THOSE DAMN CORMORANTS

By Douglas H. Domedion

Some folks think the cormorant is a beautiful bird; most think he is dirty, ugly and destructive and needs serious control.

HOTELS FOR HEROES – to find out more about how you can help our service members, veterans and their families in their time of need, visit the Fisher House website at www.fisherhouse.org

A few weeks ago I wrote about the large increase of the double-crested cormorants at Point Breeze and have since taken a closer look for myself recently. I hiked around shoreline on the west side of Oak Orchard Creek. It is all really pretty gross to see with vegetation covered with their white crap under the trees they are roosting in.

GUN SHOW - Hamburg Fairgrounds, 5820 S. Park Ave., Hamburg, 14075. Saturday, September 10, 9-4, Sunday, September 11, 9-3. Erie County Pistol Clerk participating. www.nfgshows.com

The first place checked out was the state park boat ramp; a beautiful set-up with plenty of great aluminum docking except the north decking was just covered with cormorant "white paint." I sure wouldn't want to set any of my gear down on that dock or even walk on it and then transporting "white paint" into my boat. The nearby shore line brush and trees were "white washed" and as I looked up in the tall poplar tree above me there were about five of those dirty, ugly birds sitting right above me! I thought I heard one say "Let's drop a load on him!" so keeping my eye on them I back-tracked off the dock! Looking north along the shoreline out toward the lake, large areas of "white paint" could be seen under the larger trees there.

Driveway stone, top soil & sand. Small to medium loads, tractor available to spread. 585.732.4370 or 585.765.2003.

I then circled around to the start of the west pier in an attempt to work my way along the west shore of Oak Orchard Creek. The vegetation got so thick that it had to be pushed back with my hands to continue. I can be pretty tough at busting brush, but pushing aside vegetation covered with white crap is more than this guy was going to do. Of course the white "paint" covered the boulders on the southernmost part of the pier where the roosting starts. This is all state park area that goes all the way to the state park boat launch. I retreated from this end of the park, but noticed several signs near the lakefront that stated "PET WASTE TRANSMITS DISEASE – CLEAN UP AFTER YOUR PET." Now these are federally protected birds, so does that mean the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is responsible for cleaning up after them?

'95 CHEVY DUALY 4X4, 127,000 miles, newer tires, 7" lift kit. 585.331.7106.

After taking some pictures of the existing "paint work" I headed over to the boat ramp on the east side of the "Oak" where the light house and parking lot is. There was a group of concerned homeowners who lived near by meeting with our Senior Wildlife Biologist from the State Wildlife Management Areas here in the swamp. They were very concerned, and rightfully so, about the damage and "white wash" these birds were creating and were hoping that something could be done to nip this problem in the bud before it got completely out of hand.

DISH TV 2 Year Price Lock with Flex Pack. Only $49.99/mo. Includes FREE Hopper and 3 Months HBO, Cinemax, Showtime, Starz & Dish Movie Pack Call Today 1-800-686-9986

This bird is classified as a migrating bird and is under the same rules and laws that govern ducks and geese. You know like the seasons to hunt them, bag limits and methods that can be used except there is no season on these birds! They are increasing at a very rapid rate and they will be completely destroying this area in a few years. The folks that think they are beautiful and want to protect them will have a change of mind when they start interfering with their lives down the road, believe me! Not only are they extremely dirty and destructive, but they are cleaning up on the bait fish out there in the lake that the game fish need to survive and they will take game fish up to 12-14 inches. I have talked to folks who help with the fingerling trout and salmon stocking at his location and they say the cormorants just flock in when that is being done and have a feast. So we are not only allowing them to destroy the area and the fishery, but we are providing food for them too?

TATTOOS

Canalside Tattoo Company in Medina, 585.318.4477. CanalsideTattoo.com. Tuesday-Saturday, 1-8pm.

Complete line of animal feeds & bird feeds. Pasture & wildlife seeds. Hendel Farms Feed & Grain Store. 3451 N. Main St., Holley. 585.638.6042.

So who can we blame for this lack of wildlife management, the NYS DEC? No, not really because it is the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service who regulates these migratory birds. They were in fact allowing states to give out permits to shoot these birds where they had become a real problem but as always some "do-gooders" managed to get a U.S. District Judge to stop the USFWS from allowing this killing. So here we go again, some judge who probably has no background in wildlife management or knows a thing about double-crested cormorants is making wildlife management decisions instead of letting the wildlife biologists do their job.

So what can be done at Point Breeze about this problem? Well the DEC will be issuing a permit to the local folks at Point Breeze to harass them with noise makers like air horns, flash bangers (firecracker type exploding grenades shot from shotguns) and other types of non-lethal harassment items to chase them away. AWAY TO WHERE? Up to the homeowners farther up the creek, over to the big Marina on the east side of the creek, over to Johnson Creek, Green Harbor Campground Marina and other locations along the lake? And all the while still ruining our fishery, the tourist business and the environment.

