40th Wedding Anniversary

A married couple, in their early 60s, was celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary at a quiet, romantic little restaurant.

Suddenly, a tiny beautiful Fairy appeared on their table. She said: "For being such an exemplary married couple and especially for being so thoughtful and loving to each other for all this time, I will grant you each a wish."

"Oh, said the wife, I want to travel around the World with my darling husband."

The fairy waved her magic wand; and -- poof! -- two tickets for the Queen Mary II luxury liner and Ten Thousand Dollars appeared in her hands. Then it was the husband's turn.

He thought for a minute and said: "Well, this is all very romantic, but an opportunity like this will never come again. So I'm going with my mind and not my Heart."

"I'm sorry my love, but my wish is to have a wife 30 years younger than me." The wife and the Fairy were shocked and disappointed. But a wish is a wish.

So, the Fairy waved her magic wand, and - Poof! -- the husband became 92 years old.

The Moral of the story:

Men who are ungrateful husbands should remember; Fairies are female.

New Father

The first-time father, beside himself with excitement over the birth of his son, was determined to do everything right.

"So, tell me, Nurse," he asked as his new family headed out the hospital door, "what time should we wake the little guy in the morning?"

Relax, we'll do the housework.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

* It was 20th-century American author and journalist Emily Kimbrough who made the following sage observation: "Remember, we all stumble, every one of us. That's why it's a comfort to go hand in hand."

* In Finland, it is traditional to pay a visit to the steam baths on Christmas Day. Nice and clean, Finns then put on new clothes before enjoying their Christmas dinner, which is served in the evening.

* The nation of Canada has the longest coastline in the world.

* Lots of people dislike lawyers, right? You might be surprised to learn, though, that it isn't a new phenomenon. In fact, in 1641 the Massachusetts Bay colony made it illegal for anyone to earn money by representing another in court, and in 1658, the legislature of Virginia passed legislation expelling all lawyers.

* Most people -- even word nerds like yours truly! -- aren't aware that the plural form of Sphinx is Sphinges.

* You might not be surprised to learn that the only bones to be found in a shark's body are in its jaws and teeth.

* Hardly anyone in Greece has a Christmas tree. Instead, most homes have a wire suspended across a shallow wooden bowl with water in the bottom. A cross wrapped in a sprig of basil is suspended from the wire, and the water keeps the basil fresh. Every day during the holiday season, a family member dips the cross and basil into some holy water and sprinkles each room of the house. In addition to the religious significance, this ritual is said to keep away the kallikantzeri, mischievous goblins that appear during the 12 days of Christmas.

Festive tree-trimming tips and techniques

People have visited forests to select their Christmas trees for centuries. While tree sellers conveniently stationed in store parking lots and artificial trees displayed in various retailers have led fewer people to venture into the wilderness, the Christmas tree is still an important component of holiday celebrations.

Long before the spread of Christianity, evergreen plants and trees held special meaning for people during the winter. Boughs and garlands were hung in homes and over doors and windows to repel evil spirits and illnesses. On the winter solstice, the greenery would represent that spring would once again arrive and banish winter's dreariness.

Germans who decorated trees inside of their homes are credited with starting Christian Christmas tree traditions during the 16th century. Early Americans were late to adopt Christmas trees because early Puritan settlers thought the tradition — as well as carols and other concepts — were Pagan influences. It took the popularity of England's Queen Victoria and her German Prince Albert appearing around a decorated Christmas tree to eventually win over much of Europe, Canada and the United States.

Trees are very popular today. According to StatisticsBrain, 10 million artificial trees are sold in the United States each year, while 34.5 million real trees are sold annually. Such trees require decorating, and the following secrets and tips can help celebrants do just that.

- Prune the tree first. Be sure to shape the tree as desired, since natural trees will have branches sticking out. Wear gardening gloves to avoid being covered in sap.
- Position trees away from heat sources, such as fireplaces, vents or radiators, which can cause the tree to dry out prematurely and become a fire risk.
- For added safety, anchor a tree to a wall or ceiling, so it will not tumble over onto children or curious pets.
- In homage of the first German Christmas trees, decorate with natural ingredients, such as berries and pinecones. Also, use apples, nuts and marzipan candies.
- To free up more space for presents, place a narrow tree stand inside of a waterproof planting container. Place the tree inside. This will provide a more streamlined look that's neater than a tree skirt.
- The more lights the better, especially on dense trees.

