Helen Marie Threadgill

The life of Helen Marie Queen Threadgill was celebrated at 11:00 a.m., Monday, January 15, 2018, at West Oaks Funeral Home in Sulphur Springs, Texas, with Charles Moore officiated. Interment will be Saturday, January 20, 2018, at the Shiloh Cemetery, Mt. Enterprise, Texas, at 11:00 a.m. Helen died January 11, 2018.

Helen was an exemplary member of the greatest generation. Her life priorities were her faith and service to God, her love of family and her love for her church family, friends, and neighbors. Her greatest pleasure was helping others. She was born in Fort Worth, Texas, August 10, 1920, and was always so proud to be a native of her hometown. She and Carroll Threadgill were married July 31, 1943, in Fort Worth and made their home there for nearly 59 years until his death in 2002. Helen attended Paschal High School and business school in Fort Worth and worked at the Fort Worth Public Library, Greyhound Bus Lines and for American Manufacturing Co. She and Carroll were devoted to their family and enjoyed being involved in their family activities. She was a member of New Hope Baptist Church and the Ladies Friendship Bible Class, Mansfield, Texas. Helen was a volunteer at Huguley Assisted Living where she loved calling Bingo for over nineteen years. She was also recognized as an outstanding citizen by the Rendon Fire Department for her support (pies, dinners, etc!) of that organization. She loved cooking and sharing with others.

She moved at the age of eighty-eight to be near family in Sulphur Springs, Texas, and joyously embraced her new life there. She loved her friends in her church at Calvary Baptist and treasured her new neighbors on Kelli Circle. It was a joy for her to cook for family, fellowship dinners at church and many friends. She always had baked goods or other treats to give to guests as they left her house! She also looked forward to playing Spinner Dominoes and Skip-Bo with her friends and loved the Dallas Cowboys. The last nine months of her life were spent at Wesley House Assisted Living and the Cottages at Carriage House where, again, she made more friends, but regretted that she couldn't cook for them!

Preceding Helen in death were her husband, Carroll, her parents Bert and Helen Hunter Queen and her sisters Sue Oliver, Lucile Rappoport, and Louise Labyak. Surviving Helen are daughter Monica and husband Joe Crouch, Sulphur Springs, Texas, and son Morris and wife Doris Threadgill, Stephenville, Texas. PEOPLE TELL ME STUFF

Tumbleweed Smith

Tumbleweed Smith

After a career in radio and television news, I decided to concentrate on feature reporting. There are enough journalists covering the blood and guts of our country. I like to report on real life. Someone asked me the other day, “where do you find all those people you write about?” I told him the truth and replied, “people tell me about them.” My readers have some interesting friends.

When I started doing strictly features I put a thousand ideas into a folder. Some came from newspapers and magazines. Others came from things I wanted to cover. The list included unique and special people, places, legends, folklore, history, characters, storytellers and other things that make Texas what it is.

Soon I had five folders and my list of potential stories continues to increase. It’s all computerized now and when I head out to a certain part of the state, it’s easy to plan a trip. I just type in the cities I plan to visit and the names of interesting people fill the screen.

I could not possibly think of potential interviewees by myself. I get suggestions from people all the time. And for that I’m most grateful. I have made many friends and some of them can’t wait to tell me about someone they know who would make a good interview subject.

Listening is an art and I lend the folks I interview a good ear. Some of their family members tell me I got stories or experiences they have never heard.

I enjoyed news work and studied it in high school, later got a Masters Degree in Journalism from the University of Missouri. All the while I was doing hard news I always did features. Of all my news duties, features were my favorite. I went after humor. When I was news director of a radio station in Big Spring, I would go for donuts after the 7 AM news. I was in the mobile news unit and had a short broadcast the announcer and I called “a look around town.” Sometimes I would spout Shakespeare (the morn in russet-mantle clad, walks o’er the dew of yon high eastward hill). Once in heavy ice and snow I did a live broadcast about the best way to get your car to make a circle (turn your steering wheel to the right or left and slam on the brakes). I saved all those silly early morning broadcasts for some reason.

Documentaries always intrigued me and I did a documentary every week when I was a news director. Once I followed a pilot training class at Webb Air Force Base through its entire schedule, reporting each Saturday morning on what the trainees had done the previous week. I started my column 31 years ago and I’ve had fun with it ever since. The word retirement has never been in my vocabulary. I’ve got too many interesting folks to meet.
