Mass Hysteria

A professor of clinical psychology at Victoria University in Wellington, New Zealand, included a lecture on crowd psychology in his annual course. To illustrate mass hysteria, he regularly showed TV news footage of teenage crowds greeting the Beatles at the local airport in the 1960's.

One year, when he ran the footage, he heard squeals and bursts of laughter from his students. When the film ended he asked what had caused the hilarity.

Replied one student, "We recognized some of our mothers!"

POP ROCK & SOUL TRIVIA BY MICK HARPER

FLASHBACK
By Mick Harper

1. Who had a hit with "Loves Me Like a Rock"?
2. Which artist wrote and released "Lonely Boy"?
3. Who released "Sixteen Reasons (Why I Love You)," and when?
4. Which artist wrote and released the original "From a Jack to a King"?
5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "I realize the best part of love is the thinnest slice, And it don't count for much, but I'm not letting go."

Answers

1. Paul Simon, in 1973. He was backed up by the Dixie Hummingbirds, a gospel group that started in 1928.
2. Andrew Gold. The 1977 song was later used in the films "Boogie Nights" and "The Waterboy."
3. Connie Stevens, in 1960. The song has been widely covered and was used in the film "Mulholland Drive" in 2001 with the actress lip-syncing the words.
4. Ned Miller, in 1957. The song was ignored until it was re-released in 1962, when it climbed the charts. Suddenly everyone wanted to cover it.
5. "Lost in Love, by Air Supply, in 1980. The song by the Australian group went to No. 1 in the U.S. and Canada, but failed to even crack the top 10 in their own country.

Forty-five million Americans are currently living in poverty.

For these families and individuals, a warm coat is something they simply cannot afford. URW Community Federal is asking for you to help us make a difference in our neighbor's lives by donating coats during our current coat drive!

We are working to collect clean, gently used warm coats to support our coat drive program, at all URW Branches. The process is simple: you drop off your extra coat(s) and URW takes care of the rest. All donated coats will be given to a local agency for distribution to local children in need. If you are a teacher and know of a child in your school that does not have a coat, please let us know.

Our goal is that no child will be left out in the cold in the URW Community.

Overweight Friends

Two overweight middle-aged women are on their daily walk. They were discussing how hard it is to lose weight as one gets older.

One woman complained that she remained apple-shaped. The other woman said that no matter how much she exercised, there was too much fat on her backside and thighs, and it seemed like it was there to stay.

Her friend agreed, saying, "It's true. The lard works in mysterious ways."

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

* It was beloved 20th-century American poet, memoirist and civil-rights activist Maya Angelou who made the following sage observation: "Perhaps travel cannot prevent bigotry, but by demonstrating that all peoples cry, laugh, eat, worry, and die, it can introduce the idea that if we try and understand each other, we may even become friends."

* You might be surprised to learn that in terms of holiday retail sales, Halloween is second only to Christmas.

* If you're a fan of beer and/or space, you might be interested in Celeste Jewel Beer. This ale, created by Delaware-based Dogfish Head Brewery, has a unique ingredient: moon dust. Yep -- lunar meteorites were crushed into dust, then steeped in Dogfish Head's Oktoberfest offering. The resulting libation, it's said, possesses a subtle but complex earthiness, with notes of doughy malt, toasted bread, subtle caramel and a light herbal bitterness.

* Those who study such things say that there is enough phosphorus in your body to make about 250 matches.

* Bayreuth Festspielhaus is an opera house north of Bayreuth, Germany. The venue is dedicated to the performance of works by Richard Wagner, and the 19th-century German composer himself chose and adapted the design. A key component is the seating: Not only are the seats arranged to give all attendees an equal and uninterrupted view of the stage, but they're also rather uncomfortable. It's been reported that Wagner intentionally chose exceptionally hard wooden seats to prevent the audience from treating his operas as fun.

Thought for the Day: "One of the primary tests of the mood of a society at any given time is whether its comfortable people tend to identify, psychologically, with the power and achievements of the very successful or with the needs and sufferings of the underprivileged." -- Richard Hofstadter

GUIDELINES FOR CITY RESIDENTS
October 1, 2017 - January 31, 2018

- Loose leaves can be either raked to the property line in a pile for vacuuming or bagged for pickup. Loose leaves can be placed in front of your property any time prior to your collection day. Bagged leaves should be placed out, no sooner than, the evening prior to your collection day.
- Loose leaves must be within reach of the vacuum machine from the paved roadway (no more than four feet).
- Do not mix loose leaves with brush, rocks, sticks, limbs, glass, or other solid objects.
- Do not place loose leaves in ditches below grade level.

