YWCO 19th annual Victorian Christmas Tea

By Linda Cranford

As guests arrived at the YWCO Thursday afternoon, December 7 for the 19th annual Victorian Christmas Tea, the sound of Christmas music was heard coming from the Gilchrist Room as pianist Carolyn Blackledge tickled the ivies. The hum of voices in conversation, and the occasional outbreak of laughter, could be heard throughout the event as approximately 50 ladies (and one man) from all over the Laurel and Jones County area enjoyed the afternoon tea in both the Tea Room and the Gilchrist room of the historical YWCO in beautiful downtown Laurel.

The graceful Victorian Christmas

Tea is reminiscent of an event which began in England around 1830, when one of Queen Victoria's ladies-in-waiting, Anna Marie Stanhope, known as the Duchess of Bedford, created the afternoon teatime. As the noon meal became skimpier, the Duchess would experience a "sinking feeling" by afternoon, and would have the servants sneak a pot of tea, a few breadstuffs and cake to her room. Soon she began to invite friends to join her for an additional afternoon meal in her room at Belvoir Castle and adopted the European tea service format. The menu centered around small cakes, bread and butter sandwiches, assorted sweets, and, of course, tea.

Nineteen years ago a group of Y Board members visited Windsor Court in New Orleans to learn how to properly serve a traditional English tea. Since then, the board members of the YWCO have invited ladies of Laurel and Jones County to join them for an afternoon Victorian Christmas Tea, which has become one of the most popular activities during the Christmas season.

Led by President Mary Kay Rogers and Event Chair Mary Ann Stroka, the YWCO staff and board members prepared and served the traditional meals for the afternoon tea, which began at 3:30 p.m.

In accordance with the traditional tea service format, the guests were served a choice of teas, Mandarin Orange Spice or Earl Grey, followed by a light three course meal. The first course included three types of sandwiches: pimento cheese, tomato, and chicken salad. The second course consisted of lemon lavender scones, strawberry scones, and tree shaped lavender shortbread. The third and final course included orange date mini muffins or brownie cookies, and raspberry tarts or vanilla cupcakes with Christmas sprinkles.

Carpenter Brothers Emporium of Wonderful Whatnots opens in Ellisville

By Linda Cranford

After months of renovations, the oldest building in downtown Ellisville, built in 1893, which formerly housed Vern Geddie's Western Auto, became the Carpenter Brothers Emporium of Wonderful Whatnots with its unique business model. Thursday, December 7, a ribbon cutting ceremony was held to formally open the Emporium with its approximately 35 vendors and their venues of unique items for sale. The Emporium is only open one week-end out of the month — the first Thursday through Sunday.

Tana Henderson, known as the Junk Goddess, introduced this unique business model to the Jones County area when she opened The Rusty Chandelier. The Carpenter brothers (John Robert and Blaine) said they were vendors in the Rusty Chandelier for approximately five years. "We would not be here today if it wasn't for Tana and her guidance," said Blaine.

"These guys are all about improving downtown Ellisville" exclaimed Jones County Chamber of Commerce Ambassador Jonathan Strickler from The First Bank during the ribbon cutting ceremony. Strickler presented the Carpenters with a plaque of their first dollar of clear profit. Chamber Ambassador Shataura Sanders, with the Jones County Supervisors office, presented them with the EDA Membership artwork, which for this year's poster

ironically depicts Hotel Alice and Ward's Pharmacy in downtown Ellisville.

At the ribbon cutting ceremony, the Carpenter brothers were surrounded by family, friends, state and local government officials, including Representative Donnie Scoggins and Mayor Lynn Buckhaults, EDA President and CEO Ross Tucker, and Chamber of Commerce ambassadors.

