WILLOWBROOK GOLF COURSE PROVIDES A COURSE FOR EVERYONE TO ENJOY

Tall Loblolly Pines stretch to meet a clear blue sky, while sparrows, finches and cardinals sing in the distant background. The sound of a solitary “pop” calls a foursome of golfers to attention. Not a word is said, but all eyes dutifully follow the tiny ball as it rises and then falls back down to the earth on the fairway. With its peaceful setting and beautiful rolling greens, Willowbrook Golf Course in Manchester Tennessee has all the amenities necessary for a perfect day on the green. However, don’t let the relaxed atmosphere fool you. Willowbrook draws some of the top golfers in the nation and take note, a serious crop of future champion golfers are honing their skills on the course at this very moment.

Willowbrook Golf Course was designed by well-known professional golf course designer, Jerry Lemons. Lemons specializes in making golf courses that are fun, challenging and have strategic options, all for the purpose of creating a course that golfers want to return to again and again. Willowbrook is all that and more. A Par 72 course, this Championship Golf Course includes 6 ponds and 52 bunkers with a slope and rating of 71.8/123, making it a favorite among Tennessee Golf Courses since its beginnings in 1995.

There is, however, something else that is quite exceptional about Willowbrook. Owner, David Burris has set the bar high with a strong bend towards customer service. The staff goes the extra distance to make everyone feel welcome, from the first-time golfer to the seasoned pro.

Most likely, PGA Golf-Pro Barry Bishop will be one of the first people you meet when you walk into the pro shop at Willowbrook. With an easy smile and an upbeat attitude, Bishop welcomes visitors with a familiarity that comes with good friends—and it is quickly evident that many of his customers are just that. What may not be obvious upon the first impression is that Bishop, who has been with Willowbrook since 2000, is an award winning coach and golf professional, who has a huge heart for the youth of Coffee County. Under Bishop’s leadership and expertise, Willowbrook has developed one of the finest Junior Golf Programs in the country.

There are many success stories that have passed through the Junior Golf Program at Willowbrook and one doesn’t have to look far to read about top-ranked American Junior Golf Association (AJGA) player, Ashley Gilliam. Gilliam, a Coffee County Central High School student with an impressive list of Jr. Golf Championship Titles, has left her mark on the program, a mark of excellence, which will inspire younger players to reach high and follow her lead for years to come. At a recent high school golf tournament, on her final swing of the day, Gilliam scored a hole-in-one, giving the Lady Raiders not only the win, but a finish that will go down in history. And that...is how it is done.

To get a first hand view of the Junior Golf action, be sure to catch the Tennessee Secondary School Athletic Association (TSSAA) State Championship Golf Tournament held the last week of September and the first two weeks of October. Willowbrook will be hosting this event for the 8th consecutive year, welcoming Jr. golfers from all over the state. Willowbrook will continue to have the honor of hosting the TSSAA event until 2020.

The Willowbrook 10th Annual Pro Am Golf Classic will be held on Monday, June 5th, 2017. This important fundraiser directly impacts Coffee County youth of all ages and demographics by providing local students with the opportunity to learn about the game of golf. The funds raised from the Pro Am Golf Classic will help support the activities of the Coffee County Junior Golf Program, such as school outreaches, instruction, playing opportunities and competitions. In past events, the Pro-Am Classic has even helped several students to obtain college scholarships. Funds are raised by various sponsorship levels, live and silent auctions, and entry fees. The unique format of the tournament is a five person team consisting of three amateur players, a qualified local junior golfer and a golf professional or college player. The Willowbrook Pro Am Classic is a win-win situation for everyone involved, from the generous sponsors and players to the spectators and the young recipients—a community comes together, a difference is made and lives are changed.

Willowbrook also offers a fantastic option for dining on-site. Boskey's Grille is open to the public and provides a full-service restaurant with a casual and inviting atmosphere for lunch and dinner. Stop by for a cold drink after a round of golf and enjoy the latest sporting event on one of the Grill's large-screen TVs or enjoy the stunning view overlooking the golf course from the enclosed patio. On Saturdays, March through November listen to local live music on the patio as well. Boskey's Grille is also a great place to meet family and friends for dinner. The menu includes a variety of wonderful appetizers, salads, steaks and sandwiches, nightly specials and even a crab leg dinner each Saturday night starting at 4:00 pm.

Come enjoy a round of great golf and southern hospitality. Willowbrook, a PGA Family Course, is the perfect golf outing for families and friends alike—a course where players of varying abilities can compete, grow their golf game, enjoy the camaraderie of friends and a place to soak up the natural beauty of Tennessee. The smiling faces and friendly waves throughout the fairway serve as a gentle reminder that there are no strangers at Willowbrook, just good friends, new and old. - Trisha Sandora

MEET ME ON THE RIVER

GET YOUR FEET WET AND PADDLE YOUR WAY THROUGH TENNESSEE

Rain or shine, any day on the river is a good day and Tennessee State Representative Judd Matheny couldn't agree more. Matheny has spent his life navigating the waterways of Tennessee and beyond, not only from the seat of a kayak but from the state capital as well, working to protect and preserve one of Tennessee's greatest natural resources.

