"Reggie"

We went to get fish supplies and my husband noticed this cute dog, who was born on my mother's birthday.
She had recently passed away. We had no intention of getting a dog but, given his special birthday, we could not resist. He made our first Christmas without my mother a little easier. Reggie helped my family get through a tough year of firsts. Now he has earned a very special place in our hearts!

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On May 31, 1859, the famous tower
clock Big Ben rings out over London for the first time. Two months later the bell cracked. It was three years before the clock went into service again. The bell was rotated so that the hammer would strike another surface, but the crack was never repaired.

• On June 2, 1865, in an event marking the end of the Civil War, Confederate Gen. Edmund Kirby Smith, commander of Confederate forces west of the Mississippi, signs surrender terms offered by Union negotiators. With Smith's surrender, the last Confederate army ceased to exist.

• On June 4, 1896, in the shed behind his home in Detroit, Henry Ford unveils the Quadricycle, his first automobile. The Quadricycle was too wide to fit through the shed door, so Ford took an axe to the brick so the vehicle
could be rolled out.

• On May 29, 1914, two boats collide
in heavy fog on the St. Lawrence River in Canada, killing 1,073 people. The Empress of Ireland, following standard procedure, came to a complete stop in the fog. The Norwegian coal freighter Storstad not only failed to stop, but didn't reverse engines, flipping the Empress on her side.

• On May 30, 1922, William Howard Taft, chief justice of the Supreme Court, dedicates the Lincoln Memorial on the Washington Mall. Taft is the only former U.S. president ever to hold a seat on the Supreme Court.

• On June 3, 1965, astronaut Major Edward H. White II opens the hatch of the Gemini 4 and steps out of the orbiting capsule, becoming the first American to walk in space.

• On June 1, 1980, CNN, the world's first 24-hour television news network, makes its debut in Atlanta. Initially available in less than 2 million U.S.
homes, today CNN can be seen in almost 100 million households.

Protecting Children From The Dangers Of Pertussis

(NAPSA)—Among diseases
that can be prevented by vaccines, pertussis, commonly known as whooping cough, is one of the most commonly occurring in the U.S.—and infants are especially vulnerable.

Whooping cough is a highly contagious and potentially deadly bacterial infection that can strike at any age but is particularly dangerous for babies.

In the first year of life, infants are more likely to suffer from pertussis and pertussis-related deaths than older age groups. In fact, babies younger than 1 year old account for nearly one-quarter of the cases and 92 percent of the deaths from pertussis in the U.S.
Complications can include pneumonia and brain damage.

One such victim was Gabrielle Romaguera, a perfectly healthy baby at birth. Less than a month later, she developed a severe cough, which became so violent she turned blue from lack of oxygen.

Gabrielle was treated for several weeks in the hospital. However, the damage caused by pertussis was too severe and eventually took her life. She was only 52 days old when she passed away—just seven days
short of her first scheduled pertussis vaccine (DTaP).

Five doses of the DTaP vaccine
are given to children to fully protect them against diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis at 2 months of age, 4 months, 6 months, between 15 and 18 months and then between 4 and 6 years. To be fully protected, children need all five doses, say the experts at Every Child By Two.

To further safeguard infants,
the adults around them should be up to date on their vaccinations.
Transmission by adults who are not vaccinated themselves is

To be fully protected from pertussis, also known as whooping cough, newborns depend on parents and caregivers to vaccinate themselves.

responsible for many cases among babies. In fact, half of babies with pertussis are infected by their parents.

That's why it's so important for parents, family members and caregivers to talk to their doctor about getting the Tdap vaccine, which prevents tetanus, diphtheria
and pertussis in adolescents and adults. Vaccinating the people around them creates a "cocooning effect" for babies and young children, who are the most vulnerable to pertussis.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends routine vaccination for those considering pregnancy and for new mothers, both to provide personal protection and to reduce the risk of transmitting pertussis
to their infants.

