Answers

1. "Everything Is Beautiful," by Ray Stevens. Stevens won two Grammys for the song, and it stayed at the top of the charts for weeks.
2. Lou Rawls, in 1966. It was his first No. 1 R&B single.

Great Golf Story - Billy Casper - Why He's Such a Special Man!

Jay Haas (left) arranged for Billy Casper (middle) and Clebe McClary (right) to meet at Augusta National.

AUGUSTA, Ga.

We interrupt the pimento-cheese sandwiches, ball-skippping at the 16th and solemn walks around Amen Corner to pose a philosophical question:

When finally after 46 years you meet the man to whom you owe all the happiness and joy you feel blessed to have enjoyed for most of your life, how long of a hug is long enough?

Clebe McClary wasn't sure, so as the embrace intensified, Billy Casper leaned in and whispered, "Don't let go till you want to let go."

So right there in front of dozens of patrons, in the shadow of the iconic oak tree behind the Augusta National clubhouse, McClary and Casper hugged . . . and hugged . . . and hugged.

"We hugged for five minutes," said Casper, who choked back tears. But McClary? He didn't even try to hold 'em back. He cried like a baby, which was not so conspicuous because as the scene played out, so, too, did the emotions of so many others let loose.

"We all just cried our eyes out," said Julia Cervant, one of Casper's 11 children.

On any day, Casper is a wonderful story, a righteous man with a keen sense of human kindness. But on this cool, breezy Masters day, his story was even more wonderful thanks to a reunion with McClary, who told everyone how Casper had saved his life. It was 1968, the height of the Vietnam War, and Casper, in the prime of his golf career, was off to Japan to play some offseason tournaments.

While he was there, did he want to visit some wounded American troops, who had been convalescing from Vietnam? Casper said yes, because, well, that's his warm-hearted nature. "I was recently asked by a man what I want to be remembered for," Casper said. "I told him, 'I want to be remembered for how I loved my fellow man.'"

That day at a hospital in Japan may have shown Casper at his warmest because when he looked over at a bed and saw a young man who had been wounded to a point where he could barely be recognized, the golfer moved closer. A doctor told him not to bother, that Marine 1st Lt. Patrick Cleburne "Clebe" McClary was ready to die, said Casper, but something made him approach the man.

"I will never forget that day," said McClary, who on March 3, 1968 had been wounded during his 19th reconnaissance mission in Vietnam. McClary lost his left arm and his left eye and laid in that bed that day thinking one thing. "I'd given up," he said. "I wanted to die, and I'd have died right there if not for him".

Casper, by 1968 a two-time U.S. Open champion and one of the most prolific winners on the PGA Tour, sensed McClary's hopelessness as he approached the man.

"He put his arm around me, leaned in and said, 'God could use you today. Don't give up,' McClary said. Then he thanked me for what I had done for our country and said, 'God bless you.'"

Somehow, McClary found the resolve to fight. Somehow, he survived, left that hospital in Japan, and settled in his native South Carolina, near Myrtle Beach. Years went by and he often wondered about this gentle golfer who had brought out the fight in him, but there was nothing more than that. "I mean, I didn't know golf from polo," McClary said.

But one day more than a year ago, McClary was down at his beach house talking with a neighbor, a guy named Jay Haas, telling him his life story. The left arm and left eye had been lost in 'Nam, and his life should have been ended in a hospital in Japan, if not for a golfer. With that, Haas' ear perked up. "I said, 'Who was the golfer?'" Haas said. "He said, ' Billy Casper . Do you know him?'"

Haas smiled, then made it his mission to reunite McClary and Casper. The Masters would offer the perfect opportunity. Casper, the 1970 champion, would never miss the pilgrimage Neither would Haas, who competed 22 times at the Masters and whose son Bill is a regular participant these years and whose uncle, the irrepressible Bob Goalby, won in 1968.

The first chance fell apart Monday when rain washed out the day's action at Augusta National, but on Tuesday the story unfolded to perfection. Haas met McClary up behind the clubhouse, found Goalby, who tracked down Casper and then well, it is said that Augusta National is a magical place, and here was proof positive that it is.