Manchester's proximity to three lakes (Tim's Ford Lake, Normandy Lake and Woods Reservoir), and two major rivers (Duck River and the Elk River) make it the ideal location for kayak, canoe and stand-up paddle-board enthusiasts to explore the scenic waters of South Central Tennessee and to get a close up view of the abundant wildlife that lives within the delicate ecosystem along the river. The Duck River, at 284 miles long, is the longest river located entirely in the state of Tennessee. It is also one of the most biologically diverse rivers in North America, home to more than 50 species of freshwater mussels and over 150 species of fish.

The last 15 years have brought major improvements to the cleanliness of Tennessee rivers and lakes, a result of raising public awareness on the important issues that concern water quality through education and enforcing environmental laws. Through these efforts, wildlife habitat is being restored and the recent reintroduction of the bald eagle and river otter are proof these efforts are not in vain. Matheny adds, "On any given day you'll see a mink, otter, all types of fish, snakes, turtles and more—I've passed right under a bald eagle within 15 feet of where it was sitting over the river."

Matheny is also working with others to make the river more accessible by increasing the number of ingress and egress points. This involves creating and maintaining good relationships with private land owners along the river and respecting the privilege of river access through keeping the launch points clean and free of trash.

Paddling down a lazy Tennessee river, through the old stomping grounds of Davy Crockett or passing by the ceremonial gathering places of the Woodland Indians, creates a sense of awe and reverence for the land. The senses come alive with the sights and sounds of the river—the wings of a blue heron taking flight, the splash of a trout jumping, the rhythm of the water gently rocking the boat. A day spent on the river is relaxing, peaceful, refreshing and exhilarating all at the same time—it just doesn't get much better than that.

When asked if he had a favorite memory of his river adventures, Matheny replied, "I probably can't give you one particular memory, but I could give you a thousand different ones of people laughing and swimming and having a great time".

AREA LAKES & RIVERS

NORMANDY LAKE

Normandy Lake offers a number of public boat ramps, and campgrounds. Covering 3,160 acres it offers anglers superb fishing opportunities. The Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency and the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Agency regularly stock rainbow trout in the Duck River below Normandy Dam. The lake boasts sizable populations of largemouth bass, small-mouth bass and is one of the top spots to tangle with the feisty Kentucky bass. In recent years thanks to a very successful stocking program by the TWRA walleye have taken the spotlight from late spring through summer as a preferred quarry by many anglers. Crappie anglers fish the lake year round.

TIMS FORD LAKE

Tims Ford was impounded in 1970 when the Tennessee Valley Authority built a hydro-electric dam across the Elk River. The 10,700 acre lake is one of the most picturesque in Tennessee and is regarded as one of the top bass fishing and recreational lakes in the Southeast. The lake's deep clear water has made it famous for those in search of small-mouth bass. In addition the lake hosts excellent populations of largemouth bass, Kentucky bass, Rockfish, hybrids, crappie and catfish.

DUCK RIVER

Winding 269 miles through Middle Tennessee, the Duck River is one of the state's most scenic waterways. But there's more here than meets the eye. Underneath the surface, the river teems with an almost unsurpassed variety of freshwater animal life. It is one of three hot spots for fish and mussel diversity in the entire world.

WOODS RESERVOIR

Woods Reservoir was the only recreational lake in the area for decades. Impounded in 1952 by the Air Force as a water supply for Arnold Air Force base the lake soon became Middle Tennessee's favorite outdoors recreation site.

ELK RIVER

The Elk River begins at Tims Ford Lake and flows over the Cumberland Plateau to the Wheeler Dam in northern Alabama, where it connects with the Tennessee River. The river flows through woodlands and farm areas, offering a quiet, scenic place to canoe and camp. It's a calm-water river with Class I water. Along the banks and greater area, you'll see wildlife like blue heron, beavers, deer, wild turkey and hawks. Wildflowers and limestone formations offer other attractions.

ON COMMON GROUND

WHEN: JUNE 8 - 11, 2017

WHERE: GREAT STAGE PARK - MANCHESTER, TN

COME TOGETHER FOR MUSIC, FOOD AND FUN — BONNAROO STYLE

Bonnaroo Music and Arts Festival, considered by many as the pinnacle of American music festivals, is making history by forging a trail where no other festival has gone before. For four days in June, over 80,000 people come together in the fields of a 700 acre Manchester, Tennessee farm known as Great Stage Park (aka The Farm). During this short span of time, a close-knit community is born with the shared purpose to simply enjoy one another, listen to great music, eat well and most of all “have a really good time”. It doesn’t matter where you are from, what you do for a living, what kind of car you drive, or what kind of music you listen to, labels and stereotypes are left at home. And for a moment, that passes all too quickly, people stand together on the common ground of The Farm and create what becomes the seventh largest city in Tennessee—a city filled with high-fives, laughter, smiling faces, brotherly love and music.

Bonnaroo is serious fun no matter what direction you turn. From Centeroo, which is the nucleus of the festival grounds, as its name implies, to Which Stage or What Stage, This Tent or That Tent, the Solar Stage or the Other Stage (new for 2017), the Comedy Theatre or the Bonnaroo Cinema, there is no wrong way to go and wherever you are is the right place at the right time. The only challenge will be in deciding what to do next.

