Rules For My Daughters

(or any child of mine, I believe we should all follow these rules):

1. Make your bed every day; even if it’s right before you get in it.
2. Find your tribe and love them hard. True friends are hard to find.
3. Travel light through life. Keep only what you need.
4. Put butter on your biscuit, and twice as much when you miss me.
5. It’s okay to cry when you’re hurt. It’s also okay to smash things; but, wash your face, clean your mess, and get up off the floor when you’re done. You don’t belong down there.
6. If you’re going to curse, be clever. If you’re going to curse in public, know your audience.
7. Seek out the people and places that resonate with your soul.
8. Just because you can doesn’t mean you should.
9. 5-second rule. It’s just dirt. There are worse things in a fast food cheeseburger.
10. Happiness is not a permanent state. Wholeness is. Don’t confuse these.
11. If you’re staying more than one night, unpack your bag.
12. Never walk through an alley.
13. Be less sugar, more spice, and as nice as you’re able to without compromising yourself.
14. Can’t is a cop-out.
15. Hold your heroes to a high standard.
16. If you can’t smile with your eyes, don’t smile. And HUG like you mean it, full arm, full circle, put some strength in it. No half arm, shoulder taps. Insincerity is nothing to aspire to.
17. Never lie to yourself.
18. Your body, your rules.
19. If you have an opinion, you better know why.
20. Practice your passions.
21. Ask for what you want. The worst thing they can say is no.
22. Wish on stars and dandelions, then get to work to make them happen.
23. Don’t skimp on good sheets.
24. Fall in love often. Particularly with ideas, art, music, literature, food and far-off places.
25. Fall hard and forever in love with yourself.
26. Say Please, Thank You, and Pardon Me, whenever the situation warrants it.
27. Reserve I’m sorry for when you truly are.
28. Naps are for grown-ups, too.
29. Question everything except your own intuition.
30. You have enough. You are enough.
31. You are amazing! Don’t let anyone ever make you feel you are not. If someone does...walk away. You deserve better.
32. No matter where you are, you can always come home.
33. Be happy, say your prayers always and remember your roots.
34. Say what you mean and mean what you say.
35. Love every furry creature and treat them kindly.
36. No one will ever love you more than I do

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

BY AL SCADUTO

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You're eager to take on that new opportunity opening up as January gives way to February. Now all you need to do is resist quitting too early. Do your best to stay with it.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Doff a bit of that careful, conservative outlook and let your brave Bovine self take a chance on meeting that new challenge. You could be surprised at how well you do.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You might not want to return to the more serious tasks facing you. But you know it's what you must do. Cheer up. Something more pleasant soon will occupy your time.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) As you dutifully tidy up your end-of-the-month tasks, your fun self emerges to urge you to do something special: A trip (or a cruise, maybe?) could be just what you need.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Your achievements are admirable as you close out the month with a roar. Now you can treat yourself to some well-earned time off for fun with family or friends. (Or both!)

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Be sure you know the facts before you assume someone is holding back on your project. Try to open your mind before you give someone a piece of it.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You might feel comfortable in your familiar surroundings, but it might be time to venture into something new. There's a challenge out there that's just right for you.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your love of things that are new gets a big boost as you encounter a situation that opens up new and exciting vistas. How far you go with it depends on you.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) That recent workplace shift might not seem to be paying off as you expected. But be patient. There are changes coming that could make a big difference.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) While few can match the Goat's fiscal wizardry, you still need to be wary in your dealings. There might be a problem you should know about sooner rather than later.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Easy does it when it comes to love and all the other good things in life. Don't try to force them to develop on your schedule. Best to let it happen naturally.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A surprise decision by someone you trust causes some stormy moments. But a frank discussion explains everything, and helps save a cherished relationship.

BORN THIS WEEK: Sometimes you forget to take care of yourself, because you're so busy caring for others. But you wouldn't have it any other way.

times each day, and ask mailmen, delivery people, and anyone you see if they have seen your pet.

