A minister dies and is waiting in line at the Pearly Gates. Ahead of him is a guy who's dressed in sunglasses, a loud shirt, leather jacket, and jeans.

Saint Peter addresses this guy, 'Who are you, so that I may know whether or not to admit you to the Kingdom of Heaven?'

The guy replies, 'I'm Joe Cohen, taxi driver, of Noo Yawk City.'

St. Peter consults his list. He smiles and says to the taxi driver, 'Take this silken robe and golden staff and enter the Kingdom of Heaven.'

The taxi driver goes into Heaven with his robe and staff, and it's the minister's turn. He stands erect and booms out, 'I am Joseph Snow, pastor of Calvary Church for the last forty-three years.'

St Peter consults his list.

He says to the minister, 'Take this cotton robe and wooden staff and enter the Kingdom of Heaven.'

'Just a minute,' says the minister. 'That man was a taxi driver, and he gets a silken robe and golden staff. How can this be?'

'Up here, we work by results,' says Saint Peter. 'While you preached, people slept, while he drove, people prayed.'

STATE AWARDS GRANT FOR SCALE UP PROGRAM

Danville has been awarded a $339,600 state grant to launch a new program to boost community training and employment efforts that will move low-income individuals out of poverty.

The name of the program is "SCALE UP," which stands for "Success Credentialing Assistance Leading to Employment and Upending Poverty." Danville Community College (DCC) will administer the program in partnership with the City of Danville's Division of Social Services and the Danville office of the Virginia Employment Commission.

"SCALE UP provides participants intensive programming that will provide hard and soft skills training to bridge the skills gap and overcome barriers to self-sufficiency," George Still, director of institutional planning, effectiveness and research at DCC, said Thursday.

Still said the curricula will target both at-risk youth and adult learners. For at-risk youth, the goal will be to provide academic year and summer programming to high school juniors and seniors in order to improve their college readiness and entry-level skills in fields such as information technology, health care and precision machining.

For adults, programming will focus on four-month and 10-month training programs. The four-month options include programs such as phlebotomy, industrial maintenance, basic welding, and pharmacy technician. The 10-month options include programs in automotive, culinary arts, welding, precision machining, dental assisting, cosmetology, network technology and basic programming.

"Any individual would have a choice of any program in our curriculum, but these options are the ones that we know will provide them with in-demand skills for a high wage job," Still said.

Still said DCC will hire a recruiter, a support specialist who will function as a success coach, and a job and career placement coach. These positions are expected to be filled by Aug. 1.

Adult participants in the SCALE UP program could begin classes at the start of the fall semester on Aug. 21 or take advantage of programs starting on a rolling basis throughout the year.

The grant also will provide "last-dollar assistance" for tuition and other expenses and ensure the programs will continue even if enrollment is low.

"If only six students enroll, the program will still run," Still said. "SCALE UP is really a guaranteed training program that students can know will be there when they walk through the door."

The Virginia Department of Social Services awarded the grant from its Temporary Assistance to Needy Families, or TANF, funds.

"I am pleased that the City and DCC was awarded this grant that will help people experiencing economic hardship to get the skills they need to be in a career that will help them and their families move into the middle class and have a brighter future," City Manager Ken Larking said.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Aspects favor socializing with family and friends, but an irksome workplace situation could intrude. No use grumbling, Lamb. Just do it, and then get back to the fun times.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) There's still time for you Ferdinands and Fernandas to relax and sniff the roses. But a major work project looms and soon will demand much of your attention through the 24th.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Your enthusiasm persuades even the toughest doubters to listen to what you're proposing. But don't push too hard, or you'll push them away. Moderate for best results.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your energy levels are rising, and you feel you can handle anything the job requires. That's great. But don't isolate yourself. Keep your door open to your workplace colleagues.

LEO (July 23 August 22) A workplace change could lead to that promotion you've been hoping for. But you'll have to face some tough competition before the Lion can claim his or her share of the goodies.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Your rigidity regarding a difficult workplace situation could be the reason your colleagues aren't rushing to your assistance. Try being more flexible in your demands.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) That uneasy mood could be your Libran inner voice reminding you that while it's great to be with your new friends, you need to take care not to ignore your old ones.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A sudden spate of criticism could shake the Scorpion's usually high sense of self-confidence. Best advice: You made a decision you believed in -- now defend it.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your reluctance to help restart a stalled relationship could be traced to unresolved doubts about your partner's honesty. Rely on a trusted friend's advice.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) The capricious Sea Goat is torn between duty and diversion. Best advice: Do both. Tend to your workaday chores, then go out and enjoy your well-earned fun time.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Cutting back on some of your activities for a few days helps restore your energy levels. You should be feeling ready to tackle your many projects early next week.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A co-worker might be secretly carping about your work to mutual colleagues. But associates will come to your defense, and the situation will ultimately work to your advantage.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your ambition makes you a success at whatever you choose to do -- especially if it's in the world of the performing arts.

