Salvation Army Red Kettle and Angel Tree campaigns kick off

By Linda Cranford

Among the traditional sounds and sights of the Christmas season is the Salvation Army red kettles and angel trees. The tingling sound of the bells ringing in the midst of the hustle and bustle reminds us that Christmas is the season for caring and giving. The white paper angels, complete with names of the little ones, adorn the Angel Trees around town, giving us an opportunity to help a family in need.

On Thursday, November 9 at center court in the Sawmill Square Mall in Laurel, with the Laurel High School select choir singing in the background, Mayor Johnny Magee was given the honor of cutting the ribbon to officially kick off the Salvation Army's annual Christmas Red Kettle Drive and Angel Tree campaigns.

The red kettle and bell ringing program has been in existence for over a hundred years. In San Francisco, California, in 1891, Captain Joseph McFee wanted to help the poor people in the area, especially for the upcoming Christmas season, but he didn't know where to get funding for his project. He remembered seeing sailors in Liverpool, England, drop change in a pot called "Simpson's Pot" as they exited the ships. Taking that idea, he placed a kettle at the Oakland Ferry Landing in Oakland, California. Beside the kettle was a sign that read "Keep the Pot Boiling." Before long Captain McFee's idea spread, and in 1897 a nationwide effort was able to fund 150,000 Christmas dinners for the poor. Today, the Salvation Army feeds more than 4.5 million poor people across the USA and the world during the Thanksgiving and Christmas time periods.

The Salvation Army of Laurel celebrates its 78th year in the Laurel area this year and is under the direction of Majors Bert and Cristy Lind. The Red Kettle drive contributes to the organization's year-round efforts to help those in need, which includes providing shelter for men, women, and children year round. The kettle drive also helps the organization provide assistance with groceries, utilities, and mortgages.

Jan Walters, Christmas coordinator, said donors will have a new way of giving this year. It's called the Dip Jar, and it allows donors to use their debit or credit card to make a donation. Right now, one Dip Jar is located at Krogers and a second will be coming soon and placed at another Red Kettle location in Laurel.

This year there are over 550 angels on the Angel Trees across the area. As they've done for many years, Howard Industries took the first Angels from the tree. Walters said this year they took 175 Angels. The Angel Trees can be found in the Sawmill Square Mall at Once upon a time in Ellisville

Submitted

Once upon a time in the quaint city of Ellisville, there was an amazing and fun Christmas parade and children's festival. This parade has been going on for 16 consecutive years and has always been supported by several local businesses in Ellisville as well as the Board of Supervisors and the city officials themselves!

All the adults in the special city of Ellisville love the children of their community, so they have the Christmas parade along with a children's festival for all the children each year, charging nothing for those who want to be in the parade or for the children to play on the inflatables provided during the festival. In the town of Ellisville there is a large home for special children called The Ellisville State School. The parade always begins here where the children line the streets to see Santa and receive stuffed toys and treats.

This year, the 17th year of the Christmas Parade and Children's Festival, will be better than ever! This year's parade "A Vintage Christmas" will occur on Saturday, December 2. The Children's Festival - which will include a bounce house, a large inflatable slide, and a wrecking ball - will begin at 11:00 and end at 4:00. The parade will start at 2:00. To be part of this magical vintage Christmas parade, call Pam or Geni at 601-319-1697 or 601-477-8111.

Come one, come all to this exciting yearly event in the historical city of Ellisville. If anyone has gently used stuffed toys to donate, please contact Pam or Geni by Thursday, November 30.

Maynor Creek Water Park Fall Festival

By Linda Cranford

The fall colors were just beginning to appear in the hickories at Maynor Creek Water Park Saturday, November 11 for the park's first annual Fall Festival. A number of food vendors and arts and crafts booths were scattered among the trees, and entertainment throughout the day included Avery Landrum, Garette Thornton, and the Davis County Band.

Maynor Creek Water Park is located off of Highway 84 East six miles west of Waynesboro and is a part of the Pat Harrison Waterway District. The park boast of great fishing in the 450-acre Lake, 69 campsites, three pavilions, two lodge halls, seven cabins and two bungalows. Park Manager Joey Carnathan and Assistant Manager Brian Albert said that through February 28 there is a 20 percent discount on cabin rentals seven days a week. Beginning Monday, November 13, through February 28, there is a 25 percent discount on campsites from Monday until Thursday. This excludes weekends, holidays, annual sites, and monthly sites.

Care Connection Work Day – Saturday morning, November 4, folks from Laurel/Jones County gathered at the Caring Connection personal care home located at 3091 Highway 11 North for a Community Work Day. Owners Angelique Adams and Robert Hughes led the workers in project that included landscaping, touch-up painting, window cleaning/power washing, creation of a walking trail, and carpentry. Caring Connection is a non-profit that serves as a one-stop for senior services. "Our goal is to make their golden years 'golden,'" said Adams. For more information about Caring Connection, visit their Facebook page "Caring Connection – Mississippi" or contact Adams at (281) 300-2393 or email: caringconnection17@gmail.com. Submitted