Sustainability is a core value of the folks at Bonnaroo and $1 from every ticket sold goes towards the sustainability work on the festival grounds. These funds and other generous donations have already enabled Bonnaroo to install a permanent solar system, the first ever at a major American music festival. Festival goers are encouraged to carpool, utilize shuttle services, use refillable containers, compost, recycle and share in helping to keep the area green and clean.

Of course it really is all about the music and every year Bonnaroo boasts a diverse and stellar lineup like no other. Over 100 top acts will come from all over the world and for some of the acts, this will be the only festival they play all year. Where else can you see U2 (their first ever U.S. festival headlining appearance), the Red Hot Chili Peppers, the Weeknd, Margo Price and Greensky Bluegrass all in the same place and possibly even on the same stage together?

FOR ROO BY YOO

SPOTLIGHT: A POST BY ROOCHUTE

@Roochute is the stress reducin', positivity producin' parachute with a purpose – creating Happy and Healthy communities for ALL Humanity.

TRADITION

Bonnaroo exists as the happiest place on Earth. It's a fact — a real one. Time-tested, Amish approved. Proven each and every year by tens of thousands of Roovians radiating positivity, fueled by the magic each and every one of us brings to The Farm. From 3D glasses passed out freely during late nite shows, trampolines in the Pods, all the way to the Fauxest Gump photo ops and impromptu parades in Centeroo, Bonnaroo is always brewing the best of surprises with one of the most ingenious and creative communities around. So let us take you back to 2014; it was our year, our turn to pay it forward and unleash a — not so little — magical surprise of our own. With sweaty palms, nerves and excitement abounding, and a powderkeg of positivity and kindness strapped to our back, we approached the line into Centeroo...

OUR ROOTS

Smack-Smack-Smack-Smack...

High-Five Friday set the tempo of our racing heartbeats as we nervously approached security by the Arch with our sneak attack surprise.

Perplexed Glance

"It's just a large rainbow parachute, Sir."

Silence

"You don't have a problem with that... do you?" With a touch of awkward energy, a knowing glance, a crooked grin of acceptance, and Holy Hell Roochute was IN!

Our first message "#BeHappy" scrawled in hours upon hours of black sharpies bloomed high above the scene during Cake's afternoon performance in 2014; that party did not stop until the phenomenal late night set by Zedd. Minds were exploding and laughter could be heard radiating all across Centeroo due to this crazy parachute. Bonnaroo began trending on social media and photos of Roochute began appearing all over the web. The #Roochute movement ignited in the hearts of Roovians and was catalyzed by a feature in RollingStone Magazine as one of the ‘...Best Things We Saw at Bonnaroo 2014’ and the momentum has only skyrocketed, with features by Bose, BuzzFeed, Red Bull, Complex, The New York Times, and The Wall Street Journal.

BEST DAY OF GYM CLASS

Roochute is rooted in a simple, yet sensational idea: create as much happiness as possible with as many people as possible. We all remember how pumped we were to play with the parachute in elementary school, but there was no real opportunity to relive that nostalgia in today’s society as an adult. Roochute was started with the mission to bring back the “best day of gym class” set to the tune of your favorite artists alongside new friends by the tens of thousands.

PLAY WITH PURPOSE

As a reoccurring art & wellness experience on The Farm, Roochute guarantees to elevate your mood, help you beat the heat, and produce next level happiness you and your tribe will remember for the rest of your lives. Roochute represents the best in our humanity. It is more than just joy and a free-spirited innocence, this parachute has a purpose – to create happy, healthy communities through promoting mental wellness. Outside of the four remarkable days in Manchester, Tennessee, Roochute travels across the United States to take the good vibes felt from The Farm and radiate that positivity to neighborhoods, schools, hospitals, and community festivals. Living by the “pay it forward” mentality, Roochute shines a light on the importance of balance in daily life: physically, mentally, and spiritually. Every person that plays with the Roochute is empowered to perform three acts of intentional kindness, gratitude, and self-care. This is not just nostalgia — much more than just a symbol of our childhood, Roochute is a beacon of hope and a reminder of the positivity and inclusivity we all embrace on The Farm. To think Kindly and act Boldly, not only to others, but also to ourselves. Together, we will end stigma surrounding mental health.

KEEPING THE VIBE ALIVE 365

This summer, relive your youth and release your inner kid with Roochute. Make sure to say, “Hello” to Ron and Patrick on the farm! We cannot wait to meet each and every one of you and inspire memories that are sure to bring a smile to your face when you need it the most down the road. Join our growing family and support the @Roochute movement by following the parachute on Facebook and Instagram. Be the change and become an ambassador for Roochute in your city today.

THINK KINDLY, ACT BOLDLY

Patrick & Ron
@Roochute

What's your favourite way to stay physically active?

P: Sweat for at least 10 mins a day. Helps keep my glass FULL and doubt at bay.

R: Hot Yoga and Jumping Rope while blasting dance tracks. I enjoy experimenting with new rope tricks and adjusting my routine to the speed of the song playing.

What is your favourite Bonnaroo moment?

