Soldier Asks Nun If He Can Hide Under Her Habit!

A soldier ran up to a nun, Out of breath he asked: "Please, may I hide under your skirt. I'll explain later."

The nun says "Okay, but keep your eyes closed, I don't want you to see anything too personal."

A moment later two Military Police officer ran up and asked: "Sister, have you seen a soldier?"

The nun replied: "He went that way."

After the Military Police officers ran off, the soldier crawled out from under her skirt and said: "I can't thank you enough Sister. You see, I don't want to go to war in North Korea."

The nun thanks the soldier for keeping his eyes closed.

"But, wait - how did you know I kept my eyes closed?"

"Because you're still calling me sister. I don't want to go to war either."

HOUSTON FLOODING

Ways You Can Help:

MONETARY DONATIONS

BY MAKING A MONETARY DONATION, YOU ARE HELPING TO MAKE DELIVERING LOADS OF HOPE POSSIBLE BY FUELING TRUCKS, PURCHASING ADDITIONAL RELIEF ITEMS AND MORE

BOTTLED WATER DONATIONS

THE BOTTLED WATER SUPPLY AT OUR DISTRIBUTION CENTER IS DOWN TO LESS THAN 10 PALLETS. BOTTLED WATER DONATIONS ARE ACCEPTED AT OUR DISTRIBUTION CENTER DURING OFFICE HOURS. ADDITIONAL COLLECTION SITES WILL BE ANNOUNCED SOON!

DONATE ANYTIME BY VISITING WWW.GODSPITCREW.ORG

We have received numerous calls, messages and more from generous people who want to know how they can help the flood victims in Texas, and what our plans for response are.

There are plenty of ways you can help! We are in need of monetary donations. The funds raised and specified for our disaster response fund will go towards helping get our tractor trailer loads of hope into the city once the water recedes. These funds also make it possible for us to purchase entire tractor trailer loads of water that can be delivered to Houston.

We are also in dire need of bottled water. Our distribution center is down to less than 10 pallets of water, and we know that will quickly deplete. Water donations

Update (As of 8/30/17)

Our drivers were finally able to unload the two tractor trailer loads of relief supplies to Heaven's Army Community Outreach Ministry in New Caney, Texas this morning!

Keep our four volunteer truck drivers in prayer as they make the long journey back to Danville, where we have been busy this week making preparations to send additional truckloads of relief, and teams to begin cleanup once flood waters recede.

Continue to pray for Texas. This will be a long-term recovery response for God's Pit Crew.

To make a monetary donation to help us continue delivering hope to Texas, please visit www.godspitcrew.org/hurricane-harvey-response will be accepted at our distribution center during office hours, Monday-Thursday 9am until 5pm. Due to our trucks being in use, we will not be able to pick up any bottled water donations.

We have several collection sites that will be announced as soon as all the plans and times are finalized.

As always, prayer is the most important thing right now. Keep everyone in Houston, as well as our drivers who are in Texas in your prayers during this time.

You can donate anytime by visiting our website at www.godspitcrew.org and click the Hurricane Harvey response graphic on our homepage.

HOLLYWOOD
by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — Lady Gaga's name won't be on the screen when the reboot of "A Star Is Born" opens. The film, directed and starring Bradley Cooper, has a leading lady named Stefani Germanotta! If you're a die-hard Gaga fan, you already know that Stefani Germanotta is her real name. Even though she proved she's an excellent actress in "American Horror Story: Hotel," she was billed as Lady Gaga, but this film will make her a legitimate actress and an even bigger star. Produced by Cooper, Clint Eastwood and Jon Peters, among others, the film opens September 2018. Sam Elliott, Andrew Dice Clay and Dave Chappelle also have been cast.

Dwayne Johnson is still the busiest star in Hollywood. His HBO show "Ballers" has been renewed for a third and fourth season. "Baywatch," which he also co-produced, cost $69 million to make and earned $175 million, paving the way for him to produce three more films: "Jumanji: Welcome to the Jungle," due Dec. 20; the action/thriller monster film "Rampage," with Joe Manganiello and Jeffrey Dean Morgan, arriving April 20; and the action/adventure film "Skyscraper" (in 3D), with Neve Campbell, which has "The Rock" rescuing his family, trapped in a building in China.