Tree trimming is one of the most enjoyable aspects of the holiday season, and there are no rules other than safety guidelines when it comes to decorating.

- For a whimsical approach, match the tree decor to home decor and the color of furniture.
- Make handcrafted ornaments with the whole family.
- Hang the most delicate pieces toward the top where they won't be disturbed.
- Step back and enjoy your handiwork, which will also give you a chance to find any blank spots that need filling in.

Celebrating the Anniversary of an Anti-tethering Ordinance

On December 1, 2010, a progressive ordinance in the City of Danville was passed unanimously that gives restrictions on the chaining of companion animals. It is an ordinance whose time had come.

In 1992, shortly after I began working for the humane society, I received a call from a man who said he had heard a dog barking in the woods behind his house for several days, but he didn't hear the barking anymore. An animal control officer went to the address, and found the body of a dog. The dog's chain had become entangled in bushes, and he simply starved to death. The officer (at that time, Animal Control officers were police officers with that special assignment) told me I should work on making it illegal to keep dogs on chains. The task seemed too great at that time. Through the years, the officer kept asking when something was going to be done about keeping dogs off chains.

A first step we took to help chained dogs was about 20 years ago when the board changed the adoption guidelines to not permit adopted dogs to be kept on chains. We have been criticized for that. We choose our battles wisely, and helping to get dogs off chains in worth all the effort, heartache, and criticism.

Then, several years ago, we investigated a cruelty complaint involving an elderly cat that was kept on a chain outside. We seized him and obtained custody in court. At another time, we seized a little kitten that was being kept on a chain on a second story balcony. That kitten was in constant

996 South Boston Rd.,
Danville, VA 24540
Phone: (434) 799-0843

danger of being hanged from the balcony.

We knew that any anti-tethering ordinance had to include cats, also. Our campaign to have prohibitions against chaining included showing many pictures of chained animals to City Council. The positive public response to our proposal, with the help of then-Councilman Adam Tomer, was instrumental in getting the ordinance passed.

Animals in Danville can only be changed four hours in a 24-hour period, but never to a fixed point. Animals younger than four months of age and sick animals can never be chained, and no chaining is allowed when the temperatures dip to 32 degrees and below. The other legal standards of adequate care, of course, still apply.

We have some grant money available to help purchase chain-link dog lots so dogs and cats can be taken off chains. There are guidelines, but please call 799-0843 for details. During the past seven years the ordinance has been in effect, hundreds of dogs have led much happier lives because they are not at the end of a chain.

George R. Still, Sr.
December 6, 1937 - August 12, 1993
Happy 80th Birthday
to My Dad in Heaven

They say there is a reason,
They say time will heal,
Neither time or reason
Will change the way I feel,
Gone are the days
We used to share,
But in my heart
You are always there.
The gates of memories
Will never close.
I miss you more than
Anybody knows,
Love and miss you everyday,
Till we meet again.
Always & Forever Love You, Dad

Love and Miss You,
Annette & Robert

In Loving Memory
& Birthday Wishes to
George R. Still, Sr.
December 6, 1937 - August 12, 1993

The moment that you left me
my heart split in two;
One side was filled with memories,
the other side died with you.

I often lay awake at night when the world is fast asleep,
And take a walk down memory lane
with tears upon my cheek.

Remembering you is easy,
I do it everyday;
But missing you is a heartache
that never goes away.

I hold you tightly within my heart
And there you will remain;
You see, life has gone on without you,
But will never be the same.

Love & Miss You,
Evelyn

"My Very Own Christmas Miracle"

The turkey and dressing? Devoured. Gifts? Unwrapped, oohd and ahhd over, and all of the wrapping paper laying in happy, messy piles. It was several years ago on Christmas day. Christmas afternoon, specifically. The scene was at my grandmother's house, and all the family was assembled. Christmas day has always been an extra special family time for all of us. But in the midst of all of that joy and happiness something was gnawing at my consciousness, trying to get an audience with my full attention.

I found a quiet spot (no easy task, I assure you) and tried to listen to that little voice inside. After a few minutes I was pretty sure I understood the message; the family festivities are over, everyone is happy, but what am I supposed to do with the rest of the day?

Christmas day is at once the most wonderful and the very loneliest time of the year. For those blessed with family, health, and peace, there is no day quite like it. But for those in hospitals or nursing homes it can often be the most agonizing day of the year.

