YWCO "2017 Celebrate America"

By Linda Cranford

The YWCO held its annual Celebrate America program on Tuesday, June 27. Prior to the start of the program, Mary Kay Rogers, president of the YWCO Board, announced that the YWCO will no longer serve Tuesday luncheons. The Y will remain open and other programs will be offered throughout the year, in addition to the services already being offered.

The Laurel High School ROTC presented the colors and Y Board Program Chair Mary Ann Stroka led the assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the flag followed by the singing of the national anthem by Katrina Cox. Rev. Luke Ponder, pastor of First Trinity Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation. The guest speaker was Larry Callahan with the Veterans Memorial Museum in Laurel. Honored guests included Mayor Johnny Magee and Jimmy Bass, also with the VMM.

The Veterans Memorial Museum is filled with items that have been given to the museum that belonged mostly to local veterans. Callahan and Bass brought several items from the Museum, and Callahan told the story behind each item. The items were displayed on a table in front of the speaker's podium and included a pair of bronzed jungle boots, a coconut, a framed photo of Alex Box as a LSU football player, a framed piece of a parachute, a laminated newspaper picture of Julius E. Bass with the heading "Prisoner of Germany," and a photo of a Julius E. Bass and his flight crew. As with most items in the museum, these were items related to veterans from Laurel and Jones County.

Callahan said that many of the items donated to the museum are letters and the museum really has no way of preserving or archiving them. The museum was recently visited by best-selling author Andrew Carroll, who is the founding director of the Center for American War Letters at Chapman University in California. Care Connection breaks ground on new facility

By Linda Cranford

The rain stopped just long enough Thursday, June 29, for Care Connection© to hold its Ground Breaking Ceremony to start the renovation process for a new senior care facility in Laurel/Jones County. Located at 3091 Highway 11 North (going toward Sandersville), Care Connection© is a 501(c)3 nonprofit which offers services that focus on improving the quality of life for seniors 65 plus.

Mayor Johnny Magee, State Senator Juan Barnett, Jones County Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors, EDA Vice Presidents Larkin Simpson and Sandy Holifield, and friends joined Angeleque Adams and her fiancé, Robert Hughes for the Ground Breaking Ceremony.

Adams and Hughes will be renovating the former Ellisville State School home to eventually accommodate 15 residents. Care Connection© will offer a variety of services including but not limited to, personal care home, assisted living facility, transportation (non-emergent medical transportation), in-home services, therapy, respite care, etc.

In addition to the services mentioned above, Adams said they have created two projects – Ageless Art and Seniors Helping Seniors. Adams explained that the Ageless Art project provides senior artists a platform for exhibits, networking, income generation, recognition, involvement, and travel. She said the Senior Helping Seniors project provides high school seniors and senior citizens “an opportunity to create a win-win relationship by splitting the proceeds and building lasting relationships between the two groups.”

“We believe that the seniors, who are a very vulnerable population, are also a very valuable population,” stated Adams. “We want to make their golden years golden by involving them, celebrating them, teaching them and learning from them, traveling with them, and making sure they are treated with the utmost dignity and respect.”

The renovation process is expected to take 3-to-4 months. In addition to the inside renovations Adams said they plan to create a walking trail through the 5-acre land as well as build a raised planter to have their own garden.

Future plans include the building of a 2,000 square-foot addition to the present structure.

For more information about Care Connection©, contact Adams at (281) 300-2393 or email: caringconnection17@gmail.com.

5 Steps to Keep Your Car Prepared for Summer Heat

(Family Features) Taking proper care of your vehicle is important all year, but summer heat brings a unique set of challenges to your car's air conditioning system, tires, brakes, battery and more. To ensure your vehicle is prepared to safely handle the summer elements and to help avoid breakdowns, preventative maintenance is necessary.

The car care experts at Goodyear Auto Service offer these essential tips that can help keep your car performing safely, comfortably and cool - all summer long:

1. Keep tires properly inflated. As temperatures rise, so does your tire pressure. Tires with high air pressure perform inefficiently as compared to properly inflated tires. Check your tires regularly, leveraging the inflation level molded into the driver door sidewall or in your vehicle's manual.