- Typically, yard waste and loose leaves are collected on the same schedule as garbage collection.
- All contractors hired to do clearing of lots or tree work must remove any yard waste generated as a result of the work being done.

  - Timing of the first significant frost
  - Duration of leaf fall (gradual or all at once)
  - Significant amount of rain or drought during leaf season
  - Occurrence of fair weather raking weekends versus bad weather
  - Early snow falls (if snow occurs, the schedule will be modified accordingly)

Cricket Tables Never Wobbled

"For sale, typical English cricket table," said the auction ad. But what is a cricket table? Is it used for sports like the English game of cricket? Does it have anything to do with the insect? No. The cricket table was first named and used during the 16th century. The French word "cricquet" refers to its stick legs. And the table has three legs so it can be used where the floor is uneven.

This cricket table has the expected triangular top and three legs. It was made in England in the 19th century. The 25 1/2-inch high table sold for $1,170.

Remember your geometry — three points determine a plane, so all three legs of any length will touch the floor at the same time, while a four-legged table might wobble. Most antique cricket tables have triangular or round tops. Some have shelves halfway down the legs. It was a country furniture idea, and tables can be found that are made of sycamore, ash, oak, elm, cherry or walnut woods. A few have three drop leaves.

In 2016, Thomaston Auctions sold an elaborate oak cricket table with sawsage-turned legs and a T-stretcher for $1,170.

Q. I have a Hummel boy doll but can't find one that looks like it online. It's 11 1/2 inches high and made of rubber with painted eyes and molded hair. His head, arms and legs are in very good condition. There is a mark on the back with a bee inside a V. Can you tell me anything about its age and value?

A. Your doll is from the 1700 Series, which was made from 1953 until about 1959. He is called Peterle and is marked with the "full bee" trademark used by the W. Goebel Porcelain Co. of Germany from 1950 until 1959. The dolls were sold dressed in cloth outfits, some with small accessories like a goose, stein or travel pack. It appears your doll's clothing is a combination of pieces from other Hummel dolls and doesn't have any accessories. Dolls like yours sell for $25 to $50.

Q. How much is the book "My Turn at Bat, The Story of My Life" by Ted Williams as told to John Underwood worth? I have a copy autographed by Ted Williams.

A. This book was first published in 1969, when Ted Williams was manager of the Washington Senators. It recently has been republished with new pictures. A copy of the 1969 edition autographed by Ted Williams sold at auction this year for $132.

"The Most Precious Moments Of The Day"

My youngest daughter, age fourteen, was the last Wagner into the master bedroom. All five of us gather there each night to pray together before we retire for the evening. When she arrived, she was shrouded in a gray blanket, and her body movements were equally "gray."

"What are you doing, Sweetie?" I asked with a bit of perplexity. Mind you, I was not surprised that something odd was happening; in our household the odd is somewhat to be expected. I was merely curious as to what this latest oddity could possibly portend.

In the dreariest of voices, something Dickens or Poe would have delighted in, she intoned, "I am celebrating the death of my childhood..."

The room erupted in laughter, save for my dreary female progeny, who was intent on milking her act for all it was worth.

That was a week or so ago, and I honestly at this point do not remember what minor little issue in her life led her to proclaim the epitaph of her youth. I do know that those few moments we all spend together with each other and the Lord night after night are, to me, the most precious moments of the day.

Our conversations may be merely a few moments, or may extend into quite a while. Questions are asked and answered, everyone catches up on how everyone else's day went, and plans are laid for the following day. Our family and church family usually comes up then, as we remind each other who and what needs helping or praying for.

The prayer time that follows the conversation is often entirely serious, as five people join hearts and beseech the Lord for so many things that we know only he can handle. At other times, the prayer time itself becomes a time of laughter as we invite the Lord into our moments of sheer joy. Did you think that God does not know how to laugh, and does not appreciate good humor?

Where exactly do you think humor and laughter came from?

Genesis 21:6 says, "And Sarah said, God hath made me to laugh, so that all that hear will laugh with me." A person who cannot see the miracle in a ninety year old woman getting pregnant is an imbecile, and a person who cannot see the humor in a ninety year old woman getting pregnant will not need any help from a mortician upon his death, since he clearly is already pre-embalmed.

