Stella, 6, and her mommy were talking.
 Stella: I'll bet you can't wait 'til I'm a teenager.
 Mommy: Actually, I can.
 Stella: Why?
 Mommy: Because I like you being sweet.
 Stella: I'll still be sweet when I'm a teenager. I'll just have an awkward way of showing it.

DARIUS BARKSDALE: KEEP PROVING THEM WRONG!

A special letter to Danville, VA youth, Darius Barksdale, who proved that NEVER giving up and staying focused on your dreams, really does pay off.

Carolina Christian

"We, the Coaches and Players of the 434 ELITE BALLERS would like to say CONGRATULATIONS to Darius Barksdale for signing his Letter of Intent to play college basketball for Carolina Christian College. Before this outstanding young man became a 434 ELITE BALLER, he was told to give his jersey up his Junior year, handing it down to another player, and was cut completely from the team his Senior year of school. Former coaches told this young man he would never play college basketball. Wow! They were wrong!

WE, as coaches and educators are supposed to uplift a child and encourage them to strive to be the best they can be and not break their self-esteem. He didn't let the negative impact from his former coaches and trainers break him. He kept putting in the work and his dream became a reality.

Darius had five schools contact and offer him a chance to play college basketball. Guilford College, Walters State, St. Andrews University and a couple others were interested in Barksdale. Out of his choices, he picked Carolina College because of the love they showed him while visiting. He felt that was the best situation for him to master his craft. Pictured above are family, coaches and some of his 434 ELITE BALLERS teammates. We all wish you much success on the next level of your journey!" - Go Darius!

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A heads-up alert to all free-spirited Ewes and Rams: Be wary of a deal that could result in compromising your independence. Check every detail before making a commitment.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) New facts emerge that help put an irksome workplace situation in perspective. Meanwhile, pay more attention to a family member who needs your wisdom and strength.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A slight setback in plans is nothing to worry about. Use this delay to deal with a number of matters you might have ignored for too long. Expect news from someone in your past.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You're entering a period of stability. Use it to straighten out any outstanding problems related to a very personal situation. Also, pay closer attention to financial matters.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) As much as you love being a social Lion, you might well benefit from staying out of the spotlight for a while. You need time to reflect on some upcoming decisions.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A difficult family situation improves, thanks to your timely intervention. You can now start to focus more of your attention on preparing for a possible career change.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) An on-the-job change works to your benefit by offering new opportunities. It's up to you to check them out. Meanwhile, a stalled romantic situation starts up again.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) That flare-up of Scorpion temperament cools down, leaving you more receptive to suggestions about changes that might need to be made in your personal life.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) An unusual period of indecisiveness is a mite frustrating. But things soon clear up, allowing the sage Sagittarian to make those wise pronouncements again.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You might feel that you know best, but it's not a good idea at this time to try to force your opinions on others. Best advice: Inspire change by example, not by intimidation.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Some setbacks could affect your plans to fortify your financial situation. But things start moving again by early next week. Meanwhile, enjoy your resurgent social life.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Show that often-hidden steely spine of yours as you once again stand up to an emotional bully. You've got the strength to do it, especially as friends rally to your side.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your ruling planet, Mercury, endows you with a gift for writing. Have you considered penning the world's greatest novel?

THE HISTORY OF MEMORIAL DAY

Though many people are quick to refer to Memorial Day as the unofficial beginning of summer, the day is much more than that. Initially known as Decoration Day, Memorial Day is a day to remember those military members who died in service of the country. The origins of Memorial Day remain a topic of debate. In 1966, President Lyndon Johnson declared Waterloo, N.Y. as the official birthplace of Memorial Day. However, the roots of Memorial Day likely run much deeper, as researchers at Duke University note that during the Civil War, organized women's groups in the south had begun to decorate the graves of fallen soldiers.

Memorial Day as we know it today can likely be traced to Charleston, S.C., where teachers, missionaries and some members of the press gathered on May 1, 1865 to honor fallen soldiers. During the Civil War, captured Union soldiers were held at the Charleston Race Course and hundreds died during captivity. Upon their deaths, soldiers were buried in unmarked graves. When the Civil War ended, the May Day gathering was organized as a memorial to all the men who had died during captivity. The burial ground was landscaped, and those freed as a result of the Civil War played an integral role in the event at the Charleston Race Course.

