1st Annual Chamber Games

The Iowa Great Lakes Area Chamber is excited to introduce a new event this year—the 1st Annual Chamber Games. This will take place on Friday, October 20, from 1:00 – 4:00 at Boji Bay Fun House & Pavilion.

Teams of 4 individuals will participate in a variety of competitions throughout the afternoon. Points will be awarded to the teams who place 1st – 3rd in each game or activity. The team with the most points at the end of the event will not only get bragging rights and the traveling trophy, but they will also get to choose the non-profit to which 100% of the proceeds will be donated.

Teams may consist of individuals from one single business or from several. All that is required is for the participants to be 21+ years of age, and they must own or be employed by a Chamber Member business or organization.

The purpose of this event is to provide a networking opportunity for Chamber Members, enhance team building and communication skills, give back to the community through charitable donation, and provide a source of fun competition. Registration has officially opened at $40 per team, and it will increase to $50 per team on October 1st. The deadline for registration is October 13th. Teams can visit www.okobojichamber.com to register. Registration forms may also be completed and mailed to: IGL Chamber - Chamber Games, P.O. Box 9, Arnolds Park, IA, 51331.

will allow me to assure our steps moving forward not only serve the community, but allow us to be successful in our new space."

Iowa Rock 'n Roll Music Association was founded in 1997 by John Senn to preserve the legacy of rock 'n roll music in Iowa. There have been other Presidents over the years, but John has definitely served the longest. "It's an honor to be named President of the Iowa Rock 'n Roll Music Association," commented Ralph Kluseman Sunday night, "Especially in succession of John Senn. He's a legend."

Embarking on a capital campaign is no easy undertaking, but the Board of Directors is up to the challenge and feels the community's support. "How the community stands beside the Association is amazing to experience," states Cindy Stanbro, Executive Director of the Iowa Rock 'n Roll Music Association. "We will be announcing more about this campaign in a couple months, but today we want to focus on welcoming Ralph to the Presidency. His passion and drive inspires all of us. I look forward to working alongside Ralph to help take Iowa Rock 'n Roll Music Association to this next phase and really set up the Association to be successful for decades to come.'

The Iowa Rock 'n Roll Music Association is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization whose mission is to preserve the legacy of rock 'n roll music in Iowa by honoring achievements, educating youth, and inspiring artists. Come Home for the 2017 Clay County Fair

The Clay County Fair started Saturday, September 9, with more than $180,000 in free entertainment, nearly 500 vendors bringing new and unique items to fairgoers, a variety of Grandstand acts, the largest ag show at any fair in the United States and more. The Clay County Fair will provide something for everyone.

Visitors to the Fair will enjoy discounted admission after 5:00pm every day except Tuesday, September 12 when admission is free for all fairgoers. This annual Family Night, sponsored by the Spencer Chamber of Commerce, gives everybody the opportunity to see the Fair at no charge. Earlier in the day is Senior Day where fairgoers ages 65+ can get in for only $6 admission. Veterans Day, sponsored by Atlantic Bottling, gives veterans of the armed forces and active military members free admission to the Fair on Monday, September 11. Y100 Kids Day will give fairgoers under 18 free admission on Friday, September 15. Finally, everyone is encouraged to attend Centennial Day on Sunday, September 17, when adult admission is only $5.

Fairgoers can "Come Home" for fun for all ages throughout the barns, including Grandpa's Barn, which will give fairgoers a chance to get up close and personal with animals from around the farm and other animals not often seen in Iowa.

Free entertainment can be seen throughout the grounds as different shows will begin every half hour 9:00am to 6:30pm. Shows will offer fairgoers all genres of music, as well as magic shows and local talent. Antique tractors and classic cars will also be on display for all fairgoers to see.

U.S Cellular Grandstand entertainment will bring big-name performers to the area as well as three nights of dirt event excitement. Tickets are still available and can be ordered by calling 515-244-2771, going online to http://www.midwestix. com/organizations/clay-county-fair or going to the Grandstand Ticket Office, which opens at 10:00am every day.

Come Home to the fair in 2017 for competitions including more than 850 4-H and FFA exhibitors and their 2,300 animals as well as increased number to the open class exhibitors. In addition to the livestock are 30 acres of agriculture displays, making the Clay County Fair the largest ag equipment and farm machinery show at any fair in the United States.

The Art Barn will host local artisans, as well as have fairgoers become the artists of this year's Centennial Mural Project. Fairgoers can decorate a tile of contest winner, Megan Roethler's (Charles City) "Summer Day in Iowa" and see the pieces of tile become the piece of art.

Saturday, September 16, is Science Saturday for fairgoers to experience hands-on science experiments and discover different sciences, sponsored by Iowa Lakes Community College.

Fair food is another reason to Come Home. Take in the 2017 "World's Greatest County Fair" Food Contest, where five judges will decide the top new food to the Clay County Fair. Fairgoers can see which food is labeled as "The World's Great County Fair" Food at 2:00pm on Saturday, September 9.

The GoldStar Amusements Midway offers fun for all ages. The Midway will open at 4:00pm Tuesday, September 12-Thursday, September 14. It will also be open at 10:00am Friday, September 15- Sunday, September 17. Wristbands are available and Kids Day wristbands are available Friday, September 15 for a special price. Pricing information can be found at https://claycountyfair. com/attractions/midway.

