By Shawn Wansley

Not only did Jones County Junior College do well on the field of play in 2016-17, Bobcat student-athletes also excelled in the classroom. # The first JCJC health care assistants of the MIBEST program graduate

By Teresa McCreery

For the first time since the Mississippi Integrated Basic Education and Skills Training program was implemented at Jones County Junior College two years ago, six students graduated from the new health care assistants program. The recent graduates included Valerie Brown of Ellisville, Kelvin Clark of Ellisville, Katharine Jacobson McGhee of Moselle, Oshanna Simmons of Laurel, Octavia Williams of Shubuta and Matthew Williamson of Seminary. According to MIBEST program director Wendy Evans, all of these students have barriers they had to overcome to make it through the program.

"I'm so proud of all of these students. Some have young families to care for and they work. However, they were determined to get their high school equivalency diploma and change their futures. Additionally, most of the group has aspirations to continue their education and training in the medical field," said Evans.

McDonald's restaurant employee Kelvin Clark was inspired to go back to school because of a friend with muscular dystrophy and his 10-month old baby. After earning his high school equivalency diploma through JCJC's MIBEST program, he decided to enter the medical field.

"I want to take care of children with disabilities," said Clark. "Graduating from the HCA program gives me hope for a better job and financial future to support my family. This summer, I plan on taking medical coding and apply for the practical nursing program."

Evans explained each of the HCA graduates will take a test and become a certified nurse assistant after completing the HCA program. Along with the CNA national credential, the MIBEST program provides opportunities for students to earn a Silver Level Career Readiness Certificate, employability skills training, CPR certification, and job experience. This excellent combination of education, training and work experience ensures each student is ready for employment after graduation.

"The job market for a CNA is phenomenal in our area. Hospitals and nursing homes constantly need qualified CNA's. Our students can now meet those needs and they can get a great job earning a good, family sustaining wage," said Evans.

This pilot program equips qualified applicants with a high school equivalency degree, job training and a certificate in one of the MIBEST approved programs like welding, health care assistant, commercial truck driving, commercial and residential maintenance, business office systems and health care data technology.

Laurel's Tyler Anderson chose the welding pathway to success. The 22-year old was basically "written-off" by educators according to his mother before he dropped out of school in the ninth grade. The Honda Cycles mechanic saw the MIBEST program as an opportunity to get a better job, but he had to figure out how to juggle taking classes at JCJC with being a volunteer firefighter, driving a tow truck and working his day job.

"I worked from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. every day and then came to the night class at 5:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. to earn my welding certificate," said the goal-oriented MIBEST graduate. "I'd rather be working and making money than be in the classroom, but I realized I needed a high school diploma because my long-term goal is to work for the fire department and retire after 25 years, when I'm 50. Welding is my 'back-up' plan," said Anderson.

He earned his high school equivalency within two months and passed the first time. Anderson's test scores also qualified him to take the welding course for free at JCJC. "I'm glad I came back to school because through this program (MIBEST) it was like being paid to go to school and work," said Anderson.

The MIBEST program is an expanded model for Dropout Recovery funded by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation through a $6 million, three-year grant that was awarded to the Mississippi Community College Board in 2015. Program participants are able to get workforce and community college credentials and a career pathway to a middle-skill occupation where there is a labor demand, at no cost to the student. Interested students can have their skills assessed and discover a skill path with the help of an advisor, at any time of the year. There is not a beginning or ending date to earn the H.S. Equivalency or skills training through the MI-BEST program at JCJC.

To learn more about the MIBEST program, contact Wendy Evans at 601-477-2228 or email at wendy.evans@jcjc.edu or Jennifer Hughes at 601-477-3287 or jennifer.hughes@jcjc.edu.

Happy Birthday in Heaven!

In Loving Memory of Kimberly Diane Williams

June 22, 1992
October 13, 2013

Missing you on your birthday...

Happy birthday in Heaven my sweet loving daughter, Kimberly Diane Williams. Today you would have been 25 years old. My oh my how times have flew by! It doesn't seem like it has been 4 years since you have been gone from our hearts.