As I thought on this, I was beginning to see the outlines of a good afternoon forming in my brain. Little did I know just how good. Good? Scratch that. Looking back, I would have to go with words like amazing, stupendous, and even supernatural.

I got the family together and told them what I was thinking. There was instant agreement. I grabbed the guitar, laid it in the trunk, and soon we were heading to the hospital. We did not personally know anyone in there, but that did not matter.

When we arrived we went up to the floor that I knew housed people who were likely to be there a while, people who may, in fact, either never get out or get out only to go to a nursing home. I uncased the guitar, and we began to go room by room singing Christmas carols. We knew we could only sing one or two per room if we expected to get to everyone.

Our family at that time would be considered average singers, and I am no better than an average guitar player. While I one day hope to be discovered by a major publisher for my books, I am under no illusion that I will ever be discovered by a record label for my decidedly unprofessional musical talent.

Nonetheless, we average, everyday folks began to see smile after smile as we warbled through Silent Night, Hark the Herald Angels Sing, O Little Town of Bethlehem, and more. But one room we walked into changed everything for me. The memory lingers on in my mind all these years later like the finest perfume; it became my very own Christmas miracle.

As we entered the room there was an elderly lady laying very much unresponsive in bed. Her eyes were open, but she was staring straight ahead. Her family, themselves easily in their sixties, were gathered around her.

As we sang, the old lady in bed began to sing softly along with us in a cracked, dry voice. The son, standing by her, began to sob, and admittedly, I had no idea why. Surely, I thought, our singing isn't quite that bad!

We finished our singing in that room, said our "Merry Christmases," and left to go to the next room. But we didn't get far. The son followed us out into the hallway and said, "Mister, I don't know who you are, but thank you. That is the first time we have heard my mother's voice in months. She has not been able to utter a word or make a sound, and we thought we would never get to hear her voice again on this side of heaven."

We went right back into that room, friends. We sang every Christmas song we have ever known, and even some that only loosely qualify as Christmas songs. I think the only thing we left out, for obvious reasons, is "Grandma Got Run Over By A Reindeer." I wanted to soak in every second of that Christmas miracle.

People who for whatever reason seemed determined to convince me that there was not and is not now a very real Jesus are wasting their time. In addition to the overwhelming mountain of historical and Biblical proof of his virgin birth, sinless life, death on the cross, and resurrection, I have my very own Christmas miracle to think back on.

If no one has told you yet, allow me to be the first: Merry Christmas!

HOLLYWOOD — Leonardo DiCaprio is spending more time as a producer than as an actor. He is involved in producing no less than 33 films, executive producing seven and acting in at least four. Mark L. Smith, who wrote "The Revenant," for which Leonardo won an Oscar, has written "Conquest," which Leonardo has in pre-production. He's also preparing to play Theodore Roosevelt in "Roosevelt," take on the Sicilian Mafia in "The Black Hand" and star in "Killers of the Flower Moon." He's just completed producing "Robin Hood," with Taron Egerton, Jamie Foxx and Jamie Dornan, as well as the mini-series "Frontiersmen," about Daniel Boone, Davy Crockett, Lewis and Clark, and Andrew Jackson, no doubt inspired by "The Revenant."

Nicole Kidman celebrated her Emmy win for HBO's "Big Little Lies" by lining up films for 2018. First up is "The Upside," with Bryan Cranston and Kevin Hart, opening March 9; followed by "Boy Erased," with Russell Crowe and Lucas Hedges, arriving Sept. 28; and "Aquaman," with Jason Momoa in the title role, due Dec. 21, 2018. Kidman is currently starring in the BBC series "Top of the Lake," which is airing on The Sundance Channel in the U.S. Meanwhile, her "Big Little Lies" co-star Reese Witherspoon is co-producing a new series for Apple TV with Jennifer Aniston.

Jenna Elfman, who became a TV star in 119 episodes of "Dharma & Greg" (1997-2002), has had less success with her series that followed: "Accidentally On Purpose" (18 episodes on CBS, 2009-2010), "1600 Penn" (13 episodes on NBC, 2012-2013) and "Imaginary Mary," (nine episodes on ABC, 2017). She'll now be a regular on "The Walking Dead" in its upcoming sixth season.

Sorry to report we lost "Magnum, P.I.'s" Higgins, John Hillerman, Nov.