DBBB to return to PLAC Pearson Lakes Art Center executive director Bob Kirschbaum got an enthusiastic round of applause on Labor Day when he announced to the crowd in Pomerantz Hall for the Dick Bauman Big Band's final performance of the year, that the band would be returning to start its 22nd summer season on Memorial Day 2018.

That's good news for the band and the art center, where many great changes are taking place on a daily basis. Originally formed and directed by Dick Bauman in his retirement, The DBBB got its start at the Hollywood Grille in 1997, and left that facility only after it burned to the ground, then moved to The Inn, and eventually to The PLAC.

Helen Bauman, who has a near front-row seat each week through the summer, said she had always hoped the band would continue for many years, and is "elated" that the band has continued as long as it has. We are too, along with the many fans who enjoy the music, the dancing, and the camaraderie. Next week we'll be telling you about another campus organization that should see considerable growth in the near future. We expect the winter months to bring several changes in the entertainment arena on campus... Glenn Henriksen has his hands full with two shows a day at the Clay County Fair this week - but his Tuesday and Wednesday house concerts will begin again next week, September 19th and 20th. Then, the following week, September 26th and 27th, Glenn will be at Norsk Hostfest, billed as "40 years of Pure Scandimonium!" in Minot, North Dakota, in place of his regular concerts, which will continue on Tuesday nights, in October.

Glenn's Clay County Fair schedule calls for "House Parties" today (Tuesday) in Dish Plaza. Terry Klein is scheduled to work with Glenn (and a special guest Glenn couldn't announce at press time) on Wednesday. The Alexander Brothers will be performing with him on Thursday, along with Simon Floss. Then The Itty Bitty Boji Band and some special guests will join the fun on Friday. Jessie James and The Outlaws will take the stage with Glenn and his Galaxy band members Jerry Benhkendorf and Mark Kurseth on Saturday. And Sunday will be Gospel music day. Shows are at 2:00 and 5:00 each afternoon...

More good news is that following the success of Neil Dover's show last week at the Rolling Oaks Barn in Spirit Lake, the management will try at least a couple more weeks of music and dancing. These shows will include The Itty

Bitty Boji Band on Wednesday, September 20th, and Jessie James and The Outlaws the following Wednesday night, September 27th. Both shows will run from 7 - 9:00... In an email received just before deadline, we also learned that these two shows will be moved to the upper level of the Barn where there's also a great dance floor!

This week will see singer/songwriter Derek Post performing at That One Place restaurant at Boji Bay, Wednesday night, from 6:30 - 8:30

Storm Rising will be at the Little Swan Lake Winery, on Thursday night, from 6 - 8:00; and Dave Rowley and Ryan Sather take the same stage in the barn on Sunday, from 4 - 6:00... One booth at the Clay County Fair noted on a poster that Christmas is just 15 weeks distant! Maybe that's why The Many Voices Choir will begin its rehearsal sessions next week for its Christmas concert series. The organizational meeting will take place next Monday, the 18th, in Room 60, of the George Shadle Building on the Estherville campus of Iowa Lakes Community College, starting at 6:30. Following a brief practice, we understand there will be an "informal gathering," at director Tim Schumacher's building, 804 Central Avenue in Estherville. (Bring a lawn chair and snacks.) You are invited to give it a try! Research director RD had so much fun at the Clay County Fair this weekend that she's planning to return at least once more — if not twice. She sees the fair as one of the "joys of September." Her next visit is planned for tomorrow, which she has found is Quiet Day, typified by Astrud Gilberto's rendition of Corcovado, or Quiet Nights of Quiet Stars — and a more recent recording by Grammy-nominated jazz vocalist Stacy Kent on her 2013 CD, Melvin Howard 'Mel' Torme, the Chicago-born songwriter and jazz singer known as "The Velvet Fog," was born on September 13, 1925. His 1956 LP, Mel Torme Sings Fred Astaire, included a salute to weather that is common in September, A Foggy Day, written Gentlemen Prefer Blondes closed on September 15, 1951, after 740 performances at the Ziegfeld Theatre in New York, where Carol Channing was the original Lorelei Lee, and introduced the song, Diamonds Are a Girl's Best Friend. The show has been revived several times with other well-known blondes including Betty Hutton, Jayne Mansfield, Mamie Van Doren, Barbara Eden, and Morgan Fairchild, in the lead role. Then there was the movie featuring Marilyn Monroe!

Danville, Illinois' very-own Bobby Short, was born on September 15, 1924. The cabaret singer and pianist who thrived on the music of the Great American Songbook, held court at New York's Cafe Carlyle for many years before his passing in 2005.

John Hendricks, of Lambert, Hendricks and Ross fame - not to mention the Manhattan Transfer - turns 96 on Saturday. It was an LH&R LP in 1960 that dubbed the group "The hottest new group in jazz," and contained the Gershwin tune Summertime. And, as RD notes, there will be just six days left in summer after Hendricks' birthday!

Sunday is Apple Dumpling Day, which brought to RD's mind Dionne Warwick's 1968 Valley of the Dolls LP, and the Burt Bacharach, Hal David song, As Long As There's An Apple Tree. As RD noted, "It's hard to match the natural beauty of an apple tree decorated with an abundance of ripe fruit near the close of summer!"

