AUTHOR VISITS ALBION ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Medina native and author Julie Berry visited the Albion Elementary School on Oct. 3, 2017. She shared tips with fourth- and fifth-graders on how to become a writer. They enjoyed listening to her stories about growing up in Western New York and what inspired her to write. She shared her thoughts on where ideas come from, what every story needs, and how to get started with the writing process. She encouraged students to try and even if they fail the first time, they need to try again and again until they find success. Students are familiar with Berry's works and enthusiastically listened to her as she shared a trailer for her new book, "The Emperor's Ostrich."

HE WAS A TOP WILDLIFE TECHNICIAN

By Douglas H. Domedion

I read with great interest in a recent article in a popular deer hunting magazine what two different well-known retired wildlife biologists had to say about our younger wildlife management people as it is exactly what I'm seeing myself. Dr. James E. Miller, past president of the Wildlife Society, states "It is far too easy to become an armchair biologist, inextricably tied to and dependent on computers and complex mathematical models to tell us what we need to be doing about wildlife management." He also suggests that there "is a significant disconnect between how some educators and universities are preparing wildlife student's understanding of the role and responsibilities of most state and federal natural resource management agencies." He feels that there has been a significant change since the 1990s when prior to that most wildlife students came from rural backgrounds and had a grasp of land and work ethics. John J. Ozoga, a top retired deer research biologist, states "Most worrisome are trends I see taking place in education, student and instructor background, and research funding, with reduced emphasis on hunting and traditional wildlife management and increased focus on pure conservation biology – apparently sometimes designed to yield politically correct answers."

I have a BS in Forestry and Wildlife Management and did not work in that field, but feel my understanding of what is going on out in the great outdoors is pretty good, not because I studied those subjects, but because my whole life revolved around the outdoors and wildlife. What I see here on a local scale with our state and federal wildlife areas in the last decade or so is many folks getting into this field that have never really hunted or trapped or had that close connection. When I look back on the past managers of both the state and federal areas I see individuals that always had solid ties to rural backgrounds and hunted and trapped. Not so much today. Lots of them are seemly quite removed from what really is going on out there.

Now don't get me wrong, we still have a number of individuals who have good outdoor backgrounds and are concerned about what they are doing. I know one local wildlife technician who works hard, grew up with those close ties to nature and is very concerned about doing the right things here in our swamps, but she is in the minority it seems.

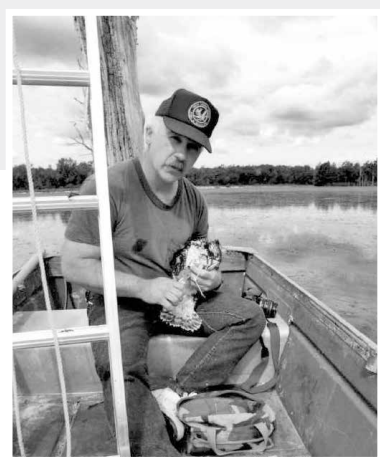

Recently we lost one of these folks, Mike Allen, a Wildlife Technician who worked side by side with Peter Nye, who was in charge of the New York State DEC Endangered Species Unit. These two guys were the ones who were given the task to bring back the bald eagle to New York State when only one pair of eagles still nested (non-productive nest) in all of our state. And boy did they do that! There are over 300 nesting sites in the state now and growing with six locally and another pair trying hard to get established here on Ringneck Marsh.

Mike was only 65 when we lost him on Oct. 28, 2017, to a long illness. He had to retire early from the DEC due to health issues and I got to know him when he and Pete came to band our local eagles each summer. Later Mike and I established a closer relationship and I learned what a dedicated person he was to the eagles. Mike was a very special person and will be missed by many.