Tyler Henry, The E Channel's "Hollywood Medium," has received more than 200,000 requests for readings since his show went on the air. During his downtime, he does as many readings as possible, but he'd have to spend every waking minute to give 200,000 readings!
Fox TV is following last year's "Grease Live" with the musical version of the perennial holiday film "The Christmas Story" (1983), which starred Darren McGavin and Peter Billingsley. The first star signed is "SNL" alum Maya Rudolf, who will play the Melinda Dillon role as Ralphe Parker's mother. It airs Dec. 17.

Warner Bros. Pictures

Lady GaGa in "A Star Is Born"

Judge Judy (Sheindlin), 74, who already earns $47 million a year, will add another $200 million to her $290 million net worth after selling her vast "Judge Judy" library to CBS, thus guaranteeing her immortality as they rerun her shows forever.

Two-time Oscar winner Dustin Hoffman, who took time off from acting in 2012 to direct "Quartet," with Maggie Smith and Tom Courtney, will join Adam Sandler, Ben Stiller, Emma Thompson and Candice Bergen in "The Meyerowitz Stories," distributed by Netflix. Since it was well-received at the Cannes Film Festival in May, Netflix probably will show it in theaters before releasing the film to its online streaming service. When Netflix went public in 2002 it sold for $9 a share; today it sells for $500 a share. Where is that time machine when I need it most?

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You might not like the sudden setback in your plans. But keep that headstrong Arian temperament in check and wait for explanations. Things will begin to clear up by week's end.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Enjoy the respite from your recent hectic schedule, but be ready to plunge into a new round of social activities. A new contact holds much potential for the future.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A trusted colleague has news that could change your perception of a current workplace situation. What had seemed unfair might prove to be highly favorable after all.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You still need to watch what you say and how you say it. What you assert as honesty, others might perceive as Crabbiness. Be patient. This difficult period clears up by the weekend.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Your Royallness needs time away from the limelight to catch up on things, from tidying your desk to making those calls you've put off. You're back in the center of things by the weekend.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Honesty is the best policy, of course. But you'll do better at achieving your goals if you can be less aggressive and more circumspect in how you phrase your comments.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Your ability to maintain your balance in confusing situations continues to work for you. Stay on the steady course, one step at a time. The weekend shows improvement.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your indecisiveness could simply be your keen Scorpion sense warning you to be wary of making a commitment. Take this time to do a more thorough investigation.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Good news: New information comes your way to help you make a more informed decision on how to deal with the opportunity that has opened up for you.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) This is a good time to reinforce your self-confidence by acknowledging your good qualities to yourself. A lull in your social life ends by the weekend. Have fun.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) It's a good time to let those recently pent-up emotions flow more freely. Why not start by letting the people you care for know how you really feel about them?

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Resist offers, no matter how well-intentioned, to help with a personal decision. Only you know what must be done, and you have the emotional strength to follow through.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a talent for getting things done. You also have a gift for bringing people together in both personal and professional relationships.

OBITUARIES

"For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's." - Romans 14:8

Feral Cats' Behavior

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I've heard many times that feral cats are territorial and can't be trained to live with humans. But we have a feral cat colony in an old orange grove behind our neighborhood, and I've occasionally seen them lounging around in small groups. Some do come into neighbors' yards to eat food set out for them. Do you think the prevailing wisdom about feral cats is wrong? -- Carl in Gainesville, Florida

DEAR CARL: Cats tend to be very social animals, but how they relate to other cats versus how they relate to humans is very different.

A post in the Merck Veterinary Manual gives insight into the differences in the way cats socialize depending on how they were raised. While most cats are indeed solitary hunters, and feral cats tend to be territorial, those feral cats also have a social group. The cats you saw hanging out are probably a family unit, with several females living together for protection and communal raising of their litters.

Kittens within this feral family learn to socialize with other cats, and the most important period of socialization takes place as they are being weaned, at about 7 to 9 weeks of age, the Merck post explains. Because they're not exposed to humans (and are protected from exposure to other animals), feral kittens socialize differently from domestic kittens and will avoid contact with humans.