The Emporium will be open the first week-end of each month from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Thursday through Saturday, and from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Third Annual Shop with a Firefighter

By Linda Cranford

Saturday afternoon, December 16, a Hummer Limousine furnished by Ralph Cahill and Elite Hummer Limousine of Laurel pulled up to the north entrance to Walmart. Seven children with a number of volunteer firefighters from the Calhoun Volunteer Fire Department piled out of the back door of the limo to begin an afternoon of shopping that the children will perhaps remember for the rest of their lives. Throughout the year the volunteer firefighters have been busy raising money for this very moment.

“We can’t thank the community enough for the support they have shown this year,” exclaimed Scott Rushing with Calhoun VFD. “We are able to help a total of ten this year have a Christmas that they possibly would not have had. Just since Thanksgiving, two of the families we’re helping today lost everything in house fires and they are both from the Calhoun community.”

Rushing said the department was able to raise $2,600 this year, one hundred dollars over their goal, giving each child $250 to spend. He said the extra $100 will be applied to next year’s goal.

“The greatest thing is to see the smiles on the kids face,” said Rushing. “One young man looked at me with eyes wide opened and asked, ‘I can really have this?’

Some of the children new exactly what they wanted, while others were so overwhelmed with the opportunity they just weren’t sure. But as soon as they were all ready to begin the shopping spree, several headed straight to the toy department and others headed for the clothes department.

After shopping the kids headed to McDonald’s, where manager Stacy Chandler gifted the children with lunch, and then it was on to the Country Lanes Bowling Alley.

After choosing a new phone and tablet, Omarion Nix spent the remainder of his money on clothes as he shopped with Calhoun firefighter Jesse James. Photos/Linda Cranford

Southeastern Baptist College receives top rankings in several categories

By Linda Cranford

It has been said that Southeastern Baptist College is the best kept secret in Mississippi. The Christian college has recently received top rankings in several categories including 8th Best Christian College in Mississippi and 17th Best College in Mississippi by Niche.com.

Military Friendly® Schools has elevated SBC from its Silver status ranking in 2017 to the Gold level ranking for 2018 as a military friendly school. In October, SBC was ranked 6th by Online Christian Colleges among the 30 most affordable online Bible colleges in the United States. This ranking was created using the National Center for Education Statistics' College Navigator database. The 30 most affordable online Bible colleges were selected and ranked based on the following ranking methodology: tuition cost, student-to-faculty ratio, diversity of online degrees, and national recognition. Online Christian Colleges was created to help students make well-informed decisions when choosing an internet-based Christian degree program.

“Southeastern specializes in Christian hospitality and student satisfaction,” said Dr. Scott Carson, SBC president. “We are proud to provide our students an accessible and affordable Christian education and excited to be ranked among the most affordable online Bible colleges.”

Carson came to the college at the first of 2016 as adjunct professor upon the invitation of SBC former president, Rev. Danny Pitts. Later in the year Carson became academic dean. With the sudden passing of Rev. Pitts in December 2016, Carson was appointed interim president in January and elected president in May.

SBC is located in Laurel and is a non-profit educational institution owned and operated by the Baptist Missionary Association of Mississippi. SBC offers degrees in general education, business, Bible and church ministries. Mississippi teachers can also earn credits for recertification.

With a student-to-faculty ratio of 6-to-1, SBC offers three associate's degrees and one bachelor's degree, one hundred percent online. Southeastern is fully accredited on the state level by the Mississippi Commission on College Accreditation (MCCA) and by the Association for Biblical Higher Education (ABHE) on the national level. To learn more about the college go to <http://southeasternbaptist.edu/>.

“Remember Mississippi” – A Story that Needed Telling

By Linda Cranford

In 2014, Mississippians witnessed a Senate Primary of historical proportions. The entire country had their eyes on Mississippi as State Senator Chris McDaniel challenged U.S. Senator Thad Cochran for the Senate seat. A book signing was held recently in Laurel by McDaniel and Ryan Walters for their book, “Remember Mississippi,” which depicts the behind-the-scenes actions of the controversial race. During the book signing McDaniel said he will announce after the holidays if he will be running for a state or federal office.

