Vintage weekend set for July

RA events tout Camaro's 50th anniversary

Summer is in full swing and this year hundreds of vintage racers will make the journey to Elkhart Lake, Wisconsin to celebrate the beauty and performance of some of the world's greatest racecars and sports cars, July 20-23 at Road America for the WeatherTech International Challenge with Brian Redman presented by HAWK.

Widely known as one of the largest vintage racing gatherings in the United States, over 450 cars are expected to participate and both race cars and sports cars from all walks of vintage are welcome. With 16 different groups subdivided into several sub-classes the breadth of cars has something for everyone and there will be no shortage of spectacular racing.

Every year has a feature marquee and this year as participants descend on the historic circuit Road America plans to honor the Chevrolet Camaro as it celebrates its 50th Anniversary and host a reunion for the Sports 2000 racer as it celebrates its 40th Anniversary along with celebrating the 51st Anniversary of the Canadian-American Challenge or Can-Am Series.

Having the Chevrolet Camaro serve as the featured marquee for The WeatherTech International Challenge with Brian Redman is a fitting tribute for one of America's most iconic sports cars at America's greatest road course because Camaros are part of Road America's essential character and have raced at the fabled four-mile 14-turn circuit for decades.

Racing has always been present in the Chevrolet Camaro's bloodstream and Road America's high-speed four-mile track has long been a battleground for generations of notable racers. With drivers such as Mark Donohue driving for Roger Penske, Chevrolet Camaros became a formidable threat in the 'over 2 liter' category of the SCCA Trans-Am Series while taking top honors in 1969. Donohue's background as an engineer gave him a unique perspective and during this period he changed forever the way racing cars are developed. Penske meanwhile brought the art of sponsorship to a new level. This success was just the beginning of the Z/28 legacy of racing performance and the Chevrolet Camaro went on to Vintage racing weekend brings action to Road America and Elkhart Lake like no other. In addition to the WeatherTech International Challenge with Brian Redman, presented by Hawk race events at the track, the village is swarmed with race fans on Friday evening for the Concours d'Elegance, which begins with a parade of vintage racing cars from Road America into Elkhart Lake.

The playground is open!

Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah School District students, staff, and administration are so excited to announce that Phase I of the All-Inclusive Playground at the Elementary/Middle School has been completed and ready for play! Students were ecstatic on the first day back from Spring Break when Ethan DeZwarte, junior kindergarten student, cut the ribbon to the new playground.

The playground design and structure, along with the smooth poured rubber surface, make it a breeze for children of all abilities to play together in a fun environment. There are varying degrees of challenges within the structure, ensuring that children of varying ages or abilities can grow with it. Many great features include climbers, slides and interactive panels. You'll also find some fun independent play items such as the sensory wall and the cozy dome in which to hide and climb. A bench has been added to the playground to rest after 50 rounds on the slide! We want to thank our very generous donors who supported this project. Through their generosity, we have almost reached the $160,000 goal with fundraising still continuing.

Due to the success of Phase I, we have tentative plans to expand the all-inclusive play area to other parts of the playground. This would be Phase II. These plans include pouring a rubber surface in the southwest corner so we could to add a "spinner" and additional multi-sensory learning panels. Also we would like to add a "rocker" piece to the middle of the playground. This piece is designed to be accessed via a ramp so it can be located in the wood-chipped section. The cost of the various pieces of equipment and additional rubber surface for Phase II is approximately $55,000-$75,000 (depending on final selection of equipment). Contact either Mrs. Debbie Hammann (876-3307) or Dr. Ann Buechel Haack (876-3381) if interested in learning more about the All-Inclusive Playground or to donate funds to assist with the construction of Phase II.

The playground is open to all during non-school hours, so please stop in and check it out! It's a fun place for ALL to play and learn while doing so. Children and adults are certainly welcome, but unfortunately pets must stay home. We hope both residents and village guests alike take advantage of all this playground has to offer.

Friends of Library group keeps making cookies

By Pam Mathes
for the Depot Dispatch

Every year, for over 10 years, the Friends of the Library group gathers to package homemade cookies that are sold prior to the Elkhart Lake Fireman's Parade.

It takes a village is certainly played out for this event. This year, over 30 bakers, all using the same recipe, baked over 1,000 cookies; several members of the Friends of the Library and the Elkhart Lake Study Club gathered to package each cookie individually for 12 people to sell for $1 each during the annual Fireman's Parade. The event is always a sell out!

The money is used for the library to fund many things, such as sponsoring a story telling group in April 2018, an Ancestry.com membership for the library, books for the Summer Reading Program and many book clubs. Friends of the Library also host the Lights of Love and the Annual Library Book Sale held July 28 & 29.

Stop by the Elkhart Lake Library for more information or to become a member of the Friends of the Library.

Receiving the funds Deb Hammann of the Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah Schools and Michael Meeusen, Chief of Police, Elkhart Lake Police Dept. Presenting the funds Pastor Peter M. Peitsch, Grace Lutheran Church, Elkhart Lake Todd Smith, Pres., Grace Lutheran Church.

Church suppers offer support

Grace Lutheran Church offered light suppers to the community during lent this past year and accepted free will offerings for them.