"You never know what effect you're going to have on another human being," said Cervantes, who watched the emotions unfold alongside her mother, Shirley, other family members, Haas and Goalby.

When finally the long, emotional hug was over and the pictures were taken, Casper and McClary had so much to say to each other. Forty-six years is a long, long time, but the Marine told the golfer that he had thought of him often. The golfer nodded, because he felt similarly.

McClary told Casper that he was proud of his life. Not because of the Silver Star or Bronze Star or the three Purple Hearts that he had been presented It wasn't for the book he had written, "Living Proof," either. No, he was proud because he had heeded Casper's advice to stay strong and find faith in God.

But make no mistake about it: "You're the reason he's living. He was ready to die," one of McClary's friends said to Casper McClary, a motivational speaker who has given talks in all 50 states, smiled, wiped away tears, and nodded his head. "My guardian angel," he said, pointing to Casper.

As they stood side by side, Casper and McClary threw long, satisfied looks out over the greenest landscape known to man. "A special, special place, but you need to see more of it," Casper said, and McClary nodded. He was going to walk Augusta National, but McClary had to have one more hug and a promise from Casper that if the Hall of Famer were ever in Pawleys Island, S.C., he had to stop in.

Casper agreed, then McClary started on his walk. But before he did, the former Marine reached into his pocket and handed his business card to someone standing nearby. Itread: "I'm just a nobody who wants to tell everybody about Somebody who can save anybody." Courtesy of Julia Cervantes

It's unfortunate there aren't more of the Bill Caspers today.

Husband's Estimate

Joe's wife bought a new line of expensive cosmetics guaranteed to make her look years younger. After a lengthy sitting before the mirror applying the "miracle" products, she asked, "Darling, honestly, what age would you say I am?"

Looking over her carefully, Joe replied, "Judging from your skin, twenty; your hair, eighteen; and your figure, twenty five."

"Oh, you flatterer!" she gushed.

"Hey, wait a minute!" Joe interrupted. "I haven't added them up yet."

Cupcakes

A young man was visiting his brother and sister-in-law for Christmas dinner. As he arrived at their house he found his young nephew, Mikey, helping them bake some cupcakes.

After they were done, his sister-in-law allowed Mikey to put the icing on. When the boy had finished, he brought them to the table.

"The cupcakes look delicious, Mike," his uncle said. He took a bite and said, "Mikey these are so good."

As he finished cupcake and took another, he again complimented his little nephew. "The cupcakes look beautiful, Mikey," his uncle said. "How did you get the icing so neat?"

His nephew replied, "It was easy. I just licked them."

The uncle turned pale. He pointed to the plate of cupcakes. "You licked all of these?"

Mikey replied, "Well no. After a while my tongue got tired, and I got the dog to help."

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your ideas earn you the respect of your colleagues. But you'll have to present some hard facts and figures if you hope to persuade those who make the big decisions to support you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Keep those bright Bull's eyes focused on the project at hand. Avoid distractions. There'll be lots of time for fun and games later. Expect to get welcome news this weekend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You soon might have to decide about moving a relationship from its current status to another level. Don't let anyone influence your decision. It must be yours and yours alone.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You finally can get off that emotional roller coaster and get back to focusing on your goals without interruptions through the rest of the week. A nice change is due by the weekend.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Trying to make an impression on some people runs into a bit of a snag at first, but it all works out. An old and almost forgotten personal matter once again needs attention.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A rise in your energy level helps you finish an especially demanding task. Take some time now to spend with family and friends before starting a new project.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) This is a good time to re-establish contact with trusted former associates who might be able to offer good advice regarding that career change you've been contemplating.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your resourcefulness combined with a calm, cool approach help you work your way out of a knotty situation and avoid a potentially serious misunderstanding.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A calm, quiet period allows you to recharge your energies. But you'll soon be ready to saddle up and gallop off in pursuit of your goals.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Family matters need your attention. Check things out carefully. There still might be unresolved tensions that could hinder your efforts to repair damaged relationships.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) It's a good time to take a stand and show as much passion on your own behalf as you do when arguing for the rights of others. You might be happily surprised by the reaction.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You bring sense and sensitivity to a confusing situation. Things soon settle down, leaving you free to enjoy a weekend of fun and relaxation with friends and family.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a talent for being able to perceive possibilities where others see only problems.

