Officer's First Patrol

A rookie police officer was assigned to ride in a cruiser with an experienced partner. A call came over the car's radio telling them to disperse some people who were loitering.

The officers drove to the street and observed a small crowd standing on a corner. The rookie rolled down his window and said, "Let's get off the corner."

No one moved, so he barked again, "Let's get off the corner!" Intimidated, the group of people began to leave, casting puzzled glances in his direction. Proud of his first official act, the young policeman turned to his partner and asked, "Well, how did I do?"

"Pretty good," replied the veteran, "especially since this was a bus stop."

VETERANS POST

by Freddy Groves

Privatizing the VA

To hear David Shulkin tell it, he was bounced from his position as head of the Department of Veterans Affairs because he was anti-privatization, pressured by those (who were unnamed) who want to privatize the VA's medical services. Now he's used the media to defend himself, not mentioning his ill-advised European trip on the government dime.

The truth is, others are very much against privatizing the VA. Sen. Jon Tester, the ranking member on the Senate Committee on Veterans' Affairs, is against privatization. The American Legion is against it, as is the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

We need to keep the VA, with the Veterans Choice Program (VCP) on the side, if that's what we want. A version of Choice care actually started in 1945 under the name Hometown Program. (Look for VHA DIRECTIVE 1601. The current version is 1700.)

If all our care, or even most of it, is farmed out to the civilian world, what does the VA become? There will be less money for innovations; facilities will close, leaving fewer options for those who still want VA care; less veteran-centered research will be done; and the civilian care will be provided by those who don't understand the specialized help many veterans need. To make VCP better, do away with the 40-mile distance requirement. If the VA can't get us in for appointments in a reasonable amount of time (30 days at this point), we'll go to wherever we can be treated quickest.

Spend the money needed to fix up VA facilities. Too many are old, with vintage surgical wings and aging roofs.

Start firing those who are only marking time in their government jobs, collecting a paycheck without putting veterans first. That includes those who manage the money and don't recognize the waste.

At this point, it looks like a political football. Call your senators and speak up.

My sister and I grew up as Army brats. When I was in sixth grade, we were transferred from Germany to Chula Vista, California, for two years. Back in the States, I begged my parents for a dog, but my sister, Susan, and I settled for hamsters.

One day, my parents went to the grocery store. When Susan and my parents came home, they carried in a few bags of groceries and Mother asked me to get the final bag from the back seat of the car.

There, huddled on the floor of the car was a little brown dog. He had huge ears, eyes, and paws. With one look, I was in love. My parents had stopped by the pet store for hamster food and saw a cage full of dachshund-beagle mix dogs. Daddy spent a long time looking at them and said, "Well, pick one if you have your heart set on a dog." Mother picked the only male and the only brown one, and Daddy paid the $5.

A few nights before while watching Bonanza, we laughed at a lazy dog named Walter. When our new little puppy fell asleep over Daddy's feet, we knew our dog couldn't be named anything but Walter.

Daddy started the evening by saying that the dog needed to stay outside. Then, he changed to just not letting the dog on the furniture in the house. Walter spent the first night sleeping on the bed with my parents, where he slept for the next twelve years.

Walter let me take him for rides in a box attached to the front of my bicycle. He woke me up for school every morning. I took him for walks in my doll stroller. Walter went every place with us; one of us would stay in the car with Walter while everyone else went into the store. Through the years, supper was delayed many times as we waited for Walter's food to cool, since he always had a plate of what we were having. For me, Walter was the perfect introduction to pet ownership. He listened to all my troubles, and never once betrayed a confidence. He provided a solid shoulder to cry on. Walter never once criticized anything about me.

The night of June 30, 1978, I came home from a date and saw an old, sick Walter curled up on the couch with his blanket. The veterinarian had told us his kidneys were failing. I sat beside him and stroked his head and kissed that perfect spot between his eyes. I told him how much he had taught me and how much I loved him. The next day, Mother and I took Walter to the veterinarian for the last time. He is buried in a wooden box Daddy made, his head resting on the pillow I put him on to take him for walks in my doll stroller twelve years before.

Chances are, humans will outlive their pets. But, oh, the heartache of losing them cannot make us forget the sheer pleasure of having them.