He had many great tales of his adventures with eagles, but the one I would like to tell you about today was with ospreys which he also worked with. There was a new osprey nest out in an old dead oak in the middle of Ringneck Marsh (ospreys were just getting establish here then). Mike asked me to help with going out there to band the two young. I had a wide beam 12 John boat and we got a 20-foot extension ladder and headed out. However we found the water too deep by the tree and the ladder was just short of reaching the nest. Mike decided we would tie one end of the boat off on an adjacent tree and I would hold the other end steady by gripping the nest tree (we only had one piece of rope). We then placed the ladder in the boat and up he went, a very tricky climb! His first task was to take a few pictures, but he found his camera only had one shot left in it so down he came to get mine. Then back up and then coming back down with the two young birds to band. The whole time I figure him and the birds are eventually going to land in the drink. Well, the job was completed and as we began to head back to shore Mike finally made a statement "We are never doing THAT again!" That was the kind of dedication Mike processed along with the love of his job and was a big part of the reason we get to see eagles soar over NYS today.

I believe he now soars with the eagles and I saw an eagle crossing the road in front of me the other day and stopped to get a shot with the camera, but wasn't fast enough. As he drifted away from me I thought I heard Mike say, "Too slow Doug, next time!"

My contact information is 585-798-4022 or woodduck2020@yahoo.com.

CHRISTOPHER MITCHELL FUNERAL HOME RECEIVES NATIONAL RECOGNITION FOR INNOVATIVE PROGRAMMING, OUTSTANDING COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Albion, NY – Christopher Mitchell Funeral Home has been honored by the National Funeral Directors Association (NFDA) with the 2017 Pursuit of Excellence Award. Only 165 firms from around the world received this prestigious recognition, placing Christopher Mitchell Funeral Home among an elite group of funeral service providers. Pursuit of Excellence Award recipients raise the bar on funeral service excellence by adhering to the highest ethical and professional standards and providing unsurpassed service to families and communities.

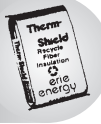

To earn an NFDA Pursuit of Excellence Award, a participating funeral home must meet or exceed business standards set forth by the program and demonstrate proficiency in key areas of funeral service, such as compliance with state and federal regulations; providing ongoing education and professional development opportunities for staff; offering outstanding programs and resources to bereaved families; maintaining an active level of involvement within the community; participating and actively serving in the funeral service profession; and promoting funeral home services through a variety of marketing, advertising and public relations programs. Participants are also required to adhere to a Pledge of Ethical Practices.

“Christopher Mitchell Funeral Home’s voluntary participation in the Pursuit of Excellence Award program reflects a clear determination to exceed the expectations of those they serve,” said NFDA Chief Executive Officer Christine Pepper, CAE. “This prestigious recognition assures families of the high-quality, compassionate service they will receive the moment they walk through the funeral home’s front door.”

More information about the NFDA Pursuit of Excellence Award program can be found on the association’s website, www.nfda.org/pursuitofexcellence.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE WARNS AGAINST GREEN DOT CARD SCAM

The Orleans County Sheriff's Office is investigating a Green Dot Card Scam. A complaint was made to the Sheriff's Office that an individual received a phone call stating they had missed a jury duty summons and that a warrant was issued for their arrest. The caller then stated to avoid being arrested that the individual could go to the Dollar Store, buy a Green Dot card and give the caller the pin number on the back of the card. The phone number given had a voice message claiming to be the Orleans County Sheriff's Department. This is a SCAM. At no time would the Orleans County Sheriff's Office ask anyone to buy a Green Dot card. Anyone who receives a call asking them to do so should hang up and call the Sheriff's Office at 585-589-5527.

The Steps Involved in Securing Wedding Venues, Licenses

Getting married is an exciting time in a couple's life together. Wedding planning is the next logical step after the engagement announcement, and while couples often get swept up in planning their dream parties, it's important to note that ultimately the ceremony is the star of the day.

Before booking a wedding reception venue or getting one's heart set on a particular date, couples need to secure their ceremony sites as well as apply for a marriage license. In some instances, ceremonies are held at the same site as the wedding reception, while some couples choose to tie the knot in their church or synagogue. Each of these types of ceremonies will be governed by the schedule of the house of worship or civil site.