While the event in Charleston might have been the first Memorial Day-type celebration in the southern United States, General John A. Logan is often cited as inspiring similar events in the north. As commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, a veterans' organization for men who served in the Civil War, General Logan issued a proclamation just five days after the Charleston event that called for Decoration Day to be observed annually across the country. Logan preferred the event not be held on the anniversary of any particular battle, and thus the day was observed for the first time on May 30. Celebrating the day in May also was significant to event organizers because May is a month when flowers are in bloom, making it easier for observers of the holiday to place flowers on the graves of fallen soldiers.

In 1868, events were held at more than 180 cemeteries in 27 states, and those figures nearly doubled in 1869. By 1890, every northern state officially recognized Decoration Day as a state holiday. But southern states honored their dead on a different day until after World War I, when the holiday was changed to recognize Americans who died in any war and not just the Civil War. Nearly every state now celebrates Memorial Day, a name for the holiday first used in 1882, on the last Monday in May.

Frank Donald BARBOUR

On May 20, 2017, Frank Donald Barbour left this earthly life and entered eternal life with his Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, after an eighteen month battle with cancer. He died at home with his loved ones surrounding him. Donald was born in the Kentuck Community of Pittsylvania County on June 2, 1931, and after living in the county the first twenty years of his life, he moved to Danville where he lived most of his life, until him and his wife returned to the county two months ago. He was the son of George D. Barbour, Sr. and Emma Jackson Barbour, who both predeceased him. He was also deceased by two brothers and five sisters. Donald is survived by his loving wife, and caretaker, Carol J. Barbour, of the home, 1573 Dairy View Road, Chatham, Virginia; and two loving daughters and caretakers, Sharon M. (Rusty) Thrift, and Joan C. Haymore, of Chatham, VA. He is also survived by two grandsons, Patrick M. Thrift, and Jacob L. Haymore; and two great-grandsons. Donald is also survived by one brother, Garland Barbour (Mildred) of St. Petersburg, FL. He is also survived by an aunt, two uncles, and numerous cousins and nieces and nephews, of Lynchburg, Richmond, Danville and Halifax. Donald was a graduate of Dan River High School, and was retired from Dibrell Brothers Tobacco, after thirty-seven years of service, where he was supervisor of all tobacco warehouse storage sites. He was a veteran of the Korean War having served with the 560th Field Unit of the US Army

National Guard. Donald enjoyed bird hunting and shooting skeet with his wife, Carol. He was also an accomplished guitarist. Donald was a devoted husband, father and grandfather. He was a devoted Christian who loved the Lord and served Him through his church, Kentuck Baptist Church, for as long as he was able. He was a deacon and Sunday School Teacher for sixty years. He served several terms as Chairman of the deacon board. He also served as Training Union Director for several years. In addition, he also served on the Free Bread Program of Kentuck Baptist Church. He was known for his integrity and wisdom, especially Biblical wisdom. He was a devoted friend to many. He and his young grandson, Jacob, enjoyed a special relationship, having enjoyed many wonderful experiences together. Donald was a mentor to many people through his teaching and his Christian life. He helped lead many to Christ, including his two grandsons. Donald will be greatly missed by his loving family, friends and his church family. Funeral services will be conducted on Tuesday, May 23, 2017 at 3:00 PM from the Kentuck Baptist Church by the Rev. Allen Mahan and the Rev. Tim Rogers. In Loving Memory

Happy Birthday in Heaven to Darryl James Foster
May 27th, 1972 - October 30, 2016

I'm Free
Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free
I'm following the path of God laid for me.
I took His hand when I heard Him call
I turned my back and left it all.

I could not stay another day
To laugh, to love, to work or play
Tasks left undone must stay that way
I found that place at the close of the day

If my parting has left a void
then fill it with remembered joy,
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss
Ah yes, these things, I too, will miss.

Be not burdened with times of sorrow.
I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow.
My life's been full, I savored much.
Good friends, good times, a loved one's touch.
Perhaps my time seemed all too brief;
Don't lengthen it now with undue grief.
Lift up your heart and share with me
God wanted me now. He set me free.