P: When we sent the 50 Foot "Choose Kindness" Roochute over the heads of the Vulfpeck crowd during Antwaun Stanley's epic breakdown/bridge of "Wait for the Moment." Timing was MAGIC and thanks to some burly volunteers we made sure the chute surprise floated in and back out without a hitch.

R: Sharing a moment with Christopher Mintz-Plasse (aka McLovin') under the Roochute in 2015

What is your favourite Roochute Memory?

P: The day of the Orlando Pulse shooting on Sunday of Roo 2016 we organized a community tribute with @NowThisIsLiving where we unleashed 5 Roochutes from the Main Stage during Death Cab's "Follow You Into The Dark." Running around deploying the chutes from the Pit, wearing/waving a rainbow flag in the Southern Tennessee heat to encouraging smiles, cheers, and tears of support will always inspire me with American Hope.

R: Playing with the parachute at the Which Stage during Bonnaroo 2016 during back-to-back sets of M83 and Tame Impala. These two artists were my absolute, must-see artists on The Farm and witnessing their live performance in, around, and underneath Roochute rocketed me straight to the heavens.

How do you Pay-It-Forward in your life?

P: Compliments last — Leave every room happier than you found it. Share a song link/vid with someone that is struggling to let them know you are there for them and they are not alone. Our social support structure is the key to happiness and success.

R: Each Pay Day Friday, I go to my favourite coffee shoppe in Columbus and buy a coffee for the person behind me and if there is no one behind me, I leave it up to the barista to make someone's day.

HANDS-ON SCIENCE CENTER

COMMUNITY COMMITMENT TO SCIENCE CREATES REGIONAL ASSET

As you drive down into Tullahoma on Highway 55, there are few places in Middle Tennessee where the opportunities for learning, inspiration, and fun are so boundless. Since opening its doors in 1995, the Hands-On Science Center has been an institution of singular importance, providing access to exceptional informal science education and offering transformative experiences for children and adults alike.

Ambitious and visionary, community leaders, engineers, scientists, and professionals came together to make a transformational investment in the region and its citizens ... creating an 11,000-square foot facility dedicated to making science and math fun. With community support, the Hands-On Science Center is an important catalyst in the advancement of education and career awareness in the fields of science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM), while also playing a role in workforce development and economic growth.

Hosting over 18,000 visitors a year, the Center is a significant contributor to the region's quality of life. With an observatory, music garden, human sun dial, and over 100 hands-on exhibits inside the facility (with 92 other exhibits in storage awaiting rotation), visitors explore all facets of science. Last year we enhanced our aquatic center and added a 180-gallon salt water fish tank, a fresh water tank, and by June 2017, a predator tank will be operational.

The Hands-On Science Center's newest endeavor ... developing a makerspace for designing and building all kinds of educational projects. With the resources, tools, and materials,—everything from basic electronics and making circuits to using craft materials to design an astronaut suit, the makerspace will attract all ages with curiosity and focus. Just as we do in our education programs and camps, our visitors will watch others design or collaborate with other makers, as they discover scientific principles. Combining a Science Center with a makerspace provides an education with the best of both worlds.

Celebrating 22 years of hands-on learning, in August 2017, the Center will host our annual Anniversary Celebration and our first Maker Fair, showcasing many of our projects as well innovations from the local community.

Whether it be for the 55 to 75 field trips a year or an after-school enrichment club, the Hands-On Science Center is a powerful resource for teachers. With resources that most schools do not have, the Science Center offers interactive, standards-based activities that complement the school curriculum and equips students with the skills to make informed decisions to pursue STEM fields.

In the past, K-12 STEM education has focused more on math and science than technology and engineering, yet the Hands-On Science Center excels in all facets of STEM. Through collaboration with the Air Force and the University of Tennessee Space Institute STEM initiatives, Arnold Engineering Development Complex, regional universities and academia, as well as major government contractors and industry leaders, the Hands-On Science Center hosts events like Lego League®, Rocket Day, Engineer's Week, and other programs that use math and science to solve real problems and often create new technologies that fuel innovation.

The Hands-On Science Center offers homeschool education programs, a preschool story time, college preparation programs, ACT Test study halls, co-curricular volunteer opportunities, coding camps for all ages, as well as Spring, Summer, and Fall Science Camp experiences.

According to Beverly Lee, retired Air Force Colonel and Executive Director of the Hands-On Science Center,

“To increase the ability of the United States to innovate, we need to support Science Centers, not only in large cities but in smaller communities. Places like the Hands-On Science Center play a key role in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) education. The programs, exhibits, and education they offer helps develop the workforce of the future. And now more than ever, businesses are counting on the next generation of workers to be scientifically literate.”

Cumberland Caverns located in McMinnville, Tennessee, is one of the most extensive known caves in America. Portions of this caving system were originally known as Higgenbotham Cave and Henshaw Cave. Considerable exploration of previously unseen sections along with integration of the two caves substantially enlarged Cumberland Caverns to the more than 32 miles that can be toured today.

