Mitzi Riley

Tad with baby Mitzi

The cowgirl spirit is alive in women in every walk of life. Even if you don't ride a horse, you may have pioneered a business, made your mark as an artist or an athlete, mastered a musical instrument or climbed to a leadership role in government, small or large in scope. Or you may have played the role of empowering those who have accomplished great things. A visit to the National Cowgirl Museum and Hall of Fame in Fort Worth will help you realize your vital role and right to call yourself a "cowgirl". Let's look at another interesting pair of Cowgirl Hall of Fame inductees.

Tad and Mitzi, mother-daughter team

Mitzi Lucas Riley today

Rodeo cowgirls carried the show for the sport of rodeo during the war years when the men were away. As trick riders, bronc busters and bull riders, they pulled crowds in by the thousands at the big rodeos like Madison Square Garden and Boston. Mitzi Riley recollected a show in the late 1940's where besides their own featured acts, she and the other females would pose as "The Ranch Girls" driving in a big herd of Longhorns into the arena. They would circle the herd then pen them into a corner to make room for Roy Rogers and Trigger to enter the arena for his singing and riding act. One of the Ranch Girls was the dazzling, talented MITZI Lucas, daughter of famous trick rider Tad Lucas. Mitzi met her tie-down roping husband Lanham Riley in 1946 in NYC after he had completed his military duty and was back on the rodeo circuit. He competed and she performed at the top professional rodeos across the country for six years, after which Mitzi retired from the arena to raise a family. In 1958, Lanham made an occupational transition from full-time rodeo cowboy to professional horse trainer, a career that would span 40 years. His masterful horsemanship, work ethic and uncompromising honesty led to a large clientele. He passed away in 2006. Mitzi Lucas Riley has performed in rodeos all of her life. She is the daughter of Tad Lucas, "Rodeo's First Lady." Mitzi sampled rodeo life at the tender age of 5 months. She is famous for her trick riding as part of the mother-daughter team with Tad Lucas. In 1990 she established the Tad Lucas Memorial Award recognizing women who have advanced the sport of rodeo. She is honored in the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame.

Ranch Girls

When you find yourself in Fort Worth, Texas, find your way to the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Museum at 1720 Gendy Street near the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum. And remember, the cowgirl slogan "Always Saddle Your Own Horse" will take you a long way down the trail of life! Til next week, I will look for you at the corral gate.

Romantic Ideas for Valentine's Day...

1. Make a book about why you love your spouse and why you are thankful for him/her.

4. Surprise your spouse with a special getaway together-maybe at a bed and breakfast.
5. Give your wife a dozen roses. On each stem attach a note for a future date.
6. Fill a large box with helium balloons and special gifts for Valentine's Day. Example: new sleep shorts for him, nightie for her.
7. Order food from a take-out restaurant and have a picnic for all the Valentines in your family at home in the living room floor.
8. Weather permitting, watch a romantic movie on your deck or patio.
9. Hide little heart candies in your spouse's shoes, coat, car, etc. Let the children and grandchildren help.