From your description, it sounds as if some of the adult cats are less fearful of humans, or have at least learned that some homes have free food outside and no predators. Their kittens are observing this, and learning the same things. So you may be seeing that particular colony reducing its fear of humans over a few generations of cats, rather than its older cats being tamed.

Can Anxiety Meds Cause Alzheimer's?

DEAR DR. ROACH: I read recently that if Valium is taken by older folks for more than 90 days, it ups their risk for Alzheimer's disease by 32 percent and if taken for more than 180 days, the risk goes up 84 percent. Have you heard anything like this? What is safe for seniors, or anyone, to take for anxiety? -- C.P.

ANSWER: A study published recently ago in BMJ, a prestigious medical journal, showed a clear association between benzodiazepines -- a class of medications that includes diazepam (Valium), clonazepam (Klonopin), alprazolam (Xanax) and lorazepam (Ativan), among many others -- and Alzheimer's disease. The association was stronger for long-term use than for short, as you correctly point out. Further, the risk was higher for long-acting drugs (like Valium or Librium) than for short (like Xanax).

However, the type of study done cannot claim that taking the medication caused the increased risk of Alzheimer's. The authors themselves point out that it is possible that early Alzheimer's disease causes anxiety that is subsequently treated with prescription anti-anxiety medications, and that there is no causal relationship. It is also possible to see this result from chance, although the authors found less than 0.1 percent likelihood this result is due to chance alone. Finally, it's possible that there is both a direct, causal link between taking benzodiazepine drugs and developing Alzheimer's disease and that early Alzheimer's causes some people enough anxiety that they are prescribed these anti-anxiety medications. That implies that the risk is less than the numbers from the study. A different study design may reveal the truth. There are many good reasons not to use benzodiazepine medications, and I never prescribe them for long-term use. Increased risk of both falls and automobile collisions are two that most concern me. (Multiple studies have confirmed this risk, so it is likely that these drugs do cause some people to fall and to have auto accidents.) These are also potentially habit-forming medications, and sometimes it becomes very difficult to sleep without them once they are started. Because all medications have some risk, I recommend nondrug strategies for anxiety reduction. Meditation, mindfulness and imaging exercises, yoga and even regular exercise all have been shown to reduce anxiety without medication. Counseling and cognitive-behavioral therapies also are effective. If medications are needed, then SSRI medications such as sertraline (Zoloft) have lower risks than benzodiazepines. Just a cup of hot chamomile tea might help you get through stressful times.

DEAR DR. ROACH: My husband has heart disease. He's tried every statin drug to lower his cholesterol. He cannot tolerate any of them. The muscle pain and weakness caused by these drugs is severe. His cholesterol remains high, even with proper diet and exercise. I've heard that CoQ10 works well for lowering cholesterol. Is there any validity to this? -- Anon.

ANSWER: CoQ10 (ubiquinone) does not affect cholesterol itself. It does allow some people tolerate statins who otherwise wouldn't. I think it is worth a try, especially for someone like your husband, who has coronary heart disease and who would get much benefit from a statin.

Dr. Roach regrets that he is unable to answer individual letters, but will incorporate them in the column whenever possible. Readers may email questions to ToYourGoodHealth@med.cornell.edu. Veterinarian Starts Feline Practice in Danville

Dr. Krista Shinew, originally from Somerset, Pennsylvania, moved to Danville in 2010. After graduating from Virginia – Maryland Regional College of Veterinary Medicine at Virginia Tech, she treated and cared for many different species in a mixed large and small animal practice before joining the Family Vet team. Krista has a passion and a special interest in feline medicine.

The Family Vet is building a new practice at 280 Piney Forest Rd, which includes a wing specifically designed for the comfort of cats and Dr. Shinew will be instrumental in achieving the goal of a “Cat Friendly Practice” certification from the American Association of Feline Practitioners.

Before vet school, Krista had a successful career as a classically trained concert artist and music instructor. She has a doctorate in organ performance and spent time touring, giving concerts, and teaching college music courses. Krista also plays piano, harpsichord, and clarinet. She is an active member of Covenant Presbyterian Church in Roanoke, VA where she serves as the organist.

Dr. Shinew is an advocate and healer for many species of animals and currently shares her home with her 6-year-old cat, Bagheera and two Rex rabbits, Orco and Cookie. She is looking forward to starting her hobby farm in Danville.

