Window Replacement Tips

There are several reasons to do your replacement before its gets too cold. First, you won't be letting in chilly drafts that will force you to pump up your heat—and therefore your heating bill! This is especially true if you're replacing multiple windows.

Second, caulk adheres better in the warmer weather than it does in the freezing cold. Ideally, latex caulk should only be applied when temperatures range between 40 to 80 degrees Fahrenheit. If you use silicone, you may be able to apply it in colder weather, but you'll need to warm the caulk before applying so that it will flow smoothly and evenly.

Finally, there's what's contractors call the "movement of the substrate." Some materials—particularly vinyl and aluminum—expand in warm weather and contract in the cold. If you or your contractor applies caulk to your windows when the weather is too cold, it could crack and split when the materials eventually contract as a result of temperature drop.

Of course, there are times when you can't get around a cold-weather installation. You just need to take a few precautions to make sure that the window is replaced safely.

- Have your contractor come on a sunnier, warmer day if possible. Schedule the job for mid-morning—this will give the materials a chance to warm up and expand. Be wary about a rainy forecast—some sealants need up to 24 hours to set before they can be exposed to water. If it has recently rained, ask your contractor to allow the exterior surfaces to dry before beginning the project.
- Make sure your contractor applies silicone-based caulk around the window instead of latex or acrylic. Not only will it more readily adhere to the window in colder temperatures, it's also better at waterproofing and weatherization—which will make your heating and cooling work more efficiently and save you money on your energy bills, too.
- If you want exceptionally high performance, ask your contractor to use sealant that has high joint movement capability. This is usually expressed as a measurement on the bottle—a caulk with plus or minus 25 percent movement will perform better when installed in cold weather than one with plus or minus 12 percent.

Preparing the Area for Installation

No matter what time of year you schedule your window replacement, the project will come off a lot better if you prepare for the job before your contractor arrives. Here's a handy checklist that will make installation run as smoothly as possible:

- Cut back any tree branches or shrubs that may create obstacles for your installer, particularly in the spring and summer when foliage is full and more likely to get in the way.
- Clean the area surrounding the window, since dust and pollen on uncleaned surfaces can mix with caulk and cause problems in spring and summer.
- Purchase several drop cloths and floor-to-ceiling plastic sheeting to protect your home from dust, paint, and debris—and to keep heating and cooling from escaping while the contractors work.
- Remove windows, curtains, blinds, and any other window treatments to avoid damage.
- Clear furniture away from the windows—but avoid creating an obstruction between the window and the front door. Your installer should be able to enter and exit your home without having to navigate an obstacle course.
- If you have a security system with window sensors, deactivate it before your contractor begins working.
- Keep pets secured in a room away from the work. Installers are hauling heavy materials in and out of your home and may not have time to keep an eye out for Spot.

Recipes & Uses

AMPLIFY is a special blend of herbs and spices that perk up the flavors in a variety of dishes. It has been used as a rub for beef, pork, chicken and fish. Amplify is great when added to fresh and roasted vegetables, potatoes, sauces and even salads! It is truly an everything spice, as it is a combination of spices that you use most often in your cooking. Ingredients include black and red peppers, oregano, basil, garlic and onion powder, coarse salt, sunflower oil, natural flavors, and paprika.

Taste Testing:
 Nov. 4 Weidman Eagles Club (Craft Show)
 Nov. 11 Keepsake Craft Show (West Intermediate)
 Nov. 18 It's A Girls Thing (Hayes Township Hall)

Use Amplify Spices:
 Grilling, Soups, Sauces & Marinade

Roasted Vegetables:
 Spray a sheet of aluminum foil or cookie sheet with vegetable oil. Cut potatoes, onions, zucchini, and red peppers, place on foil sheet, sprinkle with olive oil, and Amplify. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes! Enjoy!!! Use your favorite combination of veggies.

-Kim Funnell