2. Check air conditioning. The experts at weather.com are predicting warmer than average summer temperatures for a vast majority of the country. When temperatures climb, avoid losing your cool with preventative care. Look for specials on services such as the Goodyear Auto Service Summer Car Care event, which delivers up to $50 worth of air conditioning system check services for just $9.99 through July 31. The checks include an air conditioning belt inspection, assessment of electronic controls and up to two pounds of refrigerant for testing.

3. Test and replace the battery. Battery failure is the No. 1 cause of car breakdowns. Often, batteries give slight warning signs when they run low. For example, you may notice the engine struggling to turn over upon ignition or see white, blue or orange fuzz forming around the battery. While a typical battery life is 4 1/2 years, each day of extreme weather - both hot and cold - contributes to the shortening of a battery's life. It's a good idea to have your battery tested by a trained professional during peak seasons to determine whether it's time for a replacement.

4. Don't overlook tread depth. When it comes to tire maintenance, proper depth is an easy way to maximize safety and performance. There are several ways to check tread depth, including the "penny test." Simply insert a penny into your tire's tread groove with Lincoln's head upside down, facing you. If you can see all of Lincoln's head, it's time to replace your tires. Through July 31, Goodyear Auto Service is offering big savings on tires through online and mail-in rebates where customers can double their savings when using a Goodyear credit card.

5. Inspect brakes. If your car jerks or pulls to the side when you apply the brakes, or if you hear sounds like squeaking, squealing or grinding, it's likely time for service. Always check your owner's manual, but a general rule of thumb is to have your brakes checked every 12 months or 15,000 miles.

To learn more about car care maintenance and to set up an appointment to get your air conditioning system serviced at the Summer Car Care event, visit GoodyearAutoService.com.

Simplify your lifestyle this summer

(Family Features) From backyard barbecues and trips to the beach to baseball games and swim meets, summer is all about family fun. It's also an ideal time to slow down and incorporate a more mindful routine at home.

This season, prioritize a "less-is-more" lifestyle by making smart swaps, like using products with better ingredients, to simplify your life and create an even healthier home for your family. With these easy, helpful tips, you can arm yourself with the tools to spend more time focusing on family and fun.

Pick Produce, Not Processed. What you feed your family often fuels summer fun, but favorite treats like ice cream and hot dogs can be full of unwanted ingredients and added sugars. Skip prepackaged items and look for fresh, seasonal produce that can be incorporated into multiple meals throughout the day, which can also lead to a shorter grocery list and less waste. For example, you can add nutrient- and antioxidant-rich stone fruit to Greek yogurt for breakfast, mix into salsa for a snack and throw on the grill then top with whipped cream for dessert.

Focus on the Right Ingredients. Warmer temperatures and fun, outdoor activities can lead to extra stains and more laundry. It's important to keep summer items dirt-free and smelling fresh with products you can feel good about bringing into your home. For a powerful clean without harshness to keep your summer wardrobe clean and fresh, try all fresh clean Essentials, which is formulated without sulfates and contains effective ingredients for deep cleaning the toughest stains.

Minimize Your Regimen. Take advantage of the seasonal climate to shorten your beauty routine and save time, energy and products. There's no need to blow dry hair with warm weather - sleep in two twisted braids for beachy waves, air-dry after the shower or throw on a wide-brimmed sun hat to hide bed head. Also focus on products that do double duty: replace sticky lipsticks and gloss with tinted chapsticks that include SPF or mix in a drop of sunscreen to liquid foundation.

Simplify Cleanup. It's easy to let the myriad rotating summer activities turn your space into an unexpected mess, so proactively prepare for the chaos by creating a cleanup kit. A clean towel, water bottle, sunscreen, change of clothes and snack in a small tote or plastic container can be left in the trunk of the car or in the garage to keep you from running around searching for supplies. This way, you're prepared for whatever summer brings, be it spilled ketchup, an unexpected shower or even a care-free run through the backyard sprinkler.

Carroll embarked on a journey named the "Million Letter Campaign" to locate and preserve war-time forms of communications from every conflict in U.S. history. Carroll was more than happy to help the museum with its large collection of letters.