The meals were prepared, served and paid for by members of the congregation, it was a wonderful time to get acquainted with members of the congregation and meet friends of the community.

A free-will offering was accepted and the proceeds were donated to the Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah Elementary and Middle School for the adult safety patrol program and to the Elkhart Lake Police Department for equipment on the special events vehicle.

Grill teeth

Having had some dental work recently (other than my usual semi-yearly check and cleaning), I was thrust into a more concentrated review of my teeth than usual.

It may seem like an odd connection, but on the return home trip from the dentist I especially took notice and became intrigued with the front grills of oncoming automobiles. I saw frown grills, smiley grills, happy grills and sad grills—and all looked like teeth.

One car had a chrome spoke grill that seemed like a big toothy smile. Then there was a grill that looked like a large open mouth ready to swallow up the next little Volkswagen that approached it. I smiled at the car grill that looked like pursed lips ready to lay on a big kiss to some oncoming attractive convertible.

Fortunately, there was a fair amount of traffic so I could continue this fantasy all the way home. I observed a grill that seemed to have a frown on it—maybe that car didn't like the huge 18-wheel semi in front of it going too slowly (and in a non-passing zone to make matters worse). I thought too bad, but patience is needed on any motor trip.

It seems car grill expressions are also dictated by the shape of the grill. A horizontal grill seems to express something differently than a vertical grill. One is kind of earthy and common and friendly and the other seems stuck up and haughty.

Also, another factor that affects the car grill's personality is the configuration of the parking or headlights. The cars that have the lights that form a wedge like the letter L have an oriental touch about them. And then those awesome blue lights that are downright blinding give an aura of outer space and some unidentified flying object.

The grill and lights on my own car are, of course, perfect and they say hello to oncoming cars, enjoy your trip. All this with a big smiley grill and parking and headlights that say, "et me light up your day. What does our car grill say?"

Why don't you start looking at grills and headlights? You'll be surprised at what you can see or imagine. Also, this might be a good observation and imagination game for the kids.

Motorsport Villas makes a splash

Motorsport Villas of Elkhart Lake hosted an open house for region's first "car condominium" development June 3, officially breaking ground on one of the village's most significant developments.

Motorsport Villas represents the culmination of a dream of visionary and founder Bart Wolf and Wolf Developments.

The development is located in the Village of Elkhart Lake, just upon entry into the village from the south, and just east of Quit Qui Oc Golf Club.

Car condominium units that were originally expected to sell over the course of several years; instead nearly all sold in just a few months.

Only two villas remain. The open house included a rare view of several of the built-out car condo units.

The car condominium concept is not entirely new. Previously, it has been developed in industrial sites in metropolitan locals such as Minneapolis, Kansas City, Detroit and Chicago.

Scenic setting

Motorsport Villas is nestled adjacent to the LaBudde Creek State Wildlife Area along the Scenic Kettle Moraine Drive. The site was selected due to the picturesque surroundings and the unique access to prominent local attractions, including Road America and the seemingly never-ending tree-line curved roads in the area.

"From the beginning, we wanted Elkhart Lake to be the home of the Villas," Bart Wolf said. "It provides an unmatched opportunity to merge motorsports, race heritage and all things motoring with a place for enthusiasts to live and vacation among automotive art, as well as stay year around."

Wolf said Villa residents will now be part of the continuing legacy of the area, whether they enjoy the return of IndyCar Racing to Road America, the vintage race car parades or the Villa's own events.

Owners have the option of living either full- or part-time in the Motorsport Villa community. Additionally, owners can create an income opportunity by renting out their villa as they wish.

Love of racing

Wolf Developments President Bart Wolf grew up in Elkhart Lake and has raced on the national scene since for over 30 years. He started in karting at the age of 7.

Bart has been a part of the national racing scene since. He has over 60 wins in SCCA national races, nine track records, and has been in the top 3 on a national level 10 of the last 12 years.

All this through a crew going head-to-head with heavily funded efforts with resources covering crew support, coaching, and funding of the car development itself. His tenacity as a driver led him to many victories in professional races going head-to-head with up and coming Indy car drivers. That drive to succeed has extended into the business world: through combining this specific blend of hands-on know-how of car preparation and racing alike, Bart created Wolf Motorsports.

Senior lending for the development was provided by Hiawatha National Bank of Sheboygan, Architectural Design was prepared by LCM Architecture of Sheboygan and construction services provided by Quasius Construction, Inc. Subcontractors included JSM, Drexel, and KW Electrical

The project was created, in part, through the development of a tax incremental

become one of the most sought after collector cars, no matter what the year, and a current model has been announced this year to carry on the legacy.

Always evolving, every version of the Chevrolet Camaro has been embraced over the decades, offering people a way to express themselves. Camaros have been a canvas for personalization and competition. From 600-horsepower-plus versions that can exceed 200 mph to the most affordable models that get more than 30 mpg and deliver more than 300 horsepower, Chevrolet and the Camaro's universal appeal has made it a symbol of Americana.