Halifax County Board of Supervisors Names Wimbish to DCC Board

Danville, Va., August 28, 2017 – The Halifax County Board of Supervisors has named Carlyle Wimbish as the Halifax representative to the Danville Community College (DCC) Board.

Wimbish's four-year term on the DCC board began July 1. He succeeds former board member and chair Valdivia Hall, whose term ended June 30.

Wimbish, who is retired from the North Carolina Community College System, was formerly the director of the Small Business Center at Piedmont Community College for Person and Caswell counties with offices in Roxboro, N.C., and Yanceyville, N.C. He also served as director of the Business Development Center in Roxboro, N.C. He has lived in Halifax County, just outside of South Boston, for more than 50 years.

Wimbish said he is most looking forward to seeing how DCC will impact economic development in the college's service region of the City of Danville and counties of Pittsylvania and Halifax.

"It means a lot that the members of the Halifax County Board of Supervisors think I am well qualified to serve in this capacity," he said.

Wimbish holds a Bachelor of Science degree in marketing from Virginia Tech and is president of the Halifax County chapter of the Virginia Tech Alumni Association and Hokie Club.

He has served two four-year terms on the board at Southside Virginia Community College and two three-year terms on the board of trustees at Hargrave Military Academy. He has also served on the board of directors of the Old Dominion Resource, Conservation, and Development Council and served as its chair for two separate two-year terms.

Wimbish is currently the president of the Halifax County/South Boston Sports Hall of Fame.

Grace A Lot established; Clothes Closet opens September 6

Chatham, Virginia - Grace A Lot Ministries, Inc., a conceptual idea among local pastors and concerned citizens a few years ago, is now an active, formal service organization serving Pittsylvania County. The ministry's ongoing mission is to move families and individuals forward by empowering them to grow in financial and spiritual awareness. The ministry's objective is to build and support a resilient and successful community.

Grace A Lot's first project is the establishment of a Pittsylvania County clothes closet. The clothes closet is located at Weal Church, 1500 Weal Road, Chatham. With the dedication of many volunteers, the beautiful Weal Church sanctuary has been transformed into a shopping and donation site for new and gently used clothes.

All families and individuals are welcomed to participate in the clothes closet. Based on Matthew 25:40, the clothes closet is a local resource maintained and serviced by local volunteers. The clothes are not a handout, but a community based helping hand for those in need.

"The clothes closet is Grace A Lot's first service effort. It is an active outreach effort to strengthen communities by empowering families and individuals to attain self-sufficiency," said Lisa Wiebking, president of Grace A Lot Ministries.

"There is hope and a lot of compassion in Pittsylvania County. Our volunteers prove this. Our fight is against despair."

The Pittsylvania County clothes closet formally opens Wednesday, September 6, 2017. The clothes closet operates on Monday from 12:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m., Wednesday from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m., and Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. The hours are set by the Grace A Lot's volunteers and strive to provide flexibility for work schedules.

Men's, women's, kids and infant apparel are currently available. The clothes closet is currently stocked with shirts, shorts, skirts, pants, dresses, jackets and shoes.

Grace A Lot is an established non-profit, and will provide tax-deductible donation receipts for all apparel items donated to the clothes closet. Volunteers request all clothing donation items arrive new or gently used. The volunteer staff will ensure the best quality clothing is available on the racks. The presentation of high quality apparel respects both the donors and the shoppers.

Grace A lot is now accepting donations of winter coats for all ages and genders. This is a significant annual need for members of the community, including children. All clothing donations are currently received during normal operational hours.

Grace A Lot accepts cash or any form of monetary donation to help cover operational expenses and, when possible, purchase clothing such as undergarments. All monetary donations are tax deductible. Provide donations to: Grace A Lot Ministries, P.O. Box 1152, Chatham, VA 24531.

Chatham; Marion Baptist Church, Chatham; Watson Memorial Methodist Church, Chatham; and White Oak Missionary Baptist Church, Dry Fork.

Grace A Lot is the product of several local churches and their members who that have joined together as a mission for God in the community. Grace A Lot's founding churches include: Chatham Presbyterian Church, Chatham; Hollywood Baptist Church,

While these churches helped create the ministry, additional church support is sought and volunteers are requested. Success of this mission comes from the Christian community.