Callahan relayed the story of a letter Charlie Barnes wrote to his mom when he was stationed on the island of New Guinea. Barnes worked at Sears for 20-plus years. "Being from Smith County and stationed in New Guinea, Charlie had never seen a coconut, let alone a coconut tree," said Callahan. Pointing to the coconut displayed on the table in front of the podium, Callahan said Charlie wrote a letter to his mother on the back of the coconut, wrote the address to his mom on the front, placed a stamp on it and mailed it. "It arrived at the Raleigh Post Office and it caused a big stir," said Callahan. "Nobody had ever seen a coconut in Smith County. The post master was so impressed with it that he recorded it as the first special delivery he made."

He read another letter that involved Jimmy Bass' brother Julius Bass and told the story behind a framed piece of parachute with the following hand printed on it: "7.6.44 Bricy 1.Ltn. J. E. Bass Laurel Miss." Bass was a B-17 Bomber pilot in WWII and was shot down over Bricy, Italy, over the same air field he had bombed the day before. Before being transported to an interrogation camp, the German officer in charge of the air base whispered in his ear saying "I will write you when the war is over." In May of 1945, Bass was liberated and returned to the states. While stationed in Florida he received a large envelope from his mother with a letter enclosed. Inside the letter was the above mentioned piece of parachute. The letter was from the German officer asking Bass how his life had been and how was his family. He called the piece of parachute a "lucky leaf of trifold" and said it had brought him fortune too, enabling him to make it through the war. The two remained friends throughout their life. Bass later learned that the rest of his parachute was used to make a wedding gown for the German officer's bride.

In the center of the display table was a framed photograph of an LSU football player, Alex Box. Box was a Laurelite who was an outstanding athlete in football and baseball in both high school and college. He graduated in 1938 from Gardener High School in Laurel and went on to become an outstanding athlete at LSU, where he graduated in 1942 with a petroleum engineering degree. The LSU baseball stadium is named after Box. They even kept the name when they recently built a new stadium. He was in the 1st Infantry and awarded the Distinguished Service Award before being killed by a mine explosion in February 1943 in North Africa. He was the first student from Laurel to be killed in the war.

"The story of the bronzed jungle boots is another example of wartime stories that we get asked about a lot at the museum," said Callahan. "The boots belonged to a fellow classmate of mine, former Marine, and Laurelite, Jerry Axton."

Axton and Callahan are Vietnam Veterans. Many of the baby boomers, which they are, had their baby shoes bronzed by their parents. While spending time around the fire, in the tent, or a fox hole, Callahan said they would talk about what they were going to do when they got home from the war. "Many times the conversation would include someone saying they were going to have their jungle boots bronzed and put beside their bronzed baby shoes as a sign of my manhood," said Callahan. "I would put a smile on Axton's face every time I would see him. I would tell him that he was the only veteran that ever bronzed his jungle boots."

There are many stories like these behind the hundreds of items found at the Veterans Memorial Museum, which give an insight into wartime life of many veterans and their families of Laurel/Jones County.

After Callahan spoke, the YWCO community choir under the direction of Derrick Meador and Katrina Cox performed a "Music Salute to God and America." The program ended with the singing of "TAPS" by Lew Allred followed by the benediction given by Rev. Luke Ponder.

Sertoma presents 2017 T-Ball ticket sales awards

By Linda Cranford

The annual T-Ball ticket sales awards were presented to this year's winners at the Sertoma of Laurel's weekly meeting on Thursday, June 29. The winner for the most books of tickets sold was Cash Herrington, a member of Jerry Terry's Cardinal team. Cash sold 37 books of tickets. He is the son of Ty and Jordan Herrington and the grandson of Ronnie and Nan Herrington and Darlene McCraney.

The player who sold the winning ticket was Jaycee Burroughs, who was also a member of Terry's Cardinals team. The raffle winner was Jay Davis, who chose to take the $3,000 instead of the 4-Wheeler with trailer from Pro-Flow Motorsports.

Sertoma of Laurel has sponsored T-Ball for the youth of Laurel and Jones County for the past 36 years. The T-Ball program, with its 4-Wheeler Giveaway, is Sertoma's major fundraising project, and the funds raised go toward helping the organization fulfill its mission to provide funds for the Speech and Hearing Health needs of the community as well as other needs of the community. Recently the organization provided funds to the Laurel Police Department to purchase a new K-9 officer.

