Jogging Shoes

Deciding to take up jogging, the middle-aged man was astounded by the wide selection of jogging shoes available at the local sports shoe store. While trying on a basic pair of jogging shoe, he noticed a minor feature and asked the clerk about it. “What’s this little pocket thing here on the side for?”

“Oh, that’s to carry spare change so you can call your wife to come pick you up when you’ve jogged too far.”

Dating Again

After four years of separation, my wife and I finally divorced amicably. I wanted to date again, but I had no idea of how to start, so I decided to look in the personals column of the local newspaper. After reading through all the listings, I circled three that seemed possible in terms of age and interest, but I put off calling them.

Two days later, there was a message on my answering machine from my ex-wife. “I came over to your house to borrow some tools today and saw the ads you circled in the paper. Don’t call the one in the second column. It’s me.”

Relax, we'll do the housework.

Aqua-thermal Treatment

I called an old classmate and asked what he was doing.

He replied that he was working on “Aqua-thermal treatment of ceramics, aluminum, and steel under a constrained environment.”

I was impressed...

Upon further inquiring, I learned that he was washing dishes with hot water under his wife’s supervision.

REMEMBER OUR VETERANS

SGT RICHARD KASSANDER
(BORN SEPT. 10, 1920-DIED JULY 27, 2017)

Throughout his service in World War II, Richard Kassander had to live with the fact the U.S. Army gave him a score of 64, a normal to average IQ rating, after taking the Army General Classification Test. It is a test that is meant to assess intelligence or other abilities.

The real story, as told by his son-in-law Richard Ruskin, Kassander actually scored a 164 — but when an officer saw the results, he thought it was a misprint because he’d never seen a score so high.

Never mind that Kassander would eventually become a University of Arizona vice president or that he would become professor of physics and director of the UA Institute of Atmospheric Physics — that was years later.

By 1943, America’s effort to vanquish fascism was in full swing when Kassander, who was raised in New York, was drafted. Kassander had just gotten married to his beloved Sally. He became a combat engineer, trained in the fine art of demolition.

The Army discovered he had a master’s degree and had worked as a petroleum geologist, so it did the next best thing ... it assigned him to the 1375th Engineering Petroleum Company.

He was taught to lay gasoline pipelines, connect pumps and to operate, as well as erect, storage tanks, some of which could hold a million gallons of precious fuel.

For a modern Army with its fast-moving tanks, mechanized transports and aircraft, fuel was a vital part of the war effort. Without it, a modern army could not move.

A month after D-Day, Kassander found himself on a barge heading toward France. His unit was ordered to scramble down into a Landing Craft Tank, or LCT, that was going to Utah Beach. After the ramp dropped he waded in four-feet of water with a rifle over his head as his unit walked on French soil.

His unit’s mission was to establish a continuous line of fuel with storage tanks every 50 miles, depending on the terrain, and stay as close to the front lines with the advancing troops as best they could.

Before war’s end it had built an extensive system of pipelines and tanks across northern France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg and over the Rhine into Germany.

The unit’s weapons: bulldozers, tractors, jackhammers, light cranes, welding equipment, electric generators, pumps, engines and parts.

In the process, the outfit supported Gen. Omar Bradley’s First and Patton’s Third Army, as well as the Ninth Army. They also supported the British Second Army and the Canadian First Army.

Kassander’s outfit participated in the breakout from Normandy, the Battle of the Bulge, as well as campaigns in the Rhineland and Central Europe.

During the Bulge, his platoon found itself behind German lines while on the way to Holland to assemble a large fuel tank near an airstrip.

Upon reaching Allied lines, the platoon was greeted by cautious GIs wary of German infiltrators dressed in American uniforms. They were allowed to pass only after a member of his outfit knew a “deck of humps” meant a pack of Camel cigarettes.

The outfit continued to build pipelines until the European war ended in May 1945. From there its members were to return to the States for retraining and then continue on to the war in the Pacific. That is until August, when the atomic bomb was dropped, prompting the Empire of Japan to surrender.

After his discharge he used the GI Bill to get a doctorate in physics from Iowa State University in 1950 then joined the faculty at the UA.

As a UA vice president for research, Kassander was instrumental in the creation of numerous organized research units including the Lunar and Planetary Laboratory and the Flandrau Planetarium.

Not bad for a man with an IQ of 64.