Chase Coleman

Q. I love the actor who played Oliver on "The Originals" and was sad when his character died. Can you tell me what he's been up to lately? — Margie F., via email

A. Chase Coleman's character might be dead, but his career is very much alive — and churning full speed ahead. Since ending his tenure on the hit supernatural CW series, Chase has worked on a number of projects, including the David Duchovny series "Aquarius" and tons of shorts, movies and miniseries. Those of you who've attended an "Originals" fan convention will know that Chase is a talented musician, and he and his band Mercy Mode are currently touring.

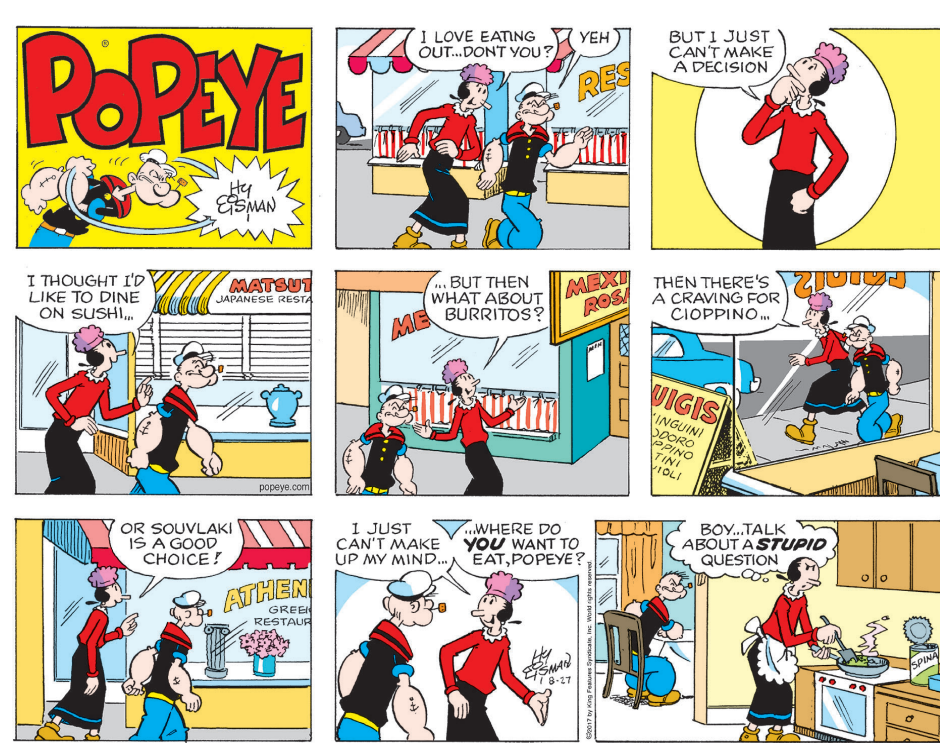

Chase's current passion project is "Cypress Bayou," which is being shopped around to various networks. Chase compares the series to "'True Blood' mixed with 'True Detective,' mixed with 'The Vampire Diaries.' Maybe even a tad 'Game of Thrones' because it's very character-driven — there are lots of different families and houses in this small town."

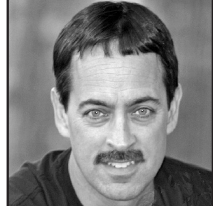

Chase can't wait to get this series to the masses, and I can't blame him after he told me what it's about: "I play the leader of the garou, which are werewolves. My family's been cursed to where we would become creatures on the full moon and terrorize the town. But then this family of good witches took pity upon us, and while you can't cure the curse, you can tweak it. Once we were able to control our shifting, we became protectors of the town."

Follow the series on Facebook (facebook.com/cypressbayou) and Twitter (twitter.com/cbayoufandom), and let the social-media world know that you want to see a network pick up this series STAT.

Q. Do you have any news about "The X-Files"? — Marc V. in Georgia

A. This season will have 10 episodes (four more than last season's six), eight of which will be stand-alone supernatural mysteries for Fox Mulder and Dana Scully to solve.