Sunday is also Eugene 'Brother Jack' McDuff's natal day. The jazz organist, who was born in Champaign, Illinois, teamed up with saxophonist Willis Jackson to record the well-received 1960 LP Together Again, Again, which most appropriately included Kurt Weill's September Song in a medley...

Postscript: Some of you know that our start in radio came as a very young college student (then the 'Old Professor'-to-be) with country music that we even learned to somewhat appreciate. About a decade later, when we began our first weekly big band show in Waterloo, Iowa, we added one country song to the rotation. That song was Don Williams' I Believe in You. It was — and still is — a beautiful song. And while Williams didn't pen the lyrics, he did take them to the top of the county music chart as his 11th of 17(!) #1 records on that chart — and his only Top 40 (Pop Chart) hit, as well. Williams enjoyed dozens of awards from the Academy of Country Music and the Country Music Association before he passed away last week at the age of 78.

"I don't believe in superstars, Organic food and foreign cars, I don't believe the price of gold, The certainty of growing old, That right is right and left is wrong, That north and south can't get along, That east is east and west is west, And bein' first is always best.

But I believe in love... And I believe in you.'

2 Reasons To Reconsider Reaching For An Energy Drink

Fall sports are now in full swing, and 31 percent of adolescents reach for energy drinks to give them an extra boost during practices, games, or study sessions. However, energy drinks aren't always the best way to increase your level of energy. A recent review in the Journal of Adolescent Endocrinology suggests people consider these facts:

1. Prolonged, excessive use of energy drinks can be detrimental to your health. Energy drinks are often associated with medical conditions such as anxiety, migraines, gastrointestinal discomfort, insomnia, and heart related conditions.

2. The amount of caffeine in energy drinks is much more than the recommended maximum for adolescents. The current maximum recommended intake of caffeine in adolescents is 100mg per day. Energy drinks can have up to 500mg per can, not to mention other stimulants and excessive amounts of sugar as well. The high amount of caffeine is recognized as a reason for emergency room visits for energy drink use.

Dickinson County Public Health Director of Population and Public Health Brandon Rohrig said, "If you are having problems with your or your child's energy and focus, try finding the root cause. Ask yourself: When was the last time you ate? What was the last thing you ate? How are your sleep habits? Often answering these questions can lead you down a path to increased energy without the need for excessive, potentially dangerous,

Nature Tots Programs

From Icky Animals to Nature's Blessings, this fall's Nature Tots programs at the Dickinson County Nature Center will be full of fun.

"Nature Tots for the next couple of months will be related to the upcoming seasons and holidays," said environmental education coordinator Bryanna Kuhlman.

The program for ages 2-5 is held the second Wednesday of each month year-round, and the September 13 session has the theme Colors of the Wind, focusing on the fall season. It will begin with storytime in the oak savanna, followed by an acorn hunt and acorn craft.

Kuhlman and naturalist Ashley Hansen are both excited for the October 11 program of Icky Animals.

"We will take out some of our animal friends and talk about how they benefit the ecosystem, even if they're not necessarily a charismatic or beautiful animal," Kuhlman said.

From Pinki the tarantula to Rosie the corn snake, the Dickinson County Nature Center has friendly animal ambassadors that don't always get the happiest reactions. However, it's important to learn that even creatures people don't necessarily like still are critical to the environment.

"Every animal has its place," Hansen added.

The November 8 program will be on Nature's Blessings, and the December 13 program will break out of the seasonal pattern to Discover Dinos, hatch dinosaur eggs and look for fossils.

Nature Tots is designed for toddlers to experience nature, to have fun and to learn to be curious. "If they start young, hopefully they'll grow up to care about nature," Hansen said. "I'm excited to see the kids get excited, to get them excited about nature."

The 10:30am sessions of the programs fill up quickly, but a 1:30pm class was also added this year to accommodate more children. Parents and guardians can call 712-336-6352 to preregister for either time slot.

For more information on Nature Tots and other Dickinson County Nature Center programming, please visit www. dickinsoncountynaturecenter.com. You can also keep up on the latest happenings on Facebook, Instagram and Twitter.

Heart to Heart With Heritage Landing

To everything there is a season ... by Sally Anderson

Lately I have been feeling very nostalgic. I don't know what it is but my mind has been wandering back in time. Remembering loved ones who are no longer here and life that sometimes seems like ages ago and other times seems like it was just yesterday.

I recall, as a kid, waking up to the sound and smell of the coffee perking and the radio, always set on KICD, playing the familiar jingle "Shoes that set my feet a dancing, dancing, dancing all my cares away..." Does anyone else remember the Florsheim shoe radio commercial? My Mom would stand at the bottom of the steps and call up to my brother, sister and me "Get up! Get ready! You're going to miss the bus!" I'm sure at the time I was less than thrilled, but now looking back it is a cherished memory.

Maybe all these memories are surfacing because fall is in the air and the season is once again changing. I remember my Mom telling me that fall was her favorite time of year. She loved the cooler weather and all the beautiful colors. Her Grandmother felt differently about fall. She told my Mom that fall made her sad because all the beauty of summer was dying and coming to an end. There is a beginning and end to most everything but where one season ends there is always hope of a new beginning.