PLEASE HELP. I'VE BEEN GIVEN THIS CUTE LITTLE PUPPY BUT MY WIFE SAYS I CAN'T HAVE ANOTHER DOG. I NEED TO FIND A GOOD HOME FOR HER.

SHE'S 51, NON SMOKER, CLEANS UP WELL, AND GOOD COOK.

Tidy Housekeeper?

The bride was anything but a tidy housekeeper. It didn't bother her much until one evening when her husband called from the hall, somewhat dismayed: "Honey, what happened to the dust on this table? I had a phone number written on it."

ARE THE LONG diagonal lines shown above straight and parallel?

Answer: Yes. The short lines make them appear to be unaligned.

A CROOKED CALCULATION! A dishonest tradesman measured out 20 feet of rope for a customer. Using a yardstick that was 3 inches too short, how much rope "didn't" the customer get?

Answer: 18 inches. In measuring the first 18 feet, 3 inches were lost for each yard. There was no loss for the last 2 feet.

Illustrated by David Coulson

IT'S MAGIC! Use the numbers 4 through 13 to fill in our Magic Square. The numbers in each horizontal row and vertical column should total 47. We've filled in six of the squares. The rest is up to you.

Leader of the Pack

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I have three dogs -- two Schnauzers, male and female, and a poodle, male. My female Schnauzer, "Chloe," plays great with the other two, but when the time comes for them to relax, she goes crazy licking their ears and eyes. It doesn't seem to bother the two males, but the continuous licking sounds really bother me. Is this just a female mommy-thing or is she obsessed? All three dogs have been fixed. -- Jackie M. in Denver

DEAR JACKIE: Chloe's behavior sounds more like a compulsion than a simple "mommy" or nurturing thing. It also seems to be a way of signaling dominance over the two males. Whether it bothers the other dogs or not, it bothers you, and you can work to stop it. Recognizing pack dominance is important for dog owners regardless of how many dogs they have. Chloe may be the dominant dog of the trio, but you are the dominant member of the pack. Start by giving the dogs a refresher course in basic commands: sit, down and stay being the most important for this scenario. Dogs that quickly obey basic commands are often easier to train out of other habits. When the dogs have been placed in a "down" position and told to "stay," keep an eye on Chloe. If she starts licking the others, repeat the "stay" command; if she continues the behavior, separate her from the others and practice the "down-stay" commands for a few minutes. Other methods are available for curbing compulsive behavior, but daily training in basic commands is important in establishing a base to work from. If training doesn't help, consult your veterinarian to rule out any health issues with the dogs and to get advice on Chloe's behavior.

Q.I heard that Amy Sherman-Palladino has a new show out. Where and when can I see it? — Kelli D., via email

A.The talented creator of "The Gilmore Girls" has a new series called "The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel," which premieres Nov. 29 on Amazon Prime. The series takes place in 1958 in New York City. Midge Maisel (played by Rachel Brosnahan, whom you might remember as Doug Stamper's doomed ex-prostitute girlfriend, Rachel Posner, on "House of Cards") has her life on track: husband, kids and elegant Yom Kippur dinners in their Upper West Side apartment. But when her life takes a surprise turn, she has to quickly decide what else she's good at ... and going from housewife to stand-up comic is a wild choice to everyone but her. The pilot episode is available now on Amazon, and you can see for yourself why everyone is raving about this new series.

Regina Long Lynch

Regina Long Lynch, age 79, of 248 Long Circle, Danville, VA, died on Monday, October 30, 2017.

Mrs. Lynch was born on March 6, 1938, in Pittsylvania County, VA, a daughter of the late Claude “Boots” Long and Eva Gauldin Long. She lived most of her life in Brosville, where she graduated from Brosville High School in 1957. Mrs. Lynch went on to work at Bassett Walker in Martinsville and later at Brosville Elementary School Cafeteria. On November 21, 1957, she married Leroy Lynch who preceded her in death. She was a member of Brosville United Methodist Church where she served on church council, as a trustee, and PPR. She was also a member of the Brosville United Methodist Women’s Club.

Mrs. Lynch is survived by her son, Kenny Lee Lynch (Christina Koehler); a sister, Gail Long Dalton; a brother, William Allen Long; granddaughters, Heidi Ingram (Brandon) and Jessica Reutzell (Scott); great grandchildren, Aiden Reutzell and Blake Ingram; nephew, Eddie Long; nieces, Carrie Rigsby and Sue Robinson; ten great nieces and nephews.