Finding a venue

Once couples choose a wedding date, it is a good idea for them to visit their ceremony site of choice to check the calendar. It helps to have some flexibility in the wedding date in case the first choice is unavailable. Although summer weddings used to be the most popular, today's couples are tying the knot more often in September and October than other times of year.

Even though a couple's wedding is special and unique to them, ceremony locations handle hundreds of weddings. Couples must recognize that competition for certain venues may be steep, so it helps to keep more than one venue in mind when planning a wedding.

Getting a marriage license

While laws may vary from state to state within the United States, getting a marriage license generally involves filling out the application and paying a fee at the county clerk's office. Both applicants are typically required to bring identification, such as a driver's license, passport or birth certificate. There may be a waiting period between submitting the application and the license being issued. Couples can pick up the license or have it mailed to them.

Canadian requirements vary by province. For example, in Ontario, applicants need to be at least 16 years old to marry and must show two forms of government-supplied identification to apply. The license is valid for 90 days from when it is issued.

A marriage license is not the same thing as a marriage certificate. The marriage certificate typically becomes available after the ceremony has taken place and the witnesses and officiant have signed off on the proceedings.

Getting married is a multistep process that begins with determining where the ceremony will take place and acquiring a marriage license. With these items in check, couples can focus on creating memorable wedding days. ■

ALBION FIRST-GRADERS LOVE NEW READING SERIES

Students in Mrs. Uderitz's first-grade class enjoyed dressing up like their favorite characters found in the new "Superkids" reading series. The series is filled with fun, engaging personalities who grow with the students from kindergarten through second grade. They were created by Pleasant Rowland, the originator of the American Girl series.

The new reading program has been a hit with the students. It keeps them wondering "What happens next?" as they read ongoing stories about their favorite characters while learning essential reading skills.

ELKS DONATE DICTIONARIES TO ALBION THIRD-GRADERS

Joshua Ames, Exalted Ruler of the Albion Elks Lodge #1006, visited the elementary school and distributed brand-new dictionaries to every student in third grade. This distribution is made possible through the efforts of the Elk's Club and the Dictionary Project. The primary purpose of the Dictionary Project is to promote literacy to third grade students as they transition from learning how to read to identify and use information. The students were thrilled to receive new dictionaries and teachers will put them to good use as students build their writing skills.

What is the Tiny-House Movement?

The tiny house movement has transformed the way many people look at housing and how it can help them downsize not only their residences, but also their lives.

Living small has been embraced as an eco-friendly way to cut costs and simplify life. According to the tiny house resource The Tiny Life, the typical American home is 2,600 square feet, while the typical tiny house is between 100 and 400 square feet. Many tiny homes are smaller than the average urban apartment. Proponents of the small house movement say that living the tiny life isn't really a sacrifice, but a way to experience a simpler, fuller life that frees them from expensive mortgage payments and unnecessary clutter.

One of the advantages of tiny house living is that buyers are often able to buy their homes (whether stationary or mobile) outright, eliminating the need to finance their purchases. Tiny homes also boast much lower utility bills than more traditional homes. Outfitting tiny homes with wood-burning appliances can keep heating costs to a minimum. In some instances, tiny homes are completely off the grid, harvesting electricity through solar panels and employing rain-capturing technology to supply water.

According to the resource Living Big in a Tiny House, the tiny house movement is eco-friendly. Small homes create much smaller carbon footprints than large homes. In addition, the resources needed to build and sustain such homes pales in comparison to those needed to build and maintain more traditional homes. Furthermore, with less interior space, residents of tiny homes are less likely to acquire items they don't necessarily need, reducing clutter and saving money.

- Sixty-eight percent of tiny house people have no mortgage, and 78 percent own their home.
- The average cost to build a tiny house is $23,000 for do-it-yourselfers.
- Eighty-nine percent of tiny house dwellers have less credit card debt than the average person.
- Tiny house owners earn an average of $42,038 each year.
- Many tiny home owners are age 50 or older.

