1. Who sang the theme song to "The Man with the Golden Gun"?
2. Madam Ruth, the gypsy with the gold-capped tooth, appeared in what song?
3. The top song in 1977 spent 10 weeks at the top of the charts, and won a Grammy. Name the song and its female singer.
4. In which song is "Don't look, Ethel!" heard three times?
5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "If I'm laden at all I'm laden with sadness, That everyone's heart isn't filled with the gladness of love for one another."

- Answers
1. The theme for 1974's ninth James Bond flick was sung by Scottish artist Lulu. She wasn't first choice. Elton John and Cat Stevens were at the top of the list.
 2. "Love Potion No. 9," by the Clovers (1959) and the Searchers (1964). The Clovers' version was used in "American Graffiti."
 3. "You Light Up My Life," by Debby Boone.
 4. "The Streak," by Ray Stevens in 1974.
 5. "He Ain't Heavy, He's My Brother," by the Hollies in 1969 and Neil Diamond a year later. The title has many likely origins, one of which is the slogan for Boys Town orphanage, founded by Father Edward Flanagan in 1917.

Letter to My Dog

Dear Dog:

Since you seem to have so much trouble processing the English language no matter how loudly it is spoken to you, I thought perhaps I could communicate with you more effectively if I wrote down my thoughts.

First, please allow me to assure you that you are not starving. In fact, if the newspapers bothered to publish a canine version of those irritating "body-mass indices" that my daughter so delights in reading aloud to me, I'm sure we would discover that you've got far more waddle in your walk than is strictly necessary. The way you visually track every bite of food I take, with a trembling expression of frantic pleading, is most annoying.

Speaking of walks: We've been taking the same route around the same block for nine years. For you to sob, whine, and tremble every time I get out your leash is just crazy.

And would you please stop rolling in road kill? Dead animals smell like...well, like dead fish. There is a reason I give you a bath every single time you roll in something--it is NOT a coincidence.

Here's a news flash: Our next-door neighbors LIVE THERE. They have a right to be in their own yard! Stop barking at them through our windows! Your crazed fury is especially irritating in view of the fact that when you actually encounter them in person you flop on your back and let them rub your tummy. As a guard dog, you're about as intimidating as a gerbil.

The following are not digestible: Balloons. Crayons. Socks. I can show you evidence out in the yard. Stop eating them; they are not food!

I do not mind rolling down the window for you when we are in the car. I don't even mind that the air rushing up your nostrils makes you sneeze. What I do mind is that you always pull your head into the car to share your sneeze with the back of my neck. Keep your head in or out, that's all I ask.

Our front door is three inches of solid wood; you cannot tunnel through it. Stop clawing! Don't we always let you out when you need to go?

The bushes in the back yard cost a lot of money, but there is nothing of value hidden under them. Stop digging for buried treasure! The stuff in the trash can is not your food. Oh, and your expression of shocked innocence when we accuse you of dining at the garbage buffet is not nearly as persuasive as the forensic evidence left strewn around the kitchen. Stop blaming the cat; she doesn't eat anything that costs less than a dollar an ounce.

Oh, and speaking of the cat, just because she gets to sleep on the bed doesn't mean that you do too. Did you think we wouldn't notice all the dog fur on our bedspread when we got home?

And another thing: I do not wake up at the same time every day! On days we don't work, we're allowed to sleep past our normal waking time. Stop licking my face because your internal clock says it is time for breakfast. Don't dogs DO weekends?

Look, you do make me crazy sometimes. But I suppose I have to admit that even though you're lazy (you probably won't even bother to read this letter!) and don't seem very bright, you do have your positive attributes. You're the only one in the family who will get up and pace with me in front of the window when it's past curfew and my teenage daughter is parked in the driveway with her date. You're the only one who likes my cooking, and you share my opinion that we don't need a cat. After nine years of living with you, I suppose life just wouldn't be the same without you.

Wanna go for a walk?

Relax, we'll do the housework.

Mrs. Right
Sitting in the bar George asked his 40-year-old friend John, "How come you aren't married?"

John: "I haven't found the right woman yet."

George: "So what are you looking for?"

John: "Oh she's got to be real pretty, a good cook and house keeper. She's got to know how to handle money, have a nice and pleasant personality and money. She's got to have money. And a nice big house wouldn't hurt either."

George: "A woman like that would be crazy to marry YOU!"

