COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEW
BY SAM STRUCKHOFF

Void (R) — This low-budget love letter to 1980s horror traps a small-town cop (Aaron Poole) and a bunch of Canadian locals in a hospital surrounded by robed knife-wielding cultists. The night really takes a turn when people in the hospital start turning into twisted shape-shifting gore monsters, a la 1982's "The Thing." As a true fan of that cinematic classic, this reviewer was impressed by the dedication to practical effects, and the confirmation that using good ol' rubber parts and fake blood makes better horror than any CGI. Too bad the plot's a bit top-heavy and the characters aren't as fleshed-out as the fleshy monsters.

PICKS OF THE WEEK

Fifty Shades Darker (R) — This second installment in the movie franchise based on the obscenely well-sold erotica books offers more less-wild-than-you'd-think sex scenes packaged in a degradingly dumb romantic plot. In the last movie, Ana (Dakota Johnson) ditched chiseled billionaire bedroom badboy Christian (Jamie Dornan) after things got a little rough. Now he really wants her back, and Ana can barely say no before giving in to whatever Stubbleface McMoneybags wants.

Dakota Johnson, Jamie Dornan in "Fifty Shades Darker"

To try to develop the plot this time around, producers deftly avoided giving Ana or Christian any kind of depth or meaningful shift in their relationship. Instead, there's a plot with Ana's aggressive lawsuit-liability of a boss. Ana says she wants independence, before handing control of her life and career to Chris in exchange for lavish wealth and sexy times in a really nice shower.

Things to Come (R) — After 25 years of marriage, Nathalie (Isabelle Huppert) learns that her husband (Andre Marcon) is moving in with his much-younger lover. Nathalie still has "intellectual fulfillment" as a professor of philosophy, with strong bonds to her adult children and former students. As she explores the newfound freedom she didn't ask for, a former student (Roman Kolinka) appears as a potential romance. Nathalie also must care for her ailing mother (Edith Scob) grappling with dementia.

A Street Cat Named Bob (Not Rated) — James Bowen (James Treadaway) lived on the streets, strumming his guitar for money between methadone treatments and meetings with his addiction counselor (Joanne Froggatt). As James starts to piece a life together in a new apartment, a rambunctious orange cat breaks into his kitchen — and into his heart. Dubbing him Bob, the cat and human help each other through their respective recoveries. Based on the best-selling memoir by the real-life Bowen, it's predictability puts up barriers around many of the sentimental moments in the uplifting drama checklist. Cats are good at getting around barriers though, and Bob defies you not to be charmed by him.

Layered Fiesta Dip for Cinco de Mayo

I'm always looking for a reason to celebrate, especially when food is part of the festivities, so I'm making plans for Cinco de Mayo on May 5. It's a festive time to celebrate Mexican culture and heritage with parades, music, dancing and, you guessed it, lots of eats.

This simple recipe uses tomatoes, bell peppers and onions to create a salsa fresca topping for snapper. You also can use this delicious sauce on other types of firm-fleshed fish.

This recipe for spicy Salsa Snapper serves eight and takes just 22 minutes to prepare and cook. Serve over angel-hair pasta, rice or cous cous. It's also delicious served on thick slices of toast that have been rubbed with a clove of garlic and brushed with olive oil.

We'll mark the day with a dinner of tasty south-of-the-border fare, starting with a fresh, updated version of the Tex-Mex 7-layer fiesta dip with chips. I'm mixing cream cheese and sour cream with homemade taco seasoning that kids can stir up in advance. We'll omit beans that can make the layering mushy, and toss in ripe avocado chunks to replace the more time-consuming guacamole prep. Grated cheese, fresh ripe tomatoes, chopped green onions, avocado and crispy lettuce piled high top it off.

Start this colorful creation by mixing up your own taco seasoning. It's worth the effort, not only because you

Salsa Adds Spice to Snapper

If you're looking for a way to change up your favorite fish recipe, try adding salsa. The word "salsa" really just means "sauce" in Spanish.