We all look at life differently. We have memories that are different and sometimes similar. Life is ever changing. People and family members come and go. The landscape will change. How we live and how we do things will change, but one thing is as certain as summer, spring, winter and fall. We all need family, fellowship, and a feeling of belonging. We all need to move forward and to learn from and cherish the past. Beautiful memories sustain us, new experiences refresh us. Our past helps shape us into the people we are today. Instead of grieving the past, we should rejoice in it and learn to be happy and content in the life we are living today; with the people who are living it with us, because today's life is tomorrows happy memory.

At Heritage Landing we see people living their lives together. Making new memories and spending time together. Laughing, caring for and supporting each other. That is the benefit of living at a Senior Living Community. Let us help you make new memories.

To learn more about Heritage Landing or to schedule a tour call Sally at 712-338-2909. We look forward to hearing from you. Sally's Quip of the day: Most everyone has a photographic memory; some of us just don't have any film!

From the Children's Corner

Back to books means storytime merriment returns to the Spirit Lake Public Library. Thursday mornings at 10:30 from September until Thanksgiving, we have something going on for the under kindergarten crowd. The first Thursday of the month we will have Block Party with the remainder of the Thursdays during the month, Storytime (Unless Miss Krista is out of the library – then it will be a Block Party.) Themes for fall storytimes include butterflies, elephants, popcorn, fire safety, Halloween and more. No preregistration is required to attend Block Parties or Storytime. We welcome you and your littles any time you

Not sure what a Block Party at the library is. It's a time when preschoolers and toddlers come to the library to play with a variety of building blocks and interact with other children. The children keep busy developing skills while their grownups either play with them or visit with other grownups. Many caregivers enjoy bringing a beverage and watching their children interact with other children while meeting and visiting with other caregivers

Legos at the Library and Chess Club return for the school year in September. Legos at the Library meets the second Tuesday of each month and Chess Club meets the third Tuesday of each month. These activities run from 3:30 to 4:30pm with no preregistration required. Any school age child with a desire to learn and play chess is welcome to participate in Chess Club. We are fortunate to have Chess Club mentor Jan Bolluyt volunteering his time again this year to teach and coach this mind-building game.

Tinker Tuesday, a school-age STEAM activity will meet September 26 and again October 24, from 3:30 to 4:30. Students do need to be preregistered to ensure we have the necessary supplies for each child for the Tinker Tuesday activities.

We've had a super summer at the library and are looking forward to a wonderful fall season. Please call the library at 712-336-2667, or stop in if you have any questions about our Hope to see you soon at the library!

Discovery House News Julie Scheib, Director www.mydiscoveryhouse.con

Our 2017 Porch Parties have concluded with exceptional entertainment by Glenn Henriksen and Bill Carpenter last Friday evening. Thank you to all of our guests who joined us over the course of the past 5 months, and to the wonderful musicians who have so generously shared of their time and talents to help us with our mission at Discovery House. We appreciate all of your efforts on behalf of the Board, the house, and our residents.

Fall is in the air with cooler nights, football season, the Clay County Fair, and the beautiful fall foliage. We are very blessed to live in the Iowa Great Lakes Area and we pray for our neighbors in the South and out West. Many of us have family and friends who were affected by hurricanes and forest fires – it makes us grateful that we only have to contend with an occasional severe thunderstorm or potential tornado (so far.)

Discovery House remains at full capacity with a waiting list. We are looking forward to residents moving on in to the Daniel House once we complete the electrical requirements and the flooring is installed in the rec room. Thank you to those who have been so generous with the many donations that have come in to furnish the house.

The Discovery House room renovation project has been completed, for the most part, with just a few punch list items that still need attention. Painting outside of the bedrooms will continue on in to the fall and, most likely, winter.

We are studying Paul's letter to the Romans in our Bible study for the next 16 weeks (a chapter a week.) All are welcome to join us on Monday evenings at 5:30 for our house meal followed by Bible study led by Chaplain Matt Warnke. It usually lasts about 30 minutes and Matt has a way of making the Bible come alive and he makes it relevant to our lives today. Call 336-5340 to Blessings until next time.

Anita Plucker Chosen to Show at Annual IWS Juried Exhibition

Iowa Watercolor Society announces that Anita K Plucker of Terril has been selected to be a participant in the 40th Annual

Iowa Watercolor Society juried art exhibition. The showing will be held at the LaPoste Building, 1219 Warford Street, Perry, Iowa, from August 1 - September 30, 2017. The 40th and award ceremony will be held on September 17. The juror and instructor for this year's annual exhibit and workshops is renowned artist Anne Abgott, www.anneabgott.com.

The selected paintings are titled "Atop a Hill" and "Only Memories Linger". Anita relates this about these pieces, "My paintings reflect my life in northwest Iowa - rural landscapes, waterscapes, farm machinery, and architecture indicative to this area. I love surface textures (rust, peeling paint) and I find beauty in the ordinary, often overlooked remnants of a vanishing way of life - the homesteads, farmsteads and buildings now empty where families once thrived. Sometimes I am a visual historian, documenting details of the subject matter exactly as I find them, and sometimes, I rearrange, omit, add and change the colors, my goal solely meant to create an aesthetically pleasing work of art".

Anita currently has 16 paintings on display this September at the State Library of Iowa, 1112 E Grand Avenue, Des Moines. Most recently, her work has been selected for Northlight's publications, Splash 16, 18 and Splash 19: The Best of Watercolor. More of Anita's work can be seen at Summerwind Gallery, Arnolds Park; Bijou Gallery, Spirit Lake; Arts on Grand, Spencer.

