"There is no reason to travel out of town" for great heart care.

— Jim Shields, Danville businessman

Keep Your Heart Close

When Jim Shields suffered a heart attack, the cardiac catheterization lab team at Danville Regional Medical Center, a Duke heart affiliate, was able to quickly diagnose a blockage in his heart – "the widow maker."

Jim survived, thanks in part to the smooth and seamless care he received at Danville Regional. He participated in Danville Regional's cardiac rehabilitation program and still runs his business full-time.

At Danville Regional, your heart is our priority. When the highest quality heart care is this close to home, the choice is easy.

You can keep your heart close. Just like Jim.

Smuggler Prosecution

My boss is without peer when it comes to the rules and regulations that customs officials must follow. But when it comes to the law, well, that's a different story. We were attending a court case in which we were prosecuting a smuggler. The judge asked the court, "Who is making these allegations?" My boss stood up and proclaimed, "I am the alligator, your honor."

WHAT HAPPENS IN HEAVEN ?

This is one of the good e-mails I have seen and is so true:
I dreamt that I went to Heaven and an angel was showing me around. We walked side-by-side inside a large workroom filled with angels. My angel guide stopped in front of the first section and said, 'This is the Receiving Section. Here, all petitions to God said in prayer are Received.'
I looked around in this area, and it was terribly busy with so many angels sorting out petitions written on voluminous paper sheets and scraps from people all over the world. Then we moved on down a long corridor until we reached the second section. The angel then said to me, 'This is the Packaging and Delivery Section. Here, the graces and blessings the people asked for are processed and delivered to the living persons who asked for them.'
I noticed again how busy it was there. There were many angels working hard at that station, since so many blessings had been requested and were being packaged for delivery to Earth. Finally at the farthest end of the long corridor we stopped at the Door of a very small station. To my great surprise, only one angel was Seated there, idly doing nothing. 'This is the Acknowledgment Section,'
My angel friend quietly admitted to me. He seemed embarrassed 'How is it that there is no work going on here?' I asked. 'So sad,' the angel sighed. 'After people receive the blessings that they asked For, very few send back acknowledgments.'
'How does one acknowledge God's blessings?' I asked. 'Simple,' the angel answered. Just say, 'Thank you, Lord.'
'What blessings should they acknowledge?' I asked. 'If you have food, clothes on your back, a roof overhead and a place to sleep you are richer than 75% of this world. If you have money in the bank, in your wallet, and spare change in a dish, you are among the top 8% of the world's wealthy.'
'And if you get this on your own computer, you are part of the 1% in the world who has that opportunity.'
Also .
'If you woke up this morning with more health than illness ... You are more blessed than the many who will not even survive this day.'
'If you have never experienced the fear in battle, the loneliness of imprisonment, the agony of torture, or the pangs of starvation .. You are ahead of 700 million people in the world.'
'If you can hold your head up and smile, you are not the norm, you're unique to all those in doubt and despair.'
Ok, what now? How can I start?
If you can read this message, you are more blessed than over two billion people in the world who cannot read at all.
Have a good day, count your blessings, and if you want, share this along to remind everyone else how blessed we all are.

Border Problem

An elderly woman lived on a small farm in Canada, just yards away from the North Dakota border. Their land had been the subject of a minor dispute between the United States and Canada for years. The now widowed woman lived on the farm with her son and three grandchildren. One day her son came into her room holding a letter.

“I just got some news, Mom,” he said. “The government has come to an agreement with the people in North Dakota. They’ve decided that our land is really part of the United States. We have the right to approve or disapprove of the agreement. What do you think?”

“What do I think?” his mother said. “Sign it! Call them right now and tell them we accept! I don’t think I could stand another one of those Canadian winters!”

FIND THE HIDDEN STATE CAPITAL in this lad’s complaint!

Answer: The state capital is ... S A L E M ... (Oregon).

SEE IF YOU CAN TAME THIS ONE! Pictured below are two puzzle grids for you to fill in. Hints are given for each word. The words in grid A contain the same letters as the corresponding words in grid B.

GRID A				GRID B
L	I	O	N	M	A	N	E

1. Grows on trees.
2. Found on old radios.
3. Type of light.
4. Sharp cutting edge.

Junior Whirl

by Charles Barry Townsend

A DUEL IN THE SUN!

Illustrated by David Coulson

Batter up, or should I say, puzzlers up! This problem deals with the sport of baseball, and in particular, pitchers and batters. In our puzzle grid there is room for nine words or phrases associated with the game. The hints below should help.