Road America is proud to continue the 50th Anniversary celebration of the Camaro with a racer's reunion, races for club and pro series-vintage, historic and contemporary racers; a concours with expert and people's choice awards, track touring, parade laps and a vendor marketplace making The 2017 WeatherTech International Challenge with Brian Redman the ultimate destination for Camaro enthusiasts and an event that everyone of all ages can enjoy.

The sights, sounds and smells of rare and historically significant Sports 2000 racing machines will make their return for The WeatherTech International Challenge with Brian Redman at Road America as well as the popular Sports 2000 racer celebrates its 40th Anniversary.

Preceded by the International 2-liter, two-seat FIA Group 6 sports racing car class, Sports 2000 was the creation of Brands Hatch circuit owner John Webb in 1976, as an antidote to the high costs and dwindling entries of the Chevrons, Lolas and Abarths in the early and mid 70's. With a tightly controlled motor specification, reasonable tire bills and the support of the largest and most successful commercial racing car manufacturers at the time, the first race was held at Oulton Park in April 1977 and won by Olympic ski champion, Divina Galica, in a Lola T-490.

US Lola importer Carl Haas brought over five Sports 2000's for a group of SCCA racers in the Midwest in the fall of 1978, the class being accorded SCCA National status in 1980 and continuing on today. These cars have a strong following internationally, with active groups particularly in the UK and the USA along with those in Scandinavia, the Netherlands and Australia. In addition to nearly 80 Sports 2000 racers expected in the paddock will be the most widely decorated Sports 2000 in America, piloted by John C Fergus II, with eight SCCA Runoffs championships and one Pro Sports 2000 championship to its credit.

Competitors and fans will have the unique opportunity to catch all the action from these rare racers as they traverse through Turn 5, negotiate Canada Corner and barrel up the famed Front Straight to capture a bit of history. The Sports 2000's will be on track with qualifying on Saturday and a special race on Sunday.

Along with honoring the Chevrolet Camaro and Sports 2000, Road America celebrates the 51st Anniversary of the Canadian-American Challenge or Can-Am Series. This is perhaps the most fondly remembered racing series ever, as it had minimal rules. Two seats, fendered bodywork, and that was about it. Unlimited engines, fat tires and unimaginable speed sums up what Can-Am was and the McLaren team ruled the early years. They won five years in a row at Road America, twice with Bruce McLaren and once each with Denny Hulme, Peter Gethin, and Peter Revson. In each instance the race was no contest, as the orange McLarens simply were the ones to beat. Their stranglehold on the Can-Am was broken in 1972 when Porsche practiced extreme excess in their designs. Porsche built a twin turbocharged five-liter V-12 engine that put out well over 1000 horsepower. They hired Roger Penske's team to run the car, and as expected, they won as they pleased. George Follmer took the win at Road America in 1972 and Mark Donohue in 1973, each winning the season championship.

The Can-Am was last held in 1974, its demise essentially due to its success. That is, with virtually no rules, only one or two teams could reasonably win, so the rest went home. But while it lasted it was most memorable. The fans reacted accordingly with the biggest crowds ever at Road America until the top CART years of the mid 1990s which is exactly why Road America and fans alike enjoy the return of the Can-Am cars every year during the WeatherTech® International Challenge with Brian Redman presented by HAWK.

The festivities kick off on Thursday, July 20, with gates opening at 7 a.m. Test sessions begin at 8 a.m., and run throughout the entire day. On Friday the on track action resumes with practice sessions in the morning and qualifying sessions in the afternoon.

Friday evening, the tiny village of Elkhart Lake will spring to life with a blend of art-on-wheels as over 100 race cars will parade from the track to downtown Elkhart Lake for judging and spectator viewing beginning at 6 p.m., for the Concours d'Elegance.

This event is a must see spectacle for enthusiasts of all ages as the quiet town is taken over by vintage racing cars. The sound, while not as visceral as being at the track itself is unique in that you are seeing the pinnacle of vintage racing rumble through public roads. Standing ten feet from a 1,000 horsepower big block Can-Am car, or the beyond mad 80's Formula 1 turbo cars as they idle and rev by you is a sensation that goes beyond hearing and it is inexplicably cool.

Everyone is invited to take part in the concours viewing but Road America encourages fans and patrons to arrive early (before 5 p.m.) to allow enough time for parking and to find your perfect viewing location along the parade route and Lake Street where the race cars will park. Please consider these alternate routes into Elkhart Lake. County Road A from the East, Golf Course Road from the South and County Road J from the West.

On Saturday qualifying resumes in the morning for all groups. Then in the afternoon racing gets underway with qualifying races for each group. Over 100 sports cars will then gather again on Saturday evening in downtown Elkhart Lake from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. for the second night of the Concours d'Elegance. Brimming with rarity, the street fills again. Most of these cars are rare metal, fast metal, and only once in a lifetime that you will see them metal. The access again is unprecedented.

Seeing owners giving little kids seat time in the cars is part of the fun. In short, events like this, having the young ones exposed to the cars, and the sensations surrounding the event is critical to continuing the heritage of vintage racing and events like The WeatherTech International Challenge with Brian Redman presented by HAWK make all of this possible.