"Of God And Baby Birds"

There is much I am musing on from our church services yesterday: good crowds, new members joining, and a great spirit of worship. But currently it is the few moments before the service began that has my memory bank in overdrive.

I saw the box in my daughter's hand as she rushed frantically into my office five minutes before service start time. There were other young people behind her with equally wide eyes and concerned faces.

"It fell out of the nest, dad, you need to put it back!"

"It" was a small gray baby bird of some kind. I mean no unkindness to our airborne friends, but it was quite an ugly thing. Very few feathers, wide, flat, yellow beak, almost translucent skin.

The nest is in a hard to reach, problematic place, high up in the rafters of our drive under front porch at the main entrance to the church. But before I could even begin to process how to repatriate the bird, my daughter was already dashing down to the family life center to retrieve a ladder.

As I arrived under the porch, she was meeting me there with the ladder. The crowds were filing in steadily. I placed the ladder in the proper position, took the bird in my hand, and started upward. The little guy was pretty calm through it all. He seemed to have no fear of me, and did not struggle in my hand.

Reaching the top, I slid him into a tiny opening behind which I could hear his siblings chirping in the nest. He quickly scampered the last few inches, and when he did, an amazing thing happened: the nest went silent.

The lost family member was home, and all was right with their world.

It was inevitable that my mind would immediately go to the words of Matthew 10:29, "Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father."

We so often view the greatness of God through the largest lens possible, the magnificence of his creation: the galaxies, solar systems, and marvelous universe he spoke into existence. But as fitting as it is to see the greatness of God in the things that are incomprehensibly large, it is even more profound to see it in the things that are insignificantly small. An ugly, cheap, helpless bird fell to the ground, and he was there with it as it did. And in this particular case he also provided a girl with a tender heart to find it, and a father who could not say no to her plea for it.

I am glad this is the God I serve, because just two verses later in Matthew's account Jesus said, "Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows."

Unless we make it to the rapture, all of us must eventually die, no amount of prayers can keep a person alive forever. But it is those years in the mean time in which we get to marvel at and rejoice in the tender care of God in our lives. I have seen the results of him healing bodies that doctors said could not be healed. I have seen the results of him comforting hearts that were ready to give up. I have seen him change lives that no therapist or medication was able to help.

In my own life I have seen him meet specific needs that no one else knew about in ways that could never, ever be explained away as coincidence.

God is there when a bird falls. I am more valuable to him than a bird. I wonder how often it is that, when I fall, the Son of God looks over to his Father and says, "Dad, he fell, you need to put him back."

VETERANS POST

by Freddy Groves

VA Whistleblowers Gain Protections

On April 27, 2017, a presidential executive order gave the Department of Veterans Affairs 45 days to create a special office to protect whistleblowers and increase accountability. The VA managed to pull it off in 15 days, and the Office of Accountability and Whistleblower Protection now is up and running.

While short on text, the executive order is long on potential impact. A few highlights:

- * The office is to help recruit, reward and retain high-performing employees;
- * It will help identify statutory barriers to disciplining or terminating any employee who has done anything to jeopardize the health and safety of a veteran, and to report those barriers so they can be fixed via legislation;
- * It will act swiftly to resolve veterans' complaints of wrongdoing;
- * And best of all: The new office will quickly investigate employees' allegations of wrongdoing, and protect those employees from retaliation.

There. We have it in writing, signed, sealed and delivered: Whistleblowers will be protected. No longer will they have to face going to work knowing that inappropriate care is being given to veterans, or that supplies are going out the back door, or that drunk medical personnel are duty. No longer will they have to get a fake email account to try and stay anonymous when they send information to the hotline.

And no longer will the VA have to follow a protracted and convoluted set of legal guidelines, effectively being forced to keep a wayward employee who needs to be shown the door.

Additionally, remarks made at President Donald Trump's signing indicate that there will be a website that discloses wait times at all VA hospitals, that mental health services will be same-day at all VA hospitals, and that already this year, veterans have received 42 percent more Choice Program approvals to see doctors of their choosing.

Are things looking up? We can only hope.

THOUGHTFUL GIFTS FOR RECENT GRADS!