Families should also proactively inquire about the vaccination status of health care workers coming in contact with their newborns.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You might have to turn your Arian charm up a few degrees if you hope to persuade that persistent pessimist to see the possibilities in your project. Whatever you do, don't give up.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A "tip" about a co-worker's "betrayal" might well raise the Bovine's rage levels. But before charging into a confrontation, let an unbiased colleague do some fact checking.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Although a relationship still seems to be moving too slowly to suit your expectations, it's best not to push it. Let it develop at its own pace. You'll soon get news about a workplace change.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A continually changing personal situation makes you feel as if you're riding an emotional roller coaster. But hold on tight; stability starts to set in early next week.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Believe it or not, someone might dare to say "No!" to the Regal One's suggestion. But instead of being miffed, use this rebuff to recheck the proposition and, perhaps, make some changes.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You might find it difficult to make a decision about a family matter. But delay can only lead to more problems. Seek out trusted counsel and then make that important decision.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Concentrate your focus on what needs to be done, and avoid frittering away your energies on less-important pursuits. There'll be time later for fun and games.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Although the conflicts seem to be letting up, you still need to be wary of being drawn into workplace intrigues. Plan a special weekend event for family and/or friends.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your quick wit helps you work through an already difficult situation without creating more problems. Creative aspects begin to dominate by the week's end.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Be patient. You'll soon receive news about a project that means so much to you. Meanwhile, you might want to reconsider a suggestion you previously turned down.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) There are still some aspects about that new job offer you need to resolve. In the meantime, another possibility seems promising. Be sure to check that out as well.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Opening up your emotional floodgates could leave you vulnerable to being hurt later on. Watch what you say, in order to avoid having your words come back to haunt you.

BORN THIS WEEK: You're usually the life of the party, which gets you on everyone's invitation list. You also have a flair for politics.

An adult grasshopper is capable of leaping 10 times its length straight into the air and 20 times its length horizontally. A human with the same abilities could jump over a five-story building and clear a football field in three leaps. Fleas have been known to make leaps up to 13 inches, about 200 times the length of their own bodies. This would be equal to a 900-foot jump by a six-foot man.

HINTS FOR HOMEOWNERS

Combat Rising Energy Costs With Better Windows

(NAPSA)—You may be able to cut your energy costs with the help of high-performance windows.

The average cost of energy used to heat and cool homes rose more than 33 percent in the last decade, according to data from the U.S. Energy Information Administration.

High-performance windows can greatly reduce home energy bills.

Fortunately, homeowners can find relief today by upgrading their windows. ENERGY STAR-rated windows are a good starting point. They can currently save homeowners an average of $320 annually when replacing single-pane windows.

High-performance windows offer even greater energy savings potential—up to 40 percent more than minimum ENERGY STAR windows. To maximize savings, look for high-performance models labeled as Envirosealed Windows and Doors with Duralite. These windows feature nonmetal spacers that provide the best insulation and greatest effect on energy bills.

The savings don't stop there. This year, homeowners can save up to $200 on their taxes by installing qualified windows.

For more information, visit www.EnvirosealedWindows.com.

(NAPSA)—In his new book, "Help! There's a Toddler in the House!", Boys Town's Dr. Thomas Reimers provides parenting strategies to correct and cope with most of the common behavior problems of 2- to 6-year-olds. You can visit www.boystown.org/toddler for tips.

With a little effort, it's possible to re-create red carpet hairstyles anytime you want. Celebrity stylist Jenny Cho says start with a styling line that works as well as top salon brands, such as the new styling line from Suave Professionals. For more tips, visit www.facebook.com/suavebeauty.

Families come to Easter Seals for therapy when a child is diagnosed with developmental disabilities. To fund such programs, the organization gets donations from sponsors such as Safeway, but federal and state funding is also needed. For more information, visit www.MakeTheFirstFiveCount.org.

Strange
BUT TRUE
By Samantha Weaver

- It was Douglas Hofstadter, American professor of cognitive science and Pulitzer-winning author, who made the following sage observation, known as Hofstadter's Law: "It always takes longer than you expect, even when you take into account Hofstadter's Law."
- According to Reed Hastings, the CEO of Netflix, the biggest competition faced by the online streaming service isn't HBO, Hulu or Amazon — it's sleep. He recently told stockholders that when viewers are deciding whether or not to watch Netflix, the alternative they're usually considering is going to bed, not watching another service.
- You might be surprised to learn that in the United States, there are more people employed in the solar-energy industry than there are employees in the coal, oil and gas industries combined.
- Economists aren't known for their optimism, but in the summer of 1930, one of the 20th century's most influential economists made a bold prediction. Even as the Great Depression was gaining momentum, John Maynard Keynes declared that by the year 2030, the typical workweek in developed nations would be just 15 hours long. It's not looking good so far, but we do have 17 years to go.
- Those who study such things say that a monarch butterfly can fly a whopping 620 miles without stopping for food.
- You may have never heard the term "reduplicative rhymes," but you're certainly familiar with them. "Razzle-dazzle" is one. Also, "hocus pocus," "fuddy-duddy," "roly-poly," "dillydally," "higgledy-piggledy" and "chick flick." Interestingly, Chick Flick also was the name of a baseball manager — he managed Rustic Tavern, a semi-professional team in the 1940s and '50s.