John: "Oh, it's okay, if she is crazy."

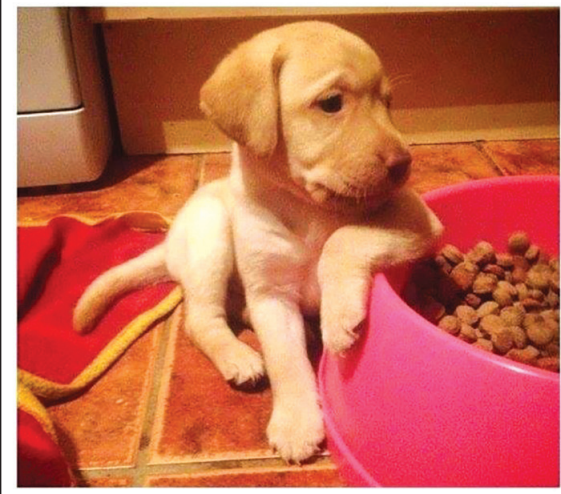

Tonsillectomy

We were on our way to the hospital where our 16-year-old daughter was scheduled to undergo a tonsillectomy. During the ride we talked about how the procedure would be performed.

"Dad," our teenager asked, "how are they going to keep my mouth open during the surgery?"

Without hesitation he quipped, "They're going to give you a phone."

Hey bartender, send a toilet water over there and tell her it's from me

When your mom would do your hair as a kid

Won't Sell to You

One day, a blonde went into an appliance store that was having a sale on TVs. She walked up to the counter and said to the clerk, "I would like to buy this TV."

The clerk replied, "Sorry, I don't sell to blondes."

So, the blonde dyed her hair brown and returned the next day. Again, she went up to the counter and said, "I would like to buy this TV."

Again, the clerk answered, "Sorry, I don't sell to blondes."

Puzzled, the blonde asked, "How did you know I was a blonde?"

The clerk replied, "Because that is a microwave."

PIEDMONT PETS

February 15, 2018
By Paulette Dean

Birds are wonderful companion animals. They are much smarter than most people think they are, and they can become a very important part of a family. Birds are now the third most popular pet in the United States.

However, people buy or adopt birds with the belief that they will be low-maintenance pets, and that is simply not the case. They have very specific physical and emotional needs, they can be very messy, and they can be destructive.

The smaller birds, including parakeets, lovebirds, and cockatiels, can live up to about 20 years, and the larger birds can live beyond 50 years. This is a major commitment of time, energy, space, and money that can span a couple of generations.

An appropriate cage for a small bird can cost a couple of hundred dollars, while a cage for a larger bird can cost several hundred dollars. Birds, in most homes, spend most of their time in a cage, and to provide them with anything less than a large-enough cage is inhumane.

When people take birds into their home, suddenly many commonplace things become dangerous. Fumes from self-cleaning ovens, scented candles, non-stick cookware, and cleaning supplies kill birds.

Most birds can be quite loud and raucous, and prospective bird owners need to realize that noise can be an issue in apartments. In addition, they love to shred paper, furniture, walls, curtains, or anything else they can get their beaks into.

Since birds can sing or whistle such pretty tunes, and some of them can talk, they draw a lot of interest. Combine that with their pretty colors, many people want to have them as pets. And that has led to a lot of problems for birds.

We have felt for years that the overbreeding of birds would become a serious issue, and it has. The number of birds received at shelters has increased, and some shelters will not accept them.

Birds make wonderful companions; however, we urge people to carefully research the issue before acquiring one.

Washington Doll

While Valentine's Day is always Feb. 14, President's Day can be any one of seven dates, the third Monday in February closest to the 20th. In 1885 George Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, was made a national holiday. But in 1971, Congress decided that instead of celebrating the real birthdays of President Washington and President Abraham Lincoln (Feb. 12), there would a Monday celebration for both. Why Monday? To give everyone a three-day weekend away from work. Feb. 20 was chosen because it was between the two real birthdays.

The doll is made of cloth with pressed and oil-painted features, and gray hair worn in a ponytail. His eyes are blue. The doll is dressed in a silk suit with a lace jabot and wears a tri-corn hat, black stockings and shoes with buckles. The costume is a familiar one.