Students work hard on homework and various other projects during the course of their academic career. For those about to graduate, some potentially life-changing decisions await and students have the opportunity to graduate to a new stage in life. Many families celebrate graduation with a party for the guest of honor, who is presented with a variety of gifts during the festivities. Gifts are often chosen on the personality and interests of the graduate. If he or she has been voted most likely to travel or most likely to be a company CEO, there may be gifts tailor-made for those pursuits.

• All-Star Athlete

If your guy or girl took home more trophies and sports-related awards than you can count, a sporty gift may be just what is needed. Plan a day when you can take your graduate to a sporting event of his or her choosing. You may be able to take in a home game of a favorite team or fly to a playoff game. Sports enthusiasts who attend many games may enjoy receiving a ticket stub diary, where they can scrapbook their photos and memories of different games throughout the year.

• Travel Bug

Perhaps your graduate has a love for travel and plans on seeing the world before starting a job or furthering his or her academic career. A new set of luggage might be the right fit. If not, consider a subscription to a travel magazine or some books about specific destinations he or she has admired or would like to one day visit. Think about ordering a personalized passport cover and a traveler's journal for documenting all ports of call.

• Financial Maven

A student who excels in finance and has built a sizable nest egg may appreciate a gift of green. Purchase stock in his or her name, or open up a savings or credit account that can be used for school expenses. Monetary gifts never go out of style and could set a graduate on a course for success.

• Philanthropist

If your student has been participating in a cause from as early as you can remember, a philanthropic gift could be a nice touch for graduation. Make a donation in his or her name to a charity of his or her choosing. If you prefer to spread good will together, schedule volunteer time at a community center, hospital or disaster relief organization or enroll in programs that can use volunteers.

• Career Person

A graduate ready to begin his or her career may need a few resources to get started. A savvy business wardrobe can help make a good first impression. Gift cards to stores that carry professional wardrobes will benefit those grads who may not have the budget to stock their wardrobes with career essentials.

Purchasing a bus pass or a gift toward commuting costs can be another way to offer a career-related gift.

• Stress Relief

Few graduates will scoff at the idea of relaxing before a new stage of their life sets in. There are several gift ideas that can help a graduate kick back and relax and wash away memories of stressful exams or school applications. A gift certificate to a spa center that offers facials and massages would prove a relaxing gift. Some graduates may unwind through exercise, so a new piece of exercise equipment or membership to a local gym would be thoughtful. Tickets to a concert or theater performance could be a relaxing and entertaining way to unwind after the hustle and bustle of graduation. When gifting graduates one can begin by looking at their interests or what items may help them start their new careers or academic pursuits.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

* On June 8, 632, in Saudi Arabia, Muhammad, founder of Islam, dies. In 610, in a cave north of Mecca, he had a vision in which he heard God command him to become the Arab prophet of the "true religion." Muhammad began having religious revelations, which he collected as the Quran.

* On June 9, 1856, nearly 500 Mormons leave Iowa City and head west for Salt Lake City, carrying all their goods and supplies in two-wheeled handcarts with wooden axles. Over the next four years, some 3,000 Mormon converts made the overland journey with similar handcarts.

* On June 7, 1913, Hudson Stuck, an Alaskan missionary, leads the first successful ascent of Mt. McKinley's south peak, the highest point on the North American continent, at 20,320 feet, overcoming difficult weather and a fire that destroyed food and supplies.

* On June 10, 1928, Maurice Sendak, author and illustrator of "Where the Wild Things Are," is born in New York. The book was pioneering in its realistic depiction of childhood anxieties and rebellious behavior.

* On June 6, 1933, in New Jersey, Richard Hollingshead opens the first drive-in movie theater. Hollingshead had experimented in the driveway of his home in Camden, mounting a 1928 Kodak projector on the hood of his car, pinning a screen to some trees, and placing a radio behind the screen for sound.

* On June 11, 1955, a Mercedes-Benz race car in Le Mans, France, goes out of control at 150 mph and crashes into stands filled with spectators, killing 82 people. Several nations banned racing after the tragedy.

* On June 5, 1968, Senator Robert Kennedy is shot at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles after winning the California presidential primary. Kennedy was shot several times by the 22-year-old Palestinian Sirhan Sirhan. He died a day later.