Surveyor Aaron Higgenbotham discovered Higgenbotham Cave (now a national landmark) in 1810. Venturing into the cave alone, he was trapped for three days on a high ledge when his torch went out. According to local legend, his hair had turned white by the time a rescue party found him. Aaron Higgenbotham did not penetrate very far underground, but shortly after the close of the Civil War, someone explored for over a mile in Higgenbotham Cave and discovered a huge avenue—60 ft. wide, 10 ft. high, and 2000 ft. long—the “Ten Acre Room.” The name “Shelah Waters” and the date “1869” are inscribed on the walls in candle smoke or scratched into the rock in many rather remote areas. This is the oldest name and date in the cave. Higgenbotham Cave is mentioned in old histories of Warren County as a local attraction, and Thomas L. Bailey in “Resources of Tennessee” first described it in print for 1918.

OLD STONE FORT STATE PARK

ON SACRED GROUND

Manchester's own state park, a favorite among history buffs thanks to its Native American heritage dating back two millennia, turns 50.

ON SACRED GROUND “We were the first official state archaeological park in Tennessee and are one of only two currently in existence,” says Park Manager Keith Wimberley. “The cultural aspect of Old Stone Fort is what brings so many visitors here, and the scenic beauty is right up there with any park in the state.” Since the site itself hails from a pre-historic era,

LITTLE DUCK RIVER GREENWAY

The Little Duck River Greenway connects the Coffee County Raider Academy, Dave King Park, Fred Deadman Park, the Recreation Complex, the Town Square, Old Stone Fort State Park and the Caretakers Entrance of Old Stone Fort on State Hwy 41. It is a 2.4 mile, 8 foot wide concrete walkway with wooden boardwalks, bridges, an octagonal overlook, and the Keep Coffee County Beautiful Memorial. The newest section just opened up at the Manchester Sports Park.

much about the Native American rituals are left up to interpretation, but what historians do know is that the site was not used for habitation, burials or defense (settlers often dubbed such enclosures “forts”). Manchester’s own state park is a favorite among history buffs thanks to its Native American heritage dating back two millennia. “[The Woodland Indians] wanted to set their sacred space apart,” Wimberley explains. “This was meant only to be a ceremonial gathering place.” Upward of 200,000 people visit Old Stone Fort State Archaeological Park annually, many to experience its history and others for the abundance of outdoor offerings, including its iconic cascading waterfalls. Located at the point where two rivers drop off the Highland Rim plateau, the park is rife in water sources; falls plunge from the beginning of the trail down to the depths of Tennessee’s Central Basin. Long, wall-like mounds that were characteristics of the Woodland Period flank the riverside trail, and park visitors will find a set of parallel mound walls oriented to within one degree of the summer solstice sunrise at the narrow neck of land before the Little Duck and Duck rivers meet. Boasting 51 heavily wooded campsites outfitted with water and 30-amp electrical hookups, grills, picnic tables, hard-surface pads and restroom facilities with showers, Old Stone Fort State Park is not just for day-trippers, but also appeals to those who want to spend a weekend—or longer—exploring the area with Manchester as their home base (campsite fees are $24 a night with a two-week stay limit). The park has a museum and gift shop, a 1.25-mile perimeter trail within the ancient enclosure and four additional miles of developed trails, while the campground has its own Nature Trail. A playground for children is located in the picnic area along with more than 30 picnic tables and grills, in addition to a shelter available for rent. Birders can delight in catching glimpses of such native species as the Northern Parula, Red-eyed Vireo and occasional blue heron. Fishermen love the park for the copious largemouth Bass, bream and catfish that swim the waters of the Duck River. There are also interpretative programs every Saturday and Sunday from Memorial Day to Labor Day led by seasonal rangers and suitable for all ages. “[Old Stone Fort] is truly a hidden gem,” Wimberley says. “A lot of people who grew up close by will show up and say, ‘I’ve lived here my whole life and never really knew this existed.’ And when they discover it, it’s something special.”

MESSAGE IN A BOTTLE

GEOCACHING...A REAL-LIFE TREASURE HUNT THROUGH TENNESSEE

In the hollow branch of a tree that grows along the edge of the Duck River outside of Manchester, there is a message in a bottle. This particular bottle is a small lock-tight orange medicine-type bottle that holds various items such as a logbook, a codeword, a pen and an item or two left from those who have been here before. The logbook is filled with the dates and signatures of fellow treasure hunters, some who have added a short message revealing where they are visiting from (London, Illinois, California), or other exciting details about their travels such as “getting married tomorrow”. This hidden bottle is a geocache, one of more than 3 million that are hidden all over the world as part of the rapidly growing game of discovery known as Geocaching.

Geocaching is a great way to explore a new destination and to exercise the mind and the body while you are at it. It is also adding a whole new dimension to travel and family vacations, providing an inexpensive activity that involves everyone and even provides an itinerary of where to go and what to see.

Geocache Tours are a series of multiple geocaches in an area. South Central Tennessee has two Geotours, the Jack Geotour consisting of 66 geocaches spread across 9 counties and the Discover South Central Tennessee Geotour consisting of 87 geocaches across 14 counties. Each Geotour has a downloadable passport where players can log their codewords to win trackable “geocoins” (Read more about this at www.sctta.net/geocaching). These tours take visitors to locations they may not ordinarily visit, such as city parks, rivers, historical landmarks, restaurants and other businesses along the beautiful backroads of Tennessee.