HOME TRENDS

Green Home Hints And Giveaways

(NAPSA)—Dressing up your home with eco-conscious style is now easier than ever.

To help, here are five simple tips from Linda Woodrum, designer of this year's HGTV Green Home. Woodrum's tips combine the practical with aesthetic appeal by providing advice for energy efficiency as well as fashionable charm.

- 1. Warm welcome—Make sure your exterior relates to the interior for a welcoming feel. For example, the yellow front door on the modern, contemporary HGTV Green Home 2011 is a surprise, but the bright door is a clue to what is happening inside.
- 2. Capture a color—It's important to pick a color palette and stay true to it. In this year's HGTV Green Home, yellow is used prominently. It is easy to recreate the look with low-VOC paint and environmentally friendly fabrics.
- 3. Create an ambience—Keep it clean and natural with organic and recycled materials. Pole pine paneling in the master bedroom gives a contemporary look while using wood that is indigenous to the area.
- 4. Recycle, refurbish, repurpose—Green decorating is about using everyday items in unexpected ways. For example, the carpeting in the home is recycled and recyclable and a chair made from an old radiator is a unique showpiece.
- 5. Use durable materials—High-traffic areas are subject to a lot of wear and tear. The "do room" in the home is a multipurpose room for crafts, laundry, homework and home office that features stylish yet practical and easily replaceable carpet tiles.

The fourth annual HGTV Green Home Giveaway is open for entries through June 2, 2011, at 5 p.m. ET. One randomly selected winner can look forward to living in a modern prairie-style, single-family home located in the Stapleton community of Denver, Colorado, an eco-progressive community on the site of the city's former airport. The 2,400-square-foot, custom-built home—with open spaces that flow together to create an interactive environment—is part of a grand-prize package that includes $100,000 and a 2011 GMC Terrain®.

Fans may enter once per day on HGTV.com as well as once per day on HGTV's FrontDoor.com, or as often as they wish by regular mail.

Online users can take a 360-degree tour of this year's HGTV Green Home at www.HGTV.com/greenhome and visit Facebook.com/HGTV or follow Twitter.com/HGTV for up-to-the-minute details on the giveaway.

Collecting

by Larry Cox

'Little Black Sambo'

Q. I have a copy of "Little Black Sambo" published by Whitman Tell-A-Tale Books. I received it for my birthday in 1951 or 1952. It is in pristine condition, and I am curious about how much it might be worth. — Cora Ann, Billings, Montana

A. For more than a century, "Little Black Sambo" has been available in numerous editions throughout the world. There are more than 30 editions in English alone, not counting various reprints. The book was written by Helen Bannerman, who wrote the original story for her children. Bannerman, who lived in Scotland, sold the rights to the book for a few pounds and never received royalties from the millions of copies that eventually were published.

The book is set in India, not Africa, but copies began to vanish from book shelves and libraries due to political correctness during the 1970s. To answer your question, your copy was published in 1950 and is valued in the $25 to $50 range by Steve Santi, author of "Children's Books: Identification and Price Guide," published by Krause Books.

Q. I have a Hummel plate from 1973 called "Globe Trotter." I think I originally paid $32.50 for it, and it remains in its original box. Is it worth keeping? — Beth, Albuquerque, NM

A. I found your plate referenced in "M.I. Hummel" by Robert L. Miller, which I think is the essential price guide for Hummel figurines, plates and miniatures. Miller values your plate in the $150 to $200 range. He points out that the other plates in this series have 33 stars around the border, but for some reason this issue has only 32 stars.

Q. I have a Ericofon from about 1967 and wonder if it has any value. At the time it was incredibly modern and, in fact, still is. — Robert, Titusville, Florida

A. The Ericofon is a stylish one-piece plastic telephone created by the Ericsson Company of Sweden during the late 1940s. It was the first commercially marketed telephone to incorporate the rotary dial and handset into a single unit. The dial is under the base. The Ericofon was discontinued in 1972 and probably is valued in the $100 to $150 range.