Outgoing president Chris Ishee thanked the members of the organization for their support throughout the year. According to Ishee, Sertoma gave away over $100,000 to meet various needs of the community throughout the year.

Sertoma of Laurel serves the community all year long, and the most notarized service is the annual Sertoma Christmas Parade, which is the largest parade in the state of Mississippi. The Christmas parade is not a fundraiser but is instead a "gift to the community" from the Sertoma members.

Sertoma President Chris Ishee presented Jaycee Davis with a check for selling the winning ticket in the Sertoma T-Ball 4-wheeler raffle.

Join the Arbor Day Foundation in July and 10 trees will be planted

Submitted

Forests across America are a prized natural resource, and anyone can help plant trees in these vital areas by joining the Arbor Day Foundation this month. Through the Replanting Our National Forests campaign, the Arbor Day Foundation will honor each new member who joins in July by planting 10 trees in forests that have been devastated by wildfires, insects, and disease. The cost for joining the Arbor Day Foundation is a $10 donation.

America's national forests face enormous challenges, including unprecedented wildfires that have left a backlog of more than 1 million acres in need of replanting. The Foundation has worked with the United States Forest Service for more than 25 years to plant trees in high-need forests. Our national forests provide habitat for wildlife, keep the air clean, and help ensure safe drinking water for more than 180 million Americans.

"Keeping our forests healthy is vital to the health of people and the entire planet," said Matt Harris, chief executive of the Arbor Day Foundation. "By planting trees in our national forests, we will preserve precious natural resources and the benefits they provide for generations to come."

To join the Arbor Day Foundation and help plant trees in our national forests, send a $10 membership contribution to Replanting Our National Forests, Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Ave., Nebraska City, NE 68410 or visit arborday.org/july.

A Shepherd's Heart – Be Still and Know

Dr. Timothy L. Hubbard

"Be still and know that I am God. I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth!" Psalm 46:10 (ESV)

As I was praying this morning in preparation for writing this article today, I was overwhelmed afresh and anew with the unfathomable greatness of the God we serve. We sing of His might, we proclaim His greatness, but how often do we sit in reflection of how He demonstrates His greatness in and through us as His children. I believe that the psalmist understood the importance of reflecting on the power of God as He recorded the words as inspired by the Holy Spirit in Psalm 46:10, "Be still and know that I am God."

These words fall near the end of the psalmist's discourse on the fact that God is our refuge and strength. No matter what we are faced with, whether the earth trembles, the mountains topple into the sea, or the waters roar and foam, He will be our Helper. I am almost certain that when life throws you a curve, no matter what it may be, that your first reaction is to try to fix things in your own strength and abilities.

Let's face the truth, God has created us and given us the ability to accomplish much in our own physical, mental, and emotional strength. Because of this, we usually wait until we have exhausted our resources before we cry out to God for help. I think that the psalmist is trying to make the case that instead of our striving to fix everything on our own that we should call on God for His intervention as our first response rather than our last resort.

This phrase "be still" is also translated as "cease striving." I think the truth to glean here is that we must cease striving in our own power during the storms of life and we are to turn to God who is our Refuge, our Strength, and our Helper. In order to walk by faith, we must remember that the God whom we trust is faithful. Paul reminds Timothy in his second letter to him of the following statement: "This saying is trustworthy: For if we have died with Him, we will also live with Him; if we endure, we will also reign with Him; if we deny Him, He will also deny us; if we are faithless, He remains faithful, for He cannot deny Himself." - 2 Timothy 2:10-13 (CSB)

Paul is reminding Timothy and us as well, that He is faithful, no matter what! In Him we can place our full trust and in doing so we will come to understand in an even greater way, that He is God!

Sunshine and summer time, Don't forget the sunscreen!

Skin Cancer Screening & Education Luncheon July 14

Submitted

During the summer season of pool parties and outdoor activities, it is easy to forget about the harmful properties of the sun's rays. To help educate the community on sun protection, South Central Dermatology's Nurse Practitioner, Ashlynn Martin, will host a luncheon to discuss the topic of skin cancer. The luncheon will be held on Friday, July 14th at South Central Place in Laurel at 12 p.m. A complimentary, private skin cancer screening and lunch will be provided to all guests.