OBITUARIES

"For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's." - Romans 14:8

The family of Mary E. Puryear would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for your prayers, love, gifts, support, and all other acts of kindness during this time of loss of our precious loved one. All that you have done, has lifted our spirits, eased our pain and discomfort and helped us through this difficult time. For all of your time, efforts, and hard work, we ask that you accept our thanks and appreciation. You have truly been a blessing to our family. May God keep and bless all of you.

*Sincerely,
The Puryear
& Harper Family*

"Fixing The Foundational Issues"

Some years ago my wife and I tried a new thing for us. We bought an old house in foreclosure, and renovated it to sell it. We took what was run down and ugly and made it like new again.

One of the first issues that had to be tended to was one that announced itself to us in a most inglorious way. As I walked back into the master bedroom, I suddenly found myself standing from my waist down in the crawspace, and from there up still in the bedroom.

Termites.

What I had stepped through was the floor board of the bedroom. It had been eaten away by the little buggers. At just three quarters of an inch thick, it could no longer hold me in its weakened state.

My wife at some point along the way stopped laughing at my misfortune. I am betting Joanna Gains would have sympathized if poor Chip had gone through that, but my dear Dana just thought it was hilarious.

That floor board, by the way, has been completely replaced, and is now as solid as a rock. But there were some things we did before we replaced that flooring. One, we had the termites killed. Two, we replaced the floor joists that held the floor board, as they too had been compromised. A new floor board would have been of temporary help at best if the underlying issues had not been addressed.

Please picture me in your minds, at this point, as sitting here at my desk waving an American flag, because I am a dyed in the wool, red white and blue loving, hand over the heart during the national anthem American. But our country has issues of great concern to me both as an American and as a Christian, and those issues go far below the surface of what is currently being dealt with.

Psalm 11:3 says, "If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do?" The concern of the psalmist was not for the paint or the curtains or the siding but for the joists and piers and footers.

I am encouraged by the appointment of a new justice to the Supreme Court who seems to show a devotion to the Constitution instead of to judicial activism. I am thrilled by announcements from the White House that "we worship God, not government." I am ecstatic the Prime Minister of Israel is once again an honored guest at the White House rather than being treated as an unapproved teenage date to be smuggled in and out the back door.

But all of this and much more, as important as it is, is still merely dealing with surface issues. Judges and lawmakers and announcements come and go. What one administration or generation does can easily be undone by the next. It is in the people of our land that we will see the inevitable course of our future. If the people love God and live for God, if the people despise sin and refuse to support it in any way, there will be long-lasting change.

If the people teach godliness to their children, if the people refuse to have their children educated by the godless, if the people vote for righteousness not just at the ballot box but also every day with their dollars, there will be long-lasting change.

If the people fulfill the great commission to win souls, if the people keep the churches full and the sin-establishments empty, if the people pray more than they play on Facebook, there will be long-lasting change.

More conservative justices? Hold my baby while I shout. More rolling back of onerous IRS targeting of Christians and conservatives? Bring it on. But if there is not a real revival of spirituality among the people, something akin to a third Great Awakening in its impact, we will find this season of reprieve to be very temporary, I think.

The hope of America ultimately does not lie with the government, but with the governed.

VETERANS POST

by Freddy Groves

The State of the VA

Department of Veterans Affairs chief David Shulkin gave a 100-days State of the VA address, and he was candid about the problems with the VA and the hopes of correcting what needs to be fixed.

What's concerning is that there have been 137 different assessments and studies about what's wrong at the VA. It seems that somewhere along the line, officials would have just grabbed one assessment and started to fix whatever it pointed out, instead of letting 137 of them stack up. One area of concern is access: how fast veterans can get an appointment. At this point, at all of the VA's 168 medical centers, veterans can get in the same day for primary and mental-health care. Outpatient facilities don't fare as well. And wait times and follow-up appointments have been, and continue to be, a major problem.

The Choice Program was heavily pushed as a way to get faster medical care for veterans, but those civilian medical providers are not getting paid on time and they're leaving the network. Some $50 million worth of bills are still outstanding, being six months or older. It doesn't help providers when the contract has been amended 70 times. Because of confusion on both sides, 20 percent of the bills are rejected outright.