Most veterinary clinics will allow notices about lost pets to be placed on a bulletin board. Place advertisements in local newspapers and with radio stations. Include a lot of information about your pet, including age, sex, size, breed, and color. It is sometimes wise to leave out one identifying feature so if someone calls claiming to have found your pet, you would be able to spot calls from people who merely seek a monetary reward.

A reward for finding a returning a lost animal is always a good idea, and should be included on all notices and advertisements.

Life as a stray animal is not pleasant, and owners need to be diligent in doing everything they can to search for their pet and bring them safely home.

January 4, 2018
By Paulette Dean

What you can do to help a lost pet come home

We have a large notebook at the shelter that is filled with reports of lost dogs and cats. A dog will sometimes just follow a scent his nose has picked up, sometimes they have been scared by other animals, and sometimes they just wander away. Cats who are allowed outside can also become frightened by other animals or loud noises and run away in fear. In addition, cats do get into car engines and are given a very dangerous ride to destinations far away.

There are many reasons why dogs and cats become strays. The best line of defense is to provide a collar and identification information. Even in areas that permit dogs to wander require a current city or county tag. Microchipping a pet is becoming increasingly important because of the increase in people picking up strays and either keeping them or placing them in rescue groups.

If the worst happens and your dog or cat is missing, contact all animal shelters within a 50-mile radius. It may be very helpful to make copies of a recent picture and take them to the shelters. Sometimes, owners describe an animal and the person hearing the description gets a different picture in their mind. Coming to the shelter is always advised.

My friend was so kind, slowly wheeling me through the mall in my wheelchair. Patrons in the mall had mixed reactions as I came by with my oxygen mask, IV, and eye patch. My head was tilted down at an angle, my hands were trembling. My white hair, old man hat, and pajamas rounded out the picture.

I was clearly a man with not long to live.

Lest you worry, please allow me to put your mind at ease. I am actually quite well, and have been remarkably healthy for all of my forty-seven years. There will likely come a day when I have to send out a request for people to pray for God to heal me if it is his will. But on the day in question, I was actually in disguise, and for a very good reason.

It was our fourth annual Mall Tease Manhunt. The two teams of young people from our church are sent out on a two or three county chase, following one clue after another, until they finally arrive at a large mall somewhere. When they arrive, they must come into the mall and find me, and the first team that does earns 100,000 points for their yearly competition. My task is to disguise myself so well that, even when out in plain sight, they will not know who I am.

In this case, it was mission accomplished. In fact, the disguise was so believable that I achieved something almost unthinkable; a family member who has known me literally my entire life did not recognize me. I wheeled right by him, and he thought I truly was a sick old man.

"Facing Death Without Fear"

It gets even better. A moment or so after I wheeled by him, one of the teams came by him and he stopped them.

"Listen," he said, "I know you are going to be stopping people and talking to them to see if they are the Preacher. But there is a really sick old man in the mall being pushed around in a wheelchair. Whatever you do, don't bother him at all, that isn't the Preacher."

When the other team finally discovered me, the team he warned away from me was, to put it mildly, annoyed with him. Their laughing yet pointed instruction to him was, "Next time do two things: drive faster, and don't talk to us!"

Things like this take an enormous amount of work, literally weeks and weeks worth of preparation. But investing in the lives of young people is worth it a thousand times over.

For me, though I enjoy the fun as much as any of the kids, God made sure there was much more to it than just fun. As my preacher friend was wheeling me quietly around, those silent moments brought a very loud thought to my heart; one day this will be real. If Christ carries his coming, I will one day literally be facing death.

We all will.

Hebrews 9:27 says, "And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment." Every one of us lives in dying bodies. Since Adam himself we have all been born with an expiration date to these fleshly containers that house our souls. We will have an accident and die, or be killed and die, or get sick and die, or get old and die. The question is, will we be ready for death, and for what comes next.

