Special Thanks

Friends of the Library wish to thank everyone who attended and supported the Annual Hoag Library Tasty Treats program.

Tips on how to write CLASSIFIED ADS that sell!

- 1 USE A KEY WORD. This immediately tells the reader exactly what you have to sell.
- 2 Make your description CLEAR AND FACTUAL. State the year, make, model, color & size and tell what condition the item is in. Also, state the special features.
- 3 STATE THE PRICE. Successful classified advertisers have learned that the price in an ad helps increase the chances for results.
- 4 IF THERE IS A GENUINE SENSE OF URGENCY, say so. The words "We're moving," or "Must sell fast," suggest that readers respond immediately.
- 5 INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER. Classifieds get results fast and often generate immediate sales. If you cannot be available to answer the phone at all times, be sure to specify special calling times such as "after 9pm" or "before 11am."

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE RESIDENTS OF ORLEANS COUNTY FROM YOUR HIGHWAY SUPERINTENDENT'S ASSOCIATION

For your safety and well being during inclement weather, you should reduce your speed and drive according to the highway conditions. Winter driving conditions with icy and snow covered roads require more driving care.

If your vehicle becomes stranded, contact the Orleans County Sheriff's Department at 589-5527 and they will notify the appropriate Highway Department.

SNOW REMOVAL

The law regarding the depositing of snow on highways, shoulders is as follows:

"Section 1219 of the Vehicle and Traffic Law and Section 214 of the Highway Law of New York State specifically prohibit the placing or leaving of snow, ice or other substance upon any highway (which includes pavement, shoulders and ditches).

As a result, should these practices occur, Police Agencies will be notified of such occurrence(s) with the intent that summonses will be issued to the responsible person or persons.

MAILBOXES

Mailboxes damaged during snow removal:

During and after significant snow storms, Highway Agencies, in the course of plowing, receive phone calls regarding damage to mailboxes, either from snow plows directly or from the force of snow being thrown by the plows. If such damage is indeed caused by snow removal, it is not done intentionally but is an unfortunate consequence of snow removal.

As far as the particular agencies replacing damaged mailboxes, it must be pointed out that there is no statutory or legal authority which grants a property owner or resident along a public highway any right to place a mailbox in a highway right-of-way.

That the mailbox is on town or county right of way as courtesy to the postal service.

Thus, when the necessity of keeping highway open conflicts with the individuals reception of the mail, the latter must stand aside. The owner might even be compelled to remove the box under Highway law #319.

From past experience, we have found that plastic mail boxes do not withstand the abuse of snow from the plows hitting them and are not recommended.

As a courtesy, the Highway Department will place a temporary box so that a resident can receive mail if their box is damaged by the plow but we will not replace any fancy mailbox or post.

Mailbox posts with fancy supports are not recommended as they stick down under the box and give the wing plow something to get hold of. A box mounted directly on top of a treated 4 x 4 is the best. Please note illustrations.

RIGHT

WRONG

For further information, contact your local Highway Superintendent.