On Sunday, the featured racing begins at 9 a.m. Races are held until 12:15 p.m., when the Concours d'Elegance awards for Best Street and Race car; Best of Show and the People's Choice award are announced near the paddock vendor area which is centrally located in the paddock. The rest of the day is filled with exciting feature races for each group. Other fan attractions include autograph sessions, an automotive art and vendor fair, on-track touring, Road America's Zip Line and public go-karting at the CTECH Manufacturing Motorplex.

Tickets are available online or during the event at the gate. Additional information is available at www.roadamerica.com or by calling 800-365-RACE (7223). All races run rain or shine and anyone 16-years-old and under are free with a paying adult at the gate. Parking and paddock access is also free.

Elkhart Lake makes Top 15 cleanest

By Mike Mathes
for the Depot Dispatch

The list of accolades for Elkhart Lake keeps rolling in from trade publications. Recently, Country Living Magazine selected Elkhart Lake as one of the 15 cleanest lakes in North America.

Touted on the magazine's website countryliving.com, Elkhart Lake joins some exclusive company on the list including the likes of Cathedral Lake - Aspen Colorado; Watertown Lakes, Alberta Canada; Lake Tahoe, Nevada and California; and Lake Louise, Banff, Alberta, Canada.

In compiling its list, Country Living said, "We scoured water high and low, to find the most breath taking lakes on the map."

Country Living touted Elkhart Lake as, "The family-friendly lakeside getaway that children and grown-ups alike will remember for years to come. First there's the idyllic waters of enchanted Elkhart Lake, ideal for kayaking, row boating, or an afternoon dip. Or, there's the docks where you can spend an afternoon reading with occasional glance up to take in the blue-green twinkle of the lake's surface."

The magazine said, "...both kids and kids-at-heart will adore the race tracks and attractions at Road America. Don't miss it."

Kathleen Eickhoff, Executive Director of Elkhart Lake Tourism, said the selection speaks highly of Elkhart Lake and the people who make the community work.

"We are quite excited to be recognized by Country Living as one of 15 Clearest Lake in North America! It really speaks to the many residents who work diligently for years to care for and protect the crystal clear waters of Elkhart Lake!" she said.

In addition to this recognition, Elkhart Lake has recently received a number of impressive national accolades.

"To the point that we've just completed and released a video sharing the praises of the hard work and genuine Elkhart Lake hospitality which has made Elkhart Lake such a beloved vacation destination," she added.

Eickhoff invited the public to view the promotional video which touts some of those recognitions on the Elkhart Lake Tourism YouTube channel.

Paddock Club observes 10th birthday

Chisholm family helps revive an old Elkhart Lake name

By Mike Mathes
for the Depot Dispatch

It seems like only yesterday in many ways that Lynn Chisholm was looking around Milwaukee for places to start her own restaurant.

Little did she know that an opportunity was opening up in Elkhart Lake, just down the road from her hometown of Plymouth.

Fast forwarding to 2017, Chisholm is celebrating the 10th anniversary of her opening of the Paddock Club on Elkhart Lake's historic Lake Street.

Known for its comfortable fine dining atmosphere, the Paddock Club has become an Elkhart Lake staple. But even Chisholm admits, she couldn't have managed the transition without a lot of help from her family.

In her role as managing partner of the Paddock Club, Chisholm traces the Paddock Club's success to a call she received from her father back in 2007. "Dad called and let me know that the old Village Green restaurant was for sale," she said. "There was a special draw to that location, and being able to go back home."

Since her initial decision to depart the Milwaukee hospitality scene, Chisholm's efforts at the Paddock Club have been enhanced by a serious helping hand from family members. Her parents and her three siblings have all played a role in the Paddock Club's revival of a long-time Elkhart Lake restaurant location.

She still gets help from sisters Cheri and Kim and brother Scott.

"There was a great sense of security in doing this with my siblings, and having the support of our parents," she said.

Historic naming

The restaurant name is taken from the infamous Paddock Club which thrived during the area's legendary gambling era of the early 1900's.

In fact, pictures of an infamous gaming raid of the old Paddock Club still grace the walls of its new namesake.

Chisholm said that the free-wheeling history of the old Paddock Club fit in with her need to do what she wanted as a restaurateur and find out who she was without having restrictions.

Today's Paddock Club is shrouded in a beautiful Cream City Brick setting, layered from pieces salvaged from other dismantled buildings.

Customers gather around a beautiful old Brunswick bar, complete with a full back bar mirror. Chisholm credits her father with finding the 1900's era bar at a Chicago location, from where it had to be relocated by flatbed truck as the Paddock Club went through its early transformation.

Straight forward, approachable

Chisholm calls her approach to the menu offerings at the Paddock Club "straight forward" and "approachable."

"Describing my food is hard," she said. "I cook the kind of food I want to eat, and it's always changing."

Chisholm emphasized her desire to cook with the seasons, using local produce wherever possible.

"For me it's about bringing big flavor using great technique and doing it with a level of comfort," she added.

Lynn Chisholm, right, and her sister Cheri pose in the dining room at The Paddock Club. Chisholm is the general manager and head chef at the Elkhart Lake restaurant.