Hearty Hydrangeas Bloom On New Growth

(NAPSA)—There are 90 million gardeners in the U.S., according to the National Gardening Association. Now a new type of hydrangea could help interest in the hobby continue to take root.

The plant blooms on new growth—a unique trait for pure white hydrangeas, and one that lets gardeners see consistent blooming each year, no matter how cool it is in the off season. Additionally, gardeners in warm climates can enjoy repeat blooming from these plants by lightly pruning them.

Just as important though, the new hydrangea can be a true showstopper. With dark-green foliage and bright-white flowers, the compact plant is just over 2 feet tall and about as wide. Called the White Out from Hydrangea Forever & Ever, it can help brighten up a slightly shady spot in a yard, and gardeners say its compact habit and sturdy stems give it a leg up on the ageless Hydrangea Annabelle. That plant has been a reliable bloomer in the Northern areas but tends to disappoint as it flops over once in full bloom.

Healthier Plants

The new plant is also resistant to common hydrangea diseases, such as powdery mildew. Its leathery, dark-green foliage seems to repel most attacks, leaving the plant healthier and better looking and saving gardeners time and effort otherwise spent spraying. It also helps reduce the amount of pesticide required, which helps protect the environment.

All the varieties in the Forever & Ever series share these same attributes. The series includes seven varieties that bloom on new wood and exhibit superior disease tolerance. From a traditional pink or blue mophead to double flowers and even unique peppermint-striped flowers, the lineup will likely produce enjoyment for gardeners—and with minimal care.

How To Create An Outdoor Oasis

(NAPSA)—Wow your friends and families at gatherings, pool parties or barbecues in your backyard by creating your own outdoor oasis. Build.com and Donny Osmond have teamed up to share 10 surprisingly easy and affordable ways to turn your backyard into a great space for both relaxing and entertaining.

•Stay Cool: Umbrellas are a great source of shade, whether in a backyard or front yard. They're easy to move to a favorite spot, come in different sizes, and let you create an enjoyable space to spend time in.

•A Colorful Approach To Plants: Planting in containers is an easy way to add variety and splashes of color to your outdoor space.

•Light Up The Night: Brighten up those dark, hard-to-navigate areas of your deck or patio with solar accent lighting. It's generally affordable, easy to install, and the end result looks terrific. It may also be a bright idea to put lights and lanterns up around exterior doorways.

•Good Clean Fun: If you live near a beach, river or lake, don't worry about tracking sand indoors. Simply install an outdoor shower.

•Beauty Is In The Details: Small accents, such as hurricane lanterns, lightweight throws and ceramic garden seats, show guests you know how to live the good life...outdoors.

•Cool It: If you have a covered porch or deck, a fan or fan-and-light combination can make staying comfortable during warm days easier. Just be sure to get an outdoor one with a DC motor or one that's Energy Star rated. They're 60 percent more efficient than con-Relaxing in your own backyard can be even better when you improve the area with accessories such as attractive, comfortable chairs.

ventional fanlight units. An online how-to guide at Build.com can make installation a breeze.

•Water-Saving Fountains: Build.com's popular fountains all recycle water so you can keep your fountain going even during dry seasons or droughts.

•Make Sure You Have Enough Seating: Whether wicker or wood, canvas or chrome, grouping comfortable, easy-to-clean chairs and benches such as those in the Donny Osmond collection around a garden table is key for parties, brunches and barbecue fun.

•This May Floor You: An outdoor rug is a terrific way to define a space and give your lounge area a little warmth when the night air cools. Build.com offers a vibrant selection of rugs.

•Look Online For Inspiration: To start decorating your outdoor area, check out the entire Donny Osmond Home accessories line at www.build.com.

The first alarm clock was a windup and could be set for any time. It was patented by Seth E. Thomas in 1876.

Cuckoo clocks, containing carved wooden birds that emerge and "sing" to tell the time, were made in the Black Forest of Germany as early as 1730 and are still popular.

Prayer for the BLESSED MOTHER

Remember, O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it know that anyone who fled to thy protection, implored thy help and sought thy intercession was left unaided. Inspired with this confidence, I fly unto thee, O Virgin of virgins, my Mother, to thee I come, before thee I stand, sinful and sorrowful. O Mother of the Word Incarnate, despise not my petitions; but in thy clemency hear and answer me. Amen.

My prayers have been answered.
