Tullahoma

Every Mailbox, Every Wednesday

The best Christmas gift ever.

On Christmas Day 2016, Philadelphia resident Andrew Kleeman was in Tullahoma visiting family when he developed severe chest pain, shortness of breath, nausea and lightheadedness. He was healthy and only 53, but there was no mistaking the symptoms, and no hesitation about what to do.

He was rushed to Tennova Healthcare - Harton's emergency department, where he was met and evaluated by the emergency department physician and staff. Dr. Dinesh Gupta, cardiologist, was contacted and arrived at the hospital diagnosing Andrew with an acute anterior myocardial infarction. He was immediately transferred to the catheterization lab where he received two stents, followed by admittance to Harton's critical care unit (CCU).

Two days later, Andrew was discharged, pain-free and comfortable, to resume his holiday—and in plenty of time to celebrate his 54th birthday on December 30. On Dr. Gupta's recommendation, Andrew established a relationship with a cardiologist when he returned home.

"My cardiologist in Philadelphia was very impressed with the treatment I received at Tennova Healthcare - Harton," said Andrew. "He said a small community like Tullahoma should feel fortunate to have such excellent medical care available. I know my family and I are extremely grateful—for Dr. Gupta, the emergency staff, everyone in the cath lab and CCU."

For more information about cardiology services at Tennova Healthcare - Harton, please call toll-free 1-855-TENNOVA (836-6682) or visit Tennova.com.

"As a physician, results like Mr. Kleeman experienced are what we strive for with each and every patient."