KOVELS® Antiques & Collecting
 By Terry and Kim Kovel

Spice Bin

Why not collect food-storage antiques? Food had to be specially prepared to last during the centuries before ice boxes and refrigerators. Long hours were spent smoking, pickling, drying and canning foods. Fresh fruits and vegetables were available only "in season." Ice boxes were used in the 19th and 20th centuries. A block of ice was cut from a frozen lake then wrapped and stored in a special zinc-lined box. It melted as it cooled, and the housewife had to empty the pan of melted ice water at least once a day.

paint sold at a Showtime auction in 2015. It was a six-sided tower that held ginger, cinnamon, mustard, cloves, allspice and pepper. The revolving tower had ornate lithographed labels on the tin sections. The rare antique sold for $3,300.

If that is too big, look for the small (2- to 3-inch) tins that used to hold spices. The best have unusual graphics. Prices range from $5 to $25. They are still found at house sales, flea markets and online, but rarely at auctions because they are so inexpensive.

Q. I'm downsizing and want to sell my dining-room furniture. It's made of maple and is marked "A genuine Cushman Colonial Creation made in Bennington, Vermont." I have a table with two leaves, hutch, six chairs and a wet sink. How much do you think I can get?

A. The H.T. Cushman Manufacturing Co. was in business in North Bennington, Vermont, from 1892 to 1971, when it was bought by Green Mountain Furniture. The company was founded by Henry Theodore Cushman. The furniture probably won't sell in antiques sales, but a house or garage sale could be good. You should get about one-third the price of comparable new furniture if your set is in great condition.

CURRENT PRICES

- Elvis Presley record, "All Shook Up," RCA, 45 RPM, 1957, $10
- Folk-art birdhouse, wood, steep pitched roof, two windows and door, 21 x 21 inches, $60.
- Toy sand pail, kids playing on beach, tin lithograph, Ohio Art Co., c. 1930, 6 1/2 inches, $380.
- Wigwam Oats box, cardboard, Indian village, multicolor, 9 1/2 x 5 1/2 inches, $775.

TIP: Don't use old home-canning jars to preserve food. The jars with wire bails, glass caps, zinc porcelain-lined caps or metal caps with rubber rings do not seal as well as the new two-piece vacuum-cap jars.

A country store spice bin shaped like a Pagoda sold for $3,300 because of its rarity, condition and size. The 3-foot-tall lithographed tin Pagoda held six different spices that were ladled into bags by the store clerk in about 1890.

The first electric refrigerator was made in 1911, and by 1923, Frigidaire was selling a home refrigerator. Early refrigerators used freon in the cooling process, but to keep the planet green, the chemical was outlawed in the 1990s. The refrigerator-freezer combination we use today was first sold in 1939. But spices still are used to store, flavor and preserve food.

Grocery stores of the 1890s sold spices from a large container, or later, the small-sized tins sometimes used today. A spice display was an important part of the store. A 36-inch-tall Pagoda-shaped spice bin with original

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Don't waste your time and energy fretting over remarks you consider unnecessary or unkind. Best advice: Ignore them, and just keep doing your usual good job.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Getting that new perspective on a workplace situation could lead to a solution everyone will accept. Meanwhile, make time to keep up with your creative pursuits.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Those changes you planned to implement in early summer might need to be reassessed. But don't make any moves until you've discussed this with someone you trust.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your aspects favor harmony, making this a good time to work out problems in relationships -- whether personal or professional, big or small. An old friend comes back.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) While you're still riding that high-powered beam, you might begin to lose focus by week's end. Could be that you'll need to do a little cat-napping to restore your spent energies.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) An unexpected development creates a lot of excitement. Where it takes you is your decision. Check out the possibilities, then decide if you want to go with it or not.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Although your supporters help you squash an unfair claim against you, don't let this go unchallenged. You need to learn more about the motives of those behind it.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) There still are some tasks to clear up by midweek. Then you can welcome the new month on a high note. A friend brings surprising but very welcome news.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You might want to change your plans before they're set in cement. Consider advice from colleagues. But remember that, ultimately, it's your choice.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A difficult situation is working itself out. Lingering problems should be resolved by week's end, allowing the Goat to enjoy a calmer, less stressful period.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Be careful not to move so quickly that you miss possible warning signs that could upset your plans. Slow down. Your supporters will continue to stand by you.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Your generosity in sharing your time and wisdom with others leads to an intriguing development that could have you considering some interesting choices.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a way of influencing people to be and do their best. You would make an excellent teacher.

Danville, Va., April 13, 2018 – Two outstanding members of the Danville Community College (DCC) campus were recognized this week for their exemplary volunteerism and involvement in the local community.

Student Government Association President Nick Hines was recognized for his service with the 2018 Danville Community College Engage Student Leader Award on Tuesday, April 10.