Simplify Your Retirement

dustry professional Kirt Carstens aims to help educate local consumers of retirement best practices to help mitigate those concerns.

Carstens will teach a new two-day retirement income planning course, Simplify Your Retirement, at Iowa Lakes Community College in Spencer, helping attendees identify the most pertinent risks in retirement for their personal situation. Empowering baby boomers to prepare for a stable retirement income, the comprehensive personal finance course is best for those in the early stages of retirement or those about to retire, and addresses difficult retirement decisions including income planning, Social Security maximization and risks to avoid.

"For baby boomers, there's been a shift in retirement income planning as compared to previous generations—the basic financial rules of thumb have changed since the parents of boomers retired," Carstens said. "This course helps those concerned with their finances and wanting to prepare for market volatility."

Participants will learn about considerations as it pertains to retirement income planning including health care, inflation, taxes and other personal concerns. Additionally, the course addresses reasons why some retirees run out of money, along with options for drawing Social Security, defining core priorities, and developing reliable retirement income. Upon completion of the course, attendees will receive a complimentary, personalized retirement income plan analysis invitation from the course instructor.

Carstens will offer the first session of the two-day retirement income planning course on Tuesday, September 26, from 6:30pm - 9:00pm with the second session commencing on Saturday, September 30 from 9:30am – Noon at Iowa Lakes Community College. To register, please visit: SimplifyYourRetirement.com/ Spencer or call: 712-332-5960.

In addition to the two course sessions, the Simplify Your Retirement personal finance course includes: an in-class workbook, a copy of retirement planning guides: 10 Steps to a Successful Retirement, and 15 Questions to Ask about Your Social Security Benefits. Tuition is $59 and includes all course materials. Couples may attend for a single tuition cost.

Nationally recognized financial literacy speaker, Stephen Stricklin, developed the Simplify Your Retirement program, intended to inform consumers while taking the complexity out of retirement. Iowa Lakes Leads to Achievement for Success Coordinator

As a three-sport athlete with a full course load at Iowa Lakes Community College, Kieja Puhrman Evans learned how to manage her time and prioritize tasks effectively - skills she still uses in her daily life as volleyball coach and elementary student success coordinator at Estherville Lincoln Central Community School District.

"...I was extremely busy throughout the entire year,' Evans said, recalling her time at Iowa Lakes studying and playing volleyball, basketball and softball. "I know many of those skills I learned there as

Former Evolutionist to Present Case for Intelligent Design

Former evolutionist and skeptic Dr. Donald A. Bierle will be presenting the evidence that changed his mind about the origin and diversity of life, at an event in Milford on Saturday, September 30. Bierle's candid and revealing presentation, "Making Sense of Creation and Evolution," will be offered at Harbor of Joy Lutheran Church from 9:00–11:30am. The event is being sponsored by Harbor of Joy Lutheran Church, located at 1204 L Avenue in Milford.

Bierle, a Ph.D. biologist, said the presentation reflects the life-changing discoveries he made in his own search for answers to life's important questions. "Although I grew up in a family that attended church, God never seemed real or personal," he revealed. "In college I grew enthralled with the academic world. I became convinced that science held the answers.'

"Like many high school and college teachers today," he said, "I held the viewpoint that evolution was based on solid scientific facts. But when I started looking for those facts, I couldn't find them. The evidence for the origin of life by spontaneous generation from chemicals, and for the intermediate fossils that allegedly prove the macroevolution of all major life groups, was

While working toward his doctorate in biology, Bierle was challenged by scientific colleagues to examine the evidence for the historical reliability of the New Testament writings about Jesus. "I was astounded," said Bierle, "to learn that archaeological discoveries have revealed that the New Testament manuscripts are more numerous and far more certain to be eyewitness accounts than any other ancient writings."

"I was still committed to evolution when I professed faith in Jesus Christ," Bierle admitted. "But as I studied books and articles written by evolutionists, it became increasingly clear that they were committed to a philosophical and religious – rather than purely scientific – world view. They held to their 'faith' in evolution even though the crucial evidence for it was clearly lacking.'

At the same time, Bierle began to find a mountain of evidence for intelligent design in nature. "Imagine trying to convince your teenagers that the presidents' faces on Mt. Rushmore are the result of erosion!" Bierle quipped. "Similarly, scientists today are finding just-as-dramatic evidence of intelligent design in the microscopic cell and in the vast world of the telescope. This revolution of thought is sweeping across America," he said. Evidence for intelligent design occupies a chapter in Bierle's book, Making Sense of Creation and Evolution.

Dr. Bierle, who also holds an M.A. in New Testament studies, was a college professor and academic dean for almost 25 years. As President of FaithSearch International he devotes much of his time to presenting evidence for the Christian faith through FaithSearch, a popular event based on his book, Surprised by Faith. He is the author of several other books and videos, including Growing Faith, a Bible study guide for spiritual growth.

Megger Donation Impacts Iowa Lakes Energy-Focused Programs

Students in the Wind Energy and Turbine Technology and Electrical Technology programs benefit from industry in many ways. Professionals serve on the program advisory committees, create scholarship opportunities and donate valuable equipment. All enhance the education experience.