There are hugs and kisses to close out our time together, and then feet shuffle down the hallway to their respective places as we all seek out the glorious rest that will rejuvenate us for the tasks of the following day. Precious moments indeed.

The family unit is the very building block of our society, and that society will be about as strong or weak as the family units that make it up. There is not enough money or social programs in the world to make up for an epidemic of broken homes, split families, boys not having the godly influence of a father, and girls not having the godly influence of a mother. Can individual kids grow up to do right, even through less than ideal circumstances? Yes. Trust me, I know this on a very personal level.

But everyone out there raising kids needs to understand that getting pregnant or getting someone pregnant ushers you into a whole new world of responsibility. You had the fun, now you have the responsibility that comes from it.

People often shrink from or entirely abandon that responsibility. That is a shame on so many levels. They are hurting a child and by extension the entire society when they do so. But what they apparently do not realize is how much of a loss they are inflicting on themselves as well. Those few moments talking and laughing and praying before bed each night? They are utterly, inconceivably precious.

You can have your profligate lifestyle if you want. But it will never hold a candle to the precious moments.

A Fib Increases Risk of Blood Clots, Stroke

DEAR DR. ROACH: I have been taking warfarin (Coumadin) for two years now. I started taking it after a knee-replacement surgery, when they discovered I had atrial fibrillation. I have high blood pressure and high cholesterol that are controlled with medication, and diabetes controlled with diet. Do you think I need to be on warfarin if my blood pressure and cholesterol are well-controlled? Before the surgery I was on two 81-mg tablets of aspirin. Could I safely go back? -- J.K.

ANSWER: Doctors recommend warfarin or other anticoagulant medication for people with atrial fibrillation -- a chaotic condition of the electrical system of the heart -- if they have more than minimal risk for blood clots and stroke. Older age, female sex, high blood pressure and diabetes (even if controlled), congestive heart failure and history of stroke or vascular disease all increase risk for stroke in people with atrial fibrillation, also known as A fib.

Although I don't know how old you are, just being female and having high blood pressure and diabetes puts you in a risk category where you would normally be recommended to stay on anticoagulation. Never stop warfarin (or similar medication) without first discussing it with your physician.

READERS: Atrial fibrillation affects some 2 million Americans and becomes more common as we age. To learn more about A fib, order the booklet on Heartbeat Irregularities by writing: Dr. Roach -- No. 107W, 628 Virginia Drive, Orlando, FL 32803. Enclose a check or money order (no cash) for $4.75 U.S./$6 Canada with the recipient's printed name and address. Please allow four weeks for delivery. ***

DEAR DR. ROACH: I am a post-menopausal woman (12 years since my last cycle). Last month, I had a light period that lasted over a week. I have seen my OB/GYN, who sent me for a pelvic ultrasound and a transvaginal ultrasound. The only thing it showed was a thickening of the lining. I then had a biopsy, and the results came back showing normal cells. He seems stumped, and said that if it happens again, he'd suggest a D and C. But, as he acknowledged, a 66-year-old woman isn't supposed to be having periods. Obviously, he and I both know something isn't right but just don't know what it might be. Any thoughts? -- D.H.

ANSWER: Any bleeding after menopause needs to be evaluated, since it can represent uterine cancer about 10 percent of the time. Fortunately, that is very unlikely with a normal biopsy. Since you did have a thickened endometrium, it is possible that you have endometrial hyperplasia, though this should have shown up on the biopsy. An ultrasound should have picked up a polyp.

If it does happen again, you should certainly have further evaluation. Even though a negative biopsy is very good evidence that there isn't a cancer, no test is perfect. About 20 percent of women with persistent bleeding after a normal biopsy had cancer or a precancerous lesion. This occasionally happens when the uterine cancer is in one focal place, rather than present throughout the lining of the uterus. ***

Dr. Roach regrets that he is unable to answer individual letters, but will incorporate them in the column whenever possible. ### Time for Medicare Open Enrollment

Medicare has open enrollment every year between Oct. 15 and Dec. 7. It's the only time you can make changes to your existing plans. Making decisions about Medicare can be tough because once you make any changes, you have to live with them for a year. Here are a few things to know:

- When you sign up during open enrollment, coverage will start Jan. 1, 2018.
- If you've already had Medicare, you'll receive a Medicare & You booklet in the mail. Spend the time between now and December reviewing it and deciding if you need to make any changes.
- By now you should have received notices in the mail as well, either a Notice of Change or Evidence of Coverage, and maybe both. These will tell you whether there are changes to your existing plan and whether the costs are changing.
- If you go with an Advantage plan, you'll also likely need a Part D drug plan to go along with it. If you have an Advantage plan and don't like it, now is the time to make a change.
- Many people who like their current plan do nothing and are automatically re-enrolled, but beware: There might be changes in the plan's cost and coverage that you won't know about unless you read the notices. To review other possible plans, go online to www.medicare.gov and look for the plan-finder tool.

Best bet: If this is your first time signing up, or if you know you need to make changes to your plan but need help, get advice. There's too much at stake to just pick a plan you haven't studied. On the Medicare website, look for contacts and select your state, then look for State Health Insurance Assistance Program. Or call Medicare directly at 1-800-MEDICARE.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

October 8, 2017

Hancock will provide county leadership we need

Barbara Hancock deserves to be elected to serve the Callands-Gretna District of the Pittsylvania County Board of Supervisors on November 7. Her commitment to the people of the district and the county at large is matched only by her remarkable ability to manage multiple projects while maintaining a competent, poised stature—especially in the face of adversity. The challenges she will certainly face as supervisor require someone who is qualified and experienced in leadership roles and not only understands the demands and responsibilities of such a position, but also possesses the determination and persistence to see those challenges through in such a way that most benefits the residents of Pittsylvania County. Barbara Hancock fits the bill.

Barbara's interest in the county is a personal one. She was born and raised in Gretna. She grew up across the road from her grandfather's farm and spent a lot of time there. This places Pittsylvania County's agricultural concerns high on her list of priorities. Barbara attended Gretna High School and Pittsylvania Career & Technical Center and she understands the value and importance of workforce training in the context of what sort of high-paying jobs are available in this area as well as the implications of local economic development efforts and how they relate to creating a trained, sustainable employment base to attract new industries to Danville and Pittsylvania County for the long-term prosperity of our region. Hancock also understands the unique concerns of small business owners as she herself is an entrepreneur, operating a health and wellness company. She and her husband, Rodney, have also operated Hancock Electric for 11 years and Hancock Boat Repair since the 1990s.

Barbara is a registered nurse and worked at Danville Regional Medical Center for decades. That role demanded that she be extremely detailed, delicate, and precise. The Callands-Gretna District needs a leader who is attentive to all aspects of county concerns, is considerate and deliberate in decision-making, and will make choices based on careful research with specific, measurable outcomes for the county and its residents. Thousands of people have trusted Barbara with their lives under her medical care as an RN. We can confidently trust her with leading and serving our county.

Barbara is not afraid of going against the grain. She decided to homeschool her two children in 1997. That decision was met with much criticism because it was not seen as a popular choice during that time. She quickly developed a deep respect for all teachers, from homeschool parents to public and private school teachers. During that time, Barbara led homeschool and youth ministry groups and effectively raised the profile of homeschooling in Pittsylvania County while simultaneously reducing the stigma associated with it, thus opening doors for more parents to have more choices when it comes to their children's formal education. I admire and respect Barbara for her hard-fought struggles as a homeschool instructor and everything that she accomplished by the time her sons both graduated.

Barbara has spoken openly about her commitment to volunteer fire and rescue personnel, local law enforcement and county employees, education resources in the area, county and regional economic development, road improvements, accountability, citizen empowerment, and fiscal responsibility. I have no doubt that she will spend every moment in elected office working for the betterment of our lives as residents of Pittsylvania County. Barbara is the comprehensive candidate in the race for Callands-Gretna, and she possesses all the characteristics and skills of a strong, competent, distinguished leader.

Please cast your ballot for Barbara Hancock on November 7.

CW's "Arrow." As his recurring role unfolds, we'll find out what his evil plan — yes, he's playing a villain — is for Green Arrow and friends. I'm betting it will be particularly cerebral and diabolical. Michael also recently had a guest spot on "Claws," the TNT drama about a woman who owns a nail salon with her best friends, and they are caught up with the local drug gang and are trafficking through the shop.