ARE YOU A SHOE-IN TO SOLVE THIS ONE? Hidden in the above frame is a famous old saying. You can find it by reading every other letter as you go around it clockwise. The trick is finding the right first letter.

Answer: Starting with the "S" in the left-hand rail. "Strike while the iron is hot."

A SENSITIVE STUMPER! Replace the letters on our sun worshiper's chest with the digits 0, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9, so that you will have a correct addition problem. The same letters get the same digits. Try to get the highest total possible.

Our answer: T=8, I=6, M=2, E=0, S=7, U=3, N=4, B=9, H=5 (8620) = 9354.

PUZZLES IN PARADISE! Pictured below are two puzzle grids to fill in. Hints are given for each word. The words in Grid A contain the same letters as the corresponding words in Grid B.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

* It was 20th-century American pediatrician and author Benjamin Spock who made the following sage observation: "All the time a person is a child he is both a child and learning to be a parent. After he becomes a parent he becomes predominantly a parent reliving childhood."

* If you're lucky enough to be hanging out with a bunch of frolicsome pug dogs, you can accurately call your companions a grumble of pugs.

* You might be surprised to learn that an early version of scuba diving took place as early as the 1770s. A man named Andrew Becker wore his leather-covered diving suit during an hour-long immersion in a London stretch of the River Thames. He even had a window in his helmet -- though there's no report on what, if anything, he saw in the notoriously murky waters.

* Those who study such things say that the average American man shaves at least 20,000 times in his life. If you add up all that time spent shaving, by the time he reaches the age of 75 a man has spent more than 37 days with a razor in his hand.

* If you decide to move to Kentucky, you might want to keep in mind that in that state, it's against the law to paint your lawn red. ***

Thought for the Day: "Humanity needs dreamers, for whom the disinterested development of an enterprise is so captivating that it becomes impossible for them to devote their care to their own material profit. Without doubt, these dreamers do not deserve wealth, because they do not desire it. Even so, a well-organized society should assure to such workers the efficient means of accomplishing their task, in a life freed from material care and freely consecrated to research." -- Marie Curie

Caramel Apple Cake

FOR THE CAKE:

- 1 3/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon + 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon, divided
- 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 3/4 cup + 1 tablespoon granulated sugar, divided
- 1 cup canola oil
- 3 large eggs, room temperature
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 3 1/3 cups peeled and diced apples (from about 3 1/2 medium apples)

FOR THE CARAMEL FROSTING:

- 1/2 cup unsalted butter
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 2/3 cup whipping cream
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 1/4-1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups powdered sugar

Directions:

Preheat the oven to 350 °F.
Line a 9" x 13" baking pan with a piece of parchment paper or alternatively spray the pan with baking spray.
In a medium mixing bowl, stir together the flour, 1 tablespoon cinnamon, nutmeg, baking soda, and salt. Set aside.
In a large mixing bowl, stir together the brown sugar, granulated sugar, oil, eggs and vanilla until thoroughly combined.
Add in the flour mixture and mix just until well combined.
Place the apples in a small bowl and sprinkle the remaining 1 tablespoon granulated sugar and 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon over the apples. Stir to coat the apples in the cinnamon sugar. Fold the apples into the batter.
Pour the batter into the prepared pan and bake for 33-40 minutes or until a toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean.
Let cool completely before frosting.
Prepare the frosting.
Melt the butter in a medium saucepan over medium heat.
Stir in the brown sugar and whipping cream.
Once the mixture starts bubbling, stop stirring.
Let the mixture come to a full boil and boil for 1 minute without stirring. Remove the pan from the heat.
Stir in the vanilla, 1/4 teaspoon salt, and gradually add the powdered sugar.
Whisk until the powdered sugar is fully incorporated and no lumps of sugar remain.
Add the remaining 1/4 teaspoon salt, if desired.
Once the cake has cooled, spread the frosting over the top and refrigerate any leftovers for up to 4 days. Let come to room temperature before serving.

