There's Always This Year

Some say that the road to perdition begins at 2330 W. Rio Salado Parkway in Mesa, Arizona. "Perdition" is defined as "a state of eternal punishment and damnation into which a sinful and impenitent person passes after death." It might be too kind a term for the faithful who begin their journey at that address, however, for they are Cubs fans.

If the assembled masses at Sloan Park, where the Cubs train during the spring, knew they didn't have a shot at winning, perhaps some of their suffering would be alleviated. Travels through time, however, tell us this will not be the case.

The last time the Cubs were in the World Series, 1945, pockets of Nazis were still fighting in France, and Americans were eagerly awaiting the end of shoe rationing. The last time they won a World Series, 1908, women didn't have the right to vote in America, Mount Rushmore was a pile of rocks, and there were only 46 states.

But hey, this year promises to be different, right? The good folks at Grays, publisher of Grays Sports Almanac, have the Cubs winning the World Series.

There are, of course, holes in the theory. For one, it implies that the flux capacitor, a Y-shaped set of three incandescent lamps set in a box that makes time travel possible, has been invented, and that Marty McFly has successfully harnessed the power of lightning, traveled both forward and backward in time and imparted this knowledge to us.

But at least we know that the robot vacuum kind of works. Even the hover board seems plausible, more plausible than a team stocked with confident rookies announcing their plans to win the National League Central. Even their new manager, the astute Joe Maddon, has taken to calling the Cubs' spring training "Cub University."

They can be like Royals, they say. You know, young and optimistic. They can win it all if they want, history be damned.

"Hey, that's what we expect and that's what we believe," Cubs first basemen Anthony Rizzo told reporters this spring. "And that's what we're going to do," he adds.

And that's where the road ends. For the past five years, it's led to fifth place. Maybe this year, with guys like Jon Lester on the mound, a proper sense of history will take hold. Lester, born in the '80s and a party to the Red Sox exorcism, averages 16 wins per year, and that's usually how far out of first place the Cubs are.

Vegas has them at 14-1 odds. Marty McFly's Cubs were listed as 100-1 longshots. Of course, they were said to have beaten Miami in a five-game sweep, something pretty much impossible to do today, but as they say, tomorrow never knows, and when you're at a Cubs game this summer, sitting back with an Old Style and a "sassage," you won't care where the road leads... perdition be damned.

From Mesa to the Northside you don't need roads. The Cubs are eternal winners in the mind's eye.

The Garden Bug Milkweed

Monarch butterflies utilize about 30 milkweed species as hosts for their larvae. Most used is the common milkweed (Asclepias syriaca), a weedy species that grows plentifully in sunny fields. Most monarchs that overwinter in Mexico each year are thought to have fed on this species as a larva.

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "The others were untrue, But when it came to loving you, I'd spend my whole life with you, Cause you came and you took control, You touched my very soul."

Answers

1. The Four Tops, in 1966. After two weeks at the top of the charts, it was bumped by "96 Tears."
2. Andy Williams. In 1960, The Beat came out with a reggae version.
3. Hamilton, Joe Frank and Reynolds, in 1971. Years later, the Glen Campbell single had a typo on the cover sleeve, leaving out the R in "your."
4. James Taylor.
5. "You've Made Me So Very Happy," first released in 1967 by co-writer Brenda Holloway and two years later by Blood, Sweat & Tears. Holloway's version only reached No. 39 on the charts, but the BS&T version went to No. 2.

Blue Willow China

Without realizing it, I have become a collector of Blue Willow china. It began with a couple of purchases I made at garage sales and then became more serious. I currently have about 75 pieces with various pottery marks. Is there a guide you recommend? — Cecilia, Billings, Montana

The Blue Willow pattern is one of the most popular ever manufactured. It has been available for more than 200 years, and its popularity has never lessened. It is fun to collect because pieces can be found in shops and at antique malls throughout the country. A reference I have found useful is "Blue Willow: An Identification and Value Guide" by Mary Frank Gaston, now in its third edition. It can be ordered at amazon.com for about $20.