Q. I love Kelly Clarkson's new song, "Love So Soft." When will the album be out? — Brandi Y., via email

A.: "The Meaning of Life" drops Oct. 27. This is Kelly's first album with Atlantic Records; she just completed her "American Idol" recording contract with RCA Records. Also, look for her next season (season 14) on "The Voice," where she'll occupy one of the spinning chairs as a judge nurturing new musical talent.

* Use glow-in-the-dark paint to light a path in your yard. Simply paint a series of rock markers, and when the sun goes down, your path will be lit up.

* Ingenious way to hide a back-up key: Hot glue a decorative or distinctive stone to the top of a clean pill bottle. Insert key and close top. Simply bury the bottle somewhere in your yard or garden bed, leaving the stone above ground. When you need a key, it's easy to pull up.

* Got a few minutes standing in line? Go through the photos on your smartphone, deleting those that are out of focus or no longer relevant (like the pic you snapped a month ago of your grocery list written on the fridge white board!). Download photos off your phone to a storage device weekly. You'll thank yourself if your device is lost or damaged.

* Fun pre-Halloween activity alert: "Our family likes to host a spooky movie night near Halloween for all the kids. If the weather is nice, we project a kid-friendly movie on an outdoor screen and invite neighborhood kids over to have a pajama party in the back yard." -- E.L. in Tennessee

* Make your own face paint with a few simple ingredients. Mix cornstarch and lotion together to form a paste. Mix in a few drops of vegetable oil to keep the paste from drying out and cracking. Then add washable paint to the paste to color. Apply with makeup sponges or cotton swabs, then add glitter, etc. Have fun!

* Recipe substitution: Need baking powder? Mix 1/4 teaspoon baking soda with 1/4 teaspoon cornstarch and 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar.

VA Grants Boost Adaptive Sports

An estimated 10,000 disabled veterans are expected to benefit from the $8 million in grants that the Department of Veterans Affairs will award to sports programs for 2018. Groups in all 50 states will get a cut of the money to use in planning, managing and implementing their programs.

These programs range from city and regional sports, community groups, and parks and rec to sports clinics, wheelchair games and golf tournaments ... even to preparation for Paralympic competition.

Here are just a few of the sports the grants have covered: triathlon, table tennis, basketball, rowing, martial arts, swimming, rafting, wheelchair rugby, archery, judo, climbing, fishing, soccer, powerlifting and slalom. This year the grants covered events in both summer (kayaking, surfing, sailing) and winter (skiing, curling, hockey), sports clinics, Golden Age games (seniors over age 55), bowling, shooting and cycling, a creative arts festival and wheelchair games. The programs offered get bigger every year.

Interested in participating? For one thing, it's a lot of fun, and you'll meet others with the same challenges, goals and determination. If you think you're not quite up to it yet, talk to your clinical team about what you can do to get ready to participate in adaptive programs.

And just so you know ... a new study of adaptive sports found that benefits included increased employment, self-confidence and a peer-education system. Add in independence, reduced need for pain and depression medication and fewer secondary medical conditions, and it's worth checking out. To learn more, go online to www.va.gov/adaptive-sports. If you'll be training at the Paralympic level, there is a monthly stipend to help with expenses, if you qualify. Check the website for details.

HOLLYWOOD

by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — Matt Damon has two big films coming out: “Downsizing,” directed by Alexander Payne, co-starring two-time Oscar-winner Christoph Waltz and Kristen Wiig (due Oct. 27); and “Suburbicon,” directed by George Clooney and co-starring Oscar-winner Julianne Moore (out Dec. 22). Now he’ll produce and star in “Charlatan” (based on Pope Brooks’ 2008 bestseller), in which Damon plays real-life doctor John R. Brinkley, who was accused in 1918 of causing several deaths because of his botched procedures used to cure impotency.

“Dancing with the Stars” should be called just “Dancing,” or maybe “Dancing with the Pros.” This season even the professional dancers are more famous than the so-called stars. I recognized “98 Degrees” Nick Lachey from his crazy marriage to Jessica Simpson, but could barely recognize his wife, Vanessa (Minnillo) Lachey, from “Entertainment Tonight” reporting and the short-lived Fox series “Dads.” Also, singer Debbie Gibson was an ‘80s pop star, and Frankie Nunez of “Malcolm in the Middle” (2000-06) faded some time ago. Most viewers enjoy watching the dancing and the process of getting there, so either get real stars or stop calling it “Dancing with the STARS”!