1. Total paid attendance.
2. A fisherman might use this pitch.
3. A virtuous time at bat.
4. Number of balls and strikes.
5. Comes before releasing the ball.
6. An illegal pitch.
7. A dancing pitch.
8. As good as a hit.
9. A pitcher’s territory.

There is a dark frame around one of the columns in the grid. If you correctly find all of the words asked for, the letters in this frame, top to bottom, will spell out what every batter wishes for.

Answers: 1. The gate; 2. Sinker; 3. Sacrifice; 4. Count; 5. Windup; 6. Splitter; 7. Knuckle ball; 8. Walk; 9. Mound. What every batter wishes for is a “grand slam!”

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A turn in a relationship upsets the amorous Arian, who is puzzled by Cupid's romantic antics. Be patient and considerate. The confusion soon will sort itself out.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It's a good time for travel-loving Taureans to take off for fun-filled jaunts to new places. And don't be surprised if Cupid tags along for what could be a very eventful trip.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You appear to be of two minds about continuing a relationship that seems to be riding roughshod over your emotions. A frank talk could help you decide one way or the other.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Stepping back from a relationship problem provides a fresh perspective on how to deal with it. Meanwhile, watch your words. Something said in anger now could backfire later.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A changing situation makes the Big Cat uneasy. But hold on until things settle down around the 5th. Meanwhile, continue your good work on that still-unfinished project.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A decided improvement in a workplace situation results in an unexpected, but very welcome, added benefit for everyone. Personal relationships also improve.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Money matters remain a bit unsettled but soon will ease into the kind of stability you appreciate. Meanwhile, an expanding social life offers a chance to make new friends.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Use an unexpected roadblock in your monetary dealings to reassess your financial plans and make changes, if necessary. It soon will be smooth sailing again.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Aspects of love are strong for both single and paired Sagittarians. Professional dealings also thrive under the Sag's clever handling of difficult situations.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Set a realistic goal and follow it through to completion. Remember: You're more likely to impress the right people with one well-done job than with lots of jobs left undone.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You like to plan ahead. That's fine. But be prepared to make some changes because of an unsettled period that influences your aspects through the 5th.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A brief phase of instability affects your usual work cycle. Use the time to catch up on chores around the house or office. Things settle down soon after the 5th.

BORN THIS WEEK: You love being the center of attention and probably would be a big success in show business.

Keiko Saika Mills

Keiko Saika Mills, 86 of 192 Mills Lane, Providence, NC passed away on Sunday, July 9, 2017 at her home. Mrs. Mills was born December 11, 1930 in Hokkaido, Japan; daughter of the late Tsuruji and Toyo Saika and Hatsue Saika. In addition to her parents she was preceded in death by her husband Richard Mills, her brother Michio "Mitsuru" Saika and her son Tyuyoshi "Tommy" Endo. Mrs. Mills was a homemaker.

Surviving are her children, Dr. Richard "Rick" Mills & wife Janet; K. T. "Tamiko" Kitada & husband Etsuji; N. Caroline Markham & husband Ronnie; Christopher R. Mills & wife Suzanne; Yoshi Endo; her brother Norio Saika & wife Nobuko; her sister Yoko Hamaguchi & husband Satoshi; her sister in law Yaeko Saika and twelve grandchildren also survive.

Memorial Services will be held 2:00 PM Saturday, July 22, 2017 at Calvary Baptist Church, 416 Edgewood Drive, Danville, Va. - 24541. The family will receive friends anytime at the home.

The family would like to Thank her special caregiver Eduina "Cookie" Lugo Perez for nearly eight years of loving care and dedication.

Condolences maybe sent to www.harrelsonfs.com

Harrelson Funeral Service of Yanceyville is assisting the Mills Family.

Irvin Dodd "I.D." Stowe

Mr. Irvin Dodd "I.D." Stowe, age 78, devoted family man and a pillar in his community, passed away Wednesday, July 12, 2017 at Roanoke Carilion Hospital. "I.D." was born in Dry Fork, VA on January 16, 1939, a son of the late Irvin Overby (Son) Stowe and Selestia Ivory (Lessie) Shelton Stowe.