Those interested in the tiny house lifestyle can find many companies that now specialize in these dwellings. Empty-nesters looking to downsize may find tiny homes are an affordable way to simplify their lives. ■

Things to Know Before Returning to School

Upon taking inventory of their lives at the start of a new year, some people entertain thoughts of returning to school.

Adults who decide to return to school after a long layoff are following a popular path. According to the education resource Education Corner, a growing number of career colleges and vocational training schools now offer bachelor's and graduate degree programs geared toward working adults.

People return to school for various reasons, including the chance to learn new skills or further develop their existing skills. Some return to school because they are changing careers, while others may have lost a job or desire a promotion and feel that attaining a higher level of education or new skills can make reaching that goal more likely.

Adults who hope to return to school might be surprised to learn that the educational landscape has changed considerably since they were last in a classroom.

• College students are no longer just young men and women who begin pursuing degrees right out of high school. In fact, the number of adults returning to the classroom has increased considerably, often making younger students the exception rather than the rule, says the college financial planner Straighter Line. According to the U.S. Department of Education, college students 25 years or older comprise 40 percent of all students enrolled in college.

• Adults who are thinking about returning to school are urged to fill out the free applications for student aid to see if they qualify. Grants and scholarships may be available, and some workers find that employers may match funds or offer some assistance to finance job training courses.

• Many schools now offer online courses that make it easier for working adults to pursue their degrees.

Many working adults are returning to school to pursue new or advanced degrees, as more colleges and universities are facilitating such pursuits. ■

What Does a Social Worker Do?

Social workers are employed in a number of settings and provide assistance to people of all ages. The Bureau of Labor Statistics says there are two main categories of social workers. Direct-service social workers aid people in solving and coping with problems in their everyday lives. Clinical social workers diagnose and treat behavioral, mental and emotional issues. Social workers help people cope with issues like finances, personal health, relationships, education, substance abuse, and illnesses. The field of social work utilizes social theories to assist with human problems. A bachelor's degree is required for most social work positions. Clinical social workers will need to have a master's degree, and licensure may be required before patient counseling can take place. ■

Tips on how to write CLASSIFIED ADS that sell!

- 1 USE A KEY WORD. This immediately tells the reader exactly what you have to sell.
- 2 Make your description CLEAR AND FACTUAL. State the year, make, model, color & size and tell what condition the item is in. Also, state the special features.
- 3 STATE THE PRICE. Successful classified advertisers have learned that the price in an ad helps increase the chances for results.
- 4 IF THERE IS A GENUINE SENSE OF URGENCY, say so. The words "We're moving," or "Must sell fast," suggest that readers respond immediately.
- 5 INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER. Classifieds get results fast and often generate immediate sales. If you cannot be available to answer the phone at all times, be sure to specify special calling times such as "after 9pm" or "before 11am."

After having a day to let it sink in, I would like to take this opportunity to thank so many! I appreciate all the votes from the residents. It wasn't the outcome I hoped for, but I gave 100 percent. I ran a clean campaign, with honesty and a whole lot of dignity.

I would like to thank all the babysitters who watched the boys in my absence. It definitely was hard to be away from them. I would also like to thank Patty Woodworth, Cheryl Tuttle, Ann Bunch, Patty and Lance Mark, Maureen Blackburn, Dave Sevenski, Mark Traxler, and all the Ridgeway workers who supported me with endorsement letters. Special thanks to my parents who helped and gave encouragement, and family and friends who helped in every other way possible. The 4-H Fair, Meet and Greet, signs, literature, t-shirts, signatures and door-to-door would have never been possible without family and friends.

Lastly, I would like to thank "my person" Julie Cecchini who gave 100 percent of her time with tireless dedication. She managed to work full time, care for family, go door to door, and still bring new ideas to the table. I'm so glad for our friendship. Cecchini Family, thank you for giving up your wife and mom for all those weeks. Thanks again, everyone and I apologize if I've forgotten anyone.

Tara L. Albone White