The American Cancer Society lists skin cancer as the most common type of skin cancer. With this looming statistic, it is important to be educated on what causes skin cancer and how to lower your risk factor. Ultraviolet (UV) radiation is the leading contributor to contracting melanoma skin cancer. Prolonged or unprotected exposure to these UV Rays damages the DNA of skin cells. When the genes that control skin cell growth are damaged, skin cancer is formed.

Tanning beds use an artificial light source made entirely of UV rays. Risk of contracting melanoma skin cancer increases 4 percentage from the first time a person uses a tanning bed. By cutting out this form of tanning, people significantly decrease their risk factor. There are several alternative ways to get a natural looking tan without subjecting your skin to this harsh method. South Central Dermatology now offers Tan Towels, a product that creates a sunless, healthy looking tan.

The UV rays found in natural sunlight are significantly lesser than those in artificial light, yet can still be hazardous if ignored.

"It is important when you are outside, to wear sunscreen with at least a SPF of 30 and containing the ingredients titanium and zinc," says Martin. "The peak hours of UV exposure are from 11 am to 4 pm, so be sure to monitor your time in the direct sunlight during these hours. These simple steps will significantly aid in prevention."

Skin cancer can also be genetic. If your family has a history of skin cancer it is imperative to be extra cautious when enjoying the sun. "We recommend that everyone has a regular screening for pre-existing moles," states Martin. "Also, it is important to be aware of any new moles you may develop and be sure to notify your dermatologist of these."

These preventative steps are easy, yet skin cancer is still the most common form of cancer. It is important to know the facts about what increases and decreases personal risk for melanoma skin cancer to better combat it. "You can enjoy the sun and get the tan you want while being safe," states Martin. "This summer, be aware of your exposure to UV rays and wear sunscreen."

South Central Regional Medical Center invites you to Join Ashlynn Martin, FNP with South Central Dermatology, for the luncheon on Friday, July 14th. Lunch is catered by Southern Style Catering for $8.50. Call 601-399-0506 or email kvanderslice@scrmc.com to reserve your seat today.

SC Sports Medicine names 2017-18 Scholar Athletes

By Linda Cranford

Coaches and high school athletes from around the area gathered at South Central Place for the fourth annual South Central Sports Medicine Coaches Seminar and Luncheon. The 2017-18 Scholar Athletes were also named during the luncheon.

The Scholar Athletes are chosen by recommendations from both coaches and teachers and consists of student athletes that excel on the playing field and in the classroom. The Scholar Athletes for the 2017-2018 academic year include: North-east Jones High School – Brock Culpeper and Courtney Boothe; South Jones High School – Kameron Flowers and Darby Cooley; Laurel Christian School – Cole Taylor and Bree Fennell; Laurel High School – Patrick Andrews and Taylor Reed; Stringer High School– Reece Barber and Madison Rayner; and West Jones High School – Jacob Kilpatrick and Allie James.

Each year the seminar focuses on topics of interest to all area athletic programs including concussions, ACL injury prevention, and a coach's influence on the life of an athlete. This year's guest speaker Beau Lowery, Director of Rehabilitation for the New Orleans Saints, spoke on the current hydration trends for athletes. Lowery is a Seminary native, JCJC graduate, and a former SCRMC employee.

"How many ounces of water should you drink on a daily basis just to maintain your body's normal biological functions," asked Lowery. The answer is at least 2 liters or 67 ounces per day.

Lowery spoke of the use of other foods for hydration other than water such as pretzels, yogurt, and Gatorade.

"If you're thirsty, it's too late! If you're cramping, it's too late," said Lowery in starting to hydrate.

Over the years Lowery said he has learned how much anxiety plays a part in hydration and how important sleep and hydration are in the recovery process.

Laurel native Akeem Davis, who played for the Jacksonville Jaguars last year, was in attendance and Lowery asked him to address hydration from a professional athlete's point of view.

"You must have a hydration plan," exclaimed Davis. He said when he was playing with the Seattle Seahawks he had to give the head coach his hydration plan for flying to a game. With Seattle being located in the far northwest corner of the United States, the team's flights would be around three hours or more to most out-of-town games. He said you will always see him carrying around a jug of water, and he like to eat bananas, yogurt, and turkey jerky in between, along with Gatorade when practicing or working out.