He was an active member of St. Luke's United Methodist Church and was a member of the choir, a die-hard Yankee fan and music lover. "I.D." retired from Good-year Tire and Rubber Company and enjoyed long daily walks and visits with family and friends. He was married to the late Doris Anne ville, VA, where he began a solo practice in internal medicine and cardiology. In 1964 he was joined in the practice by Dr. Edwin Harvie, who remained a partner and dear colleague until Dr. Gaddy's retirement in 1999. During that long career, he was a member of the American Society of Internal Medicine and served on the board of directors of the Virginia State Society of Internal Medicine. He was a fellow of the American College of Physicians and a member of the Virginia State Medical Society, the American Medical Association, and the American College of Cardiology. He also served as president of the Memorial Hospital Medical Staff of Danville and president of the Danville-Pittsylvania County Medical Society.

He was a consummate physician. No interest in his life was older than his love for medicine. In the book he wrote in 1993, Triple Coronary Bypass: A Cardiologist Tells You about His and How to Prevent Yours—a book that combines a detailed account of his 1992 near-fatal heart attack with reflections on his life and career as a physician—he wrote: "I can't remember when I didn't want to become a doctor. I must have been in elementary school when I ordered from a magazine a copy of a book called The Modern Home Physician. I had answers to medical problems that other kids didn't know."

His original intention was to add a Ph.D. to his M.D. degree and then pursue a career in medical research and teaching. Luckily for the thousands of patients he would care for later, clinical medicine drew him away. His interest in the academic side of medicine never waned, however. He was an avid reader of the latest medical findings and himself contributed to the medical literature. He constantly tested himself by studying for board certification (even when not required), and he never missed an opportunity to teach others—whether other physicians or nurses or other personnel. But clinical medicine evoked a passion that exceeded that for the laboratory or classroom. His dedication to his patients was the hallmark of his career as a doctor. Long after anyone could count on a physician to do so, he continued to make house calls, driving late at night far into the counties surrounding Danville in all directions (often with one or more of his children in the back seat) to tend to patients who had no other access to care. He wrote, again in Triple Coronary Bypass: "The practice of medicine has had its long hours and stressful times for me. This was especially true in the days of my solo practice, my first twelve years of work in Danville." Still, he went on, making those house calls was satisfying: "Appreciation for my services was great. Sometimes the compensation was a bushel of apples just picked from the orchard, or a fresh tenderloin steak. In those days almost no one had medical insurance but no inquiry about compensation was made. For rural patients payment was often made when the season's crops were sold. I had no liability insurance and no thought of any form of litigation ever passed through my mind. It was a great era in which to practice medicine." Later, even when it was impossible to ignore the creeping legal and bureaucratic shackles being placed on physicians, he continued for as long as he could to follow the principles of that "great era" of medical practice. It is for precisely that attitude that he is remembered by so many in the Danville area.

He loved medicine, and one of the greatest sources of pride in his life was the fact that he had both a daughter and a granddaughter who chose to follow his footsteps to be trained as physicians at Wake Forest.

There is no doubt that some of that special fondness for his rural patients stemmed from his own background. Clifford Gaddy the physician was from birth a farm boy. He grew up on a modest farm that had belonged to his family since the time of the American Revolution. Everywhere one looked in the communities of South Carolina and North Carolina around his home, there were farms owned by Gaddys and Lupos. He reported that his special job on the farm from the earliest age was to feed the pigs and chickens and care for the ones that were sick. And to pick cotton: he wrote in his army diary that on one of his brief leaves home from the army, it was cotton-picking time, and so he joined in.

Farming was in his blood, and not long after moving to Danville—as soon as he found the resources and opportunity—he bought himself a farm in Pittsylvania County. That purchase predictably exposed him to good-natured ribbing from his brothers at home in South Carolina, who never failed to call their little brother "the gentleman farmer." But for him and his family, Westridge Farm was a very special place. For at least a few hours on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, it was where his children could be sure to be able to spend time working and playing and learning at their father's side. Later, in 1988, with their own children grown and raising families of their own, Clifford and Inez moved into a beautiful new home they had built for themselves at Westridge. From then on, it was above all the grandchildren who could enjoy the farm and the company of their grandparents.

Westridge Farm was about family for him, but also about being outdoors and engaging in physical activity. As a doctor, he recommended exercise for his patients. As a young man he had exercised strenuously for boxing, a sport at which he excelled. In college he won the Southeastern States Golden Glove championship, and he continued to box while in the army. But he gave it up after medical school, and in later years he candidly admitted that he thought that "exercise can be somewhat boring." The farm boy in him clearly thought that digging, raking, chopping wood, or weeding were more meaningful, and otherwise, as long as he had to keep up with four young sons, and then two daughters, he felt he had no concerns about too little physical activity. As a result, with the exception of the occasional tennis game, he did not engage in any sport until he took up golf at age forty-five. Golf became a passion for him. Perhaps it was because he suspected he would love it so much that he waited so long to take it up. He was afraid it would take time from the family. "I had seen too many golf orphans," he noted.