On Dec. 19, 2017, our loving Mom, Marie A. Lozaw, went to be with her sisters, Edith Gilbert and Dorothy Webber. Known as the Brewer girls, the heavens are a little brighter with the sisters together again. Marie was from Middleport, N.Y. Mom lived her life like her mother before her with great strength, witty humor, a strong mind and everlasting love for her family and friends. Mom loved company and hosted many outstanding parties including her poker parties with her brothers, cousin and friends. She also enjoyed a cold beer on a hot summer day while working in her flower beds. She was an avid dog lover, spoiling each and every pet she owned. Mom had great times at the casino, traveling many times to Las Vegas with family and friends and always proving she was the lucky one. Mom's greatest holiday was Christmas, where she had an open door policy for family and friends who had nowhere to go. She opened her home and her heart to all and you were met with an abundant amount of love, laughter, food and drink. One year our Dad surprised her with a trip to Ireland, which they enjoyed immensely. Almost daily a calming peace would capture Mom as she would watch the flock of turkeys and deer graze in her backyard. It was amazing to witness. Along with our Dad, John “Ed” Lozaw, they built a wonderful home and guided us to be strong, caring and independent adults. Their love showed us how to form our own long-lasting relationships. They taught us how to trust, respect and love each other. Mom was always there for us at any time for advice and support. She was our best friend. James (Ita) Paron, Jerry (Linda) Paron and Cynthia (Gary) Cornelius will miss her forever. One of Mom's biggest thrills was when she became a grandma. She loved her grandchildren and they loved her right back. There is special bond never to be broken between a grandma and her grandchild. Her grandchildren are Julie (Quentin) Tyler, Marcella Paron (Jeffrey Miller), Janelle (Josef) Foster, Chad (Erin) Cornelius, Michelle Crosby, Nicole (Ryan) Mattison and Rebecca (Aaron) Cook plus 16 great-grandchildren. Born Jan. 31, 1931, to the late Ruth and Russell Ingraham and Leslie Brewer, Mom graduated from Royalton Hartland Central School in 1947. She worked at Bells IGA for six years and then went to Harrison Radiators for 22 years where she retired. Mom was predeceased by another sister, Lois Christ Cassaenti. Surviving are her brothers: Richard (Carol) Ingraham, Terry Ingraham and Leslie (Josephine) Brewer Jr.; and sisters-in-law: Eileen Capuson, Patricia Prentice, Margaret Lozaw and many nieces and nephews. The best gift is to always remember our Mom with her laughter and awesome smile. We are forever grateful for the love and support of Niagara Hospice. Memorials made to Niagara Hospice are greatly appreciated. Relatives and friends called on Fri., Dec. 22, 2017, at the Bogan & Tuttle Funeral Home, 226 Pearl St., Medina, NY 14103, where a funeral service was held on Sat., Dec. 23, 2017. Burial was in the Cold Springs Cemetery. Please light a candle in Marie's name or share a memory at: www.boganandtuttlefuneralhome.com.

Elizabeth was born in Pittsburgh and her family moved to Medina, N.Y., when she was 2. She was proud of Medina and often explained to people that it was a lovely Victorian village located on the Erie Canal between Buffalo and Rochester. Elizabeth earned her Bachelor's degree at the Eastman School of Music and her Master's Degree at the University of Buffalo. She worked several summers as counselor/music teacher at Camp Winnetaska in New Hampshire and taught music in Scotia, N.Y., before being selected by the Department of Defense to teach at Tachikawa Air Force Base's elementary school near Tokyo, Japan. She met her husband, Joe, there and they were married on May 27, 1967. Their son, Scott, was born in Japan. In 1969, they received a transfer to Bamberg, Germany, where their daughters, Lauren and Jennifer, were born. Their final year with the Department of Defense in Europe was spent in Nurnberg, Germany. Elizabeth and her family returned to the United States in 1973, living in Medina for several years where Elizabeth taught music at Towne School and worked as choir director at the Medina United Presbyterian Church. They moved to Saginaw in 1975, where Elizabeth was a traveling music teacher with Saginaw Public Schools and choir director at Countryside Church. She later taught music at the Millet Center and completed her career as a special education teacher in her own classroom there. Elizabeth also worked for many years as an adjunct professor at Saginaw Valley State University, teaching music methods to students in the College of Education. Elizabeth was a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, a women's educational sorority, served as a Deacon at Second Presbyterian church, played in the church's JuBELLation handbell choir and sang in the chancel choir; she also sang in the Saginaw Choral Society. She served as an officer in the Saginaw County Association of Retired School Personnel and was also active- and a board member- in the local chapter of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association. Elizabeth and her husband and several other couples founded and worked for many years in the Saginaw Chapter of The Compassionate Friends (TCF) shortly after their daughter Lauren died in 1979. TCF is an international organization providing support to bereaved parents and siblings. In recent years, Elizabeth loved spending time with her grandchildren and has especially treasured times at their family cottage on Lake Huron. Trips to Stratford, Ontario's Shakespearean Festival each summer were another experience she loved. Joe and Elizabeth joyfully celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary and renewed their vows last May at a memorable surprise party planned by their children. Elizabeth was predeceased by her daughter Lauren Elizabeth in 1979; her parents, William A. and Dorothea Pritchard Stockfield; her sister, Mary Wagner; and sister-in-law Arlyce Stockfield. A celebration of Elizabeth's life was held on Fri., Dec. 22, 2017, at the Second Presbyterian Church in Saginaw. Memorials may be made to St. Jude's Children's Hospital, the Second Presbyterian Church of Saginaw, Mich., or to Operation Smile. # Healthy Choices

— Your guide to looking and feeling your best —

Do you have HEEL pain or ARCH pain?