Dr. Bo Wagner is pastor of the Cornerstone Baptist Church of Mooresboro, NC, and the author of several books. His books are available at www.wordofhismouth.com

"Underneath The Disguise"

The person staring back at me from the mirror in a back room of the church was clearly disturbed; the orange eyebrows, pale white face, and wild-eyed look clearly testified to his eccentricity.

It was the 26th of August, and the occasion was the eighth annual ladies meeting at our church. It is always a huge affair, with churches from several states bringing groups out to it. The theme this year was "Through the Looking Glass of God's Word," and I was to portray the Mad Hatter for the occasion.

Let me begin, please, by apologizing to all of you ladies out there for my lack of sympathy through the years. I confess that it was just a misunderstanding on my part; I really did not grasp the agony that attends the makeup application process. A young lady from the youth group was more than happy to torment her pastor for a while, poking instruments of cruelty onto my sensitive eyelids over and over again with seeming glee.

That, combined with flawless costume preparation by her mother and some helpers led to my dark mustache disappearing in a sea of white, my year round tan going away, and my normal clothing being transformed as well. They did so well at their task that, when I walked out onto the stage, even people who knew me did not recognize me.

I changed my voice for the occasion. At times I would be warbling in a high-pitched British accent, and then at other times would whip into an angry Scottish brogue and then dive straight into a mountain hillbilly dialect.

For fifteen minutes there was absolutely nothing that seemed in any way like me. Orange wig, thimbles and colored band-aids on my fingers. Socks so wild that they could be used to attract passing search planes. Totally different mannerisms of walking. Totally different hand movements.

And yet I had really not changed a bit. A person is not their disguise; both physically and spiritually, a person is who he is underneath the disguise. DNA and chromosomes tell the truth of a person's identity even if they have successfully fooled the entire world, including themselves, and even if the entire world has celebrated that deception.

Likewise spiritually, a person is what he or she is underneath any disguise they have wrapped themselves in.

2 Timothy 2:19 says, "Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his." Jesus in Matthew 7:22-23 said, "Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity."

Anyone can dress himself up in Sunday finery and learn Christian songs and adopt Christian verbiage. These things are nothing more than outward changes that do nothing to change one's actual spiritual identity. The only thing that changes a spiritual identity is a new birth. In John chapter three, Jesus told a very religious man named Nicodemus "Ye must be born again."

And that is why Jesus came to begin with. Not to create an outward change devoid of inward change, but to create an inward change that would produce an outward change. 2 Corinthians 5:17 says, "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."

The huge orange eyebrows and wig are off now. My mustache is back. My mocha colored skin no longer looks deathly white. I am in full-bore preacher mode, ready to help if needed. So if you would like to know more about this matter of being born again, I would love to hear from you. And I promise, no one will be screaming "Off with her head!" or anything of the sort.

* "Put a family calendar inside your kitchen cabinet to keep everyone on track. You can list important dates/ obligations/appointments there. We color code ours by using different highlighters for each person, and we keep it inside the cabinet by the coffeemaker, so Mom always looks at it." -- W.S. in Ohio

* "If you fill a small spray bottle with alcohol, you can use it to clean your glasses. Use a soft cloth, not a paper towel, as those leave lots of lint behind." -- D.P. in Texas

* Combine a few drops of essential oils with a cup of either baking soda or cornstarch. Sprinkle liberally on bare mattresses. Let sit 10-15 minutes, then vacuum up. It's particularly nice to use lavender.

* If you don't regularly clean out your dryer vents, now's the time to put it on your cleaning schedule. Every six months at a minimum, but every three is better. Remove the dryer vent hose and shake out to remove sand or dirt, then run a vent brush to loosen stuck-on lint. Use the wand attachment or a shop vac to clean the dryer itself, and don't forget to wipe down the inside drum with a damp cloth. Don't risk a dryer fire!

* "Need to chop nuts? Place them in a bag, and crush them with a cookie sheet. Just rock back and forth over the sealed bag. This really works, and it's kind of fun, too." -- Y.L. in Florida

* Use aluminum foil to line a small metal tray (like the kind that goes in a toaster oven), which can then be used on the grill. If I simmer onions in broth to go with my steak, this works really well because it doesn't burn. The little pans are just the right size! -- C.C. in Oregon