The award honors one DCC student who has demonstrated superior service to the campus and surrounding community, through service-learning courses, internships, volunteering, and leadership positions.

Marketing and Business Management Professor David Bonebright earned the 2018 Danville Community College Engage Faculty Leader Award, which honors one DCC faculty member who has contributed outstanding service to the campus and surrounding community beyond the call of duty and exceeding expected job requirements, including advocating for student volunteerism or teaching an outstanding service-learning course.

Averett Criminal Justice Club

Recently, members of Averett University's Criminal Justice Club attended the American Criminal Justice Association – Lambda Alpha Epsilon 2018 National Conference in Cleveland, Ohio. Averett student Jasmine Lipscomb, Club co-advisor John Wilt and Averett alumna Melinda Reid-Averett participated in a mock crime scene exercise, fire arms competition, and criminal law, police administration, juvenile justice, corrections and LAE knowledge exams, and even a talent show! The team walked away with third place in police administration (professional category), third place in criminal law (professional category), second place in physical agility-36 and up age category, second place in the talent show, and third place team trophy in the mock crime scene competition. This year's conference, themed around police accountability, took place March 18-23 and hosted more than 315 attendees. (The attached image "81st Annual Conf" pictures from left to right: Lipscomb, Wilt and Reid-Averett with trophies.)

Then on March 31, members of the Club conducted a trash cleanup on Goodyear Blvd., in which eight to 10 bags of trash from the area were collected. This community service activity takes place three times a year. (The attached image "Goodyear Trash Pickup" pictures from left to right: Wilt, Shirley Redd, Reid-Averett, Lipscomb and Teresa McNeal.)

Letter to the Editor...

I am writing today to tell you about my friend, Sheila Baynes. When she told me she planned to run for Danville City Council this year, I knew that the idea of a "New Danville Rising" had taken root and Sheila would be its champion.

Sheila actively serves on several boards and other volunteer organizations in her free time—I'm not talking casual involvement, either; she makes time for this work because she is passionate about improving the community we call "home." Sheila sets a sterling example for citizen engagement and her commitment inspires me to do my best, just as I suspect it does for many others.

Sheila is present, she asks questions, she listens, and she is ready to lead in a new capacity.

You can trust that your vote for Sheila Baynes will be for a candidate who has dedicated countless hours to making Danville a better place to live and work. Sheila has given personal attention to so many issues and projects that depend on that level of involvement to be successful. She has helped to lay the groundwork for Danville's future and she is ready to build upon that foundation for all of us. I think that is something we can all agree we need. On May 1, let's stand united with Sheila Baynes for Danville City Council.

"Noah's Ark In... Kentucky?"

Genesis 6:13-14 "And God said unto Noah, The end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them with the earth. Make thee an ark of gopher wood..."

I began reading my Bible all the way through from year to year as a nine year old boy. My soul thrilled to read the adventures of the great heroes of God, my heart ached at the sin that caused so much harm, but above all my confidence soared in belief with every word it said as I compared it to the world around me. Genesis 3 spoke of the fall of man and the world being plunged into sin; I looked around and I saw that sin-filled world. Genesis 11 told of mankind being divided into nations and languages; I looked at the globe and saw nation after nation, representing language after language. And then in Genesis 6 I also read of a world wide flood; and having already learned that many fossils of sea creatures are found high on the tops of mountains and even far out in remote deserts, there was an easy correlation in my mind. Sea creatures do not walk to the top of mountains, or out into deserts; therefore those mountains used to be covered in water, just like the Bible said.

As I grew up, though, I came to know a different type of person from the church goers I grew up with. I first encountered them in college, these skeptics who disbelieved everything that seemed so obvious to me. And at the top of their list, the thing they held in the most derision, was the historicity of the world-wide flood and Noah's ark.

Their attacks usually ran along these lines. "How could you believe something so ridiculous, that tiny boat holding those millions of huge animals?"

I knew they were wrong, but I also knew that words would not suffice for people who had that flawed of a visual picture in their mind. And that brings me to the most recent excursion we took with 24 sweet folks from our church...

The Ark Encounter is the brainchild of Ken Ham. It sits in lovely Williamstown, Kentucky. It is a life size reproduction of the ark using the dimensions given in the book of Genesis. It is massive; definitely not the tiny greeting card caricature with animals hanging over the sides. It is said to attract around a million visitors a year, and the day we went it was so packed that I have no trouble believing that figure.

Whether one is a believer or a skeptic, this would be a trip worth taking. The Ark Encounter is the largest free standing timber structure in the world, and is utterly breathtaking. Just getting to view the outer shell and the interior framing alone would be worth the trip.