HEEL SPUR SYNDROME/PLANTAR FASCITIS

is a common problem among people who are active. It starts as a dull intermittent pain in the heel which may progress to a sharp persistent pain. Classically, it is worse in the morning with the first few steps, after sitting, after standing, or after walking.

- Plantar fasciitis often begins with irritation and tearing of the fibrous band of tissue on the bottom of the foot, which may eventually result in the formation of a heel spur.

- Contributing factors: flat pronated feet, high arched feet, poor shoe support, increased age, sudden weight increase, increased activity level, family tendency.

- Approximately 2-3 times your body weight of force is exerted on each foot with walking. Flexible, non-custom molded arch support found at those advertised shoe stores cannot support these forces and usually do not provide long-lasting relief, do not come with a lifetime warranty, and are typically more expensive than custom-molded ones made by our office.

- 95 percent of our patients symptoms are resolved with conservative treatment, avoiding surgical intervention.

- We also offer surgical procedures with the best post-op success rates using Endoscopic Plantar Fasciotomy techniques and EPF resulting in minimal incisions and scarring, immediate ambulation and often back in a shoe in one week.

If you can't remember when your feet didn't hurt, now is the time to give us a call!

Healthier in the New Year

Millions of people resolve to get healthier by dieting and exercising more frequently at the start of each new year. According to data from the International Health, Racquet & Sportsclub Association, 12 percent of new gym memberships are opened in January. The second week of January is one of the busiest times of year in the fitness industry. But many people who decide to exercise more at the dawn of a new year quickly lose that resolve. New Year's resolutions to diet may wane as well. In 2013, a UK food company found that of those who diet regularly, two out of five quit within the first seven days, one out of five last a month, and only 20 percent make it to the three-month mark. To make healthy resolutions last longer, people should recognize that results do not happen overnight and should not be discouraged by slow progress. In addition, diet and exercise is not a fast fix, but rather a lifestyle change. With consistent calorie control and exercise, people may see a gradual reduction in weight and other improvements to their overall health. Some may find it most effective to work with a nutritionist and a gym trainer. ■

Signs of a Heart Attack

Some heart attacks are sudden and intense, but most heart attacks start slowly, with mild pain. Often people affected aren't sure what's wrong and wait too long before getting help. Symptoms include:

CHEST DISCOMFORT. Most heart attacks involve discomfort in the center of the chest that lasts more than a few minutes, or that goes away and comes back. It can feel like uncomfortable pressure, squeezing, fullness or pain.

DISCOMFORT IN OTHER AREAS OF THE UPPER BODY. Symptoms can include pain or discomfort in one or both arms, the back, neck, jaw or stomach.

SHORTNESS OF BREATH with or without chest discomfort.

OTHER SIGNS may include breaking out in a cold sweat, nausea or lightheadedness

Women are somewhat more likely than men to experience other common symptoms, particularly SHORTNESS OF BREATH, NAUSEA/VOMITING, AND BACK/JAW PAIN.

If you or someone with you has one or more of these signs, don't delay!

THE
LAW AND YOU

BY NATHAN D. PACE
ATTORNEY AT LAW

CHALLENGING JURORS

Before trial, lawyers from both sides have the right to engage prospective jurors in a questioning process, called "voir dire," with the goal of selecting an impartial jury. During this process, jurors may be challenged and excused in one of two ways. A challenge "for cause" asks the judge to excuse a prospective juror on the basis that a legal impediment to that person's service as a juror exists. For instance, there may be something in the person's background or answers to questions that indicate that he or she is not fair and impartial. A "peremptory" challenge can be exercised for any reason whatsoever. Unlike a challenge for cause, the lawyer need not explain or justify the challenge.