There are many different kinds of salsa. Salsa roja is a red sauce meant to be served warm, usually over enchiladas. Salsa verde is a green sauce made with tomatillos. Salsa ranchera means "ranch style" and is typically made of tomatoes and chilies cooked together. There's also salsa cruda or salsa fresca. "Cruda" means "raw" and "fresca" means "fresh." You also can find commercially packaged salsas in a variety of flavors, including mango, peach and

Shrimp Salad With Spring Pea Mix

Made without mayo, this company-worthy combo of egg, shrimp and potato salad gets its creaminess from a tangy yogurt-and-mustard dressing. Plate it alongside fresh-picked peas tossed in a light lemon-dill vinaigrette.

- 12 large eggs
- 1 lemon
- 3 sprigs fresh dill
- 12 ounces large shrimp (16- to 20-count)
- 12 ounces Yukon gold potatoes Salt and pepper
- 12 ounces sugar snap peas
- 1 1/2 cups frozen peas
- 1 cups plain yogurt
- 1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
- 1/2 cup finely chopped red onion (1 small onion)
- 3 stalks celery
- 1 tablespoon white wine vinegar
- 2 tablespoons olive oil

1. In 4-quart saucepan, place eggs and enough cold water to cover by 1 inch. Heat to boiling on high; remove from heat. Cover and let stand 5 minutes. With slotted spoon, transfer eggs to colander. Rinse eggs under cold water until cool enough to handle; peel and cut in quarters. Set aside 12 quarters for garnish.
2. From lemon, squeeze 3 tablespoons juice and reserve. To same saucepan of water, add lemon rind and dill stems; heat to boiling on high. Add shrimp, reduce heat to maintain bare simmer; cook 3 minutes or until shrimp just turn opaque throughout. Drain, rinse under cold water until cool, and drain again. Discard lemon rind and dill sprigs.
3. In same pan, place potatoes and enough cold water to cover. Add 1 teaspoon salt. Heat to boiling on high, cover and reduce heat to simmer 15 minutes or until just tender; drain well.
4. While potatoes cook, heat 3-quart saucepan of water to boiling on high. Add snap peas and frozen peas. Cook 2 minutes or until bright-green; drain well.
5. In large bowl, whisk yogurt, mustard, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, and 1/4 teaspoon each salt and freshly ground black pepper. Add hot potatoes, onion, celery, shrimp, eggs and half of chopped dill. Fold gently until well-combined.

Botox Can Ease Blepharospasm

DEAR DR. ROACH: I have been contending with blepharospasm for years. I got some relief from Botox for around four years, but then it stopped working and my doctor moved me to Dysport, which was horrible. It did not relax my symptoms, and it made me constantly very uncomfortable (with a feeling that my eyes were swollen all the time). I stopped the treatments and have been able to cope, until the past six months. I am almost unable to read, look at a computer screen or drive. Do you have any suggestions? I use Ativan to try to relax the stress of the blinking, but even that has lost its effect. I have been discouraged from getting a limited myectomy because of the risks. My ophthalmologist said that a neurologist would be a waste of time. I am desperate for another opinion. — B.B.

ANSWER: Blepharospasm is an uncontrollable muscle spasm around the eyes, often causing blinking and twitching. It ranges from occasional and mild to the much more severe and disabling condition you report.

Treatment with botulinum toxin is effective for most people. Botulinum toxin, directly injected into muscle, weakens or paralyzes the muscle. There are three types of botulinum toxin A currently available in the United States: Botox, Dysport and Xeomin, as well as botulinum toxin B (Myobloc). I suspect your ophthalmologist changed brands because of the concern of antibodies your body may have developed to the Botox.

I would never say that a neurologist would be a waste of time. Blepharospasm is a limited form of dystonia, and neurologists are the experts in dystonia. The neurologist will have an opinion on trying a different form of botulinum toxin, as well as other treatments.