David S. Danner, Director of USA Distribution Sales for Megger, has been working with Iowa Community College since 2008 to provide students in the Wind Energy Technology Program with up-to-date, high-quality electrical testing equipment. Danner explains the importance of these equipment donations:

"At the forefront of new technology and improved electrical service, Megger is pleased to be integrally involved with the educational process," Danner said. "To that end, we are proud to donate the DLRO200, a leading-edge low resistance ohmmeter, that promotes the highest quality in accuracy, reliability, and above all safety."

The DLRO200 is a versatile piece of equipment that can provide test currents from 10 amps up to 200 amps. The electrical testing device is portable and weighs less than 33 pounds. The high current capability and compact design makes this equipment suitable for testing circuit breaker contacts, switch contacts, busbar joints, or other applications where high current

"Megger's outreach with our technology programs is a fine example of putting the tools of best practices in safety to work," stated Dan Lutat, Director of Sustainable Energy Resources and Technology.

"David is a great asset to our program," stated Doug Zemler, Electrical Technology Program Coordinator. "He ensures the students are getting their hands on some of the best equipment Megger has to offer." "Dave's dedication to the program over the years is a perfect example of program coordinator's linkage to industry. Our students continue to be "energized" by the synergy," said Jolene Rogers, Executive Director of Community & Business Relations. For more information on donations, please contact Jolene

Rogers, at 712-362-0431. For Program information, contact Dan Lutat, at 712-362-8374.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The publisher does not necessarily share the views/opinions stated in the "Letters to the Editor" published in The Lakes News Shopper.

To The Editor:

Opinions and Freedom of Speech

Thanks to Russ Mitchell of DCN for explaining the difference between an article, column and editorial for those that weren't aware of the difference. For some time now, Messrs. Peterson and Fox have been decrying me and my opinions about our current administration published in our local papers. They also list alleged scandals of past administrations. Why the long wait to air your complaints? Was there no lead in your pencil when these supposed affairs occurred? Where were your editorial comments then? Can you list the disastrous results caused by them?

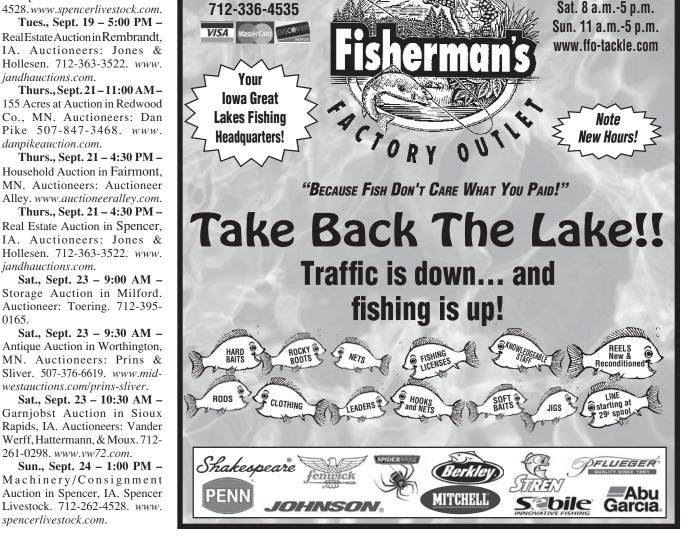

Most people will agree that a person's character is a factor in the decisions he makes. The president's character speaks for itself. It is my opinion that many of the decisions made by the president are having disastrous effects. To list a few: 20 million Americans stand to lose their health insurance coverage, 800,000 young people brought here as children, would have their future destroyed by deportation, a nuclear settlement with Iran is in danger of blowing up, hostilities with North Korea are closer than ever, denying climate change and pulling out of the Paris Accord astounds the rest of the world, alienation of our staunch allies: Germany, France, United Kingdom, Canada, Mexico, and Australia has caused an unprecedented loss of trust worldwide.

My suggestion to you: Instead of attacking me and my opinions, you could list the actions of the president that are beneficial to the country and to the people he has promised to serve. As for me, I will continue to submit my opinions, including criticisms where necessary, and exercise my right of free speech.

Big Game Classic

The Big Game on Saturday lived up to all the hype as it delivered everything a college football fan could hope for; beautiful weather, an electric crowd of over 60,000 fans, big plays by both teams resulting in 85 points and even extra playing time as Iowa pulled out one of the more entertaining games in recent memory 44-41 in overtime. As a Cyclone fan, I'm obviously disappointed in the final outcome, but as a fan who sat in the stands on Saturday, you couldn't ask for much more as each team left absolutely everything they had on the field in a game that saw eight scoring plays change the lead of the game, including the final one, a touchdown catch by Hawkeye Ihmir Smith-Marsette to keep the Cy-Hawk trophy in Iowa City for the third straight season.