If you are the defendant in a trial, it is essential to have an attorney in your corner who will ask the right questions of prospective jurors. You need someone who will select panelists who are most likely to be favorable and eliminate any who may be prejudiced against you. This attorneys at the Law Office of MACK & PACE have extensive experience in the courtroom. We are dedicated to getting you the best possible outcome. Call us today and put our expertise to work for you.

534 Main St., Suite 6
Medina, NY 14103

HINT: While there is no limit to the amount of challenges for cause, the number of peremptory challenges is limited.

Handling Major Lifestyle Changes

In the 1960s, researchers Thomas Holmes and Richard Rahe studied the potential link between stressful life events and illness. After examining the medical records of thousands of patients, Holmes and Rahe discovered that there was a strong correlation between the two, ultimately developing the Holmes and Rahe Stress Scale.

Holmes and Rahe found that the death of a spouse, divorce and imprisonment were among the most stressful life events. But a person need not be widowed, recently divorced or newly imprisoned to be dealing stress sparked by a major life change. In fact, Holmes and Rahe found that marriage and retirement, two things many people would consider positive changes, were among the 10 most stressful life events.

Change can be both exciting and frightening. Men and women facing major life changes like moving, switching careers or retiring can take the following tips to heart to make such transitions go as smoothly as possible.

• Embrace the positive. Change has its advantages and disadvantages, but once men and women have decided to make changes, they should shift their focus toward the positive aspects of changing instead of worrying about the potential negatives. For example, if moving, focus on the adventure of living somewhere new and the opportunities to explore new places and make new friends.

• Accept your decision. Many people spend ample time mulling the pros and cons of major decisions before ultimately deciding to make major changes. People who decide to change careers may have spent years trying to decide if such a change was the right move. Once they have come to a decision and started the process of changing, whether it's giving a boss two weeks' notice or putting a house on the market, men and women should accept their decision and rest easier knowing they exercised their due diligence before making a final decision.

• Commit to your decision. Fully committing to change can increase your chances of making a successful transition. If moving to a new place, look for opportunities to connect with neighbors and other members of your new community. Parents can be active in parent organizations at their children's schools, while professionals can make a concerted effort to connect with coworkers in an effort to build strong relationships that can help their transition go smoothly.

• Maintain existing relationships. Professionals who are moving on to new companies and adults moving to new communities don't have to give up their relationships with current coworkers, neighbors and friends. Maintain contact with valued friends, neighbors and coworkers through channels such as social media, email or even the telephone. These people have likely been valuable resources and friends for years, and there's no reason you cannot continue to look to them for support and provide a source of support for them should they make a major change in the years ahead.

Change is rarely easy, but men and women can take several steps to make transitions go smoothly. ■

GARAGE SALES & AUCTIONS

Avoid Charity Scams

Nonprofit organizations and charities do extensive work to help people and fulfill their missions.

When commercials, emails or direct mail pamphlets tug at the heartstrings, it's understandable to want to help as quickly as possible. But just as there are scores of legitimate organizations banking on the generosity of willing donors, so, too, are there scam artists hoping to exploit that generosity. These crooks not only prey on innocent donors, they indirectly steal from people affected by disasters poaching donations meant for relief organizations.

The American Grandparents Organization says Americans donate upwards of $300 billion to charities each year. These include well-known and well-established charitable groups and crowdfunding sites like GoFundMe. Statistics Canada says Canadians make roughly $11 billion in charitable donations each year.

While the majority of donations end up in the right hands, charity scammers still manage to victimize unsuspecting individuals. Follow these tips to make sure hard-earned money is going to reputable groups and not to criminals preying on your generosity.

- Start by doing research. Charity Watch and Charity Navigator, each of which is recommended by the Federal Trade Commission, have carefully researched many different charities. This can be the first stop in verifying the legitimacy of a particular charity. Check for a charity's registration number and see if it's registered on the Better Business Bureau website at www.bbb.org/us/charity.

- Don't give to cold calls or emails. It's best to take your time with charitable requests and confirm their authenticity. This may require visiting the website of a particular group or contacting them directly to see how you can help. You never know who is on the end of a phone call or who sent an email soliciting donations. What's more, according to Charity Navigator, cold calls are usually conducted by for-profit telemarketers that have contracted with charities. These contracts are not favorable to the charities - with up to 95 cents of every donated dollar going to the telemarketers.

