blood, download the free Red Cross Blood Donor App from app stores, visit redcrossblood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767). Donors can now use the Blood Donor App to access their donor card and view vital signs from previous donations.

- Upcoming blood donation opportunities: 12/28: 1:00pm - 7:00pm, Hope Reformed Church, 919 N. Grand
- Avenue, Spencer 12/29/: 12:30pm - 6:30pm, Hope Reformed Church, 919 N. Grand Avenue, Spencer

How to donate blood: Simply download the American Red Cross Blood Donor App, visit redcrossblood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) to make an appointment or for more information. All blood types are needed to ensure a reliable supply for patients. A blood donor card or driver's license or two other forms of identification are required at check-in. Individuals who are 17 years of age (16 with parental consent in some states), weigh at least 110 pounds and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. High school students and other donors 18 years of age and younger also have to meet certain height and weight requirements. Blood donors can now save time at their next donation by using RapidPass to complete their pre-donation reading and health history questionnaire online, on the day of their donation, prior to arriving at the blood drive. To get started visit redcrossblood.org/RapidPass and follow the instructions on the site. About the American Red Cross: The American Red Cross shelters, feeds and provides emotional support to victims of disasters; supplies about 40 percent of the nation's blood; teaches skills that save lives; provides international humanitarian aid; and supports military members and their families.