The menu at the Paddock Club is designed for universal appeal, whether the customer is a tourist or local resident. The Paddock Club offers some standard fare alongside choices you might not normally find in Eastern Wisconsin. Meals are also known for their generous portion size at the Paddock Club.

Small plates stir creativity

Chisholm has also engineered a change to smaller portions for those who don't want to walk away feeling stuffed.

Small plates are featured on Tuesday nights, but the small plate philosophy stems from Chisholm's desire to offer a wider variety of creative menu choices. "After we were in the restaurant about three or four years, I remember being bored one winter, doing the same thing all the time," she said. "Small plates gave us the opportunity to try new and creative things for our guests."

Small plates also enabled the Paddock Club to play with different cuisines and options, to introduce a little more casual style, even leaning to what she calls "street food." At the same time, it offered a more affordable dining option.

"We still try new things on Tuesday small plates nights, and our choices revolve with the seasons, based on the produce that's available," she said.

"As we tweak our menu offerings, we are constantly asking ourselves what we are inspired by and what we are hungry for," she added.

Spacious seating

The Paddock Club may look small from its exterior, but don't let that fool you. Between the front dining room, back dining room and bar side dining, the Paddock Club can seat up to 175.

The front dining area can accommodate up to 40 people, while the back seats 30. Both can be used for private events. "We have hosted rehearsal dinners and other special events in those areas by reservation," Chisholm said. "We have also hosted weddings here."

Special events

The Paddock Club has also been an energetic partner with Vintage Elkhart Lake in hosting wine dinners and pairings. The Paddock Club has also hosted beer pairing dinner events throughout the year.

Chisholm has also hosted Dinner on the Farm, cooking and serving unique meals at Park Ridge Organics each fall. The dinner comes complete with a tour of the farm. "It's great cooking over an open fire," she said.

Keep an eye for special events on their website at paddockclubelkhartlake.com

Growing with community

As for coming back home, Chisholm says that 10 years in the business is evidence she made the right decision, along with her family.

"Elkhart Lake has grown so much since we have been here, what everyone else is doing, makes village so appealing as a whole," she said. "This is such an amazing community to be part of. I just love how we work together and help each other out whenever possible."

The Paddock Club is open for cocktails at 4 p.m., and dinner at 5. Dinner is served weeknights until 9 and weekends until 10.

ELGHS adopts Laude System

Recently, Elkhart Lake-Glenbeulah High School has abandoned the traditional Valedictorian/Salutatorian designations for graduating seniors in favor of the Laude System.

Typically, the Laude System recognizes three levels of honor graduation: Cum Laude (with praise), Magna Cum Laude (with great honor) and Summa Cum Laude (with highest honor).

The laude score is based on a formula in which students are rewarded for taking classes with higher rigor. The program is based on a two tier system: tier 1 worth 1 point per semester awarded to transcripted and AP courses, and tier 2 worth .5 points per semester awarded to advanced standing and teacher selected courses.

The range for recognition bands beginning with the class of 2017 are as follows: Cum Laude - 7 to 10.5 points; Magna Cum Laude - 11 to 14.5; and Summa Cum Laude - Greater than 15 points.

A minimum GPA of 3.25/4.00 is needed in order for a student to be recognized in the laude system.

ELG Laude graduates: Lauren Boos (Summa cum laude); Catherine Brotz-Twohig (Summa cum laude); Holly Francis (Summa cum laude); Raechel Grunewald (Summa cum laude); Jade Henschel (Summa cum laude); Summer Henschel (Summa cum laude); Shynaia Higgins (Magna cum laude); Anthony Klahn (Summa cum laude); Simone Bulebosh (Summa cum laude); Amanda McLaughlin (Summa cum laude); Jessica Mehre (Summa cum laude); Paige Nelson (Summa cum laude); Taylor Porter (Magna cum laude); Camrie Schmitz (Summa cum laude); Sonia Schubert (Summa cum laude); Tyler Schultz (Summa cum laude); Andrew Sitko (Summa cum laude); Jacob Starnitcky (Summa cum laude); Kayla Theel (Summa cum laude); Allie Wisman (Magna cum laude); Holly Zorn (Summa cum laude).

Krieg enjoys people connections

By Mike Mathes
for the Depot Dispatch

Although she trained as a nutritionist and served as an employment interviewer, Christine Krieg has found her niche in her latest career path.

As a real estate agent with First Weber Realtors, Krieg has been able to meld her skills in sales and working with people for the benefit of her clients.

Krieg took a roundabout path to real estate sales, after finding out that her studies at the University of Wisconsin-Madison in nutrition and dietetics didn't really hold a future for her.

A 10-year stint as a service representative for Manpower Temporary Services led her to manage an office in Washington, D. C. before returning to Wisconsin.

"It was an exciting time. It was fun. I loved sales and working with people," Krieg said. But, she put her career aside to raise children.

Sales was appealing

As her children went off to college, she began to feel the itch to return to the work force, where sales held an appeal for her. A neighbor convinced her to begin the training for real estate sales, and a new career journey was under way.

Krieg picked First Weber Realtors because of the connection with a lifetime friend of the family who worked in the Brookfield office. "It was a great company and a great office," she said.