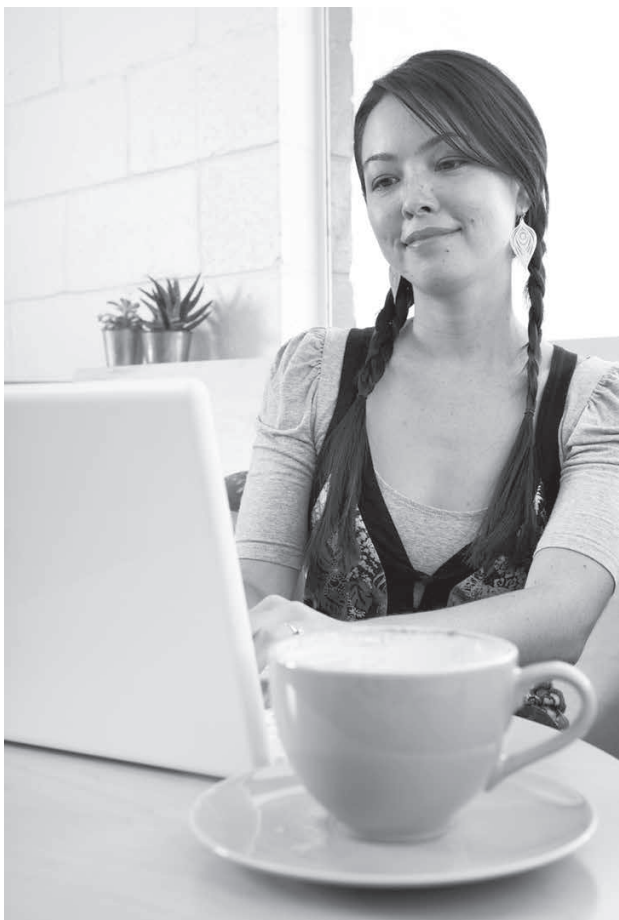

- Don't give cash donations. Cash is difficult to trace, making it a preferred method of donation collection among scam artists. If a charity is insisting on cash or wants you to make a decision immediately, this should raise red flags.

- Protect your privacy. Only work with charities that respect your privacy and will not sell your name or information to other groups.

- Request information. Reputable charities will tell you how they will spend your money and if your gift is tax-deductible.

- Be aware of sound-alike groups. Some scam artists create sound-alike organizations to trick donors. In such instances, donors believe they are donating to legitimate charities but are really giving to another organization. In 2016, the Federal Trade Commission brought charges against four sound-alike cancer groups, highlighting just how prevalent such faulty organizations are.

Charity scams are prevalent. But by being diligent about researching and gaining information, donors can avoid parting with their money unnecessarily. ■

How to Turn a Hobby Into a Career

The end of the year tends to be a time to reflect on the previous 12 months. Many people are inspired to find a new career at the dawn of a new year. Some might find it possible to turn hobbies and other interests into ventures that can make money or even serve as new jobs.

Earning a living doing something you love is the ultimate goal for many people. However, before a person tries to turn a hobby into a career, he or she first needs to analyze the situation and give such a momentous decision ample consideration. All hobbies cannot be adapted into lucrative businesses, especially those that are very niche-oriented. The following techniques can help people turn their hobbies into careers.

• Streamline and perfect your skill. Before trying to turn a hobby into a career, obtain further training or education, if necessary. Just because you're qualified to do something as an amateur does not mean you can do it as a professional. Research if you need more schooling and pursue that schooling if you find you do.

• Appeal to other hobbyists. Hobbyists tend to be quite enthusiastic and passionate about their work. Therefore, your first client base may very well be other hobbyists. Attend street fairs, carnivals and any other gatherings that tend to bring hobbyists together. This can help spread the word about your ventures and open up your work to an extended network of like-minded individuals.

• Listen to all feedback. Take criticism and other feedback from as many people as you can. This will help you to really fine tune and professionalize your hobby. Try brainstorming with people, remaining open to what others have to say about your potential business.