As a minister, I have been around death and the dying for many years. I can tell you with certainty that not everyone meets death with the same attitude. I have been at the bedside of those with a look of sheer horror in their eyes. I have also been at the bedside of people who lifted their arms to heaven, smiled, and breathed a last breath here only to inhale celestial air a split second later.

Paul did not fear death. The former Christ-hater came to know him as his Lord and Savior. And after spending the rest of his life serving him, right before he died said "I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand."

That is the kind of fearlessness that a real child of God can have as they meet death.

* January Sales Items: Get great deals on leftover holiday decorations and cards, appliances and furniture, as well as linens, towels and other "white sale" items.

* Keep a few fabric-softener sheets in the linen closet. It will keep the towels smelling fresh. If you have lots of extra bedsheets, it keeps them fresh-smelling, too.

* "Whenever I have a casserole pan that has baked-on, hard-to-remove bits left behind, I fill it with water, add a little dish soap and stick it back in the warm oven. I let it sit for several hours -- even overnight -- and the gunk just slides off the next day. Elbow grease is getting harder and harder to come by these days, so I try not to waste it." -- I.S. in Pennsylvania

* "Have a budding artist? Mine has just gone through a crayon-on-the-wall period. I tried all kinds of things to get it off, and then a neighbor told me to use a damp rag dipped in baking soda. It's great, and the crayon came right off." -- G.L. in Massachusetts

* Substitutions: 1 cup of sugar dissolved in 1/4 cup of hot water can stand in for 1 cup of corn syrup.

* "If you live alone, always take your cellphone with you when you go outside or in the garage; in case of an accident, you can contact someone." -- K.P., via e-mail

HOLLYWOOD

by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — Matt Damon suffered a double whammy just before Christmas. On Dec. 14, his father, Kent Damon, passed away from cancer. On Dec. 22, his latest film, "Downsizing," opened to a "downsized" box office that recouped only $7.3 million of its $150 million investment. His last film, "Suburbicon," which opened Oct. 27, made back just $9 million of its $25 million cost. His last Bourne film, "Jason Bourne," grossed $415 million against a $120 million cost, and his "Great Wall" film, which opened in February, cost $150 million and grossed $335 million (mostly because of a huge overseas advance from its release in China and other territories, and only $45 million in the U.S. and Canada). He's a lot less bankable and needs a big hit. We like Matt and are hoping his next project will turn all of this around.

Dwayne Johnson

Three of the original four stars of "Star Wars" — Harrison Ford, Carrie Fisher and Mark Hamill — each received 0.25 percent of the profits, while Sir Alec Guinness negotiated and got 2 percentage points. Assuming their percentages were raised with their salaries for each picture, they all became very rich from the franchise.

The final coroner's report on Carrie Fisher's death revealed that she had sleep apnea and fatty tissue buildup on her artery walls. In addition, they found cocaine, heroin, opiates and ecstasy, which they suspect may have contributed to or caused her death. But "The Last Jedi" is not her last film because she filmed "Wonderwell," with Rita Ora and Vincent Spano, about the high fashion and modeling world, prior to her death. Her daughter, Billie Lourd, has admitted, "She battled drug addiction and mental illness her whole life!" You know she and her mom, Debbie Reynolds, who died the day after her, are "Singin' in the Rain" in heaven.

Having a great year is Dwayne Johnson, whose "Jumanji" film (he's also executive producer), which opened Dec. 20, cost around $100 million and grossed $121 million in its first three days. He's by far the busiest and highest-paid star in Hollywood today. He executive produced the sci-fi monster film "Rampage," with Naomi Harris and Joe Manganiello, opening April 20, and produced the action film "Skyscraper," with Neve Campbell, coming July 13. In addition, he's currently filming "Fighting With My Father," with Vince Vaughn and Lena Headey, hitting screens Sept. 14, and of course "The Fast & the Furious 9," due April 2020. The Rock caterpillar has become the Dwayne Johnson butterfly.