9. I visited Tom Selleck several times on location in Hawaii, I was lucky to spend time with Hillerman as well. He was as funny and delightful as he was as Higgins. He received four Emmy nominations for "Magnum" (1980-88), and finally won in 1987. When his health declined, Hillerman decided to retire in 1999 and move back to his native Texas. Among his 24 films was 1972's "What's up Doc?" and two for Mel Brooks: "Blazing Saddles" (1974) and "The History of the World, Part 1" (1984). He was an original.

Get ready for another senior-citizen comedy. This one, "Just Getting Started," stars Oscar-winners Morgan Freeman and Tommy Lee Jones as golfing rivals at a Palm Springs senior resort who must put aside their differences to fend off a mob hit. Rene Russo, Jane Seymour, George Wallace, Joe Pantoliano, Glene Hedly, Sheryl Lee Ralph and Elizabeth Ashley are along for laughs. It hits screens Dec. 8. It's not how you start, though, it's how you finish!

1. Who sang "Don't Say Nothin' Bad (About My Baby)"?
2. Who wrote and released "Why Doesn't Somebody Get Him a Pepsi?" and when?
3. Which song did Bob Dylan jokingly title "A Long-Haired Mule and a Porcupine Here"?
4. Who released the first version of "Tainted Love"?
5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "Lips as sweet as candy. Their taste stays on my mind. Girl, you keep me thirsty for another cup of wine."

Answers:

1. The Cookies, in 1963. The group went on to become the Raelettes and worked as backup singers for Ray Charles, Little Eva and Neil Sedaka.
2. Frank Zappa ... more than once. The title of the 1975 song changed to "The Torture Never Stops" and appeared in various incarnations on his albums.
3. "Rainy Day Women #12 & 35" on his 1966 album, "Blonde on Blonde." While recording the background, the musicians swapped instruments, leading to much merriment and parading around the studio.
4. Gloria Jones, in 1964. Soft Cell followed with a cover in 1981.
5. "Hooked On a Feeling," by B.J. Thomas in 1968. The 1971 version by Blue Swede was famous for the "Ooga-Chaka-Ooga-Ooga" introduction.

* "Every year, we host a Christmas party. To make the house more accessible, and to make guests more comfortable, we put little tags on the door to the bathroom and whichever room we are using to hold coats, etc. I close all the other doors, so when a guest walks down the hall, they can easily figure out what door leads where. No more confused people looking for the restroom." -- Arianna B. in Michigan

* Invest in a meat thermometer this gift-giving season. Food safety is important, but really, why guess when the technology is so easy and accurate?

* "Since we start cooking Christmas dinner almost as soon as we get up on Christmas morning, I noticed that the kids seemed to be breakfasting on cookies exclusively. Last year, while we were waiting for Santa to arrive on Christmas Eve, I put out boxes of cereal, bowls, spoons and a pitcher for milk. I also bought a fruit tray, which I just put out in the morning. The kids ate a proper breakfast, and I still had the kitchen to myself to start preparations. It worked great!" -- Sharon L. in Florida

* To keep beverages ice-cold for your party, just save a 2-liter soda bottle or a rinsed half-gallons milk jug. Fill most of the way with water and freeze. At party time, nestle sodas, beers or water bottles around these mega ice blocks to chill drinks.

* For fun-and-colorful cloth napkins, try using bandanas. They add a bright and fancy touch to your table setting.

VETERANS POST

by Freddy Groves

Vietnam Parasite Is Killing Vets

A year ago, bile duct cancer seen in Vietnam veterans was a hot topic in the news, briefly. Now it's fallen out of the headlines -- but it hasn't stopped affecting veterans, and a U.S. senator is calling for a federal study. Bile duct cancer in veterans who served in Vietnam (or Korea, Thailand or Laos) no doubt comes from eating fish contaminated with a water-borne parasitic worm called a fluke, from being in or washing with fresh water, or from drinking river water. Decades later, the presence of the worm in the liver bile ducts causes cancer (cholangiocarcinoma) that has nearly no initial symptoms. It's only when the cancer is very advanced that symptoms appear.

The www.publichealth.va.gov website lists "jaundice (yellowing of the skin and the whites of the eyes), pain in the abdomen, dark urine, light or 'clay' colored stool, fever, itchy skin, nausea and vomiting, and unexplained weight loss" as symptoms of bile duct cancer. Additionally, the disease is rare in the United States. If you have any suspicions at all, tell your doctor, ideally a doctor with the Department of Veterans Affairs.