Who’d have thought a guy sitting behind a desk, ranting about current events for 30 minutes, once a week, could beat Colbert, Corden, Kimmel and Samantha Bee as Best Talk Show Host this year. John Oliver won three Emmys for writing “The Daily Show”; one in 2015 for his HBO show “Last Week with John Oliver”; two in 2016 and the three this year (the other two for writing for variety talk and outstanding interactive program). So much for the 90-minute, five times a week talk format.

Meanwhile, Benedict Cumberbatch, who lost “his” Oscar (for “The Imitation Game”) to Eddie Redmayne (“The Theory of Everything”), has won only one Emmy (in 2014) from five nominations, including this year for playing Sherlock Holmes.

***
Hedy Lamarr — the hot screen siren in classic films such as 1933’s “Ecstasy” (also the name of her best-selling book), “Algiers” (1938) with Charles Boyer, “Ziegfeld Girl” (1941) with Lana Turner and Judy Garland, and Cecil B. DeMille’s epic “Samson and Delilah” (1949) with Victor Mature — was more than just another sex symbol. Diane Kruger will play Lamarr in a mini-series about her inventions (especially a frequency-hopping radio signal) that led to the creation of Bluetooth and Wi-Fi, which she wasn’t recognized for until long after her death. She’s probably better known for when Harvey Korman, playing Hedley Lamarr, in Mel Brooks’ “Blazing Saddles” (1974), constantly said, “Hedley Lamarr, not Hedy Lamarr!” Had she lived, she would have been in sheer “Ecstasy,” as we are with the Bluetooth and Wi-Fi she gave us!

- 1 1/2 cups mayonnaise
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons white vinegar
- Salt and freshly ground pepper
- 2 cups cheddar cheese shredded
- 8 ounces ham diced
- 4 hard-boiled eggs sliced
- 6 slices bacon fried and crumbled
- 5 stalks celery sliced
- 1 cup chopped broccoli
- 1 red pepper seeded and diced
- 4 scallions sliced

Get Ingredients Powered by Chicory

Instructions

In a large pot, bring 4 quarts water and 1 table-spoon salt to a boil. Add pasta and cook until tender, about 10 to 12 minutes. Drain well and rinse with cold water.

Meanwhile, in a small bowl whisk together mayonnaise, sugar, vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Set aside.

Pour pasta into a large bowl. Add cheese, ham, bacon, eggs, celery, broccoli, pepper, and scallions. Stir to combine.

Add most of the salad dressing and toss until evenly coated, reserving a small amount to refresh the salad if it needed.

Recipe Notes

All components (including the dressing) can be assembled ahead of time such as the night before.

Just toss everything together in a large bowl right before serving.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You're eager to Ram headfirst into that new project. But before you do, find out why some of your colleagues might not appear to be as gung-ho about it as you are.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) All that dedicated hard work you've been putting in pays off better than you expected. So go ahead, reward yourself with something befitting a beauty-loving Bovine.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) It's a good time to take on that new challenge. And if your self-confidence is sagging, instead of telling yourself why you can't do it, list all the reasons why you can.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) This is one time when you might want to put some distance between you and the job at hand. It will give you a better perspective on what you've done and still need to do.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Resist that occasional lapse into Leonine laziness that sometimes overtakes the Big Cat. Don't cut corners. Do the job right at this time, or you might have to redo it later.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You know how you like to do things. And that's fine. But watch that you don't impose your methods on others. A current financial crunch soon eases.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Someone might try to take advantage of your generosity. But before your sensitivity toward others overwhelms your good sense, check his or her story out carefully.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your strong Scorpion sense of fairness lets you see all sides of a dispute. Continue to remain impartial as you help each person work through his or her particular grievance.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Trust your keen Sagittarian insight to help you see through an offer that might not be all it claims. A closer look could reveal disturbing elements.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) With the Goat exhibiting a more dominant aspect these days, you could find it easier to make your case in front of even the most skeptical audience.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Take things nice and easy as you continue to build up your energy reserves for a big change that's coming with the full Hunter's Moon on Oct. 29.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Recent news from someone you trust could help you make an important decision. Also, be prepared to confront an upcoming change in a personal situation.

BORN THIS WEEK: You can be firm in your own views, but also flexible enough to welcome the views of others.