Now golf competed with the farm work for his scarce spare time. In his typical fashion, he found a way to combine the two. Instead of building barns and clearing meadows, he cleared a section of the farm for a compact golf course that would become notorious. He turned what had originally been a small irrigation pond into the central feature of his "Westridge Golf Course," where four tee boxes and five greens—which he personally prepared and maintained—allowed the holes to crisscross the water nine times. He practiced almost daily on the course and then drew great pleasure in watching even his most experienced and skilled golfing friends freeze up when faced with the prospect of playing every single hole over a water hazard. There were very few who could match Cliff Gaddy on his home course.

From his very earliest days in Danville, he was active in the city's religious and civic life, serving in ways that went beyond his medical practice. Within a few years after his arrival in Danville, he received the Danville Junior Chamber of Commerce's Outstanding Young Citizen award. He also was honored to be accepted early on into the Danville Rotary Club, which became the anchor of his civic commitment and the source of innumerable close friendships for decades to come. In the course of his over 50 years as a committed Rotarian he served in numerous capacities, including as president of the Danville Rotary Club. His extraordinary effort in launching Danville Rotary's bone marrow registry drive was a particular source of pride. For that and his other service, he was honored as a Rotary International Paul Harris Fellow.

He was raised as a Southern Baptist, and when he came to Danville he brought his own family into the family of First Baptist Church, where he remained a dedicated member and active lay leader for over half a century. His service in the church ranged from Sunday school teacher to chairman of the Board of Deacons.

Clifford Garland Gaddy's death marks the passing of the last surviving member of his immediate South Carolina family. He was the youngest child in a family of twelve. He was preceded in death by his parents, his four brothers, Sidney, Maston, Duncan, and Aaron, and his sister, Meta. Four other siblings died in infancy before he was born. He is survived by his children, Clifford Garland Gaddy, Jr., of Kensington, MD (Kerstin Tegin Gaddy), Charles Stephen Gaddy of Southern Pines, NC, Gary Douglas Gaddy of Orange County, NC (Sandra Her-ring Gaddy), Robert Lawrence Gaddy of Gloucester, VA (Evelyn Pilson Gaddy), Elizabeth Ann Gaddy Witman of Raleigh, NC (William David Witman), Janet Marie Gaddy of Brown's Summit, NC (Timothy Moran), and Elizabeth Putney Gaddy of Rocky Mount, NC; his grandchildren, Benjamin Gaddy (Matney), Kristina Gaddy, Thomas Gaddy, Heather Garland-Gaddy Lycans (Jason), Erin Gaddy Meinhardt (Kurt), Anne Marie Gaddy Kriesel (John), Johanan Gaddy, Matthew Gaddy, Kimberly Colarik, Carson Bloomberg Lutchansky (Nathan), Austin Bloomberg (Chelsea), Carolyn Witman, Emma Witman, William Witman II, John Lea, Jeremy Lea (Kaitlin), Jason Lea, Jodi Lea, Ashley Moran, and Lindsay Elkins (Brian); and his great-grandchildren Sidney Gaddy, Lucy Lycans, William Lycans, Ari Meinhardt, Cooper Kriesel, Charlie Kriesel, Adrian Lutchansky, Parker Lutchansky, De'kimbe' Lea, Jayden Lea, Henry Elkins, George Elkins, and Arthur Elkins.

In the final phase of his life he was fortunate to enjoy the care of a group of individuals who exemplified the same dedication and selflessness he himself showed throughout his life and career. No one better represents the best of a new generation of caring physicians than Dr. Sydney Harris, and he deserves the deepest thanks. Sandra Allen, Jackie Lanier, Karen Thomas, Tina Martin, Nathaniel Payne, and Travis Carter became his friends, stayed with him until the end, and have earned the gratitude of all the surviving members of his family. Besse Waller and the other wonderful caregivers who were with him at the beginning of his care are also remembered by the family.

The family offers special thanks to Commonwealth Home Nursing and Hospice and to Liberty Homecare and Hospice for their support during Dr. Gaddy's final months. Dr. Gaddy was always a dedicated supporter of hospice services in Danville.