Ready to get started? The first step is to go to geocaching.com and sign up so that you can view the geocaches. Next, choose a geocache to find (chances are there is one hidden close by), then enter the coordinates on a GPS device and let the search begin. The geocaches are always placed in some type of weather proof container such as a film canister, a medicine bottle, a water bottle or an ammo box and may be hidden behind a bush, next to a building, under the stairs, in a tree or all sorts of other places. Although Geocaching can be done with any GPS device by manually entering in the coordinates, the Geocaching App is an invaluable tool that helps locate the coordinates, gives hints as to where to look and provides fantastic information about the geography and history of an area.

Some fellow geocachers have a great sense of humor and have left small items in the geocache along with a clever or funny message in the logbook. Upon opening one of the caches that was hidden deep within the bushes, a plastic spider was sitting on the logbook...very funny!

A word of advice from one fellow geocacher to another, once you have found the geocache you are searching for, take a moment to look around at the beautiful landscape, the wildlife, the remnants of history and if the cache is located at a business, stop in and say hello. Finding the geocache is only the beginning of the adventure.

Manchester Arts Center

The Mission of the Manchester Municipal Arts Commission is to foster, promote, and encourage the development of the arts in Manchester and the surrounding areas.

The organization serves Coffee County and surrounding counties of Rutherford, Cannon, Warren, Grundy, Franklin, Moore, and Bedford. It has roots dating back to 1968, when the emphasis was on the visual arts. It was incorporated by the state and named the Manchester Municipal Arts Commission. In 1995, this group purchased a building at 909 Hillsboro Blvd. The building was leased to a professional theatre group which renovated the interior for theatre and reception use and operated the facility for one year. Since Oct. 1, 1996 the MMAC, with the help of those trained in college in theatre and a cadre of volunteers, took over the building and put on the productions.

In 1996, the Commission applied for and received 501(c)(3) status as well as a state tax exemption. Since that time the group has produced 5 or 6 shows yearly accompanied by complementing art shows. Active youth groups, Teen Actors Guild (TAG) and Wee Actors Guild (WAG,) were formed which put on one show yearly as well as having monthly activities. The teen group had Coffee Shops with open mic and felt a vested interest in the Manchester Arts Center. Both groups took adult led trips to professional shows and art galleries. The building was completely renovated, including lighted parking area, a ramp into the building for those with disabilities, new roof, rebuilt theatre seating, and improved lighting and sound. Even when the building was destroyed by a fire in 2006, the Arts Commission continued to function and provide quality events for our community.

Now that the new Manchester Arts Center is once again in a new building, we anticipate adding more events, offering more classes and continuing to serve the youth and adults in this community and surrounding areas.

South Jackson Civic Center

Each year the Civic Center entertains and educates with a variety of programs for the community.

Programming includes:

- The Educational Outreach Series offers quality programming at affordable prices for schools. Through study guides and discussions, we hope to develop critical thinking skills.
- The Performing Arts Series offers a variety of different style shows to attract different audiences.
- Other events are also held at the Civic Center that include a variety of different programs such as South Jackson Goes Country, various dance recitals, festivals on the grounds, and an ice cream social.

The seminal event in American history blazes to vivid life in this most unconventional of Broadway hits. 1776 puts a human face on the pages of history as we see the men behind the national icons: proud, frightened, uncertain, irritable, charming, often petty and ultimately noble figures, determined to do the right thing for a fledgling nation.

It's the summer of 1776, and the nation is ready to declare independence... if only our founding fathers can agree to do it! 1776 follows John Adams of Massachusetts, Benjamin Franklin of Pennsylvania and Thomas Jefferson of Virginia as they attempt to convince the members of the Second Continental Congress to vote for independence from the shackles of the British monarchy by signing the Declaration of Independence.

Fair Days and CARNIVAL NIGHTS

WHEN: SEPTEMBER 16 - 23, 2017

WHERE: COFFEE COUNTY FAIRGROUNDS MANCHESTER, TN

THE COFFEE COUNTY FAIR CELEBRATES THE HERITAGE OF RURAL AMERICA

The Coffee County Fair has been bringing the community together and creating lasting memories since 1857. The county fair, one of the oldest forms of community celebration, recognizes the value of rural life and provides a means for showcasing the achievements of the past year. Whether it be a homegrown heirloom tomato, a jar of blackberry preserves, a hand-quilted bedspread or a 4-H steer that has been successfully raised and trained, the county fair is a place for those efforts to shine. And shine they do, with parades, competitions, livestock shows, blue ribbons, prize trophies, buckles and rhinestone studded crowns.

The Coffee County Fair keeps a firm hold on tradition and at the same time embraces the future, as it introduces new generations to different aspects of agriculture through educational displays and activities. A stroll through the livestock barns provides a glimpse of the hard work kids have put into their 4-H projects throughout the year. Solid core values such as stewardship and responsibility are seen in action as kids care for their animals. Visit the fair on a show day and watch these same animals as they are transformed from ordinary barnyard animals to champions dressed in their Sunday best with shiny coats and polished hooves. There is also a video display that highlights the Century farms in Coffee County, recognizing families that have owned and farmed the same land for at least 100 years.