Dec. 27 marked the first anniversary of Carrie Fisher's passing. As "Star Wars: The Last Jedi" kills it at the box office, with grosses of $900 million, she must be smiling from beyond.

How to get more money from your tax return...

Yes, it is tax time again. That magical time of the year right after Christmas when many of us are looking forward to getting a refund from the government. I don't know about everyone else but I want to get back as much as I can so why pay someone to do your taxes if you don't have to. There are lots of resources out there to help you get your taxes done... for free! The Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program offers free tax help for families or individuals with incomes of $54,000 or less. This year there are locations in Danville (434-793-5627), Chatham (434-432-8250) and Caswell County (336-694-7447). These sites will prepare your federal and state taxes at no charge. The volunteers are IRS certified and you can have your money in your account within just a few days. If you are interested in filing online yourself you can go to www.myfreetaxes.com and file for free. Or, if you are a member of URW Credit Union you can log onto our online banking service (Netbranch) and there is a link to use Turbo Tax service for free also.

Roseanne Barr has been no announcement as to who will take over the role of Prince Philip from Matt Smith.

READERS: In the age when all things old(ish) are new again, news comes that the award-winning cartoon series "Animaniacs" is set to return as the first Hulu original series for families, and I cannot even explain how excited I am. The Warner brothers, Yakko and Wakko, and the Warner sister, Dot, as well as wannabe world dominators Pinky and the Brain, are ready to enchant a new generation of cartoon lovers.

"Yakko, Wakko and Dot have been waiting impatiently inside the water tower, and now their hilarious brand of animated chaos will be unleashed — again! We're incredibly excited to be partnering with Amblin Entertainment and Hulu for new episodes of 'Animaniacs,'" said Sam Register, president of Warner Bros. Animation and Warner Digital Series. A premiere date has not yet been announced as production is still in the early stages.

Q. I remember you writing about "Roseanne" coming back to television, and I thought it would have premiered by now. Do you have any more details? — Barbie Y., via email

A. The "Roseanne" reboot — which brings back pretty much all the series' cast members, including Roseanne Barr, John Goodman, Laurie Metcalf, Sara Gilbert and both Beckys (!) — debuts Tuesday, March 27, on ABC for a nine-episode 10th season. In this iteration, Sarah Chalke (Becky No. 2) will play a new character named Andrea, a married woman who hires Becky (Lecy Goranson) to serve as her surrogate. "The Big Bang Theory" star Johnny Galecki also will return as David, but because of scheduling conflicts, he will appear in only one episode.

An original cast member who won't be returning is Becky's husband, Mark Healy, who was played by Glenn Quinn; Glenn passed away in 2002 of a heroin overdose. His character's memory will be honored in the new season: David (Mark's brother) and Darla named their son Mark. The decision not to recast the role, along with the naming of David and Darla's son in honor of Mark, points to the conclusion that the character of Mark also will be deceased.

Q. I just finished both seasons of "The Crown," and I absolutely adore it! But I heard that for season three, they will be recasting most, if not all, of the main roles. Why? I love everyone on the show. — Connie F., Fort Myers, Florida

A. Netflix recently announced that Olivia Colman would be replacing Claire Foy as Queen Elizabeth II in seasons three and four of the hit historical drama. And the most recent "unofficial" announcement is that Helena Bonham Carter will portray Elizabeth's sister, Princess Margaret. From the get-go, series creator Peter Morgan spoke of his intent to recast characters to better portray them as they age (instead of using age makeup and wigs, which I sometimes find distracting and off-putting). As of this writing, there

* It was British author P.L. Travers, best known for her series of books about Mary Poppins, who made the following sage observation: "A writer is, after all, only half his book. The other half is the reader, and from the reader the writer learns."