The Memorial/Celebration of Life service for Dr. Clifford G. Gaddy will be at First Baptist Church in Danville, VA, on Sunday, July 23, at 2:00 PM with the Reverend John Carroll officiating. The family will receive friends from 1:00 PM to 2:00 PM at First Baptist in the Heritage Room before the service.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that friends consider donations to two organizations that had special meaning for Dr. Gaddy: First Baptist Church Memorial Fund (871 Main St., Danville, VA) and Danville Life Saving Crew (202 Christopher Ln., Danville, VA).

Dr. Gaddy requested his body be contributed to the Virginia Anatomical Society for teaching and research.

CBN SECURE

PRODUCTION EQUIPMENT OPERATOR - DANVILLE

Governments are placing greater awareness on the importance and widespread use of state-issued identification credentials and as a result are increasing the security in the issuance processes and the physical documents themselves. As a result, CBN Secure Technologies Inc. has been providing secure, end-to-end US driver's license issuance solutions to multiple states for over eight years. Our products manufacturing processes and related systems are innovative, complex, highly technical and effective. Our employees thrive on working together, solving problems and delivering value to our customers. We are growing in VA and are seeking Production Equipment Operators to join our existing team.

What we're looking for:

You're valued for your ability to stay on task when priorities shift or the workload increases. Attention to detail and the ability to work as a team to solve production issues is something you take pride in. You find passion in exceeding expectations and consistently meet quality standards. You excel at multi-tasking; you're flexible and dependable and lead by example. The team is drawn to you because you're approachable, personable and committed to the team's success. In return we are able to offer stable employment with the opportunity for overtime, a climate controlled clean work environment, advancement opportunities, full benefits and a matching 401k plan, and last but not least a safe, friendly and respectful team work environment. The expectations of you for your first year in the position are as follows:

What you'll do:

- You might carry one of our products in your pocket, but we'll assume that's the extent of your exposure to our business. So, your first few weeks will be busy! As the newest Production Equipment Operator on our team, you'll take a few days to familiarize yourself with our facility, the layout and meet your team. You'll learn what the team does and how their various roles relate to yours.
- New Operators shadow a senior team member for up to 6 weeks to learn about our production equipment and related processes. As an Operator, you'll also spend this time learning about our QA standards/parameters and QA software systems.
- You should be hitting your stride around the three month mark at which time you'll be assigned to your own regular shift. At this point you'll be working independently within the team with minimal supervision and guidance.
- Once you are comfortable with the production equipment and related processes, you'll cross train at various work centers. This will allow for variety in your assigned tasks during a given shift
- After your first year, you'll have become fully cross trained as an Operator and gained the experience and insight needed to recommend areas for improvement. Your familiarity with providing information on equipment issues will assist our technicians in troubleshooting/ and maintaining equipment ensuring equipment performs efficiently to meet our customers delivery schedules. What you'll need:

Previous experience in a high-volume, fast paced customer service / restaurant / banking / manufacturing / printing / technical industry. Proven ability to deliver products or services against established quality standards and delivery schedules. Experience in printing, examination and/or inspection will be considered assets and basic mathematics and computer skills will prove beneficial. The ability to work all shifts (1st, 2nd and 3rd) is mandatory.

Career Opportunities!

CUSTODIAN - DANVILLE

Governments are placing greater awareness on the importance and widespread use of state-issued identification credentials and as a result are increasing the security in the issuance processes and the physical documents themselves. CBN Secure Technologies Inc. has been providing secure, end-to-end US driver's license issuance solutions to multiple states for over eight years. Our products manufacturing processes and related systems are innovative, complex, highly technical and effective. Our employees thrive on working together, solving problems and delivering value to our customers. We are seeking Custodian to join our existing team.

A clean work environment is paramount to ensuring the manufacturing of high quality, world class products. Cleanliness has a direct impact on our ability to deliver high quality products that meet the expectations of our customer while providing increased levels of security. We're seeking a custodian who takes pride in their work and recognizes that the work they do is important and contributes to the success of the business by helping reduce spoilage and increase efficiencies.

What we're looking for:

You will be responsible for the day-to-day cleaning of the production, office and common areas of our facility. Cleaning activities will consist primarily of vacuuming, mopping, sweeping, dust-mopping, dusting, wiping down work surfaces, cleaning glass surfaces and removing trash. Additional responsibilities include the laundering and sanitizing of production smocks and mop heads, destruction of secure waste, escorting non-CBNSTI employees around the facility and providing assistance for special events. In return we are able to offer stable employment with the opportunity for overtime, a climate controlled clean work environment, advancement opportunities, full benefits and a matching 401K plan, and last but not least a safe, friendly and respectful team work environment. The expectations of you for your first year in the position are as follows:

- Your first few weeks will be spent job shadowing a fellow custodian. You will be expected to familiarize yourself with our facility, the production areas and their unique cleaning requirements and the cleaning checklist (daily, weekly, monthly tasks) that you will follow moving forward. You will receive instruction on how to clean and sanitize textiles (production smocks, mop heads, etc.)
- Within the first month you'll be assigned your own shift (3rd) and begin functioning self-sufficiently with respect to the cleaning checklist. You will have built an understanding of how long it takes to clean each room and manage your time accordingly. Training on the industrial shredders that are used to disintegrate secure production waste will be provided while training on additional responsibilities (escorting, special events) will also be provided.
- By three months you will have achieved a full understanding of room cleaning priorities (production comes first!) and be able to adapt your daily cleaning routine to accommodate the needs of the production team. You will be disposing of secure waste without supervision except where double custody protocols are required.
- At the six month mark the expectation is that you will be performing your role autonomously without managerial oversight (except in unique situations) and have built relationships and gained the trust of the production team and office personal through your personable ways and reliability. You will take the initiative when presented with the opportunity to address a cleaning relation situation but also understand when an issue should be escalated to management for discussion prior to action.

In terms of requirements for the role, there are three.

- First, you must have a high school diploma or GED.
- Second, you must be able to stand/walk for extended periods of time and be able to lift 50-100 lbs.
- Third, you must have at least one year of experience as a custodian/janitor. Previous experience in a manufacturing environment, the ability to operate a forklift and basic handyman skills will all be considered assets. First Aid/CPR and/or any WHMIS/MSDS certifications will also be viewed in a positive light.

Staying hydrated in the heat

Drink an hour or two before you begin any outside work. Do higher-intensity garden chores during cooler morning hours, and easier work, or rest, during the middle of day. You should work through 8 ounces of fluid every 40 minutes or so. For working outside less than 40 minutes, water is fine. For anything over 40 minutes, you'll need sugar and salt in your fluid, as is found in sports drinks.

Q. I loved Juliette Lewis in “Secrets and Lies.” Can you tell me what else I can see her in? — Danielle F., via email

A. Next up for the prolific actress is EPIX cable network’s “Graves.” Juliette has been cast in a recurring role in season two. In the series, Nick Nolte plays President Richard Graves, a former two-term POTUS who embarks on a Don Quixote-like quest to right the wrongs of his administration and reclaim his legacy decades later.

In this coming season, President Graves turns inward in search of the man he used to be before he was president. His journey is compounded by the arrival of his first grandchild, as well as a new revelation about his son, Jeremy. Graves’ journey coincides with wife Margaret’s (played by the stellar Sela Ward) Senate campaign, as the former first lady attempts to build her own political legacy. Isaiah Miller, the president’s assistant, searches for new direction after taking a bullet for the president in the season one finale.

Meanwhile, Graves’ spiritual muse, Samantha (Callie Hernandez), finds a new calling as a singer/songwriter. And Juliette comes aboard as Bailey Todd, a hard-living, leather-clad, tell-it-like-it-is music manager and producer out of New York who shows up at Samantha’s trailer with the idea that Samantha might have what it takes to be the next big thing.

Q. I’ve been hearing rumors that “Curb Your Enthusiasm” is returning. Is this true? — Kyle T., via Facebook

A. “Curb Your Enthusiasm” has aired on HBO on and off for eight seasons, but hasn’t aired a new episode since 2011. However, the sardonic Larry David will return on Oct. 1, when “Curb” premieres its ninth season on the cable giant. All your favorite series stars will be back, including Cheryl Hines, Jeff Garlin, JB Smoove and Susie Essman. Ted Danson and Mary Steenburgen also are set to return, playing themselves. When asked earlier why he decided to restart the series, Larry replied (in Larry David fashion):

Lionsgate

Juliette Lewis

“In the immortal words of Julius Caesar, ‘I left, I did nothing, I returned.’”

Q. Can you give me any info on the next season of “American Horror Story”? — Gina T., via email

A. Everyone’s favorite serial-killer clown, Twisty (played by John Carroll Lynch) will be back for season seven. We last saw him in “Freak Show,” where he scared the beejesus out of us, as serial-killer clowns often do. Sarah Paulson, Evan Peters, Billie Lourd, Billy Eichner, Cheyenne Jackson, Alison Pill, Colton Haynes and Adina Howard also are featured in the new season.

READERS: Netflix recently announced that season two of “Strangers Things” will drop Oct. 27. The streaming service had previously announced that the horror/nostalgia series would return at Halloween, so I’m thrilled to learn we’ll be getting it a few days early. I need to know what happened to Will in the Upside Down!