If you have cancer, file a claim. More claims for bile duct cancer have been approved: www.va.gov/vetapp15/Files4/1528691.txt www.va.gov/vetapp13/Files1/1301261.txt www.va.gov/vetapp12/files1/1206119.txt www.va.gov/vetapp11/files5/1144474.txt

The first veterans (or their spouses, after the veteran died) who applied for benefits were turned down. That is slowly changing. But it's going to be a long haul to have the disease classified as a presumptive -- just like Agent Orange.

One step toward getting the cancer listed as a presumptive is to get the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering and Medicine to look at the correlation between the cancer and the flukes, as Sen. Chuck Schumer has requested. His number is (202) 224-6542.

OF THE TWO figures above, A and B, which one's height and width are equal?

Answers: Figure A

A CHEERFUL ADDITION! To solve this problem, you must replace the letters in the AlphaMath puzzle with the digits 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8 and 9, so that you have a correct addition problem. The same letters get the same digits. See if you can get a higher total than we did.

Our answer: E=9, G=2, N=8, O=3, X=1, M=7, A=5, S=4, (922 + 832 = 1754)

IT'S MAGIC! Use the numbers 1 through 10 to fill in our Magic Square. The numbers in each horizontal row and vertical column should total 37. We've filled in six of the squares. The rest is up to you.

Answers: First row: 8, 11, 17, 1. Second row: 16, 2, 7, 12. Third row: 3, 19, 9, 6. Fourth row: 10, 5, 4, 18.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Make a start on that new workplace challenge. But get more information before you find yourself too deeply involved without knowing in which direction you should go.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You might find things becoming tedious as your schedule slows down for the holidays. Use this time to get information about a possible post-New Year job change.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) The creative Twin finds outlets for her or his ideas in the early part of the week. The practical Twin takes it a step further and rallies support to turn the ideas into reality.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) It's time to stop being intimidated by someone's negative behavior. Start taking positive steps on your own to help strengthen your position down the line.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Look closely at that so-called golden opportunity. Best to be a cautious Cat who approaches things slowly, than one who pounces without knowing where you'll land.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Your apology can resolve that personal situation before it overshadows the holidays. You'll feel better, even if you're only partly to blame for what happened.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Avoid overtaxing yourself, even if your energy levels are high and you feel that you can do it all. Best to pace yourself so you won't run yourself down before the holidays.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your sense of humor helps get you through a stressful period. Some of your quick quips can take the edge off any remaining negativity being aimed at you.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your artistic talents not only help you express yourself these days, but they also set up a line of communication between you and someone very special.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) It's fine to appreciate the importance of "proper form" for doing things. But relax a bit in order to allow newcomers on the project to feel less intimidated by you.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Use your boundless reserve of optimism to persuade others to work with you to resolve a difficult workplace problem before it can ruin your holiday fun.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You brim over with self-confidence as you begin to tackle a new challenge. And, before you know it, you're not alone: Others have taken the plunge with you.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a highly defined sense of commitment to others. You would make a fine social worker.

MINI CHEESE BALL BITES

Ingredients

- 8 ounces cream cheese, at room temperature
- 3/4 cup (about 3 ounces) blue cheese crumbles
- 3/4 cup dried cranberries, finely chopped
- 1 1/2 cups pecans
- Pretzel sticks

Instructions

In a medium bowl, beat together cream cheese, blue cheese, and dried cranberries until smooth. Dampen hands to prevent sticking and form cream cheese mixture into approximately 24 tablespoon-sized balls. Cover and refrigerate for at least two hours or until firm.

In the meantime, toast the pecans by spreading out on a sheet pan and baking in a preheated 350°F oven until lightly toasted and fragrant, for 7 to 10 minutes. Allow pecans to cool and finely chop them.

Roll chilled cheese balls in chopped pecans, pressing nuts so that they adhere. Keep cheese balls refrigerated until ready to serve. Just before serving, skewer each cheese ball with a pretzel stick.

Notes

You can make the cheese balls ahead of time, but don't insert the pretzels until just before serving or they will become soggy.