1. Who released "She's a Fool"?
2. Which group wrote and released "Sincerely"?
3. Name the band that released "All Right Now."
4. Which group charted with "This Time I'm In It for Love"?
5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "People walking around reciting poetry, Screamin' guitars and a thousand colored lights, People I'm telling you this place is really out of sight, You can have your fortune told."

Answers

1. Lesley Gore, in 1963. It was produced by Quincy Jones, the genius behind a number of Gore's hits.
2. The Moonglows, in 1954. It went to No. 1 on the Billboard R&B chart, but the bestselling version was done by the following year by the McGuire Sisters. The Moonglows were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2000.
3. Free, in 1970. Lead singer Paul Rodgers went on to join Bad Company.
4. Player, in 1977. The song stayed on the charts for four months.
5. "Psychedelic Shack," by The Temptations, 1970. The group tried to capitalize on all things psychedelic, complete with a hard rock sound and synthesizers. It was a long way from "My Girl" only six years prior.

* "In a pinch, an old-fashioned all-metal vegetable peeler can double as a Phillips head screwdriver, possibly to tighten the handles on your kitchen cabinets (not that I ever do that)." -- E.L. in Connecticut

* Don't skimp on lip protection while out and about in the sun. Heat dries out your lips, and not many of us will apply sunscreen directly to the kisser. Look for a lip balm with an included SPF, and apply generously.

* Sunburn? Here are a few home remedies to try: Fill a spray bottle with equal parts apple cider vinegar and water. Chill and spray often. Yogurt can be slathered on and is especially soothing on clothing lines, like on the shoulders or the buttocks. Just be careful where you sit! Let soothe and rinse off with room temperature or cool water. Raw honey has antibacterial, antiviral and antiseptic properties, but must be covered with gauze or a thin cloth.

* "Save recyclable containers for kids to use in the sandbox. Mine love to play restaurant, and yogurt containers, frozen dinner plates and single-serving condiment cups make for fun when they are cleaned out." -- V.A. in Florida

* P.C., a snowbird from Maryland to Florida, writes in with his secret weapon for cooking corn on the cob: the microwave! "Trim each ear of corn on both ends, leave the husk on the cob and microwave it the amount of time you like (try 3-5 minutes). When it's done, the husk and silk will come off with no problem." Be sure you let the ears cool a bit first!

Puzzle Card

IT'S DOODLE-WORD TIME! The above card stands for a name, word or expression. And no, it doesn't mean "Me, Ma and Al."

Answers: It stands for "a square meal."

Junior Whirl

by Charles Barry Townsend

A SALUTE TO CHEESE! Cheese is a great food that's enjoyed around the world. In our puzzle grid there is room for nine names or words that are associated with cheese. The hints below should help. There is a dark frame around one of the columns in the grid. If you correctly find all of the words asked for, the letters in this frame, top to bottom, will spell out a "cheesy" variation on the name of a family TV horror show.

1. Can take a grilling.
2. A nose holder.
3. Great in Mediterranean salads.
4. A cheese covering.
5. Cheeses come in these shapes.
6. Named after a country dwelling.
7. Varies from mild to sharp.
8. Named after a type of cattle.
9. Usually served grated.

Illustrated by David Coulson

A GREAT LITTLE WAGER! Place 12 toothpicks on the table as shown in fig. 1. Challenge your friends to move three of them to new positions so that you will be left with three equal squares, Fig. 2 shows you the solution.

LINK-UPS! Here's a list of 12 short words, divided into two columns. Turn them into six longer words by linking them together. To do this, draw a line from one word in the left column to one word in the right.

- | | |
|----------|----------|
| 1. PAL | 5. SING |
| 2. READ | 6. PACE |
| 3. SEA | 7. MIST |
| 4. TEA | 8. JUST |
| 9. WEE | 10. SON |
| 11. AIRS | 12. PIER |

Answers: Palmist, Palmist, readjust, readjust, season, teasing, weepier, weepier, airspace.

TV show is the "Munsters" (Munsters).
 Answers: 1. American, 2. Lumberjack, 3. Feta, 4. Feta, 5. Wheel, 6. Cottage, 7. Cheddar, 8. Longhorn, 9. Parmesan, The name of the TV show is the "Munsters" (Munsters).