“Ryan felt the story needed to be told,” said McDaniel. “It’s not simply a story about the campaign, it’s a story about the campaign working within a corrupt system and how the establishment within that corrupt system brought every tool it had to crush our campaign. It’s a book about redemption to a certain extent, a book about loss to a certain extent, and a book about betrayal. But, ultimately, I think what Ryan was trying to get across to the reader was that we are in a fight for the future of this country. And, for us to be successful we have to change the status quo. The establishment on the other hand seeks to maintain the status quo at all cost.”

McDaniel added, “‘Remember Mississippi’ is a battle cry for conservatives all over most of the country. If you remember what happened here, we can inspire people to make sure it never happens anywhere else. Ryan did a tremendous job researching. The book isn’t simply Ryan’s opinion; there are over 400 footnotes in the book. It is a thoroughly detailed piece of work written by an intellect who can tell the story better than most.”

McDaniel and Walters said the book came about because they were both getting emails and calls from people all over the country months after the primary who were still angry about what happened in Mississippi and were encouraging them to tell the story.

When Walters decided to write the book he called McDaniel to run the idea by him. “I told him I’ve got either a brilliant idea or a stupid idea,” said Walters. McDaniel agreed that the story needed to be told and in May 2015 Walters started researching. He went back through the hundreds of articles he had written and posted on the website he had launched during the campaign entitled “Mississippi Conservative Daily.”

Walters grew up in Ellisville and graduated from South Jones, Jones County Junior College, and USM. He has a master’s degree in American history and has started working on his PhD. For the past four years he has lived in Arlington, Texas and has been teaching history at Tarrant County College (TCC), which is located in the Dallas/Fort Worth area. He has taken the last semester off to promote the book, and should McDaniel decide to run in 2018, he plans to join his team.

“Remember Mississippi” is Walters’ second book to write. Approximately five years ago, Walters wrote a book entitled “The Last Libertarian” about President Grover Cleveland. “Grover Cleveland is a forgotten conservative president who gets lost in the shuffle,” said Walters. “He is in that group of presidents between Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt that is an obscured era of American history and most people don’t know anything about him. I think he was one of the best presidents we’ve had, and he has gotten lost.” Walters said he plans to release a new version of the Grover Cleveland book in a couple of months.

Walters said “Remember Mississippi” began as what is called a boys-on-the-bus type story about the campaign without much of a theme to it. “As the presidential campaign unfolded, and we started seeing Ted Cruz, Donald Trump, Ben Carson and Rand Paul - people that were anti-establishment unconventional candidates - soar to the top of the list, we said something’s going on here,” said Walters. “Chris called me up one day in the middle of the presidential campaign and said

I’m getting emails from people all over the country telling me they’re supporting Trump because of what happened in Mississippi. They were angry about what happened and they were retaliating against the establishment. During the Presidential campaign, Erik Erickson, who wrote the forward to the book, wrote an article for Red State entitled ‘The Chris McDaniel Legacy Haunts the Republican Party.’ That was a confirmation for us. Erickson, a nationally recognized conservative commentator, was hearing the same thing as Chris and me. He was hearing things from people in Iowa and all over the country that they were retaliating because of what the establishment did to Chris McDaniel in Mississippi.”

Walters said the major theme throughout the book is the fact that Trump doesn’t become the nominee and win the Whitehouse if it hadn’t been for Mississippi 2014. “People want to know what really happened. We had accusations flying everywhere, five people were arrested, we had two alleged break-ins, there was race baiting, vote buying, vote stealing, a Supreme Court challenge, and we even had one suicide. How many people can say that about a Senate Primary? It’s an exciting story, but there is also a point to it; how far will the establishment go to wreck a conservative candidate like Chris McDaniel. This is a detailed, behind the scenes inside baseball type stuff, of some of the decisions that were made.”

Walters added, “One of the reasons we put so much detail in the book, with over 400 footnotes, is because we believe whatever campaign Chris runs, they’re going to bring up some of those old allegations. Now we’ve got a book that we can say, go read this and learn the truth.”