I have a collection of Jim Beam bottles that my father compiled. He is in a nursing home, and I am liquidating his collection. Can you help me? — Shirley, Cheyenne Wells, Colorado

One of the better groups for Jim Beam enthusiasts is the International Association of Jim Beam Bottle and Specialties Clubs. Yearly dues are $20, which would put you in contact with collectors throughout the country. Contact information is 2965 Waubesa Ave., Madison, WI 53711; www.jim-beamclubs.com; and 602-663-9661.

Write to Larry Cox in care of KFWS, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475, or send e-mail to questions-forcox@aol.com. Due to the large volume of mail he receives, Mr. Cox cannot personally answer all reader questions, nor do appraisals. Do not send any materials requiring return mail.

Mitigating Water Leaks

I've read that ice dams and roof damage can lead to water leaks, but how can I find them? And what can I do if I find a leak? — Janice L., Portsmouth, N.H.

If you've noticed ice buildup along your eaves outside, it's a good idea to check inside in those same areas for water leaks. Take a flashlight and go to the part of the house that's as close as possible to the suspect area. Using the flashlight, check the wall and ceiling for light-brown water spots or streaks. If you see them, a leak likely has been occurring for a few days.

Run your hand along the wall and ceiling around the area, whether you see water spots or not (stand on a step-ladder, not a chair or furniture). If the drywall or ceiling plaster feels damp, cold or a bit spongy in one spot, a leak may be forming. If you smell mildew or mold in an area, dampness is a problem and may be caused by a leak. Mark this and other potential problem areas with a pencil or blue painter's tape.

A leak needs to be addressed as soon as possible. Contact a roofing professional to schedule an inspection and get a quote to remove the ice dams and repair the roof, as well as seal up leaks.

Before the contractor arrives, start minimizing the water damage indoors. Open up the wall or ceiling a bit to let water flow through freely. In the ceiling, punch a small hole in the center of the damp or water-stained area with a nail, and place a bucket underneath to catch drips.

Leaks behind a wall are more complicated: Often a section of drywall needs to be cut away, as close to the leak source as possible, and a bucket or pan placed beneath the drip. If you have no experience repairing or replacing drywall, enlist an experienced friend or call a contractor to quickly stop further damage until the roof can be repaired. You also may need to contact an electrician to make sure any wiring in a leak-affected area is OK.

TIP: To avoid dampness or leaks in the cellar, shovel snow a foot or two away from the foundation when possible.

Send your home tips and questions to ask@thisisahammer.com.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) An unsettling situation seems to be taking forever to be resolved. Fortunately, your Bovine aptitude for patience is strong this week, so you'll be more than able to wait it out.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Taking a stand against an uncalled-for situation involving a friend or co-worker isn't easy, but somehow you'll rise to the challenge and do it. Rely on advice from someone you trust.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) There are still some questions on all sides that need to be dealt with in order to allow hurt feelings to heal. Get your workplace tasks done early so that you can devote more time to loved ones.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Consider a new spring makeover that will show all you Leos and Leonas in your best light. A new hairdo and some fashionable new clothes can help put a fresh glow on your image.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Some stormy, emotional weather can blow up in the workplace when an irate co-worker has strong words for you. But if you believe right is on your side, you'll be able to ride it out.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Creating more balance in your life is especially important now so that you're not distracted when you get into projects that will make demands on both your physical and mental energies.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) As much as you enjoy being right when others are not, show your generous side by offering to use what you know to everyone's benefit. This way, you gain admirers and avoid resentment.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) This is a good week for the Archer to aim at healing relationships. Whether it's at home, at work or among your friends, get everyone to set things straight and make a fresh start.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Although you like things done your way, this is a good time to listen to ideas from others. You might even find yourself agreeing with one or more of their suggestions.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Aspects favor positive action to reclaim your ideas from someone who might want the glory without doing any of the work. Expect to find many people rallying to support you.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You might feel uneasy about taking that step forward at work or in your private life. But who knows better than you that while treading water keeps you afloat, it doesn't get you anywhere.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a way of creating positive attitudes and making people feel good about themselves.