BACON RANCH CHEESE BALL

Ingredients

- 6 slices bacon, diced
- 1/4 cup chopped pecans
- 1/4 cup chopped fresh parsley leaves, divided
- 2 (8-ounce) packages cream cheese, at room temperature
- 1 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese
- 1/4 cup crumbled goat cheese
- 1 (1-ounce) package Ranch Seasoning and Salad Dressing Mix, homemade or store-bought
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

DIRECTIONS:

Heat a large skillet over medium high heat. Add bacon and cook until brown and crispy, about 6-8 minutes. Transfer to a paper towel-lined plate. In a small bowl, combine half of the bacon, pecans and 2 tablespoons parsley; set aside. In the bowl of an electric mixer fitted with the paddle attachment, beat cream cheese, cheddar cheese, goat cheese, Ranch Seasoning, Worcestershire and remaining bacon and parsley on medium-high until well combined and fluffy, about 1-2 minutes. Cover and place in the refrigerator for at least 2 hours or overnight. Shape the mixture into a ball and roll in the prepared bacon-pecan mixture. Serve with crackers.

The holidays are filled with temptations and opportunities to over-indulge, and if you're managing your health and weight, the season can feel anything but merry.

Depriving yourself of your favorite holiday treats isn't only unpleasant, it's also unnecessary. Many experts recommend that instead, you focus on building a healthier lifestyle through a well-balanced, long-term eating plan. For example, Atkins offers a balanced approach with foods containing fiber-rich and nutrient-dense carbohydrates, as well as good fats and proteins, while focusing on reduced levels of refined carbohydrates and added sugars. When preparing your holiday menu, look for recipes that contain adequate protein, healthy fats and high-fiber carbohydrates, and you'll be able to enjoy the flavors of the season without guilt.

Learn more about the benefits of a balanced, low-carb approach to eating at Atkins.com.

Garlic Rosemary Pork Loin

Recipe courtesy of "Atkins: Eat Right, Not Less"

- 1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
- 3 garlic cloves, minced
- 2 tablespoons fresh rosemary, thinly sliced

Sweet Potato-Pumpkin Puree

Recipe courtesy of Atkins.com
Prep time: 20 minutes
Total time: 1 hour, 20 minutes

- 3 large egg whites
- 5 tablespoons sugar substitute, divided
- 1/2 cup half pecans
- 1 1/2 pounds sweet potatoes, peeled
- 1/4 cup unsalted butter stick
- 1/2 cup heavy cream
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 15 ounces pumpkin (without salt, drained, cooked and boiled)

Heat oven to 250 F. Lightly butter baking sheet.

In medium mixing bowl, beat egg whites with electric mixer at high speed until foamy. Gradually add 3 tablespoons sugar substitute and continue mixing until soft peaks form. Spoon onto prepared baking sheet and spread with spatula to 1/4-inch thickness. Bake 35 minutes. Turn oven off; let meringue stand in oven 45 minutes. Crush meringue and place in bowl. Add pecans and toss gently to combine. Set aside.

While meringue is resting, place sweet potatoes in medium saucepan. Cover with water to 2 inches above potatoes and bring to boil. Cook until tender, about 20 minutes, and drain. Return saucepan to medium-high heat. Add potatoes, butter, cream, remaining sugar substitute, salt, cinnamon, pumpkin pie spice and pumpkin puree. Stir to combine. Mash with potato masher until smooth. Heat through, about 1 minute.

Transfer potato mixture to serving dish and cover with meringue topping.

- 1/4 teaspoon sea salt or sea salt flakes

In large mixing bowl, combine heavy cream with protein powder and stevia. Whisk until smooth. Add cream cheese, almonds or macadamia nuts, caramel syrup and vanilla extract; blend until smooth. If cream cheese clumps slightly, mix with rubber spatula, breaking up bits of cream cheese against side of bowl.

Sprinkle mixture with xanthan gum, if desired, and mix about 30 seconds. Mixture will thicken slightly.

Cover tray that will fit into freezer with sheet of wax paper. Using soup spoon, scoop mixture onto tray, making 18 mounds. Alternatively, use two silicone candy molds or empty ice cube tray coated with olive oil spray and press cheesecake mixture into 18 molds. Sprinkle with sea salt. Freeze at least one hour before serving.

Note: Can be stored in freezer up to 1 month.

Tip: Switch up flavors by using sugar-free hazelnut syrup in place of caramel and hazelnuts or walnuts instead of almonds.