Kei Pittrell: "URW has played a tremendous part in me getting my credit back on track, from getting my first car to now buying my first home. The staff is always friendly and I've never had a real bad interaction, even if the mistake was not of my own things were corrected in a quick, timely and respectful manner"

Chad Wells: "After my divorce, URW was the only bank that would give me a loan. URW believed in me when no one else would. They really do treat you like family."

* If you haven't already, plant your spring flowering bulbs now before the first frosts!

* "I replaced my beat-up tension rod in the bath, and immediately had a thought to use it for hanging clothes in my narrow laundry room. It gives me a space to hang items coming out of the washer for air drying. When it's not in use, it's easy to remove and lean against the wall." -- N.L. in Pennsylvania

* Get control of your money with a financial calendar. Just as you would pencil in dates for doctor's appointments and teeth cleaning, add reminders for pulling a credit report, adjusting your withholding, increasing your retirement contribution or reassessing your personal savings. Re-shop for insurance providers yearly to get the best deals.

* To maintain a 1 pound per week weight loss, you'll need to burn or forgo 3,500 calories per week. If you're not already a hard-core athlete, consider addressing poor nutrition coupled with moderate but regular workouts to make gains!

* If you're on a home-renovation budget, don't forget to consider the considerable power of paint. Look for pieces that can be customized to your look with a bit of sandpaper and paint at bargain and resale outlets, thrift stores and even the trash dumpster. It's good for your wallet, and reusing existing goods makes environmental sense.

* "When I put on a pair of stockings, I use a dryer sheet to take away static cling. Use one sheet and run it over the surfaces of your legs. Your skirt will not cling, I promise." -- H.F. in Oregon

KOVELS® Antiques & Collecting

By Terry and Kim Kovel

Bottle-Cap Art

Some modern artists like to make something out of nothing by using discarded metal, signs, cans, tools, machine parts and other trash to form useful pieces of art. One of the most popular discards is metal crown bottle caps. The crown cap, the type used on soda bottles, was invented in 1892. Soon ads and logos were printed on the caps, and they were considered trash after the bottle's contents were emptied.

This bottle-cap chair has a Westclox Baby Ben clock set into the top of the back and cup holders in the ends of the arms.

But the caps were colorful and round, so eventually large pieces were created, like bottle-cap chains strung with hundreds of caps and smoking stands made from the chains. Caps were painted and used as game pieces like checkers, and a trivet shaped like a bunch of grapes was made from caps covered with crocheted yarn. There also were planters, purses, bottle-cap "buttons" made with magnets and jewelry, especially cross-shaped pendants.

Many of these can be found pictured online, but the most popular are the man and woman figures made as a Boy Scout project in the 1950s. The figures had arms and legs made with strings and caps, a wooden body and head, and it held a small colored aluminum bowl. The women often had hoop earrings and colorful costumes. Pairs were dressed and named appropriately as "Calypso" or "Trampman."

But a modern artist named Rick Ladd made the most spectacular and artistic pieces — a chair and footstool — in 1991. Loops of bottle-cap chains, flat wooden frame sections decorated with caps that show the original brand art, and glass formed a 20-inch-high chair and footstool. They sold at a recent Skinner auction in Boston for $492. A matching chest of drawers brought $884, and a picture frame sold for $677.

Q. I just got what looks like a copper luster teapot marked "Wade England." The lid has a genie with his arms folded. The bottom of the teapot is marked "The Genie Teapot." What is it worth?

A. Wade pottery is made by The Wade Group of Potteries, which started near Burslem, England, in 1810. Several potteries merged to become George Wade & Son, Ltd., early in the 20th century, and other potteries have been added through the years. The Genie teapot was made in the 1970s and sells for less than $30.

TIP: Wash silver before you clean it with polish. The washing will remove gritty dust particles that will scratch the silver.

The 50th Anniversary edition of "Kovels' Antiques & Collectibles Price Guide 2018" will be published Sept. 19. Along with Terry Kovel's reflections on 50 years of collecting, the book features 20,000 listings and more than 2,500 full-color photographs, plus trends, special events and surprises.