DEAR DR. ROACH: I'm a 61-year-old woman who was diagnosed with notalgia paresthetica about five years ago. Several years later, my general practitioner told me to use capsaicin, which helps with the tingling feeling, but sometimes it feels like someone is pinching my spine and the skin tingles, bringing on a very uncomfortable feeling. Can you tell me any more about this skin condition? I am beginning to believe that it is getting worse. — Anon.

ANSWER: Notalgia paresthetica is common, but often not diagnosed, and usually causes an itching under one shoulder blade. It sometimes is associated with curvature of the spine (scoliosis). It isn't curable, and often gets better and worse. Capsaicin, lidocaine patch and other creams usually provide some relief. Botulinum toxin and nerve block occasionally are used for people with more severe symptoms who don't respond.

DEAR DR. ROACH: I am a 79-year-old male with mild Parkinson's disease and Type 2 diabetes. I can walk about 10 feet before becoming terribly short of breath and weak. I have been this way for several years, and it has become increasingly worse. Can you help me? — K.C.

ANSWER: Neither Parkinson's disease nor Type 2 diabetes explains terrible shortness of breath on mild exertion. Severe shortness of breath can come from serious heart or lung problems (many types) or severe anemia. I can't help: Get to your doctor right away.

Dr. Roach regrets that he is unable to answer individual letters, but will incorporate them in the column whenever possible. Readers may email questions to ToYourGoodHealth@med.cornell.edu. - "To keep light bulbs from sticking in the socket, apply petroleum jelly to the base of the bulb before screwing it into the fixture." — B.D. in Virginia
 - "Use the liner of cold cereal boxes as wax paper. It is much stronger than regular wax paper, and it doesn't fall apart when it gets wet." — S.S. in Minnesota
 - Replace your pricey dryer sheets with a reusable alternative. To a jar with a wide mouth and tight-closing lid, add two to three dish sponges, and a 50-50 mix of liquid fabric softener and water. Cap jar and shake to distribute. When the washing is done and you have your clothes in the dryer, pull out a sponge, squeeze excess liquid back into the jar and pop the sponge into the dryer. When the clothes are dry, put the now-dry sponge back in the jar for the next time. Refill liquid as needed. This really extends your fabric softener!
 - "I always keep a 'toilet tote' in my car when I travel. Inside the tote bag I put disposable gloves, a can of disinfecting spray, a container of bathroom wipes and a roll each of toilet paper and paper towels. This tote has helped me deal with all kinds of bathroom situations in gas stations and restaurants as well as hotels/motels." — D.K. in New Jersey

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Five Years Dead

Five years ago, Aaron Hernandez was one of the brightest prospective players in the NFL, a 22-year-old all-pro tight end out of the University of Florida who had just signed a lucrative five-year, $40 million contract with the perennial champion New England Patriots.

During that span of time, if Aaron Hernandez had chosen to walk a different path, barring injuries, he would have made the playoffs all five of those years and would be wearing two Super Bowl rings. More than likely, he would be negotiating an extension. On April 19, he'd be joining his teammates at the White House, celebrating their latest Super Bowl victory.

Instead, sometime during the early morning of April 19, Aaron Hernandez hanged himself inside his cell at the Souza-Baranowski Correctional Center in Lancaster, Massachusetts, where he was imprisoned for life for murder, five days after being acquitted in a separate double murder trial.

Think about that for a moment. The man could have made millions ... won two Super Bowls as part of the best TE super tandem in NFL history with Rob Gronkowski, lived happily ever after with his pretty fiancée and beautiful daughter in their mansion with in-ground pool, but he thought this was the better path to take:

—July 16, 2012: Two men, Daniel de Abreu and Safiro Furtado, are shot to death in their car as they wait at a red light in Boston's South End neighborhood.

—August 27, 2012: Hernandez signs a five-year, $40 million contract with the New England Patriots.

 —February 2013: An associate, Alexander Bradley, is shot in the face in Florida. Bradley files a lawsuit alleging that Hernandez shot him after they argued at a strip club.