* You've probably been to a restaurant with a dessert called Death by Chocolate, but the real-life event is less appetizing. After falling into a vat of boiling chocolate in New Jersey, a man died before his co-workers were able to pull him out.

* Colgate toothpaste is good for more than just cleaning those pearly whites, evidently. Domestic scientists claim that it's also great for cleaning piano keys and removing scratches from glass.

* It's not known why there's a New Jersey law banning the sale of cabbage on Sunday.

* The first Band-Aid brand bandage didn't exactly look like the Band-Aids we're familiar with today. For instance, it was 3 inches wide and 18 inches long. A bit of overkill for a scraped elbow, I imagine.

* At weddings here in the United States, it is common for the bride to toss her bouquet to determine who will be the next to be married. At weddings in Finland the custom is a bit different, though the outcome is the same: There, the bride traditionally wears a golden crown, and at the reception she is blindfolded and spun around. Then all the single girls in attendance dance around her while the bride, still blindfolded, tries to place the crown on one of them. It's believed that the lucky girl who ends up wearing the crown will be the next to wed. ***

A Game-Day Winner

Game time is no time to mess around when it comes to fast, savory snacks. Crispy and light, tangy and bold, these wings have you covered for all your game-day needs. These spicy hot wings pair perfectly with Litehouse Chunky Blue Cheese or Homestyle Ranch Dressing and may result in another game day rivalry: blue cheese vs. ranch. Whether you're hosting the game-day party or bringing a dish to a friend's bash, these wings can make mouths water from the opening kickoff to the final whistle. Crispy Baked Buffalo Chicken Wings

Total time: 1 hour, 25 minutes
Serves: 8

- 4 pounds chicken wings
- 2 tablespoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- nonstick cooking spray
- 4 tablespoons unsalted butter, melted
- 1/2 cup hot sauce

- 1/2 cup Litehouse Chunky Blue Cheese or Homestyle Ranch dressing
- 1/3 cup Litehouse Blue Cheese Crumbles
- carrots
- celery

Lay wings on rack on rimmed baking tray and let dry in refrigerator overnight, or pat dry with paper towels.

Heat oven to 250 F. Put one oven shelf in lower quarter of oven and one in top quarter.

Place wings in large re-sealable bag. Add baking powder and salt. Shake bag to coat wings evenly.

Line tray with foil. Spray rack on baking tray with nonstick spray. Place wings skin side up on rack. Bake on lower shelf 30 minutes.

Move tray to higher shelf and turn oven up to 425 F. Bake 40-50 minutes, rotating tray halfway through. Wings are done when they are dark, golden brown and skin is crispy.

While wings bake, whisk together butter and hot sauce; keep warm.

Remove wings from oven and toss with hot sauce; sprinkle immediately with blue cheese crumbles. Serve with blue cheese or ranch dressing, carrots and celery sticks.

- 1 container Sabra Classic Hummus (10 ounces)

To make bruschetta: Cut cherry tomatoes into quarters or eighths, if large. Place in small mixing bowl. Stir in garlic, basil and olive oil, and season with salt, to taste.

Smoked Pulled Pork Sandwiches with Honey Barbecue Sauce

Recipe courtesy of the National Honey Board
Servings: 8-10

Pork Rub:

- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon chili powder
- 2 teaspoons paprika
- 1 1/2 teaspoons seasoned salt
- 1 1/2 teaspoons garlic powder
- 1 1/4 teaspoons onion powder

- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper

- 1 bone-in pork shoulder roast (4 pounds)
- 2 cups hickory chips
- 1 cup water
- 1 1/2 cups barbecue sauce
- 1 1/2 cups honey
- 1 cup ketchup
- 8-10 rolls
- chopped jalapeno peppers (optional)
- chopped onion (optional)
- chopped pickles (optional)

To make Pork Rub: Stir together sugar, chili powder, paprika, seasoned salt, garlic powder, onion powder, salt, cumin, pepper and cayenne pepper.

