Coopers served an essential function in a community known for growing fruit. The construction of wood barrels allowed farmers to ship apples and other produce by way of the Erie Canal and railroad system. This image, taken around 1880, shows the cooper shop located at Eagle Harbor on the south side of the Erie Canal just east of the bridge. The image shows young boys as well as older men, demonstrating the transfer of knowledge from master to apprentice.

Medina Sandstone served as one of Orleans County's most important industries. Paving stones, curbing, and construction blocks were cut and blasted from several dozen quarries throughout the area. This photograph shows a quarry located near Hulberton. The absence of steam equipment meant that men labored with hammers, chisels, and dynamite to extract the stone. This industry attracted a large number of Irish, German, English, Polish, and Italian immigrants to Orleans County during the 19th and early 20th centuries.

Lacey, standing on the right, arrived at Yates in 1884 as an immigrant from Norfolk, England. The barn was essential to the success of farmers in Orleans County; the monumental task of erecting these structures required cooperation, community engagement, and shared labor. This image shows a "raising bee" at the Arnold Gregory farm on West County House Road around 1880. A contractor was selected to design plans for the barn and local men would arrive on site to assist in lifting the framework into place.

Over many years now, you have been cleverly leaving gifts at my door at the North Pole. I have never been able to catch you or see how you've done it. You're better than I am at that, and I thought I had the market wrapped up in that department. However, all these years you have left the most beautiful items. I display them proudly and have had many compliments on them all. I received my gift this year, along with every year before, not knowing the individual or party to thank personally. There was one thing different this year than in the past. My thoughtful card read, "All good things must come to an end." The elves are retiring this year. I have been blessed in many ways in my life. One of them was having my elves keeping me in their thoughts and prayers. The gifts over the years are and will always be a reminder as to how thoughtful and caring you, or all of you, are. I do BELIEVE! Thank you so much and may God bless you all.

May my elves be blessed with a HAPPY, HEALTHY NEW YEAR!

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

My husband and I have been married for 37 happy years. I love him so much, and he's my best friend. He's been on dialysis for over a year now and he needs a kidney. He's on the kidney transplant list, but the wait list is over eight years. He can't wait that long. The doctors say we need to reach out to the public, friends, Facebook, anywhere we can. We are lifelong Orleans County residents. His kidney transplant team is at Strong Hospital in Rochester.

Is there anyone who can help us?

Call 585-735-5135.

Thank you!

OCTEC SKILLSUSA STUDENTS CELEBRATE THE HOLIDAYS WITH HELPING VETERANS

Over 150 SkillsUSA students at the Orleans Career and Technical Education (CTE) Center recently partook in a community service activity for military personnel and their families.

The students took some of the proceeds from their annual craft fair and chose to use the money towards two Red Cross sponsored activities, "Holidays for Heroes Comfort Kit Program" and "Activity Kits for Military Children". Suggested items for the comfort kits were toothbrushes, shampoo, conditioner, deodorant, shaving cream, nail clippers, toothpaste, combs, razors and gum. For children's kits they recommended coloring/activity books, crayons, colored pencils, washable markers, stickers, puzzles, books, craft kits, fruit chews, hand sanitizer and games.

Anderson (Royalton-Hartland), Elijah Sones (Medina),and

SkillsUSA Advisor Kara Kirktook the senior chapter officers shopping and says she was impressed with the students' skills. "They spent a lot of time at the Dollar Tree looking at labels on the hygiene products and toys for the children and trying to figure out what was appropriate. They were also trying to get the most bang for their buck, so they would have more to give."

After the SkillsUSA officers' shopping excursion, all the SkillsUSA students spent a day making Christmas cards and packaging their purchases into kits at the Orleans CTE Center. SkillsUSA officer, Heaven Flood, says the event put everyone in the holiday spirit. "It made us all feel very happy to be helping out members of our Armed Services and their families. You look around and everyone was smiling." Elijah Sones says it put everyone in the holiday spirit. "It was a lot of fun and made us all feel good." Malik Abdulghani says he hopes that when the kits are received they will know how much everyone appreciates what they do for our country. "We want them to know someone cares about them."