—June 17, 2013: The body of Odin Lloyd, a semi-professional football player who was dating the sister of Hernandez's fiancée, is found about a mile from Hernandez's mansion in North Attleborough, Massachusetts.

—June 26, 2013: Hernandez is arrested on a murder charge in Lloyd's slaying and later pleads not guilty. The Patriots release him hours after his arrest.

—May 15, 2014: Hernandez is indicted on two counts of first-degree murder and other charges in connection with the shootings of de Abreu and Furtado.

—May 28, 2014: Hernandez pleads not guilty to charges in connection with the deaths of de Abreu and Furtado.

—Jan. 9, 2015: Hernandez goes on trial for murder in Lloyd's killing.

—April 15, 2015: Hernandez is convicted of first-degree murder; carries a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment.

—Feb. 14, 2017: Hernandez goes on trial for murder in the 2012 killings of Daniel de Abreu and Safiro Furtado.

—April 7, 2017: The jury begins deliberating.

—April 14, 2017: Hernandez is acquitted of murder in the 2012 killings of Daniel de Abreu and Safiro Furtado.

—April 19, 2017: Hangs himself at age 27.

This is a bizarre world, and the world of sports is supposed to offer you an escape. I have no words to convey how truly sad I am that Aaron Hernandez turned out to be such a disappointment. May God have mercy on his soul and bless his daughter and family.

Mark Vasto is a veteran sportswriter who lives in New Jersey.

Birding BITS BY Cindy Brook

To Birds, With Love
After 10 years, I am retiring my column. I have enjoyed all of your emails over the years. One last thought, birding starts with a healthy environment. Please do what you can to reduce the use of pesticides and other harmful things that can hurt the earth and thus, the birds. Thank you all from the bottom of my heart.

Q. I have been a fan of Jude Law ever since "The Talented Mr. Ripley," and I absolutely love him in the "Sherlock Holmes" films. Can you tell me what he has coming up?
 — Layla C., via email

A. Next up for the handsome thespian is a role for the ages: that of a young Albus Dumbledore in the next installment in the "Fantastic Beasts and Where to Find Them" series. Director David Yates will be back, as will Eddie Redmayne and Johnny Depp, as Newt Scamander and Grindelwald, respectively. Author J.K. Rowling also will return as screenwriter. Since "Fantastic Beasts 2" is set before the action of the "Harry Potter" series, when we meet Young Dumbledore in this next film, he is still Hogwarts' transfiguration professor.

Of Law's casting, Yates said: "Jude Law is a phenomenally talented actor whose work I have long admired, and I'm looking forward to finally having the opportunity to work with him. I know he will brilliantly capture all the unexpected facets of Albus Dumbledore as J.K. Rowling reveals this very different time in his life." But fans will have to wait until Nov. 16, 2018, to see what, exactly, Rowling plans to reveal.

Jude Law

for one another and a commitment to co-parenting our children, whose privacy we ask to be respected during this difficult time. This will be our only comment on this private, family matter. Thank you for understanding."

Affleck and Garner share three children, whom they intend to co-parent equally in an amicable and supportive environment.

Q. I keep hearing differing reports about the status of Ben Affleck and Jennifer Garner's marriage. Can you give us the scoop?
 — Kenny Y., Owings Mills, Maryland

A. It was approximately two years ago that the couple announced their split, followed by conflicting reports of fights and reconciliations and then additional breakups — you know, standard Hollywood gossip. However, last month the couple finally did officially file for divorce, shortly after Affleck completed rehab for alcohol addiction.

If you've been following the story, this shouldn't come as a surprise. Back in 2015, the couple released a joint statement: "After much thought and careful consideration, we have made the difficult decision to divorce. We go forward with love and friendship

Q. It seems like ages since there have been new episodes of "Bloodline." Do you know when it will return?
 — Angie T., via email

A. The third and final season of the critically acclaimed Netflix original drama/suspense series returns May 26, with 10 new episodes at the ready for your streaming pleasure. Series stars Kyle Chandler, Sissy Spacek, Ben Mendelsohn, Linda Cardellini and Norbert Leo Butz are all returning. The show — which ended its second season with a dramatic cliffhanger — drops on Memorial Day (May 29), so if you happen to have the day off, you can binge the rest of the series in one fell swoop!