Three Tenants Announced for 500 Block of Craghead Street

Danville, Va. – Rick Barker Properties, LLC, a Danville based real estate development company, today announced three tenants that will locate to the 500 block of Craghead Street.

As renovations to the Charles E. Hughes (530, c1909) and William C. Venable buildings (534-546, c1904) come to a close, two new businesses will be moving in. Rick Barker will be partnering with Stephan Parry, managing partner of the Parry Restaurant Group, to open a taco tequila bar concept in Suite 100 of the Hughes building. Parry has over 35 years of restaurant experience and has opened 13 restaurants throughout Virginia, including two taco tequila bars in Roanoke and Lynchburg. The menu will include 10 six-inch taco options and over 100 tequila varieties. The interior of this restaurant will be themed after the Day of the Dead, a Mexican holiday that celebrates life and pays tribute to the lives of family members who have passed way. This restaurant will open during the fall of 2017.

“We have experienced a tremendous positive response with similar projects in the last two years with El Jefe in Lynchburg and Tuco’s in Roanoke,” said Parry. “Both restaurants are praised by customers for our use of fresh ingredients and food prepared daily, with over 100 types of tequila offered, all at an affordable price. We see a healthy demand for high-quality food and beverages delivered in a unique and entertaining setting.”

Local entrepreneur, Steve DelGiorno, will be opening Craghead Market in Suite 102 of the Hughes building. This grocery concept will focus on providing healthy food options that are organic, minimally processed and raised without hormones or antibiotics. Craghead Market will offer freshly baked goods, fresh flowers, staple grocery items, fresh produce and meats, beer and wine, an assortment of dairy items and frozen foods. Each department will carry a limited amount of products. In addition, there will be a prepared food area and salad bar for residents and employees within the district to enjoy on the market’s outdoor patio or take-to-go. The market will also offer delivery services to addresses located within the River District.

“Our mission is to expand the culinary offerings in the region, both in food service and retail,” said DelGiorno. “As such, there’s no place we’d rather be next than on Craghead Street while partnering with Rick on his latest development.”

Five commercial spaces and seven luxury apartments will also be available for lease this fall. Commercial units range in size from 800 to 2,600 square feet. Each residential unit is uniquely designed and sizes range from 500 to 1,000 square feet with one and two bedroom options. Exceptional attention was made to the details of each apartment, such as the trim work, cabinetry and sound proofing.

After the completion of the Hughes and Venable buildings, Barker will begin development at 518 Craghead St. This building was built in 1871 as Gibson’s Dry Prizery and is Danville’s oldest surviving tobacco prizery. Originally slated for demolition, Barker saw an opportunity to save this historic tobacco warehouse and acquired it in 2016.

“Three years ago, I described Craghead Street’s 500 block historically as a brilliant smile, originally with 11 teeth (buildings). Over the years, several teeth were removed and the gleam gradually faded. Upon learning of 518’s pending demolition, I realized that the smile, and the street’s architectural integrity, would soon be changed forever,” said Barker. “Then, a conversation evolved with the Office of Economic Development about restoring the smile. That is, saving the existing teeth and possibly replacing some that were removed, to eventually recreate the brilliance of the early twentieth century, here in the early twenty-first.”

Plans to redevelop this building are underway and a first floor tenant has been secured. Barker will partner with DelGiorno to open Preservation Ale and Smokehouse in 2018. This brewpub will offer rotating taps of lagers, ales and specialty beers, with an emphasis on seasonality. The food menu will offer selections that combine traditional southern barbeque with a trendier, Korean-style twist. Barker added, “I was pleased with Steve’s suggestion for the name of the new brewpub/BBQ concept, as ‘Preservation Ale and Smokehouse.’ Fitting, don’t you think?” DelGiorno added, “We are energized by the substantial investments being made in the River District and across Danville as a whole. We are truly excited to bring this concept to Danville and hope our contributions help enhance the region.”

Corrie Teague Bobe, assistant director for the Office of Economic Development, said there is a sense of excitement about the development taking place along Craghead Street bubbling within our community.

“The 500 block is transforming before our very eyes,” Bobe said. “Rick and his team are taking a vacant and blighted block and turning it into a lively, inviting place for residents and visitors. He has found great partners in Stephan Parry and Steve DelGiorno to help fill these beautiful buildings with unique and trendy businesses. From the creativity of these concepts to the quality of the design and construction, this block is becoming a showpiece in the River District. We thank all involved for their investment in our community.” In addition to these projects, the City of Danville is making streetscape improvements along Craghead Street from Newton Street to The Crossing at the Dan. To meet the demands of commercial and residential development, the Industrial Development Authority of Danville is constructing a 96-space parking lot along the 500 block of Craghead Street.