Lisa Taibi, who is in charge of the Services to Armed Forces and International Services for the Red Cross, says she was impressed with the number of kits the students donated. "The comfort kits will be distributed to veterans and their families in VA hospitals, during various homeless stand downs, valor days and other military fairs and gatherings across Western and Central New York Region during the holiday season and throughout the year. The activity kits will be distributed to military children at Yellow Ribbon events, family days or anything military related. They are geared towards keeping children occupied while mom and dad attend trainings or informational meetings. We are so grateful to what the students here at BOCES have done for our veterans."

Ms. Taibi was also presented with a $300 check from fundraisers held at the Orleans Career and Technical Education Center and the Orleans Learning Center for Hurricane Relief.

IMPORTANT DATES COMING UP

By Douglas H. Domedion

As many of you know the "dictator" in Albany wants all us pistol permit holders to recertify our permits. This was part of his SAFE ACT that he passed in the middle of the night back in 2013 without input from the people he represents.

Second half of waterfowl season is open!

If your pistol permit was issued to you before Jan. 15, 2013, you must recertify it by Jan, 31, 2017, and every five years after that. If it was issued on or after Jan. 15, 2013, you must recertify it in five years from that date. This crazy deal is part of Cuomo's UNSAFE ACT (which most folks have renamed it) and he believes it will make New York citizens safer! Yeah like all the bad guys have pistol permits! Anyways, if you don't recertify you will lose your permit and they will come take your pistols and sell them to get money to get the "dictator" more body guards. They will also charge you with at least one Class A misdemeanor, punishable by up to one year of incarceration.

There are several ways you can recertify your permit, although it was originally given to you without that specification (at least mine wasn't back in 1969). Under the old law, which most of us where under, once one had a pistol permit they kept it for life and didn't have renew it. It could be revoked, however, for various reasons, such as being convicted of a felony or certain misdemeanors or mental health issues.

One of the ways you can recertify is electronically (computer) or you can do it by mail by filling out the paper form (available online on the State Police website or at any New York State Police location) and then mail the completed form to New York State Police, Pistol Permit Bureau, Building 22, 1220 Washington Ave., Albany NY 12226-2252.

As part of the new recertification process, pistol and revolver permit owners are required to confirm certain information, such as one's name, current address, date of birth and a list of all pistols and revolvers you currently possess, including the associated make, model, caliber and serial number(s). In addition, one will need to have a NYS driver's license or non-driver identification card in order to complete the recertification process. If you have any questions about this process you can contact the State Police at 1-855-529-4867 or go on their website Pistol Permit Recertification: FAQs - New York State Police https://troopers.ny.gov/FAQs/Firearms/Recertification/. This recertification is FREE, it is just meant to be an inconvenience for law-abiding NYS citizens. Those without pistol permits or those that are crime-related citizens need not apply. I'm beginning to wonder if all this recertification stuff is being caused by our NYS government folks losing all their pistol permit data and are trying to get it back through us or if they really believe they are going to prevent crime and protect law-abiding citizens. Want to prevent problems with criminals who use guns – just hang them! The word will get out! Don't send them to "criminal college," feed and clothe them, give them a place to live and entertain them. Just think of the money we could save!

Another important date coming up is the opening of the second half of waterfowl season on Dec. 26 which runs until Jan. 14, 2018. The daily bag limit is six per day, 18 in possession for ducks, for Brant the daily bag is two with a possession of six and Canada geese three daily except over in Region 9 and south of us (better check the maps!) it is five. Snow geese is open straight through until April 15 with daily bag of 25 and no possession limit. Too bad we don't see the large numbers they do east of us although larger flocks are beginning to show up in our area more and more each year. This second half is basically a big water deal as our marshes and small creeks are generally froze up at this time. The popular ducks on the large and open waters like the Niagara River, Lake Ontario and Lake Erie are Scaup, Goldeneyes, Redheads, Canvasbacks, Longtail ducks, Scoters and Mergansers. There are certain daily bag limits on some of these ducks so the regulations

This is a much different waterfowl hunt than what we see in our local federal and state areas. Generally more decoys are need, a seaworthy boat, a good retriever and a lot warm clothing. Having good skills with a boat are essential as is being able to shoot effectively with bulky clothing on. Large size shot and heavier loads are also required as the birds are thick feathered not only because of the later season but also because some of these big water ducks are naturally heavier feathered than our marsh ducks.

HAVE A SAFE AND HAPPY NEW YEAR!

