When July rolls around and people get together, one of my favorite things to hear them say is “Remember when we _____ at the fair?”

You can fill in that blank with a lot of things. I’m sure you’re thinking of some right now. It might be that very first fair you went to when you won a toy robot from that had been donated by Fisher-Price. Or maybe your “remember when” is the time you and some friends who were participating snuck out of the barn at night to try to go for a midnight swim in the hot tub that was on display. Maybe your “remember when” is talking about all the great food you love eating at the fair. Maybe your “remember when” is that first date you had with somebody special at the fair, learning about horticulture, your first time getting to walk an animal in a show ring, or one of the entertainment acts.

For some of you the “remember when” might be more historical. You might remember when we baked the “World Record Apple Pie” or the first grease pole climbing contest.

After all of the work that’s required to hold the fair the most wonderful possible outcome is that you, your friends, and family create new ways to fill in the blank when you say, “Remember when we _____ at the fair?”

On behalf of the Orleans County Cornell Cooperative Extension Board of Directors and Fair Committee, I welcome you to join us for the Orleans County 4-H Fair, a celebration of the centennial of the Orleans County Cornell Cooperative Extension centennial and everything that makes Orleans County a great place to be.

Orleans County 4-H Fair Pie Eating Contest

With homemade pies from Twin Pines Bakery!
Experience the sloppiest and tastiest couple of minutes in the county. If you would like to register for pie eating it can be done at the fair office after the fair opens, but the 40 seats fill up fast! The contest will be held Fri., July 28, from 6-8 p.m. in the Curtis Pavilion.

Donut Eating Contest sponsored by Dunkin' Donuts

As if the pie eating contest wasn't enough, Wednesday night will have the added excitement of the third annual Orleans County 4-H Fair Donut Eating Contest. Each competitor will have two minutes to finish six donuts in a race against a member of local law enforcement. Those who manage to eat faster than our local heroes will be recognized with a shirt. Those who don't can be recognized by their powdered-sugar-covered frowns. Register at the fair office after fair opens. Registration is $5.

Greased Pole Climbing Contest

Where can you go to see a team of 6 to 10 people try to scale a greased telephone pole?

Come check out one of Orleans County's most exciting competitions of the year, the Greased Pole Climbing Contest. Watch as teams try shimmy their way to the prize at the top. Those who don't slip back down the pole receive an invite to the championship run on Saturday.

If watching isn't exciting enough for you, register your team at the Fair Office to compete. Contestants must be at least 18 years old. Teams must register before the start of competition each night.

The Greased Pole Climbing contest will be run Tuesday - Saturday. The competition is located south of the Carlos Marcello outdoor arena.