The annual fair not only provides a gathering place for people of all ages, it also offers a host of activities. At the Youth Day field events (sponsored by the Sheriff's Dept.) kids can enter races such as the sack race or three-legged race. The Petting Zoo allows kids to get a close-up view of farm animals and to feel the soft fur of a rabbit or the cold wet nose of a calf. The Pedal Pull lets kids put their driving skills to work and of course it wouldn't be a county fair without the Dog Show & Costume Contest.

But wait, there is more. Mule races, live music performances, corn dogs, BBQ, ice-cold lemonade and the Rotary Club's famous funnel cakes. Then there are the carnival nights with dozens of thrilling rides and games of chance. A good time is sure to be had by all.

Years of effort and hard work have gone into making the Coffee County Fair withstand the test of time in an ever-changing world. From the volunteer Fair Board members to the devoted citizens and sponsors, countless hands work year-round to plan this event and before the current fair is even over, the planning for next year's event is already in the works. The 2017 Coffee County Fair will continue the tradition of one of the oldest county fairs in Tennessee with a new list of blue ribbon winners, and even if that apple pie didn't win first place, there is still the pride and satisfaction that comes from being a part of the county fair and sharing your labor of love with the community.

The Coffee County Fair is as authentic as it gets with real life stories and people that remind us of our heritage and of the important things that make life extra special— a winning combination of agriculture, food, music, hand-made goods, sportsmanship, showmanship, family, friends, and most of all good old fashioned fun.

Upon pulling open the door of J & G Pizza and Steakhouse, the senses are quickly awakened with the smell of simmering Spaghetti sauce. The aroma welcomes guests with an unspoken “Come in, we have been expecting you”. Forty-four years ago a young couple from a small village in Greece opened a restaurant that has become a Manchester institution known as J & G Pizza and Steakhouse. Through the years, the family of Jim and Lisa Rouvelas has grown to include two daughters, two sons-in-law and six grandchildren alongside an extended family of loyal patrons.

Tradition is tradition for a reason, and the menu has seen very few changes over the years. The sauces and other items are made according to ancestral recipes that have been handed down through the generations and committed to memory by years of preparation. “The recipes are not written down, we just know how to make them,” Lisa says, with a warm smile.

In a fast paced world where meals are rushed and time for sitting down at the dinner table is getting harder to find, a family-run restaurant, that has been in the same location for over four decades is a rare occurrence. Jim and Lisa, along with daughter Kiki and son-in-law Justin Sherrill have made it their business to provide a place and a table for families and friends to come together, reflect on the day and catch up with those they love over a well-prepared meal. From the extensive salad bar filled with fresh vegetables, side salads and Lisa’s homemade Soup of the Day to the shish kabobs, steaks, and braided thin crust pizza, the menu offers plenty of excellent options and a few tough decisions, such as whether to order the J & G Special pizza or the Chicken Parmesan. The open kitchen that stretches across the back of the restaurant speaks volumes about the pride the family takes in a clean and well-prepped kitchen. It is quickly evident they have been doing this awhile.

Manchester is a better place thanks to the Rouvelas’ who chose to call this small town home back in 1973. Lisa adds, “We love the people and the people love us.” As Lisa makes her way around the restaurant, stopping at tables to visit and to welcome customers both new and old, it is clear that the love she speaks of is mutual. They don’t make restaurants like this anymore and J & G Pizza and Steakhouse is a rare find. Don’t worry if you have trouble making a decision on what to order, there is always next time and this is one restaurant you will want to visit again and again.

THE STORY BEHIND THE TORCH

This torch is symbolic for J&G Pizza. During the Olympics, the torch would be carried all across Greece to various landmarks.

WINE & SPIRITS

Bean's Creek Winery

Founded in 2003, Beans Creek Winery focuses on making wine with grapes and fruit that grow well in Tennessee and delivering a memorable experience to our Tasting Room visitors. Our full selection of wines range from dry, full-bodied reds through sweet whites and fruit wines. We now invite you to enjoy a taste of Beans Creek!

George Dickel Distillery Cascade Hollow

Nestled in the mountains of Eastern Tennessee, the George Dickel Distillery, also known as Cascade Hollow, is home to the smoothest sipping whisky. At Cascade Hollow, Handmade the Hard Way is more than a slogan – it's a way of life. With very little technology used in the distillation process, each station is routinely checked and manned by an actual person. This ensures the standard of quality that fans of George Dickel are used remain consistent. All George Dickel whiskies undergo the signature chill charcoal mellow filtration, making the whisky uniquely smooth. So smooth that George Dickel himself named the brand after the traditional Scottish 'whisky' spelling, without the 'e.' Today, Distiller Allisa Henley maintains the history and tradition of this Tennessee whisky while looking for new ways to innovate. Visit Cascade Hollow in Tullahoma, Tenn. to see what makes the iconic George Dickel Distillery special from its unique distillation processes to beautiful scenery of the Cascade Springs and Cumberland Plateau.

Southern Pride Distillery

We are proud to be a modern part of an Old-World industry that has stood the test of time. With having 20 years experience in the distilled spirits industry, it was only a natural progression for us to apply both our experience and passion to create premium distilled spirits.....and so Southern Pride Distillery was started.