ESTATE PLANNING

A "revocable trust" (also known as a "living trust") may be amended or revoked at any time and directs the manner in which its assets are to be managed during the lifetime of its creator. This estateplanning tool acts similarly to a will by instructing how its assets should be distributed after the grantor's death. While a revocable trust offers, essentially, no tax advantages, it does offer some financial and administrative advantages. For one. revocable trust assets pass to named beneficiaries and are not controlled by the will, avoiding probate delays and costs. In the event of its creator's incapacitation, assets held by the trust would be managed automatically by a named trustee, thereby avoiding potentially costly guardianship proceedings.

Vocational Schooling Can Pave the Way to High-Paying Jobs

A great number of college graduates enter the workforce with degrees that may not help them land jobs. And these students typically carry thousands of dollars in tuition debt. Many college grads are underemployed and working in jobs that aren't even in their fields of study. Career and technical schools help students develop specialized skills that make graduates immediately marketable in their chosen fields, and trade salaries can be very competitive.

The following are some of the fastest-growing and highest-paying trade careers to consider, based on data from the Bureau of Labor Statistics and Forbes magazine.

- · Construction manager: Construction professionals with great organizational and communication skills can enjoy high earning potential as construction managers. Expected growth of this career over the next 10 years is 5 percent. The average income of a construction manager is $87,000. However, with a top-end hourly pay of around $75 per hour, it's easy for managers to earn into six figures.
- · Elevator installer and repairer: This career is listed as a top-earner. These employees can earn anywhere from $74,000 to $105,000 per year. Elevators are in demand as urban centers increase, so this career has staying potential.
- · Rotary drill operator: The oil and gas industry relies on rotary drill operators to extract oil or natural gas from underground sources. Salaries for these jobs can range from $30 to $40 per hour.
- · Dental hygienist: Cleaning teeth and inspecting mouths for disease is an important role. Job growth is still hovering around 20 percent, and hygienists can expect to earn up to $98,000.
- · Electricians and plumbers: Electricians and plumbers are continually in demand. With a short amount of trade school and apprenticeship, it's possible to earn up to $90,000 per year.

These are just a few of the many skilled professions that vocational schools prepare their students for. Scholarships and funding programs are available to help make vocational training an affordable possibility.

Winter Can Be Snow Much Fun!

Winter storms are on the way. While many people are anxious to see landscapes covered in white, others already are counting down the days to spring blooms. Weather can be awe-inspiring and interesting, and learning the secrets about snow is no exception.

Snow forms when water vapor in the atmosphere freezes into ice crystals. Snow falls as snowflakes, which come in a variety of shapes. However, according to Mental Floss, snow also can precipitate as graupel or sleet. Graupel are pellets of opaque ice particles that fall through freezing cloud droplets. They are not the same as sleet, which are drops of rain that freeze into small, translucent balls of ice.

Snowflakes are generally small and accumulate to form visible snow coverings. However, snowflakes can be large. The largest snowflake on record was reported to be 15 inches across and eight inches thick. According to "The Guinness Book of World Records," this giant snowflake was discovered at Fort Keogh, Montana, on January 28, 1887.

Although it appears white, snow is actually clear and colorless. The National Snow and Ice Data Center says the complex structure and many facets of snow crystals results in visible light being reflected. Light is absorbed uniformly over the wavelengths of visible light, which gives snow its white appearance.

Even though snow is more common in northern elevations and cold regions, snowfall is not exclusive to frigid climates. In the United States, snow has fallen in cities most often associated with sun and warmth, such as San Diego, Miami and Hawaii. The southern Italy town of Capracotta received 100 inches of snow in 18 hours on March 5, 2015. In spite of its location, Capracotta has been known to receive enormous one-day snowfalls.

While snow can fall even in warm climates, the world record holder for the most snow belongs to a northern area. Mt. Baker ski resort in Washington state experienced 1,140 inches in the 1998/1999 winter season.

Snow can fall at temperatures well above freezing. According to ScienceBits.com, snow can still fall at temperatures as warm as 46 F. For snow to fall when temperatures are warm, humidity has to be very low.

Even though there's a common perception that no two snowflakes are alike, this isn't completely accurate. A scientist at the National Center for Atmospheric Research found two identical snow crystals in 1988. Also, similar results have been produced in laboratories.

Snow is an interesting form of precipitation. It can be scarce or plentiful, form in the north or the south, and may feature tiny snowflakes or extremely large ones. Snow also may take on the color of its surrounding environment.