Fourteen VA medical centers have one-star ratings, which means a lower quality of care than is available in nearby local hospitals.

As Shulkin said, some of the problems at the VA have been going on for decades. His honesty is refreshing -- and necessary. One area where Shulkin's goals are going to meet reality is in the time it takes to process disability claims. I wish him well with this and all of his intentions, but the truth is that the claims processing-time goalpost has been moved many times over the years.

SAVE PLANTS FROM THE SUMMER TIME SIZZLE

Many people consider summer the most enjoyable time of year, as the summer sun and warm breezes make the season perfect for rest and relaxation. But the months of June, July and August, which are often characterized by rising temperatures and stifling humidity, can be tough to endure as well. When summer heat becomes especially uncomfortable, humans can simply head indoors and beat the heat in air conditioned buildings and homes. Plant life is not so lucky, and homeowners may need to take steps to help the plant life on their properties survive the summer heat.

- Monitor soil moisture. Soil moisture, or a lack thereof, can help homeowners determine if their plants are struggling to survive the heat. To check soil moisture levels, use a ruler or even your finger, sticking either two inches into the ground where you suspect the soil is drying out. If the soil is damp two inches below the surface, then your plants are likely retaining enough moisture to withstand the heat. If the soil is dry two inches below, then you may want to give the soil a deep soak.
- Keep an eye on container gardens. Containers may have an especially difficult time staying moist in the summer heat. That's particularly true for containers that sit in direct sunlight. Water container gardens daily during summer heat waves, being sure to adhere to any local water restrictions.
- Lay down mulch. Mulch helps insulate and protect soil during summer, when soil can quickly dry out. When applied correctly (ideally before summer temperatures get too hot), mulch helps the soil conserve moisture and prevents weed growth. Weeds can rob soil of the water it needs to promote strong root systems, which can help plants get the nutrients they need to withstand summer heat. Mulched soils also do not experience the fluctuations in temperature that non-mulched soils can experience during summer heat waves, helping plants to grow evenly.

- Move plants when possible. Plant location can affect their chances of surviving summer heat. Driveways lined with flowers or other plants may look nice, but driveways exposed to the sun can radiate heat at temperatures that exceed the temperatures noted on the thermometer. If possible, move plants to locations on your property that are less exposed to the heat and/or less likely to be affected by the heat. Move container plants beneath trees on hot days, and consider summer heat waves before planting new flower beds. Summer heat can be especially harmful to plant life. But homeowners can employ various strategies to protect the plant life on their properties when temperatures rise during the dog days of summer.

You may not know if your bones are becoming weak or brittle, but they could be if you have these risk factors.

- Over the age of 50 and postmenopausal
- Vitamin D or Calcium Deficiency
- Decreased bone mass or loss of height
- A curved, stooped shape to your spine
- Sudden back pain that gets worse with movement

If you have any of these potential risk factors you may qualify for a clinical research study of an investigational medication for osteoporosis. Qualified participants will receive all study-related care and investigational medication at no cost and may be compensated for time and travel. Health insurance not required.

* It was American journalist and political satirist P.J.
 O'Rourke who made the following
 sage observation:
 "No drug, not even alcohol, causes the fundamental ills of society. If we're looking for the source of our troubles, we shouldn't test people for drugs, we should test them for stupidity, ignorance, greed and love of power."

* If you're like many Americans, you celebrate the Fourth of July by cooking out. In fact, it's estimated that in the United States, 150 million hot dogs and 700 million pounds of chicken are consumed on that single day.

* Those who study such things say that the milk from a mother hippopotamus is pink.

* The Declaration of Independence was signed by 56 men from 13 colonies, but only one of them --
 John Hancock -- actually signed it on July 4, 1776.
 Only two signers went on to become president of the United States: John Adams and Thomas Jefferson. In a striking coincidence, both men died on the same day, July 4, 1826 -- exactly 50 years after the adoption of the Declaration. Jefferson died first, at 12:50 p.m., at Monticello, his home in Virginia. At 6:20 that evening, at his home in Quincy, Massachusetts, John Adams died. Unaware of Jefferson's death earlier that day, Adams acknowledged his longtime friend and rival with his final words: "Thomas Jefferson survives."

* It was once believed that people with the bacterial infection cholera were suffering the wrath of God for their sins. In fact, the disease's name comes from the Spanish word for anger.

* The typical horse walks at a speed of 3 1/2 miles per hour.