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On May 11, 1864, at the Battle of Yellow Tavern near Richmond, Virginia, a Union trooper fatally wounds Confederate Gen. J.E.B. Stuart, who dies the next day. Stuart's leadership helped the Confederates maintain a superior cavalry force in Virginia for most of the war.
- On May 14, 1913, in Sportsman Park, Illinois, Washington Senators pitcher Walter Johnson throws his 54th consecutive scoreless inning. Johnson's record stood for 55 years until Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers pitched 58 and 2/3 innings without allowing a run.
- On May 12, 1932, more than two months after he was kidnapped, the body of aviation hero Charles Lindbergh's baby is found less than a mile from his family's home in Hopewell, New Jersey. Although Lindbergh received two ransom notes, his son had been killed the night of the kidnapping.
- On May 8, 1945, both Great Britain and the United States celebrate Victory in Europe Day. Both nations, as well as formerly occupied countries in Western Europe, rejoiced in the defeat of the Nazi war machine, when German troops throughout Europe laid down their arms.
- On May 9, 1960, the Food and Drug Administration approves Enovid-10, the world's first commercially produced birth-control pill. Development of "the pill" was first commissioned by birth-control pioneer Margaret Sanger and funded by heiress Katherine McCormick.
- On May 13, 1972, a fire at the Playtown Cabaret in Osaka, Japan, kills 118 people. An electrician three floors below in a department store inadvertently set off a fire that reached some oil-soaked rags in a nearby storage room and climbed the elevator shafts.
- On May 10, 1980, the U.S. Treasury announces the approval of $1.5 billion in federal loan guarantees for the nearly bankrupt Chrysler Corporation. At the time, it was the largest rescue package ever granted by the U.S. government to an American corporation.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• It was Miguel de Cervantes Saavedra — widely regarded as the best writer in the Spanish language and one of the best novelists in any language — who made the following sage observation: “No fathers or mothers think their own children ugly; and this self-deceit is yet stronger with respect to the offspring of the mind.”

• You might be surprised to learn that Princess Di was also a tap-dancer.

• In the newly egalitarian society that emerged after the French Revolution in the 18th century, the color known as “royal blue” experienced a precipitous decline in popularity. Royalty may have been out of power, but practicality still ruled. For the most part, people didn’t throw out their old clothes, or even re-dye them; to get rid of any monarchist overtones, they simply started calling the color “national blue.”

• In New Zealand, speed bumps are commonly known as “judder bars.”

• The court system in the Central African Republic is having difficulty dealing with the caseloads. One of the primary problems is witchcraft. It seems that 40 percent of all prosecutions in the nation involve some form of witchcraft, including 5 percent of all juvenile cases.

• Those who study such things say that the koala bear has two opposable thumbs on each hand.

• The jobs website Glassdoor has issued a report ranking the best jobs in America, with scoring determined by combining the number of job openings, salary and overall job satisfaction rating. Unsurprisingly, the list is top-heavy with engineers and analysts. At No. 4, though, is Tax Manager, with a job satisfaction score of 4 out of a possible 5.

RJ struggled with getting Coco to confess to the police about Sally stealing the Forrester Creations designs. Zende and Nicole differed over whether or not Coco was really innocent. Even though he was happy to be reunited with Brooke, Bill wondered what really happened between her and Ridge. Meanwhile, Wyatt advised Bill not to push the matter with Brooke. Ridge begged Brooke for another chance to prove his love and devotion to her. Thomas’s anger turned to sympathy when Steffy told him that Sally might go to prison. Zende surprised Nicole with his sudden change in attitude about having children. Wait to See: The fate of a recently successful business hangs in the balance.