The doll probably was not made for a young child, but as a part of the 1889 centennial celebration of Washington's inauguration. It was made by Martha Jenks Chase, who started making portrait dolls in her backyard about 1880. A 25-inch tall Chase Washington doll sold in 2016 at a Theriault's auction in Las Vegas for $3,080.

Q. I'd like information about my great-grandmother's full set of beautiful dishes and serving bowls given to her as a wedding gift in 1876. They are marked "LS & S Carlsbad Austria."

A. This mark was used about 1895 to 1917 by Lewis Straus & Sons, importers located in New York City. Carlsbad was part of Austria until after World War I, when it became part of Czechoslovakia. Today the town is called Karlovy Vary and is part of the Czech Republic. Several factories in Austria, Bavaria and Germany used "Carlsbad" in their mark. Many pieces were exported to the United States in the late 1800s and early 1900s. Sets of china are hard to sell, but you can enjoy the dishes for their sentimental value.

CURRENT PRICES

Fortune Telling Cards, tarot, gold edges, text and images, The Nile, US Playing Card Co., box, 52-card deck, c. 1900, 4 x 3 inches, $145.

Bronze doorknocker, Abraham Lincoln, profile, slavery abolished speech text, round, ring striker, 1915, 3 1/2 x 3 inches, $300.

Powder jar, orange milk glass with purple iris, hinged lid with brass band, interior beveled mirror, Wave Crest, 1800s, 4 x 6 inches, $500.

TIP: When polishing the metal hardware on old chests of drawers, slide a piece of stiff paper under the brass plate. This will protect the wood near the brass.

This 1880s George Washington doll is made of painted cloth. The face and clothing are familiar, and he really did have blue eyes. It recently sold for $3,080.

President Washington lived in the days before cameras, so he was remembered in designs for silhouettes, paintings, prints, medals, cameos, glass patterns, toys, Staffordshire figures to keep on the mantel and even drapery fabrics. Most of the memorabilia was copied from the few famous paintings of the president, images that still are used. A President Washington doll made after 1880 looks like Washington in his presidential years.

Career Opportunities!

CBN SECURE TECHNOLOGIES INC.

Security Guard (USA)

As a Security Guard at CBN Secure Technologies Inc., you will be tasked with protecting employees, our assets and the integrity of our secure facilities. You will achieve this by manning an Integrated Security Operations Center (ISOC) and effectively operating and troubleshooting the internal/external security and life-safety systems, identifying and addressing threats to the security of employees and operations. In joining us, you will become a valuable member of a successful high-tech, secure printing company and will work in a clean, modern facility where you will enjoy competitive health benefits and a matching 401 (k) plan.

Success in the role will require you to draw upon your 5+ years of experience in an armed security role (or equivalent) along with the knowledge and skills that you have developed in your previously held positions. Keen powers of observation will provide the basis of success in this role – you are the kind of person that looks for and notices when things are outside the norm. Your well-developed interpersonal and communication skills will help you build trust and cultivate relationships with your co-workers, and your self-control and discipline will ensure that you stay calm under pressure. Our internal systems are highly computerized, you will therefore also possess basic computer skills and a degree of technical savvy that will allow you to troubleshoot minor system issues.

What you can expect to do in the role:

- Control access to and movement of personnel (employees, visitors, contractors) within the building via a computerized access control system.
- Perform regular internal/external building security patrols and monitor security cameras to ensure that security and health and safety procedures are being adhered to across the building and grounds. Investigate identified security and health and safety threats, building maintenance issues, and communicate and report them to management.
- Act as a first responder and react quickly and effectively to emergency situations (fire, flood, chemical, medical, criminal, etc.) by initiating and following established emergency management plans to protect and preserve life, assets and the facility.
- Ensure the security of our facility and assets by monitoring incoming/outgoing deliveries and shipments.
- Prepare and submit incident/occurrence reports for security and health and safety related incidents and communicate and escalate accordingly. Complete daily shift reports your recorded observations regarding potential security or health and safety related threats pertaining to facility issues or personnel behaviours.

There are a few mandatory requirements for the position – you must be First Aid/CPR/AED certified, possess a valid Driver's License, be able to obtain certification or hold a certification under the Department of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS) of the Commonwealth of Virginia as per the Armed Special Conservator of the Peace Regulations and be able to pass a background investigation with no record or convictions. You must also be able to work a 12 hour rotating shift schedule that includes days, evenings and nights.