10 Tips to Make Outdoor Parties Unforgettable

FAMILY FEATURES

Entertaining is one thing, but dazzling your guests with an outdoor party sensation is another. Summer can be the best time of year for outdoor parties. From twinkling lights to patterned tablecloths, every detail counts when it comes to impressing family and friends.

It may feel like a lot of pressure to live up to expectations, but your party can be both simple and elegant with a few easy tips.

Start early

Early is never early enough when it comes to planning a rock-star summer gathering. Check to see if you have enough utensils, make sure everything is in place and that there is enough food for your guests. Prepare weeks in advance, if possible, to make sure you have all the materials necessary to throw your dream outdoor party.

Spice up the invitations

The perfect invitations can do three things. First is tell the basics: what, when and where. They can also tell guests what to bring along with them. Of course, invitations should also be appealing to the eye. This is your time to get a little creative and catch guests' attention before the big event.

Show your style

You want your guests to be as comfortable as possible. Make sure to dress tables and chairs with cushions and tablecloths. Mix it up and show off some of your personal flair with bright colors or fancy patterns. It's easy to celebrate summer with styles that bring summer vibes to life.

Light up the party

Brighten up the big day or night with some candles, lanterns or sparkling lights. In case of wind or weather, try to purchase covered candles to increase the chances the flame will stay lit. Make sure everyone can see the hard work you have put into the party.

Less mess meals

No one likes messy meals, especially at a summer party. Put together a menu that isn't stressful on the cook or stressful on your guests to eat. Dropping sauce on a white summer top is a party no-no.

Rain, rain, go away

Always prepare for the worst. If clouds roll in on party day, make sure you're ready. You can simply move the party indoors at the drop of a hat. Tents can also help keep the party going outdoors in case of precipitation.

Brighten it up

It's finally summer and that usually means flowers everywhere. Pick out an arrangement and make it the focal point of each table. The bright colors can draw your guests in and make them want to appreciate the beautiful nature around them.

Make your own games

Give the kids something to do and make it fun. While the adults visit, the little ones need something to keep themselves busy. Whether it's bubbles or water play in the heat, something to mix it up can help keep them occupied.

Jam it out

Keep the music low and cool. There is no need to blast your speakers across the entire yard. Play your favorite jams, but nothing too crazy. The music can really set the mood of the entire party and make or break the atmosphere.

Cool it down

The summer heat is blazing and sometimes being outside can be miserable. Make sure your guests stay comfortable, even in the heat. Lay out handheld fans, lots of water and even some towels. Your guests will want to stay hydrated so they can party on.

Secrets for Mastering the Grill

With warmer temperatures and sun-filled days arriving, there are few better ways to celebrate the summer season than by firing up the grill. Whether preparing a simple dinner at home or a backyard bash for a crowd, grilling is an easy way to add sear and flavor to your favorite meats and vegetables.

The perfect party, regardless of the number of guests, requires proper preparation, attention to detail and a few handy tricks around the grill to serve up delicious options for all in attendance. However, hosting a great get-together doesn't have to be complicated.

To up your grilling game this summer, try these tips from Chef Rick Bayless of Macy's Culinary Council, a national culinary authority featuring some of the nation's leading chefs.

Use the Right Tools

Aside from fuel, there are several cooking tools that are essential for grilling, including a meat thermometer, long-handled spatula and tongs, grill mitts and a grill brush. Bayless's go-to gadgets are a basket to prepare whole fish and a cast-iron grill grate to achieve marks and depth of flavor.

Get to Know the Fire

When grilling for a party, planning ahead is key, according to Bayless. It can be helpful to know the hot spots of the grill and the distance from grates to flame. Start early if roasting a larger piece of meat, while thinner cuts can be thrown on the grill after the party begins and your guests arrive.

Keep it Simple

Bayless recommends a simple menu that features tried and true flavor profiles nearly everyone loves. For appetizers, he suggests grilling vegetables and adding them to guacamole with bacon. Pair with wedges of grilled pita for dipping, which is an unexpected alternative to typical chips.

For a main entree, Bayless suggests making meat the star and serving up ribeye steaks marinated in garlic, chilies and fresh lime juice. To cap off the meal, his go-to dessert is grilled cornmeal pound cake, served warm and topped with ice cream, berries or whipped cream.