Lani and JJ were assigned a dangerous new case. Abigail was surprised to learn that her mother and Eric shared a past. Steve bonded with Tripp. Despite having a setback, Lani was determined to continue to work undercover, even if it meant keeping it from JJ. Jennifer confronted Anne after witnessing a moment between her and Lucas. JJ reached out to Steve for information. Gabi and Eli shared a kiss. Brady and Nicole’s happiness came to a screeching halt. Wait to See: Gabi urges Abigail to make her marriage work.

Birding BITS BY Cindy Brook
 To Birds, With Love
 After 10 years, I am retiring my column. I have enjoyed all of your emails over the years. One last thought, birding starts with a healthy environment. Please do what you can to reduce the use of pesticides and other harmful things that can hurt the earth and thus, the birds. Thank you all from the bottom of my heart.

HOLLYWOOD by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — Robert Redford, whom we've rarely known to get involved in politics, wrote an op-ed piece that appeared in The Washington Post titled: "Robert Redford: 45 Years After Watergate, the Truth Is Again in Danger."
Redford wrote: "When President Trump speaks of being in a 'running war' with the media, calls them 'among the most dishonest human beings on earth' and tweets that they're the 'enemy of the American people,' his language takes the Nixon administration's false accusations of 'shoddy' and 'shabby' journalism to new and dangerous heights."
There's a lot more, but you get the idea. Trump supporters obviously didn't like what Redford had to say, because he took to Facebook to say, "Because I question him ... does not make me a sore loser, snowflake or libtard ... (names that I have seen thrown around FB and other media), it makes me a concerned citizen — and I too am just as proud of my country. Do not mistake concern for bitching ... I see that all too often on FB. My Uncle David lost his life defending our great country and the freedoms we all hold dear."
Redford has given so much to the film industry that made him a star by creating Sundance and The Sundance Festival, where others can become a star and succeed with their films. Whether you agree with him or not, bravo, Robert Redford for standing up for what you believe in!

Showtime is gambling on an 18-part mini-series based on the original "Twin Peaks," which ran in 1990-91 on ABC. It will begin airing May 21. David Lynch, original creator, has directed all 18 episodes. Among the 36 original cast members returning to "Twin Peaks" are Kyle MacLachlan (Emmy-nominated for the original series), Dana Ashbrook, Sherilyn Fenn, Peggy Lipton, Richard Beymer, Ray Wise, Grace Zabriskie and Russ Tamblyn, who starred in best-picture Oscar-winner "West Side Story" (1961).
Among the 80 guest-recurring actors are: Jim Belushi, Richard Chamberlain, Candy Clark (Oscar-nominated for "American Graffiti"), Laura Dern (Oscar-nominated for "Raging Bull" and "Wild"), Robert Forster (Oscar-nominated for "Jackie Brown"), Meg Foster, Grant Gooden, Ernie Hudson, Jennifer Jason Leigh (Oscar-nominated for "The Hatfield and McCoy"), Matthew Lillard, Don Murray, Tim Roth (Oscar-nominated for "Rob Roy"), John Savage, Amanda Seyfried, Lauren Tewes and Naomi Watts (Oscar-nominated for "21 Grams" and "The Impossible").
The original series received 18 Emmy nominations but won only two (costume and editing, none for acting). With all that Oscar power, they're sure to "Peak" with this production.

Albert Einstein: Relatively Speaking
Thursday, May 4, 2017, 7:00pm

George Capaccio is the "Man of the Century," Albert Einstein, physicist and humanitarian. In this one-hour interactive performance, George invites you to enter the boundary-breaking universe that is the mind of Albert Einstein. You will discover that time and space are inseparable, that time actually slows down the faster you go, and that if you could travel at the speed of light, time would actually stop!

But there's a lot more to the story than Einstein's insights into the nature of reality. George focuses on the great scientist's very human qualities, including his sense of humor, his fondness for Jewish jokes, and his trials and tribulations as a family man.

As part of the show, you'll time travel with George on the trajectory of Einstein's life — from lowly patent clerk in a Swiss office to world-class physicist. George will pay comparable attention to Einstein's later years as a rebel with a cause, fighting for social justice and individual freedom, and against racism and war.