Let's start with the good and bad from the game for the victors, the "Team Out East". Akrum Wadley was the best player on the field Saturday and certainly has a future in the NFL. If Wadley had any space he made countless Cyclones miss tackles, and if he didn't have space he just ran them over, doing both on the game-tying 46 yard touchdown pass from QB Nate Stanley with just 1:09 left in the game. Wadley ended up with 118 yards rushing, 72 yards receiving and two touchdowns. Sophomore quarterback Nate Stanley improved greatly from week one to week two. Stanley had three turnovers vs. Wyoming last week but played a brilliant game against ISU; going 27 of 41 for 333 yards, five touchdowns and most importantly, 0 interceptions. Stanley made the correct read all game long, never panicked when his team fell behind and made some great short throws that resulted in touchdowns. Iowa's offensive line did a phenomenal job of protecting Stanley and opening holes for Wadley and James Butler. ISU did not sack Stanley once, and more importantly gave him time to go through all of his checks and find an open receiver who was often the third or fourth look. Iowa's receiving crew is better than advertised and Stanley did a great job of using them all as the nine different Hawkeyes had catches on Saturday, including three of them with their first career grabs. Now for the bad, which isn't much. Iowa's defense will have to improve as Iowa State gained 467 yards and left more out there with quite a few dropped passes. ISU will have one of the best receivers Iowa will face all season, but Iowa will face better offensive lines and rushing attacks and will have to clean some things up to compete for a B1G title. Iowa also had an uncharacteristic amount of penalties on Saturday, finishing with 10 for 84 yards. Quite a few of these were trying to cover ISU's receivers and can easily be cleaned up as Iowa's defensive backs gain more experience. Now for the "Guys From Ames". Coach Matt Campbell's team continues to improve greatly but also still struggles to hold on to late leads. The good for ISU also starts with their running back, sophomore David Montgomery who I felt was the second best player on the field Saturday. Montgomery also ran around and through defenders on his way to 112 rushing yards, 53 receiving yards and one touchdown. Junior QB Jacob Park was good for the most part, completing 25 of 46 passes for 347 yards and four touchdowns but did throw a key interception late in the game with ISU clinging to a three point lead. ISU's receivers go on the good and bad list as they made some brilliant catches and broke some big plays but they also dropped countless first downs that could have extended some drives. Iowa State also played a very disciplined game, having only two penalties for 15 yards, but one of those was a huge defensive holding in the fourth quarter on a 3rd and 15 for Iowa with ISU holding a 10 point lead that lead to a first down that extended a drive that would end up with an Iowa TD. The bad for ISU is much of what has plagued this program for years, they just can't finish off a quality opponent when they have them on the ropes. The Cyclones had countless opportunities to seal this game with one key stop, one timely tackle, one more first down, or one key catch, and they just didn't make the plays when they had to in order to win the game. Another negative is that ISU's defensive line had zero sacks on the day and provided very little pressure on Hawkeve OB Nathan Stanley: this has to improve in the pass-happy Big 12 if ISU wants to compete.

How each team reacts and learns from The Big Game will determine what types of seasons they have. Iowa is a little better than I anticipated and I think if they can clean up their defense and not commit as many penalties that this team can finish the season with 8 wins and go to a very good bowl game. Iowa State is about where I thought they would be, but I did think they would pull this game out and had included that in my earlier prediction of a 7-6 season. I do believe the 'Clones can still go to a bowl but they must tackle better and start to believe that they can win games like Saturday or they will end up with a disappointing 5-7 season. I could go on and on about this classic of The Big Game and what it means for each team's season, but I'm running out of room in my article. Let's hope that both teams learn from Saturday and continue to improve, and let's hope that every Big Game in the future is as entertaining as this one as the entire State of Iowa is the victor when that happens.

Dickinson County Democrats to Meet September 18

The Dickinson County Democrats will hold their monthly meeting in on Monday, September 18 in the Pebble Beach room at Arrowwood Resort in Okoboji. This is a new meeting location. Social time will run from 7:00 to 7:30, and the business meeting will begin at 7:30. The agenda includes committee report updates and a presentation by LeeAnn Jacobsen, Iowa Fourth District Candidate for Unites States Congress. Everyone is welcome.

Parks Marina in Okoboji utilized the popularity of their host of Facebook pages in an effort to help victims of Hurricane

"We have tens of thousands of customers that follow our social media, says," Butch Parks, owner of Parks Marina. "Our idea was to donate one of our popular Maui Mats, and put it up for auction on our Facebook pages. The highest bid received would be donated to the Red Cross for Hurricane Harvey victims and the high bidder would take a Maui Mat home."

Closing bids were taken up to 4:00pm on Labor Day with the highest bid of $500 coming from Skyler Roder of Clive, pictured with family. The winning bid was announced to a large crowd awaiting the Labor Day Dock Party at The Barefoot Bar.

"We wish to thank our many customers who bid on the Maui Mat and for Skyler Roder's very charitable bid. "says Debbie Parks, head of Parks Marina's Marketing department, "Parks Marina also committed to a portion of proceeds be donated from the sale of Stand Up Paddle Boards over the Labor Day Weekend. We are proud to be presenting The Red Cross with a check for $700 on behalf of Parks Marina and our generous customers."

Agronomy ADVICE:

Tips from the Channel Field Check Up Series

Management of Diplodia Stalk and Ear Rots in Corn

At this time of year, we may start to see some incidences of Diplodia stalk and ear rots in our corn fields.

Diplodia ear rot is usually most severe in corn-on-corn rotations and when wet weather occurs within the first few weeks after silking. Corn products vary in their level of susceptibility to Diplodia ear rot; however, any product can be infected under extremely favorable conditions. The first signs of Diplodia ear rot include prematurely bleached or straw colored husks that stand out against the green foliage of the rest of the plant. When pulling the husks back, the ear will have a whitish mold forming between the kernel rows, usually starting at the base of the ear. If the infection is severe enough, the entire ear may turn gray to brown and rot completely. Ears infected with Diplodia are lightweight and subject to breakage and losses during harvest. If infected grain is to be used for feed, it should be noted that the grain will have reduced nutritional value.