In addition to her parents and husband, she was predeceased by a brother, Hugh E. Long.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday, November 2, 2017 at 11:00 AM at Brosville United Methodist Church with Rev. Inteck Oh and Rev. Greg Robinson officiating. Visitation will be held Wednesday evening from 6:00 until 7:30 at Swicegood Funeral Home and at other times will be at 285 Long Circle, Cascade, VA. Interment will follow in Danville Memorial Gardens.

The family would like to thank Sandy Wilson with Commonweath Home Health, Dr. Penland and staff, and her special cousins, Dot Bray, Lois Dodd and David Long, for all their care, love and support.

Swicegood Funeral Service is respectfully serving the Lynch family.

Jimmy E. Barksdale

Jimmy E. Barksdale, age 67, of 181 City View Court, Ringgold, VA, died on Sunday, October 29, 2017 at SOVAH – Danville.

Mr. Barksdale was born on January 23, 1950, in Danville, VA, a son of the late Cecil Barksdale and Helen Weatherford Barksdale. He lived most of his life in Ringgold, VA, where he was employed as a foreman with Dimon Tobacco Company. He was of the Christian faith.

Mr. Barksdale is survived by his fiancé, Synthia Cook and daughter, Savannah Barksdale, of the residence; children, James E. Barksdale and Timothy Barksdale; one granddaughter, Olivia Young; brother, Ronald W. Barksdale; niece, Amber Dawn Easley; step-son, Michael Cook, of Keeling; and step-daughter, Melinda Cook, of the residence.

In addition to his parents, he was predeceased by a brother, Ricky Lee Barksdale; and a sister, Lisa Dawn Easley.

"What One Can Learn While Pinned Under A Barbell"

Many times throughout the year I preach revival and evangelistic meetings in different churches around the country. But once or twice a year we have a revival meeting at our own church. And one time we have always done so is upon us again, the full week
before Thanksgiving, which this year is November 12-17.
In that particular meeting
we always have veteran
evangelist Don Sessions with us, and it always ends up being a great spark for our church.

In recent days I have noticed many "Facebook theologians" mocking the concept of revival meetings.
Their fallacious arguments can be summarized as follows: "revival is not a meeting, it is a spiritual occurrence. Therefore having 'revival meetings' is a useless endeavor."

Some years ago I finally took up a hobby. Being a certified workaholic, I had resisted that idea for years.
But when I found power lifting I was immediately hooked, and have spent six years or so actively pursuing it.

For those who have ever taken up that hobby, a truth
quickly and rudely presents itself. There is no such thing as "maintaining" in the absence of going to the gym.
If a person stops lifting for a while, then goes back and starts again, he will find that he has lost ground that can only be regained with a lot of consistent effort.

Mind you, like most things,
I had to find this out the hard way...
There is something uniquely humiliating about being in the weight room, alone,
pinned under a barbell

loaded down with weight.
One knows that there are people in the other room that he could call out (weakly) for, but the prospect of being rescued
by a little blue-haired lady is simply more than an alpha male can bear.

I suppose it is good that I violate a few rules of weight lifting now and then, such as not putting clips on the bar. On the day of my near demise, as my life was passing before me and I was contemplating all of the people that, if I had rabies,
I would love to have one
more opportunity to bite,
it dawned on me that if I would shift the bar to one side, the plates may slide off.

They did. With an Armageddon-like explosion.
And then, since the other side of the bar was now the heavy one, the bar quickly tilted that way causing a second sonic boom. And by this time several of the little blue haired ladies were coming to see what was happening, not just one of them.

Sometimes one gets red in
the face in the gym because
of lifting very heavy things.
Sometimes one gets red in
the face in the gym because he is looking for a place to hide.

The weight I got stuck
under was one I had done
hundreds of time before, with ease. But I had been out of the gym for four months due to my overly busy schedule, and this was my first day back. I had surprisingly lost nearly 70
pounds off of my max bench press.

It took about six months of work to get back to where I was, and I have since gone fifty pounds or so higher than my previous max. I had fallen from where I was,

and had to actively pursue regaining the ground I had lost.

In Revelation 2, God
addressed the local church
at Ephesus. He pointed out that despite their many fine points they had "left their first love." Then in verse five he told them to "Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works." There is perhaps no better definition of revival to be found anywhere. Think back to where you used to be, turn back to it, and do those first works, those basic things that you used to do when you were right with God.