“We always imagined that in this previously dingy block, we could apply a superior design standard that would attract others to create very special places and show Danville’s River District at its finest,” said Barker. “First, last year with BB&T’s Scott & Stringfellow, and now with these various food concepts, I am excited to see the 500 block strategy realized. With our new partnerships with Steve Parry and Steve DelGiorno, along with the new parking lot and streetscape, the 500 block has established a momentum that will undoubtedly attract additional investment. The current projects will be locally tailored concepts, unique to the Dan River region and offer amenities not currently available in the River District. Reimagine that!”

Too Old for Back Surgery?

 DEAR DR. ROACH: An MRI shows that I have spinal stenosis. I have not improved with chiropractic care, electrical stimulation, medication (including hydrocodone, tramadol and a pain patch), physical therapy or three spinal injections. After the third injection did not help, I told the surgeon I would need back surgery, but he said I am too old. I am 76. Am I too old? -- H.S.

ANSWER: Spinal stenosis is a back condition in which the spinal cord or nerve roots are compressed due to bony abnormalities. The pressure on the nerves can cause pain, loss of reflexes and numbness. Spinal stenosis is most common in the lower back, but it can happen in the neck and mid-back as well. It is seen more often in people over 60 and is the most prevalent reason for back surgery in people over 65.

The MRI usually shows the compression on the spinal cord or nerve roots; however, the decision for treatment is made based on the symptoms, not necessarily how the back looks by MRI. You have had the recommended nonsurgical treatments, including several medications, physical therapy and injections. Consideration of surgical treatment is reasonable.

When considering any therapy, the physician must consider the potential benefits and risks. The benefit of surgery is that it is more likely to relieve pain and improve function. There is a small risk of a serious bad outcome (death, worsening of pain or weakness). In general, the older a person is, the more risky the procedure. However, there is no absolute age cutoff of who can and can't get the surgery. The overall health of the person is more important than age. Younger people may be a bit more likely to see better improvements in walking after surgery.

Back surgery shouldn't be undertaken lightly at any age. Get a surgical opinion -- and probably a second opinion -- before making a decision. Only the surgeon, with access to your MRI results and having completed a careful history and exam, can make an informed recommendation about your personal situation.

The booklet on back problems gives an outline of the causes of and treatments for the more-common back maladies. Readers can order a copy by writing: Dr. Roach -- No. 303W, 628 Virginia Drive, Orlando, FL 32803.. Enclose a check or money order for $4.75 U.S./$6 Canada with the recipient's printed name and address. Please allow four weeks for delivery.

DEAR DR. ROACH: Has the use of white powder, monatomic gold nutritional supplement been verified by the medical profession? Are the claims of mental clarity, long life span, disease cures, etc., accurate? -- D.S.C.

ANSWER: I thought I knew supplements pretty well, but hadn't heard of monatomic gold. Monatomic gold is supposed to be an "orbitally rearranged monoatomic element." In fact, these don't exist chemically, and anyone selling a product like this and claiming health benefits is deliberately scamming you or is confused. Metallic gold is inert and has no effect in the body, as opposed to gold salts, which are powerful and potentially dangerous medications, now seldom used for rheumatic diseases. Avoid "monatomic gold" supplements.

Dr. Roach regrets that he is unable to answer individual letters, but will incorporate them in the column whenever possible. Readers may email questions to ToYourGoodHealth@med.cornell.edu. To view and order health pamphlets, visit www.rbmamall.com, or write to Good Health, 628 Virginia Drive, Orlando, FL 32803.

A Healthy Family Lifestyle Study

Researchers at the University of Virginia invite all interested families of children ages 8 to 12 to join a healthy lifestyle study that is part of a team effort between Danville Parks and Recreation, Children's Healthcare Center and the University of Virginia. With a flip of a coin, you will be randomized into one of these programs: Family Connections or iChoose.

The purpose of the study is to compare two childhood obesity treatment programs to see which one is the best fit for your community. The study includes free health screenings, small group healthy living classes and telephone support calls. Families will receive $300 in gift cards for participating in the study. Primary Investigator: Dr. Jamie Zoellner (IRB #19748).

To learn more about the study and see if you qualify, please call Danielle Montague at 434.799.5150.