CBN Secure Technologies, Inc. is an Equal Opportunity Employer and all qualified applicants will be afforded equal employment opportunities without discrimination because of race, creed, color, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, age, disability, marital status, genetics, political affiliation, veteran's status, status as a reservist, or any other prohibited ground of discrimination

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Love rules the week with new romances favored for single Aquarians looking for partners. Cupid also targets renewed commitment for wedded Water Bearers.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A surge of creativity keeps you happily busy through the week. But leave some quiet time to share with loved ones. Some long-awaited news finally comes through.

"Laying Your Work Boots At The Foot Of The Cross"

I am brutally hard on clothing, especially footwear. This is mostly because I tend to go seamlessly from preaching to wading through mud to deal with some electrical or plumbing issue needing to be quickly addressed. So, after a few years of ruining things that did not need to be ruined, it finally dawned on me that I needed to have work boots laying around in every location I tend to inhabit.

This past week and a half have been very rainy ones. All of that precipitation served to expose a small issue with the HVAC system in our new fellowship hall, The Hope Center. The return duct cutting through the wall was not caulked properly, and water was leaking into the building. And so, when the rain stopped for a few hours, I waded through the mud with a caulking gun and several tubes of silicone. Half an hour later everything was water tight.

I threw away the used tubes and made my way up to the church. When I got to the front door, mindful of the mud that was covering my work boots, I removed them and laid them down before entering.

Right between our front doors there is a huge wooden cross, riven with three large, rusty nails.

I had laid my work boots down right at the foot of the cross.

I took about two steps before the Holy Spirit drove that thought home to me, and demanded that I pay attention. True Christianity is at once the hardest working and the least work-based thing in existence. People who have been born again work and serve the Lord very hard; knocking on doors, engaging in mission work to foreign lands, feeding the hungry, tending to the homeless, the list could go on forever. But as to salvation itself, there is an utter, shocking prohibition in reference to works. Ephesians 2:8-9 says, "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast." Romans 3:20 says, "Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight." Isaiah 64:6 speaks along the same lines, "But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags."

Simply put, a person who thinks their works can earn them salvation knows nothing of real Christianity. Not only will works never avail to save us, they will actually hinder us from being saved in much the same way a person having open heart surgery would hinder the surgeon by staying awake and trying to participate in the surgery.

Salvation was entirely purchased for us on the cross of Calvary when Christ sacrificed himself as the payment for our sin. 1 John 2:2 says, "And he is the propitiation (the satisfactory sacrifice) for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world. When Jesus died, that and that alone satisfied the Father. If there was any work possible that any one of us could have done to be saved, or even to help ourselves to be saved, then the death of Christ would have been the most ludicrous, foolish thing imaginable.

But it was not ludicrous, not foolish, not even close. What Jesus did was the most lovely, precious thing in time or eternity. We owed a debt we could not pay, so he paid a debt he did not owe, thereby offering us the free gift of salvation. All that is left for us to do is receive that free gift.

What will it require for us to do so? Here is what it will not require: works. There is no religious rite we can perform or have performed on us, there is no good deed that we can do, there is no charity we can give, there is no list of commandments we can keep, there is no new leaf we can turn over, there is no effort of our flesh that can save us or even help to save us. All that is left for us to do is lay our sinful selves at his feet, believe that He is the sufficient sacrifice who died on Calvary and rose again, and ask him to save us.

That will work. Work will not. If a person intends to be saved, he needs to lay his work boots at the foot of the cross.

Rejection Hurts. Find comfort at URW!

"No" is a lonely word.

Every day it seems more and more that banks are saying "no" to good hardworking people. That's because when it comes to loans, most banks focus on one thing, your credit score. What's so great about URW Community Federal? We're not a bank - we're better. We look at more than your score. We want to hear your story and look for reasons to say "YES!" And if we aren't able to help you right away, we'll work with you on a plan so that we can help you in the near future. Let URW help you "move on" from your bank, and move forward with your life!