MJP GENERAL CONTRACTING: Roofing, siding, windows, doors, decks, additions, garages, pole barns. Fully insured. Free estimates. 716.955.9244, mjpgeneralcontracting.com.

My question is, what is the difference between managing our deer population, the resident goose population and the cormorant population with a hunting season? My contact information is 585-798-4022 or woodduck2020@yahoo.com.

Sarah Ruth Brinsmaid, 98, of Lyndonville, N.Y., passed away to be with her family in Heaven on Thu., Aug. 25, 2016, at the North Wing of Medina Hospital. Born on April 18, 1918, in the Town of Yates, N.Y., she was the daughter of the late Louis W. and Ruth (Barry) Brinsmaid. Sarah served as President of the NYS Association of Women in Physical Education. She enjoyed raising Morgan horses, travelling, gardening, playing bridge and riding around town in her golf cart. She is predeceased by her brothers, Sanford; twins Barry and Bernard; sisters, Lucile and Julia (William) Krenning; nephew Louis Frederick; and her horse Chloe. Effective Cover Letters

- Address a specific person when possible. When responding to a job posting that listed a specific contact, address your cover letter to that person rather than beginning the letter with, "Dear Sir or Madam" or "To Whom It May Concern." Personalize each cover letter you write so the hiring manager does not get the feeling that you are sending out cover letters en masse. Make sure names are spelled correctly and job titles are accurate.
- State your purpose early on. The purpose of your letter, which is to state the job you're seeking, should be made clear early on. Hiring managers often handle the vetting process for a host of positions at their companies, so the earlier the hiring manager knows which position you're applying for the better. Hiring managers may become frustrated when applicants don't make their intentions clear or do so in the final paragraph instead of the first.
- Explain why you are a qualified candidate. While it's good to note your work history, your resume will do the bulk of that legwork. A cover letter is your opportunity to show how your work history makes you a qualified candidate for a specific position. Remember to be concise but relate a specific example that illustrates how your work history would help you thrive in the position for which you're applying.
- Exhibit some knowledge about the company to which you're applying. An effective cover letter should help you stand out among your fellow applicants, and expressing some knowledge about the organization can do just that. The goal here is to illustrate how you and the organization are a good fit, so you don't need to go overboard or be too specific. But hiring managers are likely to be more impressed by applicants who do their homework and show a knowledge of the company than applicants who submit a form cover letter where the company is scarcely mentioned.
- Be cordial in your closing. A cover letter should close with a cordial request for an interview or a friendly way of indicating you look forward to a company's response to your application. In addition, thank the reader for his or her time and mention you would be delighted to answer any questions he or she may have.

Classic Rolled Tacos

Makes 24 tacos

- 2 cups shredded cooked beef (see below)
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 24 6-inch corn tortillas, micro-warmed (see note)
- Vegetable oil

1. In a large bowl, thoroughly combine shredded beef and salt.

2. To build tacos, place 1 1/2 tablespoons of meat at one end of each tortilla, shaping the filling into a short, straight line. Gently roll tortilla and secure with a toothpick (you do not need to seal the ends; the taco looks like a small flute). Deep-fry immediately or place rolled tacos in a resealable plastic bag to keep moist. Refrigerate until ready to cook for up to 2 days.

3. Fill a deep fryer, deep heavy pot or deep skillet with 3 inches of oil and heat to 350 F. Using tongs, gently place 3 to 4 tacos at a time in the hot oil and deep-fry, turning once, until golden brown and crispy, 2 to 3 minutes. Drain on paper towels. Lightly season with salt. Serve 3 or 4 per person.

Note: Micro-warming corn or flour tortillas gives you a very pliable and soft tortilla and allows you to roll the tacos tightly, so it's perfect for preparing rolled tacos and taquitos. It is also quick and easy for soft tacos.

Boneless Beef

- 2 to 3 pounds boneless beef, chuck or sirloin roast
- 1 onion, quartered
- 3 cloves garlic
- 3/4 teaspoon salt

1. Place roast in a large pot and fill with enough water to cover the meat by 2 inches. Add onion and garlic and bring to a gentle boil over medium-high heat. Cover, reduce heat to medium-low and simmer until meat is tender and falling apart, 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Remove meat. Discard broth or use in another recipe. Let meat cool for 12 to 15 minutes. Shred meat into strands with your fingers or two forks. Add salt and mix well. Let cool completely. Measure out amount needed for recipe and place remaining beef in a resealable plastic bag. Refrigerate for up to 2 days or freeze for up to 3 months.