From a sales perspective, her timing wasn't as fortunate, as she started that new career path in 2005 right as real estate markets were heading into the doldrums.

"Looking back, there were some benefits to that. Even though it was a challenging time from a sales perspective, it gave me the opportunity for more training time. I had more time to learn about contracts and the many situations that can come up with a sale—and how to handle each of them. Slowing the pace down helped with that," she said.

Connecting with clients

With one foot in her year-round home community of Elm Grove, and another anchored on the shores of Elkhart Lake, Krieg has forged a connection with her real estate clients. A measure of her success is her designation as a member of the First Weber Realtors President's Gold Circle. That achievement is based on sales—highlighted by her topping the $13 million mark last year, and an even higher total the previous year.

As a relocation specialist, Krieg has won the hearts of her clientele, as evidence by a unique honor in the Milwaukee area segment of her business.

She has been recognized eight straight years as Milwaukee Magazine's top real estate agent for client satisfaction. The magazine annually makes that selection based on reader polls.

Much of that stems from her philosophy of serving her accounts. "My real motivation is to make people excited and happy about their next step in life. When I get a good review, that means I have accomplished my goal. It's fun to work with people," she said.

helping them unpack, or get boxes they need....what ever it takes to help them make an easier transition," she said.

Krieg emphasized, "You have to be willing to go above and beyond to help people."

Elkhart Lake connections

While Krieg's business may be a new member of the Elkhart Lake Chamber of Commerce, she is no newcomer to Elkhart Lake.

Krieg has been spending summers at the lake for many years. Her cottage on the lake once belonged to her grandparents.

Krieg is invested in the Elkhart Lake community, as shown by her long term involvement in the Elkhart Lake Improvement Association. She served on the Association board of directors for many years, starting in 2002 and stepping down only recently.

"We are fortunate to know a lot of people in Elkhart Lake because of our connections here," she said. "That has made it an easy transition for my sales career. There are so many people that are finding out about Elkhart Lake and wanting to make it their home."

Krieg admits that having a footprint in the two communities does make things hectic at times. "It's a lot of back and forth, but I love it," she said.

Krieg can be contacted by phone either mobile: (414) 840-8486, or on her direct line: (262) 754-6655.

Her website address is www.chriskrieg.firstweber.com.

Krieg holds an awareness of how traumatic it is for people to pack up and move. Sometimes selling a home, means packing up, moving away from memories and downsizing. "It's important for me to help people through that, to help them get the lay of the land. I like to get right in the middle and help anyway I can, including

Historical adventures offered at Wade House

A historical adventure awaits children in one of Wade House's unique, hands-on Pioneer, Civil War or Needle Arts Day Camps. Fun and education meet this summer within the historic setting of the Wade House.

Wade House will be hosting a Pioneer Day Camp, which introduces children firsthand to daily life in Wisconsin nearly 150 years ago. The next session of Pioneer Day Camp will be offered Monday, July 31 through Friday, Aug. 4 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Participants will get an up-close look at blacksmithing, woodworking, candle making, sewing, hearth cooking and much more. The program culminates with a horse-drawn covered wagon or stagecoach journey to the Wade House as many Plank Road travelers took during the heyday of the Wade House Stagecoach Inn. Activities during Pioneer Day Camp will include baking cookies, making candles, working in the garden, and churning homemade ice cream.

"The Wade House Pioneer camp is always a highlight of our children's summer. We feel it is a premier camp that offers hands on historical projects every day. Our children enjoyed making hand churned ice cream, forging S-hooks, hand-sewn baseballs, and so much more. They have such a good time that by the end of the week, they never want it to end," said Jim and Chrissy Hoell, parents of Wade House Pioneer Day Camp participants.

The fun will continue when Wade House hosts Civil War Day Camp, an experience, which provides campers with the opportunity to explore the world of Civil War soldiers. Civil War Day Camp will be offered Monday, August 7 through Friday, August 11 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. At Civil War Day Camp, participants will be issued equipment including a wooden musket and haversack and throughout the week will learn marching drills and maneuvers. Campers will sign enlistment papers and be given the name of an actual soldier from the area that fought in the Civil War. At the end of camp they will find out what happened to their namesake—including who did not make it home. New to Civil War Day Camp curriculum is the opportunity to learn the process of how to fire a cannon.

Newer additions to Wade House's lineup of history day camps are Slat Bonnet Needle Arts Day Camp and a Cross Stitch Sampler Workshop. Slat Bonnet Needle Arts Day Camp, which will be held July 11 & 12 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Slat bonnets were a popular style of sunbonnet worn throughout the 19th century and owning one was considered a necessity. Following step-by-step directions, participants to this camp will measure, cut, fold and stitch soft fabric to create their very own slat bonnet. Slat Bonnet Needle Arts Day Camp is for ages 14 through adult.

Participants who attend our Cross Stitch Sampler Workshop, which is scheduled from July 25 & 26 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., will explore the history and purpose of samplers in America as well as study the features of historic examples before designing their own, personalized sampler. After completing a small practice piece, participants will begin their own unique counted cross stitch sampler. Cross Stitch Sampler Workshop is for ages 14 through adult.