Today is full of memories, of happiness and tears of birthday celebrations we have shared throughout the years, and though I will always miss you, the endless joy you brought, warms my heart with gratitude and fills my every thought.

Wherever you are resting in heaven, I hope that you can see how precious your memories are to me, and how uplifting your memory is to me, My dear sweetheart. I am loving you more than I loved you yesterday, as every passing minute brings me a little closer to you. A brand new feeling starts in my heart for you, wishing that I was closer to you instead of away.

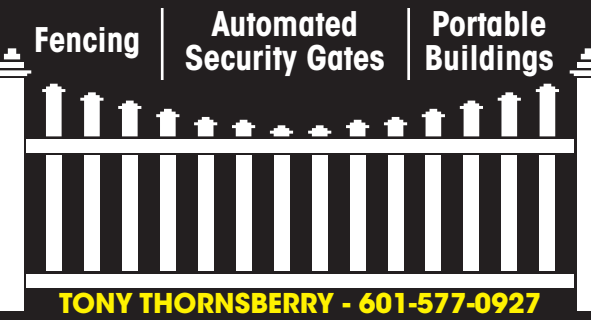

P.S. Don't you worry about your daughter Alaysia, our little miracle child, because you already know that she's with me mommy. Spoiled and well taken care of by Brittany Craft, her God-Mother, choosing her was an excellent choice! She's so good to her, and does a great job of helping me raise her. Alaysia has gotten so big and beautiful! She is just adorable and is loved by so many and has stolen the hearts of so many. You would be so proud of your baby girl, and I know you would also have spoiled her rotten!

So rest in peace my love, she's alright until we meet again one day in heaven. You are gone but never, never, ever forgotten!

I love you my precious baby girl!

JCJC's Stevens named NABC All-American

Submitted

Jones County Junior College's Bruce Stevens (Bay Springs) has been selected as a National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) All-American.

Stevens, a 6-foot-8 forward/center, helped the Bobcats to a 29-2 record, an MACJC and Region 23 championship and a berth in the NJCAA Division I National Tournament in Hutchinson, Kansas.

He averaged 16.2 points and 11.6 rebounds per game. He had 22 'double-doubles' on the season. He also averaged 1.9 blocks and 1.0 steal per game.

Stevens, who was also named All-Region

23 and All-MACJC, was 187-of-360 from the field for 51.9 percent and he also was 45-of-120 from 3-point range for 37.5 percent. He was 84-of-103 from the free throw line for 81.6 percent.

He also participated in the NJCAA Coaches Association All-Star Game in Las Vegas, Nevada, in April.

Stevens signed with the University of Mississippi where he will be joined by former Bobcat head coach Rahim Lockhart, who is now an Ole Miss assistant coach, and Bobcat teammate David Davis (Purvis), who will be a preferred walk-on for the Rebels.

USM School of Construction to hold inaugural Summer Camp

Submitted
The University of Southern Mississippi's School of Construction will conduct its inaugural USM-MCEF (Mississippi Construction Education Foundation) Building Futures Summer Camp June 25-29 for students in grades 8-10.

The camp provides students an opportunity to explore the architectural and construction industry, as well as life as a USM student. Over the course of a week, students will build a small structure from start to finish with the help of construction professionals. Campers will be divided into groups of four to build the structure. Each group will be assigned one current USM student and one construction industry professional. The inaugural camp is the brainchild of MCEF Executive Director Mike Barkett. MCEF's mission is to promote careers, recruit capable individuals, and train a quality workforce for the construction industry in Mississippi.

"We hope students take away an appreciation for the sophistication of the construction industry," said Jessica Hardy, an instructor in the USM School of Construction. "We also hope they will one day consider a career in the architectural or construction industries, and, of course, we hope that they will begin their journey at USM."

To learn more, contact Barkett at 601.605.2989, mike@mcef.net; or Hardy at 601.266.5155, jl.hardy@usm.edu

A House Fire is Serious Business . . .

. . . Especially When There is No One Available to Fight It!