Five Years Dead

Five years ago, Aaron Hernandez was one of the brightest prospective players in the NFL, a 22-year-old all-pro tight end out of the University of Florida who had just signed a lucrative five-year, $40 million contract with the perennial champion New England Patriots.

During that span of time, if Aaron Hernandez had chosen to walk a different path, barring injuries, he would have made the playoffs all five of those years and would be wearing two Super Bowl rings. More than likely, he would be negotiating an extension. On April 19, he'd be joining his teammates at the White House, celebrating their latest Super Bowl victory.

Instead, sometime during the early morning of April 19, Aaron Hernandez hanged himself inside his cell at the Souza-Baranowski Correctional Center in Lancaster, Massachusetts, where he was imprisoned for life for murder, five days after being acquitted in a separate double murder trial.

Think about that for a moment. The man could have made millions ... won two Super Bowls as part of the best TE super tandem in NFL history with Rob Gronkowski, lived happily ever after with his pretty fiancée and beautiful daughter in their mansion with in-ground pool, but he thought this was the better path to take:

—July 16, 2012: Two men, Daniel de Abreu and Safiro Furtado, are shot to death in their car as they wait at a red light in Boston's South End neighborhood.

—August 27, 2012: Hernandez signs a five-year, $40 million contract with the New England Patriots. —February 2013: An associate, Alexander Bradley, is shot in the face in Florida. Bradley files a lawsuit alleging that Hernandez shot him after they argued at a strip club.

—June 17, 2013: The body of Odin Lloyd, a semi-professional football player who was dating the sister of Hernandez's fiancée, is found about a mile from Hernandez's mansion in North Attleborough, Massachusetts.

—June 26, 2013: Hernandez is arrested on a murder charge in Lloyd's slaying and later pleads not guilty. The Patriots release him hours after his arrest.

—May 15, 2014: Hernandez is indicted on two counts of first-degree murder and other charges in connection with the shootings of de Abreu and Furtado.

—May 28, 2014: Hernandez pleads not guilty to charges in connection with the deaths of de Abreu and Furtado.

—Jan. 9, 2015: Hernandez goes on trial for murder in Lloyd's killing.

—April 15, 2015: Hernandez is convicted of first-degree murder; carries a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment.

—Feb. 14, 2017: Hernandez goes on trial for murder in the 2012 killings of Daniel de Abreu and Safiro Furtado.

—April 7, 2017: The jury begins deliberating.

—April 14, 2017: Hernandez is acquitted of murder in the 2012 killings of Daniel de Abreu and Safiro Furtado.

—April 19, 2017: Hangs himself at age 27.

This is a bizarre world, and the world of sports is supposed to offer you an escape. I have no words to convey how truly sad I am that Aaron Hernandez turned out to be such a disappointment. May God have mercy on his soul and bless his daughter and family.

Financial Aid for Pet Care

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I have two cats, one of whom suffers from a number of health conditions, including diabetes. The cost of her care is way more than that of my other cat, but I will pay it no matter what. Still, it's sometimes difficult to cover veterinary bills and medications. Do you have any suggestions? —Greg in Austin, Texas

DEAR GREG: Pet care costs, especially pet health care, have risen steadily over the past several years. Even routine care can take a bite out of your budget. And in all but a few cases, pet owners must bear the cost of care.

You do have a few immediate options:

- Negotiate payments or care costs with the vet. While routine visits are usually required to be paid for up front, the vet may be willing to work with an owner to pay for treatment of acute illnesses or long-term conditions.
- Financing through a service like CareCredit can close the gap between a vet visit and your next paycheck. Read the terms carefully, though; you may be better off paying with a major credit card when it comes to interest rates.
- Pet insurance can ease the financial burden of pet care, although you may only be able to insure your healthy cat. This insurance reimburses you for medical costs after treatment, so you'll still need to have a way to pay up front for your cats' care. Consumers Advocate recently rated its top 10 insurers.