• Start small and simple. Getting your feet wet in the business world takes an investment of time and money. It's easy to follow the mentality "go big or go home." But with the goal of turning a hobby into a career, you may want to start slowly - taking the bunny hills before skiing down the expert-level slopes. Start selling items or services in the community. Expand to a website. Keep track of your profit margin before you grow your business even further. You must be realistic in your ability to make money that can fully support you and your business.

• Write about your interests. You may be able to make money through your hobby without performing the hobby. Become a freelance writer and share expertise through a blog or by contracting with newspapers and magazines. Sharing your expertise can be a lucrative and less costly way to turn a hobby into a new career.

Turning a hobby into a profession may not result in instant success. But with dedication, the dream may come true. ■

Enjoy a Fun New Year's Eve Out on the Town

New Year's Eve is traditionally a night to go out on the town to celebrate with family and friends. Such celebrations tend to be rowdy, as millions of people across the globe say so long to one year while welcoming in the next.

Because New Year's Eve is such a popular night to paint the town red, prospective revelers may want to begin planning their celebrations early to ensure they have the safest and most enjoyable night possible.

- Book dinner reservations early. According to the National Restaurant Association, New Year's Eve is one of the five most popular nights of the year to dine out. Restaurants can book up quickly and early for New Year's Eve, so book reservations as early as possible. Try to get as accurate a potential headcount as possible before booking a reservation, erring on the side of an extra person or two if necessary. Once a reservation has been made, call the restaurant if the party size changes. If choosing a favorite restaurant, keep in mind that the typical menu might not be available, as many establishments offer limited prix fixe offerings on nights as busy as New Year's Eve.

- Choose a celebration spot well in advance as well. Restaurants book up quickly on New Year's Eve, and so do bars hosting festivities. Some establishments sell limited numbers of wristbands to celebrants, and once those wristbands are sold out, they may not allow additional celebrants to enter the premises. Discuss potential post-dinner spots with all the members of your party, ideally deciding on a spot well ahead of New Year's Eve.

- Utilize mass transportation. Because New Year's Eve is such a popular night to go out, roads can become crowded in and around city centers or downtown areas. If possible, use mass transportation when going out on New Year's Eve. Doing so can help revelers avoid traffic jams and keep the focus on fun.

- Choose a designated driver or utilize a taxi or ridesharing service. In areas where mass transportation is unavailable or unreliable, celebrants should choose a designated driver or drivers from their group, or arrange for rides home via a taxi or ridesharing service. The Insurance Institute for Highway Safety notes that, between 2010 and 2014, there were an average of 118.2 crash deaths on January 1. Many of those were likely New Year's Eve revelers on their way home after midnight. Designated drivers, cabbies or ridesharing services prevent potentially impaired celebrants from getting behind the wheel.

New Year's Eve is one of the most popular nights of the year to go out. Celebrants who plan early can ensure a fun, safe and memorable night. ■

Chocolate-Strawberry Pie

Yields 1 pie

- 1 pint fresh strawberries, washed, trimmed and halved
- 1 store-bought (or homemade) chocolate cookie pie crust
- 2/3 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons unsweetened cocoa powder
- 1/4 teaspoon minced crystallized ginger
- 1/8 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- Pinch of kosher or sea salt
- 6 large egg yolks
- 2 1/2 cups half-and-half
- 6 ounces bittersweet or semisweet chocolate, chopped
- 1/2 tablespoon rum extract
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- Additional strawberries for garnish (optional)

- Place the strawberry halves in a single layer in the bottom of the pie crust.
- In a medium saucepan, whisk together the sugar, cornstarch, cocoa powder, ginger, nutmeg, and salt over medium heat.
- Whisk in the egg yolks to create a thick paste. Gradually whisk in the half-and-half until the mixture thickens, about 5 minutes. Bring to a boil and cook for 1 minute. Remove from the heat.
- Add the chocolate and whisk until combined. Add the rum and vanilla extracts. Cool the mixture for 4 minutes.
- Pour the filling over the strawberries and up to the top of the crust. Chill the pie for 2 hours or until set.
- Garnish with additional strawberries, if desired.