Camp registration is $165 per child for Civil War and Pioneer Day Camps, and $65 per person for Slat Bonnet Needle Arts Camp and Cross Stitch Sampler Workshop. Reservations are required. If you have any questions or would like to reserve a spot for your child, please call Kathy Dimig at 920-526-3271 or visit www.wadehouse.org.

Wright birthday feted in 2017

In 2017, Wade House Historic Site will celebrate the 150th birthday of famed architect Frank Lloyd Wright with season-long exhibits, lectures, and educational activities focusing on Wright's life and work in Wisconsin and his relationship with Sheboygan carriage collector and restoration expert Wesley W. Jung.

The next event in our year-long celebration of Frank Lloyd Wright is "Regretting Mr. Wright: Mamah Tells Her Own Story," a museum theatre performance featuring Elizabeth Carlson as Mamah Bouton Borthwick, the woman for whom Frank Lloyd Wright left his family in 1909. "Regretting Mr. Wright" will be held on Thursday, July 13 from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Wade House visitor center. The presentation will be preceded by a complimentary reception featuring microbrews and light hors d'oeuvres, which will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Ninety-eight years ago on August 15, Mamah Bouton Borthwick, her two children and four other people were murdered, and Frank Lloyd Wright's home in Spring Green, Wisconsin was burned to the ground. Why? Mamah Bouton Borthwick, played by Elizabeth Carlson, will tell you why. Meet Mamah for yourself and come to understand why this well-educated, articulate woman worked so hard to change the society in which she lived; why she left her husband and children to pursue her own scholarship and her work with Frank Lloyd Wright; and how her ghost feels about it today.

The "Frank Lloyd Wright: A Wisconsin Original" monthly speaker series will take place at the Wade House Visitor Center located at W7965 Hwy. 23 in Greenbush, WI, halfway between Sheboygan and Fond du Lac. Admission to the "Regretting Mr. Wright: Mamah Tells Her Own Story" on July 13 is complimentary. For more information, please visit our website at wadehouse.org or call 920-526-3271.

Technology offers peace of mind

By Mike Mathes

for the Depot Dispatch

When it comes to home or business security technology can be your best friend.

But, weaving through those technology solutions requires an expert hand. That's where Platinum Technologies comes into play. A new member of the Elkhart Lake Chamber of Commerce, Platinum Technologies sells home and business solutions for security access control and camera solutions.

"We tailor our systems to the customer's needs," Brian Biederwolf, technical engineer, said. "Each situation has special needs and requirements. Our job is to listen to what people are asking for, then educate them on what's available and find the best ways to accomplish their goals."

Platinum Technologies makes actual on site visits to help plan for the appropriate security and access systems.

Monitoring important

One of the most important aspects of security solutions is the method of monitoring. "Everyone wants the ability to see their security cameras remotely. All of our products have that capability," Biederwolf said.

Platinum Technologies works with Honeywell Security Systems which have a feature called Total Connect. Total Connect gives clients the opportunity to perform all of the necessary actions with their personal computer, smart phone or tablet.

"Often times a system will be set up to send an email or text to a client that an event has been recorded on camera," Biederwolf said. The client can look at that incident at their convenience.

"No matter how safe you think your home and business are, it's always better to be safe than sorry," Biederwolf said.

"You can sleep better at night knowing that our state-of-the-art security systems will let you know the moment something suspicious enters your home or business."

Maintaining appearances

Beyond systems used for monitoring a home or business, Platinum Technologies also works with clients on proactive and preventive solutions.

These are especially significant options in a community like Elkhart Lake, where so many homes may be recreational or second-home properties.

Platinum Technologies works with solutions that provide remote access for home controls—things like electronic locks, lighting controls, heating and cooling.

With the help of Platinum Technologies clients can randomly have lights turned on and off to make it appear that a house is inhabited, even though the residents may be many miles away.

Platinum Technologies has operated out of its Howards Grove location as a division of Dean's Electric. Don't be fooled by the small rural facility, however. Platinum Technologies works with customers in a 100 mile radius, with customers in the Milwaukee suburbs and Waukesha on the south, to Green Bay and Appleton on the north.

To contact Platinum Technologies for more information, call 920-565-7557.

Their website is platinumtechservices.com.

Landing Blitz offers lake protection info

Thousands of Wisconsinites will take to the waters this 4th of July weekend for the state's busiest boating holiday.

Many will be greeted at boat landings by AIS staff and volunteers sharing a simple but powerful message: You have the power to protect lakes and rivers from aquatic invasive species.

The weekend will mark the ninth annual Landing Blitz, a statewide effort to remind boaters and other water lovers to take action to stop the spread of aquatic invasive species, which pose great risks to the health of our lakes and fisheries.