Isn't it time you experienced the URW Difference

SOUTHERN CARAMEL CAKE

Ingredients

- 3/4 tsp. baking soda
 - 3/4 cup buttermilk
 - 1/3 cup butter
 - 1/3 cup shortening
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 3 eggs
 - 2 tblsp. cornstarch
 - 2 cups all-purpose flour
 - 1 tsp. baking powder
 - Pinch of salt
 - 1 tsp. vanilla extract
- For the frosting:
- 2 sticks butter
 - 2 cups light brown sugar
 - 1/2 cup evaporated milk
 - 1 tsp. vanilla extract
 - 4 cups confectioner's sugar

Instructions

For the cake:
Preheat the oven to 350F. Grease and flour two 9-inch cake pans and set aside.
Stir the baking soda and buttermilk together and set that aside as well.
Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt and set aside to use later in the recipe.
Cream the butter, shortening and sugar beating until fluffy. Add the eggs at a time beating well after adding each.
Add the cornstarch to the mixture and beat until well incorporated.
With mixer on low speed, add the flour mixture alternately with the buttermilk and soda mixture beginning and ending with the flour mixture.
Add the vanilla extract.
Divide the batter evenly between the two prepared pans. Bake for 20 to 25 minutes or until tester comes out clean.
For the frosting:
Sift the confectioner's sugar and set aside.
Place the butter, brown sugar and evaporated milk in a large heavy saucepan over medium-high heat and melt the ingredients stirring occasionally.
Once the mixture begins to bubble allow it to boil for approximately two minutes stirring constantly. Watch carefully to avoid burning the mixture.
Remove the pan from the heat and stir in the vanilla and confectioner's sugar. Immediately transfer to the bowl of a stand mixer and beat until the frosting is smooth and begins to loose its sheen (this often takes as much as 20 minutes to achieve). The frosting is ready to spread when it is still barely warm but holds its shape.

* Another nominee for removing antiperspirant stains: meat tenderizer. D.L. of Michigan writes: "Moisten the armpit area and then drag it through some meat tenderizer. Work it in, let it sit for five minutes or so, then launder in the hottest possible water."

* "Activity points are now a prerequisite in our house for allowance. Chores are still a part of the equation, but we are trying to instill how important it is to MOVE. I figure if my employer can incentivize me by lowering health-care costs if I use my Fitbit or participate in 5ks, I can 'pay' my kids to be active." -- Y.R. in North Carolina

* White porcelain sinks are so beautiful in a country kitchen -- but boy do those food stains just pop! No sweat, though. Just sprinkle liberally and scrub with baking soda, and then spray on a little hydrogen peroxide. Rub and rinse.

* Sources say that if you are having a hard time keeping your eating in check, the key is to plan ahead. At the beginning of the week, make a list of exactly what you plan to have each day for breakfast, lunch and dinner, as well as snacks. Then prep that food. Less decision-making midweek means less opportunity to make poor decisions. Good luck!

* "My three kids (and their friends) were always losing, bending or otherwise ruining my good flatware. So, I bought a bunch of cheap stuff, a bucket to fit it in and I put it on the counter. It all goes in there together, and you know what? It's no big deal. We just grab what we need and get on with our lives. I still have the good stuff, and it's what we use on special occasions." -- T.Y. in Illinois

Crooks Plead Guilty in Rent-a-Vet Scheme

Two crooks pleaded guilty to stealing money from the government in a set-aside program for veteran-owned businesses. Specifically, these two got nearly $14 million in construction contracts (20 of them) spread out in 11 states over nine years. Both were veterans. In 2004, Jeffrey Wilson and Paul Salavitch set up the Patriot Company. Wilson ran the whole thing as a front for his own construction company. Salavitch, the service-disabled veteran, didn't run the company, make day-to-day decisions, had never managed a construction company and didn't have much government contracting experience -- all requirements for the program. He was president on paper only. His pal Wilson said they needed stuff from Salavitch (plaques, Army items, anything personal) that would make one of the offices look like it actually belonged to Salavitch. What, then, did Salavitch do? He was a full-time employee of the Department of Defense in Leavenworth, Kansas. Wilson, meanwhile, had fun with some of the money. He put down nearly half a million dollars on a house he bought, and a quarter of a million to pay off his previous house. Not only that, but he used company money to buy another house out of state and paid $400,000 for life insurance premiums. Inquiring minds want to know: If the duo was hit with four counts each, why were they allowed to plead it down? And if the government grabbed $2.1 million in repayment, what happens to the rest of that $14 million? Then there's the prison time ... minimal. A possible year for one, a year and a half for the other. Seems like the sentence would at least equal the length of time the duo was in business, which was nine years. Scammers, take note. Whistleblowers are everywhere.