It goes much further than that, though. The displays do a remarkable job showing the plausibility of housing and tending to the several thousand animal kinds that would need to be on the ark in order to properly repopulate and speciate the earth. It has displays on the different nationalities that could easily have arisen afterward from the three sons of Noah and their wives, utilizing a Punnett square to show the genetic variability. It has amazingly life like creatures in pens on the ark, shows how much food and water would have been necessary for them, and gives excellent displays of the effects of a world wide flood, effects easily seen even in our day.

There is a petting zoo, zip lines, and a huge buffet with delicious food at a reasonable price. Every staff member we met was friendly and clearly enjoyed being there. The gospel was presented time and again. The gift store has great books and lovely items at reasonable prices.

We will go back; we will most definitely go back.

Will it convince everyone to believe? Certainly not. Even Jesus could not convince everyone to believe in him though he healed the blinded eyes, fed the multitudes, cleansed the lepers, and raised the dead. But whether it convinces you or not, it is still worth the drive.

A life size reproduction of Noah's ark? How could it not be?

by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — Olivia DeHavilland, the last living star of "Gone With the Wind" (1939), has been suing "Feud: Bette and Joan" producer Ryan Murphy and FX over the 10-part mini-series. The dispute involves the way she was portrayed and for the words they had Catherine Zetta-Jones say as her. DeHavilland says she'd never be so unkind and use the language and negative comments attributed to her.

Kurt Iswarienko/FX

Catherine Zetta-Jones in "Feud"

Her case for defamation was heard in a California Court of Appeals in late March. There wasn't supposed to be a decision for 90 days, but a week later the appeals court dismissed the case. DeHavilland's lawyer says they will take it to the California Supreme Court because one of the judges responsible for ruling on the appeal was formerly a partner in a firm that had represented FX in the past.

Could it be FX and Ryan Murphy are dragging this out hoping DeHavilland, now 101 years old, may not be around to object much longer? There was a French woman, Jeanne Louise Calment, who lived to be 122 years and 164 days. DeHavilland may just stay the course.

is that while "The Good Doctor" has been renewed, it's more than likely that "Kevin (Probably) Saves the World" probably won't be saved. Over at CBS, thanks to Leah Remini joining the cast, "Kevin Can Wait" will be renewed, but "Living Biblically" and "Me, Myself and I" will not see a second season. "Elementary" and "Code Black" will return around April 30.

Fox has canceled "Wisdom of the Crowd," and "The Exorcist" is on shaky ground. NBC has renewed "Law & Order: SVU" for a 20th season, which will tie it with the longest-running series ever, "Gunsmoke." The CW, owned by CBS, has become the comic-book network, and in addition to the former CBS show "Supergirl," it's renewed "The Flash," "Arrow," "Legends of Tomorrow," "Supernatural," "Riverdale," "Jane the Virgin" and "My Crazy Ex-Girlfriend." If only Kevin of "Kevin (Probably) Saves the World," were a superhero ... he could have saved himself!

Robert Downey, Jr., who will hit screens next April in the title role of "The Voyage of Doctor Dolittle," will have a powerful supporting cast in Antonio Banderas, Jim Broadbent and Michael Sheen in live-action roles. Doing voiceovers are "Spider-Man" Tom Holland (a dog), Emma Thompson (a Polynesian parrot), Ralph Finnes (a tiger), Selena Gomez (a giraffe), Kumail Nanjiani (an ostrich), Octavia Spencer (a duck), Remi Malick (a gorilla), Marion Cotillard (a fox) and John Cena as, what else, a polar bear!

It's that time when shows find out if they stay or go off. Word at ABC

FIND THE FAIR PAIR! Only two of the above dice have been made correctly. Which are the true cubes?

Answer: When dice are made correctly, the numbers on opposite sides always add up to 7. The good cubes are 2 and 6.

A SHAKY BET! Bet anyone that if they stand on a chair you can make them come down by saying two words. How's it done? Just say, "Step down." You'll win because they'll have to get down sooner or later.

LINK-UPS! Here's a list of 12 one-syllable words, divided into two columns. Turn them into six longer words by linking them together. To do this, draw a line from one word in the left column to one word in the right.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

* It was Hungarian psychiatrist Thomas Stephen Szasz who made the following sage observation: "If you talk to God, you are praying. If God talks to you, you have schizophrenia."

* That iconic symbol of the Old West, the Pony Express, was based on the mail system used throughout the Mongol Empire in the 13th century. However, the Mongol riders often covered 125 miles in a single day, which was faster than the best record held by a Pony Express rider.