"This campaign has become a mainstay of our prevention efforts, since the holiday draws both frequent and infrequent boaters to the water, allowing us to empower a lot of people," says Bob Wakeman, statewide aquatic invasive species coordinator for the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

Clean Boats/Clean Waters staff and volunteer inspectors will be on hand at landings in Sheboygan County from June 30 through July 4 to give demonstrations of the prevention steps and educate boaters about invasive species. Their efforts will build on the success of last year's campaign, when volunteers inspected over 14,000 boats and spoke with over 32,000 people statewide. Boaters will be rewarded with a free microfiber towel that displays the "Stop Aquatic Hitchhikers" logo and the AIS prevention message:

- Inspect your boat, trailer and equipment
- Remove all attached plants or animals
- Drain all water from boats, motors, livewells and other equipment

To learn more about invasive species and their impacts to Wisconsin's waters and economy, visit <http://dnr.wi.gov/lakes/invasives>.

Elkhart Lake Village Report

Caboose project nears conclusion

The caboose project is coming to a conclusion. The Elkhart Lake Historical Society has been taking the lead on this project.

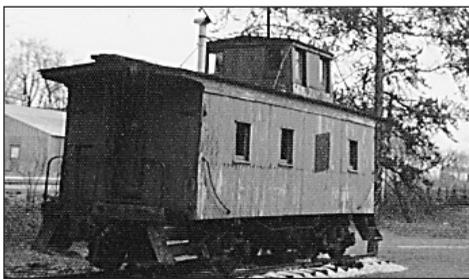

In the 1970's, Dick Wehmeyer and David Sutcliffe were instrumental in bring Soo Line #247 to the village. Over the years the caboose fell into disrepair. The discussion centered around getting rid of the caboose, or restoring it.

At that time, resident Michael Crowley stepped up and donated a considerable amount of money to kick-start the project. The Historical Society formed a committee consisting of Steve Sutcliffe, Dick Wehmeyer, Michael Crowley, Alan Rudnick, Steve Kapellen, Rich Solek, Pat Zorn and Jessica Reilly.

Despite the extent of damage that was found, the fundraising effort was very successful considering the cost of the project. The cupola that is the top part of the caboose was completely rotted out. It took the entire summer of 2016 to restore that.

Fred Bower headed the restoration team. Fred has completed many rail cars and cabooses in his career. His attention to detail will make this project and this caboose a tourist attraction for many years to come.

We will have a dedication ceremony in August. Watch the website for date and time. The committee would like to thank the many people and companies who made generous donations to the caboose project.

review the map. All closures will start at 3 p.m. and last until approximately 9 p.m.

If you are a resident and need to enter the closure area that is outlined on the map anytime from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. please contact the Village offices before July 19 to arrange for a parking pass. This pass will let officers and those assisting with traffic know that you are allowed to enter the closed area to get to your residence or business. Please keep in mind that from 5:45 p.m. and 6:15 p.m. no one will be allowed in the closed area, even with a parking pass, due to the escort that will be occurring. Additionally, anyone living on S. Lake, S. East and Elm Streets will not be able to enter those areas starting at 5:45 p.m. due to the excessive amounts of people on the streets until the event concludes.

If you have any questions please feel free to contact Chief Meeusen at (920) 876-2244 or mmeeusen@elkhartlakewi.gov.

Thank you for your understanding and cooperation during this busy weekend that we have here in Elkhart Lake.

Planning Commission

At the June Planning Commission meeting, approval of a concept plan was given to James Balestrieri for a new building to be constructed between Throttlestop and Compassionate Care Vet Clinic. The proposed building will be approximately 15000 square feet and have a similar look to Throttlestop.

Premiere Development is still working on a TIF amendment to be included in the Wolf TIF. They are requesting TIF incentive to help pay for infrastructure for the housing development on the corner of Highway 67 and Hickory.

The Commission continues to work on the Victory North housing development.

This would bring 50 to 55 houses and duplexes to the village.

Friends offer book sale

The 18th annual Friends of the Elkhart Lake Library book sale will be held in the Grashorn Civic Center on Friday, July 28 from 1-3 p.m. with an admission fee of $3. The sale continues on Saturday, July 29 from 9-3.

The proceeds from this anticipated event totally benefit the Elkhart Lake Public Library by providing many of the extras, which the community has come to enjoy, such as movie licensing, storytelling, computer programs, a guest antique appraiser and much more.

In the past 17 years, Friends has donated over $20,000 to the library with this project and over 35 Friends participate in its organization yearly. This year's sale chairman is Susie White.

Used book donations will be accepted Monday through Friday, July 24-28 from 9 a.m. to noon at the Grashoen Center.

Decorate a Paddle!

This year the Downtown Night Committee will be auctioning off decorated Paddles in place of the birdhouses.

Here's your chance to get creative, don your art smock, and donate your artistic talents to help decorate these paddles! Please stop by the Chamber office and pick up your paddle(s). We are asking that they be returned, fully decorated to the Chamber office, 41 E Rhine Street, Elkhart Lake no later than Wednesday, August 9 (return them earlier and we'll share them on our facebook page!).

Please be sure to use weatherproof paint (or a sealing lacquer topcoat) and décor items on the paddles if they are intended to be displayed outside.

Once decorated, each paddle (or set of paddles if decorated as a set) will then be auctioned off at Downtown Night through our silent auction and the proceeds will help fund various Elkhart Lake Chamber activities and initiatives; including Downtown Night and marketing/promoting Chamber businesses like you!

We can't wait to see all of the fun, unique paddles that our Chamber community creates!

Thanks and happy decorating!