Diplodia stalk rot is favored by warm, wet weather after pollination. Corn plants that have experienced other stresses, such as disease or insect injury, may be more susceptible to infection. Corn-on-corn and reduced tillage systems may also increase the incidence of Diplodia stalk rot. Stalk rot symptoms may not become apparent until several weeks after silking. Infected plants may begin to die prematurely and take on a grayish-green cast similar to frost injury. Lower stalk internodes may turn brown to straw colored and feel spongy, dry, and can be easily crushed. The internal pith tissues become disintegrated. You may also notice fungal-spore producing structures on the lower stalk surface. As plants may die prematurely due to Diplodia stalk rot, harvesting infected plants may be more difficult due to lodging.

Begin to scout your fields for Diplodia stalk and ear rots when corn reaches the dough through denting stage. Especially monitor those fields with heavy foliar disease pressure, as these fields will be more susceptible to stalk rots. Evaluate stalk quality on 10 plants in a row at several locations throughout the field by pushing each stalk at a 45 degree angle to see if it breaks. If stalk quality has been compromised in more than 10% of stalks, then harvest that field early.

While there isn't much you can do this season to manage Diplodia ear and stalk rots, proactive strategies can help manage these diseases in the future. Some of these strategies include: crop rotation with a crop other than corn, reduction of other environmental stresses during the growing season to preserve stalk integrity, planting corn products with greater Diplodia tolerance levels and standability ratings, planting at proper populations, and applying fungicides when foliar diseases are present.

Remember to contact your local Channel Seedsman with any questions you may have regarding the identification of or management strategies for Diplodia ear and stalk rots on your farm.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR The publisher does not necessarily share the views/opinions stated

The critics of Obama Care should look back in this century at bills that are truly people care bills.

1) Roosevelt Care – Social Security

2) Johnson Care - Medicare; Medicaid

3) Kennedy-Johnson Care – Civil Rights; Head Start, etc. 4) Harkin Care – Americans with Disabilities

5) ACA – Obama Care

The ACA is a good people bill, but needs some changes instead of trying to repeal the whole bill. Urge the Congress on both sides of the aisle to work in a bi-partisan method to improve

Thank you, Jim Gustafson, Milford, Iowa

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The publisher does not necessarily share the views/opinions stated in the "Letters to the Editor" published in The Lakes News Shopper. Letter To The Editor

The September 5 edition of The Lakes News Shopper carried two of frequent contributor Robert Sneitzer's letters. The one titled "Character Matters" encourages the reader to decide how many of the ten principles enumerated by a famous psychologist could be attributed to President Trump. Citing examples that are upwards of 30 years in the past, Mr. S would have us believe few, if any of the principles listed could possibly characterize our president. I categorically disagree! Going down the list, if "wisdom" is defined as the understanding of what is true, right, or lasting, then score one for The Donald. Of course he understands these matters. If by "justice" Mr. S is talking about conforming to moral rightness in action, I'd agree the president is no paragon; then again, who is? Moving along to "fortitude" (I presume we could agree that means strength of mind that allows one to endure pain or adversity with courage), survey says that our chief executive has that one in abundance--look at all the naysayers who continually try to beat him down!

Character Matters principle number four is "self-control". Here, I assume we are talking about control of one's emotions, desires, or actions by one's own will. If so, yes, President Trump has many failings that the esteemed letter writer is only too eager to illustrate. I'll bet you dollars to donuts that examples of failures in this one can be found in the lives of presidents from this century and the three prior ones. And many would be more egregious than the failings of Donald Trump! These are men with flaws, can we agree on that? Let's examine principle five: "love". Never doubt that the president is lacking in this one. Because he loves people/things you may not love, does not make him wrong, any more than the opposite makes you right! The jury is still out on this principle, I fear. The next five principles include the following:" a positive attitude" (score one for Trump);" hard work" (add another one for the guy with the signature hair)". Then comes integrity" (rigid adherence to a code or standard of values/uprightness. All I can say for sure on this one is that he must have done a few things right to make it this far in life by his 71st year. A perfect role model? No. Flawed in the manner of the rest of us? Surely. As for "gratitude" (the state of being grateful, thankful) how can you judge that with total accuracy? Do you think he isn't grateful to those who support him? To those who don't spend every waking moment berating him? And then there's "humility" (displaying a lack of pride). No, our president is far from that. I believe he is proud of The United States of America, and many of his own accomplishments, some of which he can only share credit for having achieved. All chest thumping is not in and of itself evil.

So on my score card, I give Donald Trump 6 out of 10. I say he exceeds 50%. That's what I'd attribute to the President. If you don't agree, that's your perfect right. If I am off base, in your book, that doesn't make me a bigot, a racist, or any other form of miscreant. It just means we have differing points of view. hat's what the America I know is all about

This is a community-wide celebration and the public and media are welcome to attend.

"Seasons is grateful to the Iowa Department of Public Health for this funding to support local community efforts for the promotion of behavioral health," said Kim Scorza, CEO/President at Seasons. "We are appreciative of all of the support we've seen in our communities to help children in their recovery through Autumn's Center."

This spring, funding was also awarded by the Clay County Convention & Visitors Bureau to carry out this event.