Thought for the Day: "We all have our time machines. Some take us back; they're called memories. Some take us forward; they're called dreams."

* If the clinking and clacking your dog's tags are driving you crazy, wrap one of them in clear packing tape. Cut off excess and the tags can hit each other all night without making a sound.

* "You can keep salad dressing from coming out so fast if you use a knife tip to poke several holes along one side of the foil safety covering on a bottle of dressing. This works for oil and vinegar based ones, but not as well for creamy ones. For those, just remove half of the foil by cutting it with the knife tip. It's much better to control the flow!" -- M.R. in Idaho

* "I use baking soda to scour my kitchen sink. Then I rinse it down with a little vinegar. It cleans up really nicely and leaves the drains fresh." -- J.C. in California

* Here's a great tip for cooking a baked potato in the microwave. You may have heard to pierce the potato with a sharp knife or the tines of a fork, but you also can use four toothpicks to give it some legs to stand on. This allows the air to circulate all around the potato, therefore ensuring even cooking! Plus, it looks cute.

* Using an online recipe? Slip your tablet or phone into a plastic zipper-top bag so that it will be ingredient free when cooking time is over. You can still use the touchscreen through the bag, but no mess!

* Clean a coffee grinder with a cup of uncooked rice. Process it through, then dump the contents.

CREDIT Solutions

with Suzie Bohannon
Financial Counselor

Increasing available credit = better credit score

30% of your credit score is influenced by the amount of credit that is available to you. For this reason you do not want your credit cards to be near their limit. Example: If you have a credit card that has a $1,000.00 limit and you have a balance of $200.00 then you have 80% of credit available to you on that credit card. If you have a balance of $999.99 then you have no credit available. Keep balances low to increase the capacity you have on your credit report. In addition to this do not close accounts that you are not using. When you close those accounts you are decreasing the credit that is available. Increasing your capacity (available credit) is the second largest factor on your credit report. Remember keep balances low and keep accounts open.

Best Bets for Back to School

FAMILY FEATURES

Every family needs the right items on hand to ensure students are geared up to succeed in the classroom and on the playing field. These supplies and handy tools are designed to make back-to-school season easy as 1-2-3 for kids and parents alike.

A sticky solution

Art projects abound when a new school year begins and the perfect paper crafts require a secure bond that withstands transportation from school to home. An Elmer's Re-Stick Glue Stick lets little hands fine-tune placement of different pieces for up to five minutes before a permanent bond forms. The sticks apply smoothly and dry clear for a mess-free appearance that is ideal for younger learners, as well as making poster presentations, crafts and more. See what ideas will stick for you at elmers.com.

Smart sipping

Good hydration is important for overall health and keeping a water bottle by your side is one way to help ensure you're keeping your intake steady throughout the day. The Contigo AUTOSPOUT Chug Water Bottle enables simple sipping on the go with its patented technology and high flow for quick, one-handed drinking. The vacuum-insulated stainless steel keeps beverages refreshingly cold for up to 24 hours, and a protective spout prevents leaks and helps keep out dirt and germs. Find more information at gocontigo.com.

A cool way to refuel

A rigorous morning of academics calls for an energizing and nutritious lunch to power through the end of the school day. Rubbermaid BRILLIANCE Lunch containers are leak-proof with airtight latches and adjustable insert trays and dividers to create custom compartments inside. The ultra-durable material keeps the container stain-free and odor-free. They're also BPA-free and safe for the dishwasher, microwave and freezer. Find this and other lunch solutions at rubbermaid.com.

Word-wise

From creating spaces at home that help organize school paperwork to identifying personal items like laptops or calculators, an electric labeler makes short work of the job. The DYMO MobileLabeler offers Bluetooth connectivity for fast and easy setup, along with a voice-to-text feature and spellcheck to help save time. A free app lets you create the label via a smartphone using a wide variety of colors and font libraries then print the size you need from 1/4 inch-1 inch wide. Learn more at dymo.com.

Organize with color

Keeping track of schedules, homework and other activities can be an exhausting chore, but a color-coded dry-erase board is one way to keep everything straight. A highly visible, low-odor ink like the one used in the EXPO Dry Erase Markers with Ink Indicator makes getting organized fun, plus the easy-to-see ink levels ensures you'll never unknowingly run dry. The versatile chisel tip marks broad, medium and fine lines, and six bold and bright colors let you add a little creative flair to your efforts to bring order to the chaos. Check out these and other dry-erase tools at expomarkers.com.