The volunteer firefighting service is struggling nationwide, and in Jones County we have seen a decline in our number of volunteers.

Oftentimes, only a few firefighters will show up during the day due to work and school schedules. This makes performing the VFD duties incredibly difficult, time consuming and laborious. Some VFD departments are better equipped with personnel as compared to others, but all have common ground in that the need for more volunteers is DIRE!

The local Volunteer Fire Departments need many able-bodied and willing persons, men and women, to join a Jones County VFD near their home.

Night-time personnel is a little more available than day-time, but overall, the turnout for calls has been lacking and we simply just need more volunteers. Our current need for volunteers is EXTREME, especially during the day time.

PLEASE CONSIDER VOLUNTEERING TODAY!

Sideline View: Jones County's Moore, Taylorsville's Hamilton continue MLB success

By Dale McKee

Twenty players from Mississippi schools were chosen in the Major League Baseball draft. Mississippi State's Brent Rooker led the way being selected 35th overall. Rooker has already signed with the Minnesota Twins and is guaranteed over $1.9 million in signing bonus money. Ole Miss and USM each had four players chosen while MSU had three players selected. William Carey and Jackson State each had one player chosen. Three JUCO players were picked while four Mississippi high school players heard their names called. Former Wayne County shortstop Dylan Snypes heard his name called in the 15th round by the New York Mets. The junior starred at Tulsa University this spring. He also played at East Central Community College before heading to Oklahoma.

The Mississippi State Bulldogs have named a new "Voice of the Bulldogs" beginning in the fall. Nick Price comes to Starkville after a dozen years at the University of Kentucky. Price will assume the play-by-play role for Bulldog football and basketball. Jim Ellis will still do the play-by-play for Bulldog baseball.

Conference USA has confirmed that the C-USA baseball tournament will be back in Biloxi next May. Because of a record attendance, the league is working on a deal that could keep the event in Biloxi through the 2020 season. A total of 21,267 fans were in attendance this past month, and a record crowd of 5,216 showed up for the championship game between Rice and USM.

USM football will have at least five TV games this fall. The season opener against Kentucky on Sept. 2 will be on the CBS Sports Network. The other four games will be aired on a news sports station called STADIUM. The home games against the Southern University Jaguars (Sept. 9) and their homecoming contest against UTEP (Oct. 14) will be shown along with road games against La. Tech (Oct. 21) and Marshall (Nov. 25).

Odds-N-Ends from the Week in Sports

Brooks Koepka played brilliant golf in winning the 117th U.S. Open at Erin Hill this past Sunday. Koepka was tied with Brian Harman with six holes to play but made three straight birdies on the back nine. His 16-under tied Rory McIlroy's U.S. Open record as Koepka finished with a four-shot victory.

Kyle Larson downed Chase Elliott for the second straight year at Michigan in the NASCAR Cup Series. The Taylorsville Flash (Billy Hamilton) is leading the National League in stolen bases with 28. He is batting .248 on the season for the Cincinnati Reds.

Jones County native Tyler Moore has been playing some great baseball over the last dozen games for the Miami Marlins. Moore is hitting .341 (14 for 41) over those games with four doubles, five home runs and 14 RBI, including a towering two-run homer against the Atlanta Braves last Saturday.

Former MSU standout Hunter Renfroe hit his 15th home run last Friday night for the San Diego Padres, tying Nate Colbert's rookie club record for home runs before the All-Star break.

Former Ole Miss Rebel Seth Smith hit a home run Sunday off his former Rebel teammate Lance Lynn. Lynn, of the St. Louis Cardinals, entered the game fourth in the National League in ERA (2.49).

Seven Mississippi Braves made the Southern League All-Star team.

The Golden State Warriors claimed the NBA title and immediately announced that they probably will not visit the White House.

Football players getting paid bonuses for making a certain reporting weight seems strange.

Minnesota is hosting the NFL Super Bowl next February, and they have sent a letter to their season ticket holders that tickets may not be available for them.

Did you know that Bill Gates and Warren Buffett each have enough money to buy all 32 NFL teams?