PET-FRIENDLY

PRACTICES FOR FALL

FAMILY FEATURES

As scorching temperatures fade and pest season passes, pet owners may breathe a sigh of relief. Although the seasonal risks of summer are gone, your four-legged friend may need some special attention this autumn, as well.

Cold-weather pests. Though the dangers associated with ticks, mosquitos and other creepy, crawly critters lessen as the temperatures drop, those same colder days bring other creatures scurrying inside and that can present a whole new set of problems. Rats and mice tend to migrate indoors in search of warmth and the poisons used to eliminate them can be highly toxic to pets. Be sure pesticides are used in areas inaccessible to your animals.

Stay alert. Ticks may be less prevalent in the fall, but that doesn't mean they're gone completely – especially if hospitable environments remain. Keep yard and garden debris to a minimum and continue administering repellents for any pets that spend time outdoors.

On the move. Seasonal changes mean wildlife is on the move, making changes to settle into winter. Snakes are often more mobile during autumn months and inexperienced pets may risk bites if they tangle with intruders.

Shiny, new things. Kids aren't the only ones attracted to a collection of new school supplies. Curious pets may dive into a pile of crayons, markers, rulers and other supplies, and although the items likely aren't toxic, they can result in digestive blockages or damage from sharp, broken edges.

Anticipate energy needs. Colder temperatures can mean your pet has to exert more energy to keep warm and that may warrant bumping up meal serving sizes. Consult with your veterinarian about the appropriate feeding amounts for your pet's specific breed, health and lifestyle needs.

Auto-related issues. Many car owners use the change of season as a milestone for car maintenance and winterizing, such as changing oil or antifreeze. Antifreeze in particular is highly toxic; a small quantity can kill pets and, unfortunately, the sweet smell makes it quite attractive to curious creatures. Clean spills thoroughly and take added precaution by keeping pets away from your work area entirely while handling these substances.

Not so fun-gus. Damp conditions can bring about a surge of mushrooms. Although only a small percentage of mushrooms are toxic, they can be hard to distinguish from the non-toxic variety. A good rule of thumb: keep pets clear of areas where mushrooms may be found, or if that's not possible, conduct regular checks and remove any temptation that pops up.

Comfort foods. Most pet owners know chocolate is dangerous for pets, but many other foods that are common in the fall can also be problematic. Keep pets away from rich, savory foods that can upset their digestion and leave Fido at home during your annual jaunt to the apple orchard; apple stems, seeds and cores can create plenty of digestive havoc. If you want to indulge your pet with a little seasonal flavor, instead try offering fresh or canned pumpkin.

4 Benefits of Personalized Dog Food

For dog owners, your pet is often your world and there are few things more special than the bond you share. From playtime to mealtime, you never settle for “good enough,” and your dog's health is no different.

When deciding which dog food works best for your pet, keep personalized foods like Just Right by Purina in mind, which can help address your dog's unique needs. It combines your firsthand knowledge with nutritional expertise to create the best dog food blend for your dog. By answering a few questions about your pet's breed size, eating habits and more, you can create a personalized blend of food that includes your dog's name, photo and feeding recommendation that gets shipped directly to your door.

Feeding your dog personalized food could help yield these benefits:

Healthy skin and coat

By providing important details about your dog's skin and its needs, certain ingredients can be included in order to avoid dry and itchy skin. Omega-3 fatty acids from fish oil, along with vitamin A and linoleic acid, can help keep your pup's skin refreshed and can give your dog's coat the nourishment it needs to be shiny and healthy.

Ideal body condition

Being the right weight can contribute to a lot of different health factors, but having an ideal body condition can be about more than just the amount of food you feed your pet. The right amount of fats and proteins can help keep your dog right where he or she needs to be. Just as important, each dog has different metabolisms and different caloric needs, so personalized feeding instructions like those offered by Just Right by Purina can help your dog reach his or her ideal body condition.

Joint health and mobility

Many dogs are often on the move – walking, running and playing. Having healthy bones and joints can support your dog's overall health. Choosing a formula with proper amounts of calcium and phosphorus can help support joints and bones.

Brain development

Puppies need all the help they can get when it comes to growing and supporting life-long health. Giving them foods that include nutrients like DHA that support brain and vision development can inspire your puppy's curiosity about the world.

Young or old, big or small, every dog's nutritional needs are unique. Find more ways to benefit your dog at mealtime at justrightpetfood.com.