Artwork for the senses

Nothing sparks creativity like engaging all the senses, and an array of bold scents and vivid colors is the perfect combination for some inspired artwork. Mr. Sketch Scented Crayons come in a package of 12 and feature a twist design that means they never need sharpening. A hard plastic body reduces crayon breakage, making these instruments ideal for children as young as 3 years of age. Explore more crayons and tools to encourage creativity this school year at mrsketch.com.

A bright idea

Defining important text or keeping track of key calendar dates is easier with Sharpie Clear View Highlighters that feature a see-through tip that allows for precise highlighting. The versatile blade-style tip draws thick lines for highlighting or thin, defined lines for underlining, while specially formulated ink technology resists smudging of many pen and marker inks. Choose among four bright colors to make your mark and find additional answers to your highlighting needs at sharpie.com.

FAVORITE RECIPES

SHRIMP BAHN MI

You can make the crunchy, marinated carrot topping for this traditional sandwich ahead of time and store it in an air-tight container. If daikon radish isn't available in your area, use 1/4 cup peeled and shredded red radish as a substitute.

- 1/2 cup carrots, peeled and shredded
- 1/2 cup daikon or red radish, peeled and shredded
- 2 teaspoons sugar or sugar substitute
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon cider vinegar
- 1/3 cup chopped fresh cilantro
- 2 1/2 tablespoons reduced-fat mayonnaise
- 2 1/2 tablespoons low-fat plain Greek yogurt
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce
- 3/4 teaspoon fish sauce
- 1 tablespoon lime juice
- 1 teaspoon Sriracha sauce or 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 3 (12-inch) baguettes, halved lengthwise
- 1 pound peeled, cooked (16-20 count) shrimp, tails removed, cut in half
- 18 thin slices of cucumber
- 3 green onions, thinly sliced lengthwise and cut into 2-inch pieces

1. Place carrot, radish, sugar, salt and vinegar in a small bowl; stir to combine. Let marinate while preparing the rest of the ingredients.
2. Place cilantro, mayonnaise, yogurt, soy sauce, fish sauce, lime juice and Sriracha or the cayenne in a medium bowl; stir to combine. Spread 2 teaspoons of this sauce on the bottom half of each baguette. Add shrimp to the remaining sauce; toss to coat.
3. Using a slotted spoon, divide carrot mixture among the baguettes (discard vinegar). Top with shrimp, cucumber and green onions. Cut each baguette into two 6-inch sandwiches. Makes 6 servings.

Host A Successful Yard Sale

Instead of giving away unwanted items that have gathered dust around the house, many people turn to garage and yard sales to transform their clutter into some extra money. Yard sales may not be a "get rich quick" scheme, but they present an environmentally friendly way to clean up a home. What's more, they can be an ideal way to connect with neighbors and meet new people. Any money earned is an added bonus.

Statistics collecting resource Statistics Brain says that roughly 165,000 yard/garage sales take place in the United States each week. Nearly 700,000 people purchase something at those sales, leading to millions of dollars exchanging hands.

Yard sales may seem straightforward, but there are a few strategies to ensure such sales go boom rather than bust.

Choose the right date and time

Plan when to hold the sale by looking at the calendar and choosing an open weekend. Many people host their yard sales on Friday, Saturday or Sunday mornings, theorizing that this is when the most people will be free to browse their wares.

Begin early in the morning so that shoppers will not need to disrupt their schedules much to visit neighborhood sales. A 7 a.m. start time will attract the early birds and free up most of the day.

Advertise the sale

To reach the maximum number of shoppers, advertise your sale in various ways. Signage around the neighborhood announcing the sale is one method. Signs should be bold, simple and easily readable for passing motorists. Place ads in local newspapers, online and on grocery store bulletin boards, and use social media to spread the word of the sale even further. Be sure to give ample notice of the sale so that shoppers can mark their calendars.

Make for easy browsing

Arrange goods for sale into categories and pay attention to presentation. You may generate more sales if items are easy to see and browsing is made easy. Put items you expect to draw the most attention popular near the end of the driveway to entice passers-by. A neat and inviting appearance also may convey that you've taken care of your home and your belongings. Play some music and offer light refreshments to create a convivial atmosphere.

Price things reasonably

It's tempting to overprice items, but a good rule of thumb is to mark things for one-half to one-third of the original value. Be open to negotiation, but try to haggle with a "buy one get one" approach, rather than marking down the price considerably. After all, the goal is to get rid of as many items as possible, with financial gain a distant second.

Yard sales are popular ways to make money and clear homes of unwanted items. Hosts can make their sales even more successful by employing a few simple strategies.