What if you need more assistance in paying for your pets' care? Low-cost vaccination clinics in your area can help with routine care; assistance for more complex issues is provided by some animal care facilities. Best-Friends.org lists resources by state.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) The often-skeptical Aries might find that an answer to a question is hard to believe. But check it out before you chuck it out. You might well be surprised at what you could learn.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your resolute determination to stick by a position might make some people uncomfortable. But if you're proved right (as I expect you to be), a lot of changes will tilt in your favor.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You might feel conflicted between what you want to do and what you should do. Best advice: Honor your obligations first. Then go ahead and enjoy your well-earned rewards.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) That financial matter still needs to be sorted out before you can consider any major monetary moves. Pressures ease midweek, with news about a potential career change.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A workplace problem threatens to derail your well-planned project. But your quick mind should lead you to a solution and get you back on track without too much delay.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) An opportunity opens up but could quickly close down if you allow pessimism to override enthusiasm. A trusted friend can offer the encouragement you need.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You've come through a difficult period of helping others deal with their problems. Now you can concentrate on putting your energy to work on your own projects.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Forget about who's to blame and, instead, make the first move toward patching up a misunderstanding before it creates a rift that you'll never be able to cross.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Good news for the travel-loving Sagittarian who enjoys galloping off to new places: That trip you put off will soon be back on your schedule.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A mood change could make the gregarious Goat seek the company of just a few friends. But you charge back into the crowd for weekend fun and games.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A decision you made in good faith could come under fire. Best advice: Open your mind to other possibilities by listening to your challenger's point of view.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You can avoid being swamped by all those tasks dangling from your line this week by tackling them one by one, according to priority. The weekend brings good news.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a fine business sense and a love of the arts. You enjoy living life to its fullest.

Fountain Pen
Q. My dad was a banker in Kansas, and I never saw him use a writing instrument that wasn't a fountain pen. I inherited one of his favorite ones, a Parker Duofold Senior. It is a beautiful pen, and I would like to know about when it was made. — Stan, Overland Park, Kansas
A. Your pen was manufactured in 1958 and is quite collectible. I found it listed in "Collecting Pens," by Edward Kiersh and published by House of Collectibles. Kiersh values your pen at $175, but this may be a little low since fountain pens have become a hot collectible and values have steadily risen. I occasionally write with a "Big Red" from the 1930s, and it is one of the pleasures of life to write a note or letter with a vintage pen.

Q. My grandparents immigrated to the United States from Europe in about 1920. Among the heirlooms they managed to bring with them is a set of sterling flatware in the Acanthus pattern by Georg Jensen. What can you tell me about it? — Martha, Waco, Texas
A. Georg Jensen opened his silver business in Copenhagen, Denmark, in 1904, and his craftsmanship made him famous throughout Europe. His mark is distinctive: a wreath topped by a crown and the words "Georg Jensen, Inc." Georg Jensen Inc., USA, opened in New York in 1941, but closed within a decade. Your pattern was introduced in 1917. Typical pieces of this pattern are three piece carving set, $800; dinner knife, $280; sugar tongs, $190; and salad fork, $120.

Q. I purchased a Quezal vase at a yard sale for 25 cents. It looks like a Tiffany, and I have several friends who wish to buy it. — Pat, Riverside, Rhode Island
A. Quezal glass was made from 1901 until about 1924 in the Queens, N.Y., studio of Martin Bach Sr. Other companies made similar art glass, including Loetz, Steuben and Tiffany. Since Quezal vases generally sell for well above $1,000, my advice is to contact a reputable dealer or appraiser in your area and find out if your piece is authentic. If it is, you have a good eye and made a wonderful buy. Write to Larry Cox in care of KFWS, 628 Virginia Drive, Orlando, FL 32803, or send e-mail to questionsforcox@aol.com. Due to the large volume of mail he receives, Mr. Cox cannot personally answer all reader questions, nor does he do appraisals. Do not send any materials requiring return mail.