* Someone with way too much spare time discovered that a quarter has 119 grooves on its edge.

* What's in a name? A great deal, it turns out, if you're talking about housing prices. Those who study such things say that a house on a "boulevard" is valued at over one-third more than the same house that has "street" in its address.

* Confectioner Milton Hershey suffered through founding two candy companies that ended in failure, then succeeded on his third attempt, and finally sold that company and used the proceeds to found the Hershey Company. After all his hard work, though, he seemed to be less interested in enjoying the fruits of his labors than in helping others. In 1909 he established the Hershey Industrial School for Orphaned Boys, and 10 years later he donated control of the company to a trust for the school. Today the institution is called the Milton Hershey School, and it continues to have a controlling interest in the candy company.

* Southern California has more cars than India has cows. If cows are sacred in India, what does that say about how Californians feel about their automobiles? ***

Thought for the Day: "Men are not against you; they are merely for themselves." -- Gene Fowler

COCONUT CAKE WITH CREAM CHEESE FROSTING

INGREDIENTS

Cake

- 2 3/4 cups all purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 3/4 cups sugar
- 1 cup (2 sticks) unsalted butter, room temperature
- 1 cup canned sweetened cream of coconut (such as Coco López)*
- 4 large eggs, separated
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 cup buttermilk
- Pinch of salt

Frosting

- 2 (8-ounce) packages cream cheese, room temperature
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter, room temperature
- 2 cups powdered sugar
- 1/2 cup canned sweetened cream of coconut (such as Coco López)*
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 4 cups shredded coconut

Preparation

Preheat oven to 350°F. Butter and flour two 9-inch-diameter cake pans with 2-inch-high sides. Whisk flour, baking powder, baking soda and 1/2 teaspoon salt in medium bowl to blend. Using electric mixer, beat sugar, butter and sweetened cream of coconut in large bowl until fluffy. Beat in egg yolks and vanilla extract. On low speed, beat in dry ingredients and then buttermilk, each just until blended.

Using clean dry beaters, beat egg whites with pinch of salt in another large bowl until stiff but not dry. Fold beaten egg whites into batter.

Divide cake batter between prepared pans. Bake cakes until tester inserted into center comes out clean, about 45 minutes.

Cool cakes in pans on rack 10 minutes. Run small sharp knife around pan sides to loosen cakes. Turn cakes out onto racks and cool completely.

Make the frosting. Beat cream cheese in medium bowl until fluffy. Add butter and beat to blend. Add sugar, sweetened cream of coconut and vanilla extract and beat until well blended.

Place 1 cake layer on cake plate. Spread 1 cup Cream Cheese Frosting over cake layer. Sprinkle 1 cup sweetened shredded coconut over. Top with second cake layer. Spread remaining frosting over top and sides of cake. Sprinkle remaining coconut over cake, gently pressing into sides to adhere. (Coconut Layer Cake can be prepared up to 1 day ahead. Cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate. Let stand at room temperature 2 hours before serving.)

Now here's a tip!
by Jo Ann Derson

* Check your dishwasher for food particles, and run a cycle every week with a cup of white vinegar in the bottom. It will clear your lines of yucky mildew buildup and leave it smelling fresh.

* "If you get a small cut, try sprinkling it with black pepper (fine ground). It stops the bleeding right away and doesn't hurt or sting at all. I did this when I accidentally nicked myself in the kitchen. It worked! I rinsed it off after a minute or two, and it still didn't bleed." -- J.J. in Florida

* To get your white sneakers clean again, mix a paste of peroxide and baking soda, wet the canvas and rub the paste in with a toothbrush. Rinse and repeat scrubbing as needed. Allow to dry before wearing.

* Save plastic cups from fast-food or convenience-store visits, because they make good containers when you are painting. Pour some paint in the cup to use when you are cutting in the edges. Many paint ladders have a spot that accommodates a cup, so it's more secure.

* Have a little empty spray bottle from a travel-size body spray? They are perfect for small cleaning solutions. Add rubbing alcohol to use in cleaning off your glasses or cellphone touch surface. Add window cleaner and store with a half roll of paper towels in your vehicle for quick windshield cleanups.

* "Cheap moving supplies: paper plates. You can put them between your real plates and pans to prevent scratching, or use them as walls to separate items in a box. Store small hardware by folding the plate over and sealing the edges together (don't forget to label it!). And then you can use it for pizza when you move in." -- R.D. in Missouri