Massage Pork Rub over surface of pork and let stand 30 minutes.

Soak hickory chips in water; drain well. Wrap chips in foil; punch holes in foil and place on top of gas grill set on high.

When chips begin to smoke, place pork on grill and cook until well browned on all sides with lid closed, about 30-45 minutes.

Heat oven to 300 F.

Remove pork from grill and place in turkey-size oven bag set in large, shallow baking dish. Add water and seal well; pierce bag several times with small knife. Cook 3-3 1/2 hours, or until meat is tender and pork bone can be removed easily. Remove from oven. Remove bone and set aside until cool enough to handle.

Shred meat into small pieces, removing fat. Add juices from cooking bag, skimming off excess fat.

In separate saucepan, stir together barbecue sauce, honey and ketchup, cooking until hot and honey has dissolved. Stir most of sauce into shredded pork and mix well.

Serve on rolls and drizzle with remaining sauce. Top with jalapenos, onions and pickles, if desired.

WITH Dr. Keith Roach

Thigh Numbness Likely Due to Trapped Nerve

DEAR DR. ROACH: I am a 65-year-old male who has developed a lack of sensation in the lateral front half of my right thigh. The numbness involves strictly the skin. There is no loss of strength, function or balance in my leg. My gait is normal, although I find that if I go on a long walk, the skin will begin to "tingle." When I went to an orthopedic surgeon, he suspected that the condition could be caused by a disc problem. Although an X-ray did show some stenosis, it was not definitive.

I suspect I caused the problem by years of sleeping on my right side in a curled-up position, resulting in entrapment of the nerve. The orthopedist, however, says he generally sees this condition only in obese people, which I am not. How likely is it that my condition is of spinal origin rather than an entrapped nerve? If the condition can resolve itself gradually by avoiding activities that contribute to the problem, what does "gradually" mean? Do stretching exercises help relieve the entrapment? -- J.C.B.

ANSWER: What you are describing is meralgia paresthetica, the compression of the lateral femoral cutaneous nerve, which can be compressed as it passes under the inguinal ligament, exactly as you described. Your orthopedist is correct that this condition is more common in the overweight or obese; however, I have seen it in both people who are losing weight and people of normal, stable weight. It is more common in conjunction with diabetes, and it has been reported after long-distance walking and cycling. Because of the area involved in your numbness, it is very likely to be meralgia paresthetica and not spinal in origin. It does usually resolve, but it does so over the course of months, typically. Stretching would seem to make sense, but as far as I know, it hasn't been shown to work. If it isn't getting better, an injection into the nerve usually is effective. This is commonly done by an anesthesiologist or a pain-management specialist.

DEAR DR. ROACH: Can you please give me some information on Ehlers-Danlos syndrome? My daughter and two granddaughters have it. -- E.E.H.

ANSWER: Ehlers-Danlos syndrome is actually a group of uncommon genetic disorders, with very stretchy skin, flexible joints and tissue fragility as common features. There are six different kinds of Ehlers-Danlos, and each is different in regard to what tissues and organs it most affects. Most are caused by mutations in genes for collagen and related structural proteins. They can be inherited or not (in which case they are new mutations).

Flexible joints (often but wrongly called "double-jointed") and excessively stretchy skin are almost universal in EDS. The excess joint movement can cause dislocations and chronic joint pain resembling fibromyalgia. Other commonly associated conditions include prolapse of the mitral valve, hernias and, in the vascular type of EDS, aneurysms.

The prognosis in EDS depends to a great extent on the subtype. I would suggest that you go with your daughter and granddaughters to their doctor (if they agree) to learn more about their particular type.

Dr. Roach regrets that he is unable to answer individual letters, but will incorporate them in the column whenever possible. Readers may email questions to ToYourGoodHealth@med.cornell.edu. To view and order health pamphlets, visit www.rbmamall.com, or write to Good Health, 628 Virginia Drive, Orlando, FL 32803.