Like physical strength,
spiritual strength is easily
lost, and with no effort.
Neither an individual nor a church have to try to get spiritually weak, it is simply the natural effect of not actively and diligently working to stay spiritually strong. And just like physical strength is best increased in a gym, where all of the best equipment and trainers are, spiritual strength is best increased in a church where God's people gather under God's training for that purpose.
Pentecost did not happen
when everyone was at home
doing their own thing; it happened when the entire church was in one accord, in one place.

It isn't time for less churches to be having revival meetings, it is time for every church to be doing so.

DCC Public Relations office wins regional marketing awards

Danville, Va., Nov. 3, 2017 – Several marketing pieces created by the Danville Community College Public Relations and Marketing team won regional awards from the National Council for Marketing and Public Relations (NCMPR).

A photo by PR & Marketing Specialist Bobby Allen Roach won Gold (first place) in the Southeast U.S. region in the photography category of the NCMPR Medallion awards.

The powerful photograph shows the DCC Knights Baseball team honoring teammate Phillip Wright, who died in February 2017, during their first home game of the spring season. Wright's teammates stand lined up on the field with his baseball jersey draped over a chair, showing where he would have stood.

Roach's cover design of the DCC Student Handbook won bronze in its category. Digital ad designs by PR & Marketing Director Kimberly Buck won silver and bronze Medallion awards. The Knightly News, the twice-monthly electronic newsletter for DCC students, staff, and stakeholders, won bronze.

The Medallion Awards were awarded by NCMPR District 2, which includes community colleges in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia, Bermuda, British Virgin Islands and The Bahamas.

ANNUAL BAZAAR

Saturday,
November 11, 2017

SACRED HEART SCHOOL
8:00am-noon

Come and enjoy shopping for homemade baked goodies, crafts, gifts, wreaths, used treasures, paperbacks
Proceeds go toward club projects/activities

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Restless Rams and Ewes might want to let others finish a current project while they start something new. But if you do, you could risk losing out on a future opportunity.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) The Bovine's creative forces start revving up as you plan for the upcoming holidays. Some practical aspects also emerge, especially where money is involved.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Moments of doubt disrupt your otherwise clear sense of purpose. Don't ignore them. They could be telling you not to rush into anything until you know more about it.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A planned trip might have to be delayed. Plan to use this new free time to update your skills and your resume so you'll be ready when a new job opportunity opens.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A flood of holiday party bids from business contacts allows you to mix work and pleasure. Your knowledge plus your Leonine charm wins you a new slew of admirers.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) An unexpected act by a colleague complicates an agreement, causing delays in implementing it. Check out the motive for this move: It's not what you might suspect.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You might want to cut ties with an ingrate who seems to have forgotten your past generosity. But there might be a reason for this behavior that you should know about. Ask.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Be careful not to set things in stone. Much could happen over the next several days that will make you rethink some decisions and maybe change them.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your plans to help provide holiday cheer for the less fortunate inspire others to follow your generous example. Expect welcome news by week's end.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You're in your glory as you start planning for the holiday season ahead. But leave time to deal with a problem that needs a quick and fair resolution.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) The upcoming holiday season provides a perfect setting for strengthening relationships with kin and others. A new contact has important information.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Instead of fretting over a cutting remark by a co-worker, chalk it up to an outburst of envy of your well-respected status among both your colleagues and superiors.

BORN THIS WEEK: You instinctively know when to be serious and when to be humorous -- attributes everyone finds endearing.

1. What artist wrote and released "I Want to Walk You Home"?
  2. Name the musical for which "Easy to Be Hard" was written.
  3. Who wrote and released "These Eyes"?
  4. Name the "Hustle" songwriter who wrote over 700 songs, mostly for others.
  5. Name the vintage song that includes this lyric: "A place where there's just loneliness, Where dim lights bring forgetfulness, Where broken dreams and memories meet."

Answers

1. Fats Domino, in 1959. It was his last song to reach the top of the charts. In the five years between 1955 and 1960, Domino had 11 Top 10 hits.
2. "Hair," in 1968. Three Dog Night covered the song in 1969, and it went to No. 4 on the charts.
3. The Guess Who, in 1968. The song was co-written by Randy Bachman, who later began the Bachman-Turner Overdrive rock group.
4. Van McCoy. He penned hits for Ruby & the Romantics, Betty Everett and many others.
5. "Lonely Street," by singer-songwriter Carl Belew, in 1958. Belew's song didn't do as well as subsequent covers, but he left a wealth of material for other artists in songs such as "Am I That Easy to Forget" and "What's He Doing in My World."