A dream made real in March of 2012, Southern Pride Distillery became a small batch artisan distillery committed to producing some of the finest distilled spirits on the market today. To say that our ancestors held their families and whiskey recipes close to their hearts is an understatement. Our story starts with a great grandmother and her Bible with the family recipe tucked safely inside the cover. Preserved by family members as all family secrets are.

Distilled in a copper pot still, our products are created much like those of our ancestors. We use locally grown corn milled at the distillery and our water comes from a natural spring that is on the property.

The products we offer are of the highest quality to keep the family proud! Our skilled craftsmen take both pride in their work and the end results, true to the family. This give you the best of both worlds --- time proven recipe and modern upgrades to accommodate our many valued customers.

Jack Daniel Distillery

The Jack Daniel Distillery is established and registered with the federal government at its present location. And now after 150 years of time-tested whiskey-making, it's the oldest registered distillery in the United States.

Since 1866, every barrel our whiskey matures in has been crafted by the Jack Daniel Distillery. In Lynchburg, we're of the belief that you can't make great whiskey unless you make great barrels.

We hold charcoal in high regard. Letting our whiskey drip through 10 feet of charcoal is what makes our whiskey, Tennessee Whiskey.

Our sour mash is mostly corn, a little bit of rye, and of course the addition of barley malt. But the real secret to our whiskey is the pure, iron-free cave spring water from the Hollow.

Mr. Jack sets standards of whiskey making still followed today: "Every day we make it, we'll make it the best we can."

Prichard's Distillery

Prichard's Distillery, Inc. was founded in 1997 in Kelso, TN. There we converted a 1930's schoolhouse into a fully functional old-fashioned distillery with the principle of preserving the tried and true colonial method of distilling spirits. We hand craft our spirits in traditional copper pot stills with the patience and care exercised by our forefathers over 200 years ago. Originally the distillery made our delicious award winning rums. Now, the whole portfolio of whiskeys, bourbons and liqueurs are manufactured here in Kelso. Our rums include: Prichard's Fine Rum, Prichard's Crystal Rum, Prichard's Cranberry Rum, Prichard's Key Lime Rum, Prichard's Sweet Georgia Belle and Prichard's Spiced Rum. Our whiskey portfolio includes our famous Double Barreled Bourbon and Double Chocolate Bourbon. And of course, Prichard's Sweet Lucy and Sweet Lucy Cream are the stars of our Liqueur collection. Prichard's Distillery produces over 20 different beverages for your tasting pleasure and we hope that you'll try them all.

Wonder why the neck of our rum bottles are crooked?

While perusing through an antique shop in New England, Phil Prichard spied a hand blown antique bottle that may well have been over two hundred years old. Steeped in American history, many of the products we produce harken back to those early days of yesteryear when rum and whiskey were very much a staple of early New England history.

Our new bottle is a reproduction of that old bottle complete with many of its flaws and imperfections, recreated for us at our new glass producer here in America. We think it is quite a perfect bottle for our traditional American spirits.

Lynchburg Winery

Welcome to the "Taste of the South"...The Lynchburg Winery located in beautiful and historic Lynchburg, Tennessee. We are two local families that are grape growers and wine makers. Many know our town's name and history, but did you know that there was another story that needed to be told? For generations, these hollows have been home to many families that make Wine. Now, you have the unique opportunity to taste some of the Southern Style Handcrafted wines, including Serendipity - Our Signature Southern Wine! A very fragrant sweet white Muscadine with a fizz!

The Lynchburg Winery located on the square in downtown Lynchburg at 34 Hiles Street.

Jackson Morgan Southern Cream

American made and carefully curated, Jackson Morgan was born out of a need for a craft whiskey cream. Playful southern flavors including salted caramel, orange whip, and brown cinnamon sugar create a fun flair that has been missing from traditional whiskey creams. Can be sipped neat or shaken into a vintage cocktail. Best served chilled.

It all started in 1921 when Alfred Wetherington, the great grandfather of siblings

Jackson and Morgan had a whiskey still in eastern North Carolina. He later decided to become a preacher and left the whiskey life behind. Almost a 100 years later, Jackson and Morgan are picking up where he left off with a new twist on the family recipe.

Short Mountain Distillery

Short Mountain is owned and operated by the Kaufman brothers. In 1910 their great grandfather, Jesse Shwayder, founded the iconic American brand Samsonite. Shwayder never missed an opportunity to attribute his company's success to the Golden Rule: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." He believed in this deep value so much that he started a tradition of handing out marbles engraved with the Golden Rule. The Kaufman brothers carry on this tradition to honor their great grandfather with a collectible coin inscribed with this philosophy on every bottle.

Short Mountain Distillery is partnered with local legends of moonshine, Ricky Estes & Ronald Lawson. These men have retired from their days of illegal wildcatting, but their craft is undisputed.

Our moonshiners bring to the table over 100 combined years of distilling experience. Short Mountain Shine is made with the time-honored skills of Cannon County moonshiners and is refined by the modern distilling practices of our Master Distiller Josh Smotherman. Short Mountain Shine is the best-tasting shine ever made, made even better.
